LAFOLLETTE NOT AFRAID OF PANIC IF HE IS ELECTED

Declares Wall Street Lacks Courage to Put Threats of Panic Into Effect

Aboard LaFollette Special enroute to Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 24.—As he traveled today from Grand Rapids, Michigan where he spoke last night toward Syracuse, N. Y., where he is scheduled to deliver an address tonight, Senator Robert M. LaFollette declared in a statement that "It is being whispered about that bankers and railroad operators and industry trusts and the press controlled by them that should LaFollette be elected there would be a panic, credit would be shortened and the banks would withdraw their support from business. This same old bluff has been used at this stage of every campaign in which there has been a real issue.

In 1912 when Woodrow Wilson was a candidate on the Democratic ticket the magnates and trusts threatened that if he was elected there would be a panic. He was elected and there was no panic. It has been used also in state elections and has even been used in city elections. It is a sure sign of reactionary press.

I do not question the power of Wall Street to produce a panic but I do challenge their courage to put through this conspiracy which they proclaim with the penitentiary stamp in their power to control the industrial life of America and can bring depression and they are now boasting that they have it in their power to control the way men vote as well. I intend to meet this treason, bribery and tyranny as any crime against a state should be met. If I'm elected as I fully expect to be and this wicked thing is done or attempted to be done the Department of Justice and all its investigating agencies will be instructed to bring this crime against a free people face to face with its just deserts."

C., on Wednesday and lost by a score of 6 to 0, the first time this season that the Wildcat's goal line has been crossed. All other colleges of the state will meet teams in Virginia.

TRENTON'S SAILORS KILLED IN NEW TWIN-MOUNT TURRET.

This is the new type twin-mount turret containing the six-inch guns on the United States scout cruiser Trenton, where several sailors were killed in a powder explosion on her final trial trip off the Virginia Capes. News dispatches say others were blown overboard when the access door to the turret gave way and then fell into the sea because the swing of the turret brought this door over the side of the ship. It will be noted that such is the case in this photograph, which was taken when the six-inch rifles were set to fire a broadside. The ship was commanded by Captain E. C. Kalbfus.

SHOOTS "IN-LAWS" AND CARRIES BRIDE AWAY INTO SWAMP

This Enraged Husband Shoots Bride's Father and Brother and Forces Her to Accompany Him Into Hiding

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 24.—An all night search by possees of Buck Trout Swamp failed to locate Frank James who forced his bride to accompany him into the swamp after he had shot her father and brother J. P. Mahan and Hugh Mahan, respectively. The father is suffering a gun shot wound in his leg and the brother received a load of shot in his right arm some of them penetrating the abdomen. Physicians today expressed hope for the recovery of both the injured.

James and Ruth Mahan were married in Elizabeth City, N. C., about 10 days ago despite the opposition of the girl's father. A few days ago the girl left her husband and returned to her home without any suggestion on his part, Mahan told the police. Hugh Mahan said James opened the door of the Mahan home last night and fired into the room where he and his sister sat. James then grabbed the girl by the arm and as he dragged her from the room he encountered the father. The elder man said James fired at him and exclaimed, "I'll kill the whole family now." He then forced the girl to accompany him into the swamp where search is being continued today.

Highway Com. Party Has Narrow Escape

Elizabeth City, Oct. 24.—Four members of the State Highway Commission and the son of Attorney Manning had a narrow escape from death in Albermarle Sound Wednesday night when the highway boat, Jennie B. struck rough water and dropped upon a net stake ramming a hole into her bottom, according to members of the party who reached here today. They drifted for hours, they said, finally reaching the Tyrell county coast night before last. They then hired a boat to bring them to Elizabeth City.

The party included M. E. Dixon, W. L. Cohnon, D. L. Hayman, T. W. Wilson and John Hall Manning.

Constitutional Amendments To Vote In Coming Election

Women Are Urged to Register Before Closing of the Books Tomorrow Afternoon; The Vote of All Eligible Voters Is Earnestly Desired

In view of the fact, that there are so many constitutional amendments to be voted on in the coming election, the below digest of such Acts or Amendments is offered to our readers. There seems to be a certain proneness, today among our voters to leave things be, and "Let George do it."

