The indemnity of 500,000 pounds Sterling, demanded by the British for the death of Major General Stack was paid by the Egyptian Government at 10:45 this morning. The payment was accompanied by a note protesting against the British demands for evacuation of the Sudan by Egyptian forces and withdrawal of all opposition to the wishes of the British government for protection of foreign interests in Egypt describing the demands as unjustifiable.

Cairo wore a generally peaceful if somewhat excited aspect today. There was a small demonstration in the square but it was easily dispersed by police. The students at a meeting last night decided to await instructions from proper quarters. Meantime they are continuing their strike but are remaining at their homes.

SAILLESS SAILING SHIP HAS WIND TURBINES

Herewith is pictured the sailless sailing ship, built by the German engineer, Anton Flettner, which has proven the marine sensation of the year. It is shown in Kiel harbor, where it was demonstrated to the Association of Marine Architects. Instead of sails, Flettner uses two revolving towers, smooth and capped at each end to assure the formation of a perfect vacuum. There is no propeller whatever, but the towers are revolved by a small Diesel engine. Only the position of the towers on the ship and the rudder control its direction of travel. Momentum is given by the pressure of wind from an angle on the revolving towers, whose effective speed is regulated to correspond to the velocity of the wind.

Approves Insignia Coat Arms for 321 Inf. Received Raleigh

Raleigh, Nov. 24.—Approved by the War Department of the coat of arms and regimental distinctive insignia for the 321 Infantry, of the United States Reserve forces in North Carolina, has been received at regimental headquarters here, it has been announced by Colonel Jas. M. Little, U. S. A. executive officer.

Much time was spent by the regular officers in charge of the organization in perfecting the design of the insignia, which is now considered, by those troops who have seen it, to be very appropriate. The insignia is in the form of a shield of gold about one inch square and is covered with white enamel. Across the white field of the shield is a blue band, significant of infantry, and on the blue band are two fleurs-de-lis, indicating that the regiment had two engagements in France. The regiment's home state of North Carolina is represented on the shield in the upper right hand corner by a pine cone. In the lower left hand corner is a red wild cat, "Fussy Puss," the 81st Division's insignia. On a scroll at the base of the shield is the motto "In Avant" (forward).

Existing regulations provide that the insignia is to be worn on each shoulder loop just above the rank insignia by officers and on the collar by enlisted men. It may be worn on the civilian attire. Lieutenant Ross D. Pillsbury of 622 Hillsboro Street, Raleigh is assisting Colonel Little of Executive headquarters, in making up the first order of 200 insignias to be distributed among the men and officers of the regiment. Colonel Little has requested that all members of the regiment make application for their insignias as soon as possible.

Holmes Attending Conference Utilization of Forest Products

Raleigh, No. 20.—J. S. Holmes, head of the department of forestry of the North Carolina Geological Survey, has gone to Washington to attend the National Conference on Utilization of Forest Products, which was called by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The conference, which represents associations and organized interests concerned with forestry and forest products throughout the nation is to discuss the problems of maintaining a perpetual supply of forest products for the needs of the greatest wood-using country in the world. According to members of the Conference, diminished forest resources in the United States will, within the next generation, have a radical effect on wood-using practices, manufacturing enterprises, and living conditions. With approximately two-thirds of the present forest cut now lost in the process of conversion and through inefficient use it is calculated that one-third of this loss is now presentable, if available knowledge can be generally applied. Another third can almost certainly be prevented from loss by means of co-ordinated research, it is said.

Better utilization of forest resources, it is pointed out, demands the joint efforts of Federal, State and private interest in the development and execution of adequate plans the research of economic tendencies.

Purposes of this conference are stated to be:

To obtain national recognition of the fact that better utilization of forest products ranks with forest protection and timber growing as one of the essential elements of an effective forestry program.

To create a nationally representative advisory committee to assist the Secretary of Agriculture in formulating and carrying out adequate measures to insure the most efficient development and use of forest resources.

CLEVER ARTISTS INCLUDED AMONG THE POSTMEN OF LONDON

London.—The ordinary Londoner usually thinks of the postman as being engaged exclusively in the monotonous work of sorting and delivering mail. Many were surprised recently to learn that the employees of the British postal system have a flourishing art club which held an exhibition in which more than 400 pictures, all drawn or painted by postal workers, were shown.

Many of the paintings have been declared by art critics to be of exceptional beauty, and one of the exhibitors, who still continues his work in the post office, has had pictures, in the salon of the Royal Academy. Unlike the Royal Academy, the G. P. O. Arts Club, as it is called, encourages beginners to exhibit and there are no set standards to be achieved before a painting may be given a public view. In addition to the paintings, there were exhibits of photographs and art needlework, many of them contributed by telephone girls in the postal service employment.

