CONGRESS PAYS TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF THE LATE PRES. WOODROW WILSON

Address of Eulogy to War Time President Delivered by Dr. E. A. Alderman, President of University of Virginia

Washington, Dec. 15.—Congress passed in its round of activity today to render honor to the memory of Woodrow Wilson.

The Chamber of the House of Representatives was befitting for the memorial services Dr. Edwin Anderson Alderman, president of his Alma Mater, the University of Virginia, pronouncing, from the rostrum where the late president received the Washington custom of delivering in person his message to Congress, the eulogy of his life and achievements.

Dignitaries of state and political personages of past and present, close friends of the late chief executive and invited guests made up the galleries at the ceremony for which all space on the floor of the chamber and galleries had been reserved. A vast unseen audience had also been remembered by arrangement for radio-casting the ceremony through a chain of broadcasting stations. President Coolidge and his cabinet, Supreme Court Justices, former President Wilson's Cabinet members, Governors of States together with representatives of other nations and high officials of the army and navy, were among those who joined with members of the House and Senate in honoring the memory of the man who sleeps beneath the towering cathedral spire within distant view of the nation's Capitol.

The program of the ceremonies was a simple one. Early the great white capitol gave evidence of a day apart. Halls were hushed and machinery of legislation stilled. During the morning only members and those having urgent business within were admitted. At half past ten the east door leading to the rotunda was opened to admit those accorded the privilege of a seat in the House chamber.

Both Senate and House were called to convene a little before noon, the hour set for the ceremonies, the members of the Senate, after prayer receding to go to the House chamber. A marine band selected to furnish music, assembled in the House wings shortly before noon.

With Senator Cummings, president pro-tem of the Senate, occupying the speaker's chair, the ceremonial program opened with prayer offered by Rev. James S. Montgomery, chaplain of the House. The presiding officer then introduced Dr. Alderman, who delivered the address of eulogy.

Declaring that experience issues a warning not to attempt to fix a statesman's final place in history until the generations that knew him, loved him and hated him, shall have passed away and a new generation to whom he was not familiar figure shall have come upon the stage, Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, nevertheless said he sought to make clear the character and achievements of Woodrow Wilson.

Loyalty, duty and reverence, none the less urge while memory is clear and events are fresh what is known of the man upon whom all races and nations, turned in moments of peril, he said. The speaker declared that Woodrow Wilson's fame is more interwoven into the fabric of civilization than that of any of his predecessors in office, save Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln.

Dr. Alderman sketched the life of the twenty eighth president from a youth in a Presbyterian preacher's home, through college, into the lecture room as a professor, as a college president, chief executive of a State, into the White House and then into the midst of world affairs that made him for all time an international figure.

The address of Dr. Alderman was followed by the benediction by Rev. J. J. Muir, chaplain of the Senate, closing the program.

Leaders had planned to adjourn both Senate and House after the exercises out of respect for Wilson's memory.

Three members of the late president's immediate family, Mrs. Wilson, his daughter, Miss Margaret Wil-

NATION PAYS ITS RESPECTS GOMPERS AS TRAIN PASSES

Funeral Train Enroute to Washington; Burial of Great Labor Leader to Take Place in New York Wednesday

Saint Louis, Dec. 15.—The train bearing the body of Samuel Gompers to Washington where it will lie in state until burial Wednesday in New York, paused here from early this morning until noon today after a journey marked by outpourings of those who wished to pay their respects at all stations from San Antonio, Texas, where the president of the American Federation of Labor died Saturday.

The funeral train schedule from St. Louis called for it to reach Cincinnati at 8:55 tonight. It will arrive in Washington at 2:45 p. m. tomorrow. Last night the train kept its schedule fairly well although it lost some time when it stopped at various stations where thousands of persons filed past the great flag covered bronze casket. The floral tribute which covered the coffin when it left San Antonio was added to by the wagon load as the train rolled northward.

