REPUBLICAN SLUSH FUND MAY REACH $12,000,000 MARK

Walsh Presents Copy of Letter Soliciting Funds to Carry Election for Coolidge in Doubtful States

Chicago, Oct. 18.—The Senate investigating committee was told today by Frank P. Walsh, counsel for Senator LaFollette, independent presidential candidate, that leads had been developed indicating that a Republican slush fund of $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 was being raised for use in this campaign.

"Senator LaFollette has informed me that he underestimated the amount of the slush fund," Walsh said. "After a very hasty investigation we have leads to present to the committee that will show that $10,000,000 is not too small an estimate and it is likely to run to $12,000,000."

"We will show as we go along," Walsh added, "that three funds are being raised, one by the Republican National Committee, one by the bankers, and one by the manufacturers and business men."

Walsh presented the now much discussed campaign fund soliciting letter sent out in Pennsylvania by Joseph Grundy, Bristol, Pa., who signed himself as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Republican National Committee.

There is little or no chance that John W. Davis will be elected. Without the majority of any party in the Electoral College or the House of Representatives, Charles W. Bryan will be elected vice president by the Senate and become president of the United States on the 4th day of March.

MRS. FERGUSON IS ELIGIBLE TO BE TEXAS GOVERNOR

Supreme Court Denies Injunction to Prohibit Democratic Woman Candidate's Name From Ballot

Austin, Texas, Oct. 18.—An injunction prohibiting the name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas, from going on the ballot was denied by Supreme Court today. The court also held that Mrs. Ferguson was qualified in every way to hold the office if elected.

The question came up before the court from the Third Circuit Court of Appeals. The higher court held that Charles M. Dickson, San Antonio plaintiff seeking the injunction, was not authorized by the statutes to bring the suit and also that the district court was without jurisdiction. In all the objections urged by the plaintiff that Mrs. Ferguson was not qualified to hold the office of governor, the higher court ruled that she was qualified.

The Merchant Volunteer Corps of Canton, China, known as the Chinese Fascists, has been defeated by the "Red Army," composed of Chinese laborers, after a two-day fight in the city streets. The fighting had no connection with the Shanghai war.

GREENVILLE WINS THIRD GAME OF FOOTBALL SEASON

Defeats Washington Squad With Score 26-0—Local Team Playing Good Football

The Washington High School football team was defeated by the Greenville High School team at Washington Friday, October 17, 1924 with a score of 26-0. West of Greenville with his long accurate forward passing was the outstanding star of the game.

Mike Mayo, the midget quarterback, Robert Forbes, the lanky end and Tom Ricks the fighting center also starred for Greenville. Capt. Harvey played his usual steady game.

First Quarter—The game opened with Greenville receiving the ball, and carrying it, during the first few minutes of play, to within 20 yards Washington's goal but at this point they were penalized 15 yards for holding and lost the ball on downs. The remainder of the first quarter was slow, the ball see-sawing back and forth for from either goal. No score.

Second Quarter—Washington had the ball but was held for downs and was forced to punt. Greenville received the ball on her forty yard line and by straight football carried it to Washington's goal. Mike Mayo carrying it across for the first touch down of the game.

The second touch down for Greenville was made by a long forward pass West to Forbes. The half ended with Washington in possession of the ball. Score Greenville 13, Washington 0.

The third quarter opened with Washington receiving the ball on her ten yard line, where they were held for downs, and forced to punt. Ricks of Greenville, blocked the punt and neatly scooping it up carried it for third touch down. The quarter ended with Washington in possession of the ball on their 35 yard line. Score, Greenville 19, Washington 0.

Fourth quarter—Washington, by good lateral passing and end runs ran the ball to Greenville's 20 yard line but was stopped there and lost the ball, on the fourth down by an incomplete forward pass. Greenville by series of line plays and a brilliant aerial attack carried the ball to Washington 10 yard line where West carried it across the goal for the fourth and final touchdown. The game ended with Washington in possession of the ball on their 20 yard line. Final score, Greenville 26, Washington 0.

