48 LOSE LIVES WHEN JAPANESE FREIGHTER SINKS

Two Steamships and Two Tugs Speeded to Rescue But Arrive Too Late to Save the "Rai-fuku Maru"

New York, April 21.—48 men lost their lives today when the Japanese freighter Rai-fuku Maru sank off Nova Scotia, wireless from the steamship Homeric informed the White Star Line officials this afternoon. "Regret unable to save life," was the brief report of Captain John Robert of the Homeric to the line office. Two steamships and two ocean-going tugs were speeded to the rescue of the crew, but the freighter went down before any of them could reach the distressed vessel in time to effect a rescue.

New York, April 21.—The East Hampton Station of Independent Wireless Company, today reported the Japanese steamship, Rai-fuku Maru, in distress south of Halifax. A S. O. S. shortly before eight o'clock this morning said the ship was listing 30 degrees, and that all life boats had been crushed in a storm.

The Captain of the Japanese vessel asked for quick assistance. The Homeric of the White Star Line reported that she was within 70 miles of the ship at 8 o'clock. The King Alexander, of the National Greek Steam Navigation Company also answered the call. The disabled vessel is loaded with wheat and carries a crew of about 60 men.

Washington, April 21.—The steamship Homeric reported today through navy wireless that she was along side the disabled Japanese steamship Rai-fuku Maru, which was said to be in a sinking condition off Cape Sable.

Judge F. M. Wooten Conducts Y. W. C. A. Services at College

Judge F. M. Wooten conducted the Y. W. C. A. services of East Carolina Teachers College Sunday evening. He made a very interesting talk on "Wisdom," saying that the foundation of the United States was built on a constitution, and that the Bible is the constitution of the world, in which there are many mysteries that must be studied. He further stated that wisdom is great; but understanding is greater, although, a student must have both. Those puzzling problems upon which our salvation depends, we are told, are not all understood but must be studied. The fact that there are so many wars is because a nation makes an effort to reach out for new things, and there must be a conflict because of the lack of wisdom and understanding. He stressed the fact that though we are imperfect, we should try to acquire this understanding.

AWAIT OUTCOME OF DEBT FUNDING CONVERSATIONS

French Debt to America Shall Have Same Treatment as That to Great Britain

Washington, April 21.—As the government begins war debt funding conversations with one of the nations among the group of smaller debtors, Treasury officers are watching the course of indicating negotiations at London, regarding the French debt to Great Britain, with the avowed attitude that France's debt to the United States shall be accorded equal condition by the French Government.

In discussing the foreign debt situation incident to the announcement that "one of the smaller debtors" had begun conversation looking to a funding settlement, the Treasury office stated plainly yesterday that the Washington Government had no intention of informing France formally of its attitude, but that apparently had no hesitancy in permitting it to become known through other channels to European statesmen. It was pointed out that precisely the same purpose had been voiced on behalf of Great Britain by Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, during the period of conversation here before Ambassador Jusserand, and Secretary Mellon.

PAINLEVE PRESENTS HIS MINISTERIAL DECLARATION TODAY

"Real Security for France" One of Principal Points; Declares Country "Will Look Facts in the Face"

Paris, April 21.—The ultimate imposing of drastic financial measures, maintenance of the embassy at the Vatican, and pacification of internal descension, but above all, real security for France, were the principal points in the ministerial declaration of the Painleve Cabinet read before the houses of Parliament this afternoon. "France has had a bitter disillusionment," the statement declared. "But is determined to look the facts in the face."

The statement appealed to the "National Concord," with reference to finances, as well as to the religious question.

A tumult in the Chamber of Deputies—absolute silence in the Senate, when the great ministerial declaration was read this afternoon, after several hours of feverish consultation by the cabinet, and last minute changes in the document.

In the chamber there was boing and cheering. Finance Minister, Caillaux, was greeted with cries of "Bolo, Bolo," a reference to an executed war time traitor, Bolo Pasha, with whom the Caillaux at one time was accused of association. Order was finally restored, and Premier Painleve continued the reading amidst impressive silence.

Regarding the finances the Premier declared: "When we succeeded finally and definitely in balancing the budget so it can not be questioned, we will take the state out of the role of banker, which it has been made to fill. Then we will be obliged to ask big sacrifices of the nation. We shall appeal to all citizens in the atmosphere of National Concord."

The statement said France would maintain all her present treaties and pursue the execution of the Dawes plan, at the same time as it handled the settlement of the inter allied war debts.

PILGREEN ADMITS HE KILLED MOORE ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Jesse Pilgreen, Negro, Will Be Given Hearing Tomorrow on the Charge of Murder in First Degree

Jesse Pilgreen, negro, of the Pacolous section was on yesterday arrested by Coroner S. G. Wilkerson on a charge of killing Sam Moore, negro, on Sunday night, and is in jail awaiting trial tomorrow. On the way to jail he confessed to Mr. Wilkerson, who immediately carried him to his office and had him sign the confession, before placing him in jail.

