H. W. WHEDBEE STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY TODAY

Former Judge of the Fifth Judicial District and Local Attorney Critically Ill in Hospital

Ex-Judge Harry W. Whedbee was stricken with apoplexy this morning while in the court room, and is in the Pitt Community Hospital in a critical condition.

During the early hours of court the Judge had engaged in a case or two, and was preparing to argue another, when taken ill. Feeling that he wasn't able to go through with the trial, he approached the bar to tell Judge Dunn, Clerk of Court, J. F. Harrington, seeing that he was ill, accompanied him to an anteroom, placed him on the couch and called the doctor.

Within a few minutes it was realized that he was in a critical condition and he was immediately carried to the hospital.

Although critically ill, everything is being done for his restoration, and his many friends are anxiously awaiting a favorable report from his bedside.

DEBIT BALANCE OF STATE FUND IS $790,459.63

Percentage of Reduction in Appropriations for Expenses Must Wait for Income Tax Returns

Raleigh, Jan. 20.—(AP)—With a debit balance in the General fund in the state of over $890,000 for the first six months of the current fiscal year, Governor McLean said last night that decision as to the percentage of reduction in appropriations for state expenses must wait until the state income tax returns come in.

The final statement made public yesterday, showed total receipts of $6,036,809.57 and expenditures of $6,824,269.20, leaving a debit balance of $790,459.63 as of December 31, 1925.

Two big disbursements, one-half million dollars for pensions and the equalization fund, together with a slim month for revenues accounts for the deficit, according to the Governor. The deficit was created during the months of December. The income taxes due March 15th are expected to be heavy and to put the receipts up to the expenditure and close the fiscal year on June 30th without a deficit. The total state debt is listed at $127,050,031, of which $103,641,531 is bonded indebtedness, and the balance in current indebtedness.

Prefers Cabinet to A Dictatorship Threatened by President Von Hindenburg

Berlin, Jan. 20.—(AP)—In preference to a Dictatorship threatened by President Von Hindenburg, the leaders of the parties in the Reichstag have formed a cabinet. Dr. Hans Luther again will head the Government as Chancellor with Dr. Stresemann holding his old post of Foreign Minister. The former Luther resigned last month after signing the Locarno pact in London, and efforts to form a new cabinet had been under way since then.

Von Hindenburg summoned a dozen Reichstag leaders to the Executive Mansion yesterday and told them that the Partisan Chancellery and political barter must cease. He intimated bluntly that the situation requested either the setting up of the dictatorship or the formation of a preliminary Government.

"These sorry exhibitions of Perennial Government critics must cease as the condition of the Fatherland more than ever demands constructive work," he told them. Leaders of the middle parties are alleged to have been looking after the party fences for the last six weeks instead of facilitating Von Hindenburg's attempt to construct a Government, which would be prepared to meet the various international and foreign policies with which Germany is confronted.

Three hours after the political leaders had retired from the presence of the President, Dr. Luther made public the personnel of a cabinet which will be put before the Reichstag tomorrow.

M'LEAN GIVES REVIEW OF LAST YEAR AND PREDICTS GREAT PROGRESS FOR 1926

Greensboro, Jan. 20.—(AP)—962,875 which we paid in Federal taxes for the past year ending June 30, 1925, a sum exceeded by the collections of only four of the greatest of all our states in North Carolina, giving a review of 1925 and forecast of 1926. The article, which was written exclusively for the Greensboro Record, is as follows:

"That the year 1925 was in North Carolina a period of material advancement and industrial and commercial activity is a fact within the personal experience and observation of every citizen of the state, whatever his residence.

"Life among our people has never been more active and hopeful. In fact, the enterprise that a few years ago was exceptional has become a rule of conduct. There is not a city or town that does not feel in its community consciousness the impulse to grow and determination to improve its facilities. As a consequence we have been experiencing an unprecedented era of productivity. The average man has been making more money, spending more and investing more. What an old habit of thought it apt to denounce as a new habit of extravagance and luxury in reality means no more than a higher standard of living which in itself entails and demands a higher standard of effort and efficiency.

"Put in material terms, we have in agricultural wealth the past year a cotton crop of more than a million bales, which will produce at a minimum price at least $100,000,000.

