GOBEL BEING HELD WITHOUT BAIL IN MIAMI, FLORIDA

Wealthy Real Estate Operator Detained in Connection With Death by Poisoning of Mrs. Henry Hunt

Miami, Florida, Aug. 21.—John Gobel, wealthy Daytona, Florida, real estate operator, is being held without bail in the county jail here today following the recommendation of a coroner's jury yesterday that he be detained in connection with the death by poisoning of Mrs. Henry B. Hunt.

Testimony was given at the inquest indicating that Gobel poisoned the woman and confessed it to one of the officers. Frank Gobel, a brother, is being held in jail as a witness.

A special grand jury will be called in the next few days when formal charges of murder will be filed against Gobel.

Andrews Names New Administrators for Prohibition Army

Washington, Aug. 21.—The new prohibition army will be captained in large measure by the same men as now command Uncle Sam's enforcement squadrons. Out of 24 new district administrators named by Assistant Secretary Andrews of the Treasury today all but six already are in the services.

Although he had announced a campaign to induce practical business executives to lend new blood to the organization, General Andrews said this afternoon that he had decided there were many now in the service who could be used in the business of directing enforcements.

Mr. Andrews said that he believed there were a number of men in the old prohibition forces who should be given a chance to make good under the new plan that is to become operative September 1.

Announcing his selections, the prohibition chief said his new force would make war on bootleg wholesalers and that a section of the local enforcement would become one of secondary consideration.

For district eight with headquarters at Charlotte, and which embraces North Carolina, Benjamin C. Sharpe was named. In many districts acting administrators were chosen because the General said he had not yet determined the men who may meet the requirements.

"I expect that after the new system against function, some of the temporary appointees may demonstrate their ability to render service."

"I felt after meeting the state directors that it would be a great mistake not to give most of them the chance to operate under a system that will give more power and efficiency to the field enforcement of prohibition."

More than one half of the new staff of administrators will be paid $6,000 a year, the highest salary paid in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

LOSS IN STANDS FINES IMPOSED UPON OFFICERS

Four Officers of Naval Transport Beaufort Suffer Loss in Stands and Are Fined by Court Martial Board

Washington, Aug. 21.—Loss in stands and fines were imposed upon four officers of the Naval transport Beaufort today by Secretary Wilbur as a result of court marshals growing out of the arrival of the transport at Norfolk, Virginia, last February from the West Indies with liquor aboard.

The findings of the court martial board were approved by the Secretary and the following sentences were announced:

Lieutenant Frank M. Rohow the loss of five numbers in the line of promotion for having liquor illegally in his possession on a naval vessel.

Lieutenant Roland D. Hill the loss of 50 numbers for importing liquor and having it in his possession illegally.

Chief Pay Clerk, James P. Gallagher a fine of $40 a month for ten months for importing liquor into the United States and for having it in his possession illegally.

Master Chief Frank M. Hendricks lost Seniority for ten months and a fine of $40 a month for twelve months because of conduct prejudicial to the good order and discipline and for importing liquor and having it in his possession illegally.

Simultaneously with the imposition of sentences on the four navy officials found guilty in connection with the discovery of liquor aboard the Beaufort the Secretary declared the evidence against the two nurses in the case was sufficient to have warranted conviction. His action in disapproving the findings will have no practical punitive effect however as to navy regulations where a verdict of not guilty had not been returned a new trial may not be ordered.

The nurses were charged with illegally importing small quantities of liquor when they returned from the West Indies last April. Miss Anderson, one of them, is chief nurse at the Washington Navy Yard, and Miss Glancy is on duty at the Naval Dispensary here.

Forest Fire Grand Father Mountain Causes Damage Estimated at $1,000,000

Blowing Rock, N. C., Aug. 21.—Sweeping its way through virgin timber on the lower half of the slope of Grandfather Mountain in the Blue Ridge Range of North Carolina, a forest fire said to be one of the greatest in the history of the state had caused damage estimated at approximately $1,000,000 early today and was slowly burning itself out.

