WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN IS LAID TO REST TODAY IN ARLINGSON CEMETERY

Services Conducted From the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church; Thousands Pay Tribute to Him at the Capital; Military Honors at Arlington When Body is Laid to Rest

Washington, July 31.—High above the little brick church were mourning relatives and friends gathered today to say their last farewell to William J. Bryan, flags fluttered at half staff from the great government buildings to mark the nation's formal tribute to the Commoner.

The drooping colors spoke of the service he had given to the flag as a soldier, statesman and legislator; the solemn religious ceremonies in the church, and at the grave, were keyed to recumbent his valorous championship in public and private life of the gospel of Peace on earth and good will toward man.

There were many of the faith he cherished so staunchly in the slow solemn procession which passed his body. There were the humble folk mourning for Bryan, the plain citizen and the Commoner. There were the comrades of the regular army, who received the casket to pay last honors at Arlington National Cemetery to Bryan the soldier and public servant.

Again as of yesterday, the fallen veteran of so many stirring conflicts in national life kept the solemn state of death in the House of God where in life his devout lips had often led in prayer. Again the clustering hundreds thronged the aisle to glimpse for a moment the will of peaceful face.

There were none who denied them, in rank of dignitaries to intrude on this last hour of the plain people with the man whose proudest boast was his championship of their cause. He was by his own will and the work of the brave woman who was his mate, the Commoner to the last. He lay with only volunteer comrades guards set apart from the throngs that passed to look upon him only by death, and the testimony of those flow moving hundreds gave more plainly than words the place he had made by himself in the life of the nation.

It was for this reason, and to await the coming of the last member of the broken family circle that Mrs. Bryan deferred her own farewell until the public had had its last moment to honor the dead. For that parting she chose the sacred privacy of the little church where the casket has been since the short time after its removal from Tennessee. Mrs. Bryan had the strength to arrange, with her religious comforters and the circle of close friends of her dead husband, the last details of the service. It was by her wish that the brief Presbyterian funeral services arranged by the Rev. Dr. Jos. T. Sizoo, pastor of the church were expanded to include the Bible passage that the dead man had prized above all others. It was she who told of the hymns that had brought him comfort and peace in the long arduous years of their companionship.

Mr. Bryan, like President McKinley, had found his greatest peace in solemnly uplifting faith of the old hymn "Lead Kindly Light," and it was his desire that it should be sung when he passed to his long sleep. Thus it was that the strains of this old hymn lead by the deep voice of the great pipe organ, and sung by a mixed choir, were selected to usher in the simple and impressive service for the dead. Another old hymn, dear to her husband's heart came next in order of services. It was "One sweetly solemn thought," and the passage selected by Dr. Sizoo for the opening of the religious right was "I am the resurrection and the life," the foundation stone of Christian faith.

Among the Bible passages indicated by Mrs. Bryan to be included in the service was the Twenty-Third Psalm.

EVOLUTION SUIT STARTS WITH SHOUT DIES IN WHISPER

Sponsors of Washington's Evolution Suit Assert it Will Shortly Be Revived on a Formal Basis

Washington, July 31.—Washington's evolution suit, started with a shout, has died in a whisper, but its sponsors assert it will shortly be revived on a formal basis.

Withdrawn yesterday on the eve of the date set for argument on the government's motion to dismiss the suit attorneys for Loren H. Wittner had filed, it announced that in taking this action they planned to file another suit designed to survive objection raised against the complaint as first drawn. Among objections raised the government in its motion to dismiss, cited precedents which it held denied Whittier right as a taxpayer to sue to prevent payment of salaries to school officers here, responsible biological teachings in the school.

Rainfall Monocure 5.76 Inches From July 12 - July 27

Raleigh, July 31.—While Raleigh has enjoyed only brief showers during the entire summer, the rainfall at Monocure, in Chatham county, thirty miles southwest of here, was 5.76 inches from July 12 to July 27, it was officially reported by the United States Weather Bureau. Of this amount, 5.18 inches fell on July 12, 1 and 14. For the entire period, that is, from July 1 to 7 the total rainfall at Raleigh was only 1.77 inches.

