GRIFTON NEWS

Grifton, Nov. 19.—On Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, just a few hours after Rev. R. J. Lough, the popular pastor of the Methodist Church returned from the Fayetteville Conference, with the glad tidings that he would be with his flock for another year, the members of all the denominations assembled at the Methodist Parsonage, each laden with good things for the preacher. He received such a pounding as has been given no pastor in Grifton in many a year. The parsonage was all aglow with warmth and good fellowship. Rev. Lough had had a wonderful influence in drawing the people of all denominations together. This was reflected in the spirit and the atmosphere of those assembled at the pounding. The people in Grifton are very glad indeed that the Conference has seen fit to return Mr. Lough for another year, and hope that he may be permitted to remain here to round out the fourth year's work on this charge.

On Tuesday evening, the day before Thanksgiving, the men of Grifton had a delightful banquet at the Boy Scout Headquarters. Seldom have the men of Grifton sat down to a more delightful meal than that served to them on Tuesday evening.

Rev. R. J. Lough in his usual happy manner acted as toast master.

The address of welcome was made by W. G. Cottrane to which Floyd Chapman responded.

Rev. R. J. Lough spoke on the relation of the father to the son, while W. Conley Greer, spoke on the relation of the father. Thomas Gardner, Jr., gave a reading "My Dad." William Cottrane, Jr., read "Only A Dad." Much to the delight of every one present the Greer family charmingly rendered a delightful quartette. The entire program was greatly appreciated and enjoyed, and each one N. C., I will expose to public sale a quantity of personal property as follows: All team on the plantation, auto, wagons, a Ford automobile,

"COMEDY OF DEATH" A ONE ACT DRAMA WRITTEN BY MR. EDWARD HARRIS

The spring edition of Poet Lore, a magazine published in Boston, Mass., and devoted entirely to review, carries the complete production of a one act drama, "Comedy of Death," written by Mr. Edward Harris of this city, who is now an assistant in the department of English, and a student in the School of Fine Arts, Yale University, under Professor George P. Parker, in the new million dollar department of drama. We understand that the pieces recently published is Mr. Harris' first effort, written while he was a student in Washington and Lee University, and William E. Farnham, and that he is now working on another play.

Friends in Greenville congratulate this young, ambitious student, Mr. Harris, upon his success he has attained in his chosen vocation, and wish for him continued success. His record from the primary grades of the Greenville Graded School up through the various universities he has attended has been very good, showing remarkable ability as a student and splendid talent along literary lines, and he has won several prize scholarships, graduating with honors from Harvard University two years ago. So, being a product of Greenville, we are proud of him and shall follow his career with interest.

VENERABLE MULE ON RETIRED LIST

Durham, Nov. 18.—Old Kate, 34 year-old mule, worked her last day in harness for Duke University today.

Tomorrow the faithful senior of the institution will begin her well earned vacation in the quiet fields of Bladen County farm. At 8 o'clock, Kate will be loaded into a motor truck which will carry her to her new owner, Miss Goines, a colored man to whom Kate has been presented by President Few.

Large canvas banners, tacked on each side of the truck will bear these words in red and black letters: "This is old Kate, who has served thirty years at Duke University, and who is now on her way to her country home."

The truck will go to Tarboro by way of Red Springs. Upon arrival at her new home Kate will be given her freedom in green fields, with only an occasional bit of light work required by her master.

Kate has served well, and like the famous campus dog "Seabiscuit" she has strained wide publicity. Her story was last summer chronicled by the press of the State, at which time her record was made known. When she leaves the campus in the morning she will doubtless get a rousing send off, second only to that which is accorded the football team, when it leaves to invade enemy territory.

Coming to Trinity College at the age of three, Kate has seen the place grow and has done her part admirably in furthering the cause of higher education. In point of seniority, she outranks practically every body on the place, except President Few. Since 1903, according to "Little Jeff" Dickinson, son of "Big Jeff" Dickinson now gone to his reward, Kate has missed scarcely a day in the harness since she was bought by the late President Kigo. Kate stands unique

Drives Every Trace of

Rheumatism

From Your Body

Money Back Says Pitt Drug Company if Allentown Fails to Do You More Good Than Anywhere You Ever Used by drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to walk, and Allentown made a well-known healing man of me.

