RED CROSS BEGINS WORK IN TORNADO AREA DURING DAY

Work Will Include Replacing and Refinishing Homes, Clothing and Necessities for the Victims

West Frankfort, Ill., March 25.—The American Red Cross will begin rehabilitation work today in the tornado area in five states, Henry M. Baker, National Director of disaster relief, has announced here. The work will include replacing and refinishing homes, clothing, and all necessities for the victims, but will not attempt to replace deficits in investment losses, which Mr. Baker calls business rehabilitation. The need of the victim, and not his actual loss, will guide our attempt to re-establish him, as nearly as predisaster basis funds will permit, said Mr. Baker. A survey will be made by trained workers to ascertain the needs of the storm stricken sufferers, and the Red Cross will then attempt to make up the deficit.

Every penny contributed to the Red Cross for tornado relief, Mr. Baker said, will be used in the storm area. A community organization in each county will work with the Red Cross in adjusting claims, the local committees have the power to approve, reject, increase, or decrease claims recommended by the Red Cross. When work is completed, the accounts will be turned over to the county committee for an audit, after which the records will go to the War Department for final approval.

Vocation training and trust fund assistance in cases where the mother and children were left without support, are provided for in the rehabilitation plans. The emergency period will probably continue for ten days. He said that in all of the Red Cross disaster work, he had never witnessed such complete devastation and suffering, nor disaster, that embraced such a wide range of territory. The total death in the five states of the storm area stood at 827.

Slayer Faints

DOROTHY ELLINGSON

Dorothy Ellingson, sixteen-year-old San Francisco girl, who killed her mother when provoked for her late hours and constant jazzing, fainted when placed on trial there for the murder. Her defense was temporary insanity.

AS TRIAL GOES ON DOROTHY ELLINGSON IS MORE COMPOSED

Realizes the Enormity of Her Offense When Prospective Jurors Speak of Her as "Girl Who Killed Her Mother"

San Francisco, March 25.—Dorothy Ellingson, 16 years old stenographer, entered court today with renewed determination to curb the youthful impetuosity, which has been responsible for fainting spells the first two days of her trial for killing her mother. The girl has confessed that she shot and killed her mother during a quarrel, in which the parent tried to keep her from going out with questionable characters. Observers say that the trial is bringing the girl to full realization of the enormity of her offense. She listens to other fathers and mothers, prospective jurors, and shudders when they disqualify themselves and say they could not sit in judgment fairly on a "girl who killed her mother."

DEBATE IN LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL ON FRIDAY EVENING

Affirmative Team Will Meet New Bern Here, While Negative Team Goes to Washington

Representatives of Greenville High School will meet teams from New Bern and Washington High schools in debate on Friday night. The question to be debated is "Resolved, that North Carolina should adopt the port terminals and water transportation act." The Extension Department of the University of North Carolina, under whose auspices the debate is held, are in this way bringing before the people of the state the question of port terminals and water transportation on which they voted at the election in November.

The affirmative team of the local school will meet New Bern High School in Greenville while the negative team will go to Washington to engage the Washington High team. The Greenville affirmative team is composed of Raymond Walters and George Johnson, both members of the Senior Class, while the negative side of the question is to be upheld by Harry Waite Perkins and Ada Orton Moore, Junior and Freshman, respectively.

As the question is one of unusual interest the public at large is urged to attend the debate and encourage the local speakers. The admission is free. The debate will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. Professor Adams of Teachers College will preside as chairman, while the judges for the debate will come from Washington.

Woodlock Given Recess Appointment As Member I. C. C.

Washington, March 25.—Thomas E. Woodlock, of New York, was given a recess appointment today by President Coolidge as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Announcement of the appointment was made at the White House without comment. Mr. Coolidge, twice before, had sent Mr. Woodlock's name to the Senate, but opposition prevented action on it.

Southern Senators had insisted that the place should go to a representative of the South Eastern States.

Mr. Woodlock, who is a financial writer, and a democrat, succeeds to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mark W. Potter, of New York.