SUB COMMITTEE TO PROBE ATTACK MADE ON SEN. UNDERWOOD

Senate Judiciary Committee Appoints Sub-Committee to Investigate Washington Herald Editorial

Washington, Dec. 15.—The Senate Judiciary committee in executive session has appointed a sub-committee to investigate the Washington Herald editorial attack upon Senator Underwood and his Murdo Shoa's bill.

Agreement was reached unanimously by the committee to appoint the sub-committee. An investigation of the editorial was ordered by the Senate by unanimous consent under agreement obtained by Senator Underwood after he had denounced the editorial and the writer on the floor of the Senate.

Chairman Cummings said he would not announce the membership of the sub-committee until tomorrow in order to learn if the appointees were willing to serve.

Miss Whedbee Ill. The many friends of Miss Frances Whedbee will regret to learn that she is confined to her home with influenza and wish for her a very speedy recovery.

and his brother, Joseph R. Wilson, of Baltimore, were present. His other two daughters, Mrs. William G. McAdoo and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, who is abroad, were unable to attend. John Randolph Bolling, brother of Mrs. Wilson, and secretary to his brother in law when he retired to private life from the White House, also joined Mrs. Wilson in attendance.

Among the former close associates of the late president who were not in attendance were former Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, and General John J. Pershing, who is now on a diplomatic mission to South America, and his son in law William G. McAdoo. Mr. McAdoo in wiring regretted at his inability to attend characterized Mr. Wilson as "one of the most notable American statesmen and the leading humanitarian of the modern world."

SWEETIN-HIGHT TRIAL IS OPENED.

Before this jury of determined-looking men Rev. Dr. Lawrence M. Hight, unfrocked minister, and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, are on trial in Mount Vernon, Ill., charged with the double murder of Mrs. Sweetin's husband and Hight's wife, in order that they might continue their love affair. Both the victims were poisoned.

SECY. HOOVER URGES GREATER CARE ON PART OF MOTORISTS

Declares That Automobile Operations Have Doubled Rate of Fatal Accidents in Past Ten Years

Washington, Dec. 15.—Modern Methods of industry, commerce and policing have successfully reduced in the United States the annual number of accidental deaths and injuries from every cause with the exception on one and that is the automobile, Secretary Hoover declared today in an address at the opening of the national conference on street and highway safety.

"In ten years the rate of fatal accidents has been doubled by automobile operations," the secretary said, "and while motor vehicles have established themselves as a prime necessity in American life it is now necessary to find a constructive measure to meet the crisis of the ten thousands deaths annually and the hundreds of thousands of serious personal injuries accompanied by economic loss of a staggering sum."

"A very large portion of the 22,600 deaths, and the 67,000 serious personal injuries which was our annual traffic toll last year," he said, "have happened to men, women and children on foot. The next largest group who suffer are the motorists themselves who are victims of recklessness, a small part of whom are vicious or ignorant. The automobile is the greatest development of the last 20 years both economically and socially. But if we wish for its fullest development we must reduce its terrors. Three broad methods appear to be the remedy. First, through preventative safeguards; second, through much stronger punishment for violation of the rights of others and third through public education as to its responsibilities."

Shipping Point Inspection Growing In Favor Daily

Ruleigh, Dec. 15.—That shipping point inspection is growing in favor with the purchaser of country produce as well as with the farmer, is shown in the request of a New York marketing service that is going to act as the agent for a group of New Bern vicinity farmers in the sweet potato market, says a statement issued by the State Division of Market, of which George R. Ross is the chief.

The New York concern requests that the sweet potatoes be inspected as they are placed in the cars for shipment and that a certificate of the grade and condition be forwarded to them. The firm then explains that in cases where car inspection is impossible, it desires storage, inspection and the resulting certificate.

In the opinion of the State Division of Market officials, this is proof enough that shipping point inspection is very essential to both the producer and the selling agent in order to make successful sales.

