DAVIS WILL MAKE TWO MORE DRIVES BEFORE ELECTION

Democratic Presidential Candidate Will Make Another Trip Into the Middle West and New England

New York, Oct. 10.—At least two more intensive drives will be made by John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, before election day. One is another proposed swing into the middle west which is scheduled to start late today. The second, to follow soon after Davis return to New York about October 25, is into the New England states unless plans of his managers are changed.

While Mr. Davis rested today at his Locust Valley home, his workers redoubled their efforts to set up a militant machine to carry on in the upper state districts "the fighting determination to win" which they say the candidate left among the state Democratic leaders. Much success is expected from the forthcoming up-state visit of Governor Smith.

Thirty Lose Lives Philippine Typhoon

Giant Craft Battles Against Hurricane Over Passes of Rocky Mountains

On Board the U. S. Airship Shenandoah, Oct. 10.—Few voyages in history has furnished more thrills in as short a time as the navigation of the first passes of the Rocky Mountains by the navy dirigible Shenandoah.

Driving ahead at a speed of 74 miles an hour with a wind that roared through the tunnel like cannons the giant craft at times rose gradually until between the highest peaks it was at an altitude of 6,800 feet following a new uncharted course with only a winding river and a glistening black rail road track as uncertain guides. At other times the ship scudded the ground so

BODY OF WOODROW WILSON TO REPOSE IN NEW CATHEDRAL

Marble Sarcophagus to Be Ready to Receive Body Within Another Month

Washington, Oct. 10.—The body of former President Woodrow Wilson is soon to be removed from the crypt in Bethel Chapel at Washington Cathedral and placed in a marble sarcophagus where it will remain in the chapel temporarily at least.

The sarcophagus, which was designed by the cathedral architects at the order of Mrs. Wilson, and will be completed within a month, is said to be of simple design with the only ornamentation of a Crusader's sword carved in relief on the marble slab cover. There will be besides a brief inscription.

It is understood that the body of the former president which lies in a crypt beneath the floor of the chapel will be removed to the sarcophagus and will repose permanently in the cathedral when the edifice is finished.

EVERYTHING NOW READY FOR OPENING OF FIFTH ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR

INDICATIONS ARE BRITISH ELECTION TO BE BITTER ONE

Liberals and Conservatives Seeking to Minimize Three Cornered Contest; Women Will Play Important Part

London, Oct. 10.—With Parliament dissolved last night at the request of Premier MacDonald following defeat of the government in the House of Commons, utterances of politicians and the comments of the press indicate that the coming election on October 29 is likely to be one of the bitterest in recent years. Sidney Webb, president of the Board of Trade, is quoted as saying that the campaign will be an especially dirty one, and the angry tones already manifested in many declarations seem to justify his prediction.

One sign of the eagerness of the Liberals and Conservatives to prevent another Laborite government is the initiation of negotiations between the two older parties with the view of minimizing the number of three cornered contests. Failure to arrive at any such arrangement by the Liberals and Conservatives at the last election led to the return of a large number of Laborites in the minority vote. Evidence that the women will participate to an extent at least equal to that of last election has been shown. Headquarters of all the parties have received a multitude of offers of electoral help from women and all have several women candidates, with prospects of more. Aside from the eight women in Parliament, all of whom are seeking to return, more than a score of aspirants are announced, the greater number being from the Laborites.

FIVE HURT WHEN U. S. ARMY BLIMP EXPLODED TODAY

Premature Explosion of Blimp Above Langley Field Sends Craft Crashing to Earth

Newport News, Va., Oct. 10.—Two officers and three men were injured, some of them seriously, when the U. S. army blimp TG-2 was sent crashing to earth shortly before noon today by a premature explosion of a bomb which was about to be released in target practice. The injured were taken to the base hospital at Fort Monroe by airplane and ambulance. Lieutenants Bruce Martin and Alfred Puryear are believed to have been seriously injured although the exact condition of none of the five has yet been determined. The others were Master Sergeant Finch, and Sergeant Wells and Jacobs.

The blimp was about 150 feet above the ground when the explosion occurred blowing a gaping hole into the silk covered bag sending it crashing to earth. The men were blown from the basket before they could take to their parachutes.

