PREDICTS GREAT EXPANSION FOR ELECTRIC POWER

Interchange Of Power From One System To Another Be Made Possible By Connection Of Transmission Lines

Atlanta, March 3.—The Atlanta Journal in a copyrighted story today from New York said that within a year electric power companies in this country will have established physical connections with their transmission lines to an extent that it will make possible the interchange of power from one system to another throughout the eastern half of the United States. "When these connections are complete," the story said, "it will be possible for power generating stations on the Canadian border to come to the aid of power generating stations on the Gulf of Mexico and vice versa. Thus the surplus power in Minnesota can be utilized to meet a shortage in Pensacola, Florida, and the surplus power in Danville, Va., can fill a shortage in South Bend, Indiana."

The Journal interviewed Sidney V. Mitchell, president of the Electric Bond and Share company in New York, and obtained plans of this great country wide distribution of electric power. Mr. Mitchell outlined the results followed when these plans have been finally put into effect. He said that the following advantages already have resulted from the linking up of power companies:

Elimination of power shortages; a reliable and continuous supply of power to American industries; reduction of expensive spare power units from 50 per cent idle power to ten per cent with a consequent saving of millions of dollars which otherwise would be necessary to equip and maintain the spare units; joint and related use of the hydro-electric plants on rivers and streams with the existing coal generating plants and the generating plants in the natural gas fields; conservation of the use of rain fall so that water power may make a larger contribution to the general good.

It was pointed out that when connections had been made between the transmission lines of various companies surplus power could be passed on from one line to another, just as surplus railroad cars are borrowed by one railroad from another.

Supreme Court Dismisses Move Belle Action

Raleigh, March 3.—(AP.)—Judge James L. Webb's action in granting an injunction forbidding the enforcement of the Currituck game commissioner of game laws passed by the last general assembly and relating only to Currituck county, was overruled and the action brought by Moore, et als vs. Belle, in Mecklenburg county, was dismissed today by the North Carolina supreme court.

The case is dismissed because of the fact that no irreparable damage or loss was shown, which is held to be a requirement before a restraining order can be issued. The validity of the law itself was not brought into question, says the opinion by this appeal. Its validity could only be determined in an appeal in case of a prosecution for violation of the law. The law provides special hunting privileges for citizens of Currituck county. In another opinion Judge Daniels' order restraining the city commissioner of Wilmington from issuing not in excess of $100,000 bonds for the purpose of constructing docks and terminals is upheld on the ground that such expenditure of money is not "necessity expense."

Connie and Her New Husband

Constance Talmadge, screen favorite, and her husband, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, are spending their honeymoon in California, and later will go to Palm Beach.

REVIVAL SERVICES TO BE CONDUCTED IN BETHEL CHURCH

Rev. Raymond Browning To Conduct Three Weeks Service in Methodist Church Beginning Sunday.

Revival services will begin in the Methodist church, Bethel, on Sunday, March 7, and will continue for three weeks. Rev. Raymond Browning, general evangelist of the Southern Methodist church, and his party of Christian workers will conduct the services.

Rev. Mr. Browning is well known throughout the south and is considered a splendid preacher and a strong Christian worker. He brings with him a soloist and musical director and a pianist.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

Hearings Farm Relief Question On Thursday

Washington, March 3.—(AP.)—Wide divergent proposals for farm relief legislation awaits consideration of the house agricultural commission, which opens hearing on the subject probably tomorrow. More than a score of bills relating to agriculture have accumulated during the three months' session. They include proposals that the government go into the business of the farmers, buying their crops and selling them on the market and various price fixing plans, while others would have the government aid the producers to find markets and to obtain reasonable prices.

Predominating in the suggestions for legislation is the demand for assistance in disposing of surplus crops. Such bills are now before the house committee. Representative Dickinson, republican of Iowa, is sponsoring a bill to create a federal farm board at whose direction farmers' co-operative associations would buy surplus crops at the domestic prices and sell them at the world prices, being reimbursed for any losses by a fund obtained by collection of an equalization fee from the producers.

