LAFOLLETTE WILL MAKE FINAL STAND IN EASTERN STATES

Declares He Has Information Regarding A Slush Fund That He Will Make Public

LaFollette special enroute to Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23.—Bound for Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he will speak tonight before carrying his fight for the presidency into the eastern states, Senator LaFollette today issued the following statement:

"I am going into the east to finish my fight for the presidency for a number of reasons.

First: I know the west is safe for the progressive ticket. If the progressives in the eastern states with their large electoral votes can be carried by us we will win the election by the direct vote of the people on November 4.

Second: I know if the people of the eastern states are permitted to render a verdict influenced by their own desires and political convictions we will carry these eastern states.

Third: I know Wall Street is attempting to coerce workers in the large industrial centers to vote either for Coolidge or Davis under threats to close down every factory throwing millions out of work in event of my election. I am going into these industrial centers and tell the workers essentially that under the secret Australian ballot no man knows how they vote and lend my leadership to the great group of eastern progressives who are working to reclaim the government for the people.

Fourth: Important and vital information is being brought to me every day regarding the huge slush fund which is being raised by Wall Street in industrial states in the east. It is necessary that I be near at hand in order to consult with my counsel and keep in close touch with this situation which develops new angles daily and almost hourly. At the proper time I will disclose this information from the platform or through counsel representing the progressives before the Borah committee now investigating campaign contributions and expenditures."

State College Installs Private Phone Exchange

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—North Carolina State College has just had installed a private telephone exchange, replacing the single line service which has been used heretofore. It has been announced at the office of the institution.

The installation required about two months, it was said, and will be similar to the one now in use at the State Capitol. The private switchboard will be located in Winston Hall and all wires from that building to the other buildings on the campus will be under ground in order to carry out the plan of beautifying the campus. All overhead wires that are now across the campus will be placed underground, the announcement stated. The private exchange will be operated from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and during the other hours certain telephones will be connected direct from the buildings to the main line.

STONE SEEKS THE DISSOLUTION OF INT. HARVESTER CO.

Attorney General Says Farmers Should Be Protected From Monopoly

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 23.—"Effective dissolution" of the International Harvester Company's alleged monopoly was sought by Attorney General Stone in a brief filed in his behalf in Federal court here today by the United States Attorney in proceeding supplemental to the consent decree in dissolution entered in the same court in 1918.

Mr. Stone contends that greater competitive conditions in the farm machinery trade should be afforded. "The consent decree did not go far enough," said the Attorney General, in demanding that action be taken to give the proper protection to farmers and land owners who are dependent upon agriculture machinery and implements obtainable at reasonable prices. "One of two things ought to be done," the Attorney General insisted. "Either the great judges who decided the case ought to reverse their decisions on the grounds that their decisions were wholly erroneous or else an effective dissolution should be decreed."

THINK REPUBLICANS WITHHOLDING NAMES OF BIG CONTRIBUTORS

Undermyer Thinks It Strange Names of Many Recognized Republicans Do Not Appear Among Contributors

Washington, Oct. 23.—With a view of determining whether there have been concealed contributions of big business men to the Republican campaign fund, Samuel Undermyer asked the Senate investigating committee today to subpoena the Republican state chairman of New York, New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois.

Mr. Undermyer, who is associate counsel for Senator LaFollette said it was strange that there were missing from the official reports of the list of contributors the names of such men as Elbert H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, J. P. Morgan, the Rockefellers and officials of the great Standard Oil interests, all recognized Republicans.

ELECTION ARGUMENT CAUSES REVIVAL OF OLD KENTUCKY FEUD

"A Liar" Causes Death of Alex Hatfield, Son of Man Who Started Tug River Feud

Bluefield, W. Va., Oct. 23.—Another violent death has been recorded in the family history of the notorious Hatfield clan of West Virginia and Kentucky.

Recalling the days of the Tug River feud between the Hatfield and McCoy clans, veteran officers of Mingo county today investigated the killing of Alex Hatfield, the latest of his line to feel the sting of a bullet.

Alex was the son of the man who started the far-famed feud years ago. During an argument over the coming election Hatfield called Scribner Chambers a liar. Chambers told officials he struck Hatfield with his fist whereupon the latter drew a pistol and in the struggle for the weapon Hatfield was shot. He died in a Williamston hospital Tuesday. Alex Hatfield, former postmaster, was the son of Floyd Hatfield whose suit for a litter of hogs against the McCoy's of Kentucky was the beginning of the feud in the hills along the Tug River during which many members of the two families met their death.