KIWANIANS HOLD INTERESTING MEET

Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, of Woman's Club, Outlines Work of Her Club; Three New Members Added

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club was most interesting and enjoyable last night. The Club was honored by the presence of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, President of the Woman's Club, Greenville. She brought greetings to the Kiwanis Club from her club and in a most interesting and delightful manner outlined the work and aims of the Woman's Club for the coming year in Greenville.

The stunts of the evening were in charge of Victor Davis and Frank Harrington. One of the most laughable was the test to see who had acquired the most skill in domestic duties at home. Twelve Kiwanians were chosen, divided into two groups. A pillow in its slip was given to the Kiwanian heading the line. He was to remove the slip from the pillow and put it back on and pass it to the next in line to do the same. Frank Harrington demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that his wife needs to get him into training immediately.

The Kiwanian kiddie-coop was rolled in and was found to contain three babies Kiwanians. Prof. R. C. Deal of the Teachers College, Berry Bostic of the Quinn-Miller, Co., and John Strong of the Farmers Bank.

After an opportunity had been given to admire the lusty infants, Charlie Laughinghouse told them what it means to be a good Kiwanian. The lesson was summed up in the following:

Teach me that sixty seconds make a minute, one hundred cents a dollar and sixteen ounces a pound. Help me so to live that I can lie down at night to sleep, not toss, shave myself in the morning and look the man before me in the eye.

Grant that I may earn by meek ticket on the level and in earning that I may measure my acts by the Golden-Rule.

Deafen me to the jingle of the dirty dollar and to the rustle of un-holy petticoats.

Blind me to the faults of the other fellows and open my eyes to my own shortcomings.

Guide my footsteps so that each evening at the dinner table when I look at my wife who has been a blessing to me, I shall have nothing to conceal.

Keep me young enough to laugh with little tots and sympathetic enough to be considerate of old age.

Then when comes the day of over-ered shades, the soft footsteps and the smell of tube roses, make the ceremony short and let the fellows say, "He was a good Kiwanian."

In reply President Coolidge wrote to Mr. Ford that he trusted "should Congress conclude that it was best to restore the property to private ownership you will at this time renew your interest in the project."

In reply Mr. Ford wrote, "In as much as time has already elapsed we are unable to wait and delay what plans we have have any longer for action by Congress. Consequently I am asking you to consider this the withdrawal of the offer."

PRES COOLIDGE TO NAME AGRICULTURE COMMISSION SOON

Several Leaders Urge President to Withhold Investigation Until After Election

Washington, Oct. 18.—President Coolidge expects to call in the near future a conference on agriculture which will be the first step in the proposed investigation into farming conditions by a special commission. The personnel of the commission will be named by the president soon. He wishes to confer with several farm leaders before taking definite action on the appointment of the commission and it is expected he will confer with them next week.

Some of the farm leaders with whom he has conferred have advised the president to delay the commission's investigation until after election lest the work become involved in politics.

The president today so arranged his schedule as to permit him to attend the funeral late this afternoon of H. H. Kohlsatt, former Chicago publisher, who died yesterday at the residence of Secretary Hoover.

Beheaded Body of Wealthy Italian Is Found Early Today

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 18.—The headless silken pajama clad body of John Lapaglia, wealthy Italian merchant, was found in his luxuriously furnished apartment today. The head had been severed by an ax and the ax had covered the body with silken bed clothes.

Police are said to be working upon three theories—that Lapaglia was the victim of blackhanders, bootleggers or a woman.

Officers are searching for two young women who are said to have frequently visited the apartment and the occupants of an automobile bearing Ohio license plates.

GIRL ACQUITTED MURDER CHARGE

Jury Returns Verdict of Not Guilty After All-Night Consideration

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—Violet Dickerson, 19 years old mother, was acquitted today of a charge of murder in connection with the hold up and killing of Louis Hirsch, aged store keeper, last December.