Scientist Denies Sun Spots Are Cause of Earthquakes, Now

Berkeley, Cal.—Fear that earthquakes may result from the accumulation of spots on the sun is without scientific basis, according to W. F. Meyer, associate professor of astrophysics at the University of California.

The sun spots, which have been causing much speculation lately, are under continual observation at the university and at other observatories.

Professor Meyer said: "Although these spots are constantly coming together and breaking up to form new ones, the total area is not increasing to any appreciable amount. As far as we know, they have nothing to do with cyclones on the earth or with our weather conditions in any respect. The only noticeable effect is on the auroral displays at the Pole and in causing magnetic storms, which sometime interfere slightly with telegraphy."

Horns on Moses Statues Explained By This Sculptor

Chicago—How the statues of Moses came to be made with short horns protruding from each side of the forehead, is explained by Lorado Taft, noted sculptor here, to have been due to the improper translation of the word "glory" by sculptors of that period.

"The Hebrew word for 'glory' also meant 'horn,'" Mr. Taft said, "and in translating it into Greek the word 'horn' was used instead of 'glory.' Hence, the sculptors of the period literally carried into effect this improper translation.

"Thus in the great statue of Moses, the tomb of Julius II; but the tomb by Michael Angelo, we see Moses equipped with horns. The original of the Angelo statue was of heroic size, in marble, and was designed for the tomb of Julius II; but the tomb by Michael Angelo, we see Moses equipped with horns. The original of the Angelo statue was of heroic

WHAT EXCUSE, MR. STONE?

What justification can Attorney General Stone offer for the statement issued by the Department of Justice in connection with the first test case against a newspaper for publishing income-tax lists?

The Department of Justice statement reads: "By section 257 of the Revenue Act it is also provided that the income-tax returns shall be 'open to inspection only.'"

That statement stops entirely too soon. Section 257 goes on to read "open to inspection only upon order of the President and under regulations prescribed by the Secretary and approved by the President."

What excuse can Mr. Stone offer for his department's trifling with this text? As the department's statement reads, the law seems to mean that lists are open for "inspection only"—that is, for inspection and not for newspaper publication. But the law itself plainly uses "only" in another sense—"only upon order of the President," and so forth.

Read section 257 to its conclusion and what does it say? That before the tax lists are opened to inspection the President must issue an order to that effect and regulations prescribed by the Secretary and approved by the President must be laid down. No such order and regulations have ever been issued. If the Department of Justice is to prosecute in fairness let it make Mr. Mellon and his chiefs of staff co-defendants with the Baltimore Daily Post.—N. Y. World.

TO WAGE WAR ON COLDS

The common cold is the most prevalent illness in the United States and apparently many such colds are quite contagious, says the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, few people failing to experience at least one attack during a twelve-month period, while many persons have three or more attacks during that time. These facts are borne out by data recently secured by officers of the Public Health Service in an investigation of influenza and the minor respiratory diseases which they are conducting at the present time.

That large numbers of persons have colds each year is common knowledge but just what percentage of people, as a rule, have attacks and the average number of colds per person per year have not been known, as the disease is not required to be reported by law, and, therefore, the morbidity records do not show that information.

In a preliminary report of the investigation that is now in progress, the Public Health Service shows that, among a fairly representative group of persons, only 10 per cent had no colds, while 90 per cent had one or more colds during a five and one-half month period; the rate for the group as a whole for that period being 1.9 cold per person, or an annual rate of 3.7 cold per person should the same rate obtain throughout the year.

The cold was found to be the predominant form of respiratory attack. The relative frequency of symptoms was shown to be very much the same for all localities, and the epidemic outbreaks occurred apparently at about the same time of year in each locality. An outbreak of colds usually occurred in all localities in October, followed by a decline until the latter part of December, at which time another outbreak occurred.

It is now believed that there may be a closer connection between the common cold and influenza than was formerly thought to exist. There seem to be cases of common cold and ordinary influenza which are almost indistinguishable clinically, and the bacteriological findings in the nose and throat of influenza sufferers and persons having a common cold are as far as the evidence goes practically the same. As a matter of fact, even in health the bacteria found in the minor respiratory diseases are nearly always present, which at once suggests that good resistance provided by physical fitness is an important line of defense, since a lowered vitality and lowered resistance favor infection. We can not depend upon physical fitness alone, however, as robust persons may apparently contract a cold from an infected person.

The investigation now being undertaken by the Public Health Service is the first nation-wide study of influenza and colds ever made, and the final results are awaited with much interest, in the hope that further light will be shed on these affections which yearly cause much suffering, inconvenience, economic loss, and, in the case of influenza, even deaths, and which, as far as their cause and prevention are concerned, are still comparatively little understood.