The office of the Weather Bureau here reported that extremely dry weather had prevailed during the greater part of the summer in some sections, but that in many of the eastern counties frequent and beneficial showers had occurred, which aided crops very materially.

Vegetation is reported to be drying up in some sections of North Carolina, due to lack of rain. S. M. Gattis, of Hillsboro, while in Raleigh this week, stated that in his section crops had suffered severely and that many home gardens had completely dried up. He said many farmers would suffer substantial losses.

London, July 31.—The crisis in the coal industry, which threatened a strike of the miners beginning at midnight today, has been settled, announcement was made shortly before four o'clock this afternoon.

Notices making known the decision of the miners' federation of the settlement of the nation wide strike were posted. It is assumed that the miners will continue at their task under the present hours and wages with the government giving financial aid to the owners until a full inquiry of the mining industry has been completed.

Danniediake Pumps 38,000 Gals. Molasses Record Breaking Time

Wilmington, July 31.—The pumping of 38,000 gallons of black strap molasses from the United States tanker Danniediake in one hour, following its arrival here, is believed to have set up a new record. With 1,180,000 gallons of molasses in its tanks, the tanker arrived in port at 2:10 o'clock. The local cargo was discharged by 9:10, when the tanker put on fuel and left for Erie Basin, New York.

Captain N. T. Henderson is master of the tanker Danniediake, which came from Porto Rico. He reported the presence on the boat of nine stowaways, all Porto Ricans. One of these was a lad of 13, who was placed in charge of local police for safe keeping, because of his age and because he could not speak English. But he appeared happy.

The little stowaway could make himself understood only to the captain, at whose coat and trousers he tugged when the captain was leaving. Owing to the lad's age, he could not be made a member of the crew, the minimum age limit being 18; and, as Porto Rico is an American possession, the other eight stowaways could not be deported. They obtained work one hour after their arrival in Wilmington.

Reports Civil War to Have Broken Out in Tibet

London, July 31.—Civil war is reported to have broken out in Tibet, according to special dispatches from Calcutta, which are described as unofficial, but circumstantial. The date of the happening is not disclosed, and it was told the report had been a long time coming from the secluded plateau country of Central Asia. The situation is said to have developed through a plot by military officers who had been trained abroad and imbibed western ideas against ancient rules of priesthood under the heads of the Lamaist Hurst of Tibet Buddhism. The officers plotted the overthrow of the church but the plot was discovered and the Tibet Commander in Chief was degraded and replaced by a relative of the spiritual head of the country.

Temporary Breakdown in Negotiations France's War Debt Great Britain

London, July 31.—Wide divergence between the views of the British and French Financial Experts regarding settlements of France's war debt to Great Britain has resulted in at least a temporary breakdown in the preliminary negotiations which began last week. The French Commission will return to Paris today.

British official headquarters are not pessimistic regarding the debt negotiations, and confidence is expressed that after the French government has considered the report of its delegates, the commission will be sent back to London for further conferences.

At the Treasury this morning it was explained that the situation had by no means reached a dead lock, the difficulties having been encountered merely upon technical points. The important problems of the settlement have not yet been considered.

Although its not likely that Finance Minister, Caillaux will come to England immediately, it is believed here the negotiations will be resumed in a week or so.

Issues Injunction In Favor of the Remington Company

Hartford, Conn., July 31.—An order granting an injunction in behalf of the Remington Cash Register Company, of Illinois, New York and others against the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, restraining the infringement of patents or improvements in adding and recording machines and requiring payments to the Cash Register Company by the Remington Company of several million dollars damage, was filed by Judge Edward S. Thomas, of the United States District court, here today.

In an exhaustive analysis on the mechanism of the various machines involved, Judge Thomas concludes that the Remington Machine embodied new and previous patented devices and that the National machine, though perhaps different in form, substantially have adopted those devices in violation of the plain (iff's patent right.

