SECRECY SURROUNDS FRENCH OFFER FOR DEBT SETTLEMENT

French Suggestions Unacceptable But America Willing to Use Them as Basis for Discussion

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP) The American view point was given to the French Debt mission today in a meeting at the Treasury between the negotiators of the two countries seeking a basis for settlement of the French War Debt of $4,000,000,000.

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP) — Complete secrecy surrounded the nature of the settlement offer, which has been submitted by the French Debt Commission as the Commission entered upon the second day of the Debt Funding negotiations with the American Commission.

Joseph Caillaux, the French Minister of Finance and head of his Government's Commission, regards the offer for settlement of the $4,000,000 French Debt as a "definite proposal." Secretary Winston, American Commission Secretary, has announced that no "official proposal" was before the American Commission. However, definite or formal they may regard the French offer, it was declared at the same time from other quarters that to some of the American Commissioners, at least, the French suggestions were not acceptable. On the other hand there was evidence that a majority of the American group were willing to use M. Caillaux's suggestions at least as a starting point for the discussions at today's meeting of the two commissions. In any event developments thus far pointed to an intensive discussion in an effort to find a mutually acceptable basis for negotiations. Beyond saying that he wrote it himself coming over on the boat, and that his colleagues of the commission were in "unity on it," M. Caillaux declined to add to his characterization of the French offer as a "definite proposal."

However, the reaction of the American Commission to the French offer had been crystallized by the discussion at the two sessions held by the American body yesterday after the brief joint meeting of the two commissions, was not indicated when the conferences opened today.

German Delegates Will Take Part in Security Conference

Berlin, Sept. 25.—(AP) — The German delegates to the Security conference, invitation to which was accepted by the Cabinet yesterday, are expected to carry on important private conversations with the Allied statesmen while the negotiations for the Security Pact are proceeding. In fact interest in political circles here centers quite as much on these private talks as in the formal conversations on the Security Issue. It is recalled that the value of the London Reparation conference lay as much in the agreement reached between the German and Allied delegates as in the adoption of the Dawes Plan. The Germans at the forthcoming meeting will stress privately that hand in hand with the security pact must go the following:

Reduction of Germany's burden of maintaining occupation forces; immediate evacuation of the Cologne Bridge head held by the British; advancement of the Plebiscite in the Saar Valley to a date earlier than provided in the Versailles treaty; rescinding of the League of Nations' decision to conduct investigation in Germany from time to time in which Germany sees merely a perpetuation of a military control commission idea.

The Pro Government organs declare that permanent renunciation of Alsas Lorraine constitutes such a heavy sacrifice that Germany should be compensated with these allowances.

Recreation Congress to Meet Asheville Week of October 5

Asheville, Sept. 24.—(AP)—More than 500 delegates from all parts of the nation are expected to gather here October 5 to 10 for America's annual recreation congress. It is the first time the congress has ever met in North Carolina, says the Playground and Recreation Association of America, in announcing the approaching convention.

Governor Angus W. McLean is expected to preside over a general session of the congress, when Governor John G. Winant, of New Hampshire, will speak on "The responsibility of the government for promoting community recreation." F. R. McNinch, former mayor of Charlotte, at the same session, will tell how the government is meeting this responsibility.

The congress will be opened with Asheville's welcome to the congress, the welcome to be extended by Mayor John H. Cathey. Miss Katherine Park, superintendent of recreation in Asheville, will demonstrate playground activities in Aston Park. Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt, another Asheville resident, will serve as chairman of a meeting for discussion of state, county, and municipal parks.

On the program, Charlotte will be represented by Robert Lassiter, a member of the board of directors for the Playground and Recreation Association of America, Mr. McNinch, and E. S. Draper, landscape architect, who will discuss "Planning for the future parks and playgrounds of the south."

Professor Frederick H. Koch, of the University of North Carolina, director of the Carolina Playmakers, will lead a discussion and study of the problems of the little theatre.

Other North Carolinians on the program include: Mrs. F. L. Walker, Jr., chairman of the Durham Playground Commission, who will talk on "what has recreation done for our city," and will also talk on the Problems and responsibilities of board members; Paul C. Lindley, chairman of the Park and Recreation Commission in Greensboro, who will describe the recreation work in that city; Whitehead Klutz, of Salisbury, who has been connected with the national recreation movement for the past four years, and who will speak on "Leisure and the New South,"

TRADE COMMISSION TO RE-INVESTIGATE THE TOBACCO TRADE

Protest of Co-Operative Association of Findings of First Probe Leads to New Inquiry

Washington, Sept. 25.—(AP) — A re-investigation of evidence gathered by the Federal Trade Commission in an inquiry into the Tobacco Trade has been ordered.