COOLIDGE SPEAKS TO COMMITTEE NEW YORK BUSINESS MEN

President Declares Business Must Deliver Service As Well As Goods to Consumers

Washington, Oct. 23.—Preservation of initiative and enterprise is the primary thing we will have to do in our country President Coolidge today told the executive committee of New York Business Men's Republican Association who called at the White House.

"Freedom of initiative and enterprise carry with it," he said, "an obligation on every business establishment to give service as well as goods to its consumers." Declaring the economic system of the government fundamentally sound the president criticized who emphasized out of all due proportions its abuses. "Correction of these abuses lies in the hands of those who administer commerce and industry and only they," he added, "can prevent the necessity of government intervention."

"Already they have made great advances in this direction. Their sense of responsibility has made a steady growth during the last two score years. No longer do we hear the expression of an indifferent attitude toward the relation of business to the people. Merchants and manufacturers today are seeking to deliver something besides goods and are delivering it with pride. That something new is a sense of service to the community."

State Fair Grounds, Columbia, S. C., Oct. 23.—South Carolina defeated the Clemson college three to nothing in the annual game at the fair grounds here today, the margin of victory being a goal from placement scored by P. J. BRITAIN MAY HAVE COALITION CABINET

News dispatches from London indicate that no party will secure a working majority in the new Parliament, members of which will be elected October 29. Some experts believe the new Ministry will either be a predominantly die-hard Tory Cabinet, headed by ex-Premier Stanley Baldwin, or the revival of a Coalition Ministry, such as carried Great Britain through the World War. In the event of a Coalition Government, ex-Premier David Lloyd George, Winston Spencer Churchill, Sir Robert Horne and Lord Birkenhead are expected to have prominent portfolios.

REPUBLICAN FUND NOW NEARING THE 3 MILLION MARK

Five Days' Contributions Reach Nearly Half a Million Dollars

Washington, Oct. 23.—Approximately $500,000 was added to the Republican campaign fund in the five days from October 10 to October 15 bringing the total within $800,000 of the $3,000,000 mark sought by the Republican National Committee. This was shown in official reports received today by the Senate campaign fund investigating committee from National Treasurer William V. Hodges.

Of the total of nearly $450,000 the New York office reported $308,812 and Chicago $178,215. The contributions ranged from 10 cents to $12,500 there being one subscription of the latter amount by William Nelson Cronwell of New York City. One of $20,000 was received from the Union League of Philadelphia which the committee was told yesterday had conducted a campaign for contributions independent of that conducted by the Pennsylvania Mays and Means Committee. New contributions of $10,000 each came from Irren Du Pont, of Wilmington, Del., Frank A. Munson, New York, New York Oars-RD LCHRDL York publisher, Congressman Ogden Mills of New York, and Frank W. Stearns, personal friend of President Coolidge.

Disbursements reported from one Chicago and New York Office from October 11 to 25, inclusive show that the Chicago office spent $168,742 and the New York office $85,444.

The Chicago office expenditures include an advance of $10,000 to Republican committee of Cook county and $10,000 to the Cook County campaign committee and $14,800 to Bert I. Cady, national committeeman from Michigan.

THREE DEMOCRATIC SPEAKERS TO VISIT CITY NEAR FUTURE

Hon. A. L. Brooks Will Speak Friday Night, Oct. 24; Secy. of State, W. N. Everett, Tuesday Noon, Oct. 28; Hon. D. C. Brummitt, Friday Eve., Oct. 31

On Friday night, Oct. 24, at 8:15 o'clock in the court house, the Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, will address the Democratic voters on Democracy and the important issues of today.

On Tuesday October 28th at the noon recess of court, Secretary of State, W. N. Everett, will address the Democratic voters, while on Friday evening, Oct. 31, at 8:15 o'clock, Hon. D. C. Brummitt, of Oxford will speak on the important issues of the day.

These three addresses promise to be important features of the Democratic program for the coming campaign in which every possible effort will be made to elect the Democratic nominee, John W. Davis, for President of the United States.

