FIRST EXECUTION OF YEAR TAKES PLACE IN RALEIGH TODAY

Union County Negro Dies in Electric Chair at 10:30 This Morning for Murder of Butler Funderburk

Raleigh, Nov. 28.—Vance Morgan, alias Vance Clayburn, negro, was electrocuted at State Prison here this morning at 10:30 o'clock. A few minutes before the electrocution the negro confessed to his spiritual adviser that he killed Butler Funderburk of whose murder he was convicted last July in Union County Superior Court.

It required three brief shocks totaling 108 seconds to produce Morgan's death. Morgan stopped at the cell of each of the other prisoners on death row and bade them farewell. "Goodbye, Cheatham, Goodbye old boy," Morgan shouted as he passed the cell of Cheatham Evans who is under death sentence in connection with the slaying of a chauffeur in Nash county several months ago.

Early today Morgan confessed to Rev. W. W. Maylie, negro spiritual adviser, that he killed Mr. Funderburk but the preacher said he did not give any details. Hearing of the confession Sheriff Nevin, of Union county, asked Morgan if he did not have an accomplice in the killing of Funderburk.

"I have nothing to say," said Morgan. "I am ready to die." Morgan then turned and walked away indicating that he did not care to discuss the affair further with the sheriff. Later Morgan told the minister that he was alone on the night he killed Funderburk, "please write my mother," Maylie said the condemned man told him. "Tell her I am guilty and that nobody else had anything to do with the killing of Funderburk. Tell her I am ready to die and will meet her in Heaven."

Morgan did not show the slightest emotion as he walked to the death chamber and seated himself in the electric chair. He looked up for an instant and then cast his eyes to the rubber mat in front of his chair. He was strapped in the chair quickly and Warden Samuel Busbee turned on the current which brought about Morgan's death one minute and 48 seconds later.

Raleigh, Nov. 28.—Governor Morrison spent a part of Thanksgiving Day at the executive mansion hearing the appeal of T. F. Limerick, lawyer of Monroe, in behalf of his client Vance Morgan, negro, alias Vance Clayburn, convicted in the July term 1924 in Union County Superior Court of the murder of Butler Funderburk and sentenced to be electrocuted.

After considering the appeal and the facts in the case the governor declined to give executive clemency stating that he could not find sufficient reasons to do so.

When Morgan 23 years old, entered the electric chair today he was the first victim of state execution of the year. He was also the twentieth victim during the Morrison administration.

When the condemned man was brought up for trial in Union county he had no lawyer and the court appointed Limerick. There was no appeal of the case after conviction until Mr. Limerick made his eleventh hour effort to save the man's life.

There are now 14 men in death row in state prison. Some of them have appeals pending before Supreme Court and Governor Morrison has from time to time issued reprieves so that he might go fully into the case of those condemned to die. He intends to act on every case, before completion of his administration.

EGYPTIAN TROOPS ATTACK MILITARY HOSPITAL SUDAN

British Officials Declare Mutiny Not Unexpected; Three Doctors Of Hospital Slain

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 28.—A portion of the Eleventh Battalion Sudanese troops at Khartoum today mutinied and attacked the military hospital killing one British and two Syrian doctors. Further details of the mutiny are not yet available. It is known, however, that a certain restlessness has existed in the Eleventh Battalion since last August.

The big meeting of the students of El Azhar University called for today passed off without incident.

British troops fired on the mutineers who suffered several casualties.

London, Nov. 28.—The mutiny of Egyptian troops at Khartoum cannot spread sufficiently to endanger British positions in the Sudan or have any influence on the situation there, it was stated here this afternoon. It was stated officially that it has been expected that if trouble arose anywhere along the Nile it would be in the Sudan. While the mutiny of troops is not wholly unexpected the government has the situation so well in hand that the spread of disorders throughout Egypt are almost impossible.

Thanksgiving Day Red Letter Day At Teachers College

Thanksgiving Day was a red-letter day for the college girls in East Carolina Teachers College. As only the one day is holiday, and no one goes away, everything possible is done to make it a happy day. The celebration begins at breakfast, for there is always some happy surprise awaiting the girls at breakfast.