GREAT PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR E. C. EXPOSITION

Steering Committee Honor Guests Of The Farmville Rotary Club; Booster Tour Is Scheduled For March 25th.

The members of the steering committee of the Eastern Carolina Exposition were honor guests of the Rotary club of Farmville last evening. The meeting was largely attended and much interest manifested in the plans for the exposition and fashion show which will be held in Greenville in April.

The various committees were appointed, each phase of the exposition being in charge of a committee. One of the outstanding features of the advertising campaign will be a booster tour which will take place on March 25. Several automobiles from various parts of the county will participate, and practically 50 counties will be covered.

Secretary Bartlett announced that the program and handbooks would be ready for mailing and delivery next week and that all plans pertaining to the program have been completed, including Will Rogers and his quartet for both afternoon and evening performance. It had been announced that Will Rogers and his quartet would give one performance, and it is indeed pleasant news to know that they will appear twice on the program.

Great plans are being made for the exposition, which promises to be the best ever held.

LOCAL TEAM TO PLAY LAST HOME GAME TONIGHT

Will Meet Strong Team From Washington High School On Local Court At 8 O'clock.

The basket ball fans of Greenville will have their last opportunity of the season to see the Greenville High team in action tonight when they meet the strong quintet from Washington high school. This game promises to be one of the fastest and hardest fought games of the season, for the Green and White are going to do their best to make it two straight, while the Washington crew hopes to get revenge for the defeat handed them earlier in the season by the fast traveling Greenville five.

The local fans will also have their last chance of seeing some of the Greenville basket ball elites in action tonight, as this is the last home game in which Captain West, Brown and F. Forbes will be in the line up as these players graduate in June.

In the graduation of Captain West, Brown and Forbes Greenville High will lose three of their most versatile athletes as they are all three letter men, each having won letters in football, baseball and basket ball. To these men much credit is due to the success of the past season and of course the fans are expecting each of them to bring their performance tonight far above their usual stellar role.

The probable line up for tonight's game will be, Captain West, end, Forbes, forward; Brown, center; Cory and Jones, guards, with Denton and Burnett as reinforcements.

Coach Crater states that the boys are in splendid condition and that with proper support the Greenville quint should play their best game of the season.

The game will be called promptly at 8 o'clock at the Star warehouse.

WILL SEEK FOUR SETS OF BUYERS LOCAL MARKET

Additional Set Of Buyers Needed If Present Rate Of Progress Is To Continue.

At a meeting of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade held this morning it was definitely decided to seek four sets of buyers for the Greenville tobacco market for next season and a committee composed of Messrs. R. M. Garrett, G. V. Smith and J. S. Ficklen was appointed to take the matter up with the buying interests to request that the buyers be supplied.

The market broke all former records during the year just closed and has reached such proportions that the four sets of buyers is essential if the present rate of progress is to continue. Already the buying interests are completing plans for increased handling and redrying facilities for next season.

Washington, March 3.—(AP.)—The senate today passed the bill of Senator Overman, democrat, of North Carolina, creating an additional federal district for North Carolina.

About Big Business
Does It Worry You
A Puzzled Countess
ARTHUR BRISHANE

Colonel Nelson's daughter is dead, and now under the terms of Nelson's will, the Kansas City Star that he created, must be sold.

When Nelson was alive, and since, under the management of his son-in-law, and his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood, you could not have bought an editorial column in the Kansas City Star, to change its policy, on a public question for a million dollars.

Now the entire paper, including the editorial page, is for sale.

The Star is powerful over several states. Some big railroad, grain, banking and packing combination might think it worth while "to take it in." The trouble is that a newspaper "taken in" by high finance is apt to take sick and die. High finance selects as editor "one of our kind," and that kind can't run a newspaper. The question would be Nelson if he were here. He was a good American and would not like the power he created to get into the wrong hands.

This writer remembers Nelson as he came up from his basement pressroom in his shirt sleeves to interview "the young Eastern capitalist building a 7-story brick skyscraper at the corner of 7th and Delaware, and another on Ninth street, near Wyandotte."

