TWENTY-ONE MEN RESCUED FROM WRECKED MINE

Greater Portion of Eighteen Hours in Mine Devoted to Discussion of Bible and in Prayer

Fairmont, West Virginia, Jan. 16. (AP)—With things looking darkest for the twenty-one men entombed in an air lock following an explosion in the Jamieson Coal and Coke Company, near here, their utmost thought was of God and a greater portion of the eighteen hours they spent in their underground prison was devoted to discussion of the Bible and in prayer.

Every single man was a perfect Christian gentleman during the ordeal," said Mr. McNeill who explained that although some of the miners could hardly understand what the other said because of the varied nationalities represented, all seemed to comprehend the situation and united when appeals were made for Divine guidance and aid.

Originally there were 23 in the group rescued, the other two of them perished in an attempt to climb for the mine shaft soon after the men had taken refuge in an air lock.

"When I was down in that little dungeon I expressed the intention of reading my Bible more if I ever got out," said Mr. McNeill, and others of the group also said likewise.

Mr. McNeill, a robust man, was said to have given his share of the food to younger men who appeared more in need of it. The lunches of the men were divided equally when they were entombed, and the small supply of water was guarded carefully and not used until one of the number became faint from the impure air. He then was given a drink to restore him.

None of the twenty-one men appeared to have suffered greatly from the experience, McNeill alone fainted when he came out of the mine, but was quickly revived.

WOMEN BARRISTERS IN FRANCE NOW

Paris, Jan. 16. (AP)—On the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the admission of women to the bar in France it was disclosed that there now are 137 women advocates inscribed at the Paris bar. Less than twenty are practicing barristers in the courts, however, the others being salaried employees in law offices where they prepare briefs, interview clients.

FACTS AND FIGURES CONCERNING POWER FOR EASTERN CAROLINA

(By LUCY CHERRY CRISP)

Several days ago a man well qualified by his own possessions to speak intelligently in terms of Dollar marks and Big Business, pounded a desk in an office in New York City and said: "Sometime within the next twelve months somebody is going to invest ten million dollars in electric power development in Eastern North Carolina." If Eastern Carolina is being discussed to this extent in Big Business circles in New York City, it is high time that the natives of Eastern Carolina took a little part in the conversation themselves, since they are the ones most vitally concerned in the matter. And he it said to their credit, the natives are beginning to talk, the main topic of their conversation along this line being the formation of a League of Towns for the production and control of sufficient electric power for all of Eastern Carolina, her country districts as well as her towns.

The fact is generally conceded that some change in the Eastern Carolina power situation must be made, for Eastern Carolina is needing more and more power, and the municipal plants, excellent though they be, cannot each one working alone, successfully compete with the attractive propositions held out by the big power

KINSTON QUINT EASY VICTIM FOR LOCALS

Greenville High Basket Ball Team Score Their Third Consecutive Victory

The basket ball quint of the Greenville High School scored their third consecutive victory on the local court by defeating the Kinston High last night, 41 to 17. The previous wins being over Winterville and Farnville.

In the beginning of last night's contest the visitors began like a whirlwind and before Greenville could realize what it was all about, Kinston had counted for five points with two field goals and a foul toss, the locals had failed to scratch. But the scene soon shifted and Greenville took the center of the stage which they occupied for the remainder of the game. Kinston resorted to every tactic permissible in basket ball in their efforts to overcome the lead which the locals had so quickly taken from them, but each minute of play found them further and further from their objective.

Each member of the Greenville quint featured in their respective positions, and the fact that ill luck interfered in several shots from the field, only made them more determined to be successful in their opportunities to follow.

In scoring Doug West was the outstanding star of the contest, he having counted for twenty of the forty-one points. Jones and Curry played their usual good game as guards, and Brown and Fred Forbes at center and forward contributed a large part in the victory. One of the pleasing features of last night's game was the improvement in passing which the locals demonstrated over the preceding contest of the season.

In the closing quarter, coach Crater used several substitutes and even then Kinston found scoring as difficult as in the three preceding periods.

Cherokee County Court House Is Destroyed Fire

Murphy, N. C., Jan. 16. (AP)—The Cherokee County Court House here was destroyed by fire early today. The county records were taken out, but it has not been determined whether they were rendered eligible by the fire and water.