With the aid of a light rain, state foresters and mountaineers, who volunteered to combat the spread of the flame had checked the conflagration on the eastern side of the mountain. Their efforts were partly successful when they prevented the fire from jumping across the state highway between Blowing Rock and Linville.

The fire started yesterday morning from a burning saw mill and spread to the eastern side of the mountain. Throughout the day and night the flames ate into the woods with rapidity due to the high winds, and lack of rain over the area for many days.

Citizens of Blowing Rock this morning described the spectacular blaze, which continued through the night. They stated that the lower half of the mountain apparently was enveloped in flame, while a lighted cloud hovered over the summit. The wind had died down this morning and a light rain had fallen, aiding fire fighters in extinguishing the flames and checking the spread over the conflagration.

Grandfather mountain, proposed as a sight for a National Park, is practically denuded of its timber. Besides this, there is the scenic loss. Blackened mountain sides will stretch before the eye of tourists for many miles during the coming months, where yesterday there was nothing but a spot of scenic beauty.

DR. HERBERT MOSELEY SHOT TO DEATH LAST NIGHT BY CRAZED NEGRO

Popular Young Physician of Farmville Pays Professional Visit to Drink-Crazed Negro and is Shot to Death Before His Wife

Dr. Herbert Moseley, of Farmville, one of Pitt County's most popular and well known physicians, was shot and killed last night about 7:15 o'clock by Frank Frizzelle, a half-crazed negro residing about one half mile from Farmville on the Farmville-Wilson road. Funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment taking place in Maplewood cemetery, Kingston, the former home of the deceased.

According to reports the negro was crazed from drinking too much whiskey. Early in the evening Dr. Moseley was sent for and finding that he was out of town, Dr. Moseley was summoned. Mrs. Moseley accompanied her husband and remained in the car in front of the house while Dr. Moseley went to pay his visit. Finding the front door fastened he was advised by Mrs. Moseley to go to the rear. Upon the doctor's arrival at the back door, the negro threw open the door and shot him, death being instantaneous.

Hearing the shots Mrs. Moseley rushed to the scene of the shooting. The half-crazed negro then pointed the gun at her, but the double tragedy was averted by Messrs. Burden and Watson of Wilson, who were passing, and who, having heard the shots, rushed to the scene. Throwing themselves between Mrs. Moseley and her would-be murderer, they saved her life, while the negro turned and fled to a rear by cornfield.

Dr. W. M. Willis, of Farmville, was summoned and upon his arrival he announced that Dr. Moseley was dead, the whole load of buck shot having entered the left breast and neck, severing the jugular vein.

Officers arrived on the scene and the negro was rushed to Raleigh for safe keeping.

The coroner's jury composed of Coroner S. G. Wilkerson, Messrs. J. W. Holmes, J. T. Harris, J. I. Morgan, G. M. Holden, G. A. Rouse and J. O. Pollard returned the following verdict: "Said deceased came to his death from gun shot wounds in the hands of Frank Frizzelle without provocation or cause, and we recommend that he be held for the next term of Pitt county criminal court without bond."

Dr. Moseley was 37 years of age and was a son of the late W. O. Moseley and Mrs. Fannie Wooten Moseley of Kingston. He was a member of one of the most prominent families of this section of the State. He was graduated from University College of Medicine at Richmond in 1912 and after serving as internship at St. Vincent's Hospital in Norfolk, he located in Farmville where he practiced medicine until the United States entered the World War. He entered service with the rank of lieutenant, and was promoted to captain. He served with the Engineer Corps of the 81st Division. At the close of the war Dr. Moseley returned to Farmville to resume his practice. He was held in high esteem in social, religious and business circles. As a physician he was untiring and was always ready to respond to any call to help suffering humanity. Just before entering service he was married to Miss Eudice Andrews, of Wilmington. Dr. Moseley was a member of the Christian church, a member of the Farmville Masonic lodge and a Shriner.

The deceased is survived by his wife, his mother, and the following brothers and sisters: Miss Orie Moseley, Mrs. William Falkner, and Wooten Moseley, of Kingston, Mrs. L. S. Gilliam, of Statesville, Mrs. J. B. Peron, of Selma, half sister, and L. O. Moseley, Kingston, half brother.

