SUPERIOR COURT CONVENES TRIAL CRIMINAL CASES

Twenty-Two Superior Courts Are in Session in State This Week

Pitt County Superior Court, for the trial of criminal cases, Judge Albion Dunn presiding, convened here today. There are a large number of cases of an interesting nature on docket, and it is expected that the week's term will prove most successful.

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Twenty-two Superior courts will be in session in North Carolina this week. Fourteen regular and seven special terms opened today, and will continue in session this week.

The special term is called for two weeks in Johnston county for the trial of civil cases only. Governor McLean has named Judge C. C. Lyon, of Elizabethtown, as emergency judge to hold this term.

Three other emergency judges named by the Governor will preside over North Carolina Superior courts this week. In Guilford county, two courts will be in session simultaneously. Judge T. B. Finley will preside over the second week of a civil term which was due to have closed Saturday, but which has been continued into the second week, in order to complete the trial of important civil cases in which the city of Greensboro is interested. To hold the one-week criminal term opening today, Governor McLean has named G. Lloyd Horton, of Raleigh, as emergency judge.

Emergency Judge Walter H. Siler, of Lenoir county, will preside at the two-week civil term in Cherokee, relieving Judge John M. Oglesby.

And Walter D. Siler, of Siler City, has been named emergency judge to preside over the second week of Catawba Superior court. This appointment was made necessary by a conflict between courts in Catawba and Lincoln counties. In the latter county, Judge H. P. Lane, of Reidsville, will hold a two-week term in the trial of civil cases only.

Due to a series of exchanges, Judge Albion Dunn, of Greenville, will preside in Pitt county, in lieu of Judge W. A. Devin; Judge F. N. Cramer, of Southport, goes to Pender, in lieu of Judge G. E. Midyette; the Rockingham term will be held by Judge A. M. Stack of Monroe, in place of Judge J. L. Webb; and Judge W. F. Harding, of Charlotte, instead of Judge P. A. McElroy, will open the Gaston county term.

One-week mixed terms opened today in Perquimans, Edgecombe, and Hoke counties. Judge H. A. Grady, of Clinton, will preside in Perquimans; Judge Thomas H. Calvert, of Raleigh, goes to Edgecombe; and Judge F. A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, will hold the Hoke term.

In Lenoir, Moore and Montgomery, terms of one week each, are held for the trial of criminal cases only, opened today. Judge W. M. Bond, of Edenton, will hold the Lenoir term; in Moore, Judge Michael Schenck, of Hendersonville, will preside; and Judge T. D. Bryson, of Bryson City, will hold the Montgomery term. Judge N. A. Sinclair will open the two-week mixed term in Wayne county.

In addition to the Guilford term which continues from last week, courts previously opened will be in session this week in Warren, Franklin, Catawba, Buncombe, Burks and Mecklenburg. In the two latter, the terms are special.

Street Car Goes Into River and Four Are Killed

Pittsburgh, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The death toll resulting from the fall of the street car into the Ohio River here last night was increased to four today with the recovery of the body of Gilbert J. Shell, conductor of the trolley. The body was found in the river a short distance from the scene of the accident.

CAPT. FRED YOUNG

Captain Fred Young, now a resident of St. Augustine, Fla., is the only man in the world who ever spanked the Prince of Wales. The Prince, when a child, tried to trip the captain, who was standing guard for King Edward, and the officer upturned the royal heir and administered a hearty smacking.

LIMITATION OF DEBATE ON WORLD COURT DISCUSSED

Little Indication of An Immediate Move in That Direction

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Limitation of debate on the world court was discussed today among Senators, but with little indication of an immediate move in that direction. Senator Swanson, Virginia leader of the Democratic court forces, said it would be developed whether the proposition intended to fill-buster before any definite proposal for closure was made.

Chairman Borah, of the Foreign Relations Committee, leader of the opposition, said he had little idea that there would be a move to limit debate.

