MAYOR ISSUES A PROCLAMATION ON FIRE PREVENTION

Two-Thirds Fire Preventible and Unnecessary; Appeals to People of Greenville to Help in Preventing Fire

Whereas, the present week, to-wit, October 5 to 11th, has been proclaimed fire prevention week, for the purpose of emphasizing the necessity of precautionary measures for the prevention of fires, and,

Whereas, two thirds of our fires are preventible and unnecessary, and therefore fall within the class of willful waste which makes woeful want, which willful waste in North Carolina has reached the enormous sum of $6,000,000.00 per year, thus rendering much toil fruitless and unnecessary in the restoration of property wasted by fire, and,

Whereas, we find that the million dollar Atlanta fire started from an electric iron, the forty million dollar Baltimore fire was due to a careless smoker, the five million dollar Berkeley fire originated from burning brush, the million dollar Nashville fire grew out of a small boy's carelessness, the seven million dollar Paris, Texas, fire was caused by a locomotive spark, the three million dollar "Hurlington" fire in Chicago came from spontaneous combustion, the great Chicago fire started from an overturned lamp, the Collinwood schoolhouse fire in which 174 children and two teachers lost their lives started from a steam pipe in contact with a wood floor, the Peabody school fire in which 21 little children died was due to a pile of rubbish, the Cleveland South Carolina school fire in 1923, in which 76 persons lost their lives, was due to an improperly protected lamp, and that every year in the United States, 15,000 persons are killed by fire, mostly women and children, and many more seriously injured; and that every day 880 dwellings, 5 churches, and 1 hospital are burned, and,

Whereas, individual watchfulness and carefulness and the assumption of personal responsibility for fires, constitutes our only hope of permanent cure for this delinquency in our citizenship.

Eighth Inning

Washington—(Dean pitching for New York) Goslin left center field; Judge singles to left field and when Meusel juggled ball Goslin went to third and Judge to second base; Goslin and Judge score on Bluege's single to center and on throw in Bluege went to second; Ruel fouled out to first base. Miller flies out to second; Mogridge strikes out. Two runs, three hit, one error.

New York—Young gets base on balls; Kelly flies out to center field; Meusel gets base on balls; (with two balls on Wilson, Mogridge taken from box and replaced by Marberry) Young scores on Wilson two base hit to right field but Meusel caught at the plate; Jackson out to first base unassisted. One run, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning

Washington—McNeely strikes out; Harris out short stop to first base; Rice out second to first base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Gowdy singles to right field. Rice throws to first base; ball hits bag rolling to Giants dug-out. Gowdy goes to third base. Bently (batting for Dean) strikes out; Gowdy scores on Lindstrom's single to right field; Frisch gets base on balls; Young forces Frisch out at second; Lindstrom going to third; Kelly strikes out. One run, 2 hits, one error.

TWO AGED WOMEN CAPTURE ILLICIT WHISKEY STILL

Johnson City, Tenn., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Lydia Blankenship, aided by Mrs. Dithia English, two elderly women living in the Higgins Creek section of Unico county near the North Carolina line, yesterday captured and destroyed their second moonshine still in the past few days.

Finding the illicit plant in a cove adjacent to her farm Mrs. Blankenship led her army of two, armed with a mattock, and cut the still to pieces, destroyed a quantity of mash and captured a quantity of sugar and fruit jars. The operators were not present when the plant was destroyed. It is said by residents of the section that it is commonly believed the women are cloaked by official authority.

SUNKIANG CAPTURED MOTHER OF LOEB PAYS FIRST VISIT TO PENITENTIARY

Chekiang Troops Are Retreating on the Singchwan, 9 Miles From Shanghai

Shanghai, Oct. 7.—Sunkiung, 22 miles southwest of this city, has been captured by General Sun Chuang Fun, military governor of Tukien, and the Chekiang troops are retreating on the Singchwan 9 miles from Shanghai, according to Fukien advices. It is believed this may compell the Chekiang defending forces to withdraw from Hwangtu by the Liuh front.

Tientsin, China, Oct. 7.—Manchurian aircraft appeared over Shan-hai-kwan in northern Chihli province the eastern extreme of the great Chinese wall at daybreak and rained bombs on that ancient city while the surface armies of Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian leader, and Peking government troops carried on an intensive battle for the possession of the city being held by the Peking forces.