The jury which had heard the evidence all the week retired late yesterday afternoon and when it was unable to make a report at 9 o'clock last night was locked up until 10 o'clock this morning.

The girl was accused jointly with Charles Oeffinger, 31, of shooting Hirsch. Oeffinger was given a separate trial and convicted of first degree murder carrying a death penalty. He asked for a new trial and his appeal is now before the State Supreme Court.

The girl and Oeffinger accused each other of having fired the shot that killed Hirsch.

Bronze Marker for Daniel Boone Trail In Carnegie Library

Charlotte, N. C. October 19.—Daniel Boone, who left his comfortable home in Pennsylvania to adopt North Carolina as his state for a time and who blazed the trail over the Appalachian Mountains in the comparatively unknown country beyond, has again been honored by North Carolina citizens. A bronze marker commemorating his trail blazing has just been placed in the children's room at the Carnegie Library here. Appropriate exercises were held at the unveiling in which members of the Boone Highway and Memorial Association, a patriotic committee of Charlotte citizens and city and county school children participated.

Dr. Alexander Graham, assistant superintendent of the city schools accepted the marker and judge John A. Hehrdricks, candidate for Congress from ninth district, made the principal address. The marker is a base relief of Boone and has been set with appropriate lighting effect.

"New Inlet" Has Been Reopened

Raleigh, Oct. 19.—New Inlet, considered one of the most important geographical assets along the coast of North Carolina, which was filled in by narrowing some two years ago, has just been re-opened after the accomplishing of many difficult engineering feats, under the general supervision and the direction of Brent S. Drane.

While the inlet was re-opened by the Fisheries Commission and its main purpose is to afford oyster and clam beds and shad coves, it is said its greater widening than before will return to the state a great deal more than was over expected and many times the amount expended in its re-opening.

Raleigh, Oct. 18.—In 1922 New Inlet, which had been gradually narrowing for a number of years, was definitely closed.

With the shutting up of another of the few outlets to the sea through the sand bars which enclose the North Carolina system of great sounds, not only were valuable clam and oyster beds endangered, but even more seriously the commercial fisheries of Upper Pamlico and Albemarle Sounds and their numerous estuaries were deprived of one of the two entry points from the sea which had long been rated as far the more important.

On the morning of October 7, 1924, New Inlet was re-opened, as the result of months of work and the conquering of many difficulties attending an engineering feat, considered unique in the history of the state and one which is full of scientific, historical and commercial interest.

Credit for the achievement belongs to the Fisheries Commission, which acted upon many petitions from the region affected; to Governor Morrison, who insisted to the General Assembly of 1922 upon the importance of maintaining the inlets in the interest of the fishing industry; and to the wisdom of that General Assembly which appropriated $100,000 for the work which was successfully carried out according to the plans of Brent S. Drane, consulting engineer, and now director of the North Carolina Economic and Geological Survey.

Owing to the history of the inlets on the sandy coast of North Carolina having been one of instability and erratic change much doubt was expressed as to the wisdom of the undertaking. A similar undertaking had failed some time before.

Wake Forest Eleven Meets Florida Today

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 18.—The University of Florida, "Gators," and the Wake Forest (N. C.) "Deacons" are here today for their annual football game. The coaches stated today that all regulars injured in previous games would be able to take part in today's game.

COATS AS CURRENCY SERVE REBUILDING OF ARMENIAN CITY

Darachichak, Armenia, Oct. 17.—The coats contributed by America's ever-charitable families have literally rebuilt this city, which before the war was a prosperous and happy community living within the shadow of Mount Ararat. Scores of shattered buildings have been restored from the proceeds of discarded garments which, to the half-naked natives, were of greater value than gold.

In a country swept by war and afterwards ravaged by the Turk, building material was almost impossible to obtain when American relief workers came here to rescue the last vestiges of the American race. The city was in ashes; money was worthless, food was difficult to obtain. There were 50 deaths daily from starvation and disease.