The court house was a two-story structure of brick decorated with marble from the quarries of Cherokee county. It was built in 1891, Volunteer firemen, by a hard fight, saved the Carnegie Library and the county jail, which were adjacent to the court house.

companies who are seeking a foothold in Eastern Carolina. This fact being recognized, the chief question which arises in the discussion of the proposed League of Towns is this: Why organize such a League which would mean each town extending its power lines to meet those of other towns, forming a big circuit supplying towns and country districts with power generated by the combined municipal plants; would not it be easier and better to let the power companies come in, buy the town franchises, and supply the electric needs of the towns from their well-developed central plants.

The answer to this question is quickly told in a few authentic facts and figures, which come to light in a comparison of conditions in towns served by municipal plants with those in other towns served by power companies. It is true that insofar as lighting rates alone are concerned, the power companies have perhaps the more attractive side of the comparison, though there is actually very little difference in the rates of the power companies and those of the municipal plants. It is also true, however, that man does not live on light alone, but must also have a supply of water at hand, and it is

KIWANIS CLUB IN SPLENDID MEET HERE LAST NIGHT

Talks By K. T. Futrell and M. L. Wright Feature Program

The Kiwanis Club held its regular meeting last night in the Rotary building. Each member was asked to suggest an objective to which Greenville should look forward during the coming year. Many interesting suggestions were made.

Mr. K. T. Futrell made a short talk on the welfare work of the town and county bringing out many interesting suggestions and facts.

Mr. M. L. Wright made a talk on how to advertise Greenville and pointed out the need of a new hotel. He stated that Greenville is located somewhat in the center of several other towns about the same size, including Tarboro, Kinston, New Bern and Farnville, and that people could easily come to Greenville from any of these towns to spend the night. He called attention to the fact that this is probably the most opportune time that Greenville has had recently or will have for erecting a hotel.

Mr. Troy Rouse was initiated into the Kiwanis Club as a new member.

Messrs. J. E. Gaskins, J. L. Harris and Bruce Brooks were visitors.

GRANDMOTHER OF TWINS STILL GOING TO SCHOOL

Watertown, N. Y., Jan. 15. (I. N. S.)—Mrs. Martha Stafler, 54, a grandmother, has enrolled in the Watertown high school to "learn just a little bit more" so she can hold a position as teacher in a country school.

Mrs. Stafler has taught school at Foudulac, Wis., and in the foothills of the Adirondacks, but lacked necessary regent counts and could not secure a position to teach advanced grades.

Mrs. Stafler had two sons in the world war, and is the grandmother of twins.

MR. J. J. EVANS DIES FOLLOWING SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted Sunday Afternoon From Home of Mr. James Evans

Mr. Joseph John Evans, 70, died early this morning at his home near Greenville, following a short illness. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. W. S. Harden, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the home of Mr. James Evans. Interment following in the family burying ground.

Mr. Evans was born in this county in March, 1855. He was a successful farmer and was beloved by a host of friends who knew him as "Uncle Joe." He was active for a man of his age, and enjoyed living alone, looking after his farm and attending to other duties requiring his attention.

He had been a daily visitor to Greenville for the past several years and always had a word for everybody. Mr. Evans will be missed by friends throughout this community.

The deceased is survived by only one brother, Mr. James Evans.

URGES CORRECT ENGLISH AS ECONOMY FOR TAXPAYERS

Detroit, Jan. 16. (AP)—Not to be outdone by enterprising business, education is offering bonuses on its stock in trade.

"Speak correct English and save yourself money," is the appeal that Miss Clara Beverly, supervisor of English in Detroit schools, is holding out to the taxpayer.

"English as it is mis-spoken actually costs money," she said. "Children acquire faulty English habits from their parents in pre-school days. The teacher then spends much time, and therefore much of the taxpayers' money, in over-correcting those habits."

"All this would be unnecessary if parents would watch their speech," she asserted. "Correct these English errors and reduce taxes."

