MRS. FLORENCE HARDING WIDOW LATE PRESIDENT DIED IN MARION TODAY

Peaceful End Came At 8:55 This Morning; Nation Mourns Death of Former First Lady of the Land

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, widow of Warren G. Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States, died here today. The end came at 8:55 a. m. at White Oaks Sanatorium of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, where she had been fighting for her life for the last few weeks. Mrs. Harding's death was due directly to a kidney ailment which she has suffered for years, and from which fatality almost resulted while she was mistress of the White House. She died peacefully, Dr. Sawyer said.

The death certificate made out by Dr. Sawyer gave the cause of death as Chronic Nephritis with Myocarditis and Hydro-Nephrosis.

Clifford B. Kling, Mrs. Harding's brother, George B. Christian, who had been Harding's secretary, Mrs. Sawyer, widow of Brigadier General Charles Sawyer, and Dr. Carl Sawyer were present when the end came. Arrangements for the funeral were immediately taken in charge by Mrs. Harding's brother and Mr. Christian.

Funeral services will be held at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church at two o'clock Monday afternoon. Dr. Jesse Swank, pastor of the church, who conducted the funeral services for President Harding, will be in charge. He will be assisted by Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, of which Mr. Harding was a member. Mrs. Harding had been a member of Epworth Methodist Church since girlhood. While no definite announcement has been made it is expected that the body of Mrs. Harding will be placed in the receiving vault in Marion cemetery alongside the body of her late husband. The body was removed from the sanatorium early today to the home of Mrs. Frank Longshore on East Church street.

Except for a short interval in which she resided in Washington, Mrs. Harding has lived at White Oak Farm since the death of President Harding in August 1923. She went there primarily to be under the care of the late Brigadier General Charles W. Sawyer, who had been the personal physician of her husband while he was president and who had been her physician for 20 years. She became ill shortly after the death of General Sawyer early this fall.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The death of Mrs. Harding aroused a deep sense of personal sorrow in the national capital. Highest dignitaries of the government headed by President Coolidge joined in public expression of grief and regret but quite another tribute of affection found voice among those she had befriended in the humbler walks of life and those who looked with admiration and pity upon the tragic course of her brief stay in the White House.

Mrs. Harding had many warm friends in Washington long before her husband became president. As wife of a Senator for six years she won the reputation of a gracious hostess of whole hearted Democratic participation in many public charities. These qualities she carried with her into the White House.

At the president's direction today the flag at the White House will fly at half mast until the funeral services Monday. President Coolidge also sent Captain Adolphus Andrews, his naval aide, to Marion to render such assistance as is possible and designated Secretaries Weeks and Work to represent him at the funeral.

President and Mrs. Coolidge had kept in close touch with the progress of Mrs. Harding's illness. Yesterday they sent a message expressing hope for her recovery and as soon as her death became known today the president addressed a telegram to George B. Christian, Jr.

"Please express to members of Mrs. Harding's family the sincere condolence of Mrs. Coolidge and myself. We share the fullest measure of sorrow which her death brings them. We are disappointed that her brave fight was in vain, but it is a source of pride to know she made it so valiantly as to arouse admiration of her countless friends. We shall never forget her helpful friendship which will be an increasingly sweet memory. The nation mourns for her. Our deepest sympathy goes out to those nearest and dearest to her."

While the funeral services for Mrs. Harding are expected to be simple they will not lack dignity befitting the widow of a former president of the nation.

Members of the Associated Ohio Dailies, an organization of newspaper publishers, of which the former president was one of the founders, have been requested by President R. C. Snyder, of Norwalk, to attend the funeral in a body. This tribute from the newspaper fraternity is not solely because of Mr. Harding's activities in the newspaper field but also Mrs. Harding's activities in that line, she having worked for many years in the Marion Star office with her husband. She was considered one of Ohio's best known newspaper women.

BANK ROBBERY LOOT ANDERSON TO GET FOUND IN OHIO PARK PAROLE CHRISTMAS

$500,000 Worth Securities Stolen From Pennsylvania Bank Found By Workmen in Ohio City

Youngstown, Ohio, Nov. 21.—Bonds and stocks valued at $500,000, thought to have been stolen from Bentley's Bank at Springboro, Pa., were found in a city park here and have been recovered by postal authorities it was announced here today. That the men who found the money were all foreigners and were not fully aware of the value of the find was indicated when the foremen of one of the men who work in a steel plant here said last night that he found the man wearing two $1,000 Liberty bonds as an apron.

