NOTORIOUS BANDIT IS FOUND GUILTY MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE

Gerald Chapman, Sentenced to Be Hanged on June 25; When Asked if He Had Anything to Say Replied, "I Have Nothing to Say"

Hartford, Conn., April 4.—Gerald Chapman, spectacular mail bandit, jail breaker, and criminal extraordinary, today was sentenced to hang in the Connecticut State Prison on June 25, in payment for the life of a New Britain policeman, of whose murder last October the 12th a jury convicted him today.

Chapman, the criminal whose flaming misdeeds have made him a notorious figure, did not flinch nor falter as his doom descended upon him. With his arms folded across his breast and his body held stiffly erect, he listened to the judge's words, which marked his doom, with only a flushed face to show his emotion.

The ever vigilant guards pressed closely about Chapman as he was led before the judge's high bench for sentence. The prisoner, his face slightly flushed, folded arms, and with his head erect, stared direct to the jury. The customary question, if he had anything to say, was asked, and Chapman answered in clear tones, "I have nothing to say."

"The sentence of the court," Judge Jennings proceeded, "is that you, Gerald Chapman, forthwith be taken to the State's Prison at Wether Field, and there confined until June 25, 1925, when before sun rise on that day you shall be hanged by the neck until you are dead."

The prisoner's gaze fell. That with the flush that mantled his cheeks was his only evidence of emotion. The prisoner immediately, snatched, hustled through the prisoner's penitentiary, into the basement, and into an automobile, which speeded him back to the prison at Wether Field. There he was returned to the cell that he has occupied since the United States Government "loaned" him to the state of Connecticut to go on trial for his life.

Hartford, Conn., April 4.—Gerald Chapman today was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the slaying of a New Britain policeman last October 12. The jury had been out a few minutes more than eleven hours when it announced it had arrived at a verdict.

Chapman standing in the prisoner's dock in the court room, gave no evidence of emotion as the clerk read the verdict handed to him by the foreman of the jury.

Frederick J. Groehl, chief of Chapman's counsel, previously had announced that he would file an appeal if Chapman was convicted.

The verdict means death on the gallows for the bandit, who had been searched for by the police of a dozen countries at various times. The Connecticut law provides that a person decreed guilty of first degree murder must be hanged. After dismissing the jury, and congratulating the jurors on reaching "this verdict, which I believe is a just verdict," Judge Jennings recessed court for a half hour in order that the defense might prepare its motion to set aside the verdict.

State prosecutor Alcorn, asked Judge Jennings to immediately pronounce sentence on Chapman, but the jurist said he first would dispose of the defense motion to set aside the verdict.

Doubtful if Capital Levy Scheme Will Succeed in Chamber

Paris, France, April 4.—There is a lull in the political atmosphere pending resumption of activities of the Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday, but the prospects of Premier Herriot does not seem to improve. His capital levy scheme, which he explained to a meeting of the Radical group, should be spread over the number of years, and fall as much as possible on existing wealth, and not on wealth in course of accumulation, does not appear to find much more favor with the Senate than the idea of currency inflation, and it is doubtful that such a scheme will succeed in the Chamber.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF KU KLUX KLAN ATTACKS WOMAN

Daniel C. Stevenson Is Under Bond of $25,000; Woman in a Serious Condition

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4.—Physicians were hopeful today that the blood transfusion resorted to yesterday in an effort to save the life of the 28 year old woman, who is said to be in a dying condition as a result of an attack by Daniel C. Stevenson, former Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan would be successful. She has been unconscious since Thursday night. Stevenson, who is under indictment for assault and battery with intent to kill, malicious mayhem, conspiracy to commit a felony, and kidnapping, is at liberty under a bond of $25,000. The young woman's injuries were declared to have been aggravated by poison which she is said to have taken in an attempt to commit suicide, following the attack, which according to the indictment, took place on a train en route to Hammond, Indiana.