TODAY

(Copyright, 1925) Granddaughter's Visit. More Pay for Good Men. Blaming Automobiles. John Hertz—His Sign. ARTHUR BRISBANE

Rich Americans send their dollars off to Europe with their daughters, little knowing how those dollars or daughters will come back. Sometimes dollars stay and daughters come back with a divorce and experience. Sometimes daughter and dollars stay, and the next generation returns to surprise the man that made the dollars.

Old Levi Letter of Chicago, whose money established the fortune of Lord Curzon in England, would be surprised to meet his granddaughter, Lady Cynthia Mosel, Reichold, she comes to the United States for a visit, speaking English of which old Letter would not understand one word, and she is a socialist, spending the Letter money to get into parliament of the labor ticket.

Can't you imagine Levi Letter turning in his grave like an electric fan?

The railroad trainmen, hundreds of thousands of faithful workers, ask for better pay, and ought to get it.

Railroads, protected by government, enjoy prosperity, steadily increasing. They should divide prosperity with the men that do the work, through the nights in cold and rain, when those that collect dividends are asleep.

All Americans, especially business men and money makers, should demand that good workmen get their fair share of national prosperity.

The rich man can get only his share of what the average man has to spend.

Government figures show that from 1920 to 1924, automobiles killed 60,826 men, women and children.

And in 1924 the "death roll" numbered 15,328. Calculated to give the false and damaging impression that the automobile in itself is a dangerous, deadly demon, these figures are NOT true to fact.

Of the sixty-odd thousand killed in five years some were the victims of stupid, reckless or drunk drivers, some of incompetents.

The greater number killed were victims of their own carelessness, commonly described as "jay-walking."

When a man on the railroad track is killed, nobody blames the locomotive or suggests surprising railroads. The signs read "stop, look and listen," and "keep off the tracks."

City streets and country highways are now in fact RAILROAD TRACKS. Public carelessness, happiness and comfort demand ALL POSSIBLE ENCOURAGEMENT OF THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY. Not a few, but TENS OF MILLIONS now ride in automobiles every day.

It is therefore a crime to misrepresent the situation, discourage the automobile industry, blaming the individual careful driver for the carelessness and stupidity of "jay-walkers." The automobile industry is the greatest blessing of the human race.

John Hertz, who bosses yellow taxicabs in Chicago, and taxis and busses all over the world, determined to make his drivers polite and gentle, even if it hurts.

On the back of each Chicago taxi you see the sign, "If I break any traffic rule please report me."

This is almost overdoing it, and is only equated by a sign that humors Americans used to wear on each good old fashioned New Year's Day, "when I am drunk, please send me home."

Irving Berlin and his young wife, on board ship send to the wide world this information by wireless, "We have nothing to add to our only authorized statement in New York—that we are supremely happy."

That's good; perhaps it would be as well to let it go at that and let the world drift back to normal.

Two things you notice, first, that "personages" deplore rude publicity forced upon them by newspapers.

Second, that when the newspapers, desist, "personages" are apt to do the forcing.

PRESIDENT MAY BE ASKED TAKE HAND HARD COAL STRIKE

Resolutions Would Ask Chief Executive to Take Action to Bring About Resumption of Mining

Washington, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Senate had before it today a proposal to request President Coolidge to forego his handling of policy in the Anthracite situation and intervene in the dispute between the miners and operators.

The request, embodied in a resolution by Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York, asked the President to take whatever action is "necessary and proper to bring about an immediate resumption of anthracite coal mining." Urging prompt action, the Senator said the present situation is "fraught with imminent danger to the public health."

The resolution was presented shortly after it was explained at the White House yesterday that the President regards the Government unable to act in the controversy until Congress provides legislation, permitting intervention in industrial disputes.

Senator Copeland first offered a joint resolution empowering the President to act, but he withdrew it in favor of the simple request because of the delay which would be entailed in passage of the resolution through the usual legislative channels of both chambers.

Congressional interest in the coal situation also is evident in the House. Five of the members representing mining districts of Pennsylvania conferred yesterday with Secretary Davis at the Labor Department. They did not ask for specific government action declaring they doubted the efficacy of federal intervention.

A number of bills and resolutions seeking a solution of the coal problem are pending in the House.