This is a critical time in the political circles of the state and nation. Three parties are contending for Chief Executive's place, each making a hard fight to win. The Democrats of Pitt county are vitally interested in "our vote," and with this in view they are bringing to our county splendid speakers, men well posted concerning the political affairs of the State and nation, who will take great pleasure in giving to the public all the data necessary in casting their vote.

The public is invited and urged to attend the speakings. The ladies whose vote is absolutely essential, is extended a most cordial invitation to be present.

Local Red Cross Secures Hospital Treatment 7 Men

Lauding the excellent spirit of cooperation and understanding existing between the American Legion and the Red Cross, Judge John Barton Payne, Chairman of the National American Red Cross, voiced the hope that this helpful spirit would always exist between the two organizations in an address before the National convention of the American Legion at St. Paul.

"We have a common bond of interest in serving disabled service men and their families," the Judge stated. "The Red Cross still considers its service to the disabled veterans as its first responsibility, and this work continues in undiminished volume. During the past fiscal year, approximately $4,300,000 was expended by the national organization and the Red Cross chapters for the benefit of disabled soldiers and those still in the service."

The local chapter of the Red Cross has secured hospital treatment for seven men, in the last few months. Claims for compensation has been filed for these men and additional ones numbering active cases around twenty-five. Bonus blanks for about one hundred men, have been filled out in the Red Cross office.

The soldier work of this chapter is not diminishing. New cases are coming up all of the time and service rendered to the ex-service man comprises a large part of the work of this chapter.

One ex-service man, who is now in the hospital, has written the Red Cross asking them to support his family while he is away. Six dollars a week will do, he thinks. Either the American Legion or the Red Cross will both care for this family until he is able to return.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stroud, on Chestnut street was entered last night by unknown parties who searched the lower floor taking with them silver, cut glass, jewelry and several other valuable articles.

Mr. and Mrs. Stroud and family were sleeping up stairs and had left the front door unlocked. Shortly before retiring Mr. Stroud shut the door without locking it, and lowered the shades. When he went down stairs early this morning he found the door ajar and some of the shades up. He immediately began a search which revealed the chine closet open with silver and cut glass missing. In the bed room adjoining the living room the jewelry case had been opened with several valuable pieces of jewelry, all marked with initials, missing. Other parts of the house also showed that they had been visited by the "unknown visitor."

Every effort to apprehend the thief is being made by Mr. Stroud and officers who are working under great difficulties as the unknown party left no traces as to his identity.

ICELANDIC POETS BREAK INTO VERSE TO GREET AVIATORS

Hofn Hornafjord, Iceland, Oct. 21.—When an Icelandic poet wrote a song to the tune of "Yankee Doodle" celebrating the arrival here of the American globe-encircling aviators on their long journey across the Atlantic, it was rather a special occasion for the Americans, and the American translation was adopted and sung by some of the sailors from the cruiser Raleigh, which lay off the fjord to mother the flight.

But it was nothing new for Hornafjord, where even children chant songs of their own composition, and the sagas of the old Norse vikings who, more than 1,000 years ago swept these northern seas, are handed down from generation to generation in the language in which they were originally sung, faithful to the old texts. For Iceland has a remarkably rich literature of its own, both written and oral, and poetry is especially adapted to the Icelandic tongue.

In Hofn Hornafjord, isolated from the rest of Iceland by impassable mountains and seas that are often too stormy to allow the passage of the small Icelandic passenger vessels, many of the old viking customs are still observed. These include the gathering of the family each evening during the long, almost sunless winter, when sagas are chanted and the heroic deeds of the old Norsemen recounted. No longer do the Icelanders live in turf huts, as did their ancestors, and Hofnafjord has modern homes of galvanized iron and cement, but the family gathering is as important today as it was 1,000 years ago. The women dress in their quaint gowns of black silk, often embroidered in silver and gold, and wear the little black national cap or bonnet, a heritage of the early Norse settlers. In the long winter nights there is little to do, and the evenings are devoted to the arts, literature, music, painting and drawing. Many of the villagers are graduates of the National University at Reykjavik and others have been educated at Copenhagen or other continental capitals.

Broad Jumper From Haiti Out To Make New Record

Paris, Oct. 22.—To hold the undisputed broad jump championship of the African race is the life's ambition of Sylvio P. Cator of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, who recently shattered the French record with a leap of 7 meters and 30 centimetres, or practically 24 feet.