Postal authorities later gave the names of the three men as John Miller, John Wolf and Mike Bogzo. They found the money, they said hidden in the bushes in the park Sunday. The men were released when questioning convinced authorities that their story was genuine.

J. B. Bentley, of the Springboro Bank said over the telephone today that the securities found here accounted for everything stolen from a small safe in the bank which was blown open about two weeks ago. He confirmed the postal authorities' estimate that the securities were worth approximately $500,000.

Miss Emeth Tuttle Visits Greenville in Interest Mother's Aid

Miss Emeth Tuttle, director of Mother's Aid Work in North Carolina was in the city yesterday in the interest of work coming under her department. While here she held conferences with Supt. Public Welfare and others and visited cases being assisted from the State Mothers Aid Fund. Miss Tuttle stated that about 250 Mothers aid cases had been approved in the state up to this time and that about one thousand children were being maintained in their own home with their mother in this way. She stated that many children had been taken from orphanages and the home rehabilitated since this fund had been provided that the room in the orphanages could be left for the motherless and fatherless children. She stated that all the orphanages had a long waiting list of applicants. A good home with a mother of good character in a community where good schools were maintained was the best place for the average child.

BUSINESS HOUSES DESTROYED BY FIRE. ANGIER LAST NIGHT

Fire Departments From 3 Adjoining Towns Aid in Checking $150,000 Blaze

Angier, N. C., Nov. 21.—A defective flue was today blamed for a fire that last night destroyed four business buildings here with a loss of approximately $150,000. The flames originated in some rugs hanging against a wall through which a chimney was built in an apartment occupied by A. C. Barfoot.

For a time the flames threatened to destroy the entire business section but the timely arrival of the Fuquay Springs fire department reinforced shortly afterward by the Raleigh and Dunn departments checked the spread of the flames.

The buildings destroyed were Ekrae Restaurant, Wilson and Company's general store and D. D. Overby's store. The Overby Drug Company's building was virtually destroyed.

Merchants whose places were destroyed were today occupied in salvaging goods carried from the buildings, before they were destroyed and piled along the railroad tracks. Much of this goods was damaged by water and trampling.

Files Suit For $3,000 Alleged Damages Character

Winston-Salem, Nov. 21.—J. E. Boyd has filed suit in the Forsyth County Superior Court for $3,000 damages against the Fog's Furniture Company for alleged damages to his character. Boyd declares in his complaint that he was employed by the Fog's Furniture in February 1923 and that later when he asked for a raise and was refused, he resigned and sought employment elsewhere. The complainant further alleges that he was prevented from securing employment by the defendant, who called up other places of similar business and otherwise over town and told them not to employ Boyd as he was "no good."

By such blacklisting, charged Boyd, he was forced to seek employment out of town and due to this and other alleged wrongs he asked $3,000 damages.

Murderers Granted Respite

MORTIMER KING
FRANK HARREL

Frank Harrel and Mortimer N. King, would have hanged at Columbia, S. C., today for the murder of Major Samuel H. McHenry, U. S. A., had not a respite of three weeks been granted for a review of testimony in the case. The killing occurred in July when two men met the army officer in his automobile on a lonely road near Columbus and asked for a ride. They shot and robbed the officer and buried his body. The stolen car later led to their arrest.

New Bern Will Have Woman Mayor If Election Favors Her

New Bern, Nov. 21.—Another city in North Carolina will have a woman mayor, if the tide of the municipal election next spring is favorable to Mrs. C. D. Brabham, who has made her announcement for chief executive's office of New Bern. Mrs. Brabham's entry into the race makes it three cornered so far. The other two candidates being former Mayor A. H. Bangert and Charles H. Hill.

Mrs. Brabham, who has been active in civic and social work for a long time, is the first woman to seek political office in Craven county. The outcome will be looked to with much interest and with the two men dividing the male vote, Mrs. Brabham may be the forerunner of successful women candidates for political offices in this county, so many persons think.

Pharr is said to have the support of representatives five counties adjacent to and including Durham. MISS H. ELLIOTT TALKS TO MEMBERS OF WOMAN'S CLUB

One of State's Most Gifted Speakers Explains the "Power" of the President to Club Women and Friends

Through the medium of the Woman's Club, the ladies of Greenville and the pupils of the High School had a rare treat on Thursday afternoon, when Miss Harriet Elliott, of North Carolina College for Women, addressed them on the subject, "The Powers of the President of the United States."