5. An Act to Provide a World War Veteran's Loan Fund.

This act briefly provides, as follows: To authorize a bond issue of $2,000,000 at an interest rate of not exceeding 5 per cent, the proceeds to be loaned world war veterans in amounts not in excess of $3,000 at 6 per cent to each veteran and not exceeding 75 per cent of the appraised value of the real property offered as security, the loan to be used in the purchase of homes. The fund is to be administered by a board of advisors consisting of the Secretary of State, the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Attorney General and the State Treasurer, who shall appoint a person known as the "Commissioner of the Veterans Loan Fund," drawing an annual salary of $3,500.

1. Inviolability of Sinking Fund.

To amend the Constitution by inserting a new section to be Section 30, Article 2, to read as follows: "Sec. 30. The General Assembly shall not use nor authorize to be used any part of the amount of any sinking fund for any purpose other than the retirement of the bonds for which said sinking fund has been created."

2. Taxation of Homes, Homesteads, Note and Mortgages.

To amend Sec. 3, Article 5. of the Constitution providing that notes, mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness, given to build, repair or purchase at home, when the loan does not exceed $8,000 from 1 to 23 years, shall be exempt from taxation for 50 per cent. of the value of the notes and mortgages; Provided, the holder of the notes must reside in the county where the land lies and there list for taxation; Provided, further that when said notes or mortgages are held and taxed in the county where the home is situated, then the owner of the home shall be exempt from taxation of every kind for 50 per cent. of the value of said notes and mortgages.

3. To Put a Limitation on the State Debt.

To amend section 4, article 5, so that the General Assembly shall have no power to contract any new debt or pecuniary obligation in behalf of the State, except for the refunding of valid bonded debt, and except to supply a casual deficit, or for suppressing invasions or insurrections, exceeding 7 1-2 per cent of the assessed valuation of taxation property within the State as last fixed for taxation.

4. As to Pay of Members of the General Assembly.

To amend section 28, article 2, of the Constitution so that the pay of

Baptists and Methodists Will Stage Football Game On October 25th

Durham, Oct. 24.—Baptists and Methodists will stage their first fight of the North Carolina grid season on next Saturday afternoon at Wake Forest with the first year student team from Trinity college invading Wake county to try their prowess against the young deacons. And the records of the two freshman elevens indicate that it will not be a one-sided affair.

Coach Walter L. ("Ikey") Taylor of the Trinity yearling crew is getting good work out of his youngsters and their playing last Saturday against the strong Oak Ridge institute eleven on Hanes field, Durham, in which the two teams battled to a scoreless draw, is gratifying to the Methodist followers.

Wake Forest, too, has a strong freshman team and they have registered decisive victories. A feature of the lineup will be the appearance of names of half-dozen or more former Asheville high school football players. Asheville high has representatives on both freshman teams, and these players who were on the 1922 state championship winning team.

Forester Appointed To Seek Placement of Park in State

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—H. M. Curran, forester of the State College Extension Division, has been appointed by the State Committee to seek the placement of a national park in North Carolina, which was appointed by the extra session of the General Assembly in August, to inspect the proposed site around the Linville Gorge region and to make a survey of the desirability and the titles of the 50,000 acres, which will be used as a basis for the report of the committee to the General Assembly in January 1925, it was announced at the Extension office today.

According to Mr. Curran the Appalachian National Park Committee of Congress has already inspected in the side and expressed itself as being very much impressed with possibilities for a national park in that region.

ARMENIA PREPARES SPEND OWN FUNDS IN CARE OF ORPHANS

Erivan, Armenia, Oct. 24.—Plans are being drawn by the Armenian government for the erection of three great industrial training schools in or near Erivan for poor Armenian boys and girls, the funds being supplied by wealthy Armenian Americans. The three institutions will cost upwards of $1,000,000. The first of these is an agricultural and industrial school which will be paid for out of a half-million dollar bequest by the late Gallabi Gulbenkian, of New York.

The second school will be devoted to trade and technical subjects for dependent Armenian boys, the cost being defrayed by the estate of the late Rafael Margossian, of New York, who died in Paris, leaving 3,500,000 francs for the founding of such an institution.

