CANDIDATES ON LAST LAP OF AUTO CONTEST NOW

Close of Campaign Comes Thursday Night With the Awarding of Hudson Coach and Other Prizes

The last final decrease in votes has taken place. Contestants start today in the Daily Reflector's campaign on the last long stretch. Five more days of effort and then will come the rich awards of over $5,000 in prizes and cash commission checks.

Today the workers start on what is known as the final period of the campaign. Votes given on subscriptions in this period will count the least of all but from the way the contestants are bunched for the prizes they really will count just as much right now as though they did while the big vote period was in progress during the early stages of the campaign.

Here are the prizes that will be awarded Thursday night, Oct. 29th with the names of the concerns where purchased: First prize, Hudson Super-Six Coach ($1,335 delivered) from Lang Motor Co.; Second prize, 1926 Ford Coupe ($592 delivered), from Flanagan Buggy Co.; Third prize, $250 Living Room Suit, from Quinn-Miller & Co.; Fourth prize, Dining Room Suit ($187) from Quinn Miller & Co.; Fifth prize, Grebe Radio Set (installed and fully equipped, $115) from Smith Electric Co. Sixth prize, $75 in cash; Seventh prize, $50 in cash.

Three out of the ten active workers now competing will be given a ten per cent cash commission based on the total amount of subscription money turned in.

Here are the workers who will share in the money prizes:

In fairness to all we do not list them as they stand at this writing for the present leaders have just earned this high position and leadership is changing almost hourly. But here they are, your guess as to the possible automobile winner is as good as ours:

Mrs. H. C. Davis, Miss Margaret Cook, Miss Helen Joyner, Mrs. R. C. Abee, Miss Mary G. Harrington, Miss Lillian Hooker, Mrs. F. J. Diener, Miss Irene King, Mrs. W. G. Rush and Mrs. Lucy Moyer.

All that remains now is for the candidates listed above to make their last big finish. One week full of action will have a lot to do with your standing, one big week and over the top you go to the Hudson Coach. Don't falter now. Don't let any negative thoughts creep into your mind. The prize of six weeks effect is now within your grasp—don't let it slip through your fingers by a poor finish. A good finish will win an automobile!

State Ranks High As Producer of Wealth

Chapel Hill, Oct. 23.—(AP)—As a producer of wealth North Carolina ranks high among the states of the union, says S. H. Hobbs, Jr., in the leading article in the current issue of the University News Letter.

"Only 14 states rank ahead of us in the combined value of basic products and industrial output for the year 1923," he continues. "Our position should be a matter of pride to everyone in the state. The states that rank ahead of us owe their rank largely to their superior urban and industrial development and to their size and total population. Our wealth comes almost entirely from two sources, namely, farms and factories.

The annual production of several states is largely attributable to oil and minerals which some day will be exhausted. Our farms and factories will continue to produce long after the mines have become exhausted.

"The total wealth produced by farms, factories, forests, and mines in North Carolina was more than a billion and a half dollars for the year 1923, distributed as follows: Produced by industries $951,911,000, by agriculture $513,400,000, by forests $38,051,000, and extracted from mines $10,006,000. Thus nearly 97 percent of the total was produced by farms and factories, both of which are fairly well distributed over the state."

STATE EMPLOYEES GAIN BACK HOLIDAYS BUT LOSE VACATION

Salary and Wage Commission Restores Holidays Abolished But May Cut Vacations Short

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Employees of the State yesterday gained back six holidays which the Salary and Wage Commission had abolished, but they yet lose the six days of holiday. In a statement issued last night the Salary and Wage Commission indicated that it was considering cutting the annual vacation for employees from two to six days in order to accomplish its purpose of holding down days of leave with pay. The Commission however did not take final action in the matter, nor was the proposal tentatively approved as some of the members were not present when that phase of the meeting was reached. The proposition is before the Committee for further consideration.

Yesterday the Commission announced that six holidays, which it had eliminated had been restored when the Attorney General advised that the wage commission had no power to abolish holidays set by statute. The proposal to cut the vacation period to six days was broached later in the day as a means to make up the six days which became holidays by the Attorney General's ruling. The net result of yesterday's meeting of the Commission was that between 90 and 100 individual cases where protests had been made against classification or salary changes will be given further consideration. The Commission decided not to take any further action in handling the balance of about 335 cases in which protests had been filed.

