PITT COUNTY POST OF AMERICAN LEGION HOST AT DELIGHTFUL DINNER

Have as Honor Guests, State Commander Wade H. Phillips, Pres. R. H. Wright and Members of the Auxiliary Interesting Program Presented Stanley Baldwin May Become Premier.

STANLEY BALDWIN

Despatches from London indicate that ex-Premier Stanley Baldwin may be returned to power as a result of the general Parliamentary elections of October 29.

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion was host last night at a delightful three course dinner having as honor guests, State Commander Wade H. Phillips, of Lexington President Robert H. Wright, of the Teachers College and members of the Auxiliary.

The basement of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church was appropriately decorated for the occasion with the National Colors, flags, potted plants dahlias and white chrysanthemums.

Post Commander W. H. Waldrop, master of ceremonies presided in his usual attractive manner. After thanks had been returned by Post-Chaplain S. L. Bridgers, a short business session was held.

Mr. W. A. Darden in behalf of the Post delivered the address of welcome. He expressed the pleasure of the Post in having the ladies with them, telling of the wonderful inspiration that they had been to the Post. He also welcomed Mr. Phillips, Dr. Wright and the guests of the Post in an appropriate manner. His welcome was a "welcome indeed" and really conveyed the sentiments of the entire membership of the Legion.

Mrs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, the beloved president of the Auxiliary, responded to the address of welcome. Mrs. Laughinghouse possesses an attractive personality and is a splendid speaker. Her address expressed the appreciation of the Auxiliary in being the honor guests of the Post and at the same time pledged the support of the Auxiliary in the future as in the past in helping "carry on" the work of the American Legion.

The next feature of the program was an automobile race in which the guests were "propellers," several members of the post. "Checkers in," Mayor D. M. Clark, "official starter," while Dr. A. M. Schultz and Mr. Zeb Whitehurst were the "innocent victims" of the race being selected as the contestants. The miniature automobile, driven by dolls, were started at the home plate and sent around the tables in opposite directions, each guest giving it a push. The "checkers in" stopped the auto, tied a bow of ribbon on the "driver," sending it on its way. Mr. Zeb Whitehurst being the successful contestant, was presented a "goat on wheels," by the loser of the race. Dr. A. M. Schultz, Dr. Schultz proved that he can lose and still smile. His address of presentation was couched in a beautiful flow of oratory, and brought forth much fun and laughter. The goat didn't phase Mr. Whitehurst who accepted it in a most graceful manner.

Post Commander Rogers introduced President R. H. Wright who spoke interestingly on Education and the value of the American Legion towards the promotion of education in the state and nation. He stressed the work which the East Carolina Teachers College is doing in training teachers for the public schools of the county and state. His address was thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the Post and their guests.

Several members of the Tarboro Post were present and after receiving a welcome from Mr. Rogers, in behalf of the local post, they expressed pleasure at being present on such a delightful occasion.

The next stunt featuring the program was the passing of a lemon and a flower from guest to guest. The object of the game was to see who would be left holding the lemon and flower. The guests thinking that some terrible penalty would be exacted if they were the unfortunate holders passed them on. Mr. Coon William, being left with the flower, was presented a jumping jack, while W. T. Acric, holding the lemon received the surprise of his life when he was presented a box of candy.

A. B. Corey introduced State Commander, Wade H. Phillips who delivered a splendid address. He paid a beautiful tribute to the mothers, wives and daughters of America, declaring that it was through their sacrifices and unselfish endeavors that the world war was won by the Allies.

He divided his address into three parts; the service of the Legion to the nation, to the State, and to the disabled soldiers. The work of the Auxiliaries and the posts, at Oteen, received the praise of Mr. Phillips, and he urged the members to "Carry on," the greatest work ever launched in this state by the Legion and Auxiliary. Mr. Phillips is vitally interested in the work of the Legionnaires and is making an efficient State Commander.

A local orchestra furnished music throughout the evening. The dinner was a great success and proved one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

Before departing a rising vote of thanks was given the ladies of the Methodist church for the tempting menu which they served.

MARK TWAIN'S NEVADA CABIN TO BE PRESERVED IN THE RENO PARK

Reno, Nev., Oct. 22.—The cabin in which Mark Twain (Samuel Clemens) lived for a time at Aurora, Nev., is to be brought to Reno and placed in one of the parks. The cabin is situated on the property of George Wingfield, mining magnate, who is preparing to transfer title to it and its furnishings.

The abode is much as Mark Twain left it when he deserted the west for the east. The stove on which he cooked, though a trifle antiquated, is still in its place, and the wooden bunk on which the famous author reclined when he thought out some of his western tales is intact.