I know, because nine hundred men, hundreds have taken Allentown and speak of it as the best place to get rid of the agonizing disease.

Allentown is no laboratory, it is right in at once it cures more than blood, searces out the poisonous gall deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

James H. Allen, of 26 Farley St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allentown, does all sorts of things to show that he does not want a cent of any man's money unless Allentown deserves enigma this first of all diseases.

With this understanding he has in his possession a well-constructed Pitt Drug Co. and druggist who have become busy in everywhere to guarantee it is ever pedded in joints and muscles and quick instance.

"It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges," says James H. Allen. "I know that Allentown, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the knowing pain and reduce the swollen joints."

"I know it will dissolve the ugly acid structures Pitt Drug Co. and druggists who have become busy in everywhere to guarantee it is ever pedded in joints and muscles and quick instance."

AUSTRIA'S NOTED DEAD ARE FOUND IN CENTRAL CEMETERY

Vienna.—Surrounded by beauty and expressiveness and set aside in deep quietude, the honored section of Central Cemetery of Vienna is Austria's burial place for its distinguished dead.

Here the Austrians have prepared a resting place for their great men in the realms of art, music, literature, science and architecture, which in beauty of location compares favorably with the finest in Europe, not excepting the Tomb of Mazzini in the wonderful Campo Santo of Genoa Italy.

In one group are the tombs of the painters, such as Hans Makart, Leopold C. Mueller and August von Pettenkofer, as well as of literary men including the playwright Anzengruber.

The group of mounds before which most persons stand with bared heads is that holding the remains of Beethoven and Schubert, and, a little distance away, of Brahms, Gluck, Hugo Wolf and Johann Strauss.

For each of these composers, an appropriate monument has been set. In the case of Strauss, the "Swing," for instance, the stone portion is decorated by a relief of graceful dancing figures. The Brahms monument illustrates motifs from his songs. With this group also is to be found a monument to the memory of Mozart, reminding one of his tragic death. The great composer died in poverty and was buried in the paupers' row of a suburban cemetery, with a half dozen other paupers. His body was never identified and it soon became evident that the individual now in possession of the Mozart Museum at Salzburg is authentically his.

Blue Devils Prepared for Invasion of Wofford College

Chapel Hill, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Having trained hard all week, the Duke University Blue Devils are prepared for their invasion of Wofford College on Friday, where they will have it out in their annual game with the Terriers.

This is the only big southward the North Carolina Methodists are making this year, and it is the first one into South Carolina in several years. An excepted big game is anticipated.

Returning home Saturday, the Blue Devils will go through their final drilling, preparation for the Davidson game at Lexington on Thanksgiving Day. Duke has made a rather poor record thus far in the season and hopes to mend its record by good showing in these two final games.

CAPTAIN M'IVER TO PLAY EAST GAME FOR CAROLINA IN THANKSGIVING CLASSIC

Chapel Hill, Nov. 19.—The University of North Carolina will have several veteran players when the Thanksgiving Day game with Virginia comes to a close the season of 1925, but of these none will be more beloved than Captain Herman McIver, one of the two surviving members of the wonder team, George Sparrow being the other than won the South Atlantic championship in 1922. "Big Mac," as University students call him, has been a mainstay of the Carolina line for four years, alternating at center and tackle. In 1922 the Tar Heels were in need of a date, it is stated, tackle, and the Fetters shifted him. Another important change in the from center to tackle in his first year. schedule is the probability that the on the varsity. McIver showed all-Davidson-State game will be played star stuff that year and was regarded next year at the State Fair in Raleigh as one of the outstanding linemen of the wonder team of 1922. The date on which the Carolina State game has been played for years.

Early in the 1923 season Robin- son, who started at center, was injured, and McIver was shifted back to his old assignment where he has played most of the time since. Injuries handicapped his work last fall, but he played a consistently good game and was named on many all-state selections for pivot man.

WHITE'S TODAY

This One-Profit . . Unit-Built Studebaker

offers you 3 major advantages in Quality, Price and Protected Investment

THE average man on the street today knows that through more efficient manufacture, standardization of parts, etc., all makers offer him more for his money than ever before.