Brummitt Makes Statement Regarding State's Automobiles

Raleigh, March 25.—It would be absurd to interpret the law restricting the use of state automobiles to mean that only those departments expressly authorized by statute to purchase automobiles could do so. Attorney Brummitt ruled in substance today. Further, he gave it as his opinion that there can be no fixed rules laid down as to just how a person operating a state automobile shall be required to use it. This, the Attorney General said, is largely a matter of discretion and the employee must use common sense. The Attorney General declared that as far as the statutes go, there is authority only for the purchase of an automobile for the Executive Mansion, but that it would be absurd to hold that no other department could own one in the prosecution of its business. He cited the State Highway Department, as an example, declaring that it is obvious and essential for that department to own automobiles. However, he said that the ownership of automobiles by the State for its departments should be governed by necessity.

REVIVAL SERVICES BAPTIST CHURCH LARGELY ATTENDED

Subject of This Evening's Sermon Will Be "Wells of Salvation;" Rev. Mr. Kincheloe to Conduct Services for Federation

"Wells of Salvation," will be the subject of the Rev. J. W. Kincheloe's sermon in the Memorial Baptist church tonight. The song services under the direction of the Rev. R. F. Pittman, of Ayden, will be an attractive feature of the service. Mr. Pittman, who possesses a splendid voice, will sing a solo.

The services last night were largely attended and Mr. Kincheloe preached a powerful sermon, taking his text from II Corinthians 10-5, "Casting Down Imaginations and Every High Thing that Exulteth Itself Against God." His sermon contained many interesting facts and great truths.

Tomorrow morning at 8:15 o'clock Rev. Mr. Kincheloe will conduct services for the Laymen's Christian Federation. Mr. Kincheloe is vitally interested in men and his sermon will no doubt be interesting and inspiring.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT FIGHTS VS. FARMER DOMINATED JURY

Only 11 Jurors Have Been Chosen for the Trial of Chapman, Charged With Murder

Hartford, Conn., March 25.—Eleven jurors in the murder trial of Gerald Chapman, spectacular mail bandit and jail breaker, had been chosen when court recessed this afternoon. Chapman assisted his counsel in selecting the jurors.

Hartford, Conn., March 25.—Gerald Chapman, spectacular had man, continued his fight today against a Farmer-Dominated jury to sit in judgment on him in the matter of an indictment charging him with the murder of patrolman, James Skelly, in New Britain, last October 12th. One-half hour after court had opened today a sixth juror had been chosen. Chapman, who had been inspecting one potential juror under his lowered brows, shook his head when the counsel turned to him, and this juror was challenged preemptorily.

Chapman, looking very natty in a freshly pressed suit, sat slumped in a chair surrounded by his counsel. He was apparently paying no attention to the three guards at his back, or the crowd in the court room. All scrutinized each prospective juror and kept advising his counsel.

A panel of 90 talismen was called today, the original venire of 150 men being exhausted.

Washington, March 25.—The Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South today voted against unification of the Northern and Southern Churches, 141 to 147.

Chapman Denies Murder Guilt

Termed by police officials as the most dangerous criminal of the age, Gerald Chapman, who escaped from Atlanta penitentiary where he was serving a term for mail robbery, was placed on trial in Hartford, Conn., for his life, charged with the murder of James Skelly, a New Britain, Conn., policeman. The notorious bandit has declared that the "cards are stacked against him," and that he "hasn't got a chance." With the stories of Chapman's daring escape from the Atlanta jail, followed by his flight from the prison hospital at Athens, Ga., with three bullets in his body, fresh in their minds, police authorities of Hartford have turned the city into a veritable armed camp, in the fear that he might make another attempt at escape while his life hangs in the balance.

Issues Fourth Order Dealing With Measures Designed Effect Economy In Government

Raleigh, March 25.—Acting as director of the Budget, Governor McLean today issued his fourth order dealing with measures designed to effect economy in government. The director addressed the communication to all state institutions, and requested them to immediately investigate the financial status of every patient or pupil in their institutions, with a view to ascertaining if any were able to pay all or a part of the charges for the expenses now born by the State.

The Governor directed the attention of executive officers of various state hospitals and training schools to the law passed by Legislature, which would require all those now being cared for by the state in its charitable institutions to pay their own expenses at the institutions if they themselves, or their families were able to do so. The Governor requested full report from each charitable institution at the earliest possible moment, so that the law might be put in effect.

Today's action, as director of the budget, constituted the fourth taken by Mr. McLean in his new capacity. Yesterday he had addressed a letter to all departments, requesting information as to salaries paid employees, and work done, so that the salary and wage commission might get busy and arrange a standard salary schedule for state employees.