It was in this cabin that he wrote "Roughing It" and many other stories that carried the tang of Nevada.

CLEMSON STRIKERS CONFINED CAMPUS

Those Who Took Part In Walkout Will Not Be Permitted to See Tomorrow's Football Game

Clemson College, S. C., Oct. 22.—The first degree discipline for Clemson College cadets who struck last week was given out today in an order from the president and the board of directors that those who participated in the walkout would not be allowed to leave the campus when the football team, college band and students left for the state fair at Columbia where Clemson College and the University of South Carolina will play their annual game tomorrow.

The order provides that the students who are being tried for desertion must remain on the campus until the jury, in the pronouncement of the board of trustees, reports its final verdict. The board considering the strike matter met for its fifth session at nine o'clock this morning. The only announcement as to what is going on is that the board is making progress.

Meaning there is a spirit of anxiety among the students who went away in haste and returned to repent at leisure. Their fate rests with the board of trustees and the main question to be decided is "to be or not to be."

New York, Oct. 22.—Helen Pelrose, 24 years old, who was arrested in a Jersey City laundry where she is employed as sorter, confessed she was the lure by which a Boston black mail ring of lawyers extorted $600,000 from Albert Victor Searles, millionaire artist, according to detectives who questioned her during the night. Senator Wheeler Issues Challenge to President Urging That He Personally Answer 7 Questions

Washington, Oct. 22.—Declaring that various charges he has made against President Coolidge's administration during the campaign have gone unanswered, Senator Wheeler, Independent vice presidential candidate, today challenged the president personally to reply. Through the LaFollette-Wheeler headquarters here Senator Wheeler issued a statement covering most of the allegations he has made and submitting seven specific questions asking President Coolidge to answer them.

The questions were: "Why, Mr. Coolidge, was it necessary for Congress to act before you dismissed the Secretary of Navy who allowed the navy's oil reserves to be turned over to the Secretary of Interior as everyone knew this Secretary of Interior was frankly in favor of turning over all the nation's natural resources to private exploitation?"

"Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you wait for Congress to act before you started your half hearted proceedings against the Secretary of Interior who had accepted a bribe of $100,000 from certain oil interests and had given away the navy's oil reserves in return for that bribe and for contributions to the Republican campaign fund?"

"Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you wait for Congress to expose the vile details of the corruption in the Department of Justice before you consented to remove Attorney General Daugherty from office when you, as well as all Washington, knew his record?"

"Why, Mr. Coolidge, do you still retain in the Department of Justice those men who worked hand in hand with Daugherty covering up crime and protecting criminals?"

"Why, Mr. Coolidge, when you knew that agents of your government were trailing members of Congress and shadowing their homes, did you not have these men discharged from the public service?"

"Why, Mr. Coolidge, did you protest against the investigations carried on by Congress? Why especially did you interfere to prevent the investigation of the Treasury Department?"

"Why, Mr. Coolidge, were you unable to find any better defense for your strange attitude beyond your suggestion that it might have been worse?"

"I ask you these things, Mr. Coolidge. I ask them in the name of the American people whose votes you now solicit. I also ask them in the name of common sense."

Forget-Me-Not Day To Be Observed On Saturday, Nov. 8th

Raleigh, Oct. 22.—National Forget-Me-Not Day will be observed throughout the United States on Saturday, November 8 next and plans are underway in this city and others all over the state to make the day this year state-wide in every respect.

Under the sponsorship of the War Mothers, the Auxiliary of the American Legion, the American Legion, the Disabled Veterans of the World War and other patriotic organizations, forget me nots will be sold on the streets on that day and the funds so collected will be given towards the aid of the needy ex-service men of the World War, who do draw compensation.

Last year the sales in North Carolina were said to be very encouraging and the various committees of sponsoring organizations express the belief that the collections will be greater this year as they intend to carry the observance of the day into the smallest of villages of the state.

For-Get-Me-Not Day has always had the support of the presidents of the United States, since the day was founded, it was said, both the late President Harding and Mr. Coolidge who succeeded him have been supporters of the cause.

BANK OF ENGLAND'S GILD MOVED TO NEW QUARTERS

London, Oct. 21.—After functioning in the heart of London's "richest square mile" for 230 years, the Bank of England will cease to exist as the "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street" on its present site at the end of this year. While not exactly undergoing a rejuvenating process, this national financial institution will be entirely rebuilt to meet modern needs. In the meantime the huge financial operations connected with the nation's discounting of bills, financing the government and dealing with millions of interest payments on war loans and treasury bills, will be handled in a comparatively new block of buildings about quarter of a mile away in Finsbury Circus. Here will be the home of the "Old Lady" for about two years.