State Leads in Birth Rate Accounted for Large Negro Popu.

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—North Carolina's continued lead in the birth rate in the union is usually partially accounted for by the average man by the fact that North Carolina has a large percentage of negro population, and the birthrate among negroes is high. North Carolina counties having fewest negroes, however, lead the state in births, figures for 1924 compiled by the vital statistics bureau of the state Board of Health and contained in its annual report, just published, show.

Mitchell county, one of the mountain counties of North Carolina, and one of those having the fewest negroes, is an easy leader in birth rate. In 1924 that county had 42.1 births for every 1,000 population. This is in contrast with the average of 31.3 for the entire state.

Warren county comes second, with 39.3 births for every thousand population. Gaston county, in the Piedmont section, with 29 births per 1,000 population is a close third. Currituck, on the far east, stands at the bottom of the list, with a birthrate of only 21.7 per 1,000.

Turning to the death rate figures, mountain counties again stand at the top. The fewest deaths per 1,000 population last year occurred in Graham, where the rate was only 5.8, less than half the 12.2 average for the state.

Avery county, next door to Mitchell the leader in the birth rate, stands second on the list for a low death rate. Avery's rate of deaths per thousand population last year was 6.1. Yancey, another county bordering Mitchell and Ashe are tied for third place, with a death rate per thousand population of only 6.3.

The highest death rate in North Carolina last year was in Buncombe county, where they were 18.5 deaths for every 1,000 people. Partial explanation of the rate in Buncombe probably is the fact that its county seat, Asheville, is a center for the treatment of tuberculosis many people who have become ill with the disease moving to Asheville.

FRENCH CABINET ADJOURNS WITHOUT HEARING CAILLAUX

Details of Proposed Financial Measure to Be Heard at Meeting Monday

Paris, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The French cabinet meeting today broke up without Finance Minister Caillaux detailing his proposed financial measure, or submitting his resignation, which had been anticipated in some quarters. The cabinet is to meet again on Monday.

While not giving the details of his plans, M. Caillaux laid the financial position of the country before his colleagues in general terms. The impression prevailed that the cabinet will meet the Chamber of Deputies next Thursday without any change in its membership, although full agreement of the financial question has not yet been reached among the ministers.

WILL OF THE LATE JAMES B. DUKE FILED FOR PROBATE

Duke University Gets Four Million for Hospital and Medical School. Wife and Daughter Share in Estate.

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A bequest of $10,000,000 to be administered by the Duke endowment foundation was made in the will of the late James B. Duke, tobacco magnate, filed for probate at Summitville, N. J., today.

The will directed that $4,000,000 of the $10,000,000 bequest should go for the construction and equipment of a medical school hospital and nurses home at Duke University at Durham, N. C. The will does not reveal the total value of the estate which has been variously estimated as high as $150,000,000. The will gives to Mrs. Naneline H. Duke, for life, the Duke Fifth Avenue property and the Duke estate at New Port, R. I., and Myers Park, N. C. The same property goes to Mr. Duke's daughter, Ruth, at the death of her mother. The Duke Farms Company, a New Jersey Corporation, was ordered dissolved and the funds realized to be distributed to share holders.

Insist Detective Who Negotiated return of Donahue Jewels

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Noel C. Scaff, private detective who negotiated the return of the Donahue jewels, was indicted by a grand jury today charged with compounding a felony.

Tar Heels Meet V. M. I. In Richmond This Year

Chapel Hill, Oct. 23.—The Carolina V. M. I. football game in Richmond on Saturday, November 7, promises to be one of the high lights on the grid program of the South Atlantic States for the present season. On early season showing the two teams appear very evenly matched, and the fans will probably see a battle royal.

The invasion of Richmond to meet the Flying Squadron recalls to mind the annual pilgrimages which Tar Heels made in days gone by to meet another Old Dominion outfit, the Virginia Cavaliers. The V. M. I. contest is to the Tar Heel fans of today what the Cavalier game was to the fans of yesterday.

Prefer "Blue Denim" Work.

Pittsburgh.—A majority of night students at the Carnegie Institute of Technology have shown a preference for "blue denim" work. Only a comparatively few are entered for occupations where clean linen and well combed hair are necessities. Building and machinery trades have attracted many of the students.

