CONVICTION OF COL. MITCHELL IS APPROVED TODAY

Board of Review Approves Conviction in So Far As Legal Aspects of Trial Are Concerned

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Conviction of Colonel William Mitchell by an army court for violation of the 96th article of war was approved today by the War Department Board of Review insofar as legal aspects of the trial are concerned.

The trial record with the board's report will be forwarded probably in the next day or so to the Judge Advocate General of the Army and after further examination by him will be started on its way through Secretary Davis to President Coolidge.

The action of the board of review which considered the record entirely from a legal standpoint seems to put at rest all speculation as to the right of the court to sentence Colonel Mitchell for suspension for five years from duty, command and rank in the army, as well as to deprive him of all pay and allowances for five years. Speculation of this point was rife when the trial ended in December and some legal experts questioned the legality of the pay forfeiture phase of the sentence.

Unless the President acts, the court's findings cannot be made effective. Regardless of the recommendation of Secretary Davis and Major General Hull, the Judge Advocate, may make it as good as likely that Mr. Coolidge will give most careful attention to the pay forfeiture phase of the sentence.

It is within the President's power to commute all or any part of the sentence. Some legal authorities however, believe it within the range of possibility that the President will commute the five-year suspension to two and one-half years and in addition will allow the officer some part of his regular pay and allowances.

The Colonel has given no indication since his trial ended as to his future plans.

Durham Woman Chairman Nat'l. Women's Party

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Miss Ida Cowan, of Durham, N. C., has been elected Chairman of the North Carolina Branch of the Industrial Council of the National Women's Party.

CELEBRATES HER ONE HUNDRETH BIRTHDAY

Jefferson, N. C., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Her one hundredth birthday was celebrated recently by Mrs. Frank Lewis, of near Jefferson, it is reported here. Mrs. Lewis, who lives with her son, A. W. Lewis, about four miles from Jefferson, has a daughter said to be past 80 years of age.

Engineers to Meet in Raleigh Jan. 23

Raleigh, Jan. 19.—(AP)—North Carolina engineers will gather in Raleigh on Saturday, January 23, for the annual business meeting of the North Carolina Society of Engineers. It is announced by W. Vance Baise, of Raleigh, secretary of the organization.

At the meeting, a number of matters of importance to engineers are expected to come up for discussion, Mr. Baise said. Among the matters to be taken up will be the canvassing of the election ballots and installation of the new officers.

The morning and afternoon sessions of the meeting will be devoted exclusively to business matters, a luncheon some prominent speakers will be selected, is expected to address the engineers, after which Sherwood Brockwell, a member of the society, will, with the assistance of his daughters, entertain the society. His entertainment is expected to be in the nature of comedy of some sort. Mr. Brockwell being known as a good comedian, according to Mr. Baise.

"Just Like the Movies"

VILMA BANKY RUDOLPH VALENTINO

According to reports from Paris, Rudolph Valentino went through an experience which sounds just like a movie plot when Baron Imre Lukatz, Budapest millionaire, swung an angry right at the movie star. Rudy ducked and knocked the Baron cold with a right hook. The Baron, in love with Vilma Banky, was jealous of Rudy's love-making with the Hungarian beauty in a film. He challenged the actor to a duel, but it was settled amicably. Vilma is shown in the inset.

BODY OF SEVENTH VICTIM 'CLUBBER' FOUND TODAY

Miss Mary Handley, of Toledo, Found Dead After Three Days' Search

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The body of Mary Handley, 42, the seventh victim of a "clubber" in Toledo in less than a year's time, was found early today in a yard next to her home. Her head was crushed and she had been gagged with a strip of cloth torn from her clothing. Miss Handley had been away from her home since Sunday morning. The finding of her body, fear of the clubber again spread throughout the city and authorities were renewing their efforts to find the man who has inspired terror in the hearts of Toledo women during the last few months. A reward of $1,000 was offered by the city council several months ago, following the death of the second woman for the capture of the clubber, and it still stands.

Three Agencies Been Molded Into One Unit

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—In order to develop closer liaison between coast guard customs, and prohibition forces in enforcing the Volstead Act in the South Atlantic States, Assistant Secretary Andrews has in effect molded the three agencies into one unit. He has appointed M. O. Dunning, customs collector at Savannah, as co-ordinator for prohibition in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

The changes declared today placed Mr. Dunning in the supervisory capacity of all of Mr. Andrews' corps in the four states mentioned. The move is regarded as representing the first step in the plan for tightening up enforcements in the southeast where the assistant secretary saw evidence of considerable violation of the liquor law on his recent inspection trip through that section during the holidays. Mr. Andrews visited the four states mentioned and conferred with all executive officials under his jurisdiction. Mr. Dunning accompanied the treasury official on the tour and it is held is equipped at the outset with a full knowledge of conditions.

In placing the executive power in the four states on one jurisdictional control, Mr. Andrews gave evidence of a desire to expand further the idea he had from the outset of his work at the Treasury—compelling assumption of authority and responsibility of enforcing agents as near as possible to the problem with which they have to deal.

McLean Declines Commute Death Sentence Negro

Raleigh, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Governor McLean today declined to commute the death sentence imposed in Burke County on Arthur Montague, negro, for an attack on a deaf and dumb white child of the state institution at Morganton. Montague is scheduled to die by electrocution on Friday.

Paris, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Winifred Hudnut today was granted a divorce from Rudolph Valentino, motion picture actor, on grounds of abandonment.