All makers claim greater things for their product — and can prove them. All makers rest their case on more economical manufacturing due to quantity production under modern efficiency methods. All cars are fair value but there is a best value.

Few motor car "manufacturers" have foundries, forges, etc., to make their own engines — yet one-fourth of the cost of an automobile is in the engine. Even fewer build their own bodies — yet one-third of the cost of a car is in the body.

Only two makers have adequate facilities for making all bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings: Ford in the low-price field and Studebaker in the fine-car field.

One-Profit Value

Because of its unique manufacturing facilities, Studebaker eliminates profits which all other quality car manufacturers must pay to outside parts or body makers. Savings effected in this way run to hundreds of dollars on some models. Thus Studebaker is able to use finest steels, finest woods, finest engineering and superlative workmanship in its cars; then to add costly extras . . . and still charge no more than competing cars.

Unit-Built Construction

One-Profit facilities result, too, in Unit-Built construction. In cars designed and built as units. The hundreds of parts used in a Studebaker car are Studebaker. They function together as a unit, resulting in longer life, greater riding comfort and higher resale value for you. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation thus are built into Studebaker cars. Records of more than one hundred thousand miles are not uncommon.

And "No-Yearly-Models"

As a natural outgrowth of those two factors, a third great advantage to the buyer is attained . . . "No-Yearly-Models." Because all phases of manufacture are directly under Studebaker control, Studebaker cars are constantly kept up-to-date. Improvements are continually made — not saved up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete. Resale values are thus stabilized. As an example of the value One-Profit manufacturer makes possible, see the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Studebaker Standard Six Sedan

(Four Doors—Ample Power—Wool Trimmed)

$1395—freight and war tax extra

"Under Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan, this Sedan may be purchased by paying a portion of the total cost in cash and the remainder in convenient monthly payments."

Studebaker's Lowest Priced Sedan—but all quality

THE fine Studebaker Standard Six Sedan illustrated below is a real four-door sedan. It is upholstered in genuine wool cloth. Carpets are wool. Windows are real plate glass.

The equipment includes an 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, ash receiver, rear-vision mirror, stop light, dome light, safety lighting control on steering wheel, automatic windshield cleaner, coincidental lock to steering gear and ignition controlled by same key operating door and spare-tire locks, and full-size balloon tires. All instruments are grouped under glass on a silver-faced dial set in a beautiful walnut finished panel.