This was the first of a series of special programs prepared by different departments, of the Woman's Club for the ensuing year. Principal Davis generously tendered the use of the High School auditorium for the meeting, which was open to the public, and at the close, the class in Domestic Science, under the direction of Miss Millsaps, served hot tea and wafers.

While the audience was gathering, Miss Lucy Crisp of Falkland led in the singing of several familiar songs, followed by the Federation Hymn, words of which were written by Mrs. R. R. Cotten. Two delightful musical selections were rendered on piano and violin by Misses Bertolet and Gorrell, of East Carolina Teachers College.

The President, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, expressed the gratitude of the Club members for the use of the auditorium and their pleasure at having the High School girls and other friends present. Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, a member of the Pitt County Alumnae of North Carolina College for Women, introduced Miss Elliott, who is head of the Department of Political Science of that institution.

Realizing that voters should be better informed with regard to the laws of the country, Miss Elliott gave enough of her knowledge on the subject to her audience, to interest them keenly, and send them away with the desire and determination to learn more. Few people realize the enormous power which is vested in the President of the United States alone, said Miss Elliott.

She contrasted the conditions under which the Constitution of the United States was written, 135 years ago, and those existing at the present time. She showed the wonderful elasticity in the wording of the document, which is considered by statesmen of the world to be the most remarkable document ever written, to allow for various individual interpretations, all of which may come within its bounds. Her talk was strictly non-partisan, while it gave glimpses of all parties. Surely, those women who say they "are not interested in politics" had never heard Miss Elliott on the subject before.

Following the program a delightful and informal social hour was enjoyed over the tea-cups, when all present met Miss Elliott, and Miss Mary Petty, also of N. C. C. W., who accompanied Miss Elliott, and our Club Mother, Mrs. Cotten.

While in Greenville, Miss Elliott and Miss Petty are guests of Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, who gave a luncheon in their honor on Thursday noon. They go to Cotten Dale for the weekend, where Mrs. Cotten will give a luncheon for them on Saturday.

Revenue Inquiry Halts For Decision Legality Income Tax Publication

RUSSIAN TRAINS GIVE FINE SERVICE DESPITE BAD TRACK

Moscow.—In the midst of the general industrial prostration, social disintegration, and the breakdown of many of the normal processes of life in Russia, nothing seems so striking as the efficiency and comfort of the railroad service. Although the Soviet has far from an adequate number of locomotives or passenger coaches, it maintains a travel service which, if much below the standard of imperial days, is at the same time a credit to the country with its present depleted resources.

Americans and other foreign visitors may travel from Warsaw, Berlin or Riga to the larger cities of Russia and enjoy many of the comforts which existed before the war. Although there are, as a rule, no dining cars on these trains, passengers may secure wholesome food at the station restaurants along the route. There are no regular sleeping-cars, as, in pre-war days, but comfortable berths and compartments of the local Russian type, equipped with clean bed linen, usually can be secured. First-class fares are considerably less than in the United States.

On most of the longer routes within Russia, regular sleeping and restaurant cars are maintained and, except in the matter of speed and the number of trains daily, the service falls little short of the pre-revolution standard. Between Moscow and Petrograd there are several excellent trains daily. First-class trains are run also from Moscow and Petrograd to Batum, Tiflis, Baku, Odessa, the Crimea, and other points. Once a week there are express trains between Moscow and Vladivostok, with international sleeping-cars and diners attached, the trip occupying about 12 days.

On all these journeys, however, the passenger soon realizes that the most serious defect in the Russian railroad service is the deplorable condition of the tracks, the roadbed and the crossings, which have not been replaced for years.

The railroads in Russia are run at a great deficit. The repair of the badly-worn rolling-stock, the renewal of parts, the building of new passenger and freight-cars, the strengthening and repair of insecure bridges, and the reconstruction of ruined water-towers and round-houses have entailed enormous expense. The Soviet authorities are trying to secure a loan abroad for the Russian railroads, but the terms have not been sufficiently liberal to attract foreign capital.

"SINNERS IN HEAVEN," WITH SUPERLATIVE CAST, COMING

The title of the new Paramount picture, "Sinners in Heaven," which is coming to White's Theatre for a two day run beginning next Monday, has a distinctly paradoxical sound. It is safe to assume that the picture satisfactorily explains and justifies the title.

To those, however, who have read the story by Clive Arden from which the picture was adapted by James Creelman and produced by Alan Crosland, the title has an especial significance and it is certain that they will approve its retention in the screen play.