COMMITTEE TO RAISE FUNDS EXPRESSES CONFIDENCE THAT DRIVE WILL GO OVER TOP

Mr. Guy V. Smith, chairman of the committee soliciting funds for the organization of the Pamlico District Council of Boy Scouts, stated this morning that efforts of the committee so far had netted pledges and funds of a little more than one thousand of the fifteen hundred dollars to be raised by citizens of Greenville. He stated that there were numbers of citizens who had not yet been seen and that he felt confident that the drive would go over the top. The committee will continue its efforts this week in order that everyone interested in the Boy Scout work might be given an opportunity to aid in this great movement.

COUZENS DECLARES LOOSENESS COSTS THE GOVT. MILLIONS

Investigation of Revenue Bureau Slack Methods That Are Costing Millions in Revenue

Washington, Dec. 15.—Chairman Couzens, of the special Senate committee investigating the Revenue Bureau, declared in a statement today that the committee had found much looseness in connection with the work of the bureau resulting in the apparent loss of millions of dollars in revenue to the government.

"In some of these cases," the chairman declared, "the department officials have admitted errors and while the committee charges no dishonesty, it finds much looseness in the executive work." Nothing that a review had been ordered in one case involving an allowance of $600,000 in taxes to one company, Mr. Couzens said. "A special investigation is now working on other cases which will be taken up next week by the committee." He invited the public to send in suggestions amplifying the work of the bureau as well as the statutes. "This lack of uniformity," Couzens declared, "has worked a great injustice to some tax payers, while excessive reductions have been granted others. The injustice arose, not because the evidence showed that many tax payers were paying taxes which they should not but rather that tax payers were relieved who should not have been relieved."

Heavy Winds Shorten President's Cruise

Washington, Dec. 15.—President and Mrs. Coolidge returned today from a short cruise on the Mayflower down the Patuxent. Heavy winds caused the yacht to anchor last night hardly two miles from the place of its departure at the navy yard.

MR. FRED EDWARDS DIED YESTERDAY AT HOME IN SIMPSON

Prominent Farmer Dies After Long Illness; Interment This Afternoon Family Burying Ground

Mr. Fred Edwards, 62, died at his home in Simpson Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock after an illness of several months. Services were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. J. J. Lewis, pastor of the Methodist church of Simpson, interment following in the family burying ground.

Mr. Edwards was born on April 4th, 1862, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards, of this county. In early manhood he was married to Miss Sarah Tucker also of this county. He was one of Pitt County's most prominent and influential farmers, and was held in high esteem by a host of friends throughout his community and in other sections of the county.

As long as health permitted he was a regular visitor to Greenville, and was greatly missed when illness prevented him from making his daily and weekly visits. The deceased is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Louis Hudson and Mrs. LeRoy Buck, four sons, Messrs. Roy, Fred W., Robert and Blount Edwards, all of this county, one brother, Mr. Frank Edwards, of Red Banks section and three sisters, Mesdames, Nannie Eiks, Elizabeth Mills and L. A. Arnold, all of Pitt County. He is also survived by a large number of relatives throughout this and adjoining counties.

Alexander Co. Woman Sets Record in First Attempt Grow Cotton

Taylorsville, Dec. 15.—The production of 1,416 pounds of seed cotton, making 530 pounds of lint on one acre of land in the northern part of Alexander county, where cotton has not been grown heretofore, is the record set by Annie Herman, of R. 5 of this city, in her first attempt at growing cotton which she began last spring, according to Farm Agent D. H. Osborne of the State College Extension Service.

In explaining the methods used by the young lady in making her cotton crop, Mr. Osborne stated that she had the acre of ground plowed deep and covered it with 500 pounds of an 8-3-3 cotton fertilizer and then planted it with the Little King Variety of cotton. The result was that she made 1,416 pounds of seed cotton which produced 530 pounds of lint or 37.43 per cent lint to the acre.

The cotton has been sold through a co-operative association and Miss Herman has already received $70 advance on the sale, it was said.

Miss Herman states that she is going to retain her membership in the boys' and girls' Club and will try to beat her record next year.