The third school will be a vocational institution for Armenian orphan girls between 10 and 18 years old. These children will be instructed in domestic science, nursing and the useful arts, the plan being to make the girls self-supporting for life. This institution has been made possible thru the generosity of Leon Agoplian, a wealthy Armenian businessman living in New York, who set aside nearly $250,000 for the purpose in memory of his sister, Darochi Agopian, who recently died in New York at the age of eighteen.

Leon Pashalian and Kevork Assiador, members of the Armenian national committee at Geneva, are arranging the details of the three institutions in collaboration with the Armenian government officials. It is expected the schools will absorb the greater number of destitute Armenian boys and girls now in Armenia and will also supply the future artisans, engineers, nurses and teachers of the country. A considerable number of the orphans now being cared for at Alexandropol by the American Near East Relief Organization will be transferred to the new schools.

"We, as good citizens," he said, owe it to ourselves and to our country to help direct affairs of our government by the use of the ballot.

"WE SELL TOBACCO—NOT THE MAN"

ABANDONED VESSELS ON WATERS OF VOLGA POINT RUIN, DECAY

Astrakhan, Russia, Oct. 24.—Life on the far-famed Volga river is slowly ebbing out. The great 2,300-mile yellow stream, once Russia's great maritime highway, no longer courses its winding way to the sound of fishermen's songs, the clanking of the wheels of great excursion steamers, cargo boats. The hundreds of villages which drew their life from the river are melancholy, spiritless places, for the people not only are faced with a wheat famine this year, but their fishing business, which is their chief support, is all but dead.

Where in pre-war days the Volga produced two billion pounds of fish and caviar annually, it now yields only one-third that quantity. This is no fault of the river, but of the government to exploit it properly. The government at first nationalized the fisheries and, finding that a failure, it restored the fishery enterprises to their original owners. But the owners have found the government taxes too onerous, and many of them have abandoned their business altogether. Only 70 of the 800 fisheries which formerly operated at Astrakhan, the great caviar depot, have resumed their activities.

But it is in the striking decrease in the number of excursion and cargo steamers that one notices the most significant change in the Volga. Where previously the river was covered with thousands of commercial and pleasure craft, it now carries only occasional passenger steamers and small cargo boats. In every bend and inlet in the river the visitor sees scores of abandoned excursion steamers slowly sinking to the bottom.

The few passenger vessels still on the river are well-equipped, but they are patronized almost entirely by Russians of the proletarian class, for there are few foreigners in Russia, and members of the old intellectual regime have no money to make such trips.

One of the most pathetic scenes along the whole course of the river are the forests of abandoned fishing boats, whose slender masts, pointed toward the sky like huge fingers, seem to be calling to heaven to witness the death of their ancient and respected industry. Their owners have turned to more lucrative callings.

In the absence of fishermen, one sees groups of sailors and longshore men, who invariably complain of bad times and low wages. Work is difficult to obtain, and the longshoremen therefore are willing to discharge huge cargoes from vessels at the ridiculous rate of a cent for every hundred pounds.

Nature also seems bent on completing the economic doom of the historic river, for everywhere huge beds of moving sands are gathering, which block the river and impede navigation. The sand-dredges are neither numerous enough nor sufficiently efficient to remove all these impediments.

REGIMENTS OF COOKS LABOR TO FEED THE BRITISH ROYALTIES

London, Oct. 24.—The royal kitchens at Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace, which were overhauled during the absence of the king and queen in the Scottish Highlands and are now spick and span, are very interesting institutions.

It is said there is no royal house in the world where the kitchens are so well arranged as in the grimly gray castle at Windsor, the home of English sovereigns since the days of William the Conqueror. Built originally centuries ago, they have been modified from time to time to meet the needs of changed conditions, but wherever possible the old has been preserved and not infrequently English beef is served to King George which has been roasted on a spit that did duty in the days of the Plantagenet kings.

Until the time of King Edward the royal menus were published for the benefit of the public, but King Edward abolished the practice and his son King George has followed suit.

Each kitchen at Windsor has a chef. One devotes himself to roasts another to soups, a third to entrees, a fourth to pastries, et cetera. At the orders of each chef are four cooks who have under them a good sized corps of assistants, altogether a force large enough to take care of the extraordinary demands upon the royal larder.

