THE FARMERS' REAL GRIEVANCE

Senator Borah has warned his colleagues that unless Congress passes farm-relief legislation now "something disastrous will happen next fall." This has revived the drooping spirits of the Corn Belt Committee, which for three weeks has been striving to interest the House in the program for removing surplus agricultural products from the domestic market. The drive for this sort of legislation, planned on such an elaborate scale at the beginning of the year, had practically petered out, mainly because the farmers' spokesmen could not agree as to what they really did want. The task of formulating the workable details of a bill proved a bigger job than they had expected.

The bill upon which the Corn Belt Committee finally agreed upon was so palpably designed to favor one particular agricultural section that the wheat belt would have none of it. The Administration, meanwhile, had come to the conclusion that no farm legislation was practicable during the remainder of the session and had omitted this from its program. Things therefore looked dark for the farm lobbyists until Senator Borah made his pronouncement and several of his colleagues backed him up. To turn to the Senate for help at this date, however, is a rather forlorn hope. Senator Wadsworth has admitted that farm relief is not on the program of the Senate Steering Committee, and this body is all-powerful in shaping the course of legislation.

The farmers have a grievance, but it is not with the Government for its failure to subsidize agriculture in the way provided by several bills before Congress. They have a grievance against the Government for subsidizing manufacturing at the expense of agriculture. Their real grievance is with the protective tariff. Equitable tariff revision is a remedy far simpler and far more practicable than anything which has yet been sponsored in the way of a subsidy to agriculture.—New York World.

A MEMORIAL TO WILSON

Czecho-Slovakian, Jugoslavian and Polish residents of Washington, D. C., recently assembled a fund of some $200,000 for the construction in Washington of a memorial to Woodrow Wilson. A sculptor whose name has not been revealed prepared a design. Both plan and design were submitted to the Commission of Fine Arts, and the commission rejected the design and disapproved the plan.

From published descriptions of the design, it would seem the commission was right in rejecting it. The commission of Fine Arts was constituted for the purpose of preventing the further construction of such atrocities as mar many of the otherwise beautiful spots in Washington. No matter how lofty the intent of those who sought to honor the memory of Mr. Wilson, no matter how earnest their purposes, if the form of memorial proposed was as bad as it is reported to be—or was bad at all, for that matter—the commission performed its duty in refusing to approve it.

Another ground on which the commission based its refusal cannot very well be defended in theory, however sound it may have been in practice. That ground was that a memorial to a President of the United States, to be placed in the nation's capital, should be a matter for Congress to pass upon and—if a reading between the lines is accurate—should be much more elaborate and of much more importance than the memorial proposed by those who want to honor the memory of Mr. Wilson for the part he played in bringing about the independence of the three nations.

In theory, it would seem, it is the duty of the commission of Fine Arts to pass only on the artistic merits or demerits of a monument or memorial structure, and not to consider any other aspects of a proposed memorial. In practice, however, it would be difficult to explain away the erection of an inadequate memorial to Woodrow Wilson in Washington itself, which during the World War, was pretty much the capital of the world. On the whole, then, the nation owes a debt of gratitude to the Commission of Fine Arts for its firmness.

When a monument to Woodrow Wilson is set up in Washington, it must be both flawless and on a grand scale.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Tapping a Rubber Tree on a U. S. Rubber Company Plantation
The United States Rubber Company now owns over 7,000,000 rubber trees—more than 5,000,000 of them are already producing rubber for U. S. Tires and 20,000 employees are engaged in caring for them.

Here are the Answers to Your Questions on the American Rubber Supply and Automobile Tires

Q—Where does America get its rubber?
A—The only important source of rubber for all the world is the rubber plantations in the Far Eastern possessions of Great Britain and Holland.

Q—Is America represented among the Far Eastern rubber planters?
A—Yes, the largest of all these Far Eastern plantations is owned and operated by the UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY.

Q—Do the United States Rubber Company Plantations produce any considerable quantity of rubber?
A—Yes, they produced 20,000,000 lbs. of rubber in 1925, and in the next few years the output will be increased about 75%.

Q—Then the growing of rubber by Americans for Americans is not a new thing?
A—No. In 1909, this company acquired their vast tracts of ideal rubber growing land in Sumatra and Malaya.

