INQUIRY REVEALS THAT MRS. HUNT DIED FROM POISON

Wealthy Florida Relator is Being Held in Jail Charged With Poisoning Woman Who Died Yesterday

Miami, Fla., Aug. 20.—Poison was the cause of death of Mrs. Henry B. Hunt, who died in a local hospital yesterday, a report prepared by City Chemist Charles E. Morgan for the coroner's inquest stated today.

His report checks with the label of a bottle found in a cell at the jail where after John Goebel, wealthy Daytona, Fla., real estate dealer, had visited the woman after she had been arrested on a charge of stealing a $1,500 diamond ring from him.

Before her death the woman, who had been friendly with Goebel before her arrest, declared the relator had forced her to drink from the bottle.

Deputy Sheriff Louis A. Short, who has been directing the investigation, announced he would seek to have a verdict of murder returned against Goebel, who was placed in jail immediately after Mrs. Hunt charged that he had poisoned her.

Issues Statement On "A Measure of School Efficiency"

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—W. H. Pittman, chief clerk to the State Department of Public Instruction, has issued a statement on "A Measure of School Efficiency," following a survey made by him. He pointed out, among other things that the normal age for each grade, based on findings of educational psychologists, is as follows:

First grade, 6-7 years; second grade, 7-8 years; third grade, 8-9 years; fourth grade, 9-10 years; fifth grade, 10-11 years; sixth grade, 11-12 years; seventh grade, 12-13 years; eighth grade, 13-14 years; ninth grade, 14-15 years; tenth grade, 15-16 years; eleventh grade, 16-17 years.

In making the survey, Mr. Pittman considered five academic and five financial factors. The academic factors he listed as follows:

Percentage of enrollment in average daily attendance; average length of term in days divided by two; scholarship of teacher's index, divided by eight; percentage of total enrollment in high schools multiplied by four; percentage of normal age standard under age multiplied by 1.25.

The financial factors were listed as follows: Average annual salary of teachers divided by twelve; per capita cost of instruction based upon enrollment multiplied by two; total per capita cost of current expense based upon enrollment multiplied by 1.33; total current expense per teacher and principal divided by 24; valuation of school property per child enrolled divided by two.

DECLARES PROMISE PRESIDENT WILSON HAS BEEN REDEEMED

American Recognition of Belgium's Claim Special Treatment in Paying Debt Recreates Wilson's Pledge

Washington, Aug. 20.—When the American Government recognized Belgium's claim to special treatment in paying her war debt, Secretary Mellon said that it redeemed a promise of President Wilson, which at the time it was made was so important that it forestalled disruption of the Versailles Peace Conference. The Treasury Secretary, who is head of the American Debt Funding Commission, declared this circumstance was weighed carefully by the Commission and by President Coolidge in agreeing to remit the interest on all Belgium borrowed from the United States during the war. Mr. Mellon said the pledge of President Wilson was made at a time when Belgium was about to withdraw from the Peace negotiations, and that Secretary Hoover, a member both of the Versailles Conference and of the debt commission, testified during the debt discussions here that the influence of Mr. Wilson's promise on the peace settlement was indisputable.

Secretary Mellon's explanation was the first disclosure of the circumstances of leading the American Government to deviate from the policy of non recognition of any peculiar status for Belgium by virtue of the promise of the war time President at Versailles. That there would be no suggestions recognized was stated many times in high authority before the discussion here began, but when the history of the Peace Conference was reviewed and laid before President Coolidge at Plymouth, it was decided that the moral obligation asserted by the Belgians could not be denied.

Six Prisoners Being Held State's Prison for "Safe-Keeping"

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP). Six men, five negroes and one white man, are being held at States Prison for "safe-keeping. It is the largest number of unconvicted prisoners the prison has held in many months for protection's sake.

One of the negroes, Oscar Melvin, who carries a list of nearly half a dozen aliases, is being held pending his trial in Wilson Superior Court, charged with the murder about a year ago of a policeman of the city of Wilson.

The white man, John Colbert, who was brought up from Louisburg, Franklin county, is charged with murdering his wife. He has been in the prison more than a month.