MR. CARL JONES WILL BE BURIED HERE SUNDAY

Services to Be Conducted at 2 O'clock With Interment Following in Cherry Hill Cemetery

The remains of Mr. Carl Jones, who died in Denver, Col., last Sunday, arrived in Greenville last night, and were carried to Wilkerson-Williams Undertaking Parlor, where they will remain until Sunday morning, when they will be taken to the home of Chief of Police, Lester Jones. The members of the Greenville Police force will act as escort from the undertaking parlors to the home of Mr. Jones. Funeral services will be conducted from the home at 2 o'clock, by Rev. L. E. Ballard, assisted by Rev. L. R. O'Brian. Interment will take place in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Battery B, 117 Field Artillery, N. C. N. G., stationed at Washington, N. C., of which the deceased was a member, will furnish a firing squad and field artillery for military honors for their fellow soldier.

Mr. Jones died in a sanatorium in Denver after nearly two years illness. He was a son of Mrs. Mary Jones, and a brother of Chief of Police Lester Jones, of this city. He was 22 years of age.

The following will act as pallbearers: Messrs. George Gardner, D. L. Cox, Wilfred Congleton, Leroy Hardee, Tom Foley, and Mr. Tucker.

Splendid Program Arranged for the E. C. Exposition

The program as announced for the Fourth Annual Eastern Carolina Exposition and Automobile Show that will be held in Greenville April 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, under the auspices of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce eclipses any similar program for the same number of days ever offered in this section of the State. The five days have been provided with every kind of entertainment for the most fatigued person. In fact, is hardly conceivable, that so much could be packed into five short days, that is of such high type of entertainment. The Eastern Carolina Exposition has become a permanent institution and it is looked forward to with more than the common interest usually connected with such affairs. This is the fourth annual show and each one has grown in popularity since the first one was held in Wilson during March 1923.

The steering committee met here last night and adopted the following program for the five days:

April 5th—Open with a parade led by Governor McLean and the famous Will Rogers; Monday evening, Will Rogers and the De Reszke Singers, will give a full evening's program.

Tuesday afternoon will be American Legion Day and Tuesday evening a concert by Miss Anna Case, Eastern Carolina's own favorite.

Wednesday afternoon, Keith's big five-act program will begin an engagement for each of the remaining days for afternoon and nights.

This will be the same talent used by Keith on all his important circuits. Paul Whiteman's orchestra will furnish music the entire week, afternoon and evening.

The annual style show will be held Wednesday night and the Queens from all over Eastern Carolina will be there as usual, in the big $1,000 diamond ring contest. With such headlines as above mentions this year's show promises to be the biggest and best of them all.

There will be more than 5,000 square feet of floor space covered with all kinds of exhibits. The decorations and lighting effects will be as beautiful as ever.

GREENVILLE TO HAVE MANY RED LETTER DAYS

Merchants Association Will Exert Every Effort to Make the Event Interesting for Those Participating

"Red Letter Days" are events that are looked forward to with a great deal of interest by a majority of people, because they always contain features that remain with those who have a part in the activities for many days to come. Greenville is to have a large number of "red letter days" during 1926, according to a statement of C. B. Rowlett, Secretary of the Greenville Merchants Association. But the days to which he has reference will not be observed in the customary way, and will probably not be participated in by as many of the citizens as events so termed on previous occasions.

To be brief in the explanation of the Greenville "red letter days" for the current year, the story is this: The Merchants Association has adopted and will put into use next Monday in their collection department, red envelopes. Where merchants have exerted their every effort in impressing the importance of individuals in paying their bills monthly and failed to get results, such accounts will be turned over to the Merchant Association and from that time until some action is taken by the individual in the settlement of the debt, the "red letter" will tell the story over and over again.

Secretary Rowlett stated that some people's greed for pleasure were running their wild, and that the merchants were being forced to suffer embarrassment and financial losses because of such practices on the part of the people to whom they have extended credit.

Anniversary of Prohibition's Birth Observed

New York, Jan. 16. (AP)—The five-year anniversary of prohibition's birth in the United States is being observed today with celebrations of interested civic organizations and with statement from leading prohibitionists praising the results of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead act.

Tonight the New York Anti-Saloon League will hold a "sudden death" dinner in honor of Paddy Foot Johnson, whose work as a dry propagandist throughout the world has cost him an eye. He lost it in a scuffle with students in London.