Nelson didn't dream that he was building a newspaper destined to be worth millions of dollars. Everything that Nelson had, newspapers, money, stocks, lands, now that his wife and only daughter are dead, goes to Kansas city where he got his start. Nelson was a good American, courageous, honest and grateful. Therefore he was able to build a powerful newspaper.

Does the growth of big business worry you?
Consider the automobile business which is certainly BIG BUSINESS.

Five hundred different kind of automobiles have disappeared from the market within 25 years.

In 1922, 86 different makes of cars were shown in the national automobile show. In 1923, 66 makes; only 57 in 1924, and in the last shown, only 50.

What have been the results of concentrating the automobile business in fewer hands?
Detroit automobile makers at this moment employ 60,000 more men, at high wages, than they did in the same week last year.

The output of cars is steadily increasing, prices are lower than ever, the biggest maker, and perhaps the richest man in the world, sells more cars than all other automobile makers put together, and sells at the lowest prices.

Business must be big and bigness should be encouraged by the Government, watched and controlled by the people.

Out in Cold

CAPT. ANTON HEINMAN

Tramping through snow-drifts and along icy roads, dragging a surveyor's transit is the new job of Capt. Anton Heinman, who superintended the construction of the U. S. dirigible Shenandoah and is regarded as one of the foremost experts in the world on balloons. Heinman says he was forced out of U. S. service because he told the truth about the Shenandoah disaster. He's making $6 a day as a surveyor.

U. N. C. IS BASKET BALL CHAMPION SOUTHERN CONFERENCE

Atlanta, March 3.—(AP.)—For the fourth time within five years the University of North Carolina today was the basket ball champion of the Southern Conference. Winning their first crown in 1922, the Tar Heels won again in 1924 and 1925, and last night they came from behind in the thrilling contest with Mississippi A. & M. to retain the title 38 to 23. Both the Tar Heels and the Aggies fought through a fast and varied field to reach the final of the annual conference tournament, which began last Friday. North Carolina removed Clemson, Virginia and the University of Mississippi, while the Aggies conquered Maryland, North Carolina State, and the University of Kentucky.

WILSON DESIRES TO HOLD COLLEGE

Citizens Of City Will Raise $150,000 In Order To Keep Atlantic Christian College.

Wilson, March 3.—(AP.)—The citizens of Wilson do not want to see Atlantic Christian College transferred to Rocky Mount or any other city. In order to hold the college here it was necessary for the citizens to raise $150,000 of the $350,000 endowment fund for the institution. $100,000 has been pledged and President Howard Hille, of the college, has been informed that the citizens will stay on the job to raise the remainder. He has been asked by a committee of the citizens to report to the state convention of the church to this effect and to work for the college to remain here.

Greenville Girls Vs. Robersonville Team On Friday

The girls' basket ball team will play the second championship game of the season with the Robersonville team Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The game will be played in Williamston. The girls have been playing splendid ball and are going to Williamston confident of victory.

MERCHANTS WILL CONDUCT DOLLAR DAY TOMORROW

First City-Wide "Dollar Day" To Be Participated In By Members Of Merchants Association.

Tomorrow is Greenville's first city-wide "Dollar Day." For years individual merchants have put on these special selling events, and in most cases they have proven profitable to both buyer and seller. But tomorrow's event will in every respect eclipse all previous undertakings of this kind. It is the intention of the members of the Merchants' association to make these semi-annual events and they are exerting special efforts to make the initial day the greatest and most profitable to the buying element.

Tomorrow's sales are not just confined to a few scattered stores of the city, but with just a few exceptions the entire membership will participate and offer bargains in their respective lines which will meet every need of the human race. Early shopping is advisable as the event has been thoroughly advertised and there will be thousands of people here not only from the city, but those of the county and from other cities of Eastern Carolina will be in attendance. The stores will open at their usual hour and close at 6 o'clock in the evening, with the exception of the groceries and markets which will remain open until 7 o'clock which is their custom.

The general decline in the active issues was from one to 15 points and was the greatest since the deflation period of 1920-21. It was the first time since the bull movement, which has been under way since President Coolidge was elected, had broken in two years. Trading on the floor was frenzied during the crash. Brokers were gesticulating and making orders. Clerks clung to their offices, ahead of the falling prices. The ticker tape was 54 minutes behind time, a record in itself. When the tape quoted Hudson at 118 3/4, for example, it was selling actually at 108 on the floor. In the final hour more than 1,400,000 shares were sold.