Morris Tindoll and Tom Roberson, of Hanover county negroes, are being held in connection with an alleged attack on a little white girl at Wilmington. Roberson is charged with the crime and Tindoll is being held as a witness. Although he is not charged with participation in the crime, authorities think that it is safer to keep him away from Wilmington.

Bill Cannady, of Greene county, and Augustus Washington, of Lenoir county, are also being held at the prison pending trial on charges of attacking white women.

Fon Burk, young white man arrested several weeks ago in Chatham county, charged with attacking a young woman of the county, was recently returned to the jail at Pittsboro, from which he was released Monday, when he married her. John MacMillan, Moore county negro, has been returned after a period of safe-keeping, to Carthage, where he was to face trial charged with attacking a white woman at Eagle Springs early in the month.

Mrs. Mangum was born in Halifax county on July 7th, 1838 and was the widow of the late Mr. R. N. Mangum. For the past fifteen years she had been making her home in this city with her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Wilson. On Tuesday, however, she was able to be up and her loved ones and friends looked for a speedy recovery of health. Her death on yesterday was a great shock and caused genuine sorrow throughout the community.

Leon Trotsky Returns to Power

Warsaw, Aug. 20.—Advices from Moscow report the return to power of Leon Trotsky with the appointment of the former war minister as chief of the economic council. His restoration to a position of influence had been expected in Polish circles where it was considered his strength and popularity were to great to permit keeping him long under probation because of the possibility of his becoming the head of some anti-Soviet movement.

His new position, it is believed here, will engage his energy and ability in the task of improving Russia's economic position without increasing his political influence to any great extent.

BRITON DIRECTS USE OF STILETTO AS POSITIVE DEATH CERTIFICATE

London.—Sir George Greenwood, presiding recently at a meeting of the London Society for the Prevention of Premature Burial, said that he had given directions to those who would be his executors to plunge a stiletto into his heart after his death so as to make certain of it. He added that a school mate of his, who became a great surgeon, insisted that the stabbing process be carried out as a precaution. Sir George declared he had no faith in the present so-called modern methods of certifying death.

STATE FILES SUIT AGAINST SOUTHERN RAILROAD, OTHERS

Two Issues Involved in a Suit of Equity Instituted in Federal Court to Recover C. F. and Y. V. Railroad

Greensboro, Aug. 20.—That the Southern Railway Company be made to return to the receivers of the Atlantic and Yadkin Railway Company, the terminals, side tracks, Station houses, and other property alleged to have been improperly taken, and that the Southern be forced to account in full to the receivers how much it is indebted to the Atlantic and Yadkin for wrongful diversion and misappropriation of traffic to its own line since the purchase of the road years ago, are two of the issues in a suit in equity instituted in Federal Court here today by the state of North Carolina against the Southern Railway Company, John W. Fry and Arthur E. Smith, receivers of the A. & Y.

This is the latest step taken by the State of North Carolina for the restoration of their old Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad as a whole from Mount Airy to Wilmington with a branch running in to South Carolina and another to Madison, in Rockingham county. At present the road is divided at Sanford with the lower end from Sanford to Wilmington in possession of the Atlantic Coast Line, while the upper end from Sanford to Mount Airy is being operated by the receivers on petition of the Southern Railway.

The action in equity, started here today, is the result of a series of conferences between Governor McLean, Attorney General Brummitt, and Arthur L. Brooks, of this county, who is special counsel for the state in the fight for restoration of the East to west system. The complaint covers about 50 pages and in addition to setting forth the entire history of the old C. F. and Y. V. Railroad, sets up a number of contentions on behalf of the state for the attention of the federal court.

Denies That Attempts Will Be Made Bring About Italy's Blockade

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 20.—An ascertain by Count Antonio Cappelletto, Italian Fascist Senator, that a member of the league of nations counsel had attempted to bring about a blockade of Italy in connection with a Carfu incident of 1924, was denied today by Sir Frederick Maurice, chief of operations of the British General Staff during the war, who spoke in an open conference at the institution of politics.

Sir Frederick also endorsed a statement made here last Tuesday by Lionel Curtis, of Oxford University, and contradiction of Count Cappelletto that the league of nations alone prevented war as a result of a bombardment of the Island of Carfu by Italian war ships.