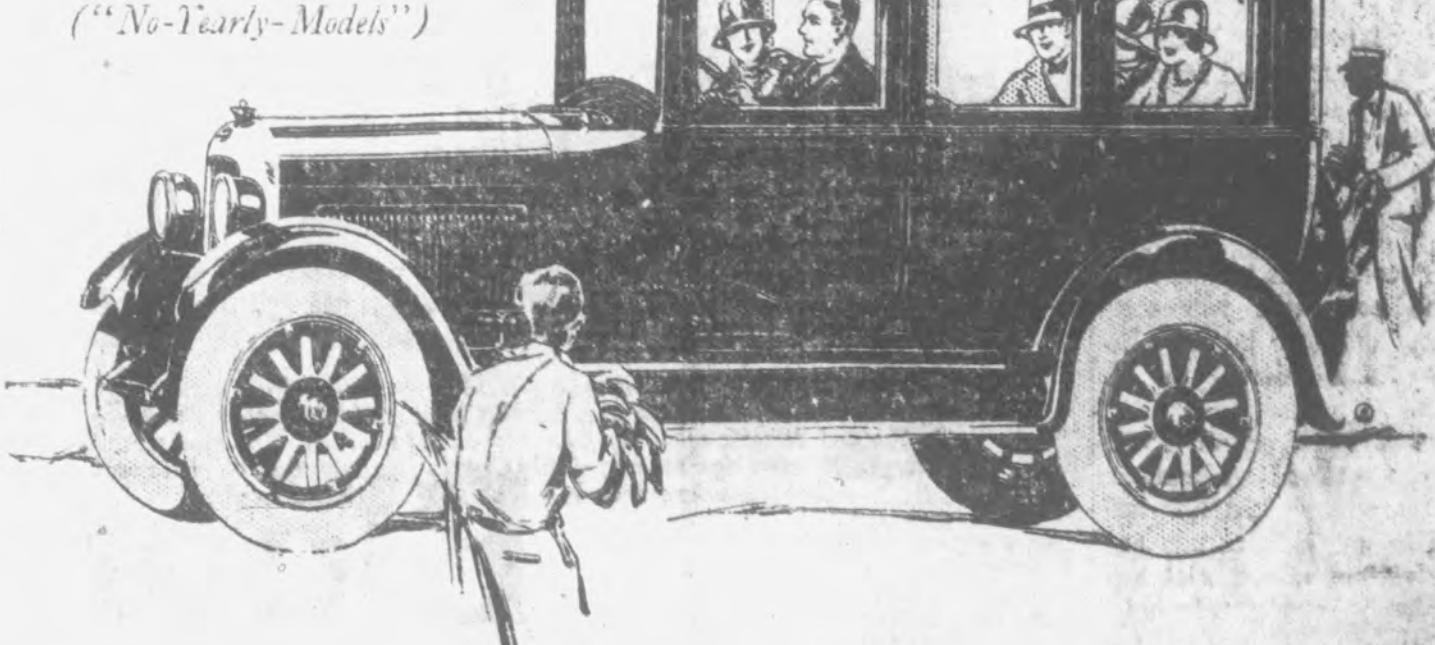

But the most important superiorities of this Sedan are concealed within the framework of the body and in the chassis.

Body pillars, for instance, are of northern white ash, cross-members of hard maple. We pay a premium for steels of extra toughness.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of its size and weight, according to the rating of the N. A. C. C. and the Society of Automotive Engineers. The motor is not built for excessive speed, but rather for smooth, trouble-free service at 5 to 55 miles an hour. It is built for a long, quiet life—not for spectacular stunts.

We will gladly demonstrate this car and finance its purchase on Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan.

THE PROBLEM OF INSANITY IN CRIMINAL CASES

Perhaps a quarter of a century from now we shall be able to work out the problem of handling insanity in criminal cases. Perhaps. It is certain that today we know nothing. Or if we know anything, we do not practice it.

The Noel verdict in New Jersey was not required to prove the case. Noel had been for months in an institution for the treatment of the insane. He was not sent away from that institution as a cured man. He simply left it. It was privately conducted and there was no reason why the institution should try to hold him. Shortly thereafter—a matter of only a few months—he killed a taxi-cab driver under circumstances of peculiar heartlessness. He kidnapped a six-year-old girl and killed her under circumstances even more heartless. No reason was discovered why he should have killed either one. He simply killed the two persons.

We doubt if any person not himself insane would seriously hold that Noel was a sane man. We doubt if the judge really thinks he was sane. We doubt if the attorneys for the state think he was sane. We doubt if the jurors think he was sane. He had committed two murders of unusual horror. Result: He is ordered to his death.

Compare that situation with conspicuous Tar Heel examples of "transitory insanity" and then go off in a corner and congratulate the judicial system for its wisdom of judgment. Add the case of the negro in Winston-Salem, tried, convicted and sentenced to his death; held up when somebody said he had been in an insane asylum; sentenced a second time; and then ponder on what would have happened body knows are not insane, if instead of a friendless negro. Isn't it time to approach a problem which is patently ridiculous and, which is more important, is tragic in its daily results?—Greensboro News.

In another city, nearby, a young man recently killed two persons and seriously wounded a third. After his trial had been in progress several days—in fact, just about the time when both sides were ready to rest—the attorneys for the state sent for an eminent student of mental disorders and asked him to tell whether the defendant was sane. When the physician replied that he would have to take days, possibly weeks, before he could answer, the idea was dismissed. Instead, testimony was introduced to show that the defendant had taken narcotics probably, also, somebody recalled that he was "wild-eyed," whatever that is.

The cases might be multiplied many times. Sometimes they turn this way, sometimes that. Sometimes, the law of averages being what it is, the truth is discovered accidentally. But what we have means of knowing that the truth will be known, we have not made the present lack of system better, indeed, it is even clearer that it will be concealed. Much that has been accomplished through the use of

WHEN IT'S THANKSGIVING—AND THE TEAMS

ARE DRAWN UP FOR BATTLE ON THE GRIDIRON—WHEN THE FIRST TOUCHDOWN GOES OVER AND THE GRANDSTANDS ROCK WITH FRENZY

—HAVE A CAMEL!