44 Killed In Traffic Accidents During Week

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Forty-four persons were killed and 240 injured in traffic accidents in eleven Southern States during the week which closed last night, it was shown by a survey made early today by the Associated Press. The character of accidents covered in the survey were those by automobile, motorcycle, train and trolley. Florida with twelve killed took first place, while North Carolina came second with seven.

Arkansas was the only state reporting no fatalities. Florida led in the number of injured with 40, while Georgia followed a close second with 39.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IN HONOR MR. C. W. WILSON

An impressive memorial exercise was held last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at East Carolina Teachers College in honor of Mr. C. W. Wilson, who for years was an efficient and popular teacher in the college. This exercise was held in connection with the presentation to the board of trustees of a beautiful pergola recently erected on the west end of the campus by the alumnae of the college.

Miss Ernestine Forbes was Mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Luella Lancaster Stancil, a former critic teacher in the training school, paid a tribute to his memory. Dr. J. Y. Joyner, a former friend and co-worker delivered the principal address of the occasion. Miss Mamie Jenkins, a member of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, gave an original poem in which she portrayed the beautiful traits of his friendly disposition. The pergola was presented by Miss Emma Cobb Bryson and accepted by Mr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Schools, who is also chairman ex-officio of the board of trustees of the college.

SECOND TRIAL OF REGISTER SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Jury Disagrees In the First Trial of Accus- ed Building and Loan Official

Warrenton, N. C., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Robert S. Register, charged with embezzling about $9,300 of the fund of the Norfolk Co-operative Building and Loan Association, will go on trial here, a second time on Wednesday. The jury in the first trial was unable to agree and was discharged yesterday by Judge Garland E. Midyette. Immediately after ordering a mistrial in the case Judge Midyette set the date for a retrial on Wednesday.

The jurors deliberated all of Saturday night and until one o'clock Sunday afternoon before reporting their inability to reach an agreement.

Register had been secretary and treasurer of the Building and Loan Association since its organization in 1913. The defense in the course of the trial, claimed that the alleged embezzlement was a loan and that the defendant's real estate was sufficient security on the loan at the time it was made.

State Offices Remain Open Lee's Birthday

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—(AP)—With the exception of the State Auditor's office it was indicated today that all state departments would remain open for business tomorrow, Lee's birthday. January 19 is one of the days not recognized by the Salary and Wage Commission.

"This department will not be opened tomorrow. It is a legal holiday," Baxter Durham, State Auditor said today. Under ruling of the committee these employees who take the legal holiday will have those days deducted from their vacation period. Hence most of the department heads indicated today that their employees prefer the full length vacation at the price of fewer holidays, and for that reason they would remain open tomorrow.

Another Investigation,
Ask England,
In Far India,
Schwab On War.
ARTHUR BRISBANE

A new "aviation investigation" is ordered in congress. It will be welcome, although this nation possesses little "aviation" to be investigated.

Perhaps congress will find out why it is that we haven't any aviation, why those that control aviation do nothing about it, and among other things, send a Sheandoak, as a political advertisement, to be destroyed in a Middle West thunderstorm, against the protest of the Sheandoak's commander, one of the killed.

Congress is puzzled by surplus farm products production. Some reckless bolsheviks, or at least socialists, suggest that the government might interest itself in helping farmers market their surplus abroad.

Charles Williams, who ought to know something about conservatism says "no, that problem should be left to farmers, without government help." A two months' old baby might be left to put on his own little undershirt, "without mother's help." The farmers should be well able to deal with foreign government, under our constitution, or with foreign problems, as a baby would be to deal with its own nourishment and clothing.

To learn how farmers can be helped, and surplus products sold at a profit they might find out what the British do with their surplus products. That is a rubber farm surplus. And you notice that they manage to sell it to the United States at about a dollar a pound, when it could be sold profitably at thirty cents a pound. A government that wants to do a thing can do it.