Bomber's Crash Killed Three

Here is what is left of the giant Martin bombing plane that crashed 1,000 feet in a nose dive near Cape May Court House, N. J., killing Capt. R. H. Kinloch, Lieut. A. C. Martin, and Sergt. Joseph Coulston. They were en route to Langley Field, Va., from New York, when the machine went wrong.

COURT MARTIAL CHARGES SERVED ON COL. MITCHELL

Technical Arrest of Air Controversy Storm Center Will Be Deferred Until Just Before Trial

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A copy of the court martial charges brought against Colonel William Mitchell as a result of his criticism of high officers in the air controversy was served on the Colonel today but his technical arrest was deferred.

The charges are brought under the article of war which deals with general offenses against the discipline and good order of the army. Technical arrest probably will not take place until just before the officer goes on trial next week, although in the meantime he remains under orders not to leave Washington.

McLean to Name Delegates Good Roads Convention Soon

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Governor McLean is expected in the near future to name the delegates from North Carolina to the next annual good roads convention and exposition and of the American Road Builders' Association, to be held in Chicago, January 11 to 15, inclusive.

W. H. Conell, president of the American Road Builders' Association, has written to the governors of the various states, requesting them to name delegates to the convention.

Last Year 16,000 registered delegates attended the convention, North Carolina will be represented at the convention also by State Highway Commission Frank Page, who is past president of the association and State Highway Engineer Charles M. Upham, who, as convention manager, has charge of making preparations for the meeting and exposition.

Mr. Page, who is now in Buenos Aires attending the Pan-American Good Roads Congress, as one of the American delegates appointed by President Coolidge, has personally presented an invitation to South and Central American countries to send delegates to the convention.

Indications are that delegates from all parts of the world and especially from the Latin-American countries will attend the convention.

ASHEVILLE POSSES SEEK ASSAILANT OF WHITE WOMAN

Attack Took Place Late Yesterday in Western Section of City; Four Suspects Freed

Asheville, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Despite the efforts of scores of armed men, who have searched every nook of the Horneyhurst section of the city and have watched freight trains leave the city the negro wanted for an attempted attack on a white woman in west Asheville yesterday afternoon was still at liberty today. Blood hounds were used in the man hunt without success. Four suspects were taken before the victim yesterday but were released when she failed to identify any one of them. The woman, who is married and has four children, described her assailant as a young negro, black in color, with an unusual long face, wearing new overalls, a dark coat, and gray cap. The officers were told by the woman that she was walking across the field in the direction of her home when she saw the negro approaching. She quickened her step but was overtaken by the negro. She told him that her husband was coming, but he drew a revolver and said "I'll blow your head off if you make a sound." Hundreds of men took up the hunt yesterday and the search was being continued today. This is the third attack on white women by negroes here in the past three months. On September 19 a mob stormed the Buncombe county jail seeking to lynch Alvin Mansel, a negro held for the second attack, but he was carried away and is now in jail in Charlotte pending his trial in November. The negro who made the first attack has never been captured.

GOVERNORS SEEK REPEAL OF FEDERAL INHERITANCE TAX

State Executives Present Their Case Before House Ways and Means Committee Today

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Abandonment by the Federal Government from inheritance taxes was asked by half a dozen state governors today before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Imposition of the levy was described as an invasion of state rights and a diversion into the treasury of money needed by the states. The Governor who appeared in this morning's session were Walker, of Georgia; Whitfield, of Mississippi; Trinkle, of Virginia; McLean, of North Carolina; McLeod, of South Carolina, and Peay, of Tennessee.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—State Governors brought their case for repeal of the Federal Inheritance taxes before the House Ways and Means Committee today at its hearing on tax reduction and reform. Half a dozen state executives came to the cabinet to present personally to the Committee their views in support of Secretary Mellon's suggestion that the Federal Levy be repealed and estate taxes be left entirely as a source of revenue for state government. Among those who came to the Capitol today was Governor McLean, of North Carolina.

Opening the argument for the state representatives, Governor Walker, of Georgia, presented to the Committee the resolution approved formerly by 32 state governors asking repeal of the estate tax. He said other Governors also had endorsed it, but named the executives of Iowa, Wisconsin, California, and Oregon as being opposed to repeal of the tax.

"We believe this tax would not and would not have been raised," he said, "except for the emergency created by the war. We believe this levy should be left for use by the state alone."