REWARD OFFERED FOR ASSAILANTS OF JOE NEEDLEMAN

Gov. McLean Ignores Sheriff Martin County in Offering Reward; Advises Solicitor to Have Special Deputies Sworn in Raleigh, April 4.—Taking cognizance of reports, which he said had reached him to the effect that Sheriff Robeson, of Martin county, was not exerting himself to the utmost in the case, Governor McLean has authorized Solicitor Don Gilliam of the district, if necessary, to have special deputies sworn in before a justice of the peace to aid him in his search for the men who took Joseph A. Needleman from the Martin county jail last Sunday and operated on him. Needleman was confined to the jail on a charge of attacking a white girl.

The Governor offered a reward of $400 for every member of the mob captured and delivered to the State's prison. While not expressing any opinion as to whether Sheriff Robeson was neglecting his duties in the Needleman case, the Executive stated that Solicitor Gilliam was fully capable of attending to the situation, and would know what would be the best course to follow.

BOUSHALL ENTERS SUIT VS. NEWS AND OBSERVER, OTHERS

Suit Filed by John H. Boushall, Charges Liabel and Asks for $100,000 Actual and Punitive Damages

Raleigh, April 4.—A suit charging liabel and asking $100,000 actual and punitive damages, was filed this afternoon by John H. Boushall against the Raleigh News and Observer; George A. Norwood, president of the Tri-state Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association; Robert A. Arnold, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, of Columbia, S. C.; the Tri-state Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association, and the North Carolina Agricultural Credits Corporation.

The suit was the outcome of certain articles alleged to have been published by the paper and certain information said to have been furnished by the other defendants, which tendered to reflect on the character of Boushall, who was formerly an employee of the agricultural Credits Corporation, and who submitted his resignation a few days ago. It was alleged that the defendant, the News and Observer, was advised that its facts as published were incorrect, and was asked to correct them, but that no retraction was forth coming in the opinion of the plaintiff. The other defendants are alleged to have furnished information, which was of a private nature, and which reflected on the character of the plaintiff.

Boushall, along with A. E. Bing, had held office in the Agricultural Credits Corporation, and both resigned after a meeting of the board of directors of the organization is said to have urged such action when the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, of Columbia, refused to give the corporation further credit until its internal affairs were settled.

Below: MARSHAL VON HINDENBURG & COL. CHARLES FORBES.

The private car of Geraldine Farrar, noted diva, was searched by customs officials as she reached Rouses Point on her way back from Canada, and certain bottles seized. No arrests were made. Members of her party said the bottles contained "near beer," and not champagne. Answering attacks by Labor papers in England for "having social ambitions" when she lost her $5,000 necklace, Mrs. David Lloyd George, wife of the former Premier, declared the pearls were bought singly with money her husband made from writing for newspapers and added that they were not "worth one fiftieth of the gift Ramsay MacDonald accepted from capitalist friends." The Empire bloc in Germany is grooming Field Marshal von Hindenburg as its candidate in the final Presidential elections on April 26th. Doctors in Boston announce that even if he recovers Col. Charles H. Forbes, convicted former head of the Veterans' Bureau, will be dumb as the result of paralysis.

Purchase Tractor Upkeep Greenville's Dirt Streets

The Board of Aldermen met in regular session on Thursday night, April 2, with the principal matters being disposed of as follows.

Petition for curb and gutter on Charles street from 8th to 9th street was presented. Investigation disclosed that a sufficient number of property owners had signed the petition, a considerable portion of whom had agreed to pay cash. Motion unanimously adopted ordering that said curb and gutter be put in under the same contract awarded McGee Construction Co., for curb and gutter on 8th street.

Petition for sewer on 4th street, first block west of Rotary Avenue, was approved and motion adopted referring same to Sewer Committee with power to act.