"Sinners in Heaven" tells the story of a man and a girl who are thru fate wrecked on a tropical island off the coast of Africa. Try to imagine what would happen if you found yourself stranded in some remote corner of the earth, apparently a million miles from any sign of civilization, and your only companion was a person whom you cordially disliked! This is the situation that confronts Barbara Stockley, the heroine; and you can readily understand the dynamic possibilities for rich drama when we tell you that the girl eventually falls in love with the man and marries him, there, in the heart of the African desert! How the marriage is performed and what happens after that, we will let you discover for yourself.

With a combination of such box office favorites as Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix who portray the two leading roles, surrounded by two likeable and well known players as Holmes Herbert, Montague Love, Florence Billings, Effie Shannon, Betty Hiburn and Marcia Harris, the only fair thing to do is designate it as an all-star cast.

Make a note of the play date if you want to be amongst those present when "Sinners in Heaven" comes to town!

He laughed at Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Now read this letter of thanks from Mr. Kane. It speaks for itself. Remember, it is because Kellogg's is ALL BRAN that it was so effective in his case—just as it has been in thousands of others. Only ALL BRAN can produce 100 per cent results.

My dear friend:
Imagine a young man weighing 165 pounds in the course of a few months parked in bed, a weakling weighing 94 pounds. An elderly lady whom I knew since I was a kid paid me what she thought was a last visit. Upon being told of my plight she immediately mentioned your product for such an ailment. Maybe some of us didn't look upon her views very lightly . . . it was to laugh!

My dear friend, I am still laughing . . . not at your product, but because I am able to. I am telling you and the world at large, "Eat Kellogg's Krumbled Bran!" It should be called "Constipation's worst enemy." I owe you my heartfelt gratitude. I can talk, and whenever the opportunity presents itself, my mouth is always full of bran—Kellogg's Krumbled. Wishing you countless days of progress, I am

Yours for success,
John M. Kane,
228 Salem St., Woburn, Mass.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly to relieve constipation permanently. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the delicious nut-like flavor. Sold by all grocers.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS, BUT—

Business is business, says the economist. But business without the added touch of humanity would be almost unendurable and on that foundation some good advocate could base a plea for the neighborhood store.

Too often do we hear the people of the small town or suburb say, "The Jones stock is so limited, I don't bother to look for what I want there. I'll have to send to the mail order house." They forget that if Mr. Jones were asked for that article very often he would have it in his store. Nor do they realize that after all Jones can sell them more than just the mere goods, that every purchase in his store pays a dividend of service to the community.

If they do not patronize their town store they cannot expect it to build itself into an asset to the town or to consider their interests its interests.

In hard times it is not the mail-order house or the city department store that extends credit; it is the neighborhood store-keeper who provides food and clothing and takes the chance that he may collect when prosperity returns. It pays to help those who serve us.

OUR DEBT TO CHILDREN

Better teachers, fuller school equipment, it matters not what they cost. We owe them more. We owe them our own example. What we do, and the lives they live with us, will affect them most. Give them a chance to be useful in their childhood, to practice economy, to do for themselves. If the greatest men have usually been born in the country and later gone to the city, there is a reason. Huxley warns us not to let a child's schooling interfere with its education. It ought to have the best schooling our brains and our purses can procure. But its deepest education is in the hands of its parents.—Norman Hapgood, in Hearst's International.

A BAD PRACTICE REVIVED

The presence of a National Chairman in the United States Senate restores the political scene of two decades ago and adds another touch to the likeness of the present-day Republican party to that of 1904. In that year Senator Hanna of Ohio was National Chairman, the last of the Republican Senatorial line of political committee executives. The Democratic line had ended with Senator Jones of Arkansas some years before. Since the passing of Senator Hanna, National Chairmen have been non-Senatorial. Much of Mr. Hanna's difficulty had arisen from the fact that as a Senator he was called upon to legislate with respect to the direct financial interests of those from whom as National Chairman he collected campaign funds, and the improving political thought of the times outlawed the dual relation. Norman Mack, Thomas Taggart, William F. McCombs, Vance McCormick, George White and Clem Shaver, who severally succeeded Senator Jones, all came to the office from private life; and Cordell Hull was returned to the House of Representatives after he had become Chairman. F. H. Hitchcock and Will H. Hays were National Republican Chairmen and in the Cabinet at the same time, but Charles D. Hilles, William R. Willeox, William M. Butler and John T. Adams were outside the Government during their incumbencies.