The commission will appoint investigators other than those who assembled its original evidence as a result of protest made by co-operative marketing association, against the method followed and the tentative findings.

The Co-operative Council in a statement today declared that "Controversy involves President Coolidge's campaign to delimitize a number of Government boards and commissions notably the Trade and tariff bodies, by appointing stand pat personnel."

"Opposition members of Congress," it said, "have intimated that the movement reflects the friendliness of large co-operative interests which have been staunch campaign contributors. At any rate the Federal Trade Commission is now in full stand pat control just as is the Tariff Commission."

Decision of the Commission followed a conference at which representatives of the co-operative organizations were present.

The commission inquiry is in compliance with a resolution introduced by Senator Ernst, Representative of Kentucky, ordering report as to whether the American Tobacco Company and the British American Tobacco Company had boycotted co-operative associations. Investigators prepared a tentative report in which it was declared that some officials of one of the Tobacco Associations had organized a co-operation which took large profit from redrying tobacco. It was against this action of the report that the protest was made.

Chairman Van Fleet declared the commission was unconcerned as to the criticism. "Our sole object is to develop the facts," Mr. Van Fleet said, "and I have assured all the parties to this matter that we have no concern as to who they are. Our agents have been instructed solely to speak the truth, and personally I do not think they have done anything else."

ROBBERS ENTERED RESIDENCES HERE DURING LAST EVE.

H. W. Whedbee Robbed of Two Pocketbooks While A Small Amount of Money Missing From Home of C. O'H. Horne

Robbers were very much in evidence in Greenville during last night. The home of Mr. H. W. Whedbee was entered, and while he was sleeping his trousers were taken from a near by chair and two pocket books taken, one containing a check for a large amount, two railroad tickets and other papers. The other contained small change.

The home of Mr. C. O'H. Horne was also entered, and some small change, less than one dollar, was taken from his pockets.

During this morning parts from automobiles were missing. The robberies have been reported to the officers who are making every effort possible to apprehend the guilty parties.

James G. K. McClure, Jr., of Fairview, Farmers' Federation president; and C. O. Schaub, of State College, Raleigh, who will assist in a study and discussion of recreation for rural communities.

FALL FASHION SHOW WILL BE HELD TUES. EVENING, OCT. 6TH

Tuesday evening, October 6, from the 7:30 to 10 o'clock has been definitely decided upon as the date and time for Greenville's Fall Fashion Display, special window exhibit and automobile parade, in which practically every firm in the city who are members of the Merchants' Association will participate.

Greenville merchants have undertaken similar exhibits in the past, but this season's show will be staged in an entirely different way. Instead of displaying their wares at the theatre or some like place which has been the practice for former events, at the close of business at six o'clock in the evening many of the windows of the stores will be veiled and rearranged, and at 7:30 o'clock all display windows will be unveiled and the store doors thrown open which will reveal and present for the close inspection of the public the latest creations in wearing apparel and a general display of merchandise. The store owners, managers and employees of the respective stores will devote their entire time in demonstrating their goods and wares.

Preceding the unveiling of the windows there will be an automobile parade over the principal streets of the city showing the new types of cars which will be participated in only by the automobile dealers of the city who are members of the Merchants' Association.

The displays will include women's wearing apparel, footwear, millinery, clothing, hosiery, furniture, draperies, home furnishings, hardware, trunks and bags, automobile and accessories, in fact practically everything sold at retail in the city's business district. Buyers for many of the local establishments have already left for the northern markets to make purchases; especially for this show, and several others are planning to leave within a few days.

Greenville having attained the distinction of being one of the principal shopping centers of this part of the state, the merchants participating are making preparations for a large crowd on this occasion. Additional salespeople will be in many of the stores which will give the establishments ample force to take care of the crowds.

An interesting feature connected with the show and one that should create considerable competition among the queens and their "hand-some" fiancés will be the awarding of a prize to the best looking couple in attendance. A voting booth will be placed at Five Points and every one will be privileged to cast a vote for the best lookers according to their own taste of beauty and dress appearance.