Mr. Johnson will speak on a wet conspiracy. About 200 agents are expected. Wayne B. Wheeler in Washington last night hailed the anniversary as showing improvement in health and prosperity. He said that Europe with "bread lines, unemployment doles, and debt deflation" might profit by America's example of new freedom. The only White House response yesterday to inquiries, whether President Coolidge cared to comment on the anniversary, was that he had nothing to say.

OURSATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

THE CROWNED CHRIST

Hebrews 2:9: "But we see Jesus... crowned with glory and honor."

That is saying a great deal. It is not everything; we do not yet see all things subject to Him, but we do see Him crowned. Once He was crowned with thorns and was spat upon, but now He has the homage of the world.

The world is not yet Christian, but even now no name but Christ's is so crowned "with glory and honor." When this Epistle was written Jesus was a name of very limited range and power.

1. Jesus wears the crown. If you go back to the Gospels you can see how it all began. It came of His being in the thick of things and not on the outer rim.

2. How has Jesus been crowned? Not by the praises that have been spoken of Him. Nor by the institutions and glorious Cathedrals which have borne His name; nor yet by the followers who have fallen in behind Him.

3. Jesus crowned in His death is the promise of final victory. He has in Himself the promise of final victory; being born again in every life made like His own.

The world changes. Thought changes, kingdoms rise and fall, but His years never fail. His leaf does not wither.

What an amazing story it is. It is something to think about Jesus wears so well. After all the storms of criticism that for years have beaten against Him, He is more than ever supreme.

In some of the railway depots in England you can see a model of Stephenson's steam-engine. If you put a penny in the slot—a two-cent piece—the model works and it is very interesting.

Exactly. But Christ is still out upon the great tracks, pulling the heaviest loads, and there is nothing in the world to compare with Him.

2. How has Jesus been crowned?

Not by the praises that have been spoken of Him. Nor by the institutions and glorious Cathedrals which have borne His name; nor yet by the followers who have fallen in behind Him.

Look at the symbols we use in our worship, and you will at once see that His Cross is His Crown. Since the day Jesus died, the Cross has been the sublime mark of honor in the world.

1. Jesus wears the crown. If you go back to the Gospels you can see how it all began. It came of His being in the thick of things and not on the outer rim.

2. How has Jesus been crowned? Not by the praises that have been spoken of Him. Nor by the institutions and glorious Cathedrals which have borne His name; nor yet by the followers who have fallen in behind Him.

3. Jesus crowned in His death is the promise of final victory. He has in Himself the promise of final victory; being born again in every life made like His own.

The world changes. Thought changes, kingdoms rise and fall, but His years never fail. His leaf does not wither.

Thus we see Jesus "crowned with glory and honor." The end is not yet. But Christ still moves; and it must come to pass that He shall reign and His kingdom grow forever until the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our God and of His Son.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By COPELAND C. BERG, L. N. S. Staff Correspondent. Hollywood, Jan. 15.—Just a country village, with three-thousand streets, churches, "honey" homes and a curfew.

That's Hollywood today. Heralded as "the Hollywood," the film capital may for a time have lived up to its reputation of being the wickedest spot on the west coast, but in the year of our Lord 1926, Hollywood is quite tame.

After London, Paris and Berlin, Hollywood is a little garden city," Yojo declared. "I was distinctly surprised to find no wild cats and night clubs in Hollywood, said to be so naughty. Why, it's the tamest place in the world!"

Hundreds of America's famous writers have come speeding to Hollywood in recent months to tell the dear public about the great screen stars and their antics; about Hollywood's boulevards, cafes and gay parties, but only one has caught the real Hollywood.

That one writer is Katherine Fullerton Gerould, Mrs. Gerould, after visiting the screen city, wrote: "Hollywood is a state of mind." There is the "heart" and story of Hollywood's false reputation. People think the little suburb of Los Angeles is bad and they find naughtiness there wily-nilly.

As a matter of fact, screen stars live very ordinary, quiet lives—at least in Hollywood. When they celebrate, they go to New York, Cuba and Europe.

Hollywood's women stars shun "wild parties" like a pestilence. Beauty is largely their stock in trade and night life to them means merely the cause of injury or trouble, broken health and lost prestige.

