GOVERNOR PAROLES FARRIOR FROM HIS 2 YEAR SENTENCE

Wilson County Man Had Been Sentenced Two Years for Shooting Joe Swindell While in Pasquotank Jail

Raleigh, Dec. 22. - Dean J. D. Farrior of Wilson was today paroled during good behavior by Governor Cameron Morrison on condition that he reimburse the county of Pasquotank in the amount of $2,500, the approximate expenses incident to the affair out of which grew his sentence of two years.

It was stated that the county had been put to considerable expense in caring for the man whom Farrior shot. It was provided that any excess money out of that paid by Farrior should be turned over to school funds of the county.

The hearing held by the governor this morning was the first deviation from the course declared by him about two weeks ago when he stated he would not give oral hearing in any more cases other than electrocution and life imprisonment until after Christmas. He said this course was necessary in order that he may have time to clear his desk incident to his retirement from office.

In granting the parole Governor Morrison declared he was very much opposed to individual persons taking the law into their own hands and that he hesitated in paroling Farrior for the reason that his action might give encouragement to others. He stated that in this case the action of the girl's grandfather was prompted by a grand old sentiment.

FOUR WHEEL BRAKES USED ON ALL GOOD FRENCH CARS NOW

Paris.—France has taken into the automobile to the world and guards jealously that honor, whether others concede her claim or not. Yet the tremendous number of cars in the United States obliges the French to recognize America as the automobile country of the world.

France feels, however, that she originates the new ideas for the gas-wagon. The war interrupted industrial development here and the American maker developed his car in the interval. But in the last three years the French car has been improved strikingly: French engineers apparently have made marvelous progress.

The four-wheel brake has been generalized in France and the "servo-freud," the mechanism designed to apply the brake pressure in direct proportion to the need for it, is now used on all the higher-priced cars, both of them to a greater extent than in the United States.

French engineers, on the other hand, long have admitted American superiority in springs, body-comfort accessibility and standardization. Although there is no discussion of the subject, the American maker also is ahead in motor silence and electrical equipment. After the war starting and lighting systems, general in American cars, were pushed by the French public and the manufacturers as unreliable and expensive luxuries, but in two years they were on all French cars. Spiral gears and silent chains as well as an occasional fiber gear in the distribution, for silence, likewise are being adopted here, following the American practice.

PARF TIME ARTS STUDENTS EXHIBIT SOME REAL TALENT

Chicago. — Latent talent in the arts is being brought out of hundreds of men and women in all walks of life here who are devoting their spare time to the study of its various branches.

The director of one of Chicago's largest art academies has made a study of his spare hour students and their vocations to determine if there was not ground to believe there was a profound increase in the arts and if their appeal was not deep and broad.

Some of the students are grandfathers, some are grade school students. Virtually every trade and profession is represented.

"Many of these students have taken up art work for the pleasure of doing constructive study, knowing they will profit by it one way or another some day," the director declares.

LADYBUG PROVES FRIEND IN NEED TO ORCHARDISTS

Los Angeles.—The little brown insect that for countless years has been the enemy of the country singer "Ladybug, ladybug, fly away home," now is free to follow this bit of juvenile advice.

The ladybug may turn its thoughts towards home because it has about completed its work in Southern California by wiping out the mealy bug, a citrus fruit pest, which for years, has preyed on the orange orchards of this territory.

The pest, a coiled or scale insect, especially of the genus Dactylopius, accumulates on the fruit tree forming a scale of flour-like substance.

Losses of fruit growers in Southern California through this pest ran into thousands of dollars. Through discoveries by entomologists, it was found that the ladybug proved the most successful foe of the pest.

FOXES INCREASE AS HUNTING LAGS

London.—Application of the restrictions against fox hunting in certain portions of England because disease among horses, has resulted in a veritable scourge of foxes. Although the fox-hunting season is in full swing, the Meynell, Pytchley, Belvoir, Cottesmore and other hunts covering a wide area have been forced to suspend, and while farmers armed with guns have made heavy inroads on the foxes of these districts,

Both farmers and hunters have petitioned the ministry of agriculture for some relief from the regulations, which are considered too drastic.

Those who have been wishing for Christmas weather have at least partially realized their desire.

If you want to get the most joy and happiness out of the Christmas season you can best do so by showing the real Christmas spirit toward those about you who are in need.

REPRESSING JINGOISM

Jingoes beget jingoes. Therein lies one of the principal dangers of the recent charges made by ultra-nationalists here and in Japan about the imagined designs of one nation against the other. The more our people have cast suspicion on Japan's reputed motives in the East, the graver have become the warnings of the Japanese jingoes against American imperialism. These in turn have alarmed our own jingoes, and so the charge of bad faith has been tossed back and forth, only to be stilled at last by the timely and wise warnings of the Administration.