"We are not experts in taxation and we leave to the wisdom of the Committee to decide as to how quickly and in what manner the Federal Government should retire from this field as it decides to do."

Discussing the income tax generally, Governor Walker said the people of his state had been turned violently against the tax because of the "ruthless administration" of the Federal law there.

IF LEAGUE MEETS IN MADRID THE MEMBERS' WIVES RESPONSIBLE

Geneva.—If the next session of the Council of the League of Nations is held at Madrid, the selection may have been made by the wives of the Council members.

The Spanish Ambassador was asked by a friend whether he thought the Spanish invitation to meet in Madrid would be accepted.

"What do you think?" rejoined the Ambassador.

"Well, all I know is that Mrs. Hyman (the wife of the Belgian member of the council) says she wants to go to Madrid," said the friend.

"Then it is all set," said the Ambassador with a laugh. "If the wives of the Council members have decided on Madrid then we shall certainly go there."

LIMIT HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE TO A TWO HOUR GRIND DAILY

Los Angeles.—Athletes in the local schools under no circumstances may exercise more than two hours in an afternoon. No student may try out for more than one major sport team a semester.

The Board of Education, "armed at the steadily increasing displacement of studies by athletics in the minds of students," set these and other rules for high schools here. Post-season contests for sectional titles and contests with university or college freshmen teams were also tabooed.

Only two practice games in each sport will be permitted to precede the regular season.

Elevens of This State to Play Teams From Other States Sat.

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Battles with rivals of long years standing are on the football field for tomorrow for North Carolina teams. All of the elevens will play teams from other states and in most cases the games are those about which sentiment has been wound because of their annual renewal.

Wake Forest, North Carolina's outstanding eleven outside of the Southern Conference, will meet the University of Florida and the Demon Deacons have not forgotten the bitterness of a 34 to 0 defeat which the 'Gators administered last year. Wake Forest, on the face of advance data, will have a hard battle against Florida and the odds are in favor of the southern state's defenders.

The Erskine-Lenoir Rhyme and Davidson—Furman games will be the only contests played within the state. The former contest will be staged at Hickory and the latter at Charlotte. The Wildcats will find their claws full when they tackle the Purple Hurricane and Davidson will be hard put to it to achieve a victory. Furman, it seems, ought to be able to conquer Lenoir.

North Carolina State's annual battle with V. M. I. will be staged at Richmond and the Wolfpack will be ready for the Cadets though the odds favor V. M. I. to win. Duke also enters Virginia for the annual renewal of the contest with William and Mary and should be able to give a fair account, though the Williamsburg aggregation is slated for victory.

Carolina travels to Macon where Mercer will be played. The Tarheels are much encouraged by their recent victories over State and Duke and should be able to dispose of Mercer through the game probably will be close. Elon will travel to Beckley, West Va., for a tussle with Concord state.

Greece Will Insist Upon Satisfaction for Bulgarian Aggression

Athens, Greece, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Greek troops having obtained their "object" by advancing into Bulgaria as far as Petrick, says a communique this afternoon the military operations may be considered as ended.

The incident now enters a purely diplomatic phase in which Greece will continue to insist upon satisfaction for the alleged Bulgarian aggression of last Monday.

Turks Abolish Grilles

Constantinople.—Another age-old Turkish institution will soon be no more. This time it will be the grilles in front of the Turkish houses designed to prevent the harem women being seen from outside. The Ministry of Health has ordered the removal of the grilles on the ground that they keep out the sunlight and air, with injurious results to infantile health.

FARMERS APPEAL

By O. L. JOYNER

THE GREENVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Very naturally I should take personal pride in the wonderful growth and development of the Greenville Tobacco Market, and I do, and make no apology for so doing.

To have had a small but active part in the establishment of this market, and to have witnessed its growth from an insignificant beginning, when there was sold the first year, less than a quarter of a million pounds, and seen it grow and expand until it is now the second largest tobacco market in the world and very probably the largest strictly farmers market, gives me real, genuine pleasure and pride. When I took charge of this page it was my intention to prepare an article on the thirty-fourth anniversary of the Greenville Tobacco Market, which occurred October first, but pressure of other duties kept me too busy to attempt it, and this reference to it is only an apology and excuse.