As long as motion pictures are made the public will probably insist that Hollywood is a modern Babylon, but nothing is further from the truth.

It's as Mrs. Gerould has so aptly pointed out—just a state of mind.

BACK AGAIN

The local patrons of White's theatre will be more than pleased to learn of the arrangement of the management to bring back the Charles Kramer Players for two performances matinee and night Tuesday, January 19, in absolutely the best and biggest production of their successful run in Eastern Carolina, "Quick Silver."

"Quick Silver" is one of the cleanest, most wholesome farce comedies ever written, adapted from America's famous playwright John Golden's Broadway success "Nothing But the Truth," which captivated a New York audience for three solid years. It is a story that you will hold in your memory forever.

Mr. Kramer takes the leading role as comedian and portrays the part as well as any artist upon the stage today. He is very clever in the undisputed comment everywhere the production has been presented.

Mr. Marcus places his personal guarantee on this show and states that his opinion is that it contains the best work he has ever seen the Charles Kramer Players do.

IS YOUR BOY MISSING?

Seven Pitt County boys, ages around 12 years, a few days ago, formed a party to start out to see the world.

They journeyed as far as Norfolk, Va., and upon their arrival there, they found that it required something more than "air castles" to complete a trip to unknown lands, and appealed to the Traveler's Aid for assistance. This organization immediately notified officers here of the children's predicament, and four of them have been returned home. If any child is missing and the parents do not know his whereabouts. If they get in touch with the Traveler's Aid, Norfolk, they can perhaps locate the wandering boy.

MISS MACKAILL AT BEST IN "JOANNA"

Miss Mackaill, who represents all that is fresh and spirited in the modern girl, is cast in a role that brings out the full play of these delightful attributes. According to the story of "Joanna," the young film star, impersonating a dress model, is given a million dollars with the injunction to spend it as she sees fit.

She is not told where the million dollars comes from. Later, after she has spent it all in a hectic hitting of the high spots, she discovers that she has been the pawn in a wager between two magnates relative to the ability of a modern girl to live a fine life even if given the wherewithal to purchase the luxuries that her heart craves. It is unnecessary to state that the little dress model pulls through—and with flying colors.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon Miss Mackaill for her flawless characterization. There are times when her performance makes the hart leap with joy.

Excellent support is given the lovely actress by Jack Mulhall, who is co-featured with her. No finer delineation of a clean-cut youth could be imagined that the given by this young man. Included in the supporting cast are George Fawcett, Lillian Langdon, John T. Murray and Edward Davis.

WOMEN'S MEETING WAS BIG SUCCESS

Episcopal Women Hold Interesting Get-to-Gether Meeting St. Paul's Church

The Pitt County meeting of Episcopal women held yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church was a complete success. There were representatives present from Ayden, Farmville, St. John's Parish, Clifton, Winterville, Pactolus, and Spikes, and visitors from Wilmington, Washington, Williamston, and Robertsonville.

Among the clergymen in attendance were the Rev. Walter R. Noe, Diocesan Secretary, Wilmington; Dr. C. O. Pardo, Williamston; Dr. Stephen Gardner, Washington; Rev. J. W. Hayes, Farmville, and Rev. Geo. F. Cameron, Ayden. The program was carried out practically in full as printed in the "Daily Reflector" last Tuesday, and it was splendidly received. The Diocesan officers who were present, Mrs. James Grist Staton, of Wilmington, Mrs. S. P. Adams and Mrs. J. K. Woolvin of Williamston and Mrs. Guy C. Small, of Washington, made inspiring addresses, and the papers read by Mrs. J. W. Hayes, of Farmville, and Mrs. Cox, of Winterville were far above the average. These were requested for publication in the Diocesan paper—The Mission Herald.

The Rev. W. R. Noe outlined the needs of the Diocese in an effective address.

A collection was taken towards furnishing a memorial for old St. John's Church to the memory of Mrs. Mary Smith, the sainted mother of the Cox and Smith families, and the founder of the Church at Winterville.

The program was graced with solos by Mrs. Joyner of Farmville, Miss Hooks of Ayden, and Miss Bessie Brown of Greenville.

