EXPLOSION KILLS SIX AND INJURES 21 OTHER PERSONS

Unexplained Accident Occurs Aboard Cruiser Trenton Off Cape Henry

Norfolk, Oct. 21.—Six men, one a commissioned officer, are dead, five are in a dangerous condition and not expected to live and 16 more are seriously injured as a result of the explosion aboard the U. S. S. Trenton about 40 miles east of Cape Henry late yesterday.

The explosion which occurred in the ship's forward turret was of such great force that the rear steel door was forced open and five men were blown overboard one of them being drowned. The ship was engaged in target practice at the time.

Immediately after the accident the Trenton headed at full speed for Hampton Roads where arrangements were made for removal of the injured to the naval hospital at Portsmouth. Several of the men not seriously injured were treated aboard the vessel. Most of the injured received burns about the face and body. Some were so badly burned that recognition was almost impossible.

No definite statement has been made by the Navy Department as to the exact cause of the accident but it is not thought to have been caused by any electrical trouble.

Stories of heroism among officers and men were related at the hospital by some of the men not seriously injured. Ensign Drexler, stood at the top of the list. When the blast struck the ship, knocking men down fore and aft, Drexler, close to the turret, rushed into the blaze and dragged three men to safety. His clothes ablaze, and with great burns about the face, he rushed to rescue others when he dropped dead on the deck.

Lieutenant Sedgwick was thrown overboard by the explosion. His right arm was broken, but with his good left he saved two of his companions and was trying to keep Walker above the water when a heavy wave struck him and broke the hold.

Physicians said the death list probably would be increased as several of those injured were not expected to live.

The cause of the explosion, according to a message from the Trenton, had not been determined.

"The forward twin mount was trained to the beam, with guns at an extreme elevation," said the message. "No shot had been fired. Powder and shell were being hoisted into the turret, and all safety precautions had been observed."

"Unusual and exacting care had been taken at every step, and at present it is believed the accident cannot be attributed to electrical trouble. Immediately after the explosion the access door in the rear of the turret was opened and four men fell overboard because of their overhang. Three were rescued. One apparently was badly burned and drowned, but body was not recovered."

(AS THE FRANK SLAYERS LOOK TO-DAY.)

You might not recognize them since guards took away their fine clothing, their names and their sleek hair cuts and gave them numbers to designate them from the other prisoners in the Joliet (Ill.) prison. But they are none other than the "superman" criminals—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sons of Chicago millionaires, who killed little "Bobbie" Franks "for a thrill." They seem much subdued by the prospect of a life behind prison walls.

SOUTHERN ENGINEER DIES ABOARD ENGINE

C. V. Clark, Veteran Engineer Succumbs to Acute Indigestion Just as He Reached for the Throttle

Selma, Oct. 21.—C. V. Clark, 62, veteran Southern Railway engineer, died suddenly aboard his engine here shortly after five o'clock this morning. He died as a result of acute indigestion, according to physicians.

Members of the train crew say that Clark ate a lunch upon the arrival of his train, passenger train 112, at Raleigh about 3:30 this morning. Shortly afterwards he complained of pains in his stomach. When his train reached Selma he went to a restaurant to get something to relieve him. He dropped dead on his engine just as he was about to pull the throttle.

Mr. Clark was engineer on Southern train numbers 112 and 17, operating between Goldsboro and Greensboro and made his home in Greensboro.

Appropriation for Corrective Health Work Proves Most Valuable

The appropriation for Corrective Health Work for Indigent Children has about exhausted. Working with the County Health Department this summer, ten to fifteen children, whose parents were too poor to pay for the operation, were operated on.

Two cases, costing about a hundred dollars a piece were paid for out of this appropriation. "Only in case of operations, is it necessary for the Red Cross to pay the bills for these children, as the doctors are very good about giving their services to these unfortunate people."

In order for Pitt County Chapter of the Red Cross to carry on this work with children, in which we have made but a small start, it will be necessary to put over a record Roll Call. Plans are being made for a good organization and it is up to the people to support the Red Cross in order for us to "carry on." The Peace Time Program of this organization is as large as it was during the war and it is necessary for us to have money to carry it on.

Work of the Junior Red Cross Pitt Co.

The Junior's of Pitt County are filling about four hundred Xmas boxes to be sent to children over seas.