According to information and the confession Jesse Pilgreen accompanied by Frank Little went to the home of James Moore, Sunday night to call on "their sweethearts." While they were there another negro named Sam Moore passed, in an intoxicated condition, and called James Moore to the gate to give him a drink. In the meantime Pilgreen and Little started for home and in passing the gate, Sam Moore cursed at Pilgreen and started home about twenty steps ahead of the two negroes. About fifty yards from the home of James Moore Pilgreen and Little overtook Moore, Moore then asked Pilgreen for a cigarette and when informed that he, Pilgreen, had no cigarette he cursed at him at the same time striking at him with a whiskey bottle. Pilgreen, in the meantime had armed himself with a large stick, and after Moore made his attack he in turn struck Moore, knocking him to the ground.

Little had walked on a short distance and Pilgreen joined him and started for home. A short distance later people residing near the scene of the killing heard shots and upon investigation the body of Moore was found but his murderer had succeeded in getting away. Coroner Wilkerson was immediately notified and he at once went to work on the case. He established a detective agency all of his own, and worked untiringly all day, weaving a chain of circumstantial evidence against Pilgreen. In addition to playing detective he also established a "private court" and examined each witness. When he had all the evidence necessary he arrested Pilgreen and started to Greenville with him.

Seeing that it was useless to resist any longer the negro confessed and told Mr. Wilkerson that after leaving Moore in the road he went home got his gun and went back and shot him.

Superior court for the trial of criminal cases in session here and Pilgreen will be given a hearing tomorrow.

WHY NO FIRE PREVENTION?

In the days of hook and ladder companies and hand buckets to put out fires, little thought was given to fire prevention. How to put the fire out seemed to be the main consideration. The same state of mind existed in regard to contagious diseases, such as the plague, yellow fever, typhoid, diphtheria, the hook worm and malaria. For hundreds of years the only thought seemed to be the possibility of curing persons after the disease gained a foothold instead of trying to prevent the disease from ever starting. Today the diseases mentioned have been practically eliminated by scientific preventative measures and through educational work advising the public how to control them.

So far as fires are concerned, however, our nation has staggered along blindly under its enormous annual fire loss with resulting death toll, seemingly as indifferent of fire prevention measures as it was when the first crude fire fighting apparatus was in use. We simply have not awakened to the fact that death and property loss from fire can be eliminated just as death and property loss resulting from contagious diseases have been eliminated by scientific study and treatment. The National Board of Fire Underwriters and the Underwriters' Laboratories, in Chicago, have been pioneering in the campaign of public education on fire prevention. The seeds they have planted are taking root. Manufacturing concerns see the wisdom of laboratory tests of their products which tend to safeguard the public in their use. Retail establishments see the value of handling scientifically tested products and the buying public is awakening to the advantage of buying products which have been tested as to their fire resisting or fire preventing qualities.

Some day the nation is going to awaken to the fact that it is just as criminally negligent for any person to maintain a fire hazard which can be eliminated, as it is for a person with a contagious disease to expose others to the danger of the same malady. It is essential that all co-operation possible should be given to the agencies which are spreading the gospel of fire prevention.

GETTING DOWN TO EARTH

The secretary of agriculture recently warned the settlers of a hard-pressed Western reclamation unit, that they were grasping after the will-o'-the-wisp of too much land that would break them, instead of carefully cultivating smaller acreage that should make them rich.

When the great Twin Falls irrigation tract in Idaho was opened, the average holding was above 100 acres. Many of the first holders worked themselves into the poorhouse or the grave, trying to pay up on so much land. But every year, the average holding has decreased, until it is now under 20 acres—and they are prosperous instead of broke. The Okanogan project in Washington, where the holdings have receded in size to only 12 acres, is producing an average of $300 an acre a year, according to the federal figures.

Smaller farms, better crops and business judgment is the sure foundation of farm prosperity. It is not a matter of legislation or federal or state aid.

WAR VETERANS HELP IN RECORDING HISTORY

Washington. — The war department's request last November for historical data from individuals to shed official light on activities of the World War has brought fruitful results.

The department has in mind the compiling of an official history of the great conflict in future years, and is buying itself now with obtaining information on it from active participants, while memories are still green. From all over the United States, and even from Canada, have come several hundred official documents, in response to the department's request. These include several important maps, showing the location of units at various stages of the war.

A pictorial record of the war is available in the files of the signal corps, and motion pictures of many phases of the great struggle are preserved in its archives.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Given Complimentary to Miss Wilda Shamhart Who Weds in June.

