THE SEVENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF DRAINAGE ASSOCIATION MEETS HERE

One of the Most Successful Sessions Ever Held Comes to a Close Today; Program Featured by Several Interesting and Inspiring Addresses

The seventh annual convention of North Carolina Drainage Association met in Greenville Tuesday, April 21st and was called to order by Mr. F. P. Latham, the president. Rev. Leland Smith, of Memorial Baptist church opened the convention with fitting invocation. Hon. D. M. Clark, mayor of Greenville, extended the visitors and their co-workers a cordial welcome to Greenville, and made known the desire of Greenville to cooperate with work in hand.

Mr. B. M. Potter, of New Bern, secretary, under directions of the president, with those present, proceeded with the program as follows: The president put before the convention his report of his work as president during the past year:

"Gentlemen of the Convention: My interest in drainage takes me back to the days of boyhood on tile-drained farm. Mr. renewed interest in larger drainage was given me in the year 1908, after the disastrous years of 1906 and 1907, when the crops in eastern North Carolina were destroyed by rainfall, and caused the panic remembered by you. Among other points: He called attention to the conventions at New Bern and Morehead City during the panic years, which were assembled leading farmers and business men to form plans to prevent a recurrence of like misfortune, out of which grew the North Carolina Drainage Association, the present active force now functioning. Following these meetings the North Carolina Drainage law was drafted and enacted into law in the year 1909. That it is with satisfaction that we can look back over this constructive legislations and realize that our drainage law was drafted under the guidance of our best legal minds with a success of such degree that this law stands practically and successfully as drafted in 1909. That some of the most successful farmers in the entire southeast occupy some of our lands that in 1809 were occupied by virgin forest, pest holes, malaria-bearing-mosquitoes and over-worked frogs. That the pest holes have been drained, and been succeeded by blue-grass, clover and other permanent pasture plants equaling the best in the whole country. That the scare of the low lands of the east is no longer in the minds of the intelligent and informed, but has been succeeded by confidence in the power of proper drainage, and Eastern Carolina is now, in reality, a safe and pleasing place to live and maintain the highest degree of health, happiness and prosperity, the real nursery of these virtues. That there are more miles of incorporated drainage canals in North Carolina than of paved highways.

Hon. J. H. Small, in the court house, at 1.45 addressed a large audience which manifested strong interest in drainage. He stressed the waste caused by water soaked lands; that each fifth year is a failure, that two years income and expense are about even and that two years out of five normal profits are received. That scientific drainage makes crop production certain and the income dependable. He called attention to the great service being rendered agriculture by our State College at Raleigh; that the young men there trained, bring back to their untrained ancestors and neighbors a training that makes life more profitable and pleasing.

The officers for the ensuing year are: Senator O. L. Clark, of Clarkton, president, Dr. E. C. Brooks and Major Williams S. Harris, both of drainage. The association is Raleigh, vice-presidents, Mr. C. R. Hudson, of Raleigh, secretary.

LOS ANGELES ARRIVES SAFELY AT BERMUDA

Hamilton, Bermuda, April 22.—The United States Dirigible, Los Angeles, visited Bermuda for the second time, and was made fast to the tender ship Patoka early this morning.

The Los Angeles was first sighted off Bermuda at 2:30 o'clock. She then cruised seaward again and was lost to view until about 5:30, when day light broke, and after another hour's delay she headed for the Patoka. She was made fast in an hour, a strong northerly wind making anchoring somewhat difficult. Only a few persons were present to witness her arrival, but after the airship had been made fast many gathered along shore to watch the proceedings.

HOMERIC BRINGING DETAILS OF SINKING JAPANESE STEAMER

Says Freighter With Its Crew Goes to Bottom as Ship Stands By Unable to Effect Rescue

New York, April 22.—The White Star Liner, Homeric, was steaming toward New York today with details of the death of the 38 Japanese seaman lost when the Freighter Pafuku Maru foundered yesterday in huge seas, 180 miles south east of Halifax as seven ships raced to the rescue.

The Homeric answering radio messages of the Japanese vessel early yesterday, altered her course, and was close to the vessel when she sank. Heavy seas made it impossible for the liner to launch life boats and those of the freighter had been smashed by waves. Officers and passengers were forced to look on helplessly as the Atlantic engulfed the freighter's crew.