No single project financed through the National Children's Fund has been more far reaching in its effects, both at home and abroad, than the sending of small gift boxes to girls and boys of the American Junior or Red Cross to be distributed at Christmas to the children of other lands and in our Insular Territories.

Juniors in the Southern Division will undertake to fill 18,000 of these boxes, and Pitt county is doing its share.

He explained that the North Carolina secretary would still be maintained in Atlanta but that other expenses would be curtailed.

North Carolina is ranked high among the states of the Union in its ability to pay its debts and for doing progressive and industrial things said the director.

Tanlac Saved Her From A Nervous Breakdown

Mrs. B. C. Fisher a well-known business woman, 732 Haywood Road, West Asheville, N. C., is another who has realized the value of Tanlac in restoring and maintaining health. She relates her experience as follows:

"My first experience with Tanlac dates back to about six years ago when nervous indigestion had me right on the verge of a complete breakdown. My meals, as light as they were, always caused nervous headaches, my sleep was never sound and I got up mornings with no energy or strength to begin the day's work.

"I will never forget how quickly Tanlac rid me of my troubles and brought back my appetite, energy and strength. Since then, when I have felt myself getting run-down, I take Tanlac and it never fails me."

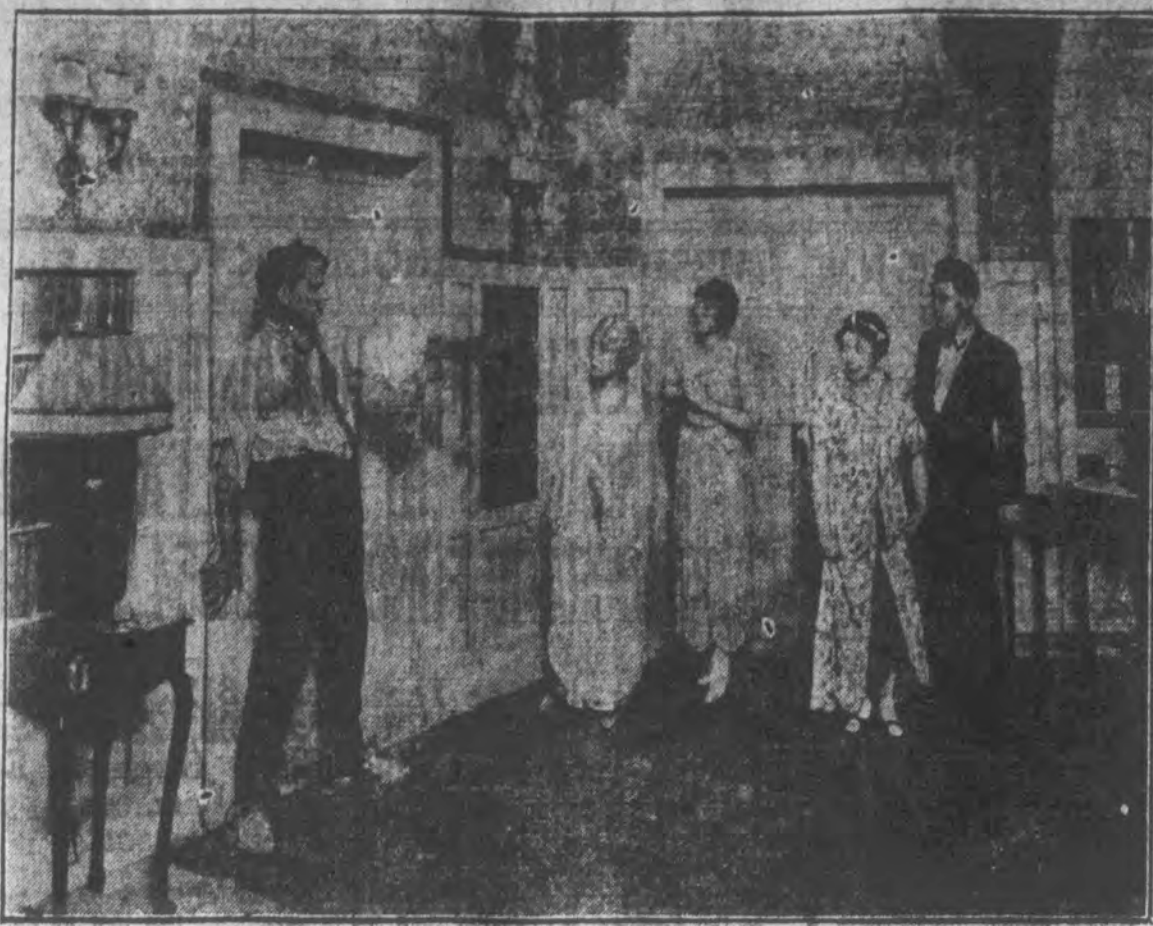

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

FAMOUS LONDON BUILDINGS SUCCUMB TO DAMP WEATHER

London, Oct. 21. — London fogs are responsible for the crumbling of the walls of the houses of Parliament, not the ravages of time as had been generally supposed.