Decorator Has Arrived and With Assistance of Mr. Adams is Decorating City; Best Fair Ever Held in County Will Open Next Tuesday, Oct. 14 and Continue Four Days

Everything is ready for the Fifth Annual Pitt County Fair and Exposition which will be held in this city during the week of October 14-17. Kenneth T. Miller, Inc., of Greensboro, is furnishing the decorations which are being put up today and which makes the city very attractive with its many flags and other decorations.

This fair is looked forward to with great expectations as it promises to be the largest and best ever held in the county. Tuesday, October 14th, the opening day will be school day. At this time every thing will be in readiness on the midway and in the exhibit buildings. The various schools of the county will be represented and the day will be one of "feature days" of the Fair.

The free attractions will consist this year of several interesting features. They will be larger this year than heretofore and will be the best ever seen at the local fair. As during last fair week the fire works display will be given each evening. This is always enjoyed by both old and young and for the past several years have been of a most attractive nature. This year they will be more beautiful than ever and everybody is urged to see the display.

The midway will consist of Boyd and Linderman Shows. This company has the reputation of being one of the best on the road this season having during the past years formed the midway at several fairs. The shows are all clean and enjoyable. The usual merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, Whip, etc., will be here and the little tots really have a week of fun to look forward to.

The exhibit building are ready. Already exhibits are arriving. They will be arranged in an attractive manner and will no doubt be a great credit to the county.

In making plans for the fair and in arranging for the comforts of the large crowd which will attend, the fair officials remembered that a rest room would be most desirable. The rest room will be under the supervision of the local Pitt County Health Department and some one will be in charge each day.

As in previous years the races will again prove a drawing card. Some of the best horses from the Grand Circuit will be here and the public can rest assured that they will see races well worth attending. Boyd and Linderman Shows will arrive Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock. They will put up their shows on Monday and by time for the fair everything will be in readiness.

Mr. Charlie Adams, manager, is busy today assisting the decorator. He is elated over the prospects for the best fair ever held in the county and is doing everything possible to make it a success.

The fair is for Pitt county. It is our fair. Let's attend and enjoy "Four Joyous Days." Remember the opening day, Tuesday, Oct. 14. Tickets are on sale in all the drug stores.

Great Boxing Show To Be Staged In Raleigh, October 14

Raleigh, Oct. 9. — "Kid" Peck, champion featherweight champion of Georgia and Lou Ciglimini of New York will step ten rounds in the main bout of the Fair Week. All Star Boxing Show to be staged at the city auditorium here next Tuesday night, October, 14.

Peck and Ciglimini have met before and are anxious to settle an old dispute. In their scrap at Charlotte last winter, Peck was awarded a very close decision by the judges. Ciglimini has never been satisfied with that verdict. Peck was satisfied and he is eager to get in the ring again with Ciglimini to prove that the Charlotte umpires made no mistake. So, they will settle the matter here next Tuesday night.

Ciglimini is the fastest little scrapper who has strutted his stuff around Charlotte, according to sports writers. He won the judges decision over Lukie Tenner, featherweight champion of the South after ten slashing rounds ten days ago. The battle was said to have been one of the most sensational ever seen in the Queen City.

The belt presented to Kid Peck by the American Legion at Columbus, Ga., proclaiming him champion of the Empire State, has been put on exhibition in a local store. It is a very handsome trophy and cost several hundred dollars.

In the semi-finals at the boxing show, Tresco Johnson, of Statesville, bantamweight champion of the Carolinas and Georgia will meet Danny McDonald of Wilmington, in a ten round go. This fight should prove as interesting as the main encounter, as both of these boys are topnotchers in their division of the sport. Johnson has been cavorting around the squared ropes in Charlotte, Salisbury and other cities for several months, bowling them over everywhere. Danny McDonald is one of the idols of the Wilmington fight fans.

In the preliminaries, Kid Holland and Battling Danny, two of the best lightweights developed in these parts will step six rounds. Holland defeated Kid Lopez, of Hartford, Conn., by a hair in their scrap here several weeks ago, and Danny has been knocking 'em cold in every fight he has engaged in. This should prove to be a very exciting row.

Another bout of eight rounds and one of six will make up the card of the preliminaries. Two of the boys will come from Charlotte, guaranteed by John Elliott, Charlotte promoter to please the fans.

In all there will be 40 rounds of boxing if all matches go the limit. The show is guaranteed by the promoters, J. Sherwood Upchurch and William H. Wynne. "If the fans are not satisfied with the program of bouts, all they have to do is go to the box office and get their money back," declaring Mr. Upchurch.