According to private advices the battle continued with added fury at 11 o'clock this morning. Chang Tso Lin's airmen and land forces rained shells inside the great wall once considered adequate defense against Manchurian and Mongolian attacks.

Tobaccoists Of The City Are Guest Of Rotarians

The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade including warehousemen buyers, auctioneers and factory men were the guests of the Rotary Club at an enjoyable meeting held at the Rotary Home last night. Besides the forty guests, every member of the club was present at last night's meeting which is significant of the interest the Rotarians are taking in their organization.

The program following the dinner last night included several songs and addresses which were greatly enjoyed. R. H. Wright, president of the club opened the program with an address of welcome to the guests, followed by an expression of keen delight at the fine spirit of friendliness and co-operation existing between tobaccoists of this city in their efforts to keep the Greenville Tobacco Market the best in the state.

Mr. J. L. Kilgore responded to the address of President Wright and on behalf of the Board of Trade promised untiring efforts toward a bigger and better Greenville and Pitt county.

Rotarian J. E. Winslow talked on the subject of "Co-operation and friendship," beginning with the quotation "To have friends you must be a friend." He stressed the value of acquaintanceship and friendship and the happiness that was to be gained therefrom. His talk was an inspiration to those present.

B. B. Sugg, representing the warehousemen, and W. D. Pruitt, representing the factory interests, made informal talks on the Greenville Tobacco Market and what it hopes to accomplish. Keeping everlastingly at it brings success and that is how Greenville is to be made the best town in the Carolinas said the speakers.

Following the addresses was a booster song "Forever Boosting Greenville" to the tune of "Blowing Bubbles" the words being furnished by the club composer.

I'm forever boosting Greenville, Boosting Greenville everywhere. She moves so spry, not a gloom or sigh. All the knockers soon say goodbye. All good roads lead to her, I've looked all around, I would rather live in Greenville, Than to own some other town.

DIRIGIBLE SHENANDOAH BEGINS ITS ROUND TRIP CRUISE PACIFIC COAST

MAYOR OF CHICAGO AND DARROW CLASH OVER PROHIBITION

Mayor Denver Declares He Will Enforce Law Regardless of Cost to Him Politically

Chicago, Oct. 7.—William E. Dever, mayor of Chicago, and Clarence S. Darrow famous lawyer, amazed 1500 county and state Democratic leaders, at a banquet here last night when they engaged in an unheralded debate over 18th Amendment.

Mr. Darrow who most recently stepped into the spotlight as defense of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., asserted that while the 18th Amendment never would be repealed "it would die because people of courage and independence would stand against it and because it cannot be enforced."

His declaration that all presidents, mayors and public officials in country can't enforce it came after Mayor Dever had asserted that he had no apologies to make for his campaign against liquor law violations and was "willing to sacrifice my party and myself if I can obtain for my community what I am aiming at."

His aim he declared "is to deliver Chicago from foreign bootleggers and determine whether the streets of Chicago are to be safe for the people or to be controlled by a gang of New York crooks who are making billions of dollars out of us."

"Before the Eighteenth Amendment was passed," he continued, "I never was known to be drier than I ought to be." He declared he believed in enforcing the laws as they were on the books. "If you are not fond of the laws tell your Congressmen your trouble, and ask them to make some provisions," he said.

Darrow in reply declared that there never was a public official who enforced all the laws. "If he did he would be driven out of office" Darrow declared. "I believe the preservation of human liberty one of the most sacred things for which men can fight. Those opposed to it never sleep. They make money out of us and would reduce us to slavery if they could," he concluded.

The visit lasted 30 minutes.

The father, vice-president of Sears Roebuck Co., who remained at the Loeb summer home in Michigan during the trial, has never seen his son since his arrest. He is now in Chicago suffering from heart trouble.