Mrs. C. H. Edwards left Saturday for Fayetteville to spend the holidays with her parents.

FAREWELL SERVICES MR. F. D. FOXHALL HELD FOR DR. AND MRS. T. H. PLEMMONS DIED SUNDAY AFTER PROLONGED ILLNESS

Number of Fine Tributes Paid Immanuel Baptist Preacher and Wife As They Leave for Brinkley, Ark.

On Sunday evening, the 14th, a Union service of all the churches was held in the Immanuel Baptist church as a farewell to Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Plemmons, who left this morning for their new charge in Brinkley, Ark.

Revs. Leland W. Smith and Lee Sadler were in charge of the service for the Minister's Association, and paid a number of fine tributes to Dr. Plemmons as a minister and member of the Association. After the singing of a hymn and the Scripture reading by Mr. Smith the following were called on to pay a tribute to the work of Dr. Plemmons. Mr. Roy Pannan spoke for the Men's Federation telling of the esteem in which Dr. Plemmons is held by the men, of his helpfulness in their work, and readiness to assist in the meetings in the town and county, in good and bad weather, cold or heat. He spoke of the encouragement he had given to individual men by his ready smile and good advice, and of the love of the men for him. He felt that the leaving of Dr. Plemmons would break the circle of loyal men who were devoting much of their time to winning men to Jesus Christ.

Rev. L. E. Ballard, of the Free Will church then spoke of the interest taken by Dr. Plemmons in the work of the community, and of his readiness to promote any good work begun in the community. He spoke of his loyalty to the schools and the College of the town, and of his helpfulness in any interest that would make for the betterment of the town. Miss Gorrell, of the Music Department of East Carolina college, rendered a beautiful violin solo as her part in the farewell to the pastor and his wife.

Rev. W. S. Harden of the Presbyterian church, who has been secretary of the Minister's Association for a year, paid a tribute to the hearty co-operation of Dr. Plemmons in that organization, saying that one of the most outstanding characteristics of Dr. Plemmons membership was his frankness in expressing his opinion on all subjects, and yet the readiness to compromise with the brethren where no principle was involved. He also spoke of the enthusiasm with which he entered the Ham-Ramsey revival, of his presence at all of the services, his hearty Amen's to Mr. Ham's insistence on the salvation by faith in Christ, and his good humor on all occasions.

Mr. Harden said that he regretted losing Dr. Plemmons, but when he knew that he was a minister who preached the old fashioned gospel of blood redemption by the cross, he was willing for him to leave, and give others this gospel because of the growing scarcity of preachers who preach such a gospel.

Rev. V. P. Scoville of the Methodist church paid a fine tribute to the co-operation of Dr. Plemmons in the work of the churches of the town, saying that he was always present at every meeting held in any of the churches, and showed his hearty sympathy with them. Mr. Scoville said that he had never known a man who was so approachable and lovable as Dr. Plemmons, and in conclusion he read a letter he had written to the Methodist minister in Brinkley, in which he earnestly commended Dr. Plemmons and his wife to the pastor as worthy of any kindness he might show them upon their arrival in Brinkley.

Funeral Services for Prominent Citizen Conducted Today; Interment in Calvary Episcopal Church Yard, Tarboro

Mr. Franklin D. Foxhall, 56, died Sunday morning at 1:55 o'clock, after an illness of several months. Interment took place in the Calvary Episcopal church yard, Tarboro, this afternoon with services being in charge of the Knights Templar. Services were conducted from his late home here at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Lee Sadler, of the Eighth Street Christian church, while the services from the Calvary Episcopal church, Tarboro, of which Mr. Foxhall was a member, was conducted by the Rev. R. B. Drane, of Edenton, an uncle of the deceased.

Franklin D. Foxhall was born in Tarboro on April 6, 1868, a son of the late Capt. and Mrs. E. D. Foxhall. When about 25 years of age he came to Greenville and has made his home here since that time. A few years ago he was married to Miss Elsie Pugh, of Oriental, who survives him.