Dentists Held Annual Meeting Wilson Monday

Wilson, Jan. 19.—Ninety dentists from thirty Eastern North Carolina counties gathered here yesterday for the annual meeting of the Fifth District Dental Society which was held in the auditorium of the court house. The meetings was presided over by Dr. A. C. Bone, of Rocky Mount, president of the organization.

The session was opened by Dr. Bone, who called on Rev. E. H. McWhorter, Wilson, to pronounce invocation. Mayor S. R. Lucas then extended a heartfelt welcome to the visiting dentists to which Dr. J. N. Johnson, of Goldsboro, responded in a very pleasing manner.

Following the roll call and the reading of the minutes of the past meeting by Secretary Dr. H. L. Keith, of Wilmington, President Bone delivered an address on the achievements of the society during the past year and commended several members for the splendid work done by them in behalf of the society. This was followed by the papers of those on the program, at the conclusion of which the election of officers was held.

At 1 o'clock the visiting dentists were entertained at a luncheon meeting at the Cherry hotel, which was presided over by Dr. J. Martin Fleming, of Raleigh, who acted as toastmaster.

A series of progressive clinics by various dentists marked the afternoon session.

Dr. H. L. Keith, of Wilmington, was elected president to succeed Dr. A. C. Bone, of Rocky Mount. Other officers elected were Dr. E. R. Warren, of Goldsboro, vice-president, and Dr. C. E. Minges, of Rocky Mount, secretary and treasurer. Dr. Keith, J. N. Johnson, of Goldsboro; Dr. Paul Jones, of Farmville; Dr. A. M. Schultz, of Greenville; and Dr. Z. V. Parker, of New Bern, were appointed as delegates from the Fifth District Society to the House of Delegates of North Carolina.

Wilmington was designated as the meeting place for the society for their annual meeting in 1927.

ARTHUR BRISBANE

On the Santa Fe west of Albuquerque. If any friends ask how California is getting along, mention the fact that this limited train to Los Angeles is running in four sections as long as they can be made safely.

And farther north, other long trains with heavy loads are going west to San Francisco, Seattle, the whole coast.

Of forty or fifty passenger cars on these four Santa Fe sections, half, probably, will return empty. People go to California to stay. President Story of the Santa Fe, a real railroad man, is rapidly doing away with the "permanent wave" that he found in Santa Fe tracks, straightening curves that check speed. Before long he will cut off a day between New York and the coast, regardless of deals with other roads through it adding to the prosperity of California and Santa Fe.

As it is, only a dull mind could call long a journey that reveals the wonder, glory, untouched wealth and unimaginable future of this noble country.

If you go by Union Pacific you pass great Salt Lake and climb over the continent's backbone. The Alps compared to the Rocky Mountains are small town vandeville compared with grand opera.

On the Santa Fe you stop to see the Grand Canyon and, if wise, you don't try to describe it. Theodore Roosevelt tried, and failed, with all his big words. Rig Lardner, wisest, looked at the hole a mile deep, said, "Nature evidently planned that to hold old razor blades," and passed on.

The train now passes through New Mexico, land of majestic dignity and peace, destined to wait many centuries for the coming of a race worthy of such grandeur. What are we, barely out of the Stone Age, that we should live close to the sky in endless sunshine?

"You never tire traveling thru this country," says the oldest conductor on the Santa Fe, whose gold star and stripes soon will vanish from his coat sleeve. Seventy-six years old, he thinks it is about time to quit "railroading," and retires next July. Two of his fingers are stiff, you notice, as he shakes hands. He knew what it was to travel in winter on the top of wooden freight cars almost half a century ago, and turn a frozen wheel when the whistle blew.

This good work quits because he wants to enjoy his last twenty-five years. His body is straight, his eye as clear as that of an eagle. He could, if he chose, take his train up and down the mountains for many years to come. His wise plan is made. In his little place at Long Beach, on the edge of the Pacific in Southern California, with money saved in his seventy-six years of faithful work and the pension that the railroad gives him, he will live modestly and happily in California.

He says, "California is for everybody that is old, and especially the place for those lucky enough to get there when young. I have gone, and left, hundreds of times, like walking into heaven and walking out again. Now I am going to stay."

The Railroad Brotherhood which includes tens of thousands of such workers, ask a share of increasing railroad prosperity in better pay. Would it be unreasonable to pay such a man enough to let him retire a little earlier. The pay of railroad men is better than it ever was, but why not make it better, in future than it is today? Prosperity, the increasing fortunes of the prosperous depend on what THE AVERAGE MAN spends.

There are four times as many people in China—there are in the United States, but it wouldn't pay to run the Santa Fe Railroad in China. Fair wages have made the United States possible. Better wages will make greater things possible.

The news of the day comes in as you cross the continent. The Kansas City Journal tells of mothers and fathers of high school boys trying to keep them from getting (Continued on page 5)

ASKS EXPLANATION FOR INCREASE IN SCHOOL FIRE RATE

Representatives of South Eastern Underwriters Ass'n Is Called Before State Insurance Commissioner

Raleigh, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Representatives of the South Eastern Underwriters Association were called before Stacey Wade, State Insurance Commissioner, today to explain why the school fire rate had been raised 25 per cent in North Carolina, and to show cause why it should not be returned to the old rate. Mr. Wade branded the action as "high handed" asserting that the Association had made the increase without first filing it with his Department, an action which he said had no precedent. He said he learned of the increase through a county school superintendent.

The Commissioner pointed out in opening the hearing that the law required the Underwriters Association to file proposed increase of rates with the Department and have it approved before it would become effective. The increase, he said, was made some time ago, but notice was not given until January 11.

William F. Dunbar, manager of the Underwriters Association headed the delegation which appeared to defend the increase before the Commissioner.

