PUBLIC AND PRIVATE LANDS SWEEP BY 92,000 FOREST FIRES

Active Campaign Against Forest Fires Being Waged in North Carolina

Washington, July 25.—Nearly 92,000 forest fires swept 29,000,000 acres of public and private lands during the calendar year 1924, it was announced here by the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. The actual money damage was $38,000,000, exclusive of damage to young growth, watershed protection, wild life and recreational facilities.

The figures, say forestry officials, clearly reflect the bad forest fire conditions which prevailed last year, especially in many Southern States and in California. Compared with the calendar year 1923, the 1924 figures represent an increase of 24,000 fires and compared with the 9-year average an increase of 45,000 fires, or nearly 100 per cent. The acreage swept by flames, the 1924 figures show, was only slightly larger than that in 1923, but was almost double that for the 9-year period, based on average.

Money damage in 1924, estimated at $38,000,000, is $16,000,000 above the 1923 estimate, and $18,000,000 higher than the 9-year average of $20,000,000. Damage to young growth, watershed protection, wild life and recreational facilities, and losses to the lumber industry, including wages and other economic values, are not included.

William B. Greeley, chief of the Forest Service, stated that the material increase in the number of forest fires reported during 1924 was partly the result of more complete reports, although 1924 was a very bad year in many sections of the country.

"Excessively dry weather was experienced in California and in the Gulf States," said Forester Greeley, "and in these States the 1924 fire figures show great increases over the 9-year average. Similar increases are also shown in most other states."

An analysis of the 1924 statistics shows that incendiary fires topped the list, with 21,000, or about 23 per cent of the total. Brush burning came next, with 16,000 fires, or 18 per cent, and fires caused by smokers was third, with 13,000, or about 14 per cent. Other chief causes of forest fires in 1924 were railroads, camp fires, lumbering and lightning. Lightning is considered the only natural cause of forest fires. Only 6 per cent of the 1924 fires were attributable to lightning.

"The greatest single agency with which to combat forest fires," said Colonel Greeley, "is public opinion. No thoughtful citizen can read the 1924 figures without coming to the conclusion that the fight against fires is his personal fight. The Federal and State governments are doing their utmost with the funds and equipment allotted to them. It is high time that a more effective weapon is placed at their disposal, and that weapon is an outraged public opinion."

The figures given in the Forest Service report apply to all public and private lands in the United States and not merely to National Forests. On these latter areas, which embrace 137,000,000 acres, the number of forest fires during 1924 totaled 8,247. The area swept by flames was 602,000 acres and the monetary loss was $1,500,000.

Raleigh, July 25.—An active campaign against forest fires is being waged in North Carolina, headed by Governor McLean, who in co-operation with the State Department of Conservation and Development, has sounded many notes of warning. The Governor, in an address at Asheville, outlined his forestry policy as enunciated by him on previous occasions, and urged the people to unite in fighting forest fires.

During his address at Asheville, the Governor pledged the support of his administration to all engaged in the work of fighting forest fires. He declared a united public opinion would prove a very effective weapon and, at the same time, urged educational campaigns against this form of waste, to be carried on in the schools and colleges.

20 BUYERS LIQUOR SUB-POENED APPEAR BEFORE GRAND JURY

Federal Grand Jury Investigating Liquor Ring Which Supplied 20,000 Americans by Trunk Shipments

New York, July 25.—Twenty buyers of liquor, in 12 cities have been subpoenaed by mail to appear here before the Federal grand jury investigating a liquor ring here that supplied 20,000 Americans by trunk shipments.

Federal Attorney Buckner would not reveal the names of those subpoenaed. They will be allowed ten percent a mile for traveling expenses one way only. Once in New York they will have to pay their own hotel and board bills. If they are unable to pay, District Attorney Buckner suggested the government might have to put them up at the Tombs. Appearance before the grand jury will render the liquor customers immune for prosecution. They will receive the customary fee of $1.50 a day while actually testifying. This action, said to be unprecedented, was taken yesterday by Mr. Buckner in an effort to round up and indict 40 salesmen of the bootlegging ring. In addition, summons will be served on 50 New Yorkers to learn what they know of the ring, which was broken up last week with the arrest of a woman and seven men.

9 Indicted on Charge Conspiracy to Violate Prohibition Act

Chicago, July 25.—Major Percy Owen, Illinois prohibition director, Ralph Stone, former State director, and seven others were indicted today by the Federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition act.