In order to relieve the situation the Americans were forced to restore to the primitive method of barter. In return for old clothing they received from the natives all kinds of fragments of houses from ruins of the larger neighboring cities. Streams of half-starved natives carrying timbers, joists, doors, windows and loads of bricks on their backs, plodded into Darachichak from distant points, and received in return warm coats, blankets, shawls and shoes from the cargoes of relief supplies sent from America. Police guards became exhausted in keeping the hordes of people in line.

For once the ragman was mightier than the millionaire; an old pair of shoes or winter-before-last's discarded overcoat had greater purchasing power than the American dollar. The natives had no incentive to work for mere money, they could have made no purchases with gold or silver, for there was nothing to buy in the devastated country. But with clothes to be had at the end of a hard day's work labor they turned to with a will, toiling under the weight of heavy timbers and loads of bricks and stones. The shortage of building materials soon became a surplus. The town which the Turks destroyed was restored, and even enlarged by the construction of large buildings to house the thousands of orphans who sought refuge with the American relief organizations.

Darachichak, "the old-clothes town," is known throughout the Near East, and Thomas Mills, of New York city, the Near East Relief worker, who was in charge of the district became known as the head of the "National Bank of Old Clothes."

If you are one of those who like the stories of Conan Doyle, Anna Katherine Green, Wilkie Collins, Mary Roberts Riechert—or the plays of Avery Hopwood, then you have one of the rarest of treats in store for you when Wagenhals and Kemper present their great dramatic triumph, "The Bat," written by Mrs. Rinehart and Mr. Hopwood in collaboration, at White's Theatre on Oct. 21.

The Bat is unquestionably the greatest hit in years. It has now been playing one entire year in New York and simultane-

America Too Popular With Chinese Students

Peking, Oct. 17.—The American Legation has taken cognizance of an apparently authentic report that the ministry of education has issued instructions to authorities in the provinces to cut down the quota of students to be sent to America.

"In recent years there have been too many private students going to America," the ministry in question is alleged to have said in its communication to the provinces. "During the last 18 months the number is equal to 67 percent of the total number of students going abroad. The reason why most of the students go to America is that they easily obtain admission into American colleges where they become special students. In two or three years they return to China, being considered to have graduated. "Although there are not a few who go to United States to obtain a real education, a majority go simply to get a degree. Even if the standard of education in the United States is higher than in other countries, the number of students should be restricted, otherwise it may result in the setting up of a special intellectual influence in the country.

"Now with the enforcement of the new American immigration law there is the more reason to check Chinese students from going there. Beginning this year, any vacancy in the quota of government students going abroad should be filled by those desirous of pursuing their studies in Europe."

Work Brings Happiness Many German Princes

Berlin, Oct. 17.—The last ten years in Germany has deprived many a prince of his income, and sent him out to make a living along with the rest of the world. Not a few of the nobility, particularly among the younger generation, have said they were happier and more contented with life generally since they went to work than they were when they had nothing to do but count their income and look for thrills in sports, society or military manoeuvres.

What the republic is to do with the property that once belonged to former Emperor William is still an open question. He possessed large estates in Brandenburg, Pommern, Prussia, and other assets, which have been appraised at $40,000,000, all of which he lost when he fled to Holland in 1918. His income today is relatively very modest indeed.

The castles, picture galleries and other valuable collections regarded as the property of the old dynasty were taken over by the state. A number of the princes, however, brought suit to retain their holdings, and have regained title to some of the properties which were confiscated when the republic became a reality.

It has been estimated that the former King of Saxony, Friedrich August, was a loser to the extent of $6,000,000. The Saxon Diet now gives him $80,000 a year.

Other rich noblemen who today are living on greatly reduced incomes are the Grand Duke of Saxony, Weimar, the King of Wurtemberg, the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, and the Prince of Schaumberg-Lippe.