However, indictment of three living robbers for murder, and the launching for a concentrated drive against criminals by the Chicago Bar Association, were almost immediate result while Joseph Holmes and Jack Wilson were examined by State Aliens to forestall an insanity defense, and police sought William Mullenback, who escaped with the loot, the Bar Association took steps against delays in bringing the criminals to trial, out the Attorney's Organization appointed a group of 400 of its members, the best legal minds in Chicago to aid the state in the prosecution.

ARREST OF ONE CHINESE STOPS THE LAUNDRY BUSINESS OF TOWN

Honolulu.—The laundry business in Walluku, Island of Maui, Hawaii Territory, has been paralyzed, and irate citizens, deprived of clean shirts collars, etc., have been on the verge of calling a protest meeting, all on account of the Harrison narcotic law. Such was the story told by J. A. Manning, federal narcotic chief for Hawaii, on his return from Maui, where he arrested among others, the town's only laundryman, Chow Wing. "One hotel had no linen, and every one in the village to have a dress or a shirt in the hands of Wing Chow," Manning said. A HIGHWAY INTO CRAVEN

The work of surveying the route from the present Cox Mill hard surfaced highway to the Craven county line is now under way by county highway authorities. Already funds for the grading of such a route has been appropriated and it is to be hoped that this will be followed by funds for the hardsurfacing. The extension of the Cox's Mill hard surfaced highway to the Craven county line would mean much to the businesses of Greenville and other Pitt county towns as well as afford a great convenience to residents of this section of the county, and such an appropriation by the county board would be more than a good investment. We believe that should this county carry out such a program that the Craven county authorities would take like action which would mean a hard surfaced highway the entire distance from this city to New Bern and afford the most direct route to Highway number 30, the Coastal Highway. Besides being a great convenience to residents of the sections through which the Greenville-New Bern highway would pass such a highway would mean an increase in the number of tourists who pass through our county and towns, hence more business and prosperity together with invaluable advertising of the section.

SEEING THE WRONG SIDE FIRST

People are divided into two classes by their attitude toward new things.

Some jump at them; others shy at them. Some anticipate their advantages; others perceive their dangers.

When Faraday in 1832 showed before the British Association at Oxford that a spark could be produced by magnetic induction, a dean of the university who watched the experiment shook his head and said: "I am sorry for it." He then turned and walked away repeating: "I am sorry for it." As he passed out of the door he turned again and said: "In deed, I am sorry for it. It is putting new arms into the hands of the incendiary."

Nobody can deny that his apprehensions have been justified. But the learned gentleman overlooked the electric light of the future.

In the time of Charles II a law was enacted to prohibit coaches on the streets of London because of "the destruction caused by their wheels to the paving stones."

There was undoubtedly reason for such legislation. Coaches did wear out the pavement. So do trucks nowadays. But it would be better to strengthen the paving than to abolish the trucks.

Greensboro Police Officer Was Starved

Stomach in Such Weak Condition He Couldn't Eat; Wasted Over $1000 Trying to Get Relief

TAKES KARNAK AND QUICKLY IMPROVES

Can Eat Anything After First Bottle and Says: Life Is Worth Living Again Now

All Carolina continues to pour praise upon Karnak, and it seems that the amazing health-building powers of this remarkable medicine grow more and more sensational as new tests are made.

Geo. A. Harris, R. F. D. No. 5, Box 104, Greensboro, N. C., world war veteran and a former member of the Greensboro police force says:

"I owe a debt of gratitude to Karnak that I will never be able to pay for all it has done for me. I tell you, before I got this remarkable medicine I was in such miserable condition life was hardly worth living for me."

"Since I got out of the army in 1919 I was troubled with my stomach, but three years ago I got in such condition that after trying to hold my job as a policeman on the Greensboro force, I just had to give up and haven't been able to work since."

"Everything I ate seemed to turn to gas and I would bloat up like a balloon after every meal. I would have sharp stomach pains, heart palpitation and choking sensations. My nerves went all to pieces, and I was just more miserable than words can describe. "Last January I was operated on for appendicitis. I want you to know that my stomach and digestion were so weak I just felt like I was slowly starving to death, and only when I began to take Karnak did I get relief, notwithstanding the fact that I had paid out more than $1,000 on medicines and treatment."