MRS. T. E. HOOKER, MRS. WM. BRADSHAW AND MISS ALICE HOOKER HOSTESSES AT TEA

(Reported.)

One of the most beautiful teas given in the past week to the brides-elect and recent brides of Greenville was that of Mrs. Travis Hooker and her daughters, Mrs. William Bradsher of the city and Miss Alice Lee Hooker of Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga.

Throughout the house quantities of yellow chrysanthemums were used for decoration. The cheer of the open fires, the mellow glow of the myriads of yellow candles and the rich coloring of the handsome yellow flowers produced a most charming effect.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Hooker and her daughters were Mesdames Nannie White, Mattie Moye King, E. S. Williams, Jessie Moye, Julian White, Mrs. M. I. Fleming and Misses Elizabeth White and Nancy King.

Those who received and ushered the guests through the house were Mesdames Charles Laughinghouse, J. L. Wooten, J. E. Winlow, J. L. Hassell, E. T. Dickinson, J. L. Fleming, W. Z. Morton, William Lee, Robert Brunson, Lee Sadler, J. B. Moore, L. G. Gaylord, Tom Calbraith, Ed. Flanagan, and Misses Davis and Keel of the College.

Mesdames John Flanagan, Graham Flanagan, Larry James, and Miss Jessie Moye served punch in the back hall.

Mrs. William Wooten and Mrs. Knott Proctor poured tea and Misses Willie Skinner, Alice Galloway, Ada James, Virginia King, Emily Moye, Blanche Patrick, Margaret Fleming, and Mesdames Durwood Tucker, Bruce Warren and John McKeithan served the tea and delicious sandwiches.

NEW METHOD HEALS PYORRHEA

Ten Year Bad Case Completely Healed in a Short Time Writes Florida Woman

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 years' suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed resident of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a simple home treatment. "Worth its weight in gold," using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years, my mouth is now healed. Before I found out differently, I was told there was no relief and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet, and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Travis. Simply write the Moreham Co., 1107 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or, pay postman the $2 with few cents postage. Use the treatment 7 days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect and your $2 will be returned at once.

GRAIN MARKET

GRAIN
Chicago, Nov. 24.—In the face of all adverse conditions more numerous during a good part of last week than on several of the other depressed periods when extensive propaganda was on, the wheat market had a wonderful comeback. Little change was made in the world's wheat situation the last week. The main thing that worries traders who are bearish are that the bullish situation might be fully discounted and they not realize it until after prices have had a good decline, hence they are selling.

every time the market shows weakness and covering on the slightest appearance of strength.

There are indications of a larger movement of corn in the southwest, while country shippers have lost money on their new corn within a few days and may not sell as freely.

Texas and Pacific coast coal and oil is an attractive low priced issue at the present time. Its current earnings reports do not appear to be good because of the substantial write but the company is in position to materially increase its oil production as soon as conditions in the trade warrant. The technical position of Texas is strong and the stock is well worth holding for prices.

"SINNERS IN HEAVEN"
GLORIFIES SOUTH-SEA ISLAND DANCING GIRLS

Gilda Gray Better Look to Her Laurel, Says Noted Paramount Director.

When "Sinners in Heaven," the new Paramount picture with Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix is flashed on the local screen at White's Theatre today motion picture patrons will have an opportunity of comparing American methods in the ter-porchcan art with those that are most favored in the Bahama Islands.

Those who have been privileged to get an advance look at the picture predict that it will do as much to glorify the native girls of the Bahamas as Fas Florenz Ziegfeld has done for the American girl in his Follies.

All of which is due to Alan Crossland, the director of the photoplay. He picked out twenty-four native beauties in Nassau, where the company made its headquarters while filming the exterior scenes for the picture on eight of the islands, and instructed them in a native dance.

The troupe was known as "Crossland's Follies" among the picture people, and every night at the hotel Crossland would put his "Tiller Girls of the Bahamas" through their steps for the entertainment of the guests. The air got to be the talk of Nassau and when the troupe was scheduled to do the dance before the camera, citizen of the town journeyed to the island on which the company was working to see the finished product.

"Gilda Gray with all her movements has nothing on these native girls," said the Paramount director. "They got so proficient in the so-called art of south-sea dancing that I break to break up their rhythm so the dance would not look as if it were a product of Broadway."

The religious festival of the natives at which these girls did their dance is one of the interesting scenes in "Sinners in Heaven."

The picture is based upon James Creelman's adaptation of Clive Arden's famous prize-winning novel of the same name. Besides Miss Daniels and Mr. Dix, the cast includes Holmes Herbert, Montague Love, Effie Shannon, Florence Billings, Better Hilburn and Marcia Harris.