ENGLISH STUDENT JOURNALIST WILL WORK IN UNITED STATES

London, Oct. 21.—Two scholarships for English journalists, to be known as the "Walter Page Scholarships," have been founded by the English Speaking Union. They comprise a year's visit to America for the study of life and politics of the country, and their value is about $2,500.

Most of the funds for next year's scholarships are now available and it is planned to send the two journalists over in January. The holders will be chosen by a committee of the London branch, and it is possible that during their visit to the United States they will be affiliated for a short time with some American newspaper.

SWEDISH RAILROADS GIVE UP FIRST CLASS PASSENGER CARS

Stockholm, Oct. 23.—Railroad companies in Sweden have decided to abolish first class traveling accommodations, and offer only second and third class to the public. The government owns most of the railroads in Sweden, and as early as 1900 began to eliminate the first class accommodations, as there was very little difference between first and second class arrangements.

Several years ago second and third class sleepers were provided on government lines, and now the few operating private companies have offered similar facilities with the announcement they also are abandoning first class.

Is Cotton Going Up?

This is the vital question, and cannot be answered except by the producers themselves, are you satisfied with the price. Cotton prices will advance in the same proportion that the farmers put it on the market.

By an orderly system of marketing your crop through a warehouse you can fix the price as well as protect your cotton hazards of weather and fire.

Our Warehouse was constructed in 1914 to enable the farmers to hold their crop and market it as they desired, and since that time it has saved the farmers thousands of dollars.

This warehouse is equipped with automatic sprinklers, and is operated under State and Federal supervision, with re-shipping privileges over both the Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk-Southern when shipments do not constitute a back haul.

You can always see your cotton graded, weighed and sold, in fact you do your own selling when you desire. Banks make liberal advances on your cotton certificates which enable you to realize cash and also hold for higher prices.

We are in a position to serve the farmers of Eastern North Carolina and enable them to make their price. Our rates are reasonable and we will be glad to serve you.

FARMERS ARE SAVED HUGE INTEREST SUMS

The Federal Farm Loan banking system is saving the American farmers $15,000,000 a month or $180,000,000 a year in interest charges alone.

Recent investigations of farm indebtedness have shown that the farmers of the United States owe, in round numbers, $9,000,000,000 on which they are paying interest. Their debts have piled up during the last three lean years until the interest charge alone is enough to stagger them. In the old Shylock days, before a Democratic administration enacted the Farm Loan Bank law, interest on a debt of this size would have been more than most farmers could have carried. But the existence of the Farm Loan Banks, created under the Wilson administration, is today saving the farmers of the United States half a million dollars a day, fifteen million dollars a month, or $180,000,000 a year, at a time when Republican policies have ruined their business.

The Farm Loan Bank system has had the effect of bringing down the interest rate paid by farmers to six per cent, on the average the country over. Commercial banks and other lenders have been forced, by the operation of the Farm Loan Banks, to reduce greatly the interest rate on loans to farmers. In the old days, the farmer paid whatever rate could be extorted from him, and the more he needed money, the higher rate he had to pay. Twelve per cent was not uncommon and eight per cent was the prevalent rate on farm loans before the establishment of the Farm Loan Banks. Taking eight per cent as the old average, farmers now pay an average of two per cent less than they formerly paid.

On an indebtedness of $9,000,000,000, this reduction of two per cent means a saving to farmers of $180,000,000 a year. This will continue through the years. Even if general good prices for farm products should come, most farmers would require several years to pay off their debts. Farm Loan Bank loans run for a period of approximately thirty years, and those who have borrowed money from other sources to pay for land and permanent improvements figure on a term about equally long to complete payment. In that period, the saving of two per cent a year in interest charges will mean $5,400,000,000 saved to the farmers of the United States.

Yet the Farm Loan Bank system, one of the few helps that the farmer has had during the most disastrous period he has ever known—has been consistently opposed and so far as possible thwarted by the Republican administration. It has been hampered and pestered so persistently that it has been able to function only imperfectly. If it had been given a fair chance since 1920, it undoubtedly would have done a great deal more than it has toward alleviating the sufferings of the farmers.

But, in the nature of things, the Farm Loan Bank will probably always be opposed by those who now control the Republican party. It interferes with the profits of private mortgage bankers, one of the special interests that the Republican party always tries to protect. Many of the mortgage makers, if it were not for the effect of the Farm Loan Banks, would be getting twelve per cent for loans to distressed and desperate farmers. They have never ceased to chafe under the necessity of charging only legal rates, nor have they failed to search for means of returning to the old system.