Ordinance unanimously adopted providing that no streets be accepted or maintained and no water, lights, sewer or pavement be extended to or placed in any sub-division within the Town of Greenville, unless the plan of same showing proposed street intersections, etc., be first submitted to the Board of Aldermen and accepted by the Board of Aldermen. The purpose of this ordinance being to prevent off-sets and blocking in existing streets by the sale of lots where said streets would project if extended into the proposed sub-division.

Literary Contests Under Auspices of Kiwanis Club Will Be Held at 10 O'clock at the Teachers College

The Fourth Annual Pitt County School Meet will be held in Greenville, Monday, April 6. Plans perfected by Mr. Fitzgerald, County Superintendent and Miss Brogdon, county supervisor, indicate that this will be the largest and most successful of any county meet held in Pitt county. This statement carries with it the assurance that this day will be one of the outstanding days in the educational life of the county. The morning exercises will begin at ten o'clock and will be held in the administration building of the East Carolina Teachers College. The program will consist of a speech by Hon. Nat Townsend of Dunn, and of fourteen literary contests and four extra curricula contests. The afternoon program will consist of a great variety of athletic contests and will begin at 2 o'clock at the Fair Grounds.

Some idea may be had of the interest taken in this meet from the following facts:

There will be 363 contestants entered in the literary contest, and 143 contestants in the extra curricula contest. These extra curricula contests consist of rhythmic play, dramatization, singing contests, and interpretation of poems. Literary contests are in written composition and reading.

Five hundred and six entries is sufficient proof of the very keen interest that is taken in this meet by the pupils of the Pitt county schools. The program is sponsored by the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Greenville. The Kiwanis Club sponsoring the morning program and the Rotary Club the afternoon program. Friends and patrons of the schools have hitherto attended these meets in large numbers, and a larger crowd is expected Monday than any of the previous meets have drawn.

The people of Greenville who are interested in the school work are not only invited, but are urged to attend both the morning and afternoon exercises. A meet of this kind is one means of estimating the value of some of the things that are being done in our public schools.

N. C. Baptist Women's Missionary Union to Meet in Raleigh

Raleigh, April 4.—The North Carolina Baptist Women's Missionary Union, at its meeting in Winston-Salem, voted to meet next year in Raleigh. Registration at the Winston-Salem meeting, exclusive of pastors and other visitors, totaled 611 delegates. Mrs. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh, was re-elected president; Mrs. R. N. Simms, of Raleigh, and Mrs. F. D. Lethco, of Charlotte, vice-presidents, and Miss Mary Warren, of Raleigh, corresponding secretary and mission study superintendent.

Mental Condition of Girl Murderer Not Yet Settled

San Francisco, April 4.—Dorothy Ellington, who confessed that she killed her mother, today enjoyed a respite from the strain of court proceedings which she has attended since Tuesday. Alienists for the defense have testified that she is not sane. While the court, which is sitting with the jury to rule on the girl's sanity was in recess psychiatrists, and attorneys retained by her were perfecting plans to procure a verdict that she is lacking in normal mental balance. The same opportunity was taken by experts of the state to formulate plans to indicate that she should be found responsible for her actions and should be tried on a murder charge.

ADVERTISING AIDS BOTH

Duck eggs are as edible as the egg of the chicken and are much larger, but there is no market for duck eggs. The explanation for this as given by the advertising man is that every time a chicken lays an egg she cackles all over the barnyard, proclaiming her product to the world, but the duck lays her egg in seclusion and makes no noise about it.

Business is like the egg. Some merchants advertise their goods and sell them. Other merchants do no advertising and, consequently, little business. The wise merchant, when he receives a shipment of goods which he knows the public wants, does not whisper the event down a bottomless well. He comes boldly forth in the newspaper pages and heralds his wares. When the general store filled every mercantile need in the embryo communities there may not have been much need for advertising. Only the bare necessities were obtainable, and the consumer had only the general store at which to obtain them. All that has been changed. There has been specialization in business just as there has been in labor, the professions and industry and specialization has brought competition and expansion.