Our government is so afraid of doing something "socialistic" that it doesn't do anything except let the farmer shift for himself. The United States Government has all it can do to take care of railroads and other really big financial organizations.

Mother Nature supplies the human race with infinite variety. In Venice, there is skating on the canals, gondoliers are taking a rest.

Home is sweltering in unusual heat, and on far off "India's coral strands" the natives are hurrying back to witchcraft, magic, etc., to drive away the evil spirit, at present causing an eclipse of the sun. All of earth's inhabitants, Christians included, once acted in an eclipse as the native of India do now. So let us not mock them, in our new found science.

C. M. Schwab, who builds battle-ships, skyscrapers, automobiles or what-do-you-want, says:

"There never was a war that did not commence with selfish trade motives at the bottom of it."

He adds, "There will never be another great war like the last one."

NEVER is a big word. Mr. Schwab knows that his description of war applies to relatively modern war.

When Alexander took his thirty thousand Macedonians, long javans, and his "wedge formations" low used in college football, and went against Persia's millions of men, and long rows of fighting elephants, he had no selfish trade motives in his mind.

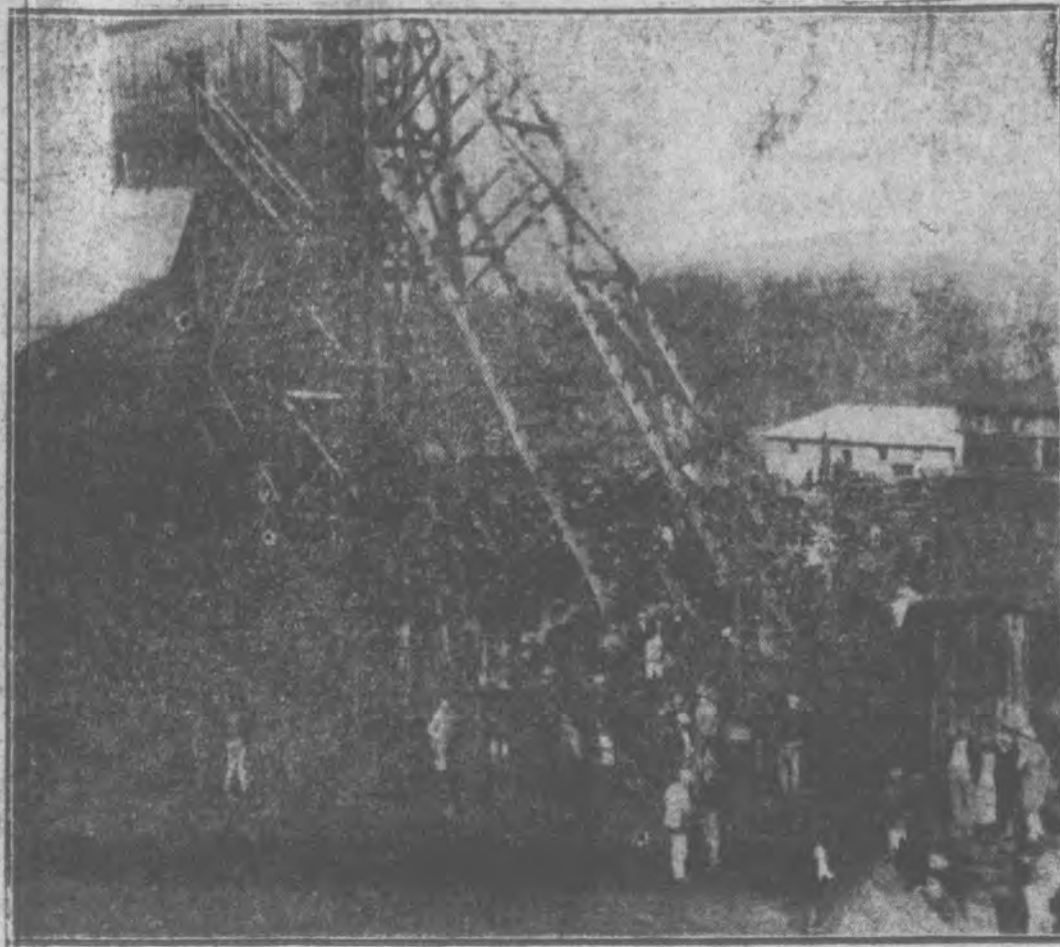

Taught by Aristotle that ambition is the great thing. He went to make himself greater than his father Philip. About all he did in the way of trade was to collect specimens for Aristotle's natural history studies, and ship them back to Athens.