C. The convention will last from April 28th to April 30th, 1926. These industries, the announcement said, is given the present impetus to the new south as a factor in International Commerce.

May Protest Against Sakiatvalla Exclusion

New York, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Efforts are being made to have the Inter-Parliamentary Union convening here Monday to protest against the exclusion from this country of Shapurji Saklatvala, British Communist M. P. who was to have been a delegate. The Union leaders say that the question is to be brought before the Union by Renie Smith, another British M. P. and by at least one other leading delegate. An article published by Mr. Smith in the News Leader, a Socialist paper, denounces Communism, but protests against the revoking of Saklatvala's passports.

POSITIONS CHANGE AS CONTESTANTS KEEP WORKING ON

Workers to Be Eligible Must Turn In Twice a Week; Personal Calls Brings Results

Nearly every contestant now on the list in The Daily Reflector's big circulation drive has settled down to business and are busy as bees piling up big vote totals for the judges to give the "Once Over" on October 29th.

It's not so far away. It may seem so when you look ahead a little more than 4 weeks, but again if you look back at some event that happened four weeks ago it will seem like yesterday.

As each day of the campaign wears on the race gets more intense. The majority of the workers now on the list are pushing their campaign in earnest and their friends are rallying to their support in grand style.

A rough tabulation of votes at the close of each day will show first one candidate with a slight lead and then another. All indications point to an even closer race for the automobiles than last year for the workers seem to be more evenly matched.

Perhaps those who won the machines last year will win again this year and perhaps they won't. We know one thing and that is this: Those who are awarded the machines will be awarded them solely on effort and nothing else. It will take work without a doubt to earn the leading prize but there isn't one contestant on the list who hasn't the ability to earn the leading prize.

Every one who has started pushing their own campaign is right in the running. The whole field is running in close order and the work done during the remaining days of the First Period will prove a lot to do with the ultimate prize winners. In fact, we think the leading prize winners will be determined between now and October 8th, and the work done between now and that date will tell the story for you on the closing day.

Everybody in Greenville and surrounding territory are good prospects for a subscription to The Daily Reflector. You will find a certain thrill in going around and meeting people and you will be well repaid by the many friends you make.

If you but make the calls in your search for subscriptions you will find that the law of average will take care of you. That out of an average of ten people called, on you will find that business will come your way. In this way anybody making the calls will certainly be up on top when the campaign closes, Oct. 29th. Of course you can't sell everybody, no salesman can, but you can do business by making the calls and that is all anybody else can do. But you have to make the calls!

Entry list for over $2,700 in prizes and commissions in The Reflector's subscription campaign is still being held open. The invitation to join and share in these prizes, is open to all.

Some of the contestants have been a little lax in turning in their subscriptions causing some of the subscribers to call for their paper before the subscription was turned in. Those who wish to continue with the campaign and work for the prizes must turn in at least twice a week in order to be eligible.

PREVIOUS TAMPERING INDICATED IN ANCIENT TOMB RECENTLY FOUND

Moscow.—Discoveries made by Koslov, the explorer, in the excavation of an imperial tomb near Urga, Mongolia, has intensified the interest of archeologists in that part of Asia. The tomb which Koslov excavated apparently had been tampered with in past centuries, but contained many interesting objects which led to the conclusion that the burial took place 2,000 B. C.

Two pieces of thick carpet were ornamented with pictures of an elk, a winged lynx, a bull and a leopard. There were traces of varnish and paint on the tomb, and the interior was draped with silk, richly ornamented with the figures of winged riders and reindeer. A corpse was found in a sitting posture in the corridor of the tomb and the fragments of clothing smelled strongly of camphor.

THE PAY ROLL

The payroll and pay day are products of our modern industrialism. They did not exist when the human race was divided into slaves and masters, nor even during the period of hand craftsmen when workmen labored alone in their homes. Today both are commonplace.

Perhaps it is because it is so universal and commonplace that people never looks upon the pay roll in its true light as the life blood of the community. To the home-town merchants pay days always have been good business days, and yet those merchants received a great discovery the idea that every day would be a good business day in the town or city whose industries were so numerous and diversified as to make every day a pay day.

Pay rolls mean business for merchants, taxes with which to run local governments, homes, schools, churches, charity, public improvements and public contentment. The more pay rolls the more of all of these community assets. And finally, and of still greater importance, pay rolls mean employment for the community's surplus labor and attractions which lure new workers and new families.