Navy's Pride of the Air to Pass Over North Carolina Cities on the First Leg of Outbound Flight

Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 7. — The giant dirigible Shenandoah started on its epoch round trip cruise to the Pacific coast at 10 o'clock today taking the air from its mooring mast in perfect weather. With Rear-Admiral W. A. Moffett, in charge of Naval Aeronautics on board, the navy's pride of the air fluttered the admiral's pennant from the stern as it circled once about the flying field and headed southward with Wilmington, Delaware as the first city on its route. The outbound route now planned for the first leg of the journey will carry the airship over Baltimore, Washington, Greensboro, North Carolina, Charlotte, North Carolina, Athens, Ga., Atlanta, Ga., and Birmingham, Ala., to Fort Worth, Texas.

Last night the Shenandoah was loaded with food and fuel sufficient for five days journey, and a supply of helium gas which arrived yesterday from Texas to replace what has been lost by seepage. The ship was brought from its hangar at sunset and moored at its mast protected by a skeleton crew aboard.

"I consider this the most severe test an airship has ever been called upon to make," Admiral Moffett said on departing. "It will thoroughly demonstrate that an airship is practical for all purposes in peace, as well as in war."

Commander Lansdowne is in charge of the air cruiser and its crew of forty men. Fuel for 90 hours cruising is in ship's tanks and food for forty men for five days was aboard.

Roads Leading to Greenville Are Now Open to Traffic

All roads leading to Greenville which have been impassible due to the heavy rains are now open with the exception of the Washington road on which the detour has to be used for two miles. The detour, however, is in good condition and causes only a little delay in reaching the city.

Traffic over the Tar river bridge has been resumed and buggies, automobiles and trucks have passed over today without trouble.

The river which reached its crest Sunday is falling rapidly.

According to reports the Gritton bridge is again open to traffic.

Woman's Club Will Enjoy Get-to-Gether Dinner, Thursday

The members of the Woman's Club will entertain on Thursday evening at a get-to-gether dinner in the basement of the Methodist church. At this time a splendid program, featured by addresses by visitors, short talks by the members of the club and musical selections by the local orchestra will be presented.

It is the desire of the club that every member be in attendance. A great work is being planned for the year and in order to accomplish same the co-operation of each and every member is essential.

Japanese Farmers Pray Rain Gods to Save Their Crops

Osaka, Japan, Oct. 6.—A summer of unprecedented drought has brought to light strange and primitive customs among the farmers of the countryside around Osaka.

So great has become the menace to crops that there has been supplication to the rain gods, used only in the greatest emergency, and resorted to only twice in the last 70 years. This is the "opening of the sacred well" in the precincts of the famous Oira shrine, near Osaka.

Seven men are chosen by lot from among the people of the village in which the shrine is located. These offer prayers for a week, living apart in the shrine precincts, and purifying themselves by daily rites of abstinence. Then a fence of dry grass is built around the sacred well and the opening begins. The well is buried deep in the earth. Before its stone cover can be reached three boxes, each containing a prayer in ancient Sanskrit, relics of the early days of Buddhism in Japan, have to be unearched. When the stone cover of the well is removed, according to the belief, an inexhaustible flood of cold water gushes over the rim, the sky becomes overcast and rain falls heavy. How efficacious the prayers have been in this instance is not yet known.

Only twice within the memory of man has this ceremony been carried out, in 1884 and again in 1911. On the latter occasion, the farmers say, heavy rain began to fall while prayers were still being offered up.

BALKAN STATES SEEM READY FOR MUTUAL HELPFUL ACTION

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 4. — A conference of all the Balkan states is possible following the precedent set by the London conference, if proposals, being framed by the Bulgarian delegation to the League of Nations meetings in Geneva, meet with success.

When the delegation started for Geneva recently, it was prepared for an exchange of views in the Swiss city with the Rumanian, Greek and Jugoslavian delegates. The official view here is that the Balkan states have acted at cross-purposes long enough, and that the time for united action to promote the legitimate interests of all the Balkan states has come.

This is notably the view of the minister of foreign affairs, M. Kalfoff, who said the other day to the Associated Press correspondent:

"The misfortunes of the Balkan peoples are due chiefly to rivalries among them, created largely by foreign influence. It is time to bring these to an end. The Balkan states have common interests. It is time the countries in this part of the world devoted themselves to the promotion of these interests by common action."

Mayor of the Town of Greenville, do urge the concerted efforts of our citizenship in the direction of preventing fires:

1. By the removal of all waste, such as paper, trash, boxes, and other debris.

2. By every one becoming familiarized with the location of the Fire Alarm Boxes, and the method of correctly turning in a Fire Alarm.