The inevitable outcome of the evolution, or revolution, of business has been the realization by both merchant and customer that advertising is as necessary to modern business as service. In fact, the consistent advertising of its goods in the newspaper is a part of the service of every modern store which aims to serve the public. — Wisconsin State Journal.

POLICE COURT

Jno. H. Heath, giving bad check. Allowed to pay check and cost of the action.

J. H. Rowthrope, blocking traffic, paid the cost.

D. O. Newland, charged with driving auto without exhaust muffled. Paid the cost.

R. M. Jeffries, dog at large, paid the cost.

Joe Brady, driving without exhaust muffled. Paid the cost.

J. N. Jackson, speeding, $10 and cost.

After disposing of the foregoing docket, the mayor in a talk to the police officers, stated that there was entirely too much laxity in the manner in which people were driving and displaying lights, mentioning the stopping and parking on the wrong side of the streets in the business sections, the cutting of corners, and the utter disregard of the bright light ordinance, and the tendency of some people as the weather turns warmer, to speed. He also again directed attention to the dog and chicken ordinances, stating that there was more complaint from people all over town about the running at large of chickens and dogs, than all other complaints combined. Said he, there are some people who live within the law of their own accord, but there are others who have to be made to respect laws which are made for the protection of all alike, and those people who disregard the rights of their neighbors and fellow citizens, have to be dealt with, no matter how unpleasant it might be, therefore, if you officers find that warnings do not stop these petty violations, bring them before the court on a warrant.

Upon inquiry of the Mayor as to what the police officers had accomplished in their investigation of false fire alarms, he was informed that strong suspicion pointed to three boys (young) of Greenville, sons of prominent citizens, who while riding in their father's cars at night would turn in false alarms. The chief stated that the evidence as yet would not justify the swearing out of warrants, as the parties who knew the identity of the culprits, refused to divulge their names or give evidence, stating however, that if the offense was repeated on another false alarm went in that the names and evidence would be furnished. The mayor thereupon directed the officers to do all possible to obtain evidence as to the parties turning in these alarms and bring them before the court, and that conviction, no matter who defendant happened to be would draw the maximum sentence within his power to impose. That this offense is a serious crime and that while some may consider it a boyish prank, it is capable of causing tremendous property damage, and even loss of life, as there is a certain amount of hazard connected with every response to a fire alarm the truck drivers and firemen have to take as well as traffic on the streets, and aside from this every time the truck goes out in response to an alarm, it costs the tax payers of the town from $25 to $50. Therefore he appealed to the citizens of Greenville from the standpoint of public duty which they owe to the town and to their fellow citizens, to assist in every way possible in apprehending and convicting any person or persons who deliberately turn in false fire alarms.

Directors of State Fair Will Meet to Discuss Fall Fair

Raleigh, April 3.—The directors of the State Fair will meet in the office of the Governor Monday, to determine upon the policy of the fair for the coming October. These directors were appointed under the re-organization plan voted by the 1925 general assembly. The Governor was authorized to appoint two, the Commissioner of Agriculture two and the mayor of the city of Raleigh two, besides those named at the instance of D. Max Gardner, president of the State Fair. Mr. Gardner deferred to the North Carolina Agricultural Society at its last meeting and permitted the Society to name those he was privileged to name.

At the meeting Monday it is expected that details incident to the 1925 State Fair will be worked out.

AIRPLANES AID RANCHERS TO INSPECT GAZING HERDS

Buenos Aires.—Some of the ranches of the Argentine pampas are so large that it takes an all-day trip on horseback for the owner to ride from one boundary to another or to visit a neighbor. But several of these ranch owners no longer need to take these long, tiresome trips, for they are riding now on the wings of the wind, having purchased airplanes to take them where they want to go.