Safety for the Farm Loan Banking system lies in returning to power the party which created it and, even when in the minority as the Democrats have been for the last few years, has prevented its destruction at the hands of its enemies.

Steady men are kept that way by bank balances.
 Somehow there isn't much excuse for a man at a matinee.
 A cat scratches when rubbed the wrong way and so do heavies.
 Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and the world laughs at you.
 Some go to the movies to rest their feet; others go to practice reading aloud.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseous Calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.
 One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

DICIE HOWELL, LYRIC SOPRANO, WINNING INTERNATIONAL FAME

The following will be read with interest by the many friends of Miss Dicie Howell, of Tarboro, and who is well known here having given recitals at the Teachers College.

Miss Howell sailed for Europe in August, to study Operatic roles and modern French songs. Since her arrival in Paris, she has been heard by several French conductors, and besides a recital of songs at the Maison Gaycau in Paris early in November, Miss Howell will sing for the American Club in Paris. She will give a recital for a body of artists and students in the famous Latin Quarter of Paris, on the left side of the Seine.

After November 15th, she will be heard with the Paris Symphony Orchestra and leave immediately for Munich, where she will meet many of her colleagues who are singing at the "Staats Opera."

Miss Howell will give a recital in Munich, return to Paris for a date in Neuilly, and sail for New York, December 16th. She hopes to spend Christmas with her mother in Edgecombe county, and then begin a long series of concerts in the states, now being booked by her New York manager.

In another year, Miss Howell expects to enter the operatic field, and will appear in opera houses both in America and in Europe.

Don't let constipation make you an invalid—relieve it with Kellogg's Bran

Few people realize how dangerous is constipation until this dread disease tears down their health. Did you know that more than forty serious diseases can be traced to constipation?

Keep your health, or restore it, with Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. It brings relief in mild and chronic cases of constipation. It is effective because it is ALL bran. That is why it is recommended so highly by doctors. They know that only ALL bran can bring 100 per cent results. Part bran is, at best, only a halfway measure.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief—even in the most chronic case. It is guaranteed to do so. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

WILLIAMS-MOYE.

One of the most beautiful weddings ever celebrated in this town occurred on Thursday evening in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, when Miss Novella Higgs Moye, became the bride of Mr. Edward Sutherland Williams. White and green were the prevailing colors. Decorations of massive ferns, trailing southern smilax, and graceful pine with touches of white asters and myriads of white candles gleaming among the dark foliage gave an unusually beautiful and dignified effect.

Preceding the ceremony the beautiful "Bridal Chorus" of Cowen's from the opera Rose Maid was sung. The women's voices were Mesdames J. Knott Proctor and G. B. W. Hadley, A. F. Gardner, H. P. McClure, Tarboro, Misses Helene Higgs, Bessie Brown and Ernestine Forbes; the men's voices were Messrs. W. W. Led, Dail Laughinghouse, Carter Darrow, of Tarboro, Mr. C. B. Rowlett and E. H. Foley, Jr. The ladies were handsomely gowned and wore corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas. The wedding music was played by Mr. E. E. Rawls, of Tarboro, N. C., who used Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus as a processional and the stirring wedding march of Mendelssohn as a recessional.

Mr. Virgil Powers Scoville performed the ring ceremony, reading from the prayer book used at the wedding of the bride's parents. The solemnity and beauty were enhanced by the soft tones of the organ in the appropriately played Schubert's Serenade.

The first to enter were the ushers, Messrs. Charlie James, Frances Bowen, James Little, Curtis Perkins, all of Greenville and Messrs. Lee Hannah of Rocky Mount, N. C.; and T. D. Coopers of Burlington, N. C.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, brother and mother. Miss

Emily Moye, first brides' maid in orchid georgette trimmed in rhinestones and ostrich, carrying an arm bouquet of Columbia roses showered with sweetheart roses entered simultaneously on the opposite side from Mr. Joe Moye. They were followed by Mrs. Jesse Rountree Moye, mother of the bride and dame-of-honor, gowned in white crepe charmeen beaded in pearls and carrying Columbia roses showered with sweetheart roses. Next came Miss Jessie Moye, maid-of-honor, who wore apple green chiffon over silver cloth trimmed with rhinestones and ostrich, and carried also an arm bouquet of Columbia roses showered with sweetheart roses. There followed William Zennus Morton and Phillip Morton, attractive little pages in white satin suits, bearing latin pillows.