The material in these buildings, which has been a great disappointment from the standpoint of water, is magnesian limestone. It was selected in the belief that it would withstand well both the action of the fogs and the passage of the years.

Parliament will be asked for money to make repairs.

MISS GISH DEFENDS STAGE FROM PULPIT

The Rev. C. F. Reisner had to hang out a standing room only sign, figuratively speaking, when Lillian Gish, the moving picture actress and leading woman in D. W. Griffith's great film production, "Orphans of the Storm," delivered an address on the theatre and the movies from the pulpit of the Chelsea M. E. Church, New York City. Miss Gish appeared at the invitation of Dr. Reisner to answer attacks against the stage world and motion picture folk.

As soon as the doors were opened, hundreds of men, women and children, who had been waiting in the street for admission, piled into the house of worship. When the services began people were standing in rows on both sides of the pulpit.

"I am proud to have Lillian Gish in my church," said Dr. Reisner. "I know her, and I know David Wark Griffith, her manager, and I am glad that I know them. I am tired of hearing the theatre and the moving pictures continually abused. They do a great deal of good, and they should be encouraged rather than vilified. Of course, some plays are bad and should be blacklisted, but they are in the minority.

"The movies put the saloon out of business, so, instead of throwing stones at them, let's commend the good things they do." At White's Theatre Wednesday.

Grasshopper: Like Alcohol.
Olympia, Wash., Oct. 17.—In a campaign to exterminate grasshoppers in Okanogan county, of this state, it was found that a mixture used to poison the insects became so attractive when fermented that it was 50 to 75 percent more efficient. The mixture is composed of molasses, arsenic, lemons, oranges, bran and sawdust.

It was first used freshly mixed, but when some that had been left over night and developed alcohol was spread over the ground as an experiment, it was found of enhanced allurements.

THE SECRET OF POISE AND FIGURE-GROOMING

THE time has come to face the facts about figures. See the women who have, through going without a corset, allowed their figures to sag and spread. Certainly you do not want this to happen to you. There is only one way to avoid it. Adopt "Figure-Grooming." Wear a Modart Corset.

Modart is an especially light, flexible corset, made from the finest materials, so designed that it not only gives a general slenderizing effect, but actually reduces the figure. It has a closed back because a closed back corset gives the extreme flat hip and back line.

Modart is a front fastening corset which makes it easy to adjust. It gives support where support is needed and by cupping under the body "stays-up" and does not restrict the waist.

In our corset department you will find a Modart to fit every figure and every purse. Lacing and non-lacing models in every material from coutil to beautiful silk brocades. Let one of our corsetiers who understand the art of "Figure-Grooming" choose the one Modart created for you.

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:
Gentlemen:
Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple.
Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.
Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.
Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.
The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary bran. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Just one word describes it—the flavor is DELICIOUS!

WALL STREET FOR COOLIDGE

The Magazine of Wall Street has taken a straw vote and ascertained how the international bankers, bond speculators and stock manipulators stand. The crooked canyon of concrete where Big Business dwells is a Coolidge stronghold. The offices when protective tariff schedules are devised and furnished to Republican Congressmen, ready-made, and directors' rooms where the financial hands of the country terminate in the fingers of a few magnates who operate the roads not for transportation service, but for the profits on their stocks and bonds, the back rooms where monopolies are formed and combinations in restraint of trade are brought about—all of these record a walloping big majority for Coolidge. The center of modern financial intrigue which O. Henry used to call "Bagdad on the Subway" lacks only a little of being solidly for the Republican Party and its silent candidate.

True, a scattering twelve per cent of the votes are cast for the other candidates but, as the Magazine of Wall Street says in summing up, the vote shows "a sufficient preponderance of favorable sentiment to indicate—that, if our investors and business men control the outcome, the Republican National Party will sweep to victory on a veritable tidal wave of votes."