For these reasons progressive, growing communities throughout the United States offer inducements to new industries. Each new factory means another pay roll. The offers include free land, low taxes, cheap fuel or water, local capital, and even free use of buildings for limited periods.

Within certain limits, a growing population is beneficial to every community and what benefits the community a whole serves each of its component parts.

The Ohio schoolboy who entered on his school enrollment card his father's occupation as "bootlegger" evidently had ambition to emulate George Washington.

The New York mayorality campaign may reveal just how mighty the pen is.

The Mississippi sheriff who says he was unable to recognize any members of a mob who took from him and lynched a negro prisoner may not have much acquaintance in his county.

Bramham Being Swamped Requests World Series Tickets

Durham, Sept. 23.—(AP)—W. G. Bramham, president of the Piedmont, Virginia, and South Atlantic baseball leagues, is being swamped with requests for tickets to the world series—requests he is not able to fill—he stated today.

Requests from all over the section are coming to Mr. Bramham in his capacity of league president, but he says that he will be unable to supply one-fourth of those already asked for and on which money was advanced.

Large numbers of those who have made requests for tickets, and who forwarded cash to cover them, will have their money refunded, no tickets being available, Mr. Bramham stated, and pointed out that, in this situation, of course he would be unable to fill orders being filed now.

FARMERS APPEAL

GEORGIA TOBACCO FOR THE SEASON

Sells for $6,958,732.25 According to Report — Total of 48,160,351 Pounds Marketed to September 14.

Atlanta, Ga.—Georgia tobacco for the season, totaling 48,160,351 pounds, has brought to markets $6,958,732.25, according to a report issued by the Georgia Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. The average price paid per pound was 14.45 cents. Of the entire amount disposed of, all was grown in Georgia with the exception of approximately one million pounds which was shipped into this state from Alabama and Florida.

The report shows that 3,152,999 pounds of tobacco was sold last week at an average price of 10.12 cents, the majority of which was, the report says, "trash and common tobacco, barn scraps and floor sweepings."

The following markets, says the report, are closed.

Albany, Alma, Baxley, Dublin, Lyons, Blackshear, Cairo, Camilla, Fitzgerald, Tahira, Moultrie, Nashville, Belham, Quitman, Thomasville, Valdosta, Vidalia, Waycross, Metter and Hazlehurst.

THE 1925 EASTERN N. C. TOBACCO CROP.

From what I have seen of the tobacco that has been sold in Greenville since the opening of the market, and this includes tobacco from almost every county in Eastern N. C. that produces tobacco, I am more convinced than ever that the crop this year is decidedly the best that has been made in this section in many years. My own opinion is borne out by others of extreme experience in handling tobacco and now that the lungs are practically sold and a large majority of the tips also, I confidently look for a very substantial average all along on the better grades.

We are all prone to complain and lose heart and courage. I know it is a discouraging proposition to work year in and year out at a losing game but I am firmly of the conviction that the farmers in this section this year will receive better prices for their crop than any crop they have made since 1920. I have said this before and stick to it and I don't claim to be a prophet nor the son of one either.

UNCLE SAM GETS 5 TIMES AS MUCH AS WEED GROWER

Further He Will Get More— Over 125 Millions Paid.

Raleigh, Sept. 15.—Uncle Sam has been getting five times as much out of each pound of Eastern Carolina tobacco made into cigarettes in this country as the grower got for producing it and delivering it to market.

If the average price slumps to still lower levels, Uncle Sam will get five times but six times as much, for the old gentleman gets his dollar in stamp tax out of each pound made into cigarettes in America, no matter what price it is sold for by the producer, or what price is paid for cigarettes by the smoker.

Millions for Taxes.

While it is said that only one-fourth of the tobacco produced in eastern North Carolina is used by domestic manufacturers, the other three-fourths being exported, it is interesting to note that the stamp tax for cigarettes alone paid by North Carolina manufacturers amounts to $125,289,858.54 last year.

While this is an immense sum of money, less than half of the tobacco produced in North Carolina last year would be required to make the 41,763,286,000 cigarettes that the stamp tax was paid on. Not all the tobacco used in the manufacture of cigarettes was secured from this state. It requires three pounds of tobacco to make a thousand cigarettes, so that the present stamp tax is $1 a pound.