"I personally guarantee the Fair Week All Star Boxing Show next Tuesday night," Mr. Upchurch continued. "Every boxer on the card is under contract to fight and not to wrestle. We are promoting boxing bouts, not wrestling matches. There is a clause in each contract between promoter and boxer must fight or get no money. 'No fight, no money' is the way the clause reads. "There was great demand here for a Stribling match. We staged it. On account of constant clinching and apparent stalling, many of the fans were dissatisfied. We were dissatisfied with the fight. For that reason we looked every boxer on the card next Tuesday night before we signed them. They are going to fight. I guarantee that they will. If any of one them does not, then he gets no money."

Dear Sirs

Please guard your hair
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I feel sorry to see men grow bald. It is easy to keep and to cultivate hair, and you owe it to yourselves and to us.

For many years I have sought and consulted some of the world's greatest experts on hair. They all agree that hair health comes from a clean and healthy scalp. Combat the hardened oil and dandruff which stiffen the hair roots. Tone and stimulate the scalp. Then hair thrives just as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

Edna Wallace Hopper

Photo 1923 These experts have always supplied me the best help known to science. Each new and better help discovered has come to me at once. Now I have had all of these combined in a product I call my Hair Youth. I have placed it on drug and toilet counters at every woman's call. But men need it more than women, so this is written to urge men to learn how much it does.

I am no longer young. For 35 years I have been a stage star. But my hair today is thicker and finer than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff and never a touch of gray. Now I offer you in my Hair Youth every help which brought those results. Edna Wallace Hopper Photo 1923

Edna Wallace Hoppers' Hair Youth is sold everywhere today. It costs 50c and $1 per bottle.

Flappers Growing Keen To Join London Police

London, Oct. 7.—English women, aroused by a desire to enlarge the long restricted horizon of their activities, are rushing pell-mell to Scotland Yard these days in an endeavor to enlist in the Metropolitan Police Force at the very fountain head of police administration in England.

Their endeavors are a little premature. Nevertheless, they are greatly encouraged by a committee report recommending increase in the number of women "bobbies," at present very small. But parliament must enact the necessary legislation to provide for the salaries of the police women before actual recruiting can commence.

All this to the contrary ambitious women, not content with merely writing to Scotland Yard, besiege the entrance of the big round-towered building off Whitehall in an attempt to press in person their claims to performance as members of the police force. All sorts of women are among the besiegers, old, young, middle-aged. Girls with bobbed hair and other gay young friskers are strangely mixed up with grave old plodders, all anxious to serve as guardsians of John Bull's peace.

RUSSIAN BUSINESS IS NOT SOUGHT BY BERLIN MERCHANTS

Berlin, Oct. 9.—Germany's withdrawal from the Russian commercial field becomes more pronounced every day. The Stinnes interests make no concealment of the fact that they have practically ceased all efforts to do business with soviet Russia, and have very slight investments in that country. Every day the German press contains letters and articles narrating the difficulties which Germans have encountered in attempting to carry on business relations with the soviet government, and reflecting the disappointment, that the Rapallo treaty did not bring the business in Russia promised by Rathenau, Wirth, Maltzan and other German political leaders responsible for the treaty.

A German wholesaler who has just returned from Leningrad contributes a letter to the Berlin Zeitung an Mittag in which he says the ability of Russia to export decreases constantly. "It would be a crime," he says, "to export cereals from Russia now when new grain is expected. There is no foreign money coming into Russia through the sale of exports, and the importation of foreign goods is stopping. Why? Because the principle of the government is that everything needed within the country has to be provided by the state agencies.

"Any foreigner is regarded as an intruder and is under suspicion," the writer continues. "Any business deal a foreigner handles may be classed as 'speculation,' and he may be punished accordingly. The natives dread contact with foreigners because they know they are constantly watched. Hotels are state-owned, and guests under constant control. Every letter is censored. Russia is a country of dictatorship under which business is impossible."

The writer comments on the retreat of American interests from Russia, especially the manufacturers of farm machinery who had large factories in Russia up to the time of the Bolshevik success. He says American finance is especially hostile to the soviet regime, and has induced the French to refrain from trying to do business there.

"The German made some effort to gain Russian business," the writer continues, "but he is retreating likewise from day to day because the sharing system of the soviets leaves no profits. The only foreigners who work for the future and remain in Russia are the English. Recently a British refrigerating car company invested $500,000 in a Russian branch. We in Germany, with our scarcity of money, have better uses for our capital and cannot be keen on Russian investments."