He has been ill for several months. In an effort to regain his health he spent months in hospitals in Richmond, Battle Creek, Mich., and other places, only to grow steadily worse until the end came yesterday.

Mr. Foxhall was one of the most prominent and best known men in Eastern Carolina. He was the oldest tobaccoist in Greenville from point to point, and was held in high esteem by warehousemen, buyers and farmers throughout this and adjoining States. He was a pioneer warehouseman of Pitt county having been connected with a large tobacco firm over thirty years—in fact since the opening of the Greenville market.

Possessing a wonderful knowledge of the tobacco industry he was consulted on all occasions by people eager to learn more of the methods of raising tobacco and he was always ready to give the desired information. He was one of the most beloved warehousemen in Pitt county being at the time of his death the senior member of the warehouse firm Foxhall, McGowan and Cannon.

Mr. Foxhall was not only popular in the business circles but also in social circles and fraternal organizations. He was a charter member of the Greenville Kiwanis Club and attended its sessions as long as health permitted. He was a 2nd degree Mason, a member of Bethlehem Commandery Knights Templar, also a Shriner being a member of Sudan Temple.

The deceased was a member of the Calvary Episcopal church of Tarboro and was deeply interested in the religious welfare of his community.

Mr. Foxhall is survived by his widow, two sisters, Mrs. Florida McCoy, of Charlotte, N. C., Miss Susie Foxhall, Tarboro, N. C., and four brothers, Messrs. E. D. and H. P. Foxhall, of Tarboro, W. L. Foxhall, Danville, Va., and R. D. Foxhall, Charleston, S. C.

WOMEN FROM SPAIN CAPITULATE QUICKLY TO LURE OF FINERY

Paris.—A celebrated Parisian dress maker was talking the other day of the various foreign women, Spanish, Italian, American and English, who crowd the shops of the French capital. Long experience had given her definite ideas of the characteristics of each group of customers.

"The tall, dark, flashing-eyed woman whom the poets have called 'the fierce tempered Spanish' becomes merely a weak little woman when she is shown pretty dresses," said this observer of human nature. "When prices are quoted, even if they are high, she goes through the mental process of translating the francs into pesetas, and is immediately aware that she is getting a bargain. Like the Italian woman, she never bargains over the cost; under no circumstances are these southern women willing to give the impression that they cannot afford a little caprice in the way of a creation worth from 5,000 to 10,000 francs.

"Furthermore these women do not come to Paris to have dresses made according to the traditions of their own countries, so they bow to the French taste and never make suggestions to us; they take what we offer.

"The American woman, on the contrary, often attempts to impose her will upon us," continued the dressmaker. "It often happens, however, that in spite of the power of the dollar we do not yield to certain fantastic requests of our American customers which, if carried out in their dresses, might compromise our reputation as classic dressmakers and infallible tailors. The American woman is not a perfect customer by any means. The majority give us only the address of the hotel in which they are stopping. This would be a detail of slight importance if the bills were paid upon delivery, but a great number of them leave Paris without having settled, and we have nothing to do but wait for a check dated from some city of the new world. But they invariably pay.

"The English woman alone are perfect customers," concluded the dressmaker. "they never bargain and they always pay cash. They are almost all 'great ladies in their own land,' either through birth or marriage. A middle class English woman could never think of coming to the rue de la Paix for her dress; she knows she cannot afford it."

University College Officials to Meet Wake Forest '25

Wake Forest, Dec. 13.—The National Association of University and College officials will hold its 1925 annual meeting at Wake Forest College on Dec. 3 and 4. It has been announced by Bursar E. R. Earnshaw, who has just returned from the 1924 convention which was held at Brown University.

Mr. Earnshaw was also re-elected a member of the executive committee. The colleges formerly belonging to the New England Association were taken into the National Association at the recent meeting and a number of southern colleges are expected to join the association during the next year, it was said, which will give Wake Forest the opportunity of entertaining the largest convention that the association ever had.