RUDOLPH DISSE SENTENCED TO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Found Guilty of First Degree Murder for Shooting to Death Henry Grady Carter

Richmond, Va., Aug. 20.—Rudolph Disse was found guilty by a jury in Hastings county court here this afternoon of first degree murder and sentenced to death in the electric chair for shooting to death Henry Grady Carter, on July 28, last. The jury deliberated less than an hour and a half.

A hush fell over the court room as the verdict was announced. Disse did not change his expression, nor did he move in his chair. The form of the verdict was approved by the commonwealth after the defense attorney, James C. Page arose.

"We wish to ask that this verdict be set aside," he said. "We ask this on the grounds of misdirection in law, erroneous instruction, exclusion of instructions passed by the court, and the admission of improper testimony." "Now is the best time to argue this motion," commonwealth Attorney Satterfield told the court. Defense Attorney Willis D. Miller demurred that "Now when the accused is on the brink is no time for this argument."

Judge Frederick W. Coleman then set ten o'clock Friday August 28th as the date for hearing on the motion for a new trial.

"Any more motions?" asked the court. The room was as still as death.

"Yes, your honor," then replied Mr. Miller. "We wish to move that this boy be placed in an asylum pending the court sentence."

"Why not argue that at the hearing for a new trial?" interrupted Harry Smith of the prosecution. "We will not consider the motion at present," ruled Judge Coleman after which he remanded the prisoner to jail.

A TASK FOR ALL "GOOD CITIZENS"

The great mistake of welfare workers and good citizens is that they wait until a tragedy occurs, and then become interested in the parties connected with it—when in fact the real task of such people is to be on the job and find out conditions before the tragedies occur and put into action a movement that will not only prevent the tragedy, but will also save to society those who will commit tragedies if not saved in time.

The quotation from the judge's statement at the time of the sentencing of the Spencer family contains more wisdom than on the surface lies. He has touched on the heart of the whole matter of welfare work—prevention. As the Greensboro News pointed out in commenting on the statement, "Prevention is recognized as the primary principle of social workers who understand what they are trying to do."

But the judge fortunately brought in "all good citizens," and so the responsibility is laid on the State as a whole. And with the public, prevention is not a popular subject.

The "welfare workers" know full well just what prevention means; but the fault in the system lies in the fact that it is extremely difficult to make the "good citizens," including the Legislature, realize that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, in social work as in any other. Sometimes even the pound of cure is not forthcoming in either moral or financial support; but so far it is rare that the work to gain the ounce of prevention has borne fruit.

It is popular to care for delinquents, but it has not yet become popular to work out and support a plan for preventing the conditions which lead to delinquency.

Tangible benevolence affords the average person the greatest satisfaction. It is rarely the case, however, that the most tangible form of charity is the most effective. But because of the psychological make-up of the public, it is ten times easier to secure financial and moral support to care for defectives of various kinds than it is to make possible various agencies to provide means of prevention.

When a crisis arises the dramatic appeal to relieve the immediate needs always gains quick response. In towns where the officials will not appropriate money for adequate fire protection, thousands will be donated to relieve fire sufferers when a fire sweeps the town. The same psychology is evident again and again in working for prevention.

It seemed easy at the time of the Sanford mine catastrophe to get $38,000 from the private pockets of the people of the state. This sum was to care for the families of 53 men who had been killed in a spectacular manner. Yet it is evidently harder to make the public see the needs of 316 families when the husbands have died here and there over the state "with their boots on"; so the Legislature cuts the Mothers' Aid appropriation down to $28,500, a sum smaller than that given by the people of the state at a crisis to take care of one-sixth as many families.

If we do not use preventive measures with our remedial work, we may just as well expect to keep up our curative work forever. If we do not enforce the school attendance law at the same time that we try to educate the adult illiterates, we will raise up another generation of illiterates. Yet moonlight schools are much more interesting and picturesque than tuant officers. It is far easier to give out food and clothing to a destitute family than it is to go to work and study the conditions and find a job for the head of the house. The constructive way to deal with a case is not always the easiest way, and prevention as stacked up by a palliation at first glance shows up poorly.