SOLICITOR JESSE DAVIS INVESTIGATES SHOOTING. Solicitor Jesse Davis, of New Bern, spent today in Greenville investigating the shooting affair last night in which Dr. Herbert Moseley, a well known and popular physician of Farmville, was shot and killed by Frank Frizzelle, a drink-crazed negro, when he called to pay him a professional visit.

OFFICERS EVADE MOB; SEE MEN IN KLAN ROBES

Raleigh, Aug. 21.—Arriving at the State Prison with the negro Frizzelle at two o'clock this morning Chief of Police E. S. Hobgood, of Farmville, declared that he had dodged a gathering mob which included members of the Ku Klux Klan in full regalia.

Chief Hobgood first took his prisoner to Wilson, eluding pursuers and newspapermen by placing his prisoner in the city lockup instead of in the county jail. Thinking all safe, he returned to Farmville and found snatches feeling aroused that he jumped back in his Ford with his brother, Walter Hobgood, and returned to Wilson for Frizzelle.

Chief Hobgood declared this morning that while making his second trip from Farmville to Wilson he passed at least 50 automobiles filled with men headed for Farmville. He asserted that three of the cars contained men wearing the hoods and masks of the Ku Klux Klan and that one of the three cars had men in full regalia on the running board.

Giving out word that he had gone to Goldsboro, Chief Hobgood left Wilson with his prisoner at 12:10 this morning and headed straight to Raleigh with all the gas the Ford would take. At 1:40 he was in the police station here with the hammers looking negro, who is nearly 60 years old, and at 2 o'clock Frizzelle was safely behind "the walls" of the State's Prison.

Raleigh, Aug. 21.—In state's prison today it was said that Frank Frizzelle had been placed in a section of the prison reserved for persons held for safe keeping, and had not been questioned. He was given medical attention shortly after his arrival.

Pres. Coolidge Given Welcome in His "Old Home" Town

North Hampton, Mass., Aug. 21.—Back in his home town for a short time President Coolidge visits today with old friends and neighbors before continuing on his way to Smampscott. Men and women who knew Calvin Coolidge as a struggling attorney, a city councilman, mayor, member of legislature, lieutenant governor and governor, joined in honoring him as President. A few intimate friends had access to the modest home of Mrs. Elmira Goodhue, the President's mother-in-law, where the President and Mrs. Coolidge were overnight guests. The President and his wife arrived here late yesterday afternoon after driving through the country from Plymouth, Vermont. They will leave some time today so as to permit them to reach the summer White House before night fall.

Shortly after his arrival here, the President signed the Belgium debt agreement, which had been brought here for his signature.

A SIGN - PAINTER OF THE SKY

When Edison invented the electric lamp he little foresaw that its most spectacular use would lie in flashing giant advertisements against the night. O. J. Gude, who died last Saturday, is credited with erecting the first notable electric sign and with a leading part in creating the Great White Way. One of his animated posters on Broadway burns $108,000 worth of current a year. The signs of that one street use a million lamps and cost $20,000,000 a year for construction and rental. There is a sign in Cleveland, O., that uses more electricity than the City of Illyria—population 25,000.

G. K. Chesterton contradicted the observers who declare that our electric heraldry is ugly but commercially useful. On the contrary, he maintained, it is beautiful but useless. He thought that every one must admire a sky which blazes with rolling balls of fire, jets of lightning, marching soldiers, flaming kittens chasing luminous spools, and rainbow constellations; yet who could remember what products they advertised? But whether we think them ugly or beautiful, the electric signs are thoroughly American in their energy, prodigality, emphasis and ingenuity. Mr. Gude led in the introduction of an instrument as national as the chewing gums and soft drinks it advertises.—N. Y. World.