Gypsies Dance Together To the Sad Strains of Violins

Dragalevtsi, Bulgaria, Oct. 9.—The old monastery in this village on the slope of Mount Vitosha, near Sofia, was the gathering place the other day of many thousands of gypsies. They arrived on horseback, on donkeyback or on foot. During the night their bivouac fires twinkled all over the mountain side.

From many towns and villages in the Sofia district they arrived to celebrate the fete day of St. Mary the Virgin, which the gypsies observe more ardently than the Christians, despite the fact that the day marks an event in a religion they do not profess.

By nightfall the enclosure of the old monastery began to fill with men and women of dark complexion and great vivacity. The women were picturesque in their baggy trousers of bright-colored calico. Having cooked their stews, they seated themselves around the steaming pots,

Ashville Man Gives Tanlac High Praise

"Such a decided change has taken place in my weight and general health that my fellow workers are asking me what brought it all about," recently declared J. H. Clouse, 167 Ashland Ave., Asheville, N. C., for 17 years a conductor on the Asheville street railway, in describing his experience with Tanlac.

"A few months back, I became so run-down on account of stomach trouble that it looked like I might have to turn in my cap and gage and give up my job. Indigestion caused me so much misery I actually dreaded to eat! I was having rheumatism pain-eat! I was having rheumatic pains and neuralgia and my nerves were all undone.

"Tanlac has put me to eating and I reckon that accounts for my increased weight, energy and strength. Anyway, I feel like a different man and I give all the credit to Tanlac."

Indian Leaders Earnestly Pleads for Pagan Rites, Said

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 7.—John Still Day, a "medicine man" representing 400 pagan Indians on the Red Lake reservation near the Canadian boundary, protested against the efforts of the Indian bureau to abolish old tribal customs when he appeared before the Senate Indian Affairs sub-committee during its investigation here.

Mention had been made to the sub-committee that the tribal dances were detrimental to the Indians' crops, and that they interfered with the educational work among the younger members of the tribes.

Still Day is a tall, handsome, Chipewewa fullblood. He did not wear the garb of the tribal healer but appeared in the attire of the white man. Speaking through an interpreter he told the committee that he was not the chief nor the great speaker, but protested against "the white man's efforts to take away my religion."

CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

"My bakings used to be a matter of 'hit or miss'—sometimes they were successful, then again a total failure, no matter how hard I tried. But that was before a friend persuaded me to try Calumet. Now I know what the result will be—what to expect every time—perfectly raised, uniformly baked foods. Bake day is really a delight."

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans, instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Baking Powder plays an important part in the success or failure of your baking. The great American housewives all realize this. They have found by experience that a better leavener is not, and cannot be made—that for nutritious and wholesome foods it has no equal.

Calumet is made in the World's largest baking powder factories; human hands never touch it.

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of gripe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. HUGHES ENDORSES ROBBER TARIFF
 Secretary Hughes, defending the Republican administration in Ohio—an appropriate place—approved the Fordney-McCumber tariff as a “highly successful revenue producer, yielding more than any previous tariff.”

And it has—but not alone for the Government. It has enabled Secretary Mellon's Aluminum Trust to declare dividends of 40 per cent; it has given the Wool Trust the opportunity to set aside $3,000,000 of “accumulations” in one year; it has enriched the Singer Sewing Machine Company, already one of the strongest monopolies in the country; it has swelled the profits of the Sugar Trust by at least $100,000,000 annually; it has added millions to the income of the Steel Trust—$100,000,000 of which was taken from the farmers in higher prices for agricultural machinery and implements; it has favored and fattened every combine in the United States.

But this tariff has done nothing for the farmer and the wage worker while doing a good deal to pauperize them by increasing the cost of living not less than four billion dollars a year. While the trusts and monopolies which benefit by this tariff have grown richer they have enhanced prices on the one hand and cut wages on the other hand.

And this tariff has done little for the Government. Of every $8 collected in higher prices from consumers, including farmers and wage workers, only $1 has gone into the Treasury.

Republican campaign funds have gained by this tariff, however. The trusts and combines whose prosperity is derived from taxes levied on food, clothing, fuel, shelter and nearly every common necessity have contributed handsomely to the Republican party to keep the tariff in force. Perhaps that's why Secretary Hughes praises this profiteers' tariff.