Strong rooms are being constructed in the new premises for the valuable private and government securities, which total around 125,000,000 pounds sterling, and for the reception of 128,000,000 pounds worth of gold bars and coin held as reserve against notes issued. Some of these valuable securities have already been deposited in the new vaults, but the bulk goes labor in horse drawn lorries.

During the moving process no strangers are allowed to assist in handling the hundreds of tons of treasures, the whole work being carried out by the Bank's special staff.

AIR PROGRESS FOR DECADE FORECAST BY BRITISH EXPERT

London, Oct. 22.—Fairly regular air transport services between England and the far-flung possessions of the British empire ought to be accomplished within the next ten years without serious financial expenditure, in the opinion of Air vice marshal Sir W. Sefton Brancker, director of civil aviation.

Addressing a conference of the Institute of Transport at Wembley, Sir Sefton said that within a decade there certainly would be a bi-weekly airship service to India and Australia the through journey being accomplished in eleven days.

Another airship service should be flying at least once a week to the Cape of Good Hope by way of West Africa in five and a half days. Airships should certainly be crossing the Atlantic regularly, and it was to be hoped that at least one British line would be flying between Canada and England, taking about two and one-half days.

Don't Lose Sight of the Food Value of Your Bakings

Plain flour has a large amount of food value but it must be combined with good baking powder in order to retain this value.

Most self rising flours are not successful because they do not raise the bakings to the proper lightness. This means a certain loss of nutrition because they are heavy and hard to digest.

Every time you eat food that does not properly digest you do not get the full nutritional value—you are over-taxing your stomach. Nourishing and perfect bakings are what good health demands. The one sure way is—use pure flour and good baking powder.

If you want to find what thousands of housewives have learned—make some biscuits with self-rising flour—then make some with good plain flour and Calumet Baking Powder—notice the great difference. One trial will satisfy you. Your health demands that you make the experiment.

Those who know—millions of housewives, domestic science teachers, big hotels, restaurants, bakeries and railroads will not use anything but Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder.

Play safe—use Calumet and plain flour. It is the most economical and satisfactory, where light, wholesome and pure foods are desired.

DAUGHTER OF RABBI WELCOMES 10,000 GUESTS GUEST TO HER WEDDING

Galatz, Rumania, Oct. 20.—One of the most elaborate weddings in history was given the other day here by a Jewish rabbi for his daughter. The feast was of gargantuan proportions. The guests, from all over Rumania, numbered over 10,000 men, women and children. The food supplies consisted of 33 carcasses of beef, 210 sheep and 170 calves. The geese prepared were so many that their feathers made a hill of considerable height.

The town was virtually occupied by the wedding party, which largely represented the wealth of Rumania, though not its landowners.

Suspecting some political design, the ministry of the interior garrisoned the city heavily with police and troops, but there was no disturbing incident of any kind.

HAPSBURGS GATHER IN GERMANY TO DISCUSS THE FAMILY FORTUNES

Lindau, Germany, Oct. 21.—A gathering of nearly all the 60 living members of the Hapsburg family took place here recently, almost unnoticed by the world. Hapsburgers from many countries assembled in a local hotel. Archduke Friedrich, former commander-in-chief of the Austro-Hungarian army, presided at the meetings.

Friedrich, with his wife, son and six daughters came from Budapest. Archduke Eugen came from Basle, and his sister Marie-Christine, mother of the King of Spain, from Madrid. She had visited ex-empress Zita at Lequillo, Spain, before she left to beseech Zita's approval of the meeting. According to the law of the house of Hapsburg, to which the family still adheres, Zita is the head of the family and has authority over all its members.

The discussions of the members of this once reigning family, it is declared, did not turn to politics, but were virtually limited to consideration of the family fortunes.

Beaver, Undo Man's Work.
Vancouver, Wash., Oct. 21.—A colony of beavers near here recently has been staging a contest with the state highway department. To protect the North Bank highway a small lake was drained, but the beavers immediately reconstructed a dam that resulted in the overflow of the road. The dam was torn down, and in a single night the beavers built a new one. This tilt went on for a week. Finally wire was used to keep the beavers away from the outlet.