"We grew 361,000,000 pounds of tobacco, which will bring $83,000,000.

"The total value of our crop in 1925 was $318,661,000, making North Carolina the ninth state in the union in this respect.

"In our forests the cut of timber, in lumber and firewood, had an estimated value of $90,000,000, and furniture factories and other wood-using industries produced manufactured articles of an estimated value of $75,000,000.

"From mines and mineral products we derived during the Year of 1925 a value of more than $10,000,000.

"Employing those natural resources of the farms, the forests and the earth, our great textile and tobacco industries, our furniture factories, knitting, woolen and silk mills, and diversified industries contributed to the wealth of the state, and to the employment of its people the immense value of $750,000,000.

"As the economical servant of this expanding industrial kingdom there is invested in the power industry approximately $100,000,000, which has developed 600,000 primary horsepower for hydro-electric energy. With auxiliary steam plants this water power delivers to industry yearly more than a billion and a half kilowatt hours of electric power.

"The magnitude of the state's industry can perhaps be most impressively indicated by the $100,

TAX REDUCTION BILL PRESENTED TO SENATE TODAY

Senate Will Not Be Asked to Take Up Bill Before Monday

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The tax reduction bill was formally presented to the Senate today by its finance committee.

Chairman Smoot however had not completed the report on the compromise measure worked out by the committee and he said he would not ask the Senate to take up the bill before Monday.

If a definite agreement had been reached by then for a vote on the world court the chairman said he would hold up the bill until that time.

Prospects for an agreement on an early vote appeared slight. There is every indication that a fight will be made against the inheritance repeal. Senator Simmons, Democrat of North Carolina, discussed with Secretary Mellon today his proposal for meeting the increased reduction provided by the Senate bill through modification of the plan for retirement of the public debt.

He suggested that the sinking fund created to retire the public debt be increased from $165,000,000 annually to $350,000,000, annually, but that its cost through taxation be reduced by applying to it $175,000,000 annually received from foreign government on account of war debt payments. This would leave a margin of $75,000,000, he said, which could be used to meet increased reduction.

"In the added ease of communication, the interchange of products, the inter-relation of business, and, more, perhaps, than in all else, the welding together of ideas embracing the state as a whole, the good roads program has been the major direct influence working in our people to a real awakening to their potential powers and resources.

"Underlying all of this material progress and accumulation and potential energy for development, however, has been the growing care of the state, of itself and in its influence on counties, cities and towns, to aid and promote education both in the public schools and in the state institutions of higher and special knowledge and to provide for and improve our charitable institutions. Increased school attendance, overflowing high schools and the demands upon the state's institutions for higher education have called for large expenditures in the way of permanent improvements. A sense of social obligation grown keener, with the

Garity Be Given Hearing Behind Closed Doors

Raleigh, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A hearing behind closed doors for Hank Garity, football mentor of Wake Forest College, was to take place today. Garity was slated to appear before the sub-committee of the executive committee of the university which has been investigating the mentor. Prior to the meeting officials in charge would not disclose the nature of the charges against Garity, and the football coach also declined to talk. Both promised statements when the meeting was over.

The committee chairman declined to state at what hour or where the meeting would be held. The matter has been closely guarded for a number of weeks while the hearing was in progress, but newspapermen inadvertently learned on Monday that the final meeting in the matter was to take place today.

Shoals Question Be Taken Up On January 30

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee today agreed to take up the Muscle Shoals question on January 30th and decide whether hearings will be held on the House resolution which would create a joint Congressional Committee to accept bids.

Durkin Arrested In San Francisco

DIET FIGURES IN TESTS TO LEARN TEETH DECAY CAUSE

Baltimore, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Johns Hopkins specialists are conducting experiments which they believe will have a "profound influence on the breakfast table of the nation."

They are seeking the cause of decay of the teeth. Through the feeding of rats in a laboratory, Dr. Clarence J. Griever already has determined that diet is an one of the chief factors of decay but the fundamental reason still is unknown.

No one knows what is the chemical, or other agency, which first breaks through the enamel and starts the trouble. If it is a chemical it is not known whether it is taken into the mouth from the outside; produced by a germ, or it is a product of the body itself.