SHELTER AT A PRICE FOR DRUNKARD OF GENTLE BIRTH

London, Oct. 17.—Two "personals" appearing in the London Times tell their own story. The first, which reflects the social and economic changes wrought by the war, follows:

"Peer wants work; under 40; energetic, resourceful; horses, motors, literature; served in Royal Air Force. The other shows the die hard spirit the spirit that's out to maintain the old social standards at all hazards. Here it is:

"There is now a vacancy (First class) for Lady Inebriate in Home at... Apply etc."

The plain inference of this laconic message is that at this particular home there is no welcome for a female inebriate who is not a lady.

TARIFF BOOSTS PRICE OF FARM IMPLEMENTS

Washington, D. C., Sept.—Republican spokesmen are telling farmers that they ought to be mighty grateful to the Republican party for putting farm implements on the free list in the present tariff law. The farmer having to pay prices that he cannot afford for his implements, cannot see much of a blessing in it—yet it is a fact, as the Republican spokesmen say, that farm implements are on the free list. That is one of the pretty little tricks that makes the Fordney-McCumber tariff such a charming young creature to the profiteer.

The farmer pays a steep tariff charge on every implement he buys, though that implement is on the free list. The tariff tax is not on the implement as an implement, it is on the material used in manufacturing the implement.

Steel is the most important material used in practically all farm implements and tools. On the average steel represents ninety per cent of the material cost of farm machinery. Good steel is taxed under the Fordney-McCumber tariff at 20 per cent, lower grade steel a little less. The implement manufacturer pays the tariff tax and passes it on to the farmer in the price of the machine. The manufacturer has to make a profit on his money tied up in tariff taxes, and so the charge passed on to the farmer is bigger than the actual tariff item. Frequently, it is several times as big.

Suppose the tariff on the steel in an implement is $10. The manufacturer pays that and passes it on with an interest charge to the jobber. The jobber passes it on with an added charge to the wholesale dealer. The wholesale dealer again passes it on with still another interest or profit charge to the retail dealer, who adds his own interest charge when he sells it to the farmer. Each of these charges represents probably twenty-five per cent of the original tariff tax, so that when it reaches the farmer it has been pyramided to $20, or probably to $25. He pays that much more for the implement than he would have paid without the tariff on steel. Other materials used in manufacturing farm implements are taxed in the same way, and the price of implements to the farmer increased accordingly. H. E. Miles, Chairman of the Fair tariff League, a protectionist organization, declares on the basis of an investigation he has made that the tariff on the steel in agricultural implements is costing the farmers of the country $100,000,000 more than "honest protection" justifies.

Farmers, during the past several years, have not been able to buy machinery at such high prices. They have had to pay it on whatever they bought but they have bought as little as possible. As a result, many of the farm implement manufacturers, many of them genuine friends of the farmer—have gone broke while the manufacturers of protected steel have put multiplied millions of dollars of tariff tribute in their pockets. They never needed tariff protection to enable them to produce steel at a profit. Steel is produced in the United States more cheaply than anywhere else in the world. The only purpose of the steel tariff is to enable the steel manufacturers to maintain monopoly prices in the United States, to the ruin of farmers and of many farm implement manufacturers.

A man will risk his life to get across a street when the tariff is against him and then stop on the other side to light a cigar.

Lives there a man with soul so dead who never to himself has said, "I wonder if Henry Ford would be interested in this proposition?"

We hate to admit it, but even the best of us like to be petted occasionally.

When you've made a fool of yourself you might as well take your punishment with good grace.

When Mary Roberts Rinehart wrote "The Breaking Point" it was hailed as the keenest study of psychology which had appeared in the form of fiction. Stripped of its fiction character, it remained an intelligent and carefully written treatise on the science of the mind.

In filming "The Breaking Point" for Paramount, Herbert Brenon put into it the same quality of mystery which always accompanies a study of mental reactions. Over a period of more than ten years the production follows the mental processes of a man and the results of these processes are put into action. At White's Theatre Monday.