For this purpose Cator has placed himself under the direction of Trainer Quilgars of the Racing Club of France with the avowed intention of bettering the marks of De Hart Hubbard and Ned Gourdin, the two American negroes who, until Bob Legendre's tremendous jump of 25 feet 0 inches during the Olympic Games, held most of the leaping honors.

Cator came to France last June to represent Haiti in the Olympic Games, but, like "Dick" Hyland of California, the American Olympic Rugby player, he decided to enter school in France and incidentally to get the benefit of French training methods to improve his athletic performances as well as his studies.

His best jump during the Olympic competition was seven metres, ten. Quilgars says the Haitian is improving every day, and he has hopes that before spring he will negotiate seven metres fifty regularly.

DRAMATIC SCENE from D.W. GRIFFITH'S 'ORPHANS OF THE STORM'

RECOUNTS PROGRESS
OF PAST 12 MONTHS

Washington, Oct. 21.—More than 10,000 trained nurses are now enrolled in the nursing service of the American Red Cross, according to the organization's field report of the year ended June 30, made public here. This corps of qualified nurses, the report added, forms a nursing reserve immediately available to the government in time of war, epidemic or disaster.

Expansion of the Red Cross program of supplying nurses to communities having no other public health agencies, the report said, has been carried forward during the year with the placing of more than 1,000 nurses in as many localities. In addition to this number, five nurses maintained by a fund bequeathed by Miss Jane A. Deano, wartime director of the Red Cross nursing service, are on duty in isolated sections of the country.

First aid work by the organization, the report continued, was expanded in an effort further to reduce the accidental deaths among workers in mines, factories and groups of people everywhere. More than 500,000 railroad employes have been given Red Cross first aid instruction in the last ten years, and experience shows that the accident rate among industrial workers who have had this instruction is nearly 75 per cent less than among the uninstructed.

The number completing first aid courses last year was 100,000, or 4,000 more than the previous year, and demonstrations in first aid were given to approximately 146,000 people. The Red Cross life-saving corps now counts about 50,000 members, all of whom are well trained and able to rescue and revive a drowning person.

Interest in the course in home hygiene and care of the sick also has greatly increased. The course aims to teach preventive measures; how to keep well; simple nursing methods of caring for the sick in the home, and also to assist in reducing infant mortality by instruction in the care of infants and children.

This year the standard of health was raised in the homes of 135,496 children who were given regular nutrition instruction in the schools. Thirteen thousand mothers attended nutrition classes, 35,500 home visits were made and consultations held on special dietary needs, and more than 1,100 schools were assisted in furnishing hot lunches at noon.

The "Fitness for Service" program of the Junior Red Cross links in closely with the health services, as every one of the 5,452,745 school children who hold a junior membership of proper food and adequate exercise. The slogan "every child a swimmer" has been adopted, and swimming instruction is being carried out enthusiastically in schools everywhere.

Following its custom, the Red Cross will hold the annual roll call this year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 11-27.

Le Havre, France, Oct. 17.—An exhibition has been organized at the Havre museum to awaken interest in Kerguelen or Desolation Island, about 90 miles long, lying in the Indian Ocean half-way between South Africa and Australia, which was officially taken over by France in 1893.

Rene E. Bossiere, of Havre, has made frequent visits to the island and is endeavoring to develop it economically by sheep by sheep rearing and as a hunting resort for the adventurous. Etienne Peau, curator of the Havre museum, was recently sent there on a scientific mission and returned with many interesting specimens of flora and fauna. A French company on the island employs 200 people from Oct. 15 to March 10 who prepare and export hides, shells, tusks, oils, etc. Sea elephants abound in great numbers on the shores of Kerguelen, and provide wonderful sport for the hunter.

Atlantic City, Oct. 17.—Generous motorists who give free rides to neighbors, and strangers who regularly solicit "lifts" rather than pay car fare, are seriously injuring electric railway receipts, James W. Welsh, secretary of the American Electric Railway association, today declared in a statement. Mr. Welsh is here to open the association convention Tuesday.

So serious has the situation become that many companies are resorting to advertising in newspapers and their cars to offset the "lift" practice. Small city properties are suffering most, Mr. Welsh says. Falling traffic is bound to mean higher fares, if nothing more serious, he insists.