DISCUSS PLANS TO TAKE CARE OF CHARITY WORK

Representatives of Civic and Religious Organizations Meet to Plan Work

The office of the Superintendent of the office of the Superintendent of Public Welfare, when representatives from all civic and religious organizations in Greenville met together to discuss plans for taking care of charity hospital work and charity work in general in this community, a very enthusiastic meeting was held.

Rev. Albert R. H. Miller acted as chairman of the meeting. Several very interesting and enthusiastic talks were made by those in attendance. It was decided to leave the final arrangements as to the methods and final plans for the work, in the hands of a committee.

A committee was appointed, composed of the following: Rev. W. S. Harden, chairman; Mrs. R. M. Williams, Mrs. R. L. Smith, K. T. Puthrell and Rev. L. E. Ballard.

When this committee decides on some plan to proceed on and is ready to report it was decided to call a general meeting of the people in Greenville to hear the report, when action will be taken looking toward an adequate plan for this type of work in this community.

The Army Air Service Under Review Again

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—For the fourth time within a year the virtues and shortcomings of the Army Air Services came under review here today at a public hearing. With a view to corrective legislation the House Military Committee began an inquiry covering ground similar to that traversed in turn by the House Aircraft Committee, the President's Air Board, and the Mitchell Courtmartial.

This aid in the drafting of the air services a bill at the War Department made public an outline of the Congressional action it considers necessary to carry out the recommendation of the air board.

MEMBERS SEEK DISSOLUTION OF TOBACCO ASS'N

Rocky Mount, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The Tri-State Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association was this afternoon ordered by Judge M. V. Barnhill to appear before Judge Thomas H. Calvert in Wake County Superior Court, at Raleigh, on February 5th, to show cause why the corporation should not be dissolved and a receiver named to settle its affairs.

The order was the outgrowth of a complaint and bill filed by W. M. Person, of Franklin county, with himself and "other members of the Tri-State Tobacco Growers Association" as plaintiff and in which "inefficiency" and "graft" on the part of officers of the association was alleged.

The complaint charged that after the organization of the association "there was launched a satanalia of waste and extravagance unheard of in all our industrial growth and development."

"The majority of the directors placed themselves on the salary list with the highest salaries ever paid in the history of the state, ranging from $40,000 per annum, down to 4,000 and most of them getting three or four times as much as that ever received before," the complaint charges, and "that the salaries gained through abuse of power should be refunded."

"The membership grows," said the complaint, "received so little from the crops delivered to the defendant association, that they have become bankrupt and are unable to continue farming operations unless they are relieved from further delivery and destruction of crops by the dissolution of the said corporation for the abuse of power to the injury of the member stockholders."

DIXIE PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF GEN. ROBERT E. LEE

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—(AP)—In practically every southern Dixie stood today with bowed state today there is a legal holiday in reverence tribute to the day, banks and state, county and municipal government, departments and schools, are closed. From the Lee, on the 119th anniversary of flag poles of most of the state his birth at Starford, in Westmoreland County, Virginia.

From the Potomac to the Gulf and from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mississippi River comprise what is roughly known as the "Old South," observance of the day was general. In many states formal ceremonies were held. In others the day was observed meekly, such exercises as were being held being staged in schools.

OPPOSITIONS OF AMERICAN MEMBERSHIP IN WORLD COURT FIGHT FOR TIME

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Fighting for time opponents of American membership in the World Court continued at length today their argument in the Senate against the resolution proposing adherence to the court protocol.

Senator Blease, Democrat of South Carolina, who on three occasions has used his forensic capabilities to ward off a vote, presented a resolution proposing that December the 8th be fixed as the date for a final roll call. The American people, the resolution said, are not yet in possession of full information on which to base a decision. The proposal was laid under the Senate rules.

Battle against the court was taken up by Senator Johnson, Republican of California, who declared membership in the court inevitably would lead the United States into European political entanglement. "Joining the court under reservations by which we would avoid every question of 'consequence,'" Senator Johnson said, "will make us the coward among nations of the world."

He denounced the "propaganda" which he said was flooding the country, particularly the church, and women's organizations, "which points out that the sole and only means for obtaining world peace is by joining the court."

Register Faces Year's Term in State Prison

Henderson, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Robert S. Register, formerly a prominent business man of North Carolina, faces a year's term in the state prison, following sentence passed upon him late yesterday afternoon by Judge Garand F. Midyette, in Warren county Superior Court at Warrenton.

SEVERAL CASES DISPOSED OF IN CRIMINAL COURT

Judge Albion Dunn Delivers Splendid Charge to Grand Jury; Large Number Cases On Docket

Pitt County Superior Court, for the trial of criminal cases, convened in this city yesterday, with Judge Albion Dunn presiding.

Judge Dunn delivered a splendid address to the grand jury. The day's session was featured with the following cases:

The case against C. R. Townsend, charged with slander, was continued until the April term of court.

Ben Barnhill, charged with manufacturing whiskey, not prosed.

John Cunningham, Sam Cunningham, charged with driving car while drunk. Defendants called and failed. Judgment nisi nisi fa. Instanter Capias.

Monroe Cameron, charged with possessing whiskey for sale, called and failed. Judgment nisi nisi fa Instanter Capias.

Hugh Webb, charged with manslaughter, not a true bill. A true bill was returned against Nelson Hopkins, charged with selling liquor.

A true bill was returned against G. T. Inock, Bennie Arnold and John Ross, charged with larceny.

Frank Taylor, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was adjudged guilty and sentenced to jail for 12 months to be assigned to work roads.

John Cunningham, charged with allowing boy to drive car, was adjudged guilty, and judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.