For my part in helping to get up the stock, I was given the position of bookkeeper, which job I held for in the old Greenville warehouse, that one day only. Mr. F. P. Meadows, stood on or near the present site of McGowan and Cannon's warehouse, in September 1890, I returned home from Lexington, Ky., where I had taken a course in a business college, and found the people of this section enthused over the tobacco crop in Pitt county. The price at which tobacco was then selling offered our people much encouragement as a means of escape from bankruptcy, due to four cent cotton. There was not much tobacco planted at that time in the county, and it had to be marketed in Oxford, Henderson, and Durham. In 1891 the crop was increased, and during that summer, encouraged by Mr. R. J. Cobb who said he would take stock, and help to build a tobacco warehouse in Greenville. I started out soliciting subscriptions of stock to build a tobacco warehouse. I was a mere boy, money was scarce, and subscriptions came in very slow, and but for Mr. Cobb's help in many ways, I don't think sufficient stock to build the warehouse was secured, the warehouse was built, and the first sale was made on October 1, 1891.

For my part in helping to get up the stock, I was given the position of bookkeeper, which job I held for in the old Greenville warehouse, that one day only. Mr. F. P. Meadows, stood on or near the present site of McGowan and Cannon's warehouse, in September 1890, I returned home from Lexington, Ky., where I had taken a course in a business college, and found the people of this section enthused over the tobacco overlooked making provision for paying off the farmers, until the floor was full of tobacco and everything in readiness for the sale, then it was that Mr. Cobb again came to the rescue of the market and put up his check for twenty-five hundred dollars to be used in paying off the farmers, for the first sale of tobacco ever made in Greenville.

There was sold that year two hundred and twenty-five thousand pounds. The next year, with the endorsement and help in many ways of my father, the Eastern Warehouse was built, and the market sold that year, one million two hundred thousand pounds.

And thus it was the Greenville Tobacco Market had its beginning, and through many trials, much trouble, and more tribulations it grew and prospered. It is not necessary to say that not much money was made during the first few years of the market. It required more than was taken in to keep life in the market, as many now living here will know. Notably, Mr. Jas. L. Little, the honored and honorable President of the National Bank of Greenville, who then was cashier of the Tyson & Rawl Bank, the only bank here at the time. At the time of the opening of the market in Greenville it was difficult to secure buyers, and more difficult to get the money after they bought the tobacco, as many of us can testify. Buyers were difficult to secure, and I remember very well that in order to secure a permanent buyer I purchased the lot on which now stands a part of the Norfolk Southern depot and land out to ninth street, for $75.00 built a three story building, and sold it to a buyer for $400.00 less than it cost us, as an inducement to get him to locate here.

But the market grew and the town has prospered. Tobacco has done much for Greenville, and all those of us who were here in the beginning have a right and just cause to feel glad for the part we did in helping to lay the foundation for the best and biggest farmers market in the world.

THE TOBACCO MARKET REPORTS.

Prices on all grades of tobacco have been very well sustained during the entire week, notwithstanding the market has been crowded each day to the full capacity. The block however, was broken Thursday, and all the warehouses finished selling by four-thirty, with prices strong on a ladder. While I have not had an official report of the market average, I feel sure that it is well over thirty cents for every thing sold. If the present price level is maintained throughout the remainder of the season the average of the crop will range between twenty-five and thirty cents. My position all along has been that this was the best crop of tobacco, by far, that has been produced in Eastern North Carolina in many years and that it would average more per pound than any crop since 1919; and by all the rules of right and equity it should sell for more than any crop since that year. All the old belt markets are now open, and sales are heavy with prices, considering the quality good. On account of the protracted drought the up country crop will hardly exceed fifty-five to seventy per cent of an average crop, at a whole, while in many sections it will not be over half a crop.

In saying that the Greenville market this year is about the strongest farmers market in the east, when quality of the tobacco offered is considered, I am not boasting the Greenville market but stating a plain and simple fact. The Greenville market, this year, has probably sold tobacco for farmers from a wider range of territory than any of the Eastern North Carolina markets, and very naturally, therefore, has sold a larger percent of common to medium tobacco, than any other market. There are other markets that have sold from a wide territory, but a good percent of this tobacco was bought on many markets all over the eastern belt, and consisted of selections of the best tobacco offered, thus stimulating the average price; while the Greenville market has sold only a very small amount of re-sales from other markets. On one warehouse in Greenville this season, there were farmers, one day, from nineteen counties selling tobacco, as follows: Halifax, Martin, Hertford, Bertie, Washington, Beaufort, Craven, Carteret, Onslow, Jones, Duplin, Lenoir, Greene, Wilson, Johnston, Wayne, Edgecombe, Nash and Pitt. Can any market in the state beat it!

take care of the offerings of several hundred farmers, thrown on an overloaded market in two or three days, if they will set their heads to the work. The tobacco farmers of Eastern North Carolina, as a whole are much of an idea of improving their system further advanced, more modern in their methods, more progressive in their views, and quicker to adopt new and better methods that mean some market conditions.