N. C. Education Ass'n. to Be Held In Raleigh Jan.

Raleigh, Dec. 13.—The Annual convention of the North Carolina Education Association will be held in Raleigh on January 29, 30 and 31, next, it was announced by Jule B. Warren, Secretary. The dates were fixed by the executive committee which met here several days ago.

The executive committee tentatively arranged the program for the convention, but Mr. Warren states that it is not yet in shape to be announced.

Farewell Services for Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Plemmons Sunday

their new charge.

Mr. Victor M. Davis was called on to speak for the church of which Dr. Plemmons has been pastor for nearly three years, and responded by saying that the ministry of Dr. Plemmons was characterized by a thorough re-organization, by the spiritualism of the membership, by a democratization of the work of the church, where all had the privilege of taking part irrespective of age save a willingness to be used.

That he had also popularized the church in the community so that it was better known and loved than ever before. This work was done in the face of the shock experienced by the church in the death of the saintly Dr. Wilson, who was such a help to the church.

At the conclusion of these remarks Rev. Lee Sadler said that he was sure that Dr. Plemmons would like to express himself very frankly before leaving, and in a very humorous, tactful, and earnest talk he expressed his appreciation of all that had been done for him by the Federation, the ministers, and his own membership, and to wish the very best for all of them. He said if he had done anything that was beneficial while here, he wanted to give credit, first of all to the other members of the parsonage, then to the good people of his own church, and finally to the good people of the town. All that he had done was done for the sake of the Christ he served. He would always cherish the memory of the many friends that he had made while here, and would always pray for them, and believe in them. He asked an interest in the prayers of all in the new work to which he goes. After prayer, the services were concluded by singing a verse of "The Old Time Religion," and the benediction.

The attendance was unusual for a night congregation, the church being nearly full. Many went up after the service to bid Dr. Plemmons goodbye, and many eyes were filled with tears at parting.

Dr. and Mrs. Plemmons left this morning by auto for Blytheville, Ark., where they will spend the Christmas, and begin the work in Brinkley on the first Sunday in January.

NATIVE MOROS ABIDE BY KORAN'S RULE OF 4 WIVES TO ONE MAN

Los Angeles.—The absence of civilization in the southern provinces of the Philippine Islands is attributed to the lack of home life and the practice of polygamy among the native Moros, said Mrs. Carl M. Moore, wife of the governor of the southern islands of the Philippines and herself a Filipino. She is visiting in Los Angeles. "There can be no home life where there is a harem," Mrs. Moore explained. "The lack of home life in the Southern Islands, about 1,500 small islands, totaling not over 1,100 square miles, is due to the influence of the Mohammedan religion. Every man living there under Mohammedan rule not only avails himself of the Koran's granted right to four wives, but he also takes advantage of the modern privilege of divorce. Like a poker player he is continually throwing one wife into the discard and picking a fresh one from the deck, providing himself in this manner with a continual succession of young beauties for his harem.

"Some of the marriage customs of the land-dwelling natives are quaint. A bride seldom attends her own wedding. She is arrayed in her wedding garments, frequently of gaily-colored materials with a veil, many beads and girdles, and then locked in a tomb-like room, where she is guarded by some male relative. The imams, Mohammedan priests, recite a long ceremony over the head of the groom. The bridegroom may then exchange long distance greetings through a barred window, but not until after repeated ceremonies, continuing through several days and nights, are they pronounced married sufficiently to set up an establishment of their own.

When a woman marries, the bridegroom or his family gives her a dowry. If she runs away from her husband and it is proved that he treated her cruelly, she keeps the dowry, whether lands, cattle or money. But if she is unfaithful and runs away with another man, she must return not only the dowry, but twice the amount. There are very few unfaithful wives."

1923 does not include 4,095 illegitimate births in the state during the year. Counting these there were 88,285 babies born in the state in 1923. The 84,190 births are divided as follows: White 58,221; 25,506 negroes and 463 Indians.

