GOVERNMENT ECONOMY MOST IMPORTANT WORK DECLARES THE PRESIDENT

In Annual Message to Congress Coolidge Stresses Need of Rigid Economy in Government Expenditure if Further Tax Reduction is to Be Made Possible

Washington, Dec. 3.—Congress received President Coolidge's annual message today immediately upon convening and after listening to its reading plunged into the serious work of the session.

With the exception of the two years during which Woodrow Wilson was ill in the White House, this is the first time since 1913 that the chief executive had not delivered his annual communication in person. It was transmitted by special messenger and read separately in the two houses simultaneously.

Congressional leaders generally held out little hope for the translation of many of the president's proposals into law before this Congress dies on March 4. Their views had already been given the executive in conference, the latest of which was held early today between the president and Senator Curtis, Republican leader, and Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania.

A number of proposals advanced by President Coolidge are covered by views which came over from the last session. There are pending measures to which the president voiced his disapproval chief among them being Senator LaFollette's changing the basis of valuation of railroads.

There were comparatively large crowds in the galleries of the two houses that appeared to give even closer attention to the president's recommendations than did the members of the House and Senate. As the reading went forward private conferences on the floor by groups of Senators and Representatives were held. Much of the time, however, the lawmakers followed the reading closely especially that part relating to the subjects of taxation, agriculture and Muscle Shoals.

Just before the arrival of the message the House steering committee had mapped out a legislation program providing for passage by the House before the Christmas recess at least three of the dozen annual supply bills. Tentative plans of the leaders call for a holiday recess Christmas week and a day's layoff at New Year.

Relief is expressed that if the programs adhered to and the appropriation bills are given a right of way throughout the session all will be in the hands of the president before March 4. The Interior Department appropriation bill, the first of the supply measures to be drafted, was taken up in the House today.

Washington, Dec. 3.—President Coolidge advised Congress in his annual message, today that perhaps the most important work it could do at its present session would be to practice such economy as to make possible a reduction of taxes for the next fiscal year.

"The government can do more to remedy the economic ills of the people by a system of rigid economy in public expenditure," he said, "than can be accomplished through any other action."

Although stressing economy, Mr. Coolidge presented a wide range of other recommendations, some new and others reiterations of proposals made a year ago in his first annual message.

Most of these related to domestic affairs, but the President went in to the field of international relations to renew his plea for American adherence to the Permanent Court of International Justice; to declare the United States not to be disposed to join the League of Nations; to appeal for support by public authorities and private citizens for the European reparations settlement plan, and to repeat his declaration of opposition to cancellation by the United States of the debts owed the country by foreign nations.

Two new pronouncements marked the President's discussion of foreign (Continued on page six.)

WILL NOT ENJOIN REV. COMMISSIONER OPENING TAX BOOKS

Supreme Court Justice Says Sections Permitting Public Inspection Valid and Enforceable

Washington, Dec. 3.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may not be enjoined from making available for public inspection the names, post office addresses on income tax payers as well as the amounts paid, Justice Helling said today in District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The decision was handed down as an opinion in granting the motion of Commissioner Blair to dismiss the suit for an injunction filed against him by Gordon Hubbard, of Boston, to prevent publication of the amount of tax paid by the petitioner.

Whether public inspection of the tax returns carries with it the right of publication through newspapers or otherwise, the justice stated, was not involved in the proceedings before the court. But paragraphs A and B of section 257 of the Revenue Act of 1924 relating to the opening of returns to the public, he added, were valid and enforceable. Should it develop, the justice said, that section 3167 of the revised statutes forbidding publication be upheld by the court as valid and enforceable, then the publication of Hubbard's tax returns would entitle him to appropriate redress under that statute.

FIGURES IN NORTH COUNTRY'S WORST CRIME

WILLIAMS CAMP & FOSTER FAMILY

FORD DECLINES TO COMMIT HIMSELF AS TO RENEWING OFFER

Senators McKellar and Heflin Wire Ford Urging That He Renew His Bid for Muscle Shoals

Washington, Dec. 3.—Henry Ford today declined to commit himself on the proposal that he renew his Muscle Shoals bid. Senators McKellar, Tennessee, and Heflin, Alabama, Democrats, who yesterday telegraphed a request to Mr. Ford to re-submit his proposal today received the following message from Mr. Ford's secretary:

"Answering yours of November 28, Mr. Ford's offer was withdrawn by him in his letter to the president on October 15."