Add to the list of foolish questions the one mailed out by a Senate committee asking Federal judges if they want their salaries increased.—Martins Terry Times.

DAWES SAYS CRITICISM APPLIED TO TACTICS WORLD COURT DEBATE

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—After two Senators had attacked him today from the Senate floor for criticizing Senate procedure, (Vice-President Daves issued a statement saying he owed an apology to one of them, Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York, and had intended his criticism to apply generally to certain tactics used in the world court debate.

The Vice-President got a reaction with a kick in it today as soon as Senators had read a radio speech in which he renewed last night his campaign for revision of the Senate rules.

Senator Reid, Democrat, of Missouri, supposing himself to be the particular target at which the Vice-President's remarks were delivered said he would leave it to General Dawes' own sense of decency whether he would have attacked him on the air when he would not reply. From his place in the presiding officer's chair the Vice-President replied that he had not referred to Senator Reid but to the "Senator from New York."

Informing that the reference must have been to him, Senator Copeland, Democrat of New York, said he resented the Vice-President's "inaccurate statement" of the case.

After Senator Copeland had concluded Senator Reid returned to the attack charging that the Vice-President's marks over the radio were practically inaccurate statements that the tax bill was before the Senate and was being held up. The tax bill was not before the Senate until this morning, Senator Reid said.

"It would be well," he continued, "for the super-critics of this country to know what they are talking about before they take the air to give out scoldings for the American people."

Senator Reid then offered to yield the floor "this very minute" for consideration of the tax bill, but the floor was not accepted.

Elliott Bill Approved Today

In some manner the machine caught fire and ignited the gasoline tank, which exploded, and this a moment later caused the explosion of the box of dynamite on the truck.

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist.

This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. Get a jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

McLEAN GIVES REVIEW OF LAST YEAR AND PREDICTS GREAT THINGS FOR 1926

crease of wealth, making it more and more possible to meet it, has caused a similar expansion in charitable institutions. These demands the state has been meeting in a manner as liberal as its finances permitted. In 1924 there was a capital expenditure for new buildings, sites and repairs to school houses $10,668,418. For this program there was lent from state funds $5,000,000 in 1921, a like amount in 1922, and a like amount soon to become available was provided for in 1925.

"During 1925, for the fiscal year ending June 30th, the state had expended for permanent improvements on its educational and charitable plants the sum of $3,221,649, and these expenditures will continue from year to year until the completion of a definite program which aims to give every child in the state the best of educational and health facilities to enable it to meet the increasing demands which prosperity, ambition, good feeling and care for the unfortunate will normally make upon it.

"During the past year two economic factors, of a disquieting nature, affected seriously our normal life and industrial life and industrial and commercial progress.

"One of these was the fact that in 1924, of the great money value of our agricultural crops realized in the face of a disastrous drought, the returns received by the farmer were little more, and in some cases, no more, than the cost of production. This is the more serious because the number of our farms has been steadily increasing for the past five years. While in the United States the number of farms decreased in that time by 75,000, in North Carolina it increased 13,000. The majority of our people are still concerned with agriculture and the concern that they give to tilling the soil in a manner that will put farming on an

What Are You Doing for Your Puny Child?

One boy gained 11 pounds in 11 weeks and is now strong and healthy

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that are rickety, and need a sure build or that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—noting helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugared coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11-2 pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Six tablets for 60 cents at Denison Drug Co., and all druggists—but be sure and ask for McCoy's—the original and genuine. Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days, and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

equal basis with any other business, is one that vitally affects us all. The department of agriculture and other agencies are attacking this problem from the point of view of better marketing conditions and practice, but how to deal with it effectively and efficiently is the big task in which all classes of our people should have the greatest interest.

"Another untoward condition—the depression in the textile industry—happily shows signs of passing during the coming year. It served to illustrate, however, a fine split on the part of the mills themselves, many of which took measures to attack the trouble at its source and to change and adapt their products to the finer grades of goods for which there is always a market at good prices. The resulting manufacture of cotton-silk fabrics and the artificial silks may well prove in time that the collapse in certain lines of cotton goods was the traditional blessing in disguise.