Out of every dollar paid by the smoker for cigarettes, the tobacco grower has been getting eight cents, your Uncle Sam 40 cents and the manufacturer, jobber, wholesaler and retailer 52 cents. If the present slump continues, instead of getting eight cents the tobacco grower will get only six cents, while Uncle Sam will continue to get his 40 cents, and the difference in the price paid for tobacco will go to the manufacturers as the price to the retailer continues almost stationary.

Prices for Cigarettes.

Prior to 1916 the stamp tax on each thousand cigarettes was $1.25 instead of $3, and the price then to the retailer was $4.10 a thousand. During the war the tax was increased to $3, or $1 a pound, and the price of cigarettes to the retailer advanced to $10.85. After the world war, the price of cigarettes to the retailer decreased to $6.10 a thousand, but for the last two years the price has been $6.40 a thousand.

The price charged the retailer includes the stamp tax, so that the net price from the jobber is $3.40 a thousand as against $2.85 ten years ago. The net price advanced to $7.85 a thousand during the war period. After the war the net price was as low as $3.10.

The bright leaf tobacco of Eastern Carolina is used in making cigarettes and while the bulk of it is exported, there is still enough left to make the bulk of the cigarettes manufactured in North Carolina. While the price of cigarettes advanced during the world war, to nearly three times their present price.

Some Record Crops.

The entire tobacco crop of North Carolina last year sold for $65,000,000, while for the preceding year of 1923 it brought $81,144,000, while for the year 1922 the crop brought $60,000,000 and for 1921 the North Carolina crop brought $65,637,000 and in the disastrous year of 1920 the record crop of 433,750,000 pounds sold for $109,739,000, or an average of 25 cents per pound. The previous year a crop of 325,248,000 pounds had brought $174,333,000, which was the record amount of money ever paid for a North Carolina tobacco crop.

If the present slump in tobacco prices continues, the indications are that the entire crop this year will sell for less money than any that has been marketed since 1916. It is this prospect that has brought great discouragement in the eastern belt.

While the average price at the opening of last year's season was given as 21 cents a pound, the average for the month of September according to reports by warehouses, was 19.66 cents, and the average price reported for the month of August was 17 cents. The average for the entire season was 23.29 cents.

Taking prices on the same basis this season, the average at the beginning being given as 15 cents, it is probable that the average for this month will be at the best five cents under that of last year.

Biggest Slump in Decade.

The quality of the tobacco grown in eastern North Carolina is said to be as good as any that has been grown in fifteen years, and the first offerings are declared to be better than usual. The slump in prices is declared to be due to the fact that foreign countries are buying little or none of the sorrier grades and paying much lower prices than usual for the better grades that they do buy.

Failure to buy tobacco is blamed by the foreign companies on the "Chinese situation," which became disturbed on June 1. By the time the "Chinese situation" gets quieted it is expected that the bulk of the tobacco will have been sold in eastern North Carolina. There are other reasons given for the low prices, such as the lateness of the crop, but they are the same reasons that have been given in other years when there have been slumps. Meantime the tobacco growers hope for the best, but with fear it may be a vain hope.

The production and average price in North Carolina for the last ten years follows:

Year	Production	Price
1916	176,400,000	20.0
1916	176,000,000	20.0
1917	239,400,000	31.5
1918	329,940,000	35.1
1919	325,248,000	53.6
1920	433,750,000	25.3
1921	252,450,000	26.0
1922	290,372,000	27.6
1923	386,400,000	21.0
1924	278,000,000	23.29

While tobacco production and tobacco prices have greatly fluctuated during the last decade, it has not caused the tobacco manufacturers to lose money. Six of the largest tobacco companies last year had a net income of $115,000,000 as compared with $92,000,000 for the preceding year while with the exception of the American Tobacco Company none of the large tobacco manufacturing concerns report decreased profits for any year since the close of the war but on the contrary, report increased profits.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N. ORGANIZED AT WEST GREENVILLE SCHOOL