THE FARM PROBLEM AND ITS DANGERS

The hard situation in which the farmers of the United States have been placed during the past three years has caused a shifting in the foundations of our national life which ought to concern, not farmers alone or even mainly, but all people of every occupation who are interested in preserving American government and American life as they have always existed. The farm problem, essentially, is not a class problem but a national problem. Unless the right solution is found, business and industry and the domestic and laboring conditions of the cities will suffer, in the end, very much more than the farmers do. For the fountain from which the cities suck their sustenance is being dried up.

The best estimates obtainable show that about 1,200,000 farmers have been driven out of business since 1920. Some of them continue on the farms as tenants or economic slaves to mortgage holders; the others have become day laborers in the cities. There are many farming communities scattered throughout the United States where hardly a single family is left that lived on the land four years ago.

Few persons in urban communities understand what the breaking up of a farm home means. The farm is not merely a place to live—it is the source of life. The bankrupt farmer is a man destroyed. The day when he could move on to free or even cheap land is past. Nothing is left for him except to become tenant to an absentee landlord, giving up the bulk of his earnings to pay his rent, or go as a laborer in a line of work that he does not understand. There are other names for unrequited toil—slavery, serfdom and the like—ugly names, all.

The energetic families, particularly those having boys and girls of energetic outlook, leave the farms for the hope of better things in town. The unresourceful, the indolent, the stupid—these remain as slaves on the farms; they once may have owned. The bond and sinew of rural life is eaten away. Those who should have stayed to breed good farmers of the future, to build up schools and churches and to keep their shoulders to the wheel of progress are gone. And the nation begins to pay the price of folly.

There is nothing new in all this. It is as old as Egypt, old as the cities of the Mesopotamian plains. It has been repeated in every civilization that ever died. As one writer puts it, "Destruction comes from the rushing of the dispossessed and unrequited to the cities. The farmers suffer first, then the small towns go down, then the larger cities decay, and the over-swollen centers of population, deprived of nourishment and with lost markets, fall into the hands of a mobocracy of impoverished and idle people, and the state passes away into something else."

That is the process which has been going on in the United States—is going on now. No American should deceive himself as to that. There are only about 6,000,000 farms in the United States, and 1,200,000 of the farm families have been rooted out of the soil. The nation cannot stand up forever under this drain upon the life blood of a nation's life.

If any one is lulled by representations that the farmers are receiving good prices this year, let him reflect that whatever of this may exist is temporary and the result of natural conditions which will not often recur. Next year, or certainly within the next few years, there will again be a surplus of agricultural products which, unless guarded against, will plunge American farmers into another period of catastrophe.

Insurance must be written against the recurrence of agricultural agony. John W. Davis, the Democratic candidate for President, has drawn up such a policy—a policy that will protect the farmer and the nation. Its main clauses are: An export marketing corporation; restoration of the farmer's markets abroad; governmental encouragement of cooperative marketing; a tariff that will enable the farmer to buy and sell on equal terms with the manufacturer; lower taxes, lower railroad rates.

Let the city man remember that this policy is designed to protect him in the long run, and let the farmer remember that it is designed to save him from immediate and recurring disaster.

PRESS PRAISES FOR THE BLACKSTONE

Penmen Laud Big Girlsque Necromantic Extravanga Without Stint.

Seldom are newspaper critics in various cities in such universal accord concerning the merits of a theatrical attraction as in the case of the Blackstone Show which will be seen at White's Theatre Oct. 28, matinee and night.

Of the columns of encomiums that have come anent the entertainment only one reviewer has had fault to find. His criticism was that "like a circus there is so much going on at one time it is impossible to see all."

The following excerpt from the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, Monday Morning, October 13, 1924 is a typical newspaper comment:

Women that disappear in midair, completely furnished bedrooms, even down to a dainty girl in pajamas, a maid and a wolfhound, that materialize out of thin air, and horses that fade out from under their saddles are nothing to Blackstone, the magician, who holds the stage at the Lyceum this week.

Blackstone is a clever magician, but he is more than that. He is a natural showman—a born comedian. He does most of the things any magician does, and some that the others don't, and keeps up a running fire of apparently extemporaneous comedy over, through the whole two acts. In other words, he fools you and makes you like it.

Beautiful settings and a bevy of girls in dazzling and numerous costumes, helps the bill. The dancer in the last fantasy isn't half bad, and 90 per cent of her is beautiful. That's all we saw.

Blackstone's manipulations of cards are unusually good. Few magicians ever have approached that feature of his work. Columbus has had lots of style shows, but he rings in a snappy change, showing garments from the—er—well, all the garments—and making them appear right out of gauze hangings, that look transparent, girls and all. The group of boys he used in a long series of card tricks were a bit too obviously rehearsed, and that dragged a little.

