FACTS WILL BRING PERMANENT PEACE

Owen D. Young, member of the Committee of Experts which formulated the Dawes Plan and saw it through to successful conclusion, is continuing his voluntary work in the interest of world peace and prosperity. Mr. Young is now president of the Board of Trustees of the Endowment Fund to be raised for the establishment at Johns Hopkins University of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations.

These trustees are seeking $1,000,000 from the American public for the establishment of this school—the first of its kind in the world—an organized unit for research and for a scientific development of facts in the field of international relations. It is the belief of these trustees that only by such practical steps can future international misunderstandings be averted. In an address on this subject, Mr. Young said:

"We desire to outlaw war. Not so long ago we desired to outlaw the yellow fever. We desired to outlaw typhoid. We desired to outlaw diphtheria. We desired to shake off the enervating shackles of the hookworm. The plague and yellow fever, typhoid and diphtheria, the hookworm and malaria are outlawed in the world today. You all know the dramatic story. The patient research worker in his laboratory, seeking facts, building theories and testing them by experiments, showing not only devotion to his work, but frequently a self-sacrifice which led to his death, came through victor. The practicing physicians, who are the administrators of medicine, adopted the fruits of that research, and today these diseases for the most part exist no more. Science blazed the way for the administrator to follow.

"So with war. It is not enough to have Government departments of administration. It is not enough to have an industry of foreign relations. We must supply a science, a systematic body of things known, if we desire to make our aspirations for peace effective. Our course is ignorance. Facts are our scarcest raw material. This is shown by the economy with which we use them.

"A great body of information must be created and mobilized in some single place about all the other questions which affect international relations. The men who do this research work will become experts in international problems. Some of them will continue their service in pure research as a life career. Others will be teachers of the science. Others will be drafted into the Government service. The Page School will, therefore, achieve three things. First, it will develop a science of international relations. Second, it will ascertain the facts, so far as they can be found, on any particular problem, and third, it will produce a continually growing body of men trained in that science and available for service in the fields of education, Government and business. Our contracts with the world at every point should show more conductivity and less useless sparking.

"We invite associates and partners. Let no American who has a desire for peace in his heart fail to contribute the practical tools to make peace an accomplishment. We should like subscriptions to be widespread—a share in the enterprise costs each man what he can afford for such a purpose, and his share is equal to that of every other. Some day the list of stockholders will be presented to the President of the United States with the request that it be filled in the permanent archives of the Department of State as evidence of the desire and intent of the American people to aid their Government with a science of international relations. That is to say, by a systematic body of things known about the complex causes of goodwill and illwill between the nations of the world."

Praises Work of Judge Albion Dunn

The following letter written by a prominent Wilmington attorney to a member of the Pitt County Bar praising the manner in which Judge Albion Dunn conducted his first term of court in Burgaw last week will be read with interest by citizens of this community who are proud of the honor that has been bestowed upon one of our fellow townsmen:

Wilmington, N. C.,
 March 27, 1925.

Colonel Harry Skinner, Greenville, N. C., My dear Colonel:

I had the pleasure of appearing before our friend the new judge, Honorable Albion Dunn, and tried a very important and somewhat complicated case before him on Wednesday and Thursday.

I was unable to be in court on Monday and Tuesday and this was first time I saw him preside, and I want to say to you that he was the very manner and deportment of a Judge, who administers justice with an even hand and equable temper—indeed, he looks and acts like one of the best of the veterans.

In the taking of the testimony, he was alert and seemed to me to have a clear conception of the rules of evidence as expounded by our courts, and ruled without hesitation, though patient and attentive when counsel desired to argue a point.

His charge to the jury in this railroad case, which was an action for damages for injury resulting in death at a railroad crossing, was intelligent in that it was made for the purpose of aiding the jury in coming to a sound conclusion, and I think presented the applicable rules of law and the contentions of counsel with great force and lucidity.

I think the bar of Pitt has bestowed a great boon upon the profession of the State in inducing Brother Dunn to take the position. I bespeak for him a distinguished future.