Nothing is gained and much can be lost by unwarranted and unsound meddling in international relations by unauthorized individuals and organizations. Because Congress blundered last Spring, and the Japanese people were indignant at the fancied insult to them, there is no reason to make loose accusations against Japan's present good faith. Least of all is there any excuse for the efforts of such men as Congressman Britten to make Congress add injury to insult by framing a resolution calling upon the President to summon a conference of the white people on the Pacific in order to check a fancied "brown peril."

Tolerance and courtesy are badly needed these days. Just as many Americans have misunderstood Japan's bitterness over the Immigration bill, so many Japanese have failed to grasp the underlying principles of America's Far Eastern policy. It is for sane Japanese leaders to set their misinformed countrymen right on these matters. On all American friends of sound international cooperation falls the task of explaining to the American people that the feeling of anti-Americanism in Japan is but a passing phase and rests on a lack of understanding of America's true attitude. Fortunately, despite the fire-breating of our jingoes, this feeling has not been reciprocated by any marked anti-Japanese sentiment, not even in those regions where the agitation in favor of Japanese exclusion was the strongest.

It is to be hoped that the friendly welcome extended by the President and the Secretary of State to the new Japanese Ambassador will help to appease the measiness stirred up in both countries by the alarmists. Should they, however, succeed again in rousing suspicions, these can best be dispipated by the method which proved so successful at the Washington conference—the frank and open discussion among the Powers of those unsolved problems which furnish the jingoes with their ammunition. Open diplomacy is an effective weapon. In the present instance the principal problem is to convince the Japanese and the Americans of the essential friendliness of each for the other, and to persuade them that present and future courtesies, while they may not altogether atone for past injustices, are the surest guarantees of peace and mutual respect.—N. Y. Times.

PUBLIC FORUM

TO THE EDITOR:

The Christmas season brings impressively to mind the profound influence which Near East Relief, dealing with the growing generation in the lands where Christmas had its birth, is bound to have upon the peace and happiness of that upheaved corner of the world.

Nothing in the tragic and terrible decade that we have just passed thru is so pitiful and unjust as what it has done to the children of so many different countries. That these helpless millions should know nothing to show them that there are such things in the world as justice and gentleness and love—it turns one's heart cold to think of it.

The orphanage work of Near East Relief comes in to snatch as many as it can from the terrible kind of start in life to try to show them that there is another kind of world from this which they know, and that it is to show them this world and to take them to its thoughts and feelings. Every child that can be rescued from the miserable plight into which the war has forced him, will be just so much gain for the forces of order and peace and good will in the world.

It is a work which gets down to bed rock, lessening the amount of threat to the future which must lie in rearing these great masses of children to know nothing but bitterness and misery, starting counteracting forces of goodness and sympathy.

Yours truly,
H. M. TARBELL.

The editor of the Cosmopolitan magazine, in which publication this story appeared said of it: "Her Majesty, the Queen" is the greatest dramatic story that has come into my hands in the past three years. It should make a great picture."

The story deals with royalty, with kings and queens. In this photoplay Gloria has the role of a beautiful Princess who is forced into an unhappy marriage with a King. She has already given her heart to a handsome young captain of the guards to whom she was secretly wed. Later when she gives birth to an heir and the King learns that he is not the child's father, he had her sent away. Her subsequent experiences and sufferings are sympathetically brought out and prove that

It is the kind of a part that suits Gloria to a "T." It offers wide opportunities for strong dramatic acting and at the same time gives Gloria a chance to wear some of the most stunning gowns.

Allan Dwan, who wielded the megaphone for several of Gloria's previous pictures, also directed this one. He has surrounded Miss Swanson with a superb supporting cast which includes Ian Keith, George Pawcett, Mario Majeroni and others equally well-known. Incidentally it may be of interest to mention that there are several real dukes and earls and duchesses in the picture so that the court scenes are absolutely true-to-life. You'll make no mistake if you pay White's a visit when "Her Love Story" comes to town Christmas Day.

FAMILY REUNION AT COTTENDALE

N.; Mrs. Cotten, Lyman Cotten, Jr., and Master John Cotten; Mr. and Mrs. Julian Timberlake, Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. Lon Newton, Miami, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wesson and children, Salisbury, Cotten, Joe and Richard Wesson, of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wiggins, Boston, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Preston Cotten and family, Boston, Mass.; Major and Mrs. Bruce Cotten, Baltimore, Md.

Lizzie Rich, colored, receiving, transporting and possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. Bond over to county court under $500 bond.