The text of the message which the Senators went to Ford was as follows:

"At the last session of Congress we both favored acceptance by the government of your offer for Muscle Shoals and we both so expressed ourselves in the Senate's time and again, as you know. We believe your proposition the best for the government and for the American people.

Notwithstanding the recent withdrawal of your proposal we now desire to inquire if the Senate passes the McKenzie bill as has the House, would you be willing to take over the shoals plant under the terms of that bill? That measure is set for Wednesday therefore, we would appreciate an early reply."

Senator McKellar said he did not know how to interpret Ford's reply. He said he favored Ford's bid but if Ford would not accept the proposition under his bill he would be in favor of the government operating the plant for purposes of national defense.

Charlotte, Dec. 3.—"Mail early and mail often." This is the motto of the postal workers of North Carolina these days. Every effort is being made by the post office employees of the state to induce the public to have the bulk of Christmas mail dispatched before December 20.

GOVERNMENT WILL OFFER NEW SERIES LONG TERM BONDS

December 15 Issue First Long Term Securities Offered to the Public Since October 1922

Washington, Dec. 3.—The government will enter the long term securities market for the first time since October 1922 when it opens the subscription books on December 15 for a $200,000,000 offering in 20 and 30 years four per cent bonds.

Secretary Mellon in announcing this offering issue last night said that with tax receipts to December 15 it would suffice to finance the government's operations, and its maturing indebtedness during the next three months.

While the securities will mature December 15 1954 the right is reserved to retire them after December 15, 1944 with a stipulation of four months notice. During the past two years the government has financed its requirements with short term obligations.

Pointing out that the four and one quarter per cent bonds of the last long term government issue are now quoted on the market at a "very substantial premium" Secretary Mellon said the banks and investing public generally should welcome this opportunity to participate in another such government offering.

Bonds in addition to the $200,000,000 amount of the new offer will be allotted it was announced to the extent that the Third Liberty Loan four and one quarter per cent bonds maturing December 15, 1928 and Treasury notes and certificates maturing March 15 next are tendered in payment. Certificates of indebtedness maturing December 15 will also be accepted in payment but these will be regarded as cash receipts within the $200,000,000 limit.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS DECISION LOWER COURT IN C. F. & Y. V. R. R. CASE

UNDERWOOD'S PLAN FOR MUSCLE SHOALS BEFORE PRESIDENT

Administration Leaders Ask Chief Executive for Expression So That Might Know Stand to Take on Measure

Washington, Dec. 3.—The Underwood plan for the operation of Muscle Shoals was laid before President Coolidge today by Senator Curtis, Republican leader, and Senator McKinzie, Republican of Illinois.

The president was asked to give his opinion on the Underwood bill. It is understood he agreed to express his opinion after experts of the War and Navy Departments have reported on the measure.

The chief executive was asked to make his position on the Underwood plan known today so that administration leaders might know what stand to take on the measure when it comes up this afternoon.

Senator McKinzie said he favored to refer the whole Muscle Shoals issue back to the Senate Committee on Agriculture and that he did not approve the appointment of sub-committees of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees to act on the proposal. President Coolidge has suggested such a step and Senator McKinzie said he would support the president in any plan he advocated for disposition of Muscle Shoals.

Opinion by Justice Adams and Concurrence By Clarkson Declare State Stopped By Laches Because of Delay in Bringing Suit

Raleigh, Dec. 3.—The Supreme Court today held that the dismemberment sale of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad was within the law and the state stopped by laches, in the suit brought by Attorney General Manning at the direction of the 1923 General Assembly.

Justice W. J. Adams writes the opinion and Justice Herriot Clarkson hands down an concurrence in which he says he concurs solely on the ground that the state is stopped by laches having suffered nearly a quarter of a century to pass before bringing suit to annul the sale of the road west of Sanford to the Southern Railway.

"A careful critical examination of the records convinces us that the judgment of the lower court should be affirmed" Justice Adams in his lengthy review of the case concludes.

The suit was instituted in Wake County Superior Court by Attorney General Manning under a resolution adopted by the 1923 legislature and Judge Henry A. Grady sustained the demurrer of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad which sold the Sanford and Mount Airy branch of the now Atlantic and Yadkin road to the Southern Railway dismissing the action.