"For 1926, the outlook for North Carolina is for a distinct emphasis on progress in every line. The potential capital available for great economic prospects is reflected in the number of automobiles, which not only add the source of pleasure and contentment to life but vastly increase the economy of labor. It is reflected more tangibly in the steady increase everywhere in construction of homes and business buildings, in plants and factories, in schools and churches. Figures are not available as to the cost of this construction during the past year, but it undoubtedly ran into the scores of millions of dollars. Construction figures for the coming year will certainly exceed those that marked the year just ended, both in account of continued prosperity and the means available to the citizens to acquire his own home because of the already remarkable development in both eastern and western North Carolina of new resorts and recreational enterprises.

Figures are not available, but it is certain that good roads, high altitudes and the priceless climate that blesses both the mountain and the seashore areas are certain to take the care and entertainment of the seasonal visitor and tourist one of the state's major enterprises.

"In all of these things I would emphasize the new solidarity of the people of the state of all sections. The means to this has been good roads, and the bridges that go with them. The bridging of the Chowan near Edenton, a $1,000,000 project, will literally bring back to intimate touch with their state the northeastern tier of counties that once were so isolated that there was serious suggestion that they be ceded to Virginia. The bridge to be thrown across the export river and Bogue sound from Morehead City to Beaufort not only gives direct access to the port, but carries route 10 40 miles to the coast to the Atlantic, thus introducing to intimate relation with the state another section long segregated from the life of the state likewise the projected bridge over the Cape Fear at Wilmington will complete a new direct route from mountains to sea and bring southern North Carolina into a new intimate touch with the state's greatest seaport.

"In the multitude of things that all for future wisdom in dealing with them, there may be mentioned:

"Development of water power. In spite of the great progress made in this respect the day is at hand when all available power in Piedmont North Carolina will not be sufficient to meet the industrial and domestic demand. It is in power distinctly an electric age. Already, interconnecting lines make it possible to interchange power from the Great Lakes to the far south. Engineers of broad vision are thinking in terms of giant power, whereby electric energy would be created at the coal mines and sent through the country. The time is coming when fuel in the home will be as rare as the open fireplace in a city flat. With the intense development of the more obvious power streams of the Piedmont the state must look to the undeveloped 1,000,000 horsepower of western streams, plans for the harnessing of which are already being made by the Tennessee river survey. Here is the future of another vital industrial section to rival the Piedmont and to make over the potentialities of half the state, especially in the development of our fine clays and kaolin, our feldspar and our mica, there are brilliant opportunities.

Mdse. Valued at $8,468,244 Sent Foreign Markets

Raleigh, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Merchandise amounting in value to $8,468,244 was shipped from North Carolina to foreign markets during the three months ended September 30, 1925, according to statistics released for publication today by the United States Department of Commerce. That figure represents an increase of nearly $500,000 over the exports from the state for the corresponding period in 1924, when they totalled $8,023,398, and gave North Carolina twenty-sixth place in the export race of the states of the union.

Manufactured cotton continued to predominate, among the state's exports and shipments of that product totalling $3,323,169, destined for foreign buyers left North Carolina during the three months. Cotton manufacturers ranked second in importance with exports valued at $2,745,434; leaf tobacco was third with a valuation of $1,424,550; and wood and paper came fifth with exports amounting to $217,376.

Total exports from the United States for the third quarter of 1925 amounted to $1,116,917,102. This is contrasted with $1,014,675,892 for the corresponding three-months period of 1924, an increase in the 1925 term of over $102,000,000, and is contrasted with $1,069,915,075 for the second three months of 1925, reflecting an increase of more than $47,000,000, this latter difference representing somewhat seasonal fluctuations, says the department.

Man Has Miraculous Escape

"I was told by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition I set the day to go to the hospital but then I saw the advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. I am sure I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will relieve or money refunded. For sale by all druggists.

ools may eventually lead the American Indian to a new place in the sun, believes Clark B. Dickinson, head of the government Indian school for girls here.

During his 10 years in the Indian service, Dickinson says, he has found that the Indian has an ingenuity and an ability with tools which most white men would envy. This is the result, he thinks, of long centuries in which the Indian was compelled to devise tools to meet his peculiar conditions.

Indian boys make excellent automobile mechanics, he declares, and many have displayed proficiency in other trades where steadiness of hand and accuracy of eye are assets.