CHAPTER XV. (Continued)

I had one strange experience as I came from this second visit which had involved my being away for a night from my companions. I was returning along the well-remembered route, and had reached a spot within a mile or so of the marsh of the pterodactyls, when I saw an extraordinary object approaching me. It was a man who walked inside a framework made of bent canes so that he was enclosed on all sides in a bell-shaped cage. As I drew nearer I was more amazed still to see that it was Lord John Roxton. When he saw me he slipped from under his curious protection and came towards me laughing, and yet, as I thought, with some confusion in his manner.

"Well, young fellow," said he, "who would have thought of meeting you up here?"

"What in the world are you doing?" I asked.

"Visiting my friends, the pterodactyls," said he.

"But why?"

"Interested in beasts, don't you think? But unselective! Nasty rude ways with strangers, as you may remember. So I rigged this framework which keeps them from being too glib in their attentions."

"But what do you want in the swamp?"

"He looked at me with a very questioning eye, and I read hesitation in his face.

"Don't you think other people besides Professors can want to know things?" he said at last. "I'm studying the pretty dears. That's enough for you."

"No offense," said I.

His good-humor returned, and he laughed.

"No offense, young fellow. I'm going to get a young devil chick for Challenger. That's one of my jobs. No, I don't want your company. I'm safe in this cage, and you are not. So long, and I'll be back in camp by night-fall."

He turned away and I left him wandering on through the wood with his extraordinary cage around him.

If Lord John's behavior at this time was strange, that of Challenger was more so. I may say that he seemed to possess an extraordinary fascination for the Indian women, and that he always carried a large spreading palm branch with which he beat them off as if they were flies, when their attentions became too pressing. To see him walking like a comic opera Sultan, with this badge of authority in his hand, his black beard bristling in front of him, his toes pointing at each step, and a train of wide-eyed Indian girls behind him, clad in their slender drapery of bark cloth, is one of the most grotesque of all the pictures which I will carry back with me. As to Summerlee, he was absorbed in the insect and bird life of the plateau, and spent his whole time (save that considerable portion which was devoted to abusing Challenger for not getting us out of our difficulties) in cleaning and mounting his specimens.

I was amazed to see that it was Lord John Roxton.

Challenger had been in the habit of walking off by himself every morning and returning from time to time with looks of portentous solemnity, as one who bears the full weight of a great enterprise upon his shoulders. One day, palm branch in hand, and his crowd of adoring devotees behind him, he led us down to his hidden workshop and took us into the secret of his plans.

The place was a small clearing in the center of a palm grove. In this was one of those boiling mud geysers which I have already described. Around its edge were scattered a number of leathery things cut from iguanodon hide, and a large collapsed membrane which proved to be the dried and scraped stomach of one of the great fish lizards from the lake. This huge sack had been sewn up at one end and only a small orifice left at the other. Into this opening several bamboo canes had been inserted and the other ends of these canes were in contact with conical clay funnels which collected the gas bubbling up through the mud of the geyser. Soon the nasal organ began to slowly expand and show such a tendency to upward movements that Challenger fastened the cords which held it to the trunks of the surrounding trees. In half an hour a good-sized gas-bag had been formed, and the jerking and straining upon the things showed that it was capable of considerable lift. Challenger, like a glad father in the presence of his first-born, stood smiling and stroking his beard, in silent, self-satisfied content as he gazed at the creation of his brain. It was Summerlee who first broke the silence.

"You don't mean to go up in that thing, Challenger?" said he, in an acid voice.

"I mean, my dear Summerlee, to give you such a demonstration of its powers that after seeing it you will, I am sure, have no hesitation in trusting yourself to it."

"You can put it right out of your head now, at once," said Summerlee with decision, "nothing on earth would induce me to commit such a folly. Lord John, I trust that you will not countenance such madness!"

"Dooed ingenious, I call it," said our peer. "I'd like to see how it works."

"So you shall," said Challenger. "For some days I have exerted my whole brain force upon the problem of how we shall descend from these cliffs. We have satisfied ourselves that we cannot climb down and that there is no tunnel. We are also unable to construct any kind of bridge which may take us back to the pinnacle from which we came. How then shall I find a means to convey us? Some little time ago I had remarked to our young friend here that free hydrogen was evolved from the geyser. The idea of a balloon naturally followed. I was, I will admit, somewhat baffled by the difficulty of discovering an envelope to contain the gas, but the contemplation of the immense entrails of these reptiles supplied me with a solution to the problem. Behold the result!"