Declares "False Teeth" Quite Like Plate Used by Miss Hoffman

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 25.—Two witnesses in the trial of William H. Bennett and his wife, charged with the murder of Miss Augusta Hoffman, today declared they did not know of any James A. Brown, of Knoxville, the man whose Miss Hoffman was reported to have married. Miss Annie Collins, of Knoxville, one of the witnesses, said she had roomed with Miss Hoffman several months when she lived in that city. A set of false teeth said to have been found with a woman skeleton under a house occupied by the Bennetts when they resided in Chattanooga, was described by Miss Collins as "quite like" the plate used by Miss Hoffman. Continuing her testimony, the witness described in detail the clothing worn by Miss Hoffman, from the Hibernation Shelter, the bureau whom she had not heard since 1915 stated.

SEEKS INFORMATION REGARDING FACTS AMERICAN TRUSTS

Senators Join in Request That Federal Trade Commission Give Information Concerning American Business Aboard

Washington, March 25.—Sixteen members of the Senate have joined in a request that the Federal Trade Commission supply them with any information it may have "regarding the nature of combinations being formed abroad by American Business commercial and financial firms and corporations, in alleged violation of the anti-trust laws." In a letter to the commission, made public today, the Senators cited allegations that "American business interests are establishing themselves in many countries in combination with similar business interests in those countries."

"They ask that any information the commission has as to this, and particularly as showing 'whether in any cases American goods are sold cheaper to foreign consumers, as a means of maintaining the prices of such goods manufactures in the United States, than to American consumers.'"

The request was addressed to the Federal Trade Commission as the agencies charged with the administration of the Webb-Pomerene act, which the letter said, "is designed, as we understand it, to help American Business Corporations, and to find a market for their products abroad."

ENGLISH VISITORS TO U. S. FIND OPTIMISM JUSTIFIED

London.—There is a good time coming for the United States, according to Edward Hilton Young, member of parliament for Norwich and a former financial secretary to the treasury, who has just returned from a trip to America.

Americans, Mr. Young says, are perfectly justified in indulging the expectation that they are in for a period of prosperity. They are turning to the old world for the employment of their capital. Many new businesses are being established and the income from them, to a large extent, is likely to be employed in the old world.

Sir Charles Sykes, a woolen manufacturer of Yorkshire, is another recent arrival from America, who discovered many signs of improvement in most branches of industry during his visit. "The Americans," he declares, "are abundantly justified in their belief that the year 1925 is going to show a great improvement in the trade of the world."

Summary of Boll Weevil Prospects '25 Given in Report

Washington, March 25.—Boll Weevil prospects for 1925, as summarized in a report today by the Agricultural Bureau of Entomology indicated that as far as the initial emergence of the weevil is concerned, the South Eastern states may expect a normal number, and that from Alabama westward, a lighter infestation will prevail on an average with possible exception of extreme Gulf Coast regions. The examination, from which the report is based, were said to have been more extensive than any in the past and included, besides the usual points, extreme Southern Louisiana, South Carolina and Georgia.

The Bureau pointed out that its report could not in any way be construed as reason for relaxation in the fight against the weevil. "The South Eastern states may expect at least a normal number, sufficient in fact to be a serious control problem from the very beginning of the season in those sections nearest clothing worn by Miss Hoffman, from the Hibernation Shelter," the bureau whom she had not heard since 1915 stated.

city and country schools, was 158 days. Apparently the average length of term in the cities, large and small, was 182 days, leaving 134 days as the average for the rural schools, including country villages. In 1920 the average length of term had increased to 162 days for the United States, or approximately 183 days for city and 141 for rural schools. In 1922 the average for all the States had increased to 164 days, 183 days for city schools and 145 for rural and country village schools. Special reports made to the Rural Schools Division of the U. S. Bureau of Education from about 60 per cent of the county superintendents for the year 1924 indicate that the rural school term is now about 148 days. The increase is largely due to the growth of consolidated schools and the strengthening of the schools in country villages which serve a good percentage of the rural population. However, even the one-room schools in most of the States are receiving the benefits of the somewhat longer term. In 21 States the one-room schools are open 160 days or longer, in 14 States 140 days but less than 160, in 8 States 120 days but less than 140, and in 5 States the one-room schools have terms of less than 120 days.