In the particular case to which the judge referred it is not to be denied that a welfare worker might have solved the tragedy by changing the home atmosphere before the tragedy brought the matter to a head. But this could not have been done without the cooperation of the "good citizens." If the community had been really awake, the conditions would not have existed. Doling out alms to the unfortunate, as compared to seeking the removal of the causes now stands ace high in the minds of the majority of the "good citizens" of the state.—Public Welfare Progress.

ENGINEER ON SOUTHERN SAYS LET KARNAK DO IT

"If You Are Not Feeling Good Just Take a Tip From Me and Get Karnak—This Medicine Will Sure Fix You Up," Says Milton

"If you are not feeling good just take a tip from me and get Karnak—this medicine will fix you up—and won't be long about it, either, says John C. Milton, of 206 Mulberry St. Greenville, S. C., popular engineer on the Southern railroad for the past eleven years.

"I want you to know for the past two years I suffered from acid stomach and indigestion so bad I couldn't eat a single meal without being in misery for hours afterward," continued Mr. Milton. "Sour gas would form on my stomach in such quantities it would make me belch the worst kind and there would be an awful dry, burning sensation in my throat.

"My appetite was next to nothing at all, and my liver was so sluggish it didn't seem to act. I just had such a drowsy, dull feeling all the time I didn't care whether 'school kept' or not.

"Well, sir, I heard so much talk about this Karnak I decided to try it, and I want you to know I hadn't finished my first bottle before I was eating a half dozen biscuits for breakfast and wasn't having a bit of trouble with my stomach at all.

"I'll tell the world Karnak has knocked my acid stomach and indigestion sky high. My appetite simply can't be beat now, and I'm gaining weight and strength every day. I'm just like a new man, and I mount my engine now with a spring and pep in my step that I d.d.n't have before I got Karnak. Yes sir, if anybody is looking for a sure relief from stomach trouble all they want to do is get Karnak—It'll do the rest."

Karnak is sold in Greenville exclusively by B. S. Warren and by the leading druggists in every town.

PUBLIC FORUM

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

Mr. Editor: Dear Sir:—A few days ago the Rev. Dr. Harden of the Presbyterian Church, wrote to your "Public Forum," suggesting a mass union Thanksgiving meeting acknowledge the goodness of God in our plentiful harvest. I think the idea is a fine one; and I write to suggest that such a service might be arranged by the ministers for the last Sunday night of this month. Being the close of the Summer's Union services this date would not interfere with the arrangements of an individual church and being a Sunday night all the farmers and friends in the county could attend if they will. A rousing invitation should be sent out, and the closing union service made the biggest and best of the mail.

Yours truly, "THANKFUL"

Mrs. H. C. Sugg and son, Marvin and little daughters left this morning for a few days' visit in Richmond.

MISS HANNA DIXON ENTERTAINS.

Miss Hannah Dixon was hostess on Wednesday to the members of her bridge club having as honor guests Mrs. Joe Rogers, of Winston-Salem and Mrs. Jesse Hundley, of Durham.

The home was attractively decorated with summer flowers and six tables for the games were arranged in the reception hall and drawing room. Miss Anna Long making the top score was presented an attractive box of bath powder. Miss Pauline Bowman, bride-elect, was remembered with a beautiful Japanese pillow top. Mrs. Rogers was given a pair of sport hose while Mrs. Sunday the Rev. Mr. Ballard will bring the Union services to a close.

Upon arrival the guests were served Coca-Cola and sandwiches and at the conclusion of the games an ice course was served.

The party was one of the most delightful of the season and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

A LETTER TO MR. SHEDEED

Mr. Geo. Sheeded, New Bern, N. C. Dear Sir: Enclosed find check for $40 to cover your recent disability. If not satisfactory, please advise.

Yours truly, CLAUDE D. TUNSTALL, 221 Natl. Bk. Bldg.

KLANSMEN VISIT RED OAK CHURCH WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Red Oak Church has had its first visit from the Ku Klux Klan. Wednesday night the house was packed with people and all were singing "He Loves Me," when all at once fifteen white robed men came marching down the aisle. They went and stood in front of the pulpit and handed Rev. Fox a sealed envelope. He opened this and read: "Please accept this offering as an expression of our appreciation of the great work you are engaged in and we wish to assure you we are with you in all of the good work being done."