Buncombe and Scotland counties had the highest death rate per 1,000 population among white persons with 16.7 each. There were 988 deaths in Buncombe county and 97 in Scotland. The high death rate of Buncombe county is said to be due to the deaths of persons from every section of the country who go there suffering with tuberculosis. Although only ten negroes died in the county in 1923, Watauga county had the highest death rate per 1,000 population among that race, with 49.0. Swain county reported the lowest death rate among negroes with 3.0 per thousand population. Yancey county had the lowest death rate among the white race per 1,000 population, the county reported 88 deaths with a ratio of 5.5. Guilford county with 2,809 births led the state in the number of babies while Camden county with 117 births reported the smallest number.

C. B. Edwards Gives History Manufacture of Paper in State

Raleigh, Dec. 12.—One of the first paper mills operated in North Carolina was located at Salem, according to C. B. Edwards, 84, years old, who engaged in the printing business here for more than half a century. Mr. Edwards retired in 1911.

In an article prepared at the request of the State Department for a Chicago publisher who had asked the information of the Secretary of State, Mr. Edwards told something of the early history of the manufacture of paper in North Carolina nearly 75 years ago. "Before 1850 a paper mill was located at Salem," Mr. Edwards wrote, "and another one near Raleigh, at Crabtree creek."

"About 1865 a mill was built at the Falls of Neuse and another at Millburnie, six miles east of Raleigh. The mill at the Falls of Neuse proved a failure and was converted into a cotton mill. The one at Millburnie was burned down in 1865 by Sherman's army, when it marched through North Carolina, and was never re-established. The mill at Salem and the one near Raleigh were known as cylinder machines. I do not know what became of the mill at Salem, but the one on Crabtree creek near Raleigh, was converted into a powder mill to make powder for use in the war between the states, and was later blown up.

"The writer worked as second hand or back-tender at Millburnie for four years, from 1857 until 1861, when he came to Raleigh to join Ramsey's battery of Artillery, in purpose of advertising the advantage company with W. B. D. Williams, ages of this section.

He was accepted and killed at the battle of Williamsburg in 1862. I was not accepted on account of size and weight, being only 17 years of age. I then made cartridges for a few months and later entered the printing office of a Raleigh concern as an apprentice.

"All of the mills made paper from old rags in those days, wood fibre having not been discovered. Since 1865, so far as I know, there has been no paper made from rags in this state," in Edwards continued.

POLICE COURT

Golden White, col., charged with driving automobile without having sufficient brakes thereon. The mayor stated that driving without sufficient brakes was just as dangerous, even more so than speeding, and in the future he intended to impose a fine of not less than $10 and cost upon all those who do not have brakes on their cars, and that the only reason he was reducing this fine to $5.00 and cost, was because defendant was driving another party's car.

Sam Jones, col., vagrancy, sentenced 30 days city streets.

W. P. Moore, charged with leaving car parked on pavement over night, paid cost.

Jim Barnhill, col., assault, $10.00 and cost.

Jao Clark, col., drunk, $10 and cost. Alex Dupree, col., driving automobile while drunk, $50 and cost.

REINDEER TODAY COULD REPAY WHAT RUSSIA GOT FOR ALASKA

Alaskan reindeer vention in the United States as an article of diet soon will be possible, depending merely on the matter of transportation the Bureau of Education predicted today in an annual report which said that Alaska's domestic herds now are worth $1,500,000 more than this government paid Russia in 1867 for the entire territory.

The industry, which began in 1892 when the bureau imported the first of the animals from Siberia, has developed until the herd at present numbers some 250,000, about 235,000 of which belong to the natives who rely upon deer for a livelihood, as well as for food and clothing.

A problem confronting the bureau is to reorganize the industry on a co-operative basis so as to handle the increasing herds more efficiently and to market the meat more economically.

32,396 Deaths in State in '23 Offset By 84,100 Births

Raleigh, Dec. 12.—While there were 1,735 more deaths in North Carolina during 1923 than in 1922, the loss in population was more than offset by the increase in the number of births, according to the annual report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the North Carolina State Board of Health.