Sincerely yours,
 GEO. ROUNTREE.

Grifton Wins Dual Debate With Bethel

The triangle debate consisting of the schools of Farmville, Bethel and Grifton was reduced to a dual debate by the withdrawal of Farmville. Prof. E. R. Rankin of Chapel Hill then suggested that Bethel and Grifton fight it out. So, at Grifton the affirmative ride of the query, Resolved That North Carolina should ratify the port terminal and water transportation act, was upheld by Dannie Mercer Wiggins and Bruton Mumford of Grifton, while James Smith and Emily Clyde Hooker of Bethel, defended the negative. At Bethel Hubert Burroughs and Harold Cuthrell upheld the affirmative, the negative side of the query was defended by Jean Harvey and Frances Patrick. The judges at Grifton were Mayor D. M. Clark and Miss Brinkley, of Greenville, and Attorney K. A. Pittman, of Ayden. Prof. H. E. Austin and Prof. Deal, of Eastern Carolina Teachers College, and Dr. Paul Fitzgerald of Greenville, served as judges at Bethel.

The debaters from both schools made an excellent showing however, the Grifton debaters had the edge on their opponents and emerged victorious from both encounters. The Grifton teams will go to Chapel Hill and debate for the Aycock Memorial Cup on April the Ninth and tenth. The public is indebted to the debaters of both teams for an exceedingly interesting and instructive discussion on a live question.

NOTES ON TARHEELIA

Bonds in the sum of $85,000,000 have been voted by North Carolina to improve its public highway system. Of this, $50,000,000 was voted in 1921, $15,000,000 in 1923 and $20,000,000 in 1925.

Pecans are raised with profit in many North Carolina counties. The exhibit furnished by the State Department of Agriculture took first prize in the contest staged by the National Pomological Congress in 1915. North Carolina has the highest mountain peak east of the Mississippi river—Mount Mitchell, 6,711 feet above sea level. There are several other peaks in the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina nearly as high as Mount Mitchell.

There has not been a lynching in North Carolina since 1921. On numerous occasions since then state troops have been used to prevent possible disorder. Mobbers have never made a demonstration when troops were ordered out.

Chapin: It seems advisable to hold off from making any new purchases for the present, while on the other hand, it might well be to further reduce any speculative holdings on ralwent to college and this class in its first year in College made the remarkable record of passing 95 per cent of its work. This news is contained in the report of the Secretary of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools made public last week. Only three members of the class failed on any subject, and each one of these three failed two subjects each, making a total of only six for the whole class. There were two failures in English, one in French, one in mathematics one in Science and one in Home Economics.

There were only five other public High Schools in the state whose class made a better record than Greenville's, and the figures show that none of these schools, save one, which made a better record than Greenville had as high a percentage of graduates to enter college. The percentage average for the whole state was 87.8.

Therefore, Greenville with 95 is away out in front. The following table gives the figures for some of the nearby towns:

Wilson	80 per cent
Tarboro	88 per cent
Smithfield	91 per cent
Rocky Mount	85 per cent
Raleigh	84 per cent
Kinston	93 per cent
Goldboro	91 per cent
Washington	93 per cent
Farmville	93 per cent
Greenville	95 per cent

"Miss Kenly" In Eastern Carolina Exposition

Kenly, N. C., March 25. — Miss Nell Hardison who will represent Kenly in the Beauty Queen's contest to be held in connection with the Eastern Carolina Exposition at Smithfield, N. C., April 13-18, is a distinct blonde in type of beauty.
Possessing a personality that is refreshing, a poise which is an asset, and those large, open frank features of countenance that win the confidence. Miss Hardison has a large circle of friends who will watch with keen interest and enthusiasm her progress in the contest. If your town does not have a queen whom you are supporting you will not err in casting your vote for "Miss Ken-ly," who will speak for herself when she appears in The Exposition.
Miss Hardison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hardison and is widely known over North Carolina.