The following officers were elected for 1923.
President, Mrs. W. C. Askew, Farmville; Vice-President, Mrs. W. H. Dail, Jr., Greenville; Secretary, Treasurer, Mrs. Helen Turnage, Ayden.

House Takes Up Five Debt Arrangements

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Having approved by a vote of 257 to 133 the Italian war debt settlement, the House turned today to five other debt arrangements with no expectation of developing similar opposition to them.

Attacked mainly by Democrats during four days of debate, the Italian pact now goes to the Senate where a resolution of acceptance already has been offered. The agreement, described by its opponents as amounting to virtual cancellation of the debt, binds Italy to pay this country $2,407,000 in exchange for the $1,648,000 originally borrowed, the payments extending over sixty-two years. The Mussolini Government came under fire in the debate as well as the settlement itself. Representative Bailey, Democrat, of Illinois, pictured the Italian Premier as a "cruel and vicious dictator" and charged him with destroying the liberties of his people. Other Democrats and Republicans joined in the opposition and the terms of the settlement were defended by members of both bodies.

The remaining debt settlements are those with Latvia, Estonia, Belgium, Roumania and Czechoslovakia.

REQUISITION HEARING FOR OFFICIALS OF THE FISHERIES PRODUCT CO.

Raleigh, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Governor Angus W. McLean today made public the text of a telegram he received from Governor Alfred Edward Smith, of New York, with regard to the Fisheries Products Company. The New York executive advised that he would hold a requisition hearing for Thomas H. Hayes, former president of the company, now under arrest in New York and Raymond Anderson, also an official under arrest, on January 21, at noon in Albany, N. Y., and that the State of North Carolina would be privileged to have representatives present.

Gov. McLean stated after consultation with Attorney General Brummitt and J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, N. C., special counsel for the state in this matter, that he had decided to employ George Gordon Battle, of New York City, and a native of Rocky Mount, to assist the state of North Carolina in the proceedings to return Hayes and Anderson to this state for trial. The Governor further stated that every effort would be made to have Hayes and Anderson answer in full the indictments which have been returned against them.

Mrs. P. Vaughan Died Today In Washington

Washington, N. C., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Pattie E. Vaughan, widow of the late W. E. Vaughan, of Scotland Neck, died today at 12 o'clock at the home of her son, Mrs. W. L. Vaughan, on North Market St., where she had been making her home for the past several years. The remains will be carried to Scotland Neck and interment will take place Sunday afternoon in the Baptist cemetery.

Mrs. Vaughan was born September 14, 1843, a daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Grey, of Scotland Neck. For 40 years she was a devoted member of the Kahukee Primitive Baptist church. She was a woman of a strong personality and very positive character, always full of energy. She was a member of a family well known in Scotland Neck and had a large circle of friends.

The deceased is survived by eight children. W. L. Vaughan, and Miss Emma Vaughan, of Washington, S. B. Vaughan, Leesburg, Va., T. M. Vaughan, Norfolk, Va., L. P. Vaughan, Nashville, Meadames J. H. and F. E. Randolph, of Greenville, F. G. Vaughan, of Whitakers. One sister, Miss Bettie Gray, of Scotland Neck, also survive.

The pallbearers will be her five sons and her grandson, Ross Vaughan, of Nashville.

FACTS AND FIGURES CONCERNING POWER FOR EASTERN CAROLINA

(Continued from page 1) here that the power companies fall short, for they are not concerned with the problem of supplying water to the towns which they serve with light. The municipal plants, on the other hand, not only concern themselves with this problem of water supply, but actually solve it, with great benefit to the tax-paying public, as the following comparison will show.

The town of Goldsboro is served by a power company. That leaves the burden of water supply on the shoulders of the town itself. During the last three years, Goldsboro has had to spend $60,000 per year for water and sewerage needs. This $60,000 has been in the form of a bond issue, which simply means that Goldsboro's tax-payers have had to carry the burden of water and sewerage in addition to paying their light bills.