3. By every one becoming more observant of conditions tending to create fires, with the view of having said conditions removed by calling same to the attention of the Fire Chief F. A. Haskins.

4. That the public co-operate with the Fire Department, not only in the prevention of fires, but as well by staying out of the way and keeping automobiles and other vehicles out of the way of Fire Trucks after an alarm has been turned in. Too much idle curiosity sometimes causes delay and a consequent loss that might have been otherwise avoided.

Issued this the 6th day of October 1924.

D. M. CLARK, Mayor.

Oil in advance

MOST anybody can drive a car, but looking after it is really a mechanic's job. The trouble is that lots of people just drive and drive and drive. As long as the car goes they think everything is O.K.

Men with some mechanical training get the most out of their cars. They know that they must oil in advance. It's usually too late if you wait till a squeak develops or a bearing heats up. Still, anyone with a mechanical turn of mind can acquire the habit of paying proper attention to lubrication.

There's just one safe rule. Oil and grease on a definite schedule—a mileage basis. Make it a matter of regular routine. It is not a question of once a week or once a month, but every 500 miles, 1000 miles or 1500 miles, depending on the part of the car to be lubricated. It does not really take long to oil a car properly and it pays for itself over and over again in smooth running, low repairs and long life. If you are in doubt as to where, when, and how to oil, take your car 'round to your service man. Watch him put in the "Standard" Polarine Motor Oil. Next time you will be able to do most of it yourself.

Changing the crank case oil is the main lubrication job. Also the dirtiest. It will usually pay to have it done for you. "Standard" Service Stations and most "Standard" dealers are equipped to do it for you promptly and well.

Save yourself time, trouble and money by starting on a regular oiling schedule today.

Victory in Olympics
Intensifies Interest
In Polo in Argentina

Buenos Aires, Oct. 6.—The recent triumph of an Argentine polo team in the Paris Olympic meeting thereby winning the world Olympic championship in polo for Argentina has intensified to a great extent public interest in the game which first began to be shown during the successful tour of an Argentine four in the United States and Great Britain two years ago. Until quite recently polo was practically unheard of by the general public here as few persons outside players and their friends took much interest in the game. Polo is now played in nearly all the Argentine cavalry regiments and is being taken up enthusiastically by Argentine ranchers.

The game was first played in Argentina among British ranchers settled in the country. What is considered to be the first match was played as far back as 1875 in North Argentina. The game was stopped by local police on the grounds that it was too dangerous a pastime. Native peons entrusted with the care of polo ponies have shown themselves excellent players and many leading polo authorities here believe that more than one team could be formed among the cowboys quite able to defeat Olympic champions.

The interests of polo in Argentina are looked after by the Argentine Polo Association to which the principal polo clubs of the country are affiliated. President Alvear is honorary president of this organization.

An annual championship and many tournaments are held under the auspices of the association which attract entries from polo clubs in the interior of Argentina and from the cavalry regiments and others.

Noted Chess Master
Dies In London At An Advanced Age

London, Oct. 3.—J. H. Blackburn, an outstanding figure in British chess, who was accounted one of the finest tournament players that ever lived, died recently at the age of 83.

Blackburn received his early inspiration in chess from Paul Morphy, the American prodigy, whom he met in 1859. Then it was that he took up the study of chess with a self-confidence born of youth and genius. It is said that no player was ever more successful in exhibitions of blindfold and simultaneous play.

In 1882 Blackburn's success in an exhibition of blindfold play in an international tournament in London against ten strong amateurs most astonished his critics. On that occasion he won five games and drew two. He was the first to meet 12 and then 15 opponents without sight of board and men, and at Baden-Baden he was preparing to deal "blind-fold" with no fewer than 40 opponents when the Franco-German war broke out and scattered the gathering of players.

With a smile, recalling the incident in later years, Blackburn remarked: "Perhaps it was a swell for me."

FINAL SHOWINGS TODAY

The final showings of the Cecil B. DeMille Paramount production, "Feet of Clay," which opened at White's Theatre last night will take place there this afternoon and evening. Rod La Rocque, Vera Reynolds, Victor Varconi, Ricardo Cortez, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and Robert Edson are featured in the cast. The story was adapted to the screen by Beulah Marie Dix and Bertram Millhauser from Margareta Tuttle's magazine serial.