COOLIDGE CHAOS

The chaos which Republican spokesmen predict is to follow the defeat of Calvin Coolidge is already here. The chaotic condition has existed ever since Mr. Coolidge became President. From that time a Republican Congress has refused to co-operate with President Coolidge in his legislative program. The Congress has either defeated or ignored the President's legislative recommendations, has passed legislation which he opposed and has repressed it after his veto. In other words, the Republican 68th Congress is an anti-Coolidge, anti-administration Congress. A deadlock exists between the Capitol and the White House, and such a deadlock spells chaos.

That this deadlock will continue if by any chance or accident Coolidge shall be re-elected is inevitable because it is mathematically certain that the sixty-ninth Congress to be elected in November will be even more anti-Coolidge than the existing one. In the first place it is practically certain to be a Democratic Congress—therefore a Progressive Congress—which would enact progressive legislation only to have it vetoed, and in turn would refuse to enact the reactionary legislation Coolidge would recommend. Even if the Democrats fell short of an actual majority, the Congress would be anti-Coolidge, because practically the entire sixty-eighth Congress is up for reelection.

This means in every event that the chaotic deadlock between the White House and the Capitol would continue another two years. In the meantime, legislative business would be denied legislation, agriculture would be denied legislation, labor would be denied legislation, and chaos would be multiplied.

The live coals of radicalism would burst into flame, which would spread like a prairie fire. A radical Congress in 1926 would be almost inevitable with all that such an event would imply with respect to 1928.

Can legitimate business, can agriculture, can labor calmly view such a probability?

The time to avert such a disaster is now—in the pending election. The way to avert it is to elect John W. Davis who is already assured of a Congress which will function with a Democratic progressive executive.

Let us have done now and for the future with Coolidge chaos.

Sittin' pretty!

Perfect contentment. His favorite book—and a well-cooled bottle of Orange-Crush!

Here are six reasons why Orange-Crush is so utterly delicious and distinctive flavor: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges—which gives that delicate and distinctive flavor; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes)—which gives the tang; (3) Orange juice; (4) Carbonated water—which gives "zip," sparkle, purity; (5) U. S. Certified food color—which makes it as appealing to the eye as to the taste; (6) Pure cane sugar.

Experienced drivers have little trouble

IT'S the beginner and the Sunday driver who seem to have the unlucky breakdowns and repairs and mysterious mechanical maladies. The experienced driver, the man who has been driving for years, goes purring along day in and day out without a mishap.

He knows his car's requirements and he gives it a square deal. He sees that it gets the proper consistency of "Standard" Polarine just as often as it is needed. He buys crank-case oil on schedule, a schedule set by his speedometer, because he knows that five hundred miles of average driving will draw enough dust and unburned fuel into the crank-case oil to make it a dangerous lubricant.

You don't need to envy his freedom from trouble. Look up on your dealer's chart the right consistency of "Standard" Polarine for the various parts of your car. Make a note of the mileage when you fill the crank-case, transmission or differential. Then stick to the proper schedule of replacements; 500 miles for the crank-case oil and whatever the maker of the car recommends for the other wearing surfaces. That's the experienced driver's recipe for a sweet running car.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (New Jersey)

Greenville Will Stage Game With Vanceboro Friday

This coming Friday, the 24th, football fans will have a chance to satisfy their craving for a real game. On that date, the Greenville gang will be up against something, and there will be some hard battling before we get it out of the way.

This "something" is no less than the Vanceboro eleven, corn-fed huskies, big enough to guarantee their good health and hard enough to testify to it.

It is a return game. When our team played them before, the two were apparently evenly matched during the first half. The ball zigzagged up and down the field. However, during the second half, we showed 'em some real football, and the subsequent victory was undoubtedly due more to the fine playing of our team than to any weakening in the Vanceboro lineup. They play a fine, clean game, the kind everybody likes to see.

They are coming over here for revenge. Our victory over them before served as an education to them, and they have, doubtless profited by it. On top of that, they outweigh us by a wide margin. Consequently, it's going to take the utmost our team can put out to stop them. It looks like a hard fight.

We're sitting pretty, right now, and we want to stay that way. They haven't scored on us yet, though they've often come pretty close to it. If everybody would get out, then, and back up that team with some real noise and pep, they would not even know there was such a thing as our goal line, much less, get anywhere near it.