One ranch is equipped with a hangar containing three airplanes, one for the owner, and one each for his two sons. They use them not only to fly around the ranch to inspect their herds of cattle, but into Buenos Aires where they have a town house. They do not have to worry about landing places for the pampas is as level as a billiard table. A dozen private airplanes are thus in use on the pampas, according to Ricard Aldao, president of the Argentine Aero Club, and other ranches soon will be similarly equipped.

SEADOGS OF DANZIG SLOW TO ENDORSE ROTOR VESSELS

Danzig.—Shipping experts are reluctant to pass judgment on the recent trip of the rotorship Buckau from this port to Scotland. They say the Buckau is so small, and the rotor substitute for sails so new, that long experimentation with larger ships will be necessary to test the commercial value of the new invention. Nevertheless the speed of the Buckau from Danzig to Grangemouth is regarded as satisfactory, in comparison with the average speed of sailing ships of the same size over a similar distance. The memory of old clippers which crossed the Atlantic from Boston to Liverpool in 12 or 13 days will not fade from the minds of shipping men who still look back with favor upon the great old sailing ships which were making records in the middle of last century, when sailing was in its glory. It is clear that the old-timers do not care to have it intimated that revolving steel towers will ever rival the romantic rigging of the old clippers, even if they do bring about economy in operation and lower freight rates.

A SURPRISE MARRIAGE.

Wilson, April 4.—Miss Elizabeth Pasience Sugg, the popular daughter of Mrs. Turner Bynum Sugg, gave her friends the surprise of their lives yesterday when her mother announced her marriage on the 22nd of March to Mr. Sam Turnage, of Greenville, a member of a prominent family of that city, and now with the firm of Sugg and Bridgers, electricians, of Wilson, of which Miss Libby, as she is called by her friends, is one of the directors and managers.

The ceremony was quietly performed at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. Harden, pastor of the Greenville church, and the happy couple came to Wilson and intended to keep their marriage a secret for a long time but it leaked out. They are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

The members of the Young People's Service League of St. Paul's Episcopal church, met in their regular places at 6:30 Sunday, March the 29.

We opened our meeting with the hymn, "Jesus Calls Us Over the Tumbult." After which the collect for the day and the Lord's prayer were read. Then the leader for the evening took as her subject "Communion." This celebration was compared with the celebration of the Fourth of July. And after a short talk by the leader and questions asked concerning the subject Little Miss Charlotte Butner read two poems "Say You can and You Can," "Say You Can't and You Can't." There were enjoyed very much.

The roll and minutes of the last meeting were read and then with a closing hymn and the motto we closed our meeting. We were very glad to have Master Howard Wilson as a visitor and we extend a cordial invitation to every one.

Scouts of Troop 2 Delight Big Audience "A Scout Dream"

That the Scout of today can hold his own with the Scout of yesterday was clearly demonstrated last night by the performance of Troop Two's original play "A Scout Dream" in the High School auditorium. The play which was given to a house which had to hang out the S. E. O. sign made a hit not only with the parents and friends of the scouts who were present but with the little folks who were there in great numbers. Members of the troop were especially gratified at the number of Scouts who attended from Washington, Williamston, Ayden and other nearby towns under the Pamphico Council.

Out of the number of acts offered it would be difficult to determine which was most appreciated as the juvenile actors were applauded impartially. The numbers offered by Troop Two's Japanese acrobats were of especial interest to the crowd, however, as their work on the parallel bars was unusually clever and their pyramid building was a real novelty. The boys had been trained by Mr. Hull for this one event and the results justified all the time he had spent on the training. Other acts ran the acrobats a close second for popular approval as Indians, settlers, clowns, minstrels, and comedians did splendid work. While every member of the cast is a member of the troop, dainty maids and fond mothers parts were taken by the boy in their work, with equal success. Mr. John Wilcox, Scout Executive, made a short talk between acts in which he encouraged the boys.

Troop Two wishes to express its appreciation of the many favors shown the organization in its effort to put on this, its first dramatic attempt.