Besides the Homeric, four other liners were speeding toward the doomed vessel when she sank, and two ocean-going tugs also had left Halifax for rescue work. As the Homeric came within sight of the sinking ship, Japanese climbed over the rails as she listed far over. Then she sank, leaving no trace of life on the water. The Homeric turned toward this port, sending brief messages that it had been impossible to effect a rescue. The Cunard liner, Tuscani, also arrived too late to help, but in time to see the tragic end of the race.

WARREN TO DELIVER MEMORIAL ADDRESS COURTHOUSE MAY 30

Pitt County Post American Legion Decides to Stage Intensive Campaign for New Members

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion held its regular monthly meeting last night at the Rotary building at which time final arrangements for the celebration of Memorial Day, May 30, were completed and other matters of business of the post transacted.

Following the evening meal there were committee reports including the Five Million Endowment Campaign Committee and the Memorial Day Committee. At last night's meeting the post decided to put on an intensive campaign for members and the club was divided into two groups to work against each other in the drive for new members. The drive will cover a period of three months and the group that secures the greatest number of members and makes the best attendance record during that period is to be the guest at a banquet furnished by the losing team. Much in such a campaign was expressed by those present and it is expected that the contest will result in many additions to the post roster.

The Memorial Day celebration will include a parade followed by exercises at the court house at which time the Memorial Day address will be delivered by Hon. Lindsay O. Warren, Congressman from this district. Following the exercises at the court house the post will hold its monthly luncheon at the Rotary building.

Among the visiting Legionnaires at last night's meeting was Mr. Frank Capps, of Raleigh, who delivered a short address to the post on the work of the Legion in this state. The talk was a timely one and was greatly enjoyed.

Search For Negro Alleged To Have Attacked Girl Near Carthage Continues

Carthage, N. C., April 22.—Search was continued here today for a negro alleged to have attacked a young girl near here Monday afternoon. Though there was considerable interest in the case, the excitement, which prevailed yesterday afternoon when it was believed the negro was surrounded in a patch of woods outside of the city limits, had somewhat quieted down. Violence was no longer feared, it was stated, in the event the negro was captured. Nine negroes were taken before the girl this morning after they had been arrested as suspects. She was unable to identify any of them as her assailant. Among the nine, who were subsequently released, was

VERBAL FIRE WORKS PRECEED VOTE ON PAINLEVE POLICIES

New Premier and His Colleagues Voted Confidence of Chamber 304 to 218

Paris, April 22.—Nine hours of debate featured by bitter personal attacks on Joseph Caillaux returned from exile, and now minister of Finance, preceded the vote in the Chamber of Deputies on the Declaration of policies by the new cabinet. At the conclusion of verbal fire works, Premier Painleve and his colleagues were voted the confidence of the Chamber 304 to 218.

The tactics of opposition the attack at inclusion of the cabinet in the ministry, are believed to have assured victory of the government. Both the Radicals and the Socialists, it was known before the vote was taken, were dissatisfied with M. Painleve's announced determination of retaining French Embassy at the Vatican.

M. Caillaux will appear before the Chamber's Finance Committee Friday and probably to give some indications as to the nature of his first efforts to restore the situation of the treasury. The government today is introducing a bill to pay the current expenses of the government for May and June, as the budget for the year has not yet been paid.

Mrs. Hume R. Steele's Address on "Building a Christian World Society," Featured Last Night's Program; Rev. H. C. Ritter Will Deliver Address Tonight

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Carolina Conference conducted three splendid and largely attended sessions here on yesterday.

The second session of the conference opened last night with devotional services being conducted by Dr. J. L. Cunningham who gave a brief outline on the twenty-second chapter of Matthew. Mrs. Hume Steele, led in prayer after which the young people of Greenville gave a dialogue, "The Transcendent Life." This was divided into three scenes, the themes being: "Obedient Love," "Light," and "Joy through Pain." Mrs. Cal Griffin sang two solos.