He put one hand in the front of his ragged jacket and pointed proudly with the other.

By this time the gas-bag had swollen to a goodly roundness and was jerking strongly upon its lashings.

"Midsummer madness!" snorted Summerlee.

Lord John was delighted with the whole idea. "Clever old dear, ain't he?" he whispered to me, and then louder to Challenger. "What about a car?"

"The car will be my next care. I have already planned how it is to be made and attached. Meanwhile

I will simply show you how capable my apparatus is of supporting the weight of each of us."

"All of us, surely?"

"No, it is part of my plan that each in turn shall descend as in a parachute, and the balloon be drawn back by means which I shall have no difficulty in perfecting. If it will support the weight of one and let him gently down, it will have done all that is required of it. I will now show you its capacity in that direction."

He brought out a lump of basalt of a considerable size, constructed in the middle so that a cord could be easily attached to it. This cord was the one which we had brought with us on to the plateau after we had used it for climbing the pinnacle. It was over a hundred feet long, and though it was thin it was very strong. He had prepared a sort of collar of leather with many traps depending from it. This collar was placed over the dome of the balloon, and the hanging things were gathered together below, so that the pressure of any weight would be diffused over a considerable surface. Then the lump of basalt was fastened to the things, and the rope was allowed to hang from the end of it, being passed three times round the Professor's arm.

"I will now," said Challenger, with a smile of pleased anticipation, "demonstrate the carrying power of my balloon." As he said so he cut with a knife the various lashings that held it.

Currency Problems Figures in New Trade of Russia and Japan

Tokyo. — The resumption of trade relations between Russia and Japan has attracted the attention of Japanese to the question of banks and currency in Russian territory.

The unit of currency now employed in Vladivostok is the chervonets, equivalent to 10 of the former Russian gold rubles, $3.15 in American money, and 10.32 yen at the par of yen. The chervonets is now being quoted in Vladivostok at 13.4 to 13.5 yen.

The only foreign bank at present in operation in Vladivostok is the Bank of Chosen. Branches of the Yokohama Specie Bank, and the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, formerly maintained in that city, were closed during 1924. The Bank of Chosen also has an office at Alexandrovsk.

The Bank of Chosen notes circulate together with Japanese currency, in Chosen (Korea), and since December 1, 1917, they have been the sole legal tender throughout Kwantung and the South Manchurian Railway zone in Manchuria, and even in the coastal regions of far eastern Russia.

At the present time no shipments of merchandise to Vladivostok are financed by Japanese banks; that is, no drafts are discounted against documents, and no bank will buy export bills on Russia. Japanese exporters deliver their goods in Vladivostok receiving payment from the Russian Government in chervonets, which are then exchanged at the Bank of Chosen for notes or drafts of the latter bank.

At present two Russian banks are located in Vladivostok, both governmental institutions. One is a branch of the Russian State Bank, which is a bank of issue. The other is the Russian Far Eastern Bank, a semigovernmental institution supported by both the Central and Far Eastern Soviet Governments. Its head office is in Chita, and it has been organized principally for foreign trade.

The Russian Far Eastern Bank has made application through the prefectural government of Hyogo for the establishment of a branch in Kobe, and it is stated that further branches are planned for Tokyo and Hakodate.

DEFENDANT WINS SLANDER CASE BY PROVING ILLUSION

Berlin. — Professor Albert Moll, one of Berlin's foremost psychophysicists, was victorious recently in a slander suit brought against him by Frau Rudloff, a spiritualistic medium for criticizing one of her performances. He had said that one could speak of a spiritualistic phenomenon only then, if every step of the "seance" could be carefully watched and controlled by some licensed state institution, such as the Techno-Physical institute.