UNDER SECRETARY OF THE A. C.
 Under Secretary of the Treasury, Garrard B. Winston, has joined the reactionary G. O. P. broadcasters, who, when not disseminating blab, are filling the air with misinformation. Mr. Winston's specific offense is telling the “listeners-in” that tax reduction was forced on Congress by President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon. Mr. Winston says in substance that had it not been for the submission of the Mellon plan “we never would have heard of the Simmons plan or the Garner plan,” both Democratic measures, which were embodied in the tax reduction bill passed by the last Congress.

Mr. Winston, of course, knows that the responsibility for initiating legislation is with the majority party in the Congress; he knows also that when the Mellon bill was introduced in the House, and the Garner bill substituted for it, that Congressman Longworth, Republican Floor Leader, offered a compromise bill which was passed in the House, making the second rejection of the Mellon bill by that body, just as the Simmons plan was a rejection of the Mellon plan in the Senate.

The most important fact in connection with the effort to reduce taxes does not appear at all in the reported address of Under Secretary Winston. This fact is that in May, 1919, President Wilson called a Republican Congress in special session and laid before it a comprehensive detailed plan of tax reduction in order to put an end to the high war taxation and reduce it to a peace basis. The Republican leader of Congress, Senator Penrose, had insisted there should be no tax reduction, based upon the theory that if the people were compelled to bear the heavy burdens of war taxes for another two years, they would rebel against the Democratic administration, and put the Republican party in power in the White House, thus giving that party full control of the Government. This theory proved correct, and it was not until 1921 that a tax reduction bill was passed, which, like the last one, was a Democratic measure in all its essential features.

Both in 1921 and in 1923 the only plan of tax reduction presented by the Republican majority was for the reduction of the taxes of the very largest tax payers, while the actual tax reduction obtained from both Congresses for the benefit of all the tax payers was through Democratic amendments supported by a coalition of Democratic and Progressive Republican members.

These facts do not appear in the report of Mr. Winston's radio address. It would seem therefore that in attempting to convey the impression that credit should be given to President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon for tax reduction, Under Secretary of the Treasury Winston could also qualify as Under Secretary of the Ananias Club.

MISS MATTIE MERCER GRADUATES FROM LOCAL HOSPITAL

Surgical Nurse. She is very popular with the public, her classmates and hospital associates in general.

It is the purpose of the hospital to make a feature of these graduating occasions by having a “get acquainted” program connected with the County Medical Society, at which the hospital will be host, a graduating address delivered by some noted speaker, and the invitation of a number of citizens interested in sciences akin to medicine, nursing, the public welfare and the prevention of disease in general.

Mr. F. C. Harding's Address.

The graduating address for Miss Mercer was delivered by Hon. F. C. Harding. It was most enjoyable and was one of the finest exposition of the subject ever heard by those in attendance.

Rev. V. P. Scoville, three of whose family have been patients of Miss Mercer, in recent years, presented the class pin with very touching words. The anatomy prize, a five dollar gold piece, awarded by Dr. Pace, was presented by Dr. E. T. Dickinson. He expressed the sincere hope that Miss Mercer would never in any way fall down nor have cause to break the coin.

The graduate nurse of the hospital, Miss Maud Bull Bryan, and Emma Louise Winfree of Wilson, members of the medical society, under graduates of the hospital and their invited friends were the guests of the evening.

THRILLS PLENTIFUL ABOARD SHENANDOAH

Before the reaching the foot hills of the rocky mountains, the Shenandoah passed over El Paso last night sailed over the mountains, twisting, turning, rising, falling like a great bird until the Rio Grande glistened ahead, and the giant craft turned its nose towards the city lights, hovered awhile over the border, then crossed the Pecos river leading the Texas plains behind at 7:40 p. m.

Soon the Shenandoah was in the foothills of the Rockies and in a few minutes mounted to an altitude of from 2400 feet to 6000 feet. The ears and eyes of those on board reacted to the rarified atmosphere and the immense bags inside the tube which had been only partly full during the previous two days, crumpled and strained against their network of cause. With several additional rises the air pressure diminishing and expending was released to prevent bursting the bags.

Peaks thrown into strange shapes by the moonlight seemed to come forward to grasp the great intruder and then fall back. The motors, driving through the air with their fifteen hundred horse power and the winds stinging at the airship but like an ocean liner she responded faithfully to her rudder some times quivering but always going swiftly and sure forward. The roar of the wind on taut air drums was the only proof of the hurricane over the mountain tops.