West Greenville School is rapidly becoming an effective unit of the city school system. The request came from the patrons themselves that they be allowed to serve the school in the work of a Parent-Teachers Association. The teachers and pupils were delighted to hear this. A date was selected and invitations sent out. At 3:30 on Friday, Sept. 25, about 60 parents gathered in the attractive assembly room of the building. Mrs. C. W. Shuff and Mrs. J. W. Winslow, presidents of the Evans Street and Model School Parent-Teachers Associations and a number of teachers from these schools were present also. Mrs. W. C. Vincent, principal of the school, called the meeting to order. Supt. J. H. Rose approved of the meeting and gave much food for thought in his usual pleasing manner. Helpful suggestions and remarks were made by home folks and visitors. Mrs. Luther Herring, a representative of the Evans Street group, directed the organization. The following officers were elected: Mrs. S. J. Everett, President; Rev. H. H. Leach, Vice President; Mrs. C. L. Roebuck, treasurer; Miss Laura Foley, secretary. The faculty of the school is delighted with the officers chosen, the whole membership and the general outlook for a successful year of West Greenville school. SUPT. J. H. ROSE AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

Supt. J. H. Rose of the Greenville Graded Schools left this afternoon for New York where he will attend Columbia University for several months. Mr. Rose has been given a scholarship by the Rockefeller Foundation, an honor which is accorded only a few, and being granted a leave of absence by the school board will accept the opportunity of continuing his studies.

Mr. Rose stated this morning that although he had accepted the scholarship he is still Superintendent of the Greenville Schools, and will return, from time to time, to look after the interest of same. He has the school system so perfected that he can leave without causing any setback in the progress of the work. Although he will be greatly missed every success is wished for him.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR SUPT. J. H. ROSE

An informal farewell party for Mr. J. H. Rose, superintendent of the Greenville Schools, who has been granted a leave of absence to attend Teachers College, of Columbia University for the next nine months was held last evening at the Vines House. After a delightful supper the guests adjourned to the parlors where group singing was enjoyed. This was interrupted by the arrival of a messenger boy with a score of telegrams for Mr. Rose which contained splendid advice for him in resuming his "skule days" and were unique in that the first letters all the words of the telegrams spelled out Mr. Rose's name.

Mrs. Myrtle Brogden spoke for the teachers of the Vines House saying how much the entire household appreciated the vision and ideals that he had held for the Greenville City System. "The token be small Gift," she said "which Mrs. Casey is to hand you indicates not only our sincere appreciation of the unselfish efforts that you have expended, but it indicates also our very best wishes that you may have a happy school year." When she finished speaking Mrs. Carey handed Mr. Rose a beautiful set of cuff links. Mr. Rose also was presented with several small useful gifts, a pencil box, note book and first aid kit and a miniature Ford coupe.

MRS. DAIL LAUGHINGHOUSE ENTERTAINS.

Hostess at Linen Shower in Honor of Miss Frances Whedbee, Bride-Elect.

The Greenville Country Club was the scene of a delightful party on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Dail Laughinghouse entertained with bridge at which time a linen shower was given in honor of Miss Frances Whedbee bride-elect.

The reception room was attractively decorated with autumn flowers in their various shades, with purple and yellow predominating. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and honoree and served punch and sandwiches by Misses Maria and Eloise Garrett and Margaret Bostic.

Twelve tables were arranged for bridge and a number of interesting progressions were enjoyed. Mrs. O. B. Peatross making the top score was presented a string of beads. Miss Sarah Burgett, of Mobile, Ala., house guest of Mrs. W. H. Bradsher and Miss Nellie Coleman, of Latta, S. C., guest of Mrs. Penn Watson were presented attractive vanities. Mrs. W. L. Whichard, a recent bride, was remembered with a perfume.

Miss Whedbee was showered in a most unique manner. She was given a ball of twine and told to wind it. As she began drawing the strings around, each brought with it a beautiful piece of linen. After the ball had been completed, she found that she was the recipient of a beautiful collection of linens, for which she expressed thanks in her usual charming manner.

At the conclusion of the games the hostess served an ice course with candies and nuts.

"Peanuts, popcorn and Cracker-jack."

Don't it sound natural? Well, today is the day, and for the past two weeks the billboards have proclaimed that this is the day of days for young America—Circus Day.

Long before any of the alarm clocks rang for the early risers here the special train of the Walter L. Main circus arrived in the local railroad yards, and the crowd of boys and older people who watched the first arrival of the circus were rewarded by seeing unloaded some of the best looking equipment that has been seen here before with any circus.

At the show grounds in Fair Ground a busy scene was presented as fast as the wagons arrived they were sent by one of the officials to their proper station and soon the big canvas tents were billowing in the breeze. The horses were fed, breakfast was served to the workmen and the performers and then everything was in readiness for the parade.