Future Haywood County Lies In Growing Fruit

Waynesville, N. C., Jan. 19.—(AP)—The future development of Haywood county lies in the growing of fruit, mainly apples, cattle raising, and the proper handling of its forests, declares a soil survey of the county made by the bureau of soils of the United States Department of Agriculture, copies of which have just been received here.

The survey, made in co-operation with the state and just published by the department, was made to determine the nature of the soil types in the county, in order that farmers might be assisted in fitting crops to soils to the best advantage.

The report of the survey contains a detailed color map of the county, showing the extent and distribution of the various soil types, it contains 20 pages of text, describing the different soils and discussing their capabilities. It also includes brief historical and geographical sketches of the region, together with statistics relating to the climate, and information concerning the farm practices.

Tobacco Prices Higher Today

There were 350,000 pounds of tobacco on the local market today and the prices were higher than at any time since Thanksgiving.

DANCING HAS BECOME LOST ART IN LAND OF SOVIETS

Moscow, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Dancing has become a lost art in Russia. It is looked upon as a "bourgeois" pastime by the Bolsheviks. Although the government does not actually prohibit it, there are really no halls, restaurants or cafes where dances are held. In the Russian home, dancing has long since disappeared, as the average family lives in a squalid room.

PATTERNS IN MINDS
OF MEN

It has been said that anything that can take form in the mind of man can take form in the material. Which is only another way of saying that man can conceive nothing which is beyond his accomplishment.

The wonderful revelations that have been made by science during the past one hundred years give emphasis to this statement, for so many and so marvelous have the discoveries been that it seems as if there is nothing that the mind can conceive but may take concrete form and be used for the salvation or the doom of mankind.

It has not been so very many years ago since Watts first heard the song of the tea-kettle on the hob.

Since that comparatively recent time we have seen steam the great world power; the wonders of steam as motive power soon gave place to electricity, which in its turn is giving place to the marvels of radio. Gravitation, the electron, ether, have revealed only an infinitesimal part of the secrets that already stagger
the imagination of man.

And yet, with all our great discoveries, are we better, are we happier, are we better fitted for life than the people of other eras?

It is true, we have our telephones and our victrolas,
our telegraphs and our wireless, our trains and our automobiles, our electric lights and our movies—we have imagined these things and we have made that image a reality—from an idea we have brought forth the actual. This age of materialism is also an age of wonders.

Science has been utilized
to perform miracles.

But standing on the threshold of new discoveries we wonder what kind of miracles will be performed
during the next one hundred years.

Let us hope that they will be miracles of good and not evil, miracles that will make the world happier, not miracles that will bring about more misery; miracles that will create wonders instead of destroying wonders—as some of our scientific miracles have done.

We have wonderful scientific discoveries of healing and restoration—but we also have scientific discoveries of that which sears and kills.
We have discoveries of engineering marvels but we also have discoveries of engines of destruction.

Why is it that along with the wonderful revelations
that would build a better world and a fuller life are wrought the wonders of war, the engine of death?

It is because of the patterns that are in the minds of men—it is the idea taking form—it is the ideal manifesting in the material.
We find a Watts, and he is linking the continent with tracks of steel.

We find a Morse, and he is bringing people into close communion all over the world.

We find a Ford, and he is making tractors for the tilling of the soil and cars that will make life easier for the man who toils.

We find an Edison, and he is harnessing electricity to give light and power for greater happiness and greater comfort.

We find a Gorrie, and he is making ice to cool the fevered brow of a sick child and to give comfort to millions in the heat of torrid days.

We find a Marconi, and he is using his power to save ship-wrecked thousands on the sea of life.

Science is performing miracles every day.

But one trembles before the power that is in the minds of men. Each day truly does it seem that which man can conceive that he can perform.

Now great then is the obligation laid upon these men, these wizards of the scientific world, that they can keep their minds attuned to the song of the spheres, the song of a larger life and truer understanding, that the world may be blessed by the good that they conceive rather than the evil that they may execute.

CHEYENNE'S NEW
U. S. AIR PLANT

Most Modern Hangars With Complete Shops Make Latest Flying

Mail Air Planes Find Wyoming Stop Strategic Point.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 15.—(I.
N.S.)—Uncle Sam's most modern "air plant" has been completed here at a cost of $500,000, and Cheyenne, the little plains city that for years withstood the advance of twentieth century progress to remain the West's real "frontier town," becomes the leader of aviation in the West.

Night Coughing
Quickly Stopped
New Way Simple But
Very Effective

Night coughing, with its distressing loss of sleep and dangerous sapping of strength and vitality, can now be almost instantly checked through a simple but wonderfully effective treatment that is economical, too.
This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. For astonishing relief make this test tonight before retiring—Simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it.
The prescription has a double action.
It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly and you sleep
the whole night through.

tion; machine shops; office building comprise the new structures for the air field here which nightly harbors airships that carry cargoes of mail east and west.

At Strategic Point
Cheyenne is one of the strategic points on the trans-continental air mail route, marking as it does the difficult flight for west bound flyers over the mountainous country of Wyoming and Utah.

The hop to the east is also considered a hard "grind" by pilots.
Seven new buildings make up the "air plant"—three hangars
the shop building, power control building, heating plant and administration building.

Massive sliding doors, operating on an incline and easy to open, are swung on the front of the new hangars. The three hang-ars accommodate about twenty planes.

The roofs of the hangars and other buildings are a veritable syndry of light. The globes are shaded, casting their beams downward onto the roofs, thus giving aviators a well defined signal for many miles.