The state appealed from the decision of the lower court. Another opinion handed down was the Snow Hill Banking and Trust Company against J. D. Odom Drug Company et al. No error.

MORE TESTIMONY IN FORBES TRIAL IS HEARD TODAY

Government Again Interrupts Testimony of Mortimer to Permit Other Witnesses to Testify

Chicago, Dec. 3.—The government again interrupted the testimony of Elias H. Mortimer in the Forbes-Thompson Veterans' Bureau conspiracy trial today to take the testimony of A. C. Crump, of Philadelphia, and allow him to return to the city.

When bids for the Northampton, Massachusetts hospital were being received at the Veterans Bureau Crump was secretary of the Pontiac Construction Company of Detroit, an open shop subsidiary of James Black Masonry Company, of St. Louis.

Black, who is now dead, was a close business associate of John W. Thompson, of St. Louis, co-defendant with Colonel Forbes, for conspiracy to defraud the government. Black, the defense contends, used the Pontiac Construction Company to bid for the Northampton Foundation job. Thompson, the defendant, claims he had nothing to do with the Pontiac Company's offer on the Northampton bid.

Crump testified he went to Washington June 21, 1922 to meet a Mr. Wiessel, of the Pontiac Company to help figure on the Northampton bid. Thompson joined them on July 1 to discuss the Northampton bid with them Crump said. On Thompson's instructions, Crump said, they changed the Pontiac bid from 120 days to 90 days time for completion of the job.

It is charged by the prosecution that as part of the conspiracy Forbes had agreed to favor the Thompson-Black bid through special favors to make it appear that their bids were advantageous to the government.

TAXATION MEASURES SUCCESS OF GOVERNMENT

"Taxation is the process of taking a dollar from somebody to whom it belongs rightfully and using it for the benefit of the people collectively," says Paul Shoup, Vice-Pres., Southern Pacific Company. "The wisdom that governs the taking of this money from its owner and its expenditure on behalf of his fellow men, who individually have no claim to it whatsoever, in a large way measures the success of government. There would not have been an American Republic except for problems relating to taxation which resulted in severing the political ties that bound the old world and the new.

"The question of taxation never pressed upon the life of the individual more than at present. In large degree he is unquestionably unaware of how much of his daily burden arises from taxation. But history shows that this sleep and forgetting is not to be accepted as a finality. In the end when the burden becomes too great, or the sense of injustice too strong, he seeks the source and then comes the upheaval.

"Only the most shallow of thinkers believe that taxation rests where it is initially placed. Every man strives to pass it on in the sale of his services or his production, just as he strives to pass on other expenses. So, taxation is an element in the cost of every bit of food put in the mouth, of every garment worn, of every roof that shelters, of travel and entertainment, and at the end, in the cost of death itself."

TOLERANCE AND UNDERSTANDING ESSENTIAL

The emphatic "No" vote cast by the American people in the last election is a remarkable expression on their part against any proposition seeking to undermine the strength of national and state constitutions or to restrict the right to individual initiative and enterprise.

The United States still remains the great champion of private development of industry under fair and reasonable public regulation as contrasted with paternalistic forms of government which seek to kill incentive and ambition.

The fact that some 5,000,000 men and women voted for a radical program in the past election shows the necessity for a spirit of toleration and understanding by the people of this nation who believe in a more conservative policy.

The conservative side will maintain its position of supremacy just so long as it, through intelligent action, recognizes the opinion of others and defeats its unsound policies, not by the ruthless hand of power, but by explanation, argument and teaching which finally removes misunderstanding and opposition.

The forces of progress move forward in a safe and orderly manner in this nation.

DOGS ON AUTOMOBILES

Carrying dogs on the running-board of an automobile results in many dogs being killed by falling off or being thrown off, and killed or maimed, and many are lost on the highways. The Oregon State Humane Society has prepared and will present a law to protect dogs carried in this way.

It is called an act regulating and prohibiting carrying dogs on automobiles and provides that it shall be unlawful to carry a dog upon the hood, fender, running-board or other external part of any automobile unless the same shall be protected by a frame work, carrier, or other device sufficient to keep any such animal from falling from the automobile. Suitable penalty is provided.

There should be such a law enacted in every state and a copy of the proposed law can be secured by addressing Judge Benson, counsel for Oregon Humane Society, 1102 Spalding Building, Portland, Oregon.