At eight o'clock yesterday morning a beautiful Thanksgiving service in the chapel was held by the Y. W. C. A.

The program opened with a violin solo by Miss Jeannette Wedmore. The choir sang as processional "Come Ye Thankful." Miss Christine Vick, president of the Y. W. C. A., had charge of the service. Instead of having a special talk or sermon, Thanksgiving responsive readings were used, thus making all feel they had a part in the service.

During the silent prayer Misses Gorrell and Wedmore played softly a violin duet, with Miss Mead at the piano. Miss Thelma Brown read Kipling's "Recessional," Miss Rachel Lee sang a solo. The hymns sung were "Rejoice, Ye Pure in Heart," and "God of Our Fathers."

At nine o'clock the annual match came of basketball between the Junior normal or "C" and Senior normal or "D" classes brought out the entire school lined up as rooters. The "D's" made a big show in their blue caps with streamers and the "C's" wore their colors, lavender and white. The "D's" won with a score of 33 to 28.

The dinner was the big event of the day. The two basketball teams had seats of honor at decorated tables in the center of the dining hall. At intervals toasts were given or some interesting feature gave an excuse to the girls for lingering over the turkey and cranberry sauce and other good things.

"Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," was sung as the blessing. Miss Ruth Dean read a poem of Thanksgiving. The losing team toasted the winning team, and the victors toasted the conquered. The toasts were given by Miss Ethel Prescott and Alice Jones of the "C" class and Mildred Barnes of the "D" class.

The toasts to the cooks, from Owen Meredith was given by Miss Thelma Brown. Miss Mattie Mae Lyon recited a clever little skit.

In the afternoon many of the girls went to the movies, but they were free to entertain themselves as they pleased.

If this step does not suffice, it is proposed to close certain roads with barbed wire to prevent the passage of merchandise until it is thoroughly examined, to empty all carts, motors and trains for such examination, to forbid all traffic across the borders after five p. m. and to make a thorough search of each person crossing the line.

REPUBLICANS OUST LAFOLLETTE CROWD FROM CONFERENCE

Insurgents No Longer to Be Given Committee Places or Attend Party Conferences

Washington, Nov. 28.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette and three of his principal supporters in the Senate were practically read out of the Republican party today at a conference of Senate Republicans.

The conference adopted the resolution of Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, under which LaFollette, Ladd, Frazier and Bockhart will no longer be given places on Senate committees or invited to attend future party conferences.

The Reed resolution follows: "Resolved that it be the sense of this conference, that Senators LaFollette, Ladd, Brookhart and Frazier be not invited to future conferences and be not named to fill any Republican vacancy on the Senate committee."

A separate vote was taken on each of the sections of the resolution and the majority was overwhelming in each case there being only two or three to voice opposition. No speeches of opposition were made but Senator Harrod, of Oklahoma, suggested certain modifications which were disapproved. The resolution will not affect the present committee assignment but will serve as an expression of the view of the conference to be considered when the question of filling vacancies comes up in the future.

CHINESE TONG WAR AGAIN SPREADING OVER THE COUNTRY

Rival Tong Refuse to Sign Peace Pact; Believe Death of New Bern Chinaman Part of War

New York, Nov. 28.—The spectre of tong warfare hovered over Chinatown today as the result of the failure of the Hip Sing and On Leong tongs to sign the peace pact scheduled for formal acceptance Thanksgiving Day.

A continuation of the campaign of terror is foreseen by Eddie Cong secretary of the Hip Sings, following the killing of a member of his organization within a few hours after the expiration of the temporary truce between the tongs.

Cong Chong Food, 58, laundryman and active member of the Hip Sings, was shot to death by two gunmen yesterday in the Bronx. The alleged assassin were captured after a chase by men and women, according to police, who saw the two men leave the Food establishment with smoking revolvers in their hands. Following questioning of the captives through two Columbia University Chinese students acting as interpreters and identification by state witnesses, police announced that they had established a clear case of murder against them.