He was a grateful pupil, as every man with a good teacher should be.

Any southern state joining the hue and cry in favor of the World Court should think this over. One of the first matters taken up by that World Court would be the question of collecting cash for bonds sold in Europe by the Confederate State during the Civil War.

Europe says, "If you ask us to pay you what you lent us in our war you ought to make your Southern States pay for the bonds that

MRS. J. J. COREY DIES FOLLOWING A LONG ILLNESS

Funeral Services Con- ducted This After- noon at 3 O'clock From Home On Evans Street

Mrs. J. J. Corey, 60, died last night at 8:50 o'clock, following a long illness, at her home on Evans street. Funeral services were conducted from her late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock, by Rev. L. E. Ballard, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, and R. F. Pittman, of Ayden. Interment took place in the family burying ground.

Mrs. Corey was born in this county on April 26, 1865, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fen. She was a loyal friend, a devoted mother and was beloved by a host of friends. Mrs. Corey possessed a beautiful Christian character.

The deceased is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. F. J. Hemby, Misses Bessie Mae and Adelle Corey, this city; Mrs. H. B. Stancill, Raleigh; two sons, Messrs. Ben R. and J. T. Corey, this city; one sister, Mrs. J. F. Crawford and one brother, Mr. W. H. Allen, of this city.

9 Killed When Cigar Ignites Tank Gasoline

Berlin, Jan. 18.—(AP)—In a disaster in the Moabite district today, when a workman's cigar ignited tank of gasoline, nine persons were killed and thirty injured. There was great property damage.

we bought in good faith in your Civil War."

Any Southern congressman voting for the World Court will try to collect those Southern bonds.

Can anybody mention any important question that our own courts can't settle or that we would submit to a foreign court? Mexico says definitely to this huge country, "In matters affecting Mexico you must come to the court of Mexico." Why does the United States need foreign help? Washington did not need it. He did not have 15,000,000 people back of him, or 5,000,000 either.

URGED TO SANCTION POWER PROJECTS ON TENNESSEE RIVER

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Senate agricultural committee was urged today by representatives of civic bodies of North Carolina to sanction immediate business of water power development of the Tennessee river and its tributaries. Delegations appeared in opposition to a resolution offered by Chairman Norris, of the committee, which would prohibit the federal power commission from issuing permits to develop power projects on the Tennessee river and its tributaries unless Congress had adopted the Muscle Shoals policy.

Marcus W. Brown, of Asheville, told the committee that postponement of development of the Tennessee river would retard industrial development in North Carolina and Tennessee. He declared that the resolution would do infinitely more harm to the communities than higher prices for power which might be charged by private interests.

Senator Norris declared that he introduced the resolution because he was opposed to turning over

Average Prison Term Imposed in U. S. District Court Violation Prohibition Law Was 72 Days

Raleigh, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The average prison term imposed in the United States District Court in Eastern North Carolina for violation of the federal prohibition law was 72 days, an average of 23 days longer than that of any of the other 26 districts in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, and 30 days longer than that in the entire United States. These figures were made public here today by representatives of the Department of Justice and District Attorney Irvin B. Tucker, of Raleigh, was complimented on the showing.

In the district during 1925 sentences totaled 56 years, nine months, and six days. The convictions during the year numbered 288. The fines imposed totaled $18,379, an average of $63.80 per prisoner, while the average prison sentence was 72.92 days.