WHEN the college bands are playing to make your blood tingle. And the cheers and answering songs sweep back and forth between the opposing thousands of rooters. When, following that tense hush, a swift player darts out from the flashing formations on the gridiron and races across the goal for the first touchdown—oh, man, or superman, when the taste of joy is too keen to endure—have a Camel!

For Camel is the boon companion of your joys. Roam as far as you will from the prosaic things of every day, Camel will be the truest smoke friend you ever had. Not a tired taste, not a cigarette after-taste, not a regret in a million Camels! Just full and fragrant smoke contentment, just added zest in living.

So when your own college's team tears through for its first smashing goal this Thanksgiving Day—when life seems fullest of the frenzy of happiness—joyfully apply the fire and taste the smoke that's loved by millions.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

MR. J. C. TYSON SUFFERS INJURIES WHEN KNOCKED DOWN AUTOMOBILE

Mr. J. C. Tyson suffered painful but not serious injuries last night when he was knocked down by an automobile driven by Mr. K. T. Futral. The accident which was unavoidable occurred in front of the Parsonage of the Memorial Baptist Church.

Mr. Tyson with a few other members of the church had been looking over the Parsonage which is being remodeled and was returning to the church. The large trees in front of the house shade the entrance and as Mr. Tyson stepped from behind an automobile, he was struck by the passing car.

Immediately after the accident, Mr. Tyson was carried to the Pitt Community Hospital where he spent the night. He returned to his home this morning.

Boll Weevil Has Made Cotton Farming A Precarious Business

Fayetteville, Nov. 19.—(AP)—That the boll weevil has made cotton farming a precarious business in Cumberland county seems to be absolutely contradicted by the record made this year by Adam Williams, of this county.

On 12 acres which he cultivated himself, Mr. Williams this year made 8,500 pounds of lint cotton, something more than 17 bales; and the average on the remainder of his farm, cultivated by a tenant, was afternoon. The price is fifty cents a pound or $2.00 a bale. All those that have tables reserved are asked to bring cards.

Ku Klux Gives Purse to Help in Meeting at Cannon School House

Says "Al" Would Give "Cal" Real Battle

Rev. Leland O'Bryan, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church conducted a very successful meeting at the Cannon School House, Ayden, during last week. Mexican Catholics Threaten Shriners

Mexico City—Members of a party of one hundred Shriners of Islam Temple of San Francisco who with their families are on a pleasure trip here, have received threatening circular letters signed by the National League for Religious Defense. The circular calls upon all Catholic Mexicans to be at the shrines of Guadalupe, Mexico's patron saint, on Wednesday, when the Shriners are scheduled to visit it.

It demands that Catholics prevent the "American Masons from profaning the shrine," and goes at length into the alleged activities of Masons in Mexico.

The circular maintains that much of the trouble in Mexico has been due to Masonic activities which it views as far back as 1847.

The shrine of Guadalupe is located in the Chicago Daily News by Harry Nichols and has since appeared in many of the leading dailies.

Clock Keeps Time More Than 113 Yrs.

Dunn, Nov. 19.—How long will a clock keep time? Doubtless much depends on the clock, but there is one in Dunn which has been keeping the time of day for more than 113 years and continues to keep it correctly. This particular time piece was first purchased by the late General Harry Bryan, prior to the war of 1812.

General Bryan was a native of Sampson county and the clock has passed through three generations of the same family. After the death of General Bryan it passed to the family of his son, the late Capt. William Bryan. It is now owned by J. W. Bryan, a son of Capt. Bryan and a grandson of General Bryan. The clock is well preserved and looks to be good for another hundred years.

Hypnotism at Long Distances Claimed

Moscow, Nov. 19.—A young Soviet scientist, Dr. Kochinsky, who has been studying the forces behind telepathy and hypnotism since 1919, announced today that he had succeeded in transferring human thoughts to animals at a distance while he himself was enclosed in a specially constructed iron box. He also hypnotized these animals, he declares, after he had placed them in the box while he was a considerable distance away.