BAPTIST WOMEN'S MISSIONARY UNION OPENS IN RALEIGH

Union For Past Ten Months Has Given $196,369.20 To Missionary Work; Approximately 1,000 Delegates And Visitors In Attendance.

Raleigh, March 3.—(AP.)—Approximately 1,000 Baptist women delegates and visitors from all parts of the state were in attendance here today at the annual Woman's Missionary convention of that church. The convention was opened last night at the First Baptist church here with the annual sermon delivered by Dr. J. R. Jester, pastor of the First Baptist church of Winston-Salem. At this morning's session the story of the struggles and achievements of the Baptist women of North Carolina in their missionary endeavors for the past 40 years was told by Mrs. W. N. Jones, of Raleigh, presiding for the 12th time over the annual session of the organization.

The Union during the past ten months has given $196,369.20 to missionary work, the report of the treasurer, Miss Elsie K. Hunter, showed. The report also revealed that there are 456 standard societies in this state, 136 of which belong to the A-1 class. The last report of Mrs. Herman T. Stephens, of High Point, who resigned as secretary the first of this year, showed 2,465 active societies in the Baptist churches of the state at the close of 1925. Of this number 430 were organized or revived during the past year.

The federal treasury wants back all $10,000 bills now in circulation. We are glad to learn there is such a thing.—Durham Sun.

STOCK MARKET BREAKS IN LAST HOUR OF TRADING

Paper Losses From Their First Big Smash Ran As High As A Billion Dollars; Rumors Of "Leak" Nickel Plate Merger.

New York, March 3.—(AP.)—Estimates today of the paper losses from their first big smash in quoted values on the New York Stock Exchange in two years ran as high as a billion dollars. The break came in the last hour of trading yesterday, about an hour before disapproval of the Nickel Plate merger was announced at Washington.

Today there was much discussion of the possibility of a leak in the news, especially as the rail shares were hard hit. President Simmons, of the exchange, said that news of the decision reached the exchange through the regular channels, so far as he knew and came after the market closed.

In the wee small hours today offices in the financial district were lighted with clerks who had been working a night still at their desks. Some brokers were hurrying back from Palm Beach and other winter resorts in response to urgent calls.

Scholarship Be Given Teachers Summer Quarter

Raleigh, Mar. 3.—(AP.)—A. W. Allen, superintendent of public instruction, has announced that George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, Tenn., is offering four non-transferable scholarships to North Carolina teachers for the summer quarter of 1926. The scholarships have a value of $25 each.

The scholarships will be awarded upon the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction in this and other states to which the offer is open. The applications for the scholarships must be filed with Mr. Allen by May 1, and his recommendation will be made to the Nashville institution sometime in May. The department of public instruction is prepared to furnish application blanks to teachers desiring to apply for the scholarships.

Refuses Report Bill Create Dep't. National Defense

Washington, March 3.—(AP.)—The house military committee by a 10 to 11 vote today refused to report a bill to create a department of national defense. It also refused by another close vote to report a measure proposing creation of a unified air service and likewise a bill to create a separate air corps in the army.

DOLLAR DAY

Don't forget that tomorrow is Dollar Day. Make your dollars do double duty by patronizing the business houses of our city, and taking advantage of the wonderful bargains which they are offering.

THE SENATE ON TRIAL

Granted that Muscle Shoals is an old issue, and granted that public opinion is both confused about it and weary of hearing it discussed; even so, is quite safe for the senate, at the end of four years of debate, to choose the worst solution for the problem of Muscle Shoals which has yet been offered it? That is what the administration proposes, backing House Resolution No. 4.

House Resolution No. 4 has been rushed through the house of representatives. It has been rushed through the agricultural committee of the senate. Administration leaders have now ordered that it be made the unfinished business of the senate, not to be set aside till it is passed. What they propose, with the resolution, is that a committee be authorized to conduct negotiations for a fifty-year lease of the government's whole property at Muscle Shoals—on terms which so far as possible shall provide benefits to the government and to agricultural equal to or greater than those set forth in H. R. 518.