The Oriental fantasy that closed the program was well worth waiting for.

Blackstone will devote this afternoon to a children's matinee, and Wednesday night to a spirit séance, in which he has promised to duplicate any achievement of a medium that the public may request.

Oriental Nights.

The opulent extravaganza which will be one of the features with the famous Blackstone Show which is scheduled to appear at White's Theatre Tuesday, October 28, with matinee.

MRS. W. W. LEE ENTERTAINS

Hostess at Tea in Honor of Mrs. Julian White, Miss Mildred Cooley and the Fall Brides.

On Tuesday afternoon at her home on Fifth street, Mrs. W. W. Lee entertained at tea complimentary to Mrs. Julian White, a recent bride, Miss Mildred Cooley, of Nashville, and the fall brides-elect.

The home was attractively decorated with fall flowers, smilax and potted plants. The living room and tea room carried out the pink color scheme with asters and roses being used in profusion while the dining room was lovely with large baskets filled with white chrysanthemums and roses carrying out the white color scheme. Tapers, in pink and white, and shaded lights added much to the effectiveness of the decorations.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by Miss Ernestine Forbes, Mrs. James Ficklen, Mrs. K. J. Proctor and Miss Iva Shelburn and invited to the living room where they were received by Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., Miss Ruth Andrews, Miss Ada James, and Miss Frances Whedbee who introduced them to the receiving line in which were, Mrs. W. W. Lee, Mrs. Julian White, Mrs. H. A. White, Miss Mildred Cooley, of Nashville, Mrs. F. G. James, Miss Novella Moye, Miss Elizabeth White, Miss Nancy King, Miss Julia Gold, of Greensboro, Mrs. Sam Lee, of Monroe, Miss Elizabeth Hicks, of Oxford, Mrs. Larry James, Mrs. W. T. Lipscombe, Jr., and Mrs. J. B. James.

From the living room the guests passed to the dining room where they were received by Mrs. R. R. Brunson, Mrs. W. H. Bradsher and Mrs. Graham Flanagan. Miss Ward Moore and Mrs. Earl Carter, seated at either end of the table served a tempting asiad course assisted by Misses Anna and Hennie Long, Miss Mary Blanche Patrick, Miss Dorothy Norman, Miss Bessie Brown and Miss Emily Moye.

Mrs. H. H. Duncan, Miss Elizabeth Tibbatts and Miss Snodie Moore received in the tea room. Mrs. Marvin Blount and Mrs. K. B. Pace poured tea, assisted by Mrs. R. S. Atkinson, Mrs. Jack Overman, Miss Jessie Moye, Mrs. John Flanagan and Mrs. George Sharpe, of Burlington.

From the tea room the guests were taken "Au revoir" by Mrs. Swanson Graves and Mrs. W. I. Wooten. The tea proved very enjoyable and over two hundred guests called during the evening.

School days

"Being able to dress up in patent leather oxfords with cutout sides make it easier to go back to school," says Jane.

"Wearing shoes instead of going barefoot isn't too bad," says Tomny. "When the shoes are Kewpie Twins."

"Get School Shoes Now"

"I may not be the best scholar or as bright as a dollar either," says Puss. "I may even deserve the dunce cap sometimes, but there's one thing I do know and that is that Kewpie Twins make mighty fine School Shoes for boys and girls. They're sturdy, comfy and good looking."

We are showing today a new two-eyelet patent leather tie for the little lady who wishes to dress up in the newest.

Vagrant Mines Menace Ships.

Dover, England, Oct. 20.—There are still several explosive mines, relics of the war, floating about in the Baltic Sea and in the English Channel, according to reports which are being filed almost weekly by captains of vessels which ply in these waters. A ship coming from Antwerp recently reported a mine off the Goodwin Lightship in the Channel, and two others were reported nearby by the captain of a vessel sailing from Russia.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has been brought to our attention that God in His all-wise Providence has seen fit to take unto himself the spirit of George W. Woodward, and whereas, the son of the deceased, brother Geo. J. Woodward is a highly esteemed member of our class, and whereas, many of us have had at sometime in the past, to pass through a similar experience, and therefore knew just how sad and grief-stricken is the heart in such an hour, therefore be it resolved:

First. That we, as a class, convey by this means, our heart-felt sympathy to brother Geo. J. Woodward, and furthermore assure him that in our communion with the Heavenly Father we will not fail to remember him at a throne of grace to the end that the God of all comfort and grace may comfort him.

Second. That a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of our class, and an other copy be furnished The Reflector for publication.