Kochinsky asserts that he is able to convey his thoughts by means of hypnosis to human beings from an isolated locality without actually seeing the person. He thinks the results he says he has obtained prove his theory that physical rays emanate not only from the brain but from the nervous system of every animal or giant as follows:

Beginning at a stake in the center of the public road leading from Harrahans to Centerville and running thence N. 4-45 E. 75 1-3 poles to an iron pipe; thence N. 13 1-2 E. 5-2-3 poles to a stake; thence N. 41 E. 13 1-2 poles to a stake; thence N. 50 3-4 W. 84 1-4 poles to a canal, thence down the various courses of said canal to the aforesaid road; thence S. 78-40 N. 49 1-3 poles to the beginning, containing 94 acres more or less, and being tract No. 1 in the survey of the E. F. Cox tract of land, and being the same deeded to Sarah J. Tripp by E. F. Cox and wife, as shown of record in the public registry of Pitt county in Book L-1 page 109, to which reference is had.

This deed of trust was made subject to deed of trust to the North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank, as recorded in Book B-15 at pages 597 etc., of Pitt county registry, and same will be sold subject to said land bank deed of trust and indebtedness.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

One Day Course On Fertilizers Be Had State College Soon

Raleigh, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A one day short course on fertilizers and soil fertility matters, to be held at State College on December 9, has been announced by Professor C. E. Williams, chief of the department of agronomy at State College.

The course will be held for the purpose of giving definite, condensed information about the results of fertility experiments which have been conducted in North Carolina for the past several years. These experiments, according to Professor Williams, cover many crops and soils in all parts of the state, and the tests have now been conducted for a sufficient length of time to be of great value to those who need information of this kind.

Special emphasis will be placed on a study of the value of many different kinds and amounts of fertilizers or various crops. Professor Williams states. Important soil problems will also be discussed. Using these findings as a basis, specific recommendations will be made that farmers and others may be able to get the best returns from the use of purchased fertilizers.

Professor Williams says that the course has been designed for fertilizer salesmen and dealers in the state, so that they may know the recommendations of the College and may be prepared to sell in conformity with the recommendations made by the College for the best results from certain fertilizers for certain crops.

But farmers and others interested are being invited to attend.

A complete program of the course will be ready and made public within a few days, he states.

The course will be held in the rooms of the State College, Kinston, N. C.

Cost $5.00 per person.

WRECK OF JEANETTE CAUSED AMUNDSEN POLAR FLIGHT, SAID

Seattle.—Arctic navigators returning here from their summer incursions into the North by way of Bering Strait report that the wreck of the Jeanette originated the inspiration for the latest attempt of Captain Roald Amundsen to float a vessel across, or near, the North Pole.

Commanded by Sir George Washington King, U. S. N., the Jeanette moved into the Arctic through Bering Strait in 1879, and after passing Wrangel Island was locked in ice. She completed a sank June 18, 1881, after 22 months in the pack.

Part of her crew perished in straying over the ice to the mouth of the Lena River in Siberia, and more died in trying to find a human habitation. One of the survivors was Chief Engineer George W. Melville, who later became an admiral.

Three years after the crumpling cables from the Jeanette were found on the coast of Greenland, giving evidence they had passed across the Arctic ocean.

Amundsen's first drifting exploit was in the Gjoa in 1903 to make the westward passage of the Arctic above the North America. He completed the voyage in 1906. Next, in the Fram, he went to the other end of the earth, discovering the South Pole, December 16, 1911.

The explorer again started for the North in 1922, this time in the Maud propelled by crude oil and sails. While away, he made two attempts to reach the Pole by air. In the summer of 1923, a plane, which he had carried with him, wrecked its landing gear in trying to take off. Wainwright.

On May 21, 1925, Amundsen and five others hopped off in two planes from the Spitsbergen Islands to fly over the Pole. The six returned June 18 in one of the planes, the other having been wrecked 150 miles from the pole.

Amundsen, now 58, is preparing to reach the North Pole in a dirigible.