Advertising now being used to offset the "lift" habit stresses these points: Motorists gain nothing by giving free rides, and are responsible for accidents to their passengers; free motor rides drain railway receipts and compel curtailment or abandonment of service; curtailed or abandoned service affects property values first, and many motor car owners own property; many persons solicit free rides solely to save car fare.

"The cold facts are that kind-hearted motor car owners unthinkingly are helping to drive small electric railway properties to the wall by their misdirected 'generosity,'" Mr. Welsh continued. "The association is in contact with virtually every electric railway in the United States and a very large majority of them say great inroads are being made on their receipts, by the free ride practice."

"Two classes of persons are preying on the motor car owner in this connection. They are neighbors who just 'fall into the habit' of riding downtown with him, and the out-and-out ride panhandler who waits along the roadside and openly solicits free rides. The neighbor problem is the hardest one for electric railways and motorists to compete with. Motorists generally, most of whom understand the primary economics of business, admit that they know giving free rides is hurting electric railways, but they say they dislike to say 'No' to their neighbors. Many do refuse rides to the 'regulars' who hail strangers along the roadside.

"The industry has attacked this problem with display advertising and will continue to do so. We do not question the right of any motorist to give free rides, but we don't think he should enter into competition with his electric railway when he has nothing to gain and can only injure his community by his generosity."

Other problems to be discussed at the convention, which will draw electric railway men from all parts of the United States, include co-operation with buses, financing of electric railways, and traffic congestion.

HUGE SUM ASKED FOR G. O. P. CAMPAIGN

The Republican national committee's announcement that contributions to the Coolidge-Dawes campaign fund have been limited to $25,000 from any individual or corporation doesn't mean anything, says Chairman Clem L. Shaver, of the Democratic National Committee, for the reason that the Republican financiers know how to manipulate subscriptions, just as was done four years ago, and as has been done this year in President Coolidge's home state, Massachusetts, where the law is being openly flouted.

Four years ago, after the sensational disclosures of efforts of Managers of Governor Lowden and Major General Lenoard Wood to purchase the Republican nomination, Chairman Will Hays, of the Republican National committee, announced that subscriptions had been limited to $1,000. Yet an investigation by the Senate committee headed by Senator Kenyon, Iowa, showed that the Republican National Committee expended more than $6,000,000 to elect Harding and Coolidge, and that more than $2,000,000 more was expended through State committees. That this was not all may be stated on as high an authority as the Kenyon committee which said, in its report, "These figures do not by any means represent the entire amount of money expended in the campaign," for many contributions and expenditures were covered up and never disclosed.

For example, during the investigation of the naval oil leases, led by Senator Walsh, of Montana, it was disclosed that after the campaign, Harry F. Sinclair, to whom Teapot Dome was leased by Secretary of the Interior Fall, underwrote $75,000 of the debt Chairman Hays's committee ran up in the 1920 campaign, but official reports of subscriptions to the campaign fund contain no reference to such financial aid from Mr. Sinclair.

This year, a committee of big mill owners of Massachusetts which are enjoying a huge tariff bounty under the Fordney bill, has been raising an enormous fund in that state to assure the election of Mr. Coolidge. The Massachusetts law stipulates that individual subscriptions may not exceed $1,000. But in appealing for larger sums, the Massachusetts Coolidge committee wrote to prospective contributors that "larger contributions will be so divided as to give full observance to the requirements of the law." Even Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, admitted that such a plan was outside the law.

No limitation was placed on Republican campaign subscriptions in 1922, and one of the large contributors of that year, R. B. Mellon, Pittsburgh, brother of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, gave $25,000 to the National Committee in 1922 and $1,000 more to the Congressional Committee.

R. B. Mellon and his brother, the Secretary of the Treasury, are the principal owners of the Aluminum Company of America, the aluminum trust, the beneficiary of the Fordney tariff law to the extent of an increase of more than 200 per cent in tariff duties of aluminum and aluminum utensils. This is the company which the Federal Trade Commission has cited as a monopoly, but which the Department of Justice has failed to prosecute as such; it is the company which received a special permit from the Department of Labor to bring in, outside of immigration quota, workers from Canada to operate its plant near Niagara Falls New York at a time when there were two million or more idle laborers in America, and is the company which the investigation of the Senate Committee headed by Senator Couzens, of Michigan, showed had been allowed an amortization claim in 1923 of more than $15,000,000 by the Treasury Department, of which Andrew W. Mellon, one of the two chief owners of the Aluminum Company, is the head.