Senator-designate Butler restores the old, and bad, tradition.—N. Y. World.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nameless Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size, thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized in Memorial Baptist Church Last Evening.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the Memorial Baptist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Miss Elizabeth White became the bride of Mr. Curtis Perkins. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James E. W. Cook, rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church assisted by the Rev. Leland W. Smith, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church.

The church was attractively decorated with silver baskets of silver Columbia roses, pink chrysanthemums, pink m'line streamers entwined with smilax, pink and white tapers and a profusion of white wedding bells. Suspended above the chancel was a large white wedding bell with a shower of small wedding bells and orange blossoms fastened with silver ribbons, and m'line showered with silver. The entire background was white, while potted plants and shaded lights added much to the effectiveness of the decorations. The color scheme of white and pink predominated.

Mrs. J. L. Fleming, an aunt of the bride, at the organ rendered a musical program while the large number of friends were arriving to witness the ceremony. She wore a handsome gown of white satin brocaded in silver and her flowers were silver Columbia roses with pink m'line showered with silver. Prior to the entrance of the bridal party Miss Bessie Brown, beautifully gowned in gold cloth over rose taffeta and carrying an arm bouquet of silver Columbia roses sweetly sang, "All for You" and "Calm as the Night." A quartette composed of Misses Ernestine Forbes, Bessie Brown and Messrs. W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., and W. W. Lee sang "Until."

The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The first to enter were the ushers, Mr. S. T. White, Dr. M. I. Fleming, of Rocky Mount, uncles of the bride, Messrs. E. S. Williams and Jack Brown.

They were followed by the bride's maids, Misses Margaret Fleming, Emily Harper, of Winston-Salem, Mildred Barnes, of Wilson, Landrum Norris, of Raleigh, Anna Long, Alice Lee Hooker, Emily Moyer, and Mrs. W. B. Warren, and the groomsmen, Messrs. Reed Perkins, brother of the groom, Will Whedbee, William White, Walter L. Whichard, Francis Bowen, James Little, Dail Laughinghouse and George Hadley. They entered two groomsmen preceded by two bride's maids. The bride's maids wore beautiful gowns of pink satin and georgette with trimmings of fur, rhinestones and pearls. They wore attractive shepherdess hats of pink chiffon, silver slippers and carried a shepherdess crook of silver with a bouquet of silver Columbia roses with pink m'line showered with valley lilies and silver ribbons.

Host and Hostess at Delightful Luncheon in Honor of Their Niece, Miss Elizabeth White.

On Thursday at noon, the Country Club, was the scene of a delightful event when Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. White entertained at a three course luncheon in honor of their niece, Miss Elizabeth White, who on last evening became the bride of Mr. Curtis Perkins. The guests included the members of the bridal party, members of the families and the out of town guests with nearly a hundred covers being laid.

The reception rooms of the club house were attractively decorated with baskets of yellow flowers and autumn leaves. On each table was an iridescent vase filled with yellow flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. White remembered the honoree with embroidered pillow slips, while Miss Nancy King, bride-elect, was given a beautiful orchid satin boudoir pillow. Mrs. Julian White, an October bride, was presented an embroidered yellow guest towel.

Miss White has been the honoree of a number of pre-nuptial events, and the luncheon was one of the most enjoyable.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE

At a called meeting of the Ministerial Association last week, it was decided to hold a Union service on Thanksgiving Day in the Immanuel Baptist church at 11 a. m. November 27th, at which service Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian church will preach the sermon, and the other ministers will take part. The service is held at the usual church service hour in the belief that it will serve those who worship better at that hour than at an earlier one. It is hoped that all people of all Christian churches will assemble at that time to return thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

GERMANY'S DEPRECIATED PAPER MONEY WAS BOON TO WIESBADEN

Wiesbaden. — Depreciated paper money was not an unmixed curse for Wiesbaden. Fire destroyed the interior of the municipal opera house at the time Germany's money was in bad shape and the residents of this famous watering-place were in despair. But committees organized, raised what money they could abroad and at home and began the restoration of the building which was indispensable to a city largely dependent upon tourists and visitors, who came to take the cure.

While the restoration of the opera house was in progress the paper mark declined at such a rapid rate that the funds held in foreign currency met the cost in a miraculous manner and the builders were paid off without further campaigns for funds. So Wiesbaden has a better opera house than it had before and no debt was entailed.