TAXES

One promptly subscribes to the expression, "God bless the man who invented sleep," but he does not regard with complacency the thought of the man who first invented taxes. Antiquarians have dug up on the banks of the Euphrates a clay tax receipt said to be 4,500 years old.

The fact that the imposition of taxes is an ancient, if not respected, custom does not reconcile present-day contributors to the system to the burdens they feel they are called upon to bear. About the only thing the individual admits without demur is that taxes are necessary. There are some persons who profess to take satisfaction in the payment of taxes in their numerous forms, but everybody else knows that such persons are hypocrites of the rankest sort—for how can any person get satisfaction out of dispensing money that is taken from his purse by due process of law?

About the only thing that can be done to relieve the situation, brought about by the development of civilization, is to make taxes as easy as possible to pay, and sometimes a bit of innocent deception is necessary to convince the taxpayer that he is getting the worth of his money.

While few persons would have difficulty in finding things about which to complain, the business of paying taxes is such a popular cause of complaint that many folks might feel a sense of loss if taxes should be dispensed with. Occasionally, too, a few benefits from taxes can be traced by the person who is not altogether committed to pessimism.

ARE YOU A SUCCESS?

Are you successful? Are you a "go-getter?"

These two questions do not mean one and the same thing. The writers of books on "How to Succeed" think they do; but they don't.

It is possible for a "go-getter" to be successful. It is also possible to be successful without being a "go-getter."

The "go-getter" is the individual who starts out to make as much money as he can, or to climb as high as he can. The Roman Emperor Maximin was a "go-getter." In his youth he was a Thracian shepherd; but being ambitious and about eight feet tall he joined the army and secured rapid promotion. His one idea was to get ahead, and he was not particular as to the means. He secured the favor of the Emperor Alexander Severus, and rewarded him by having Alexander put to death in Maximin's own tent. Maximin was then proclaimed emperor. The "go-getter" had succeeded. But he was not a success. After three bloody years he was assassinated by his own army.

While Maximin was having his ups and downs, there were a few million Romans not mentioned by Gibbon who were marrying and raising families and educating their children and keeping their promises and trying to be decent, self-respecting citizens. In the opinion of Maximin and the authors of books on "Success" they were probably no-accounts, failures. But in the long history of the human race they were the successes, Maximin and his like the failures.

"SEVEN CHANCES" IS KEATON'S BEST

You're Taking No Chances in Seeing Star's Latest Film.

Buster Keaton has done it again! The frozen-faced comedian has hit the mark square in the bull's eye with his latest Metro-Goldwyn comedy, "Seven Chances," which opens today at White's Theatre. If this is not the funniest comedy of the year, then this reviewer's funny bone is not working.

"Seven Chances," which is a film version of the Belasco stage success of several years ago, tells the story of a young man about Wall Street whose code in life is of such a generous nature that he gives away the funds of his partner and himself for the sake of sweet charity, and everything seems about to crash.

Just then his uncle leaves him a legacy of $7,000,000, with the only proviso that he be married by seven o'clock that same evening. He rushes to the home of his best girl, and asks her to marry him so that he can get the fortune. She refuses him on such ground, so he is left to find some one who will marry him.

SICK CREWS TREATED BY RADIO ALL OVER PACIFIC

Los Angeles, Ca.—The chart for radio-treated patients in the receiving hospital here is mostly blank. The physician who reaches ships with ill crews in all parts of the Pacific frequently does not know whether he or Davy Jones won.

Ships that do not carry doctors are making increased use of the radio when sickness visits their cabins. San Pedro picks up these calls for medical assistance and relays them to the hospital here.