Revolving Beacons
The French flood light in operation on the field is of new design, the beams being confined to a height of only a few feet above the ground, but the radius extending many miles in every direction.

The twenty-four-inch revolving beacon throws a beam that is visible for twenty miles.
The small lights that border
the landing field are visible under ordinary conditions for a distance of five miles.

The administrator building at the new plant will afford pilots
many comforts and luxuries.
Bunks, easy chairs, tables and locker space are provided for the flyers, the latter being individual affairs in which a pilot may keep his flying wardrobe, consisting of his suit, fur-lined high lace boots and a parachute.

NEW PRICES

Studebaker Values Supreme in Quality Sedan Field

These new prices on the finest enclosed cars Studebaker ever produced represent reductions of $100 on each model. This is the third time since January 1, 1925, that Studebaker has reduced prices, thereby passing on to purchasers the savings resulting from One-Profit manufacture.

Prices Effective January 14, 1926

Table with 2 columns: Car Model and Price. Models include Standard Six Sedan (Wool Trimmed) at $1295, Standard Six Sedan (Mohair Trimmed) at $1395, Big Six Sedan (5-Passenger) at $1895, Big Six Sedan (7-Passenger) at $2145, Big Six Brougham at $2095, Bix Six Berline at $2225, and Big Six Club Coupe at $1650.

Freight and war tax extra

Studebaker Sedans are more up-to-date than the newest yearly models because of the Studebaker policy of adding every improvement as soon as developed without waiting for annual announcement.

Studebaker Sedans have been reduced in price without reduction in quality because of these two factors:

- 1. Studebaker has net assets exceeding $100,000,000 concentrated on the production of One-Profit cars.
- 2. The vast Studebaker plant has been kept going at capacity during the past year. Sales in 1925 exceeded 136,000 cars—an increase of 23 pct. over 1924.

Savings due to One-Profit manufacture in volume production enable Studebaker to use the finest alloy steels, northern ash and hard maple, genuine leather, the best curled hair, plate glass, mohair, wool and other quality materials.

These One-Profit savings insure the maintenance of the highest standards of workmanship and permit many refinements and much extra equipment.

Comparison will prove to you that these fine Unit-Built automobiles equal or excel in quality and in performance cars which sell at prices hundreds of dollars higher.

You cannot judge value by price. Ask for a demonstration in a Studebaker Sedan

Life of General Robert E. Lee

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

The following paper was written by Wilbur Small, an eleventh grade pupil of Belvoir High School. The composition is one of the numbers to be used in the Robert E. Lee program arranged by that school.

It has been well said that the knowledge of a man's ideals is the key to his character. No better proof of this statement can be drawn from the life of any great American than that of Robert E. Lee, who has been declared an "ideal soldier but perfect man no less." As a strategist, he is classed as one of the greatest the world has ever produced. He is ranked with Caesar, Hannibal, Alexander the Great, and the mighty Napoleon in skill, in military tactics. Wonderful, however, as were his achievements on the field of battle his fame, which has grown steadily since his death, seems to center more around his beautiful life and personal character than around these achievements.

Lee's ancestors were among the most prominent families of Virginia. The names of Frances Lightfoot, Richard Henry, and Henry Lee stand out most prominently among them. Henry Lee, better known as "Light Horse Harry," was the father of Robert E. Lee, who was born at Stratford House, Westmoreland County, Virginia, January 19th, 1807.

From his early boyhood until the end of his career, young Lee ever aspired to the highest ideals. When only a small boy he was noted for his diligence in his attentions toward his invalid mother, whom he constantly sought to comfort in her infirmity. He would hurry home from school in the afternoon to take her riding across the country or do various other things that he thought would be a benefit or comfort to her. Under her guiding hand and ever watchful eye, were moulded the traits of character that were so manifest in his after life, whether in his dealings with his fellow men, upon the field of battle, or in dealing with the weighty problems that so often confront a civil engineer.

When he finished his preparation for college, he received an appointment to West Point Military Academy. During his career there, he was associated with such men as Joseph E. Johnston, Jefferson Davis, John B. MacGruder and others who were destined to serve under Lee in the War of Secession.

In 1828, Lee took his usual furlough home. This visit was marked by a great event in his life. He met again Mary Park Custis, with whom he had played in childhood. She was the great-granddaughter of Martha Washington and heiress to the beautiful estate, Arlington, on the Potomac. Mary Custis had grown into a charming young woman, and Lee into a handsome young soldier. As a result of this meeting, Lee returned to West Point engaged to be married.

He was graduated the next year from West Point second in an unusual class of forty-six members and also with the honor of not having received one demerit. The shield of the Academy bore the significant words, "Duty, Honor, Country." Devotion to these three words were characteristic of Lee's life after graduation and fitted him to answer the call of his country in peace as well as war. One of the first tasks assigned to Lee after graduation was to change the channel of the Mississippi River at St. Louis, where it was threatening to destroy the city. General Scott recommended Lee for the work, saying: "He is young, but if it can be done, he can do it." Lee was assigned the difficult task which he completed most efficiently, but in the face of much opposition. The work that he did there, stands today.

At the outbreak of the war with Mexico Lee was one of the first to go. He gave valuable aid in the siege of Vera Cruz and Cerro Gordo. General Scott said of him: "He is the greatest military genius in America. My success in Mexico was largely due to the skill, valor, and undaunted energy of Robert E. Lee."

In spite of his success, Lee never forgot, nor neglected his family. His intense devotion to his wife and children never waned in the least. He kept in constant touch with them by writing them letters of endearment and cheer.