The killing of Food, having been preceded by the death of two Chinese in Hartford, Conn., followed by a report last night of the killing of another Chinaman, Bern, North Carolina, the talking special precautions against another outbreak in Chinatown. Fifty patrolmen and 30 detectives are on duty there today. In commenting on the situation Eddie Cong declared that personally he felt that it would be up to his tongmen to take every precaution to protect themselves.

New Bern, Nov. 28.—Coroner J. L. Hartsfield has announced he will go behind the verdict voted by the jury which declared Charlie Long, Chinese laundryman, came to his death by suicide.

The body was found in bed early yesterday morning with a bullet through the right eye. A pistol with two exploded cartridges was beside the bed.

The coroner today is holding an autopsy over the body of the Chinaman. He could find no outward reason for the Chinaman's having taken his own life, declared the coroner, and it is possible that his death is a part of the Chinese tong war that is now spreading over the country.

IDEA OF BUILDING UP TOBACCO INDUSTRY IN ENGLAND ABANDONED

London, Nov. 26.—England will never be a tobacco growing country unless the present tastes of tobacco users change. The committee of the treasury appointed to inquire into the tobacco industry and to report on the possibility of growing and marketing English tobacco said in its report that the English tobacco has a distinct flavor which is foreign to the acquired taste of the consumer and therefore rarely appreciated by him. The trade, in fact, could never be profitable. The committee does not recommend any further expenditure of public funds toward attempting to build a large tobacco industry in Great Britain.

VALUING AMERICAN RAILROADS SLOW AND COSTLY TASK

Washington.—Completion of the ground work of valuing America's railroads, which the Interstate Commerce Commission has been carrying on since 1914, is not yet in sight.

When the work will be brought up to date, officials point out, depends largely upon when congress makes the necessary funds available. So far, the commission has spent some $25,000,000 in the task of primary valuation and the expense to the railroads themselves has been heavy.

Primary valuation, which forms the basis for the commission to determine a railroad's present-day worth, is now 90 percent completed, with respect to making up the original reports. These reports are reviewed and corrected. This latter work is now 60 percent completed. After the tentative valuation reports are served on a railroad, it may file exceptions to the commission's figures and be given a hearing. The commissioners determine both tentative and final valuation. If a road accepts the tentative valuation, no hearing is necessary.

After completion of the primary valuation figures for the country's railroads, the commission's officials say the work of valuation will still go on as railroads are continually adding equipment, improving property and being subject to changes in their financial affairs. These figures must be kept current, as a basis for rate-fixing.

Senator LaFollette is the father of the "valuation act," under which the commission is proceeding to fix the value of American railroads.

English of 2400 Will Be Full of Strange Sounds

London.—English as it will be spoken 500 years from now will not have much in common with the present day abuses of the language, according to Daniel Jones, professor of phonetics at the university of London. In the faraway future generation Scotchmen will talk like Englishmen, while the general tongue of the highly cultured people will be "super-cockney wit ha little Scotch accent."

Professor Jones's idea is that the languages of today was coined by Shakespeare, and that the speech of southern England now is getting nearer to the cockney. In some places the cockney has already the upper hand and there is a decided trend in others to adopt the accent in words which contain the letter "a." The wide difference in the dialect of the English provinces accelerates this tendency, the professor says as the various dialects weaken the common language and destroy its roots after a few years.

Within 500 years, Professor Jones predicts, the Gaelic language will have nearly disappeared and the native Irish (Erse) will be heard no more. Of this group of languages only Welsh will remain.

The best example the lecturer knows of the English of the future is to take the word cart and pronounce it "car-r-r-t."

A LOT OF LAWSUITS

Commenting upon the wrangle now going over the publication of income tax returns by several of the nation's newspapers the New York World says:

"One branch of the Government, the executive, is bringing six or seven lawsuits in another branch of the Government, the judicial, in order to find out what a third branch of the Government, the legislative, intended to have two or three paragraphs in the Income Tax Law mean. Although the same Congress which passed the law is to meet again in a few days, nobody seems to have any idea of asking it to declare what it meant. Instead of following this simple procedure a whole array of Grand Juries, Federal District Attorneys, District Judges, petty juries, Circuit Judges, Supreme Court Judges, lawyers and witnesses and defendants, not one of whom had anything to do with writing the law, are going to interpret it. And when the lawsuits have wasted time, energy and money for some months, the Executive which started the suits to test the law will ask Congress to repeal the law.