Jno. Jones, Oscar Williams, Jas Simms, colored, charged with breaking and entering the store of Geo. Sauid. This robbery occurred on Friday night and on Saturday Chief

Jones assisted by the other day officer, succeeded in running down and apprehending the robbers, and also in finding much of the stolen property, consisting of ladies and men's suits, dresses, overcoats, etc. The goods was secreted in the negro settlement in what is known as the "Brama." All of the defendants except Jas. Simms were apprehended.

This was quick work on the part of the police force, and the department should be highly commended for its activities. This case required considerable detective ability. Due to the absence of one of the witnesses the case was continued until Wednesday morning.

Mrs. T. B. Weldon and children, Virginia and Claude Thomas, of Norfolk, are spending the holidays with their grand mother, Mrs. Lucy Mangum.

MANILA TREASURE HUNTERS WILL DIG FOR HIDDEN GOLD

Manila.—Two chests of Spanish gold said to have been hidden 100 years ago in a cave in the typhoon-swept hills of Claro Babuyan, one of the northernmost islands of the Philippine group, is challenging the spirit of several venturesome Manilans who are preparing to go in search of the treasure. The gold, according to natives, was secreted by an old woman who sought protection for her treasure from the frequent earthquakes and volcanic eruptions on the island.

The crew of a coastguard cutter which recently visited the island brought word that two brass cannons about five feet long and a ship's bell taken from a British warship wrecked there many years ago were found. The bell is used to summon worshippers to a dilapidated chapel which is without a priest. There are two volcanoes on the island.

CHRISTMAS DAY—MATINEE 3:30; NIGHT 7:15 AND 9:00 P. M.—GLORIA SWANSON IN "HER LOVE STORY"—CHRISTMAS

Here is a great story worthy of the new Gloria Swanson—the Gloria who can not only wear clothes as no other woman can wear them, but also the Gloria of fire, sincerity and emotional genius. "Her Love Story" was written by Mary Roberts Rinehart, one of America's greatest novelists and the story ran as a serial in Cosmopolitan Magazine (circulation 1,500,000) and is also published as a novel. The editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine says of "Her Majesty, the Queen," from which the picture was adapted by Frank Tuttle, "It is the greatest dramatic story that has come into my hands in the past three years. It should make a great picture." AND IT HAS!

Gloria's overwhelming love for her boy and the conflict in her soul between her desire to save him for herself alone and her ambition to have him king; Gloria's continued love for the handsome young guardsman and their desperate struggle for happiness; the reunion of mother, son and lover amid the terrific turmoil of a revolution and the final rosy and audience-satisfying ending, make a picture that surpasses even "The Humming Bird" for absorbing interest, tingling thrill and colorful settings.

STOCK
Washington, Dec. 22.—There president's announcement appointing an oil conservation board has great significance for the oil producing industry. It is probable that an effort will be made to extend these new and far-reaching conservation proposals to coal.

A portion of the producer of pot, were held. The first contest was won favor litigation which will permit him by Miss Julia Wilson. The second, to agree among themselves on plan for reducing the enormous waste of this diminishing resource. That the president sympathizes with this view is indicated by his statement that "it is evident that the present method of capturing our oil deposits is wasteful to an alarming degree in that it becomes impossible to conserve oil in the ground under our present leasing system" and royalty practices if an owner or lessee desired to gain possession of his deposits."

GRIMESLAND NEWS

Miss Hilda Smith, who is coaching the girl's basket ball team during this term, gave a dinner party for the athletic association last Thursday night. The room was beautifully decorated with colors red and green, with a background of holly and mistletoe.

A four course dinner was served which was enjoyed by all present. The first course was fruit cocktail, the second course consisted of chicken salad, beans and creamed potatoes. This was followed by cream and the last course was coffee.

After the dinner was over several games were played. Three contests were held. The first contest was won favor litigation which will permit him by Miss Julia Wilson. The second, which was the eating of an apple suspended from a string, was won by Mr. Clifton Godley. Mr. John Lewis was successful in eating his cracker and whistling first.

During the dinner special music was rendered by Misses Ethel Godley and Hilda Smith. Miss Godley sang "Absences," and Miss Smith sang "Honest and Truly."

After the dinner was over and the games and contests had all ended the group gathered around the piano and sang a few Christmas Carols before leaving for their homes.

Those present were: Misses Ethel Godley, Doris Galloway, Tucker Galloway, Kathleen Galloway, Nollie Elks, Jannie Lee Edwards, Annie Lee Edwards, Julia Wilson, Bessie Hunt, and Ruth Lewis. Messrs: Fred Buck, Scott Buck, Arthur Elks, Alston Elks, John Lewis, Clifton Godley, Theodor Dixon, Leslie Elks, and Geo. D. Col-dough.