Also R. B. Mellon is the man whom Senator LaFollette has publicly charged with heading a committee to raise a huge slush fund in Pennsylvania to help control the forthcoming election in favor of Coolidge and Dawes.

PRETTIEST SPOT IN ENGLAND LODGES CLAIM TO FAME

Ippollitts, England, Oct. 22 — This quiet old-world village atop a Hertfordshire hill is modestly putting forth its claim to being the prettiest place in England.

Whether the most pleasing village in England or not, the hamlet is at least interesting because of the quaintness of its name, which seems to be a derivative from the name of a saint who, in his day, was as celebrated as a horse jockey as he was as a man of pity.

This was St. Oppolyts, to whom the beautiful old parish church with square tower and mullioned windows is dedicated. Of St. Oppolyts it is written that he "was a good master of colts, and as good a horse leach, and for these qualities, so devoutly honored after his death all passengers by that way on horseback thought themselves bound to bring their steeds into the church, even up to the high altar where the holy horseman was shrined."

WORTH FIGHTIN' FOR!

Put a bottle of the real Orange-Crush to your lips, and take just one taste!

Say, Mister, if you wouldn't be willin' to fight for a drink like that, you're not livin' up to American traditions!

Here are six reasons why Orange-Crush is so utterly delicious: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes); (3) Orange juice; (4) Pure carbonated water; (5) U. S. Certified food color; (6) Pure cane sugar.

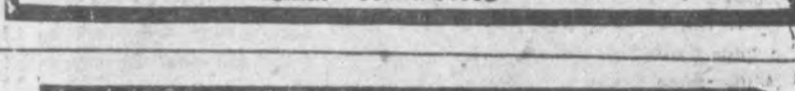

That's all, My, what a drink!

Furniture Fakes Planted in Rural English Homes

London, Oct. 22.—Of the making of many different kinds of fakes there seems to be no end. There have been faked pictures ever since artists first began to use paints. There are so many faked Rembrandts in existence that few prospective purchasers will complete a deal for one of the great Dutchman's works without consulting an expert. Just now an unusually active business in faked furniture is reported.

"This is an age of faked furniture," said the proprietor of a West End gallery. "One comes across it everywhere. It is certainly more plentiful than genuine furniture. Most of it is sold in the first place for what it is, accurate imitation, but later it comes into the market in the ordinary way to be sold as the real thing. Some of the modern faking of Jacobean furniture is so good that it frequently deceives experts. The number of Tudor tables which are on the market is enormous. There is about one for every six houses of Tudor days. Of course, most of them are clever fakes."

A favorite device of the fakers just now is to plant their reproductions, carefully matured and dust-covered, in rural English homes, where they are eagerly snapped up by unsuspecting purchasers who go through the country-side, looking for antiques.

ROUND TABLE CLUB IN INTERESTING MEET WITH MRS. FULFORD

The Round Table Club held a most interesting meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. N. S. Fulford. A splendid program was presented and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The subject for the year being Biographies, the topic for the evening was "Nature Lovers." Mrs. Claude Grant in an interesting manner read the biographies of Luther Burbank and John Burroughs. The paper on Burbank the American plant grower whose potato adds twenty million dollars annually to the wealth of the nation and who works on a larger scale than any known horticulturist and is now considered the world's greatest breeder of plant life, proved very enjoyable. The biography of John Burroughs, the American Naturalist and writer whose chief works were concerned with descriptions of animal and plant life, was also enjoyed.

Mrs. C. T. Munford read the Biography of Ernest Thompson Seton also a story about a bear which was written by Seton. The story was very humorous and interesting. Prior to the reading of the papers a short business session was held. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Butler and Mrs. George Powell, of Durham, served a tempting salad course.

NEITHER "RIOT" NOR "WAR," JUST A LITTLE LINE TROUBLE

The fire alarm celebrated this morning and proved to the people of Greenville that it was not "too full for utterance." It sounded like that a riot or war was on hand but upon investigation it was ascertained that the line was in trouble and needed a little assistance. The proper help was given and the alarm soon adjusted itself.

Two alarms, however, were sent in yesterday morning. One being from the barbecue stand adjoining the Farmers warehouse and the other from the Norfolk Southern trestle. Only a slight damage was reported.