A physician digests the symptoms and prescribes a remedy. In a few minutes the answer to the distressed query is flashed back to the ship. If the case is serious, a continuous flow of messages between the hospital and vessel is maintained. But in the majority of cases, the results are never known.

Treatment can be given by the local hospital to positions as distant as Singapore.

Efforts are being made to have all shippers operating tankers and freighters adopt a standard medicine chest. By this means the police physicians at the hospital will know what medicinal supplies are available for their prescription.

SINGLE MAN MUST GO IF CITY JOB DESIRED BY MARRIED MAN

Bradford, Eng.—The city officers have enacted a law prohibiting an unmarried man from holding a municipal job when there is a married man looking for it.

The Bradford councilors could not understand why there should be any unmarried men, inasmuch as reports showed that there are almost twice as many maidens in the city as bachelors.

The city medical officer replied that the precarious condition of the wool trade, which is the chief industry of the city, is responsible for many of the local young men shunning marriage.

FRANCE PLANS TO BAR UNDESIRABLE ALIENS

Paris. To keep undesirable foreigners out of France a bill will be presented to the next Parliament proposing the creation of a special force of one hundred police, both French and foreign, whose prime duties will be to keep an eye on undesirable aliens.

The bill as drawn up by Monsieur Schrampek, Minister of the Interior calls for one million two hundred thousand francs as a cost of operation pointing out the fact that this cost may be had from the funds brought in by foreigners for identity cards which this year is calculated to be nearly seventy million francs.

HALF OF OSAKA MAIL MATTER IN TWO MONTHS CROSS WORD REPLIES

Osaka. — A statistician discovered that the Osaka Central post office handled 4,172,829 cross-word puzzle replies from June 25 to Aug. 31, which is nearly half the total amount of mail matter handed by the office during the same period.

The largest number received in one day was 224,297, on July 2. It was stated that if the total of cross-word replies were put from end to end they would reach from Tokyo to Kyoto.

BURIED BENEATH RUIN IS TOWN BUILT FOR THE COMING OF CHRIST

Esporte, Pa.—Buried beneath the ruins of a group of buildings near here lie the shattered hopes of a little colony of men and women who, a half century ago, founded Celestia, a town laid out and made ready for the second coming of Christ.

Celestia's memory is preserved only by a yellowing deed filed in the archives of the county court house. It was named for the Celestial City. Streets were marked out in an artificial lake was dug. At the height of its prosperity a newspaper, "The Day Star of Zion," was published with regularity.

Most of the settlers came originally from Connecticut. In order, so far as possible, to keep out worldly affairs, they petitioned the state legislature to be set aside from Pennsylvania, declaring that they did not wish to be associated with events of the mortal world. Their petition was not granted.

The last of the original settlers held at death the faith of the founders. The land, of about four square miles was sold for taxes and the property left to ruin.

Gorman's Market Report

All sales finished Thursday, clearing up the block and today's sales will finish soon after dinner. Prices were some easier the first of the week but our Thursday's sale was the best as to prices of the season. The medium and high grades being strong and we sold quite a number of baskets from 80 dollars up. We believe you will see a very strong market from now out, prices higher than they have so far been. We are protecting our customers on all grades. Bring us your good and fine tobacco as well as your common grades and we will send you home satisfied with the top of the market. No house will get you more money for the same grades. We give a few sales made Thursday:

ENGLISH RUM DRINKING DROPS AS EXPORT TRADE SHOWS HEAVY INCREASE

London—England is drinking less whiskey. Statistics show that the consumption of whiskey in the United Kingdom has decreased by one third during the past twenty-one years, and that only eleven million proof gallons are now being annually consumed.

It must not be thought that the British whiskey distillers are on the way to the poor house, however, for American prohibition has resulted in a heavily increased export trade. For instance, the exportation of whiskey to Canada, for long known to be the half way liquor house to America, increased by nearly seventy thousand proof gallons during the month. The decrease in the English consumption is said to be due to the inferior whiskey which is now being turned out.

Prospectors in large numbers again are tramping the mountains of Colorado seeking precious metals. Mining camps now find it profitable to work grades of ore which years ago it did not pay to dig from the ground.

Progress in the science of metallurgy, one of the principal factors in rejuvenating the industry, has caused an increase of 20 per cent over the pre-war amount of metal obtainable from complex ores, while the cost of handling ore has slightly decreased. The rise in prices of silver, lead, copper and even zinc, long considered the "poor relation" among metals, is another factor.