And H. R. 518 was the famous bill of 1924 in which the house of representatives proposed to turn over Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford upon terms which would net the public not less than 6 cents on its invested dollar, terms which would flagrantly violate every essential provision of the federal power act, and terms whose interest rates were computed by the Norris committee in the senate as equivalent to a cash gift to Mr. Ford of $236,2450,000, with the affectionate admiration of a listless and bewildered public H. R. 518 was ultimately knocked into a cocked hat. Now it is proposed that Muscle Shoals be leased on terms which "so far as possible" provide benefits equivalent to the benefits of this discredited and discarded bill of 1924. It is small comfort to observe that the committee which is to do the negotiating must report back to congress. Why should congress commit itself in advance to acceptance of a lease whose public benefits are zero?

Surely a wiser course is for congress to set minimum terms which really do protect the public interest, instruct its negotiators to take nothing less, and announce that it is ready to fall back on public operation of Muscle Shoals if no satisfactory offer is forthcoming.

Has the moment passed when on any question relating to Muscle Shoals the senate is incapable of exercising ordinary common sense? We shall shortly have an answer. But it may be noted that the trouble with Muscle Shoals as a field for the display of common sense is this way: any old proposal which proposes "to do something quick" is likely to have behind it the support not only of administration senators who toe the line from force of habit but of a number of southern democrats who are committed to the notion that somehow Muscle Shoals will do something miraculous for the southern farmer.

In these circumstances, House Resolution No. 4 may be rushed through the senate, the senate in that case will accept responsibility for a measure which is as unnecessary as it is unwise—a slipshod, careless piece of legislation which flouts public trust and common sense.—N. Y. World.

State of North Carolina,
County of Pitt,
TO THE TAX PAYERS OF PITT COUNTY
You have made for yourselves a record as having paid taxes more promptly than the tax payers of any other county in the state... Dr. Brooks stated in the papers of the state last summer that Pitt County was the best governed county in the state, and that in his opinion the other counties would profit by instituting the same system. We are all real anxious to keep up the record we have made for ourselves. As sheriff I am unable to do so without your cooperation. Kindly see that your 1925 taxes are paid at once and save me the embarrassment of having to levy on your personal property. Thanking you for the courtesy of your attention, I am,
Very truly yours,

NEED A PERMIT TO ENJOY JOKE AT SYRACUSE U.

Quip Must Have Sanction Before Laugh Is Legal At Methodist University.

Syracuse, March 3.—(INS.)—Students at Syracuse University, a Methodist institution, may not laugh at a joke unless the quip has the official sanction of the university administration.

At least, that is the interpretation of students to the latest move of Chancellor Charles W. Flint, in naming the vice chancellor, William P. Graham, as official censor.

The censorship was imposed following three issues of the only humorous publication at the university, The Salt Shaker. Jokes about prohibition, about co-eds and those at the expense of the religious executives, are notable by their absence, in the latest issue of The Salt Shaker, which the chancellor has decreed shall be literary rather than humorous in the future.

The tale of alleged humorous publications at the Syracuse university has been a sad one. The Orange Peel, the best known of these publications, was suspended and banished by the late Chancellor James R. Ay. In the subsequent year, students, time and again, petitioned the administration to sanction a humorous publication, but each request was met with blunt and short refusal.

Then the students decided to start The Salt Shaker, without university approval. It was tolerated until the chancellor decided to shake the Salt Shaker, and in this process C. Albro Newton, one of the editors, found himself an ex-editor and many members of The Salt Shaker staff were back at their studies. Miss Mary Landenberg, it was announced, would thereafter be the sole editor.

She was called into conference with Chancellor Flint, who informed her that hereafter the vice chancellor would wield the blue pencil and scissors on all copy which was intended for publication. Furthermore, Miss Landenberg was informed, the future trend of The Salt Shaker should be to developing appreciation of literature rather than humor.