In another Eastern Carolina town, where there is a municipal plant supplying both light and water to the town, with power lines extended into a nearby country district, figures show that from June 1924 to June 1925 this plant realized for its own town $63,000, which sum was expended for water main extension, sewer maintenance, retirement and interest on bonds, and general plant improvements. It is almost needless to add that this town has had no bond issue for water supply since the year 1914. Figures from other municipal plants tell practically the same story, so that this town may be considered as typical of illustration of existent conditions. It is facts of this nature that answer the question "Why are we a League of Towns?" And it is facts like these that shall determine who shall make the investments in Eastern Carolina electric power within the next twelve months, as well as who shall realize the benefits that shall surely be derived when such investments are made.

Says Breach Can Be Surmounted League Nations

Rome, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The bridging of the old chasm between the Papacy and the Italian State can best be accomplished through mediation by the League of Nations. A leading member of the sacred college is authority for this belief. The cardinal, whose identity he insists must not be made public, is of the opinion that the breach between the church and state, which has existed since the fall of the temporal power, could be surmounted if Italy would consent to the setting up in the confines of the city of Rome, a small Papal state, of which the Pontiff would hold the mandate of the League of Nations.

The suggestions of the cardinal that the League offer its good offices to the Vatican and the Italian Government is a new one and in Rome it is considered as answering objections to the reaction of a Papal state.

594,164 Pounds Tobacco Sold On Market This Week

According to official figures the Greenville tobacco market during the week ending Friday, sold 594,164 pounds, for an average of $20.61. The sales included a large amount of scrap tobacco which sold from 1 to 3 cents. This reduced the average.

The better grade, in fact, all grades, are selling well, and the market is higher than before Christmas. For the season the market has sold 43,628,654 pounds for $11,480,224.07, at an average of $26.31. It is expected that the sale next week will exceed those of this week, both in pounds and average.

CABLE LETTER

London, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The "Jag board" of the British Medical association, which started out to find a puncture-proof test for drunkenness, has already struck a snag.

Some of the younger members are for scrapping all the old-time tests, such as walking a straight line, pronouncing difficult words and the like, contending that these are unsatisfactory. Some persons, they say, get drunk in the legs before the liquor affects their heads and, although unable to walk without a wobble, they are perhaps capable of driving an automobile. The conservatives are for clinging to some of the old tests on the ground of their proved worth.

The "Jag board" has 18 members—physicians, surgeons, professors and police court magistrates. Its aim is to standardize drunkenness examinations as conducted by the police so that cases brought in court may stand up against all legal bombardments.

There are many more beautiful women in England today than in Victorian times and one reason is the number of American "geatities" who have married British titles. The authority for this judgment is the court photographer, whose opinions are almost universally respected. He says that the new styles of hair-dressing, the shingle and bob, have nothing to do with it.

"I would say that there are at least fifty 'classic' beauties in London society today," he said, "and at least a dozen of these are American girls married to Englishmen. Twenty years ago there were only two or three women in London who could be called beautiful."

Today one sees hundreds of women who, while not exactly beauties, are pretty. Women nowadays have more character, and character frequently means beauty according to modern standards.

London theatres are rapidly abandoning the ban against smoking. The latest to discard the prohibition is the famous old Gaiety, whose name is linked with the histories of several of the brightest luminaries of English theatrical history and whose choruses have produced many brides for the British nobility and aristocracy.

"This is the first time in his history that the Gaiety has permitted smoking and now it draws the line at pipes, which are permitted in many leading playhouses. The Gaiety declares in large type on its program that smoking must be confined to cigars and cigarettes. In many London theatres smoking is general with the audience, even women indulging freely.

Paris, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Paris has decided to permit her lamp posts to be used for advertising purposes but will not let them be disfigured. In voting to authorize the prefect to sign a contract for 1,900 posts to carry advertisements, the municipal council made the conditions that the signs must be "artistic" and must not be placed on streets which have special historical or sentimental associations.

The contractor must pay the city 400 francs (about $16) for each post he uses and 50 per cent of his profits. Before final permission for using posts in any district is given, two committees, one on artistic values of the proposed "ads" and one on antiquarian standing of the streets affected, must be consulted. The council itself will have the final word.

The French Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals hitherto has been allowed to paint a notice: "Be kind to animals" on the Paris lamp posts, but these signs have been so small as not to be hardly noticeable.

PAINS ALL OVER

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Weathersby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship."

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength."

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. I haven't had any more sickness."