Womans Club Entertains At Get-to-gether Dinner

The Woman's Club enjoyed a most delightful get-together dinner in the Methodist Church last evening. Covers were laid for nearly two hundred guests and a most interesting program was presented.

Upon arrival the club women were received by Mrs. Ed. Harvey and Mrs. Ray Tyson and invited to the auditorium of the church where they were given a cordial welcome by Mrs. J. K. Brown and Mrs. H. E. Austin and introduced to the receiving line which was composed of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, president; Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, out going president; Mrs. R. R. Cotten, honorary president; Miss Miriam McFadyen, ex-president and Miss Ann Perkins. Other officers also welcomed the guests.

After words of greeting had been exchanged and after every one had become acquainted they were invited to the basement of the church where dinner was served.

The room was attractively decorated with the club colors, white and red. Large silver baskets filled with beautiful red dahlias, were arranged on the tables while streamers of red paper ribbons extended down the center of the tables. Red shaded lights added much to the effectiveness of the decorations.

After the guests had found their places and after Mrs. T. H. Plenum, had returned thanks Mrs. Ficklen announced that she wanted the club women to become better acquainted and asked that each tell her name and tell what she hated most to do. The idea was most unique and caused much merriment. The things that women hated most to do ranged from, "Oh, how I hate to get up in the morning," to the announcement of a spinster who hated to announce that "her husband died in his infancy."

Mrs. Ficklen in her usual attractive manner made a most inspiring talk appealing to the women to cooperate with her in making the club a great success. She told briefly the work which she wishes to accomplish during the year. In closing her talk Mr. Ficklen paid a beautiful tribute to the efficient work of Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale during her three year's administration as president of the Greenville Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ragsdale in a few appropriate words thanked Mrs. Ficklen for her tribute and appealed to the members of the club to stand behind Mrs. Ficklen and help carry the work of the club to the highest pinnacle of success.

The club work this year will be accomplished through departments, namely, Home Economics, Fine Arts, Civics and Health. The chairmen, Mesdames E. W. Griffin, W. H. Woodard, Alex Viola and J. H. B. Moore, made interesting talks announcing their plans for the year and asking the club women to join a department and enjoy its work through the year. Each chairman is enthusiastic over her program and with the cooperation of the members will make the year the best year in the history of the club.

In the absence of Mrs. R. L. Carr, chairman of the Library commission, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, read her report which was splendidly written giving the plans for the library in a clear, concise manner. Every club woman is proud of the library and is deeply interested in securing the best books possible. Mrs. Winslow paid a beautiful tribute to the past work of Mrs. Carr and appealed to the members to give her their support in the promotion of the library. One of the outstanding features of oughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Ficklen announced that Greenville has a recent addition to her music department, in the "Mocking Bird Trio," which is composed of three of the world's best known musicians, Mrs. W. L. Hall, Mrs. Ed Harvey and Mrs. R. G. Fitzgerald, and that the Woman's Club was indeed honored in that they were the first to hear this wonderful trio. Their selection which was presented in a manner which would make any one forget their troubles and cares was the very latest song, "Silent Night." This trio is wonderful and any one desiring their services can secure same upon request. Their singing is a sure cure for the "Blues."

Miss Annie Perkins in a most beautiful selection of words toasted Mrs. R. R. Cotten, "Mother of our Club." Miss Perkins commented on the fact that it was impossible to give a toast really worthy of the honorary president of the Greenville Club. A woman beloved by every club woman in the state and held in high esteem by every citizen of the state. Her toast, however, was a beautiful tribute and expressed the love, reverence and respect of the club.

Mrs. Cotten responded to the toast in her usual charming manner. She expressed great pleasure at being able to be present at such a happy gathering of club women. She appealed to the members to co-operate with Mrs. Ficklen and to make their club the very best possible both in service to their community and to the state. In closing her talk Mrs. Cotten gave the club the following: To make a clubwoman to fit any station.

Take a heart-full of true aspiration, Soaked well in the Wine of Determination
With Oil of Perseverance to prevent deterioration
Add a full measure of Consecration, And a strong desire for co-operation, Distill all traces of exploitation
And flavor with love and self-negation
Thus you will reach the consummation
Of a Good Clubwoman, to fit any Station.