MRS. H. L. HODGES ENTERTAINS

Hostess to the Members of Her Bridge Club in Honor of Mrs. E. L. Wilson.

On Tuesday afternoon at her attractive home on Fourth street, Mrs. H. L. Hodges was hostess to the members of her bridge club having as honor guest Mrs. B. L. Wilson of Washington, D. C., house guest of Mrs. W. B. Wilson.

The drawing room in which the tables were arranged was decorated with red barriers and pines carrying out the red color scheme. Mrs. Albion Dunn, making the top score, was presented two hand made handkerchiefs, while the honoree was remembered with two attractive handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Hodges presented Mrs. Ed Williams, Mrs. Julian White, Mrs. Curtis Perkins, and Mrs. Lee Hannah, fall brides, with hand made handkerchiefs.

At the conclusion of several progressions the hostess served a tempting turkey dinner.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENTS.

LaGrange, Dec. 3.—A social event of much interest was a party given by Mrs. L. C. Adams at her lovely home in LaGrange announcing the engagements of Miss Bernice Taylor to J. C. Lanier, of Greenville, and Miss Florence Wood to Ed Herring.

The guests were greeted at the door by the hostess and shown into the reception hall by Mrs. Ray Adams.

The spacious reception halls and parlors were lavishly decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. Punch was served by Mrs. S. J. Myers after which bridge and rook were enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Emmett Jones and Miss Gladys West were found to have top scores and each was presented with a lovely bottle of perfume.

A delicious salad course was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Simon Coker. The surprise of the evening came when a dainty little yellow and white favor was found stuck in each sandwich with the words "Bernice and Con. Feb. 5th, 1925."

Another surprise followed as mints were passed in dainty white baskets containing miniature brides. On the baskets was written "Florence and Ed. Dec. 25, 1924."

Mrs. Adams then presented each of the brides-elect with a lovely book.

The above announcements will be read with interest, as both brides-elect are well known in Greenville. Miss Taylor has visited here several times and is very popular with a host of friends who will be glad to know that she is coming to Greenville to make her home.

Mr. Lanier is one of Greenville's most prominent young attorneys and is popular throughout this and adjoining counties.

"VANITY BOX" A FAMILY ENTERTAINMENT

Tuneful, syncopating jazz, and clever comedy interspersed with love haunting melodies, and presented by a selected cast of musical comedy artists, that is a credit to the best of musical shows from Broadway runs, is promised in the forth coming engagement of the sensational musical play "Vanity Box" a much heralded production booked at White's theatre tonight, Wednesday December 3rd.

A "prize beauty" chorus embracing the most attractive of the high kicking aristocracy of the stage, is one of the many features, that is said to attract more than passing attention, as they are the fastest bunch of chorus performers ever gotten together in any one show.

The song numbers are all new and varied, while dancers supreme will also grace the bill, and some of those toe tickling scoundrels, sure shake a mean hoof, while the world's greatest jazz orchestra the "Pennsylvania Twelve," performing exclusively for this organization—will encourage the syncopaters and hoofers to their utmost.

Don't Lose Sight of the Food Value of Your Bakings

Plain flour has a large amount of food value but it must be combined with good baking powder in order to retain this value.

Most self rising flours are not successful because they do not raise the bakings to the proper lightness. This means a certain loss of nutrition because they are heavy and hard to digest.

Every time you eat food that does not properly digest you do not get the full nutritional value—you are overtaxing your stomach. Nourishing and perfect bakings are what good health demands. The one sure way is—use pure flour and good baking powder.

If you want to find what thousands of housewives have learned—make some biscuits with self-rising flour—then make some with good plain flour and Calumet Baking Powder—notice the great difference. One trial will satisfy you. Your health demands that you make the experiment.

Those who know—millions of housewives, domestic science teachers, big hotels, restaurants, bakeries and railroads will not use anything but Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder.

Play safe—use Calumet and plain flour. It is the most economical and satisfactory, where light, wholesome and pure foods are desired.