"I have been improving with leaps and bounds ever since I started taking Karnak. I am eating plenty of everything now and digesting it fine. On my very first bottle of this wonderful medicine I have gained in weight, my nerves are steady and I am sleeping good again, something I hadn't been able to do before in a long time. This Karnak is the greatest medicine that was ever made, and words can't express my gratitude to it."

Karnak is sold in Greenville by B. S. Warren's, and by leading druggists everywhere.

ROCKNE LAUDS HUDDLE SYSTEM IN LECTURE TO OREGON AGGIES

Corvallis, Ore.—The huddle system in football is much quicker than the old-fashioned call system, if used rightly by a fast team, Knute Rockne head football coach of Notre Dame University, told a class learning the fundamentals and theory of football at Oregon Agriculture College here recently.

"There is no chance to mix signals or for the opposing team to catch them in the huddle system," he said. Notre Dame uses the huddle system.

GREAT ENGLISH BEAUTY SECRET "HOWARD'S BUTTERMILK CREAM"

Druggists told not to take anyone's money unless this delightful new vanishing Cream quickly shows a decided improvement

Big Demand Says Pitt Drug Co.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that while it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, unevenness around the eyes, freckles, crows' feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at your favorite toilet goods counter with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money should you be dissatisfied.

Beautiful actresses say, "A short massage with Howard's Buttermilk Cream at night before retiring is all that is necessary."

Nichols and Mr. Hubert Crawford dined at the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. S. Allen last week.

Special notice to the members of Red Oak Church: There will be a special business meeting of the members of Red Oak Church next Sunday morning, August 2nd, immediately after Sunday school for the purpose of deciding on a pastor for next year. You are each and every one urged to be there.

FOOTPRINTS OF PREHISTORIC MONSTER EMBEDDED IN COAL

Salt Lake City—Large pieces of coal in which are embedded the footprints of a pre-historic animal believed to be a tyrannosaurus, the fiercest of the carnivorous dinosaurs which roamed the earth millions of years ago, have been found in the Panther coal mine in Carbon county, Utah. The find was made several thousand feet underground.

The Piercing Pains of NEURITIS

Torturing pains—the kind that pierce and burn and never seem to let up—that rob a man of his sleep—that make him just a bag of nerves and all worn out.

Those are the pains that dope and coal tar products can only relieve. You've got to get something more lasting.

The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent, nerve-racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenru Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced if not entirely banished those severe, torturing pains that have caused you so many sleepless nights. Continue for two or three days more or until the pains have entirely disappeared.

It doesn't matter how long you may have suffered or whether your Neuritis is in the shoulder, arm, neck or legs, Allenru Special Formula No. 2 will stop the torture and give you speedy relief.

Pitt Drug Co., or any good druggist will be glad to supply you.

Owen Moore and Constance Bennett in Zane Grey's "Code of the West" A Paramount Pictures

"Code of the West," Paramount's sly, turns him down, and Cal, with film version of Zane Grey's stirring novel of the same name, which will be shown tonight at White's Theatre, shows you what happens when a flapper from the wide open places of the East meets a cowboy from the great open spaces of the West. The resultant romance leads to some very interesting situations, develops some fast and furious action, flavored with considerable comedy, and builds to as melodramatic a climax as has ever been flashed upon the screen.

The theme of the story brings out the striking contrast in the viewpoints of the East and the West. The plot concerns Georgie May Stockwell, a typical New York flapper, who goes to Arizona for her health and bumps all the cowboys at the Thurman ranch. In particular, she brings to bear all her feminine charms on Cal Thurman, the shy, awkward, younger son of the family, with the result that she falls desperately in love with her and finally proposes.

From that point the action takes an unexpected turn, for Georgie, with characteristic feminine perversity,

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Pitt Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenhu with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of the disease he will gladly return your money without comment.