A three course dinner was served. The ice course carried out the color scheme of red and white. A local orchestra furnished music throughout the entirety of the evening. After the singing of the "Club Woman's Hymn," which was composed by Mrs. R. R. Cotten the guests departed declaring the club's first get-together dinner one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

"THREE WEEKS" COMES ONCE IN EVERY LIFE

"In the life of every man and woman comes a 'Three Weeks.'" That is the claim of Elinor Glyn, authoress and expert on love, whose most famous novel, "Three Weeks," was filmed for the Goldwyn studios by Alan Crosland, and comes to White's theatre Monday and Tuesday.

"Once in every human beings life comes a period of supreme happiness brought about by love. Every woman, for a time, is The Lady, and every man is Paul.

"It may last for months—it may last only a few days. But in that time, every person reaches his highest mental and moral point.

"One does not know at the time that he is experiencing his 'Three Weeks.'"

It was with this fact in mind that Mrs. Glyn wrote "Three Weeks," in order to idealize love and depict the "three weeks" of every man and woman.

It is also because of this fact that "Three Weeks" has become the most widely read novel written in the last fifteen years. Mme. Glyn believes.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Oct. 10.—With an adequate supply of American cotton and foreign indicated for this season and with stocks everywhere increasing not much recovery in prices is probable until the weight of the movement is felt unless very unfavorable weather is expected or unless the trade demand becomes urgent.

The latest of Government forecasts is for a yield of 12,499,000 American cotton exclusive of linters against 10,340,000 last season and advices indicate that foreign crop will be at least 1,000,000 larger than last year.

As to foreign crops, Washington advises as follows:

Egypt. Returns indicate crop in northern part of upper Egypt is disappointing in quantity and quality. Reports from the southern provinces of upper Egypt are better. In lower Egypt crop is reported to be good and there are prospects of a good average yield.

India. On the whole the weather was favorable and prospects for the cotton crop are good.

Mexico. The Languano will be between 140,000 and 150,000, about two thirds of amount expected early in the season.

Brazil. Weather conditions were favorable for the cotton crop up to the beginning of September.

Spinners taking of American cotton the last week were small, the weeks in sight large and the increase in the world's visible supply of American for the week was big. Chances are that consumption by American mills during September will be much smaller than last season for the second consecutive month this season, report on which will be issued at 9 a. m., Tuesday. Returns will run against 357,000 for August of this year and 486,000 for September of last year.

The New Orleans Exchange and the New York Exchange will be closed Monday, on account Columbus day holiday.

LIVERPOOL COTTON

Market opened quiet and steady. Middling 1400; good middling 1454. Sales 6,000 of which 280 were American. Receipts 11,000 of which 8,200 were American.

Closed firm: Jan. 1378; Mar. 1381; May 1383; July 1367; Oct. 1401; Dec. 1376.

THE WEATHER

Warm temperatures continue over belt, light rainfall reported in Fort Smith district, heavy in Jacksonville district.

Forecast: Entire belt mostly cloudy to part cloudy and increasing cloudiness, colder in western belt.

Bout Between Darcy and Mills In Raleigh, Oct. 10

Raleigh, Oct. 9.—Boxing fans will be given a good card on Friday night, October 10, according to local promoters who have scheduled a bout between Johnny Darcy and Pat Mills, both middleweights of New York City. Both fighters say the promoters are well known in their home city and have a reputation of putting up a real fight. Pat Mills claims the championship of Ireland and has a record of a number of victories over recognized fighters.

Several preliminaries to the main bout have been arranged, it was stated by the promoters.

From Soup To Structural Steel

It may seem a far cry from soup to structural steel, but Mrs. Jean Shassere of Terre Haute, Indiana is equally at home in the feminine avocation of creating a new and delicious soup, as in mapping out a successful campaign to place a huge order of structural steel.—for selling steel is her vocation.

Here is one of her favorite soups—Cream of Lettuce. Take 3 cups White Stock, 2 heads Lettuce, 2 tablespoons cooked Rice, 1/2 cup Cream, 1/2 tablespoon Onion, finely chopped, 1 tablespoon Crisco, yolk 1 Egg, Nutmeg, Salt and Pepper to taste. Remove outer leaves from lettuce and shred it. Cook onion 5 minutes in Crisco, add lettuce, rice, and stock. Add cream, yolk of egg slightly beaten, nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste.