"Feet of Clay" is a story of New York and California, and, as one who was privileged with a preview of the production so aptly exclaimed "as modern as rolled stockings and of a smartness akin to Fifth Avenue on an Easter Sunday morning." And that's that!

A Guard Against Decay that Beautifies as well

THERE'S nothing that equals paint in protecting property values. Aside from its appeal as an artistic factor, a health and contentment promoter, it adds to the life of buildings, increases materially their loan value and lessens upkeep and repairs.

Pee Gee Mastic Paint has been favorably known for over half a century. It has maintained its leadership because it is durable, economical, and of unsurpassed quality. It will not check, crack, fade, peel or blister. Paint now and save the surface.

RUN AT TOP OF COLUMN

Fire is man's most useful, faithful servant. He is a glutton for work and never tires. No day is too hot or too cold for him. No task is too hard. Call on Fire to do a job and he does it—one hundred per cent.

You enter your home, built of brick baked in fire, and of boards sawed by fire. It is heated by fire, lighted by fire. Your food is cooked by fire and the stove that contains it was made by fire.

Fire, controlled, is the great constructor. But Fire is a brainless fellow, headstrong, impetuous, unrestrained. He can't think, and wouldn't if he could. He expects you to do the thinking for him. If you do, he will do your will. If you don't, he may run all over the county.

Fire, uncontrolled, is the great destroyer. Fire builds the skyscrapers, even proof against itself. But Fire levels the city. Fire serves his master, man, but will serve him badly if permitted to run amuck.

When Fire is on a rampage men blame him, curse him. But Fire never cuts loose of his own accord. Man, ashamed, likes to pass the buck by calling him Spontaneous Combustion. But man piles up the oily waste that brings Fire into being.

This is Fire Prevention Week. It might better be called Fire Control Week. The big job ahead for all of us is to realize that what we need to do is to control Fire. Only that will prevent fires.

In America we have the finest system of education in this world, and the most shameful record of destruction by flame. If we were savages or a race of morons, there might be some excuse for us. But we have the brain to think for Fire, if we will only use it. That's all that Fire asks us to do, to think a bit.

The demon statisticians will tell you that during the last half of the last decade, from 1916 to 1920, destruction by flame in the United States totalled 1,672,722,677. And they will tell you that that would have built 334,540 dwellings costing $5,000 each, supplying homes for 1,672,720 persons. Or it would have constructed 16,727 modern $100,000 school houses. Or it would have built 10 trans-continental highways from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Fire won't do our thinking for us.

Wonder if it will ever become the custom to describe the groom's outfit?

HEROES

A publisher of public school supplies has happily chosen from Longfellow an inspirational verse for the cover of a pupil's report book in wide usage. The quotation so appropriately employed is:

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us,
Footprints on the sands of time."

Hitching your wagon to a star means making a model of some great man or woman and then perseveringly striving to emulate your ideal. Knowing the great traits of great men we unconsciously acquire them for ourselves. For the child in school there is no stronger urge than the image of some great man or woman, living or dead.

Unfortunately, young people of the formative age sometimes choose their model unwisely. Bandits, pirate chiefs and other unscrupulous adventurers too often are the appointed heroes of the adolescent age. When these are not worshipped by youth for their crimes and atrocities but for their daring deeds and adventuresome spirit they are not to be discounted as valuable incentives to growing boys but their place should be taken by D'Artagnans, who have all the courage without the rascality of the others.

In a peace-loving country such as ours it is noteworthy that the world's military leaders occupy the topmost pedestals in the hero-worship of boyhood. A place in history as a warrior and soldier is a passport into the hearts of young America. It is not that George Washington was the "Father of his Country" and a great patriot but that he was a brave soldier that establishes him as a hero in the minds of American boys. The same holds true with great many adults who have not lost the domancism of youth.

We can all benefit from following in the footsteps of a great man but let us choose our model with care.

The best way to study the American language is to drive past a traffic cop when the sign says stop.

At times one suspects that there is little essential difference between firm convictions and darned stubbornness.

Seasons vary little. Rememberin gashes is about as difficult as remembering the drip pan under the refrigerator.