Special Term May Be Held to Try Vandyke

Gastonia, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Solicitor John G. Carpenter announced today that he would probably ask Governor McLean for a special term of Superior Court here either in February or March to try Jesse Vandyke, alleged murderer of Arthur I. Palater, Cherryville chief of police.

Vandyke will face five charges Tuesday afternoon here in connection with his wild drunken spree on the streets of Cherryville Thursday night when he fatally shot the officer and injured a pedestrian.

PEACH GROWERS FILE COMPLAINT AGAINST RATES

Asks Commission to Readjust Rates and That the Growers Be Paid Reparation for Alleged Access Charges

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Peach growers of North Carolina and South Carolina filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission, a complaint against the rates and refrigeration charge maintained by the railroads on their shipments to the principal consuming markets.

Through their attorney, Chas. R. Marshall, the American Fruit Growers Association and the Sand Hill Association, declared that the producers in those states were charged transportation rates, which made it difficult for them to compete in reaching principal markets with the producers in other peach growing regions. It asked that the Commission readjust rates and that the growers be paid reparation for this alleged excess charges.

Minister, Whose Car Is Tagged, Gets Sympathy

The following was taken from the News-Leader, Richmond, Va., and sent to us by Rev. Lee Saddler with the comment that it might be amusing to his many friends in this city. Rev. Mr. Saddler was formerly pastor of the Eighth Street Christian church.

"Rev. S. Lee Saddler, pastor of Hanover-Avenue Christian church, probably with his mind upon the sermon he was to deliver to his congregation, drove up to the church on a recent Sunday night, alighted and went immediately to his study.

In leaving the machine in front of the church, however, he failed to turn on his parking light, which oversight cost the minister the usual $2.50 with probably as much more added for costs. He found the regular police tag summoning him to court when he had dismissed his congregation after the service.

Thereupon some member of the congregation, by which the minister is held in the highest esteem, sent him the following little note of "sympathy."

When you park your car, Mr. Saddler,
Don't forget to lock it tight—
Shut the doors and close the windows;
See that everything's a'll right.

Now if you should park it early,
There's no need for light by day;
But at night the cops are eager
For a little bit more pay.

Let your auto lights be burning,
Send a gleam both near and far!
If some cop should by it wander,
Then he will not tag your car.

Durham, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Durham is to have another big tobacco warehouse, according to an announcement of C. H. Livengood, official of the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company. Plans for the new warehouse have been completed by architects of the company, and will be given the contractors shortly, it is announced.

The new warehouse will cost $100,000 or more, it is stated, and will have a capacity of 12,000 hogsheads of tobacco. It will be located on Duke street, be of brick construction, and will be one of the largest tobacco warehouses in the city.

Declares Tariff Rates A Heavy Burden Farmer

Washington, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Democratic assault on the tariff began by members of the House, went further today at the other side of the Capital. Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, declared in a speech that the high tariff rates places a heavy burden on the farmer.

THE LESSON OF FRANKLIN

The anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birthday, quite appropriately, also, one day of National Thrift Week.

We say quite appropriately because of all the many virtues possessed by Franklin none of them is more worthy of emulation by the people of this day and generation than the practice of thrift—a practice which enabled him to start as a poverty-stricken tramp printer and end his days as one of the wealthiest and most influential men of his time.

One might properly ask, "What is thrift?" and "Why do they start a campaign to try to persuade me to start a bank account, own my own home, make a budget, carry life insurance, pay my bills and make a will?" These are fair questions and here is a fair answer:

"Thrift is vision. Vision is thrift." At times the idea of starting a bank account or taking out life insurance or buying your own home, or making budgets, or wills, occurs to all of us, but, with our usual human frailty and procrastination, we lack that quality of decision and determination to crystallize the idea into concrete action.

Therefore, a number of nationally prominent men and women have banded themselves together to concentrate the minds of Americans on the things we ought to do—things that we owe to ourselves and to our relatives to do—and for the next seven days they will preach the gospel of thrift, which is the gospel of good sense, so as to focus our attention on our plain duty.