At the appointed time the parade left the show grounds, and traversed the downtown streets. There were many compliments passed along the route as to the appearance of the wagons embellished with gold leaf and looked substantial and fine. The stork was in excellent condition, the costumes fresh and pleasing and the music excellent.

The afternoon performance began at 2 o'clock. The rings, stages and aerial enlaves were used to display numberless novelties, chief among which are the Merry Madaps. Tom and Mary Waters, premier wire artists, LeLong Sisters, aerialists, Viola Cornalia, and "the Girls of the Altitude."

Peter Loftus and his fighting lions head the wild animal displays and Luella Beattie "the prima donna of the White Tops," is a soloist that easily could attain honors on the concert stage. The Walter L. Main elephants and the trained horses and ponies were also picked as features by the vast audience that filled the big tent this afternoon.

The consensus of opinion, after the afternoon performance was that the Walter L. Main circus is the best that has played here in some time, and a record breaking crowd is expected to attend tonight's performance when the management guarantees there will be no "cuts" or omissions.

To Publish Bulletin on Feed Control Work

Raleigh, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The State Department of Agriculture has sent to the printer material for a bulletin on feed control work in this state, and the bulletin will appear shortly, it is announced.

In the foreword, Commissioner Graham will say:

"I take this occasion to announce to our feed consumers and farmers in general that the Department of Agriculture has resumed publication of its monthly bulletin so that from now on people of the state can get any desired information as to what the State Department of Agriculture is doing."

Mr. Graham will also point out in his foreword that "before our feed law has enacted, millers from other states, and, to some extent, within the state, unhesitatingly placed upon local markets all sorts and grade of feed stuffs until conditions became intolerable. But today our inspection and laboratory service has placed the feed trade of the state on a firm and reliable basis and our farmers and dairymen can rely almost implicitly on the published analysis of feed stuffs offered for sale on the markets of the state."

"Oh, what a blessing this wonderful Karnak has been to me," declares Mrs. Evelyn Hagwood, highly esteemed resident of 122 N. Dawson St., Raleigh, N. C., in telling of her heartfelt gratitude to this great health builder for the remarkable benefit it has been to her.

"Why, never a day passes but what I feel thankful to this glorious medicine," continues Mrs. Hagwood. "The past five years I was so miserable with suffering that life just didn't seem worth living. What I suffered from stomach trouble no tongue could tell."

"The nearest I can come to describing my condition is to say that it seemed like there was a mill or something grinding away in my stomach for hours after every morsel I ate. Why, I could hardly eat enough to keep body and soul together."

"My nervous system just seemed to be a complete wreck. I would lie awake all night, so nervous that I Simply felt like screaming, and I worried and fretted over the least little thing. Why, for two years I was so weak and miserable I wasn't able to turn my hands to help my daughter one bit with any of her housework, and I was so miserable and discouraged I didn't know what to do.

"And then finally I got hold of this wonderful Karnak, and since taking three bottles of this grand medicine it just seems like I am living in a different world or back in the good old world I knew long ago when I was healthy and strong and scarcely knew what fatigue meant."

"I'm eating just splendid now with a hearty appetite, and don't know what it is to be bothered with stomach trouble any more. My nerves are perfectly quiet, and nights I sleep as sound as a rumping youngster. Why, I have so much new strength I get real pleasure in helping with the housework now, and I can hardly realize I'm the same person that used to be so near an invalid. I feel that Karnak has given me a new lease on life, and words can never express my gratitude to it."

ALASKAN ESKIMOS BECOME SUCCESSFUL FOX FARMERS

Nome, Alaska.—Frank DuFresne, in charge of the Seward Peninsula for the United State Biological Survey, reports that Eskimos are taking a full part in developing the farming of foxes and the marketing of their pelts into a bounteous Alaska industry.

The south side of the peninsula is on Bering Sea and the north on the Arctic Ocean. On the north coast line white men destroyed the Eskimo livelihood by annihilating the whales and burning the driftwood.

The Eskimos have taken to white foxes, and some families are making incomes of $2000 annually. From catching wild foxes and selling the furs, the natives have gone on to developing simple ranches.

The women do most of the work—it's the aboriginal way—but, DuFresne pointed out, families threatened with extinction are beginning to thrive, though father sits around the cabin that has replaced the igloo.