NEW FRENCH CHAMPAGNES TO BE GOOD BUT LESS OF THEM

Rheims.—Champagnes of France this year are going to be good in quality but there will be less of them. The champagne harvest was finished in splendid weather and the grapes in the cellars, ready for the special preparation necessary for the production of the world's most renowned wine, are expected to furnish about 2,750,000 gallons.

Mildew and blight caused much damage, the secretary of the Champagne wine-growers' association reported, but the crop is generally healthy.

Women play an important part in the wine industry of Champagne. It is women who dig out the vines which are attacked by phylloxera and who replace them with vines imported from the United States. Women prune the vines and harvest much of the crop. They also make up a large part of the labor required in the cellars and in labeling and dressing up the bottles with the gay gold foil.

202 Carrollton Street, Room 14, N.Y.

Gentlemen—I am still devoting the worst case of piles that you can imagine. For years I could remedy after remedy without deriving any benefit, and when the Hamadala Tablets were recommended to me it would be only another useless experiment, but I was willing to take another chance as I had got to where I was in agony about all the time.

After I commenced taking the second box I began to feel results, and today I am absolutely cured of my trouble, and have almost forgotten that I ever had the piles. Hamadala Tablets have made a new man of me and I want to do everything I can to bring them to the attention of those who are suffering as I was.

Very truly yours, W. STEEDMAN.

The Hamadala treatment is an inexpensive internal constitutional treatment for blind, bleeding or protruding piles that comes in tablet form. It is dispensed under refund guarantee Pitt Drug Co., and all good drug-

Long admitted preaching occasionally at Flat rock but denied that he was ordered to stop.

Missouri Grand Lodge Stresses Citizenship

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 19.—"The conscience of the American people must again be aroused to the performance of the duties of citizenship," declared Orestes Mitchell, of this city, retiring Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Missouri, at the 195th annual meeting held here the last week in October.

"This will insure the perpetuity of our present form of government which has given to us the greatest liberties of any people on earth. The American citizen who neglects to qualify himself to cast his ballot ceases to govern himself and becomes a serf, a man without a country."

The Grand Master also advocated the support of the public school system and the Order of DeMolay. It was voted to turn over the school property to the Grand Lodge located at Lexington to the Presbyterian Synod of Missouri, provided a woman's college of high standard be maintained for five years.

Reports of the Masonic Home at St. Louis revealed that there are now 237 guests accommodated, divided as

GRIER'S SEVEN MILE VOICE A COURSE OF PRIDE TO VILLAGE

Burnham-On-Sea. It is a far cry from this little old-world village to Point Buoy, on the Bristol Channel but it means something to James Cox, the town crier.

For many years his voice has been heard resounding along the Marine Parade to Point Buoy, seven miles away. For this reason, when Mr. Cox competed in the national contest for town criers, the great metropolitan dailies described him as the man with "the seven-mile voice."

Burnham-on-Sea, where the portly and dignified Mr. Cox, with his flowing coat and quaint appurtenances of office, has become an institution, thrilled with pride. At last the worth of its hero had been recognized.

But from America came the report that Mr. Cox's accomplishment was doubted. This surprised and disturbed many of the citizens, but Mr. Cox maintained dignified silence.

F. S. Patey, proprietor of the Gazette, was named spokesman in behalf of Mr. Cox and the village: "There is no disputing the fact to caly that James Cox can be heard for a distance of seven miles. This has been proven on more than one occasion. When Mr. Cox is crying on the Marine Parade his voice can be distinctly heard at the Point Buoy, which is seven miles down the Bristol Channel from Burnham-on-Sea. Captains of vessels more than once have heard Mr. Cox make his announcement of lost, stolen or strays and have testified to this fact."

Karpen Living Room Suites

Prepare this Thanksgiving by buying Karpen Living Room Furniture, and you will be prepared for many Thanksgivings to come.

Thanksgiving really inaugurates the Autumn and Winter social season and what could be more fitting than to furnish your home in modern style right at this time? We are ready with the styles and the values that will double the pleasure of making yours a better home.

Don't try to live with old worn, delapidated furniture in your home—the environment is bad for the whole family—you owe it to yourself, the wife and children, to have a home furnished so comfortably and well that they will be glad to invite their friends there.

The famous and nationally known Karpen Living Room Furniture, which carries a construction guarantee, is the furniture you need. See it at