There is much doubt if the Salt Shaker will survive after the end of the present term, for literary publications at Syracuse university have died sudden deaths, from lack of support, and there is no publication at the institution which admits it aspires to development of literary appreciation.

The tired business man is usually the one who goes to the office at eleven and quits at three.—Mobile News - Item.

Familiar Faces Will Be Missing Next Ball Season

New York, Mar. 3.—(INS.)—Full many an honest countenance, its every furrow grown familiar through long and faithful usage, will have departed for the outer darkness with the coming of the 1926 major league season, never to return. The inevitable law of supply and demand has dealt the cards for the next hand and some of our most valued institutions are out of the pot.

A few weeks ago, Harry Hooper was given his unconditional release by the Chicago White Sox after sixteen seasons on the big time. He was one of the most famous outfielders of the modern generation and with Speaker and Lewis, formed the great Boston outfield that operated between 1910 and 1915.

Good as he was, Hooper's lone claim to honor was founded on his peculiar pose at the plate.

"The first time I saw Hooper bat, I laughed out loud," Ty Cobb once said. "But when he started to hit them, I stopped laughing. His hitting wasn't any comedy to the team on the field."

Now, Hooper has gone and of the old Red Sox trinity, only Speaker remains.

A more or less contemporaneous trio of equal merit was Cobb, Crawford and Veach, of Detroit. This too, shows only one survivor, Cobb and none other, Veach was given his release by the Washington Senators recently.

Another notable figure that is passing on to his reward, if any, is Hank Gowdy, hero of that wild 1914 world series and baseball's best known contribution to the World War. Hank will manage the Columbus club this season. Steve O'Neill, looked upon as the ranking catcher of 1920 and intermediate years, went on about his business, by request, during the course of the last American League campaign.

Recent news dispatches dealt with the fate of another pair who once knew great esteem. They were Dick Kerr and Harry "Nemo" Leibold, two of a small group of White Sox, who used their pillows exclusively for sleeping during the 1919 world series. Kerr, a victim of small time methods, was kept out of the game until he lost his ability and then was released by the White Sox. Leibold, who figured in the Hooper deal with Boston, was sent away by the Senators, having reached the end of his string.

Other veterans who have departed during the last twelve-month include Rube Benton, over whom a baseball was barely averted; Walter Holke, who figured passively in Heine Zimmerman's historic success in chasing Eddie Collins across the plate in the 1917 series; Jimmy Caveny Allen Russell brother of the famous or infamous Lefty first of the big money purchases; Louis Fonseca, Joe Schultz, Al Walters, Howard Shanks, Ernie Johnson, Mike McNally and Dave Danforth.

Everett Scott, holder of the consecutive game record, was about to follow, when rescued pro tem by the White Sox. Next?

No National Music Until We Suffer Says Gulbransen

Chicago, Mar. 3.—(INS.)—America has no music because America has always been successful in everything, declared A. G. Gulbransen, piano manufacturer, in an address here at an allied arts conference.

"Until this nation has learned humility from misfortune, it will take its music and all the rest of its art at second hand," said Mr. Gulbransen. "The nations which are great in music have had their national spirit fused into an articulate whole by tragedy."

Italy, France, Germany—all the nations in Continental Europe—have had their soil soaked many times with the blood of their sons and trampled deep with the heel marks of conquering armies. From their agonies have come their songs in which its most jubilant strains of triumph take color and contrast from the tragedy that it always presents in great art.

"America has no such color to give to music. Only one race among us has produced a real music of its own, and that is the negro whose suffering and humiliation have given him a voice. Our national contribution to music so far, is the negro spiritual."

"THE COMING OF AMOS" SURPASSES EXPECTATIONS

"The Coming of Amos," the Cecil B. DeMille supervised production starring Rod LaRoque, at White's Theatre for one day, gives a long looked for opportunity to give vent to a whole column of pure and unadulterated enthusiasm.

It has surpassed fondest expectations.

Rod LaRoque, in the leading role of "Amos" gives a performance worthy of his role and of the story, and has proven the trust which the great 'it of film-dom's producer, bestowed upon him in elevating him to stardom.