Transvaal Fields Produce Gold in Growing Streams

London, Oct. 23. — A large increase in the gold production of the Transvaal is interesting several English companies, who are organizing prospecting expeditions into the little explored regions of the district. The reports of the advance agents of the companies indicate that the gold producing areas of the Transvaal are by no means limited to the sections now being exploited, but really extend far into the interior, and it is probable that gold may be found in the waste lands to the north. The companies are sending engineers to South Africa immediately with orders to make investigations.

The total output of gold for the Transvaal for July amounted to 829,437 fine ounces, the largest ever produced, and it is only the second time in the history of Transvaal gold mining that the monthly production has been more than 800,000 ounces. The value of the output for July was $3,867,250.

The value of the gold produced for the first present year was $22,500,000, a record.

MISS HANNAH DIXON COACHES PLAY WHICH PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

The following clipping from the Portland Republican, Portland, Ind., will be read with interest by the many friends of Miss Hannah Dixon, who is coaching plays for the Wayne P. Sewell Company of Atlanta, Ga.

"The 'Microbe of Love' under the auspices of the Jay County Business and Professional Woman's Club last night at the opera house was a rare program of rare fun rarely well done. Every seat in the theatre was sold and it truly seemed that folks here packed their troubles, and stored 'em away for last night at least.

Miss Hannah Dixon, the coach, from the Wayne P. Sewell Company of Atlanta, Ga., made a hit with the entire cast. She is remaining over until tomorrow and a theatre party is being given for her tonight by the club. Miss Dixon is going to Linton from here.

The members of the "Spinsters Club" sure did roast some of Portland's handsome and gay bachelors and this morning several of these bachelors had their heads together with an attorney in an effort to find out just how much the Jay County Business and Professional Woman's club owns, but when they learned that the "Microbe of Love" funds are to be used to buy a stove, they abandoned the damage suit idea, showing their hearts to be in the right place after all.

Winchester's Business Club sent a large delegation over to the play."

GREENVILLE PLAY VANCE- BORO, FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The High School Foot Ball Squad will meet the fast Vanceboro Farm Life Squad Friday afternoon on the local's grid iron. This will be probably the fastest game of the season. Although the locals defeated the Vanceboro team in a fast game 13 to 0 the game tomorrow is expected to be a peach.

Coach Crater has put the team through several hard workouts with which he seemed to be pleased. He said the team has shown great improvement during the past week.

The probable line-up:

West is handling all passes and punts in a wonderful manner and is hitting the line harder than ever. Mayo is steadily improving in running the team and in general slip. Crisp and Forbes are hitting the line like giant, and are improving on long end runs. Ricks is doing good at center and is doing a perfect piece of work in the line. Galloway, although handicapped by an injured hand, is tackling like a all-star fellow. Bilbro and Denton are doing good at end and are receiving passes well. Taft is guarding like a real guard and answers everyone. Nothing can run over him. Turnage and Dresbach are going to play their first game and it is up to them to prove themselves worthy of their positions. The team will miss others who are out on account of studies. Captain Harvey will not be out on account of a bad ankle.

Watch the label on your paper. We will have to stop your paper when your time expires.

YPRESS SOON TO HAVE CHAPEL TO SHELTER THE BRITISH MOURNERS

London, Oct. 23.—Church of England authorities have completed plans for the erection in or near Ypres, of a memorial church to be used by the many thousands of persons annually making pilgrimages to the graves of the British dead who fell during the four years fighting in the Ypres salient.

The church will be designed by one of the foremost of British architects, and will be erected in the form of a cross, with belfry, chancel and nave. While it will be primarily for the use of the church of England, facilities for worship will be afforded communicants of other denominations.

PRUDENT LONDON LOVERS DEFER MARRIAGE TILL THE LEASE IS SIGNED

London, Oct. 20.—The average marrying age in London has risen from the pre-war figure of 22 for bridegrooms and 20 for brides, to between 32 and 38 for bridegrooms and 25 to 27 for brides. A registrar explained this as being largely due to the dearth of suitable small houses or flats. He says couples will wait a suitable opportunity of obtaining some place to live before marrying.

"I have had cases of people taking out a license," the registrar told an interviewer, "and not marrying at the time arranged on account of the accommodation they hoped to get being taken by some one able to pay a higher price. These couples, by paying two shillings every three months, have kept their license valid so that they can marry at once if they wish."