Change of Life

"When change of life began on me," says Mrs. Lewis Laher, of Lamar, Mo., "I suffered so with womanly weakness. I suffered a great deal of pain in my back and sides. My limbs would cramp. I didn't feel like doing my work, and there are so many steps for a woman to take on a farm. I was very anxious to get better. A friend recommended to me and I began using it. I certainly improved. I went through change of life without any trouble. I can highly recommend Cardui."

CARDUI

At the age of about 40 to 50 every woman has to pass through a critical time, which is called the Change of Life.

If you are approaching this period, or are already suffering from any of its troubles or symptoms, take Cardui. It should help you, as it has helped others. At all druggists.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF EXTRAORDINARY INTEREST

To the Theatre-Goers of Greenville and Environs

While it is always the policy of this theatre to provide the best obtainable in entertainment there comes now and then attractions of such transcendent quality that their advent is a matter of more than passing interest. Such as these is the GREAT BLACKSTONE SHOW, which we are pleased to announce, will shortly be revealed to the patrons of this playhouse.

As is well known, BLACKSTONE is the acknowledged "greatest magician the world has ever known." This was acknowledged by the late Harry Kellar, himself the master mesmerizer of his time. In point of magnitude (td BLACKSTONE SHOW is on a par with the larger musical comedies.

I consider that you are especially fortunate in being able to witness this exceptionally fine attraction and selfishly I feel that I have made a good business move because BLACKSTONE has this season without exception broken the attendance record in each theatre he has exhibited in.

Further details of the engagement will appear in our local newspapers at a later date.

H. H. JACKSON, Director General, Whites Theatre

Mary Roberts Rinehart's great story, "The Breaking Point," combined with the direction of Herberl Brenon, has produced a Paramount picture which will be one of the most cunningly conceived mysteries that have ever been woven into the plot of a motion picture.

Like all the world's greatest detective stories, "The Breaking Point" keeps its chief secret until the very last, puzzling the audiences, and because of the interest created by this mystery around which the picture revolves, the story builds until the very last moment when an entirely unexpected climax is shown.

And the cast—it is one of the most carefully chosen that has ever appeared in a picture. Read over the names again.

COTTON LETTER
New Orleans, Oct. 18.—The tropical storm reported in the caribbean sea in early part of week appears to be in the vicinity of Yucatan Channel. According to the chart the disturbance was directly south and heading for the Channel, moving north, northwest. Storm warnings have been ordered up on the east coast of Florida.

Except for fear of the Gulf storm, weather conditions continued generally favorable in the interior, practically no rainfall the past 24 hours, which has been the cause almost throughout week permitting rapid picking and ginning crop.

Today Washington furnished the pars for use in arriving at the indicated crop, as of October 18 report on which will be issued Oct. 25 they show a slight reduction compared with pars of October first, but there are as many other features in connection with compiling the next report, there is no telling whether the next Government forecast will be bullish or bearish.

In connection, ymONAI8HRDRDLU

In this connection, Washington wires: "Cotton pars Oct. 18 based upon only 5 years record use condition late in season in many sections of doubtful significance. Pars cannot with confidence be combined with condition alone to establish forecast. Government forecast will be based upon consideration also reported yields, ginnings and others factors."

In October first this year the average condition of the crop was according to the Government, 53.5 and the indicated yield 12,499,000. The condition of the crop Oct. 25, last year was 47.8. What it will be for October this year remains to be seen and the possibility of not probability of heavy ginnings to 18th inst will have to be reckoned with also.

Domestic and international trade advices show improvement with encouraging signs in more than one direction, especially as to Europe in consequence of the Dawes plan having been put into operation, followed by the successful launching of the German loan, which was oversubscribed.

DIVORCES USELESS IN VIENNA BECAUSE OF FLAT SHORTAGE

Vienna, Oct. 17. — Vienna still struggles with problems arising from housing shortage, and every now and then some new phase of the situation draws public attention.

Just now it is the question of accommodations for divorced persons. Apartments are so scarce that in a great many cases divorced couples are compelled to go on living under the same roof. A man in such circumstance, recently went to court to compel his former wife to move away as he wanted to marry again. The judge ruled she should go.