Complimentary to Miss Wilda Shamhart, who on June 22, will be married to Mr. Elmo Savage, the teachers living at the Vines House gave a miscellaneous shower on Monday evening. The delightful affair was wholly a surprise to Miss Shamhart. After dinner one of her friends, took her for a ride and on her return sounds of the wedding march begun to peal forth and Miss Tomlinson met her at the door saying the weather man had predicted rain for the day but had not been able to make good his prophecy so far; but if she would walk with her into the living room and take the umbrella she might yet find that it would shed showers before the night was done. The bride-elect was taken so by surprise that she seemed not to know what it was all about until she had been turned toward the living room where a large Japanese parasol hung from the chandelier and she was asked to turn it upside down. At this instant many attractive packages came showering down. She was then seated amid Japanese cushions on the floor in order that all her friends might gather close around to enjoy with her the lovely surprises that came with the shower. One could see at a glance that the gifts were tokens of love and rare friendship for they were varied and beautiful.

The living room of the Vines house was attractively decorated with cut flowers and pink maline. During the evening refreshments were served.

The Savage-Shamhart wedding will take place in Asheville at the home of Mr. Roy M. Shamhart, brother of the bride-elect.

Senior Normal Class to Present "Prunella" On Friday Evening

Prunella, or Love in a Dutch Garden, to be given by the Senior Normal Class at East Carolina Teachers College Friday evening, is a French Phantasy written by Laurens Hausman and Granville Barker.

The name to the contrary, notwithstanding, the play is not French, nor is the garden a Dutch garden, except in design.

The play is delightfully ingenious, giving opportunity for a wide field of interpretation. It is full of action, wit and brilliancy, and is not without its touch of pathos. It is clean, wholesome and refreshing.

Nothing has been left undone in dramatic effort, consuming scenery, or lighting effects in an effort to make the play thoroughly artistic and enjoyable.

TYPISTS DERIVE REVENUE FROM MUNICH GRAVEYARDS

Munich, Germany—Stenographers out of job: in Munich have found a source of revenue in the local cemeteries. It is their custom to attend all funerals and take down the words of the officiating clergyman. These they transcribe neatly on mourning paper with a black border, and then offer their work to the relatives of the deceased. In almost every case the relatives buy not only the first transcript, but often order a considerable number of carbon copies.

GREENVILLE TO PLAY KINSTON

Greenville's third game for the East Carolina Golf Championship will be played on the local course Friday with the Kinston team.

This game promises to be the hardest fought match that the local golfers have had so far as the Kinston team defeated the Wilmington team which was considered the strongest in the circuit. All of the Greenville golfers are urged to be on hand at two o'clock so that the Captain can pick the best team possible. Greenville has not lost a game so far and with the proper support from the players we can also win this game.

Salesman For Skin Cream Learns How To Clear Up Pimply Complexion

Arthur Reich, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I was a salesman of creams for healing pimples, blemishes, etc., but when my face broke out with blotches, pimples, and blackheads I tried one salve after another with no permanent results.

"I found it as impossible to sell skin cream as a bald-headed man finds selling hair tonic. Finally I decided I would have to get at the cause—the blood. I was amazed to find that within a few days after taking Carter's Little Liver Pills, my skin took on a new healthful look, blemishes started to disappear and I felt like a new person all around. Now I know what to do when I have a pimply skin, you bet!" This old

Stop That Backache!

Many Greenville Folks Have Found the Way

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Greenville resident says:

W. P. Symonds, carpenter, 207 Washington St., Greenville, says: "My kidneys were out of order, and I had pains in my back and loins. I was restless at night and couldn't sleep well. I had headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were scanty and contained sediment. Doan's Pills from the Warren Drug Co., soon relieved me."

SEVERAL YEARS LATER! Mr. Symonds added: "I get the same good results from Doan's as I did in the past."

COTTON REVIEW

New York, April 21.—Although the cotton market opened steady at 12 points higher to one point lower in response to firm Liverpool cables, it quickly yielded today to active selling pressure based on rain reports from Texas and dropped in early trading 26 to 27 points from the highest opening prices.

Private advices said that good rains had shown in West Texas and Oklahoma partially relieved the draught, and this, with weakness in the New Orleans market, and severe drop later on in Liverpool, brought out active Wall Street, Liverpool and Southern selling.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164

Indians of Unique Relations Apply for Birth Certificates

Raleigh, April 18.—An Indian man and woman, who occupy the unique relation to each other as both first and third husband and wife, respectively, have applied at the office of the North Carolina Bureau of Vital Statistics for birth certificates of children born to the second union of the woman. They wanted these certificates in order to put in war claims.

The couple was married some years ago and later one secured a divorce from the other. Each remarried. The woman had eight children by her second husband. The man's second wife died without living issue.

Later, the couple remarried and now he is her third husband and she is his third wife, although each was the other's first mate.

Several of the woman's children by her second husband were in the