Throughout National Thrift Week you will find the bankers, insurance men, real estate dealers and others whose advice you will need, ready and willing to be of unusual service to you. And—don't forget that friend wife is one of the greatest little financiers in all this world, and that she can give you a tremendous lift when it comes to making the family budget.

PASSING THE BUCK

In their embryonic form the chamber of commerce, business men's luncheon clubs, trade associations, the civic club, and other related community organizations were looked upon with suspicion and distrust by those who belonged to none of them. Because they did for, the non-members believed them for selfish gain.

Within recent years community clubs and associations have experienced an amazing growth in numbers and membership. At the same time they have earned the public confidence. Both the growth and the public approval were the fruits of service to the community.

In winning the confidence of the public the civic bodies have gained a victory for the community in that their programs for civic improvement are no longer obstructed by forces alien to them. But the victory has created a new obstacle, one that is perhaps more formidable than the first. This new barrier to community progress is the feeling that the community is safe in the hands of the civic organizations, so the public needs no longer concern itself with community problems. The public's lack of confidence has been transformed into over-confidence. The community-at-large is playing the old army game of passing the buck.

This was the inevitable outcome of the effective service the chamber of commerce luncheon clubs and other civic bodies have given to the community. The public confidence they hold is deserved, but it is neither fair nor desirable that the several associations should bear the whole burden of civic betterment. They should work with the public, not for it. It may be easier for the non-member class to allow the member class to do all the "building" and give all the "service" but it is not the best thing for the non-members class and for the community.

WEALTH VS. BEAUTY IN CAREWE FILM

A question of sociology, long a subject of deep inquiry among studios, comes today to White's Theatre under the title of "Joanna," featuring Dorothy Mackall and Jack Mulhall.

The question is whether a modern girl of sound moral outlook can overcome temptation if provided with the luxuries of wealth.

To settle this question a banker and a sportsman provide a poor but attractive dress model with a million dollars. She doesn't know who her benefactors are and is instructed not to inquire. But she is permitted to spend the money as she chooses.

The development of the plot from this angle is reported by those who have already seen the film, to be highly interesting and absolutely true to life.

Bishop Darst Highly Honored

The Presiding Bishop, of the Episcopal Church, has appointed a National Commission on Evangelism, consisting of four Bishops, four Clergymen, and four Laymen.

East Carolina has been signally honored in that our own beloved Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Darst, D. D., has been selected to head that commission.

Bishop Darst and his colleagues on the commission are preparing plans, and unifying all the spiritual forces of the church, for a nation-wide Evangelistic Crusade in 1927, when the old Episcopal Church will rise in its strength, shake the dust from its garments, and preach the Gospel in every hamlet and town and city in our broad land. Hundreds, probably thousands, of clergymen and laymen will be employed in this Gospel Crusade, which will not stop until every man, woman and child, in crowded cities and in lonesome and scattered settlements, have heard the story of the Cross.

The preparation for this Crusade entails enormous work. Our Bishop will be called away from the Diocese for considerable periods; but he is being loyally backed and supported by all his clergy and laity, many of whom have already held their Day of Prayer for his success.

This Crusade will be watched with intense interest by Christians of every denomination; many of who have already offered to contribute their help.

Our readers will be kept advised from time to time, of the plans for the Crusade and their development.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By COPELAND C. BURG
I.N.S. Staff Correspondent
Los Angeles, Jan. 18—Romance is not dead.

Proof of this is shown today in the battle being waged to retain for Southern California some of the romantic Spanish and Indian names, threatened by progress in the form of new cities and towns, real estate dealers and ultra-modernists. Many of the beautiful early California names are considered too long and too difficult to pronounce and efforts are being made to change them to prosaic nomenclature, such as Seven Corners, Smith's Center and Orange Grove.