As the trial progressed Professor Moll proposed that a seance be held then and there in the courtroom, and that Frau Rudloff be requested to show her "tricks." She strongly objected, however, stating that the atmosphere of a courtroom was not conducive to summoning spiritual phenomena. Professor Moll then played the part of the spiritualist without darkening the courtroom requested the judge to be the "medium." The latter's eyes were covered and the professor placed both points of a drawing compass upon his hand, then removed one point. The judge failed to notice this, and maintained both points were still resting on his hand. Several other experiments of a similar nature were made by Dr. Moll to prove that many things that to the occultist may seem like something supernatural have quite a rational explanation.

The court found Dr. Moll not guilty.

SWEETSER EXPECTS TO SET FAST PACE IN GOLF TOURNEY

Oakmont, Pa. — Jess William Sweetser has given warning this year that he will make trouble for the nation's amateur golfers in their annual meeting at Oakmont Country Club beginning August 31.

At Merion a year ago the former Yale star failed to qualify for the match play, one of the greatest surprises of the tournament, for he was a youngster who had just come into the ranks of the leaders through winning the intercollegiate championship of 1920, beating Chick Evans in the final of the amateur title play in 1922, and gaining the runner-up position to Max Marston in 1923, the Philadelphia winning at the 38th hole.

In his first appearance in the amateur, as a collegian in 1920, he reached the third round where he was eliminated by Fred J. Wright.

This year Sweetser forced his way through to the title in the Metropolitan amateur tournament and gave critics reason to believe that he had regained the consistency and confidence, shown when he marched to his national conquest at Brookline three years ago, pushing aside Willie Hunter, Jess Guilford, Bobby Jones and Evans.

TO THE MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THE MEMORIAL BAPT. CHURCH

Last Sunday Rev. C. V. Van Der Linden, of Washington City, conducted services for us. He remained in our town until Tuesday night, and spoke to a number of people in different gatherings also met quite a number of people personally. From the sentiment and reports I think he reserves worthy consideration. As a result of this after the prayer services Wednesday, I am inviting him to preach to us Sunday. Which invitation he has accepted, and will be with us again.

I particularly insist that the church hear him, and meet him personally. Personally I am willing to exercise all the patience I have, and I am willing to use the best judgment, and prayerfully receive any assistance offered. And I hope and think the committee feels the same way.

We must very shortly take some definite action. When we do, and if we feel that we are properly directed, then make an honest effort to cooperate, believing that we are acting wisely, we can feel assured that our church will serve for the glory of God in this community.

JOSEPH SMITH,
Chairman, Pulpit Committee.

SCOUTS TAKE NOTICE.

In 24 Hours Ends NEURITIS

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to Pitt Drug Co., or some other good druggist and get a bottle of Allenru Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2, which comes in capsule form, for the liquid form is a special preparation for Rheumatism.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, those persistent, nerve-racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights. A few more doses and the pains have left you forever.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, Gouty conditions and what is known as Rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven wonderfully successful in all forms of Neuritis and Seattle Nerve Pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dope of any kind—it doesn't. Such things are only makeshift and can only at the best give temporary relief.

Be sure you've got Neuritis and then get Allenru Special Formula No. 2. Your pains will be gone before you know it.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenru, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He instructed Pitt Drug Co., and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenru with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of the disease he will gladly return your money without comment.

WORK TO BE STARTED ON NEW AMERICAN SCHOOL IN BULGARIA

Samakov. — LeRoy F. Ctrander, principal of the Samakov school, conducted by American missionaries is hopeful that work on the new school buildings on the outskirts of Sofia will be commenced next spring. His hopes are based on favorable reports received from America.

It is unlikely now that the removal of Robert College to the slopes of Mount Vitosha, in Sofia, which had been talked of, will take place.

It is explained that Robert College, although somewhat harassed by the Turkish government, is receiving better treatment than the other foreign schools in Turkey. In opposition to the removal of Robert College from Constantinople to Sofia it is pointed out that such an event would make the college a distinctively Bulgarian institution, and not international as it now is. The proposed Sofia site will be devoted to the boys' and girls' schools of Samakov.