The distance by state highway "from Murphy to Manteo," the two points proverbially farthest apart in North Carolina, is 618 miles.
The State Hospital at Morganton, established in 1875, has 17 buildings surrounded by 1,130 acres of land, 1,450 patients and 100 attendants. Its appropriation for 1924 was $445,000.
Every member of the North Carolina Supreme Court now holds a commission from a Governor. Associate Justice Adams, Varner, Clark and Connor were put on the bench by gubernatorial appointment. A Chief Justice Stacy was elevated by the same method. None of the appointees who has been before the people for confirmation has had opposition.
There are thirty-three senatorial districts in North Carolina. From fifty state senators are elected to sit in the general assembly. There are

STATE AID WILL HELP WESTERN IRELAND OVERCOME DISTRESS

Dublin. — All sections of the Irish press agree in deprecating the exaggerated reports published in England and abroad of the distress along the western seaboard. There is nothing to justify accounts of famines, famines such as occurred in the past are now declared to be impossible. Present means of communication have made it easy to transport relief immediately to any district. For months past government inspectors have been at work in the threatened areas, and their reports have enabled the government to meet the situation promptly. These districts have always lived on the border line of want. The standard of living is very low, and, as the Irish Times points out, it would in many years be easy to describe places where conditions of squalor could be found as surely as they are found in the London districts of Limehouse or Poplar.

The disturbances of the past five years have caused a setback, and the sequence of two bad winters has led to the present distress. There is, even in the localities affected, objection to any attempt to relieve the situation merely by a policy of charitable doles. What is wanted is employment, and this the government measures are providing. The work is mainly on road making and the repair of piers, and the wages paid are from 21 to 24 shillings weekly. Coal is supplied at sixpence a bag of 140 lbs.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS PLEASED A CAPACITY HOUSE HERE LAST NIGHT

"The Ten Commandments," one of the most spectacular screen productions ever presented, was witnessed by a capacity house at White's Theatre last night.

The picture, a wonderful sermon within itself, showed how Moses led the children of Israel, from the land of the Egyptians, through the Red Sea. Then the writing of the Ten Commandments and the final destruction of the Israelites when they forgot God.

After showing the origin of the Ten Commandments and the Bible scenes relating to that wonderful event, the scenes of the picture returned to an American home in which lived a mother and two sons one son, determined that he will not accept his mother's religion, and abide by the Ten Commandments, leaves home and lives a life in which he becomes rich, defies the power of God and breaks every commandment. His life and the results, show that God is all powerful and carries to the heart of every body that sees the picture, the conviction that it profiteth a man nothing to gain the whole world and lose his own soul.

It was without a doubt one of the best pictures ever shown in this city and the orchestra added much to the effectiveness of its presentation.

TEN YEAR DISPUTE ENDS IN KAS. SELECTING FLAG

Topeka, Kan. — Kansas, the last of the states without an official flag, is now ready to add its standard to the collection on display at the Post Office Department in Washington. After a controversy extending over ten years, the state legislature has adopted a design proffered by the Women's Relief Corps.

The new state banner is of solid blue, bearing at its center a sunflower, whose petals enclose and surround the state seal. Above the sunflower is the word Kansas.

Thus was the sunflower given official approval as the state flower along with the state banner, and this year, too, the meadow lark was elected state bird by the school children of Kansas, wheat and the sunflower er vied with each other for the honor when the legislators debated the adoption of the flag, but the house of representatives upheld the name of the Sunflower State despite the popularity of Kansas' motto: "Kansas Grows the Best Wheat in the World."

Selection of a flag design has been a controversial issue in every legislature for a decade. The two rival patriotic organizations, the D. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps, G. A. R. auxiliary, have contended with every legislature for the adoption of their designs.

WOMEN'S FASHIONS OF 1925
TRACED TO STONE AGE ARTIST
Rotherham, England.—That there is little new under the sun, even with regard to women's fashions,
was pointed out by Ethert Brand, curator of the museum here in the course of a recent lecture. Referring to an illustration of women dancers on the walls of a Spanish cave, he said these palaeolithic belles were very near to the present day women with their high hats, chignons, tight waists and bell-shaped skirts.
These cave pictures were probably the earliest fashion plates in the world, and were drawn about 20,000 years ago, declared Mr. Brand.
Another illustration from Spain showed a costume very much akin to that of the modern flapper.