Director Owen had been on leave of absence for some time on account of ill health, and reports of his suspension reached the Federal Building shortly before the indictments were made.

The indictments were anticipated following reports that the grand jury had voted true bills as the result of investigating by Patrick Roche and Thomas A. Madden, special intelligence agents. The charges follow in the wake of the wine scandal which resulted in a number of indictments.

CELL MADNESS TO BE SCOTT'S PLEA TO ESCAPE GALLOWS

Alienists Will Be Called on in Effort to Prove Prisoner Suffering From "Prison Phycosis"

Chicago, July 25.—Cell madness will be the plea of Russell Scott in his effort to escape the gallows from which he has been saved twice from his scheduled execution. Alienists who testified for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, the kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, will be called on in the effort to prove Scott is suffering from "prison psychosis." The defense theory will be that his mind has become affected by his 15 months confinement and the harrowing experiences of two death watches in the shadow of the noose. That the fight will be bitter has been indicated by his prosecutors, who believe Scott is as sane now as at the time when Maurer, the drug clerk, was killed in a hold-up for which Scott was found guilty.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED THURSDAY IN RAID ON STILL

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict That Man Came to His Death as Result of Bullet in Hands Unknown Party

Lumberton, July 25.—Authorities here today had brought an investigation of the death of an unidentified white man in a raid on a whiskey manufacturing section of Ashpole Swamp practically to completion.

The man was killed 22 miles south of here Thursday when officers of Robison county raided a still in the swamp and captured 35 gallons of corn whiskey in process of preparation, and one of the largest manufacturing outfits ever found in the county. Completing their inquest late yesterday, members of the coroner's jury found that the man came to his death as the result of a bullet wound at the hands of an unknown party.

Spotlight of Notoriety Pursuing Wittner in Precincts Proposition

Washington, July 25.—While Loren H. Wittner and his counsel are quietly preparing to press his suit here to throw the evolution issue into the Federal court, the spotlight of notoriety is relentlessly pursuing the champion of science into the precincts of his government position. In taking the oath on three occasions for his position, Wittner has stricken out the phrase "so help me God," the required oath of government employees, and has thus raised a question as to the legal status of his present employment, the attacking notoriety of which is causing complications in his work at the treasury. The matter may finally go to the Attorney General for his opinion.

Wittner's superiors in office at first took a liberal attitude toward the deluge of newspaper, photographers, and other callers that descended upon him when he leaped into the lime light by filing his injunction suit to test a provision of the District of Columbia appropriation bill against teaching of "disrespect to the Bible," but the avalanche of visitors and the telephone calls finally reached the point where a sharp curtailment of the privilege has been ordered by the office head.

BAPTIST MOUNTAIN ASSEMBLY TO OPEN TUESDAY EVENING

Sessions Will Open in Mars Hill College Tuesday and Continue for Ten Days

Mars Hill, July 25.—The stage is all set for the opening of the Baptist Mountain Assembly in the college here next Tuesday night, which will continue for ten days. According to Perry M. Moore, Raleigh, the general director, the indications are that the attendance this year will break all previous records, going beyond the one thousand mark. Ample provision has been made by the college authorities to take care of all who may come.

Mr. Morgan has arranged a program of study that will meet the needs of Christian workers in every department of church work, including Sunday schools, B. Y. P. U. and W. M. U., with their various auxiliaries and departments, Christian Stewardship and Mission study. Besides these courses of study, inspirational addresses, sermons, music, recreation and fellowship will be features.

The assembly will be opened with a sermon by Dr. T. W. O'Kelly, Raleigh, who will preach each evening. Dr. L. E. N. Freeman, Raleigh, will lecture each day at the noon hour on the Acts of the Apostles. Rev. W. E. Goode, Reidsville, will conduct the twilight service on the campus each evening.

The faculty of 25, which include a half dozen departmental workers of the State Mission Board, under whose auspices the assembly is held, and the following pastors and other special workers: Rev. James A. Ivey, Four Oaks; Rev. A. J. Smith, Jackson; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Lambdin, Montgomery, Ala.; Miss Juliette Mather, Birmingham, Ala.; Miss Lillian Forbes, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. H. T. Hunter, Cullowhee; Miss Vera Ruth, Salisbury; Miss Lucy Spivey, Spencer.

The music will be led by Prof. A. E. Lynch, Buies Creek, with Mrs. Lynch at the piano.