AN OLD ENGLISH BEAUTY RECIPE "HOWARD'S BUTTERMILK CREAM"

Says It's Nothing More Than Old Fashioned Ordinary Buttermilk in the Form of a Wonderful Cream. Is Guaranteed by Pitt Drug Co. and All Good Drug and Department Stores.

Big Demand Amazes Druggists

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that while it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin. No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crow's feet or lines around the mouth, warty finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at your favorite toilet goods counter with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money should you be dissatisfied.

The slightly easier condition yesterday may again be in evidence today as there are a few stop loss orders under the market which may cause a momentary reaction which we believe should be taken advantage of as there is no apparent reason to change our opinion that higher prices will prevail.

Sugar
The condition in the actual market appears to be slowly improving as yesterday refiners paid 2.5-8 cents for about 275,000 bags raws and refined prices were advanced 10 points to 5.00 by several refiners. Although September liquidation is still in progress we believe that the improved condition in actuals will create a stronger tone to futures.

Four Large Groups Pictured by German Controlling World

Zerbst, Germany. — The failure of Germany and France to come together will signify the suicide of Europe declared General Von Schoenach at a German pacifist meeting recently. The general was advocating the Pan-European movement before 7,000 Reichsbanner members.

Predicting that economy and war technic would determine the future of the world, the general said the world's economy would be divided into four large controlling groups, which partly exist and partly are in process of formation. The British Empire represented one group. All American politics, he asserted, aimed at the formation of a greater American group, and that America was on the right track was already shown, he thought, by the fact that today every sixth person in the United States is the owner of an automobile and that the majority of American workmen are no obliged to live in squalid cities, but could afford to have their homes "in the green country and rear rosy-cheeked children."

The third group he described as the pan-Asiatic group which, under Japan's leadership, was rapidly developing. As the fourth group he designated Soviet Russia which "was stretching its tentacles across two continents."

"It is absurd," the general said "for Europe, torn into 26 small states, to try to compete with four such mighty economic groups, unless means and ways were found to fuse these 26 states into a common federation."

"In spite of all protests by the nationalists, I emphatically declare that the failure of Germany and France to come together will signify the suicide of Europe."

The speaker concluded with a fervent appeal for an alliance of the nations.

REPORTS SHOWS 111 KILLED IN FIREWORKS ACCIDENTS

New York.—The results of a survey of casualties of this Year's Fourth of July celebration by the American Museum of Safety and the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, given out today, shows that 111 were killed and 1,030 injured. The analysis is made of reports from 500 cities in 36 states. A majority of the victims were children. Approximately 800 of the casualties occurred July 4, while more than 200 were recorded before and after Independence Day, some as early as June 24 and others as late as July 23. Only 30 of the casualties occurred in connection with public celebrations.

The reports give evidence of only 62 arrests.

Of the 111 deaths, 37 of the victims, mostly children, lost their lives as a result of their clothing being ignited by so-called harmless sparklers. Six very young children are reported to have died of poisoning from eating firecrackers.

The largest list of casualties was reported from St. Louis, where 73 persons were seriously hurt and 60 suffered minor injuries. A statement accompanying the report says:

"The fact that in New York City among a population of more than six million there were only ten casualties and that in Chicago among a population of more than three million there were only sixteen casualties, is convincing evidence of the effectiveness of restrictive legislation, properly enforced."

The statement emphasizes that the study represents only a part of the actual sacrifice of life and limb as no reports were received from 12 States, including several in the south, where few restrictions are placed on the sale and use of fireworks.

Farmville, Aug. 20.—On Tuesday night, the Farmville Rotarians were hosts to their wives at a most delightful Gypsy Tea in the Public Landing Park near Washington.

The entire party motored over before dark enjoying the invigorating coolness of the late afternoon. A number immediately sought diversion in the water where bathing and swimming was the word for sometime.

Then came one of the far-famed Rotary dinners served in real Rotary style. Nothing was lacking to make the picnic a most tempting one.

Various forms of entertainment were then provided the fair guests until a late hour of farewell.