The cast was as follows:

The Bugler, Glenn Robeson; The Mother, Sam Underwood; The Father, Billy Brown; The Scout, Edward Ferguson; Daniel Boone, Jack Tripp; An Indian Lover, Archie Sugg; An Indian Maid, Jake Skinner. (The music—Indian Love Calls from "Rose Marie.") A Cherokee Chieftain, Ronald Palmer; Indian Scouts, Geo. Coppedge, Troy Burnette; A Settler, P. T. Anthony; Cactus Joe, Charles Whedbee; A Guard, Hoover Taft; A Mother, Harry B. Smith; Her Baby, Ed. Anthony; Indian Calls, Lonnie Doughty, Withers Harvey, Settlers—Scouts Edwards, Wilson, Bostic, Norman, Dixon, Forbes, Deal, John Wilcox; Signal Men, Scouts S. Harvey, House, Atkinson, Ren-

Harvey, "The Star Spangled Banner." The Business Staff—Director, Mr. J. M. Hull; Stage manager, M. Hearne; Chief Electrician, S. Underwood; Stage Electrician, W. Harvey; Property man, W. Hearne; Curtain, C. Hearne. Ushers—Harry Perkins, Zack Van Dyke, John Mason, Francis Curry, Carey Mayo, Van Station, Charles Wilkinson, William Wright. The Band—James Wilson, Bruce Sugg, Troy Burnette, Glenn Robeson, Archie Sugg, Jack Tripp, Charles Forbes, Withers Harvey, James Moyer.

Indians—Scouts Roberson, Willard, Paul Hatem, S. Hatem, Johnston, Garner, B. Sugg, Mumford. A side-show Spieler, Billy Brown; Door-men, James Wilson; A Negro Dancer, James Johnson. Troop Two takes special pride in introducing the following fun-makers Jack Tripp (assisted by James Boyce Edwards and Ralph Deal) in "Base Ball a la Solitaire."

Frank Johnston and James Brewer in "Minstrel Memories." James Brewer and Clayton Davis in "Feats of Professional Contortionists." Sam Underwood and Bruce Sugg in a two-minute comedy, "His First Knockout." Edward Thomas and Clifford Bostic in "Moving-picture Slow-Motion Wrestling." And finally Troop Two's Own Japanese Acrobats, Robeson, E. Anthony, P. T. Anthony, Wright, Palmer, Ferguson, Station, Mayo, Whedbee, Smith, A. Sugg, W. Harvey. (Under the personal direction of Mr. Hull).

Two songsters (assisted by entire troop) Skinner and Smith; Angel Child, Billy Brown; His Mother, James Moyer; His Father, Joe Dixon; The Dago and the Monk, Hadley and Sugg; "Excuse Me," Anthony and Smith. The Initiates, Billy Norman, Frank Johnston, Joe Dixon, C. Forbes, Paul Hatem, Edward Harris, Ed. Anthony. The Scout Executive, Mr. Bostic, Norman, Dixon, Forbes, Deal, John Wilcox; Signal Men, Scouts S. Harvey, House, Atkinson, Ren-

Harvey, "The Star Spangled Banner." The Business Staff—Director, Mr. J. M. Hull; Stage manager, M. Hearne; Chief Electrician, S. Underwood; Stage Electrician, W. Harvey; Property man, W. Exide BATTERIES

Doing the Work of Six Men

Go into a big industrial plant or railway station today and you will see little electric trucks, like ants, bearing huge weights many times their own size. One such truck, propelled by a tireless Exide Battery, often does the work of six men.

Exides are used the world over to save labor and make life more enjoyable.

The Exide in your car relieves you of the task of cranking the engine. It lights your path and furnishes the electric spark for the powerful explosion in the cylinders.

Experience in making batteries for every purpose since the dawn of the storage battery industry is built into the Exide for your car.