The supreme test of his love and loyalty to country and nation came at the outbreak of the War of Secession. President Lincoln offered him command of the Union Forces which were preparing to take the field against the seceded Southern States. Lee was a strong Union man and did all he could to prevent the war, but when Virginia seceded, he declined the offer of command of the Northern forces and resigned his commission in the Federal Army. He said that he would never draw his sword again except in defense of his native state.

The Virginia Convention which was in session at that time, gave Lee command of the Virginia forces. Soon he was appointed Commander of the Confederate Army by President Davis. Lee immediately defeated the Union army under McClellan who was trying to take Richmond. Although greatly outnumbered, he saved that city from falling into the hands of the Federals. Lee also proved his wonderful military ability in the battles of Antietam, Fredericksburg, the Battle of the Wilderness, Gettysburg and numbers of others.

Never was a commander so loved by his soldiers and never with better reason. Their loyalty was shown most strikingly in the most trying hour of his life. One writer says: "When Lee returned to his own lines, he was received with a shout of welcome which died into sad silence when he made it known that he had surrendered. With bare head and tears flowing down his cheeks, he said, 'Soldiers, we have fought through the war together. I have done the best for you I could.' His men crowded around him. Many wept, while hundreds tried to touch his hand or person, or even his famous horse, 'Traveler,' which had been his friend and companion throughout the war."

After Lee's return to civil life, he again heard the call of duty. Impoverished by the war and face to face with old age, he refused wealth and places of honor abroad to accept the presidency of Washington and Lee University. Its doors had been closed for five years. This was Lee's part in reconstruction.

ed English soldier, Lord Wolsey, there is perhaps as true a picture of Lee as may be drawn, he says: "I have met many of the great men of my day, but Lee, alone, impressed me with the feeling that I was in the presence of a man who was cast in a grander world and made of different and finer metal than all other men. He is stamped upon my memory as being apart and different from all others in every way - a man with whom none I ever knew and few of whom I have read were worthy to be classed."

When winter's snow is falling outside—and the wind roars through the trees—when the friendly logs blaze up in the fireplace—have a Camel!

WHEN it's a winter night and the day that was busy is done. And outside the snow is driving through the trees before the wind. When, inside, the crackling logs catch fire and burst into flames above the hearth—have a Camel!

For Camel is the tried and trusted friend of millions of experienced smokers. Whether your returning steps bring you home tired or jubilant, no sweeter, more mellow fragrance ever came to you from a cigarette. There's not a cigarette after-taste, not a tired taste in a whole county full of Camels. Only mild and mellow flavor, deep-down contentment in your home or any home where Camels are lighted.

So this night, before your roaring logs of oak or hickory—have a Camel. Open up the famous package of Camels and know the fragrance, the contentment that brings happiness to millions. Put a Camel between you and a light and taste the mellowest, most delectable blend ever made into a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest—made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes is concentrated the experience and skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

NEW BRITISH LAW TO FAVOR BUYERS

By F. A. WDAY, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
London, Jan. 15.—A new law is to be passed in Britain to protect the food buyer.

It will come into operation as the result of a recommendation of the Food Council—a government-appointed, but unofficial body, which has worked wonders in solving the food problem. There will be one simple clause, that all the staple foodstuffs shall be sold strictly by weight or measure and not by the package.

This will mean that the housewife will be assured of getting strict weight for which she pays and not something an ounce or two short to the pound. Any trader giving short weight will be made liable to imprisonment.

Under the present law, with the exception of bread, tea and coal, a consumer who has been defrauded by a shopkeeper, can only obtain redress by an expensive suit charging him with false pretenses. Apart from the expense involved, proof is difficult. Consequently the consumer is practically at the mercy of the dishonest trader.

The foodstuffs recommended for sale by weight or measure are meat, milk, sugar, butter, margarine, lard, coffee, cocoa, cheese, flour, rice, oatmeal, cereals, potatoes.

"TEMPLE OF SACRIFICE" WILL BE WAR MEMORIAL

Providence, R. I., Jan. 18.—(AP)—A "Temple of Sacrifice" in monumental form, unlike any other World War memorial in the East, will be erected by the Providence committee on a design presented by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

Rising from a circular base 70 feet in diameter to a height of 270 feet will be a huge round fortress tower of brick and terra cotta on a steel frame, surmounted by a sculptured temple of sacrifice.

RUSSIA'S SCARCITY OF DOCTORS GIVEN AS REASON FOR EPIDEMIC

Moscow, Jan. 15.—(I.N.S.)—An important contributing factor in the epidemics which periodically sweep Russia, taking toll of hundreds of thousands of lives, was revealed in the All-Russian Congress of County Doctors meeting here, in the Grand Theatre.

Commissioner of Health A. N. Semashko told the Congress that his latest statistics showed an average of one physician in rural Russia to every 20,421 inhabitants. This is the average, but, as several physicians testified, there are many regions where the number of potential patients of one physician runs much higher. One doctor pointed out that he was the only medical man for a population of 51,000.

This enormous lack of medical attention for the peasant, is despite the fact that the cities are overcrowded with unemployed physicians. The Department of

MOSCOW WOMEN STEAL BABIES TO GET VODKA

Mothers With Infants Have Front Place in Line When Liquor Stores Open; Government Bureau Learns Many Children Are Stolen—Booze Business Brisk

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

Moscow, Jan. 15.—Stealing babies in order to get the privilege of cutting ahead of the queue which waits in front of every spirit shop in Moscow is the latest phenomenon resulting from the limitation of the sale of the new 40 per cent vodka to one bottle per customer.

Any woman carrying a baby is entitled, according to Soviet law, to go ahead of the line before a shop, moving picture theatre, or wherever a crowd has formed, and besides has the privilege of entering street cars from the front platform when the back platform is crowded with passengers.