If war is ever effectually outlawed there will probably be a provision in the pact permitting of verbal scraps.

Some one-time political leaders are now proving that they are party men only as long as the party rewards them individually.

It is understood that after stacking oats on his ranch this week the Prince of Wales declared himself in favor of the seven-hour day.

An observer in Paris notes that many women are not wearing wedding rings, but probably most of them are still contributing to hope chests.

French budget makers may be counting their chickens before they are hatched when they put 800,000,000 marks to be received from Germany on the credit side.

MEMORIAL BAPTIST S. S. ENTERTAIN IN HONOR COLLEGE GIRLS

The Memorial Baptist Sunday school and church entertained at a delightful reception Monday evening having as honor guests, the young ladies of the College and members of the faculties of the College and the High School.

The Sunday school rooms, ensuite, were attractively decorated with shaded lights, cut flowers, and potted plants. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by Miss Ernestine Forbes and Mr. Bruce Crater, and served punch by Misses Ann Parker and Evelyn Smith.

Mr. J. B. Kittrell and Miss Ward Moore the program committee, then welcomed the guests. Familiar songs were enjoyed and the guests and the church members conducted a get-acquainted meeting by the guests writing their names and fastening them to their dresses. They were requested at the same time to deposit their names in a box.

After every body had become acquainted a "Silent Impersonation of Our Church," was enjoyed. The idea was most unique and proved to be too amusing for words. If any one laughed they were taken out of church. The preacher, the choir, leader, the choir, the organist, the ushers, the congregation and in fact every official of the church was in his place. By the end of the "Silent sermon," the church was almost empty the ushers having removed those who dared disturb the solemnity and "tranquility" of the service.

After the laughter subsided from this feature of the program an advertising contest was enjoyed. Messrs. Swanson Graves and Zeb Waller being the most successful contestants while anxiously awaiting their prizes received the shock of their young lives. Mr. Waller was told to take a magazine and solicit subscriptions. He was a splendid "book agent." He was the author of a most touching story. In an attempt to work his way through the Eastern Carolina Teachers College he was forced to sell magazines. His story won for him many interested subscribers.

Mr. Graves found that his vocation in life was selling brushes. He made a thrilling agent with his magnetic presentation of his line and was making wonderful progress until he met his "Waterloo." Mrs. W. L. Hall. Mrs. Hall had evidently had experience with agents before and she soon succeeded in sending him on his way.

The three next highest contestants in the guessing contest were Mrs. Cecil Cobb, Miss Alice Jones and D. J. Whichard, Jr. Mrs. Cobb was presented a bottle of perfume. Miss Jones, a box of kisses, while Mr. Whichard was given a harp.

After several other interesting stunts an ice course was served.

Every member of the Auxiliary is urged to attend as the plans for the year's work are to be made and your co-operation is needed.

Atlantic Coast Realty Company to Conduct Sale in New Bern

A tract of 7,000 acres of land situated four miles from Havelock and seven miles from the spot where the Great Lakes Drilling Company is reeking oil, will be sold at auction at the court house door in New Bern next Saturday, October 11, it has been announced by E. C. Dunning representing the Atlantic Coast Realty Company, who has been in New Bern for the past few days arranging details for the sale.

The land is located in Carteret and Craven counties and is owned by a number of stockholders, including officials of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company. The owners have been in possession of this property for a number of years and have decided to dispose of it at auction regardless of the price. The sale will begin at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and will continue until the last lot has been sold. The subdivision includes tracts of 25, 50 and 100 acres.

The Atlantic Coast Realty company, in whose hands the property has been placed for disposition, is not selling the land on the strength of its proximity to the Havelock "oil field." There is no contention on the part of the selling agents that oil exists in that section, but on the other hand land is being sold outright, and will go for the high dollar regardless of what this may be.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Oct. 7.—Considering the important government reports to be issued tomorrow at 10 a. m., New Orleans time, market ruled comparatively quiet and within a narrow range today values showing no decided tendency owing to the uncertainty attending government crop forecast and ginnings to Oct. 1.

The weather bureau reported moderate to heavy rains at a number of stations in Oklahoma and west Texas with light scattered showers in east Texas, northern Florida and a few places elsewhere.