PACKERS MUST OPEN THEIR BOOKS TO GOVERNMENT

Defendants However Obtain Superseder Pending An Appeal

Chicago, July 25.—The government today won a suit begun by the late Henry C. Wallace as secretary of Agriculture when District Judge Cliffe granted a writ of Mandamus, directing some of the principle packing companies, including Swift and Co., Wilson and Company, and Cudahy and Company to open their books to the Department of Agriculture.

The defendants however, obtained superseder pending an appeal. The late Secretary Wallace maintained that in order to administer the Packers and Stock Yard Act, it was necessary to go through the packers' books. The objecting companies held that the government was entitled only to supervise its interstate business and that their interstate and intra-state business were so mixed on the books that it would not be possible to separate them for government inspection. The Department of Agriculture held that it was necessary to inspect all of the business shown by the books to determine whether or not the packers and stock yards act was being evaded.

SAYS GAME LAWS UNCONSTITUTIONAL DISCRIMINATORY

Sportsmen of Currituck County Files Suit Against County Game Commissioners

Charlotte, N. C., July 25.—Sportsmen of Currituck county have filed a suit against the county game commissioners that may effect the question of the constitutionality of the local game laws and eventually may influence state wide legislation in the matter.

A suit filed yesterday in the Mecklenburg County Superior Court alleges that the game laws of the county are unconstitutional and discriminatory.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs made it evident that should their suit be successful other county game laws that fall into the same class may be attacked. The result would be that a state wide law which would allow the counties of North Carolina to replenish their game supply would seek enactment, it is pointed out. Duck chooters of the state have charged that Currituck county is dominated by the will of wealthy hunters of the north, who maintain hunting lodges on the expansive sweeps of Currituck county marshes. On the other citizens of the county have stated openly that their county is poor and would not be able to maintain its share of the tax burden except for the fees received from visiting sportsmen.

One count of the complaint charges that the Currituck game revenue laws were passed in the legislature within 24 hours and are not valid because of non-compliance with the procedure for passing revenue bills. Another count sets out that the laws of the county in this connection are unconstitutional by reason of their being discriminatory in that they charge a nominal fee for Currituck citizens, a season fee of $5.00 for other residents of North Carolina, and a fee of $7.50 for non resident hunters.

Gen. Manager of Miami Daily Fab Miami Daily Tab

Miami, Florida, July 25.—Verne Collier, General Manager of the Miami Daily Tab, was killed in an automobile accident this morning.

Tavern Collier, 28, general manager of the illustrated Daily Tab published here by Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was killed today when the automobile he was driving crashed into a railroad switch engine. Miss B. Rolfe, 27, who was with him at the time of the accident, sustained the loss of a lower part of her right leg. She was badly cut on the head. She is in a serious condition at the city hospital.

Collier attempted to dodge the crash with the engine by swerving around in front of the locomotive. His vehicle was caught between the engine and a line of box cars on the siding.

Raleigh, July 27.—Seven members of the home coming committee appointed by Governor McLean met in Raleigh today and passed a resolution recommending that the celebration be postponed until 1927. At the same time it was decided to appoint a committee to appear before the next general assembly and ask an appropriation for the celebration. Lack of time and funds constituted the reason for asking the delay. The celebration was to have taken place in October of this year.

ALLEN ADDRESSES STUDENT BODY OF TEACHERS COLLEGE

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Delivers Interesting Address on "The Value of Public Education"

Mr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction visited the East Carolina Teachers College Summer School today and addressed the student body at chapel exercises on the subject of The Value of Public Education.

Mr. Allen gave some very interesting pictures of the different stages of public school development in the state. He is of the opinion that the state has had too much advertisement of its educational progress. We have come to believe that we have an efficient school system and that it is time to take a rest in educational effort and expenditure.

But he called attention to the fact that some of the northern and western states are spending $12 per capita for public education while the southern states, including North Carolina, are paying less than four dollars per capita. We need to realize that that the surface has barely been scratched.

"Does education pay?" the speaker asked, "Would we have been a richer state than we are if we had put the two hundred and fifteen millions that have been spent on education in North Carolina over the last twenty-five years in such things as factories, farms, stocks and bonds?" The speaker pointed out that people could see and appreciate the value of a hard surfaced road, but that they did not so easily measure the increment that accrues to an educated citizenship. It is hard to measure the value of proper attitudes, inspiration and character which follow the work of the good teacher.