Already the heads of the Soviet, or Government Spirit Monopoly, had been apprised of the fact that many women seeking vodka had borrowed or rented babies in order to avoid standing hours in line. But Miss Petra Saphronova, 23-year-old factory worker was the first to resort to kidnapping in order to speed up her vodka supply.

Miss Petra told the police that she could not endure waiting so long for her vodka. When a woman asked her to hold her child a moment while she tied her shoes, Miss Petra waited until the woman's back was turned, and walked off with the baby to the nearest spirit shop. There she bought her bottle, took the baby to a kindergarten, and went home to enjoy the liquor.

No amount of driving snow decreases the lines which wait before the spirit shops in Moscow. The women line up in one queue, the men in another. On the corner of Bolshaya Dmitrovka and Kazenski Perionok, before one of the large government spirit shops, 300 to 400 men and women stand constantly in line.

The vodka shortage in Moscow is a result of the government's intention to supply the rural districts first, in order to combat moonshine "samogon." Sale in the capital has been materially reduced, but still averages 2,700 gallons a day, or 10,800 quart bottles one to a customer.

Only one exception is made in Moscow to the general rule not to allow more than one bottle to a customer. In case a man has a birthday, and can produce a birth certificate proving it, he is entitled to buy up a dozen bottles.

Other cities have made a virtue of necessity, and are profiting, some of them in peculiar ways, by the vodka shortage, and the immense thirst of the masses. In many of the smaller towns, the cooperative stores force the peasants to buy something else along with their vodka.

In Rubinsk, the head of the local Gosplan stores has put up a sign reading:

"No non-tolling element shall drink of the 40 per cent living water. We reserve it for pure proletarians. The Rubinsk Gosplan is guarding the interests of the organized workers."

This enterprising manager issues vodka only to workers having union cards, one bottle apiece.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 11th day of January, A. D. 1926.

W. N. EVERETT, Secretary of State.

NOTICE OF LAND SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage, executed by E. N. Forbes and wife, to J. A. Battle and recorded in Book Y-13, page 111 of the Pit County Registry, default in payment having been made as provided by said mortgage, the undersigned will on Monday, the 8th day of February, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, before the court house door in Greenville, N. C., expose to public sale the following described land:

BACK GIVEN OUT?

Then Follow the Advice of This Greenville Resident

Are you dragging along day after day with a dull, nagging back ache? Do you feel tired, lame and achy; suffer sharp, torturing pains at every sudden move? Then look to your kidneys! Colds, strains and overwork weaken the kidneys and bring on throbbing backache and knife-like twinges. Don't risk serious kidney disease! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Greenville resident says:

"Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, 315 Cotanch St., Greenville, says: 'I had severe pains in my back which almost drove me wild. I had headaches all the time and dizziness was common. Many a time I thought everything was floating around me. My kidneys didn't act right, either. I bought two boxes of Doan's Pills at Horne's Drug Store and the relief they gave me was a blessing.'"

See, at all dealers. Foster-McLure Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

LIBRARY NEWS

Our Slogan: "Let The Library Serve Greenville."

The following new books are now ready for circulation:

In "Biography we have the 'Boy's Life of Grover Cleveland,' by Royal J. Davis. Grover Cleveland's career, beginning with his fascinating country boyhood, make a thrilling story of loyalty and devotion to principle, and of achievement against heavy odds.

"Boy's Life of Theodore Roosevelt," by Hersman Hagedorn. This is a story of an ambitious boy who made good. Beginning with his birth, it leads the reader through pages teeming with narratives right up to the present time.

"The World Court," by Antonio S. de Bustamante, who is judge of the Permanent Court of International Justice, a member of the Hague Court of Arbitration and Vice-President of the Institute of International Law, and so is an authority of the World Court question. This is the first authoritative and intimate story of the World Court to appear in the English language. All questions about the Court, which have been raised inside the Senate and outside during the past few years are answered in this book.

"Birds and Their Attributes," by Glover M. Allen, who is lecturer on Zoology at Harvard University and Librarian of the Boston Society of Natural History. This book aims on a non-technical and readable way to present some of the more important matters regarding the life and structure of birds. It embodies many of the results of recent study by specialists, whose technical accounts are not readily available to the general reader. This book was purchased with the Boy Scouts especially in mind, for many Scouts have made inquiries on the subject this winter.

We have read "The Chicken Wagon Family," and we are sure you will all like it, for the author has shown marked individualism in telling his story which is about a Louisiana family, the Fippinays, who decide—that is, wife Josephine decides, to divert the life of buying and selling chickens in a covered wagon in Louisiana country roads and to take Addie, the little daughter, to a permanent town home—this decision, decides Mrs. Fippinay, that "By Doggies if we go to town, it will be the biggest in the U. S. A." And so they start via Chicken Wagon to New York.

Jim Pickett, just out of college, meets up with them, becomes their comrade in all the ups and downs in New York. Of course, Jim and Addie have their romantic and almost tragic love story. But it might be spoiled by telling how it all comes out so we shall leave you to enjoy the details of New York life for the Chicken Wagon Family when you read the book.

"Seventeen," by Booth Tarkington. A tale of youth and summer time and the Baxter family—especially William. Full of chuckles, and reminiscent of the many ecstatic and despairing moments we have all known when we were seventeen.

"The Turmoil," also by Tarkington, is a story about youth—Bibi Sheridan, who just wouldn't go into business, but determined to write—and most of all—to write poetry and essays! But when Mary Ventres happens along, everything changes for Bibi and he goes into business.