Indications are for the continuance of unsettled weather in the southwest, probably showers in Oklahoma and Texas. Returns to the New Orleans Times Picayune average the condition for October 53 indicating a yield of 12,263 and local spot houses estimated condition of the crop at 52.3 pointing to a 12,335 the average guess of 77 members of the New York exchange as to condition of crop 53.2.

Predictions are that the British labor government will likely fall tomorrow for want of a vote of confidence but if it materializes it will not likely exert much influence on the market as no great amount of uneasiness seems to be felt in London where consols closed at 57 on the quarter down for the day.

Liverpool cables indicate that Lancashire spinner again decided to delay to continue short time in mills using American cotton, but the large forwardings of American cotton from Liverpool to English mills last week 32,000 vs. 23,000 last year probably denotes that the short time program is not being followed to the letter.

Government report will probably be favorable, in which event values may dip temporarily but a nervous and erratic market is probable thereafter until the crop prediction.

LUTHERANS WILL GATHER AT CHICAGO OCTOBER 21

New York, Oct. 7.—Problems of everyday concern to the people of America will arise for discussion at the fourth biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America, which will meet in Chicago Oct. 21-30. The 500 delegates, who will represent 1,200,000 baptized members of the church throughout the ten-day session will be asked to define the attitude of the United Lutherans upon such live and ever-present questions as marriage and divorce, the morality of the younger and the elder generations, with the effects of the movies and pomen's dress upon its prohibition enforcement, and the arbitrament arms. The United Lutheran Church in America is a young organization but is the largest body of Lutherans in this country. It is six years old, being a merger of Lutherans in the south and Lutherans in the north who had split in Civil War days on the rock of slavery. It is a federation of 35 synods of the Lutheran church comprising 3,816 congregations served by 2,919 pastors.

Sweden Seeks Cultural Exchanges With U. S.

Stockholm, Oct. 3.—An increase in the number of Swedish professors visiting America, a new and genuine admiration of American work in various fields of scientific research, and attempts to effect closer co-operation between science and education in Sweden and the United States is evidence this year. Among the distinguished men of learning who have recently returned from visits in America are Dr. Karl Petren, diabetes specialist; Einar Key, surgeon; Professor Goesta Forsell, radiologist; Professor Johnny Roosval, authority on art and architecture; Professor Carl Charlier, astronomer of Lund University, and Dr. O. Lundberg, expert in folk lore and librarian at U-pps University. Each of these visitors to America has been instrumental in promoting co-operation between the education of worlds of the United States and Sweden, and all urge the establishment of regular exchange professorships between universities of the two countries. Professor Charlier has taken steps to arrange co-operation between astronomer, in Sweden and America, and Professor Roosval has already established an educational exchange of stereopticon slides and other material to illustrate the history of art.

Stop That Backache! Many Greenville Folks Have Found the Way

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Greenville resident says: W. P. Symonds, carpenter, 207 Washington, St., Greenville, says: "My kidneys were out of order, and I had pains in my back and loins. I was restless at night and couldn't sleep well. I had headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were scanty and contained sediment. Doan's Pills from the Warren Drug Co., soon relieved me." Several years later, Mr. Symonds added: "I get the same good results from Doan's as I did in the past." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

IT'LL COST LESS THAN YOU THINK — TO GET A NEW KITCHEN SINK

THE COST OF PLUMBING.

Congleton's Little Plumber
Now looking at it from your wife's point of view, don't you think it would be a good idea to put in a good kitchen sink? Outside of the added cleanly convenience of the thing, look at it from a health standpoint. Talk it over with your wife and then talk it over with us.

Suits And Topcoats

More pronounced than ever are the values this season. That's due to a combination of things—better quality, quantity buying and finer styles. All of which means a fine stock of Suits and Topcoats.

Star Makes Highest Sale of Season - Average $24.43

Yesterday, we again broke the season's record in Eastern Carolina, selling 92,624 pounds of tobacco for $22,628.94, averaging $24.43 for entire sale. In this sale we had 6000 pounds of damaged tobacco. Prices now highest of the season. Many of our patrons are averaging from 40 cents to 66 cents for entire load. THERE IS A REASON FOR OUR LEADING IN HIGH PRICES.