Jetta Goudal, featured as the beautiful Russian princess takes every advantage to make her brilliant and colorful screen personality felt in her slightest move and action. Noah Berry as he should be, could be, and more.

Under the admirable direction of Paul Sloane this story runs along over the vast and spreading wastes of an Australian sheep ranch: up and down the rav ways of the Riviera; in and out of beautiful mansions; along a path of love, hate, peril and intrigue.

It is old fashioned melodrama in a new and modern setting, adapted from the famous novel by William J. Locke, and heightened with the expert touches of showmanship from the hand of premier producer of film spectacles and a noted director of highly entertaining film stories.

STONE MOUNTAIN COIN

The sale of the Confederate Memorial Coin so far is not meeting with the success it should in our state. Many other states have bought their quotas, and our sister state, Virginia, took her quota a few days after the coin was released from the mint. Just why North Carolina lags behind in this most worthy cause is hard to understand.

The Daughters of the Confederacy wish to urge the people of Greenville and Pitt county to get these coins. All the banks have them, and the Daughters also are doing their part to get them before the public. The coin itself is a thing of beauty. Lee and Jackson on horseback adorn one side, with thirteen stars overhead. On the reverse side the eagle with outstretched wings, perched high on a rocky peak, and these words: "Memorial to the Valor of the Soldiers of the South," which in itself should be sufficient to cause every man, woman and child to want to possess one.

These coins will be withdrawn after the 15th of March. So, fathers and mothers, if you want them for your children, please get them at once.

TROOP ONE SCOUT NEWS

On Saturday night at 7 o'clock Troop One met at the Rotary club. The meeting was very interesting and enjoyed by all the boys. The feature of the meeting was an interesting debate on the query, "Resolved, That George Washington was a Better Scout Than Roosevelt."

The affirmative side was upheld by James B. James, Jr. and Edward Harris. The negative side was upheld by Wither, Harvey and Bruce Sugg. Both James and Harris had good debates and took each scout law and compared Washington to it. On the other hand Harvey and Sugg brought out almost equally as good points.

After discussing each side's points carefully the judges decided that the affirmative won.

She rolled her eyes to heaven and said, to her husband, "I only ask you, Spencer, what does it mean?" That's how Lady Cathcart must feel, when she tries to unravel our moral code.

The giver of New York's wild party, by the way, denies that the young lady bathed in the champagne. He says the bathtub was "only full of ginger ale."

Invitations to the party, however, one of which the writer read, stated quite plainly that "everything would be supplied, including the stretchers" which indicates that enjoyable time for all had been planned.

Bobbed Heads In Factories Reduce Number Accidents

Chicago, March 3.—(INS.)—Bobbed hair has cut the toll of industrial accidents among women workers in factories in the United States, 15 per cent in the last three years, according to Madame Berthe, a beauty specialist, in an address here. "The bob has been one of the greatest safety first measures ever introduced for women workers," said Madame Berthe. "Statistics of industrial accidents show that women who wore their hair long were in constant danger while bending over machines, coming into contact with electric fans and working on mechanical carriers. Even dressing the hair close to the head did not minimize the hazard. With the most universal adoption of the bob, which permits the hair to be tucked out of harm's way, accidents to women factory workers have been reduced almost one-sixth.

"Beauty experts agree that bobbed hair has been the most practical, common sense style innovation for women introduced in the last half century. Of the 2,000,000 women who are employed in industrial work in factories and shops in this country, 95 per cent or 1,900,000, have bobbed hair."

DAWES PLAN MANAGING OF GERMAN RAILWAYS IS CALLED EXTRAVAGANT

Berlin, March 3.—(INS.)—Charges of "extravagant expenditure" and "unbusiness-like administration" have been raised by the reichstag against the management of the German railways, which has become an independent board under the clause of the Dawes plan. The reichstag debate was caused by the management's refusal to accept knowledge arbitration in a dispute over wages with the railway men.

Deputies of all parties agreed that it was unbearable for the reich that the directors of the railways should consider themselves unbound by German legislative regulations and that they should have the privilege of drawing salaries exceeding that of other government employees of the same category by 50 per cent. Salaries of 42,000 marks annually and even 30,000 marks a year are unheard of for German officials.