Mrs. Hume R. Steele, candidate secretary, Board of Missions, Nashville, Tenn., delivered the address of the evening on "Building a Christian World Society." Mrs. Steele said in part, "Two men were walking on a college campus. One saw boys and buildings—the other saw men and the world. Jesus Christ saw a world and came to save the world. He did not come to Palestine, he came by way of Palestine to a World. He did not come to the Jews, he came through that door to all the people of the earth. He came for a World. He died for a World. He entrusted his disciples with the task of telling a world of His passions and death. The main purpose of the church is to be a messenger of His truth, of himself to the whole world. He said: "As the Father has sent me even so send I you." Go ye therefore to all nations." To have an adequate conception of the task of building a Christian World Society it is necessary to have a map of the world's needs. They have been classified as follows, first, Hygiene; second, economics; third, Education; fourth, Social; fifth, Moral and religion. The enemies of life are disease, poverty, and ignorance. Do you know the average life of a man in a Christian land is 44 years and in a non Christian land 24 years.

No nation has risen above the dead level of poverty. Two per cent of the people in the world own sixty per cent of the wealth, one half of one per cent possesses one half of the land. Out of the seventeen billion people in the world, one billion are living in the prison house of ignorance, bound by superstition and fear, without sanitation and health. Living in unspeakable conditions. 30,000,000 in Africa, 300,000,000 in China, 315,000,000, includes 22,000,000 in Brazil, 52,000,000 in America without the gospel of Jesus. China is our largest mission field. China is our greatest mission field. China has one sixth of the land area of the globe. There are 1,533,000 square miles in China, a little less than one-half of the United States. It is as large as the whole of Europe exclusive of Russia.

China has one-fourth of the population of the world—410,000,000 people. China is the richest nation in all the world, yet she is too weak to be an independent people. She will become a prey to the other nations—she will become a world menace unless we put the spirit of Jesus Christ in the heart of her national life. After 100 years of missionary work in China we have a real Christian church, a genuine apostolic church. A board of Missions has been organized in China. The women have a missionary society and are supporting home missionaries in Yunnan, an outlying district in China. The new China is a better China. The situation is bright with opportunity. The next decade will witness for better things.

Korea has been called, "The Land of the Morning Calm," but our missionaries tell us that there is nothing calm in Korea but the name. Korea has been and is, a land of suffering and sorrow. If we should choose one word more than another to characterize Korea, it would be

Paris, April 22.—Former Premier Herriot was elected President today of the Chamber of Deputies. He received 270 votes with but a single vote cast against him. The opposition refrained from voting.

The members of the Cartel, or groups supporting the Government, arose and cheered when the result was announced. The new President of the lower house bowed his thanks in return, and the Chamber adjourned. He will preside over the session tomorrow.

There was some speculation as to whether the ex-Premier had voted for himself, or whether he was the lone deputy who voted the other way.

SAFETY FIRST

Mayor D. M. Clark, in an article appearing elsewhere in this issue, calls attention of dog owners to the ordinances regarding the running at large of dogs in Greenville. Owing to the near epidemic of hydrophobia now prevalent here this warning is timely and every citizen should give the matter their hearty cooperation. Recently several persons in the city have been bitten by dogs believed to be mad, some by pet dogs around the house and others by stray dogs on the streets. All owners of dogs should keep close watch on them and heed the first signs of strange actions or symptoms of going mad. The mayor has ordered the police to take drastic steps to rid the city of stray dogs and only in this way together with the cooperation of the citizens can the spread of the great menace to life be checked. A stitch in time saves nine and now is the time to turn our attention to this serious situation.

THE PRINTED PAGE

It is not my purpose to emphasize the importance of reading, the influence of the printed page upon modern life—it is so evident that emphasis is superfluous—it would be arguing the obvious. Civilization as a process must have a medium through which to express itself. Since the invention of printing, the printed page has been the main medium through which the collective experience of the human race is recorded and passed on to society.

Lack of communication, or a result of the lack of reading, is one of the outstanding causes of the origin, or at least of the duration, of the Dark Age. In that age the collective experience of the race in the past could not be added to the personal experience of the individual. The individual is not only a member of his family or group, but also of a larger unit which runs back to primitive man, and if the line of connection is cut or clogged, we have a low ebb in civilization.