When you need a new battery or when your present battery—no matter what make—needs repairing, let us help you.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, La.—As yet, as in most other speculative markets, the cotton market remains unsettled and depressed by reason of disappointing trade advices and because of the economic and political crises in France. Next week the market will likely be dominated by climatic developments in the Southwest, where more rain is needed almost everywhere in these two important cotton producing states, and by developments over the week-end in France, also, perhaps, by the expected monthly report of sales of fertilizer sales in the cotton states to close of March, returns of which will likely show larger sales, compared with last year, than did returns to end of February. Sales for 7 months, to the close of February, were 1,017,300 tons against 1,416,346 tons for corresponding period last year.

While the optimistic new crop advices from the Central and Eastern portions of the belt serve as an offset so far to the drooth in the Southwest, exports from the United States promise to continue to exceed shipments after this date one year ago, and while Europe is receiving more than its full quota of raw cotton for the season, the continuance of liberal shipments from America tends to strengthen the statistical position of the staple in the United States.

While he stock in the United States at 29 counted interior towns and at the ports is larger than last year, much of this cotton is earmarked for export and shipment to domestic mills, and notwithstanding last years crop to have been about 14,500,000 bales including linters vs. -0,985,000 year before last, there remains to be marketed slightly less than was on hand in the interior at this time one year ago.

Exports from the United States already are running on the basis of about 8,000,000 bales for the season vs. 5,058,000 last season and spinners takings are running on a basis for the season of 13,258,000 bales vs. 11,042,000 last season.

Memorial for Jewish Patriot

PROPOSED SOLOMON MEMORIAL

One hundred and fifty-three years ago, a young Polish Jew came to America. He had just successfully started in the banking business when the Revolution began. Haim Solomon allied himself with the Colonists and arranged for them a loan of $1,000,000—a huge sum in those days. Although a later Congress appropriated money to repay the loan, his heirs refused to accept the money. Now a memorial to his honor is to be erected in New York City, and five models have been submitted. This one is by Bernard Gordon.

Senator Borah to Speak in Charlotte During Pageant

Charlotte, April 4.—Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, has accepted the invitation extended him to speak during the pageant here, May 18-22, and President Coolidge is expected to attend. In that event, the celebration would be the pretentious of its kind ever held in the South. About a decade ago President Wilson attended a May 20 celebration here, and, up to that time, this was the most outstanding observance of that date ever staged here. However, this year's celebration, being coincident with the sesqui-centennial of the Mecklenburg Declaration, will be conducted on a much larger scale than any previous celebration. Taking this into consideration, the visit of the President would give it far-reaching prominence.

Howard Southgate, graduate of the drama department of the Carnegie Institute of Technology and active director in Little Theater work in various cities, is due to arrive in Charlotte next week to start putting on rehearsals for the pageant. The pageant will be staged in open air. A mammoth theater is now being constructed in Independence Park. There will be five nights devoted to the celebration—May 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22.

The pageant drama was written by Dr. Thomas Wood Stevens, of the Art Institute of Chicago, who selected Mr. Southgate to do the directing in connection with T. Beverley Campbell, another assistant of Dr. Stevens. Both directors have had considerable experience in pageantry, having individually or collectively, assisted Dr. Stevens in some of the most extensive community dramas ever staged in America.

NOTES ON TARHEELIA

The Atlantic and North Carolina railroad was chartered by the general assembly in 1852, duration of the charter being ninety-nine years.

by North Carolina publishers who employ their own equipment in operation is $4,522,531, a considerable number of publications being printed by contract. One thousand, seven hundred and eighty six persons are employed in plant operations, and their total compensation per year amounts to $2,584,551.

There are twenty judicial districts in North Carolina—twenty regular judges and twenty solicitors, all elected by the people.

Radio Fans Pay Taxes Berlin. — Thirteen million gold marks, about 3,000,000, flow into the coffers of the German postoffice department annually in the form of radio license fees. There are now 550,000 radio subscribers, each paying two marks, almost 50 cents, a month for the privilege of listening in. To set up a radio without a license is punishable by fine.