"Anne of Green Gables," and "Emily Climber," by L. M. Montgomery, both full of thrilling, delightful and amusing happenings that will interest our girl readers.

Then, for the Rental Shelf, we have "Marjorie's Busy Days," "Marjorie's Maytime," and "Marjorie in Command," by Carolyn Wells; and by the same author we have "Two Little Women," "Two Little Women in Treasure House," and "Two Little Women on a Holiday," "Around the End," and "Change Signals," by R. H. Barbour; "The Substitute," by Walter Camp, completes the younger set.

Then, for the Rental Shelf, we

DREADFUL PAINS

Georgia Lady, Who Had Lost Too Much Weight, Was Advised to Take Cardui and is Now Well.

Columbus, Ga.—Mrs. George S. Hunter, of this city, writes:

"After I married, thirteen months ago, I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during... My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.

"My side hurt less and I began to improve in health... The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui." NC-160

Fire in Noted Hotel

Three hundred guests fled from their rooms when fire damaged the old wing of the famous Chateau Frontenac, Quebec.

have "Portrait of a Man With Red Hair," by Hugh Walpole; "That Royle Girl," by E. Palmer; "Dark Laughter," by Sherwood Anderson; "A Bush That Burned," by M. B. McClure; "The Chicken Wagon Family," by Barry Benefield, and "Christina Alberta's Father," by H. G. Wells.

Conquers Bad Breadth and is Popular Again

"The day I started taking Carter's Little Liver Pills," says Mr. John A. Perry of New York City, "my habitual bad breath and bad stomach stopped. I strongly recommend them to all those afflicted with these nasty troubles. I assure you that my own case was a bad one, causing me untold embarrassment, and Carter's helped me right from the start."

Bad breath comes from sour stomach and can usually be relieved quickly by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are wonderful for constipation, sick-headache and indigestion and they physic the system in a mild and gentle manner, no bad after effects. Recommended and for sale by all drug stores.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By MRS. HIRAM MERRIMAN, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent. Manila, P. I., Jan. 19.—One of the Catholic churches of Manila has declared war against "immoral dress." Filipino flappers will no longer roll 'em or display gimpes of dimpled knees, if the ban of the church still has weight with its young members. The Ermita Catholic Church of the city has issued a pamphlet attacking the present "indecent and immoral styles." The pamphlet enumerates the "scandals of the day" as follows. Loose gowns without waistlines whatever, or which have all the cloth gathered to the sides of the body, leaving the back parts completely smooth. Belts which are placed so low that they girdle the hips and cause the wearer, on walking, to execute movements which are as indecent and indecorous as those executed by the most shameless dancer. Stockings which reach only to the lower part of the calf, leaving the knee bare so that with the slightest movement of the skirt the flesh is seen."

Governor General Wood recently ordered Captain Panopio of his yacht, the Apo, to begin a war on the "armies of rats" on board. Dr. Victor Heiser, of the Rockefeller Foundation, called the attention of the Chief Executive to the fact that the Apo was infested with a "pest of rats."

Dr. del Rosario, chief of the Executive Bureau, has started a campaign to enforce the policy of keeping all official records in English. He turned down a request from the president and members of the municipal board of Bugallon, Pangasinan, who wished to keep their records in Spanish, and informed them that if they cannot write the minutes in English they had better resign their posts.

It is a dangerous job to be a Christian Filipino teacher in a Moro school at Lanao. The gruesome murder of Nafarete, a public school teacher of Macu, Ugan, Lanao, is an example of the perils which a teacher faces when he arouses the ill feeling of his pupils. Nafarete was waylaid by a band of Moros, who, after torturing him cruelly, struck off his head and hoisted it upon a pole for all to see.

Who has not crossed this continent, or seen the Pacific Ocean, the vast empire growing up along that western coast, might as well have spent his life in a backyard in Brooklyn. He knows his country as little as does a prairie dog perched on the edge of its hole, watching for coyotes.

Many are the sights on the swift journey from Atlantic to Pacific. The old wonder, Niagara, if you go by New York Central; by Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, the new wonder, with its roaring furnaces, and then Chicago, the real American city on the Great Lakes, destined to be the landing field of the world's aerial fleets.

Next Kansas City, where citizens tell the world they will pass Chicago and then "go after New York."

Then the level lands of Kansas with thousands of straw mountains wasted because it does not pay to bale and ship the straw to a big city where it would sell for $30 a ton.

Kansas farmers work through the year to feed brother Americans and do it on ice water or coffee. Kansas is not a bootleg state and is proud of it.

The Wichita Daily Eagle, a good paper published by the Murdocks, rejoices in the formation of a Kansas group "to fight the evolution theory." It tells you also that W. K. Hale, king of the Osage Hills, "will probably not be convicted of murdering Osage Indians for their life insurance and other belongings. Not enough evidence." Also, why should an Indian have so much money from oil, and who doubts that a dead Indian is better than a live one, especially when insured for $25,000.

E. M. Pepperday's Albuquerque Journal tells how Emilio Shaves, white man, presumably Mexican, says he killed Hichi Yamata, because he didn't want him to marry his youngest sister. QUALITY

What Else Could Have Given Pamlico Fertilizers Such Preference?

No man ever found a successful substitute for quality. Nor by any stroke of magic could PAMLICO have induced the thousands of farmers of North Carolina to purchase and use this fertilizer year after year unless they were getting unusual value and results.

PAMLICO'S success is a success of quality; a quality so fine as to reach beyond comparison; a quality that is based on 40 years of fertilizer manufacturing experience.

And the pride that is taken in offering a fertilizer of this character is matched with a personal service in keeping with the prestige of the product.