Deaths in the state during 1923 numbered 32,396 as compared with 30,660 in 1922 and births in 1923 were 84,100 as compared with 81,673 in 1922.

While there were more deaths among the white race, the negroes had the highest death rate per 1,000 population. The report shows that 19,865 white persons died during the year with a ratio of 10.5 per thousand population against 12,392 deaths negroes with a ratio of 15.4. Death also claimed 146 Indians during 1923.

"THE MARRIAGE CIRCLE" PLEASES ENTIRE AUDIENCE

"If all motion pictures were as good as 'The Marriage Circle,' I'd go to the movie, every day of my life."

That was the enthusiastic remark overheard in the lobby of the Howard Theatre, Atlanta after the showing of this Ernst Lubitch production, a picture that contains such a galaxy of brilliant players as Marie Prevost, Monte Blue, Florence Vidor, Adolphe Menjou, Harry Myers and Creighton Hale.

You will wait a long time before you see a better picture than "The Marriage Circle."

SANTA CLAUS WILL BE PRESENT AT JUNIOR B. Y. P. U. PARTY NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT 7 O'CLOCK

W. E. Smith was visiting the Junior B. Y. P. U., of the Immanuel Baptist Church a few Sunday nights ago, and while there promised the children a Christmas party, provided they were attentive to what their leader was trying to do.

Miss Helen Mattox, has charge of the Juniors and last night Mr. Smith was visiting them again, and it was decided to have a party next Friday night at the church, in the Wilson room. And every child belonging to the B. Y. P. U. is urged to be present.

Santa Claus has promised to be present at 6:30 in order to give each child a hearty welcome.

The Seniors are growing in number as well as knowledge of the work they are studying, and it is predicted that this will be one of the strongest organizations of the Junior department of the church. Parents of the children who do not attend, are earnestly asked to bring them out, every Sunday evening at 6:45.

STOCK

New York: Oils the strength Saturday in oils was ascribed to the covering of shorts and to rumors that the prairie and gas company would declare its regular dividend today. The talk has been that the dividend would go higher.

N. Y.: The market is a trading affair which will be featured with some strength and special issues. Selected securities can be purchased for higher prices in the immediate future though intelligent discrimination is necessary since there are a number of weak spots throughout list.

COTTON

Liverpool: Slight improvement spot demand contracts under liquidation; hedge selling and absence of bull support.

New Bedford: New strong demand for cotton with extra staple.

Boston: Strength in demand for extra staple cotton, all grades.

Manchester: Limited turnover in yarns manufactured from U. S. cotton.

New York: Smaller consumption figures disregarded because of holidays during Nov. With peak of movement passed, ultimate yield seems discounted; therefore market shows hardening tendency under influence heavy exports and large unfilled December commitments.

Comparative estimated ginnings: Ginned Dec. 10 to 13 estimated 445,000 vs. 306,000 and 825,000, vs. 874,000 and 1,220,000.

Ginned Nov. 1 to Dec. 1 1,078,000

New York: Favor long side on re-national ginner's estimate 12,570 ginned to Dec. 13.

Washington: Cotton exports were larger in November than in any month in almost 10 years indicating a revival of the cotton spinning industry abroad.

New York: If our market meets Liverpool decline advise buying for quick turn. Scalping market this week, prefer buying side on the weak spots. Exports are increasing and after the turn of the year American consumption will be on the increase. Textile industry improving.

Wollman: Believe cotton should show strengthening trend in coming week.

Logan: It may be prudent to look at the bullish possibilities that may develop.

London.—Another of Britain's industries is disappearing with the increasing use of motorcars. This is the selling of old horse-shoes.

Scrap-mental merchants formerly made much money through contracts with horse owners for cast off horse-shoes, which were shipped to Manchurian ports and forwarded into the interior for natives to convert into utensils. With a decreasing horse population this business is gradually dying out.