President Oeser, of the German railways, refused the charge of extravagance, and said that the salaries were justified in view of an increased responsibility of individual directors.

LONG LEGS ARE SIGN OF BRAIN POWER

Chicago, Mar. 3.—(INS.)—Long legs are a sign of intellectuality, according to Miss Frances Martell, secretary of the American Cometicians Society, who advocates standardized beauty shops and State licensed beauty operators. "Any chance passerby can diagnose your personality," said Miss Martell in an address here. "If your legs are long and your trunk is relatively small you are an intellectual type cerning in extreme cases on the pure theorist and the dreamer. If your legs are short and your trunk is relatively large, you are of the emotional type, and are more skilled at manual labor than at brain work. If you are between these two types in bodily measurements, you are apt to be a blend of those characteristics."

Moving Picture Labor's Reward Is Being Shown

The picture was filmed for the American Federation of Labor and the North Carolina body is sponsoring its showing in this state.

On Thursday, March 4, it will be shown at Durham, and the following day at Salisbury. Saturday it will go to Mooresville, and on Monday, March 8, the picture will be at Winston-Salem. A day will then be skipped, the next showing being March 10 at Asheville.

Arrangements are under way for showing the picture at Wilmington, New Bern, Goldsboro, Raleigh, Greensboro, Charlotte, King's Mountain, Shelby and Hendersonville.

Pittsburgh's New Police Chief Makes His Cops Stylish

Pittsburgh, Mar. 3.—(INS.)—Thirty miles of steel mills are a fair advertisement for any city, Peter P. Walsh, superintendent of police, concedes, but the newly installed guardian of the peace in the "Steel City" has hit upon another medium of ballyhooing the town.

"By its cops shall Pittsburgh be known," was the slogan adopted by Walsh a few minutes after he had taken the oath to make the hilly Western Pennsylvania metropolis safe for its citizenry.

No sooner had the new police superintendent adjusted his epaulettes than the order went out from headquarters that the traffic patrolmen who fell shy of six feet in height must be transferred to the "beats."

Another order that when they went the rounds was that a cop should be neat, and above all, most courteous and respectful, and "stay on the job."

BRITISH WOMAN HAS FLAT IN LONDON BRIDGE ARCH

London, March 3.—(INS.)—The world's most picturesque home can no longer be claimed in a Shoe. It belongs today to Mrs. Avid Fraser, who lives in a flat in one of the arches of Tower Bridge, the famous hydraulic draw bridge flanking the Tower of London.

She enjoys the finest view in London, although the beauty of her situation is somewhat marred by the fact that she has to toil up nearly a hundred stairs to reach it.

Her flat consist of four fairly big rooms, with a huge room running the whole length of the arch, which she uses for drying her clothes, washing days. Not a sound from the busy roadway reaches her, due to the fact that the walls of her home are many feet thick.

Many American tourists ask permission to inspect Mrs. Fraser's quaint home.

LEAD METALS WERE READY FOR KERENSKY FLOORERS

Leningrad, Mar. 3.—(INS.)—Lead medals by the tens of thousands were in store for faithful followers of Kerensky. Countless nights of Suislar, Anna and Vladimir would have sported pewter decorations if the contents of thirty packing cases just discovered in the Winter Palace here had reached their destinations.

Soviet custodians of the Czar's property are just getting to the end of their inventory. Tucked away in the back of one warehouse was found a supply of decorations prepared by order of Kerensky in 1917.

It took two weeks to count the counterfeit medals. They will be assigned for use to theatrical and moving picture organizations.

BOND ST. CLOTHES SOLD IN U. S. ON MAIL ORDERS

London, Mar. 3.—(INS.)—Many Americans are now wearing Saville Row and Bond Street tailored clothes purchased on the semi-mail order system, according to representatives of the tailors of those fashionable and exclusive centers.

English firms are now doing a good deal of business with Americans through this system, it is stated. The practice is for the firms to send representatives to the United States to take measurements for suits and other clothes to be made in England and sent by mail.

Many firms have orders from Americans to deliver two suits a year by this system.