Government Economy Most Important Work Says the President

(Continued from page one). Affairs. One touched on reduction of world armaments, and the other had reference to the outlawing of war. "It has been and is my expectation that we might hopefully approach other great powers for further conference on this subject as soon as the carrying out of the present reparation plan as the established and settled policy of Europe has created a favorably opportunity," he said with regard to armament reduction. "But on account of proposals which have already been made by other governments for a European conference, it will be necessary to wait to see what the outcome of their actions may be. I should not wish to propose or have representatives attend a conference which would contemplate commitments opposed to the freedom of action we desire to maintain unimpaired with respect to our purely domestic policies." Proposals to outlaw aggressive warfare, the President asserted, should be carefully studied and sympathetically viewed. Combining discussion of tax reduction with his statement on economy the executive said that if Congress this session kept within the budget he had presented "it will then be possible to have a moderate amount of tax reduction and all the tax reform that the Congress may wish for during the next fiscal year." He declared publication of income tax payments to be "detrimental to the public welfare and bound to decrease public revenues," and urged the repeal of that section of the revenue act.

Aside from his declaration relative to economy and taxation, the outstanding recommendations on domestic affairs made by the President included:

Enactment of such legislative remedies for agricultural ills as are worked out by the recently-appointed agricultural commission and exertion of all efforts by government activity and by private agencies to restore and maintain agriculture to a complete normal relationship with other industries.

Passage immediately of pending legislation based on the report of the Reclamation Fact Finding Commission "for the proper relief of those needing extension of time in which to meet their payments on irrigated land, and for additional amendments and reforms of our reclamation laws."

Amplification of those portions of the Transportation Act contemplating consolidation of railroads into larger systems to promote more expeditious action by "affording a period for voluntary proposals to the commission (Interstate Commerce Commission) and in supplying governmental pressure to secure action after the expiration of such a period."

Amendment of the labor sections of the Transportation Act so as to embody a plan "which while retaining the practice of systematic collective bargaining with conciliation and voluntary arbitration of labor differences, could also provide simplicity in relations and more direct local responsibility of employees and managers" and at the same time recognize that the public "has a right to be heard when there is danger that the nation may suffer great injury through interruption of operations because of labor disputes."

Such action as will maintain "the policy of constantly working toward the full treaty strength of the navy." Enactment of legislation changing the new immigration law so as to make the administrative features "a little more humane for the purpose of permitting those already here a greater latitude in securing admission of members of their own families."

Transfer to the Emergency Fleet Corporation of "the whole responsibility of operations of the fleet and other property, leaving to the Shipping Board solely the duty of determining certain major policies which requires deliberative action."

Sale of long-time lease of Muscle Shoals to private interests "under rigid guarantee of commercial nitrogen production at reasonable prices for agricultural use" with a sub-committee of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees empowered to conduct negotiations with the private interests.

Development of flood control on such rivers as the Mississippi, and Colorado, of inland waterway transportation, of navigation from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic by way of the St. Lawrence river, and of improvements generally to harbors on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts.

Acquisition of the Cape Cod Canal by the federal government.

Extension of the national laws governing the choice of members of Congress to include appropriate representation of the respective parties at the ballot box and equality of representation on the various registration boards wherever they exist."

Transfer to the Civil Service of first, second, and third class postmasters, and "without covering in the present membership the field force of prohibition enforcement."

Enactment of legislation reorganizing the governmental departments.

The President also commended to the attention of Congress the legislative program of the American Legion; urged that steps be taken to accord to the negroes "their full constitutional rights, that they should be protected from all of those impositions to which from their position they naturally fall a prey, especially from the crime of lynching," recommended prompt payment of the French spoil claims; approved certain changes in court procedure to hasten the administration of justice; suggested establishment of federal reformatories for young men and women and first offenders, and of a national police bureau, and asked for suitable recognition to the world fliers.

He opposed procedure under Section 28 or preferential rate provision of the Merchant Marine Act "until Congress can reconsider the entire question in the light of the experience that has developed since its enactment," and also opposed inauguration of any new valuation of railroad property until the results of the present valuation are known and can be considered.

Noting that the Constitution provides that the President shall report to Congress on the state of the Union, Mr. Coolidge said "the present state of the Union is such that it may be regarded with encouragement and satisfaction by every American."

"Our domestic problems are for the most part economic," he added. "We have our enormous debt to pay and we are paying it. We have the high cost of government to diminish and we are diminishing it. We have a heavy burden of taxation to reduce and we are reducing it."

The nation, he said, has definitely relinquished "the old standard of dealing with other countries by terror and force and is definitely committed to the new standard of dealing with them through friendship and understanding."

"I shall resist any attempt to resort to the old methods and the old standards," he added, "I am especially solicitous that foreign nations should comprehend the candor and sincerity with which we have adopted this position."