A per cent of the credit for the favorable situation also is given the statesman Colorado miners declare the fact that Poland was induced by special price concessions to use silver coinage leading to a generally increased demand from other quarters, was largely the work of American men who used their influence in foreign fields to help American mining. The advance in the price of zinc is attributed in part to the act of Great Britain prohibiting the shipment of zinc bearing ores outside the Empire. The workings of the Dawes plan, they say, has brought an increased demand for copper in Germany.

The discovery that raw limestone will precipitate the copper in copper sulphate without the intermediate aid of iron, which heretofore has been used, has simplified and greatly reduced the expense of extracting copper.

The Crumple Creek gold mining district showed a 17 per cent increase in

BEER OUSTS WHISKEY AS DRINK OF SCOTSMEN

Glasgow.—Beer is fast ousting whiskey as the Scotman's national drink. The reason is said to be because of the high duty upon whiskey, which makes its price almost prohibitive in the eyes of a Scotman and the hated Englishman's drink is increasing in favor. The change is likely to lead to increased unemployment in Scotland, for many distillers are thinking of reducing whiskey production by twenty-five per cent in order to make its price almost prohibitive in the eyes of a Scotman and the hat-

Harris Winthrop:—While we may get rallies in wheat believe tendency is for still lower prices.
Hulburd Warren:—Think lower prices inevitable in wheat. Think corn may be bought on a scale down.
Jackson:—Look to see wheat work irregularly lower.
Lamson:—If unfavorable weather over the belt, it is possible strength in corn may help wheat but would take a trading position in all grains.
Stein:—Barring the corn, markets closed heavy and further price declines seem likely.
Cotton
Heniz:—We think it extremely unlikely that the autumn marketing season will pass without further pressure of actual cotton being felt in the future markets.
Orvis:—We continue of the view that the policy of buying on easiness is a reasonable one to follow, and we recommend it.
Weld:—Should the report tend to confirm the present majority opinion of a fifteen million bale crop, we believe prices will gradually work lower.
Hubbard:—Speculative sentiment is extremely bearish and there are but few who can see any permanent or even temporary advance in prices.
Weather
Slightly cooler over belt. Light showers in interior North Carolina. Forecast: Friday eastern and central belts generally fair, western belt unsettled, part cloudy probably some showers.

RABBIT'S FUR IN VOGUE, WAS A PEST, NOW A SOURCE OF PROFIT
Wellington, New Zealand—Modern woman's fondness for furs is enabling this country to turn its rabbit pest into a source of profit.
For many years multitudes of rabbit swere slaughtered merely to keep them from destroying the crops. With the discovery, however, that the rabbit's coat could be dyed and made to look like a more expensive fur, he became an asset instead of liability.
Last year 18,500,000 rabbit skins were exported from New Zealand to the United States and England. These skins were valued at upwards of $4,000,000. Rabbit trapping has now become a well established and remunerative business.
The opossum is another animal which New Zealand is turning into profit. America takes most of the blue and grey opossum skins. The darker furs fo largely to Great Britain.

Jackie Coogan in "THE RAG MAN" WILL BE PRESENTED HERE OCT. 30
White's Theatre will on Friday, Oct. 30th matinee and evening, present Jackie Coogan in "The Rag Man," under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Evans Street School. Just the announcement that Jackie Coogan is coming is hailed with delight by both the kiddies and the grown ups. Because no body ever gets too old to enjoy this attractive little screen star.
The Parent-Teachers Association will use the proceeds for a worthy cause. They have for their aim this year, a library for the children of the Evans Street School. With the proceeds, if the public patronizes the picture, they can start on this wonderful work which means so much to the community.
The Association, through the generosity of Mr. Mayreus, is indeed fortunate in securing such a good picture and they will put forth every effort to make it a success.
The picture will be presented at popular price and those who see it will not only enjoy a pleasant evening but at the same time will be helping a worthy cause. Adv.

DEPARTMENT STORE GIVES AWAY DANCING LESSONS TO CHILDREN
San Francisco.—A large San Francisco department store is responsible for the fact that the city has approximately 5,000 potential Pavlovas, ranging in age from five to 15 years.
About four years ago the store tried to give free dancing lessons to the children of its customers, as an experiment. At first there was a class of 30 children. In six months there were classes for every day in the week.