Mr. Allen stressed the work of the teacher and made an impressive appeal to them to go out into the state and use their influence not only in the school room but in the community also in helping to build up a sentiment that will know and appreciate the value public education in North Carolina.

Mr. L. R. Meadows, the director of the summer school, reports the largest attendance in the history of the college.

Work is progressing satisfactorily on the new campus building which it is hoped will be finished by Jan. 1st, 1926.

Reported by M. L. WRIGHT.

Several Changes Made Redistricting County Enforcement Purposes

Washington, July 25.—Inauguration of the new prohibition enforcement plan not only has been postponed, but several important changes have been made in the proposed redistricting of the country for enforcement purposes.

Evidence that the re-organization had been side tracked only temporarily, however, was furnished today by a letter sent by Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury notifying all field officers of the prohibition unit that the present appointments of unclassified service employees will be terminated not later than October 15. That date will end their job unless they are re-appointed.

The boundaries of the new district as originally announced have been the subject of considerable criticism from various quarters, but Mr. Andrews insisted today that the changes decided upon were dictated solely by a desire for efficiency and had nothing to do with politics.

The headquarters of the district including Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina, is removed from Atlanta to Charlotte. The headquarters at Virginia, West Virginia, and the Federal District will be at Roanoke, Virginia, Court today by the Bethlehem Ship Corporation under the new plans.

A LONG FELT NEED

The completion of the organization of a Merchants' Association is a step in the right direction by Greenville business houses and will fill a long felt need here. Of late the city has been without any form of commercial organization for the advancement of Greenville business both at home and on the outside but this great work the new organization will do and the city as a whole will be the beneficiary.

The new organization means closer co-operation between merchants and a better understanding between Greenville business houses and the buying public which will result more profitably for both.

THAT PRIZE PUMPKIN

As the harvest season draws near so does the season of state and county fairs and the time is now at hand when the farmers of this community should begin to take inventory of their wares and pick out those of exceptional quality for exhibition at the fair. In this present day of agricultural advancement in this section no fair is a success without a truly exhibit and this is not possible without the help of the farmers.

When you go to the fair and see a product that has surpassed the products of similar variety on your own farm you naturally desire to learn of the grower how the feat was accomplished and through this exchange of methods and ideas the community as a whole will be raised to a higher standard of production.

Everyone enjoys the county fair yet no one would care for it without the exhibits of educational value, therefore it behooves the producers at this time to begin to select the best of their products for the coming fair.

If you take pride in your community and the showing it makes see to it that the fair is a success for no man nor group of men can put on a truly successful county fair without the help and co-operation of the entire community.

JAPAN TO STUDY RICE GROWING AND AGRICULTURE IN AMERICA

Tokyo.—The department of agriculture is planning to send an expert to the United States to study and report on the agricultural situation, especially with regard to the cultivation of Japanese rice on American farms.

The output of Japanese grain in America is said to have been on the increase up to 1923, when 270,000,000 pounds were produced. The subsequent decrease is ascribed to the rise in dollar exchange against monies of importing countries.

In addition to studying the rice cultivation situation in America, the agricultural department investigator will also look into the system of selling farm products and the supervision of traffic bearing upon agriculture.

9,445 Miles Federal Aid Road Completed During Fiscal Year

Washington, July 25.—It was announced here today by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture that 9,445 miles of Federal aid road was brought to completion during the fiscal year ending June 30. An additional 4,547 is reported completed but has not been finally inspected and accepted, said the Bureau.

"Texas," it was pointed out, "led in mileage completed during the building erected during the past 4 years had nine and one-half rooms. In the next place, we have set up a rule that an elementary school cannot be standard unless it has seven teachers."

Proceeds from the new loan, said the Superintendent, should insure the erection of 188 new rural schools in North Carolina, with a total of 1,316 class rooms. "I base this estimate," he said, "on the fact that the cost of construction for the average class room has been $3,800."

In previous bond issues the quotas of the counties ranged from $10,000 to $150,000. Mr. Allen pointed out. Ninety-seven of the 100 counties of the State had secured loans from the two previous issues, he said. Guilford leading with a total of $305,000, Johnston coming next with $278,000 and Gaston third with $208,000. Chowan, Graham and Macon were the only counties not borrowing from either fund.

For the information of counties desiring to secure loans, Superintendent Allen has prepared and distributed the rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education.