The bride was escorted by her father who gave her in marriage. They were preceded by dainty little maids, Mary Dargas Harding and Rebecca Williams as flower girls wearing yellow georgette frocks and carrying baskets filled with Columbia roses. The groom accompanied by his brother, Mr. S. S. Williams met his bride at the altar. Never was she more handsome than on her wedding night. Her gown was of white duchess satin embroidered in pearls and her veil was caught with orange blossoms and a pearl coronet. Her flowers were bride's roses showered with valley lilies.

Mrs. Williams is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moye. She is a graduate of St. Mary's. Since her graduation she has been at home, as a professional and the stirring wedding march of Mendelssohn as a recessional.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mr. Joe Moye, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Mrs. Sam H. Lee, Monroe, N. C.; Miss Loula Jones, Martinsville, Va.; Miss Julia Gold, Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Charles W. Gold, Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Everett, Palm Springs, N. C.; Miss Snow Heddon, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Mrs. Kenneth Brim, Greensboro, N. C.; Miss Jessie Myers, Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. T. D. Cooper, Burlington, N. C.; Miss Annie Sutherland, Sutherland, Va.; Mr. Rob. Vaughn, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Mr. Ernest Lashley, Goldsboro, N. C.; Mr. Ed Hart, Tarboro, N. C.; Mr. Carter Dargow, Tarboro, N. C.; Mrs. H. P. McClure, Tarboro, N. C.; Miss Mildred Cooley, Nashville, N. C.; Miss Louise Pearsall, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Mr. Lee, Hannah, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Hundreds of guests called during the evening at the brilliant wedding reception given at the home of bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moye.

AMERICANS PAID IN 1923
119.60 A MONTH IN RENT
Chicago, Oct. 24. — Apartment house dwellers in the United States paid an average monthly rental of $19.60 a room last year, according to a report of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers. The report was based on a compilation of figures furnished by apartment house owners in the principal cities in the annual accounting and exchange report.
The highest rent recorded was $62.31 a month for each room of an exclusive New York apartment. The average for New was reported to be $34.86. The New York figures, however, indicated the average cost of the finest apartments in Gotham, since the building reporting were all of the higher grade.
The owner of an Omaha nine-apartment building, on the other hand, reported the lowest charge a room in the country. He listed his rooms at $7.98 each a month. The income to owners ranged from 1.55 per cent to 14.09 percent of the tax valuation, with a general average of 7.69 percent of the owner's valuation of the buildings. The taxes paid by apartment buildings averaged 10.33 percent of the gross income. The cost of fuel to heat the buildings and supply hot water averaged 7.37 percent of the gross income.

PRES. HILLEY ADDRESSES STUDENTS OF A. C. C. ON THINGS ABOUT COLLEGE LIFE
Wilson, Oct. 24.—President Hilley at the chapel period Tuesday morning gave the pupils of Atlantic Christian College the second in his series of talks upon "Things vital to College Life." The theme was based upon the passage taken from Isaiah: "In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength." He asked the students to listen to the voice of their own experience in matters of conduct, and learn lessons from the good and evil which had happened to them. To catch a vision of their selves, and listen to the urge in their souls to be bigger, to be the best which each was capable of becoming.
President Hilley cited as worthy of emulation Washington, Monroe, Lincoln and Wilson.

FINE PORTRAITS MUST EMBELLISH PASSPORTS OF ALL AMERICANS
Bern, Switzerland, Oct. 17.—Passport difficulties for Americans have been made a little more annoying by the new regulations of the state department providing that photographs presented for use on passports must be of a specified thickness, of certain dimensions, and must have a white background. These regulations specify pictures which are wholly unlike the rush photographs supplied by emergency picture galleries the length and breadth of Europe, and force the American applicants to go to regular photographers, consist of whom require many days to complete pictures and charge many times the amount travelers pay the specialists in passport pictures.
The contention of the state department is that the pictures must have a white background so the signature of the applicant, when written across the picture, will be more legible.