San Buenaventura has already lost the fight, being known now merely as Ventura.

In the south, near San Diego, San Juan Capistrano is putting up a tough struggle and has not yet succumbed to Capistrano.

Los Angeles is often referred to, as the "City of Angels," but nothing could be further from the truth—that is, merely in the study of the name itself.

The city bears the saintly name of Mother of God or the Virgin Mary.

"Nuestra Senora la Reina de los Angeles de Porciuncula," is the city's name in full, but naturally it had to be shortened to Los Angeles.

Much of the romance and attraction to the Easterner fresh in California comes from the old Spanish names.

San Bernardino, San Jacinto, Casa Verdugo, Santa Barbara, San Jose, San Fernando, Tujunga, Santa Ana, Los Nietos, Encino, San Alamos, El Segundo and Santa Monica are some of the more familiar of the delightful names so dear to the ear and heart of every true Californian.

In connection with the campaign to retain the State's Spanish names, a vogue decidedly Spanish, is making its appearance and in many sections is now well-established.

Spanish furniture is quite the thing and numerous dealers in Spanish and Mexican antiques are establishing shops throughout the city.

Spanish shawls, new and old, are very much in demand. Homes in Spanish style are beginning to spot the hills in the exclusive suburbs near Hollywood.

Many of Hollywood's screen stars are building homes in the true Spanish type and in a modern American variation.

PLANTERS!

Buy Your Season's Supply of Fertilizer Early—Select Old Reliable Brands of Proven Quality.

By J. G. McCORMICK.

J. G. McCORMICK
Gen. Trans., Acme Manufacturing Co.

To the hundreds of planters in the Carolinas who have come to depend upon Acme Fertilizers year after year for producing money making crops, I offer this advice: See your Acme dealer now and arrange for your season's fertilizer requirements.

The demand for Acme, it now appears, is going to be larger than in any of our previous 43 years, and we don't want you to be disappointed by waiting until the last minute and not being able to get Acme in time for your planting schedule.

Acme Is the Old Reliable

If you have never used Acme or have no preferred brand, give it a trial this season. You can't beat it for crop-producing quality.

It is the "Old Reliable" made from the best ingredients, regardless of cost, and is scientifically manipulated to form the finest plant foods of proven value.

No Secrets to Hide

Acme Fertilizers are especially adapted to Carolina soil and the formulae are printed on every sack. Being a high class product, there's nothing to hide about Acme, and the plant is always open to visitors.

Made By Home-Folks

From the beginning, in 1883 Acme Fertilizers have been made under the present management. We are home-folks and have remained an independent home company. Our growth and the great list of customers we serve indicate that Acme is a superior product.

Personal Interest

We are big enough to produce fertilizers of the highest merit, but not so big that we cannot give each customer personal and prompt attention in any dealings with the company. Your problems receive the attention of either Mr. Gilchrist or myself. We have no red tape or unnecessary delays.

What a Customer Says

"We have used and sold Acme goods for the last thirty-five years and have never failed to get the best results. We have never had a complaint from a customer during all the years that we have handled Acme goods. We think that Acme is the best fertilizer on the market and expect to continue to use and sell Acme goods as long as we handle fertilizer. Our relations with the company have throughout all these years been very satisfactory in every respect."—D. D. and W. E. Kelly.

If you wish any specialized advice on fertilizer see an Acme dealer or write Acme Manufacturing Company, Wilmington, N. C.

QUALITY

What Else Could Have Given Pamlico Fertilizers Such Preference?

No man ever found a successful substitute for quality. Nor by any stroke of magic could PAMLICO have induced the thousands of farmers of North Carolina to purchase and use this fertilizer year after year unless they were getting unusual value and results.

PAMLICO'S success is a success of quality; a quality so fine as to reach beyond comparison; a quality that is based on 40 years of fertilizer manufacturing experience.

And the pride that is taken in offering a fertilizer of this character is matched with a personal service in keeping with the prestige of the product.