In order to find out what Congress did mean the Administration says: We'll pretend that Congress meant a perfectly foolish thing; let the defendant newspapers assume that Congress meant a reasonable thing; then let the courts decide what Congress meant. So the Administration pretends for the purpose of these lawsuits that it may be legal to speak information, to sing it, to dance it, perhaps to paint it, but not to print it. If this distinction between making information public and publishing the information in a newspaper were ever accepted in this country, it would be a serious danger to the freedom of the press. But no such doctrine can seriously be entertained by Congress, the Attorney General or the courts.

What we are witnessing is not a serious attack on the freedom of the press but an exposure of our present national habits in lawmaking, law-enforcing and law-interpreting. Congress passed a law which was carelessly drafted. The Executive applied the law carelessly and with confusion. And both are now turning to the courts to extricate them from their own muddle. But why should the courts be dragged in at this stage in the proceedings? Cannot the Executive ask the Congress to say what it means? Why must Judges and juries do the guessing? Why must newspapers be put to the trouble and expense of helping Judges in seven cities act as the oracles for some five hundred members of Congress?

A great deal has been said about the usurpation of power by the courts. It is time to say something about the dodging of responsibility by Congress and the Executive. For it has become more and more the practice for Congress to grind out laws, meaningless laws, unconstitutional laws, contradictory laws, and then for the Executive to throw up its hands and turn to the courts to straighten the thing out. In this instance the Executive will not go to Congress asking for the repeal or the clarification of the law. It goes instead to the courts for a kind of receivership to take charge of a temporarily bankrupt legislative machine. The courts will do their best, no doubt but why should they have to do the legitimate work of the Congress and the Executive?"

New Way to Stop Night Coughing

Those who have suffered the tortures of sleeplessness due to continual coughing at night, and who as a result often feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, need no longer permit their systems to be weakened and their vitality sapped by this distressing ailment. For through a very simple treatment the trouble can be stopped almost at once, and people often get their full night's rest undisturbed after the very first trial.

Here is the method: Simply get a bottle of the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery from any good drug store. Then, to-night before retiring take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. This prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. So your throat is left wonderfully soothed and cleared of irritating particles, you can sleep soundly and restfully, and the cough is usually gone in a very short time.

Dr. King's New Discovery is a remarkable remedy for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good drug stores. Ask for

The Economy BAKING POWDER

"My bakings used to be a matter of 'hit or miss' — sometimes they were successful; then again a total failure, no matter how hard I tried. But that was before a friend persuaded me to try Calumet. Now I know what the result will be—what to expect every time — perfectly raised, uniformly baked foods. Bake day is really a delight."

Baking Powder plays an important part in the success or failure of your baking. The great American housewives all realize this. They have found by experience that a better leavener is not, and cannot be made—that for nutritious and wholesome foods it has no equal.

Calumet is made in the World's largest baking powder factories; human hands never touch it.

EFFORTS OF STATE FAIL TO CHEAPEN BREAD IN PARIS NOW

Paris—Meat consumption in France has increased three fold since the war; French livestock is insufficient to meet the demand, and the general public has manifested a dislike for frozen meat. Such are the facts that have been brought out by the investigation ordered by the government in its campaign to bring down the cost of living.

Hence an increase in the importation of live animals is recommended, and 60,000 sheep will come to France from the River Plate, in South America.

The report of the investigators calls for cheaper fertilizers, and agricultural machinery to encourage the sowing of wheat, and recommends that the number of French steam fishing vessels be increased.

Meanwhile a two-pound loaf of bread sells any time since the war of 1870.

Politics Bore Radio Fans.

Berlin—Radio amateurs in Germany have no interest in solo singing or poetry, and they are not keen about sermons, a nationwide poll has disclosed.

Light opera music is the most popular subject for radio broadcasting, and next comes the news of the day. The weather reports interest many people, as do lectures in Esperanto and lessons in foreign languages.

Fashion news and politics are well down toward the bottom of the list.