Reading by presenting to us the past and the present, by revealing to us what others are doing and what they have done, throws light upon our present problems and future difficulties. It has on the one hand the potential power to develop breadth of citizenship, fullness of life. It renders the individual's vocation more profitable and illuminating, his leisure time more enjoyable, his understanding of public questions more adequate, his conception of life more versatile—in fact in every way it renders him more capable to adapt himself to an ever-changing social environment and more susceptible to the needs of a multifold society. On the other hand, by fostering an adequate understanding, it renders the social structure able to cope with social complexes and to meet adequately the demands of a diversified life, and to prepare the individual to live—not merely to exist. Only in this way is society able to present to the individual an opportunity for an harmonious development equal to his natural ability and to insure a democracy co-extensive with the demands of a complex life. — Orlando Stone, in University News.

NOTES ON TARHEELIA

There are fifty-seven railroad companies operating in North Carolina, using 4,941 miles of track. These companies report a total capital stock of $111,327,000, with a funded debt of $145,000,000.

The North Carolina State Highway Commission is composed of nine members, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. Their terms are six years, appointments being made so as to insure an overlapping, thus preventing expiration of all terms at the same time. The chairman is the highest paid State officer. His salary is stated in the North Carolina manual as $15,000 per year.

The first time the population of North Carolina was estimated was in 1675, when the total was placed at 4,000. By 1701 it had grown to 5,000 and by 1776, the opening of the War of the Revolution, more than a quarter of a million.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

PUBLIC FORUM

KEEP DOGS CONFINED

The people of Greenville will please take warning that we are having at this time an epidemic of mad dogs, therefore it is highly important that all persons owning dogs take every precaution to see that they are not allowed to run at large.

Our ordinances prohibit the running at large of dogs at all times, and the police officers endeavor to enforce this ordinance. Hydrophobia is more prevalent among dogs at this particular season, therefore may I not urge that all persons owning dogs, not only prohibit their going at large, but keep an eye on them, and should any symptoms develop indicating hydrophobia, immediately use all proper precautions, at least until the symptoms take more definite form, and all danger of hydrophobia is past. Especially where there are young children do I urge that you closely watch your dog or dogs through the Spring months. An ounce of precaution is worth a pound of cure.

Human life is too precious to take chances with, and therefore in order to protect the public, especially little children who innocently stop and play with any dog they see on the streets, the police officers are instructed to kill on sight any dog that appears to be affected with hydrophobia or any other dog or dogs that have been seen in contact with the dog so affected. This is not ordinarily the course pursued in enforcing the ordinances against dogs running at large, for fear of killing some person's valuable or pet dog, the usual course in enforcing the ordinance being to catch and impound the dog, or the owner's name ascertained, so that warrants may be issued. But in the present emergency to avoid taking chances with human life, the foregoing order has been issued to the police.

However, this does not give authority to kill any dog, unless there has been a contact between the dog and a mad dog, or at least strong symptoms of hydrophobia. Therefore if you value your dog, protect him by keeping him confined as required by ordinance.

Respectfully,
D. M. CLARK.

It was stated that if the legislature fails to repeal the law, the Chinese will, as a last resort, carry the case to the United States Supreme court.

STOCKS

New York, April 22.—Confused price movements took place at the opening of today's stock market. Selling pressure was renewed against Maxwell Motor A, Baldwin, American Car and Foundry and White Motors, all of which opened a point or so lower. Willis-Overland, preferred responded to the resumption of dividends by advances, and American Sugar Refining, and Frisco Common, also moved up. United States Castles prices dropped to a new 1925 low at 13-4 and 116 points below the year's high established two months ago.

CROP CONDITIONS

Washington, April 22.—Crops and weather conditions in Southern states summarized for the week ending yesterday by the Department of Agriculture had the following to say about North Carolina: The season's conditions well advanced. While shippers were very much benefited by rain, there is still much need of more rain in some sections, especially in the South West, and portions of Texas. Good progress was made in planting cotton and corn. Strawberry crops excellent. Peaches in Sand Hill section in excellent shape promising fine quality and heavy crops. Also good prospects for apple crop in the Western section. Wheat, oats and truck are in fair to good conditions.

COTTON REVIEW

New York, April 22.— Failure of early weather reports to confirm yesterday's private report of rain in the South west, and relatively firm Liverpool cables were reflected in the opening advance of 9 to 17 points in the cotton market today. Demand was not active however, and prices turned easier before the end of the first hour on favorable interpretation of the Weather Bureau by weekly report and hope that showers or rain might yet materialize in Texas. The market sold down after early trading to within 8 or 9 points of yesterday's closing figures.