Young friends of the Visible Order of the Greenville Klan, Realm of N. C." After Mr. Fox had spoken his words of appreciation for their visit and offering, the Knights departed as quietly as they had come. It will be a long remembered event at this place.

Little Misses Dorothy Raymond Tyson and Beulah Lee Harrington rendered a duet, "Little Feet Be Careful," and Mr. S. L. Jones of Farmville favored us with a solo which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Then Mr. Fox preached one of the most inspiring sermons ever heard in our community, his whole plea being for "Unity." The revival is still attracting large crowds. Every night in the audience we see people from far and near. Saturday will be "Home Coming Day" at the Church and dinner will be spread on the grounds. Mr. Fox will preach Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend this service.

Mrs. Priscilla Britt, of Richmond, Va., is visiting at the home of Mr.

Harvey Allen's this week. Messrs. H. E. May, J. J. May and David May went to Washington Tuesday to take a load of wheat. Master Carlton Jackson, of Greenville has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. R. R. Tyson this week.

Friends of Mrs. R. S. Allen will be glad to know that she is improving after having been sick this week. Miss Rubelle Vandiford has returned home from the Pitt Community Hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. Her friends will be glad to know she is getting along so well.

Lets everybody remember Sunday morning at Red Oak Church at nine forty-five.

SAME FINE STUDEBAKERS

Prices Reduced—Quality Maintained

THESE low prices are not for new cars built to sell at new prices. They are for Studebaker cars identical with those which have been in tremendous demand at higher prices during the past eleven months.

They are for Studebaker cars so well built of such high quality materials that net profits during the past six months have averaged only $140.54 per car. The rest of the money the public paid us went into making a car with scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation.

These earnings are a triumph for the one-profit basis of manufacture. No manufacturer on a less efficient basis could have made a dollar selling cars of Studebaker quality at Studebaker prices.

Studebaker is the only one-profit car in the fine car field. Only Ford and Studebaker make for all their cars all bodies, all engines, all gear sets, clutches, springs, differentials, axles, steering gears, gray iron castings and drop forgings.

Thus we save and pass on to purchasers profits which many other manufacturers must pay to outside parts and body makers.

No "yearly models" makes sales jump

Thus we were able last January to reduce prices already low.

Then we announced that Studebaker would have no more "yearly models" to artificially depreciate cars in the hands of owners.

Sales instantly started to soar and have forced the vast Studebaker plants to maintain peak production throughout the summer, in the face of declining production for the industry in general.

To one-profit savings we thus add savings due to long continued peak production. These savings we share with customers in the price reduction announced August 1st.

We still use genuine leather, mohair upholstery, fine northern white ash and hard maple, tough extra gauge steel for which we pay premiums, plate glass, walnut inlaid with holly and other refinements. In short, these are the same fine cars in every particular—only the price has been reduced.

You can't appreciate what a bargain Studebaker cars are at these new prices until you compare them point by point with others.

Remember that Studebaker cars have been kept constantly up to date. Improvements have been made as soon as developed—not saved up for spectacular announcements under the guise of "new yearly models" designed to depreciate cars already in the hands of owners.

Superiorities—both hidden and obvious
Many of the most important superiorities of Studebakers are hidden until revealed by thousands of miles of usage, but here are some you can check to prove our statement that every Studebaker is more up to date than the newest "yearly model."

On all present Studebaker models, you'll find an automatic spark control, safety lighting control on the steering wheel, 8-day clock and gasoline gauge on the dash, improved one-piece windshield, special coincidental lock of ignition and steering gear, fully machined crankshaft, cowel ventilator, waterproof ignition and oil drain valve beside the engine.

Studebaker pioneered the steel-framed Duplex Top with roller side enclosures which gives enclosed car protection to open car models—in 30 seconds.

Studebaker pioneered the use of full-size balloon tires, for which steering mechanism, fenders and body lines have been especially designed.

Come in and see these sturdy, dependable "one-profit" cars. Today, more than ever before, every Studebaker is a big money's worth.

Ask about our liberal Budget Payment Plan.

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back, Says Pitt Durg. Co

Simple Home Treatment That Is Giving Amazing Results

The world progresses. Today all men's that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is also a marvelous healing agent. One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications causes the eruption to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you. Pitt Drug Co. sells lots of it.