Our letter men are playing an exceptionally brilliant game this year, and some of the newcomers are showing up good. We are on the high road to the championship series, and going strong. Let's go!

TIDEWATER GIRL WINS PRIZE TRIP TO THE NATIONAL CLUB CONGRESS

Three district club contests were held in the Tidewater section during October, New Bern, Halifax and Hertford being hostesses. The teams from each county were credits to themselves and the Agents who trained them, the teams of Halifax and Craven deserving special mention. The judges decided on the Pasquotank Jelly Team, Perquimans county

Bread Team, Hertford county clothing team, Washington county Conservation of Foods Team and Beaufort county Poultry Team as District Representatives to go to Raleigh to contest for state honors. These teams were trained by Misses Marcie Albertson, Pasquotank, Helen Gaither, Perquimans, Myrtle Swindell, Hertford, Delano Wilson, Washington county, and the Beaufort Poultry Team by Miss Violet Alexander and F. W. Fisher. The Craven county Poultry Team scored high but on account of this being an overlapping district county, the score of its poultry team had to be compared with the Eastern District Poultry scores, this leaving the Beaufort county team to represent the Tidewater District. At the state fair, these teams with twenty others held the attention of the crowd who were leaning over the railing of the Demonstration Booths, with mouths wide open in utter astonishment at hearing children from twelve to sixteen give technical advice on home making.

As a fitting close the seven hundred club boys and girls and vocational high school students were entertained at a banquet at State College where the prize winners were announced. Miss Maude Rogerson of Perquimans county, was one of the two who made the highest score in the state, thus being chosen to represent North Carolina at the third Club Congress to be held in Chicago in November. Maude is a 14 year old club girl trained by Miss Helen Gaither, Home Demonstration Agent of Perquimans county.

Superintendent Joyner of the Hertford High school on being told that the Perquimans Bread Team had won in the District contest and would have to leave the high school for a week in Raleigh, replied, "I am always glad to excuse them for such work as this." "Wish I could send the entire High School." Miss Gaither, Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Smith, District Agent, are proud of the Tidewater District Teams, and feel that Maude Rogerson will make an excellent representative for Perquimans, the Tidewater District and North Carolina, at the Chicago convention.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—The undertone of the market was steadier today and values were somewhat higher in consequence of more encouraging trade advices from abroad and because of less favorable weather prospects than of late. Numerous private crop reports were issued, some construed bullish, others bearish, conditions ranging from 53.4 to 55, indicated crop 12,366,000 to 12,838,000. Estimate on ginnings to Oct. 18 range from 7,140,000 to 7,500,000 vs. 6,306,000 last year when 64 per cent of crop was ginned.

By far the most important news of the day was received from England, our Liverpool friends cabling: "Spinner federation increase from Nov. 3rd from 26 half hours to 32 hours.

The above cable means that British spinners using American cotton will increase their working hours 22 percent effective Nov. 3rd and that consumption of American cotton in Lancashire will increase to that extent, 22 percent on and after Nov. 3rd. This news fits in with recent advices indicating a slow but gradual improvement in trade abroad making it likely for all foreign countries to take more of American cotton than last season perhaps the extent of about 1,000,000 bales. On this side of the Atlantic the feeling is growing that the worst is over as regards the long depression in the domestic cotton goods situation. In fact improvement is already nod and when he election is over a general revival in trade is anticipated.

In preparing for business expansions abroad Europe is commencing to import largely of American raw cotton. Compared with last season, exports from the United States since Aug. first 1,538,000 vs. 1,334,000, of which 58,000 were shipped since Friday against 25,000 last year and the stock on shipboard at southern ports remains very large compared with one year ago indicating that exports from the United States will continue large.

Full crop estimates and full ginnings to 18 may depress market temporarily, if confirmed by next Saturday's Government report, but trade buying is likely to increase from now on.

Mrs. T. J. Moore, of Wilmington, is visiting Mrs. Albion Dunn.

FRANCE WILL MAKE USE OF ECONOMIC ADVISERS

Paris, Oct. 21.—The French government has decided to add to the administrative machinery a new cog in the form of a national economic committee. Composed of representatives of nearly all branches of national activity, this committee will be consulted by the government on economic questions, also it will make suggestions on its own account.

Among the 60 committeemen, members of labor unions predominate. Included in the questions soon to come before the new body are the high cost of living, the tariff, and administrative reforms.
