THE REAL AIR-DISASTER ISSUE

In so far as Colonel Mitchell's statement brought to a head the question of responsibility for last week's air disasters it was a public benefit. In so far as its violence of manner and its ulterior object-a plea for a unified air service-divert attention from that question it was unfortunate. The country wishes to know hether any one or anything but nature and accident was to blame for the loss of the Shenandoah and PN-9 No. 1. If so, where does the blame fall But already a red herring is being dragged across the trail. The question of air administration, of now demanding attention.-N. Y. World.

a separate and unified air service, is a sideshow obscuring the issue of the exact reasons why the Shenandoah crashed with a loss of fourteen lives, and the PN-9 No. 1 disappeared with five men.

Reports from Swampscott that President Coolidge will ignore the Mitchell charges and "make no move, one way or the other," can scarcely be credited. The Mitchell charges simply cannot be ignored. The first urgent task is an inquest into these two tragedies. Col. Mitchell says that the PN-9 No. 1 had no test for such a flight as that to Mawaii aviation officers in San Francisco say that it had already made a twenty-eight and onehalf hour flight. Col. Mitchell says that the patrol vessels were too far apart; the San Francisco officers say they were close enough for radio work and for safety. Mitchell and Heineken say that the reduction of the Shen- WANTED-MEN WHO ARE ANXandoah's safety-valves from sixteen to eight was courting disaster; Lakehurst officers say that the reduction was made at the recommendation of the crew and the Board of Design, and in no wise affected ship-safety. Mrs. Lansdowne says that her husband regarded it as almost certin death to go into a stormarea at this time; Secretary Wilbur says that Lonsdowne chose the date for his trip. These are issues of fact. They and others like them will have to be settled to public satisfaction.

When Congress meets we shall have ample time for discussing the air administration. The responsibility for the disasters is the subject

"It Certainly Is a Smart-looking Car".

That's what everyone has to say who has seen the latest Ford cars. That such attractive motor cars could be offered without the slightest increase in prices, seemed incredible to a public long familiar with Ford values.

Yet enthusiasm for the smart new appearance can never supersede the fact that it is the quality of materials and workmanship that has made the Ford the world's leading automobile value. New beauty has not crowded out traditional Ford reliability.

The very volume of Ford output demands absolute accuracy of every working part. The steady flow of production is dependent upon parts fitting together perfectly; inaccuracies would interrupt and delay assembly. And to this precision must be largely credited the uniformly fine performance and freedom from trouble of all Ford cars.

Closed cars now shown in color are unusually pleasing; new and finer upholstery gives an artistic harmony to the cars. Bright nickeled radiators feature the closed cars and nickeled headlamp rims are on all types. The fenders are larger and longer, and the running boards are wider.

Comfort is increased by the cars' lower center of gravity, by the low, deep, wide seats, by the added foot room, and by many other refinements that contribute to your ease, convenience and safety.

Here is the ideal car for a woman's personal use-goodlooking, trustworthy, easy to handle and inexpensive to maintain. Here, too, is a practical car for any family -that every member of the family can enjoy.

Our community has had an unusual experience during the past week. A young man, F. B. Brandenburg, born and reared in the Creston community left here some year; ag,o having no religious convictions, and returned to us a converted man and a licensed minister of the gospel. On Sunday, August 23, he engaged in a meeting with Rev. Graham of Shady Grove Methodist church. The meeting was full of interest. It closed on Thursday but was continued at the Creston school building on Friday. Large congregations gathered to hear "Bardin" (as he was familiarly known) preach and there was no disappointment. His sermons were full of pathos and power, the last one Sunday evening, August 30 was a powerful plea for right living on the part of professing Christians. His eloquent appeal to the young people was very touching. The whole service was wonderful, as our own peopel and visitors from nearby towns will attest. Our large school auditorium was full to its utmost capacity. Miss Rae Holman, pianist and a large choir added much to the spiritual atmosphere of the services. Rev. Brandenburg organized a community prayer meeting to be held in our auditorium every Thursday evening. The spiritual waves he set in motion will we trust, go on and on. until they reach the shores of eter-

In appreciation of his work, Mr. E. W. Holman offered, in behalf of the community, resolution which were adopted by a rising vote.

In as much as Creston community has received a great spiritual uplift from the heard-searching sermons of Rev. F. B. Brandenburg, the following is submitted:

The citizens of Creston and community wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to Rev. F. B. Brandenburg for his splendid sermons and earnest exhortations. In appreciation we extend to him a cordial invitation to return, promising our hearty co-operation in his work. May the richest blessings of heaven rest upon him and his little family. How to Enter and Win

All you have to do to enter the campaign is to clip your Entry Coupon which appears below, fill it out and mail or bring it in to the Campaign Manager of The Reflector. Then start saving the free voting coupons which will appear in the paper each day. A subscription book will be given you for the gathering of subscriptions on which a certain number of votes will be given. Not a popularity or a beauty campaign but one where effort alone will count. Judges will count the votes and award the prizes at the close. Everything is free everybody wins something. Those who secure the highest number of votes by clipping them from the paper and getting other votes from the paid subscriptions to The Reflector will be the winners.