Q—How large are the U. S. Rubber Plantations today?
A—The U. S. Rubber Company Plantations now comprise about 136,000 acres, with over 7,000,000 rubber trees, sixty miles of narrow-gauge railway, and 200 miles of motor roads. They give employment to 20,000 people.

Q—What does all this mean to me as a buyer and user of United States Tires?
A—Probably so, in the course of time. For instance, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will probably yield 15 per cent more rubber in 1926 than in the past year.

Q—What is Latic-treated Web Cord?
A—This is the new cord structure for cord tires, combining maximum strength with maximum flexibility. Questions and Answers on Latic-treated Web Cord will be published shortly.

Q—What is Sprayed Rubber?
A—Sprayed Rubber is the new pure rubber. It is free from both acid and smoke. Questions and Answers on Sprayed Rubber will also be published at an early date.

Q—Will America ever be reasonably independent in its rubber supply?
A—Probably so, in the course of time. For instance, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will probably yield 15 per cent more rubber in 1926 than in the past year.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

San Francisco, Mar. 27.—(INS)—College co-ed, make good chorus girls, according to Mildred B. Markham, well-known coast dancing director, now a special student at the University of California.

"College girls are usually good looking, slender and graceful, which are the most essential attributes for a chorus girl," Miss Markham states.

With a good word said for the co-ed, it is in order to say something favorable, if possible, about her brother, the college youth.

Charles M. Jones, 31-years-old poster man of the University of California, furnishes both words and music.

"College men seem to get better looking as the year pass on," he said. "That's about the only change I have noticed about them in the seventeen years I have been on the California campus."

Short skirts may be perfectly proper for the young ladies of most vocations, but they are not quite the thing for school teachers—at least while they are teaching school—according to Joseph Marr Wynne, San Francisco's superintendent of public schools.

Gwynn refuses to state explicitly what he considers a discreet skirt length but, he says, "they should not be too high, up to the knee, or like that, you know."

"A school teacher should be nicely becomingly, practically dressed," Gwynn declared. "Her skirts shouldn't be too high."

Nothing prudish, mind you, but—practical and modestly in mode, he would have you understand.

A half dozen matrimonial experiences have just about satisfied Dr. Gabor Kingstone, the marrying fight referee. He had just announced his decision never again to marry or to referee a fight.

Capital punishment has no place in modern prison systems in the opinion of Gasparo Nicotri, professor of sociology at the University of Palermo in Sicily. Nicotri, world-famous as a criminologist, is visiting America for the purpose of studying American prison methods. He was a pupil of the great Cesare Lombroso, whose work marked an epoch in criminology. Lombroso first put forth the theory that the criminal is a special type of the human race and mid-way between the lunatic and the savage.

Offers Three Amendments to Edge Resolution

Washington, March 29.—(AP)—Three amendments to the Edge resolution proposing a nationwide referendum on prohibition were offered today by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, each in the form of a ballot.

These questions are:
 "Do you favor such an amendment to the constitution of the United States that would eliminate or wholly repeal the 18th amendment?"

"If you are in favor of amending the Volstead Act is it your desire, notwithstanding such an amendment, that the law remain so as to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages in the United States?"

"If you favor amending the Volstead Act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of light wine, and beer is it your understanding that such light wines and beer are to be limited in alcoholic contents as to be non-intoxicating?"

DREADFUL PAINS

Georgia Lady, Who Had Lost Too Much Weight, Was Advised to Take Cardui and Is Now Well.

Columbus, Ga.—Mrs. George S. Hunter, of this city, writes:

"After I married, thirteen months ago, I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during... My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house."

"I got very thin—I went from 125 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve."

"My side hurt less and I began to improve in health... The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all."

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."

Health Booster Be On Market At Early Date

Washington, Mar. 30.—(AP)—Medicinal beer comparable in alcoholic contents to the pre-prohibition beverage will be accessible to the public for the next six months at least.

The new "health booster," which Anheuser Busch, of St. Louis, and Palm Brewing Company, of Milwaukee, have been given permission to manufacture, is expected to be accessible to the public at drug stores about the time the Senate Judiciary Committee gets underway with its hearings on bills designed to release the old fashioned beverage from present Volstead law restrictions. The only restriction on sale of the malt tonic will be the number of cases drug stores may handle.

The kick lies in the alcoholic contents, put in warning that the tonic will not be good as a beverage instead of a tonic. As a result of the amount of malt solids in it, officials explained, excessive drinking will produce illness instead of intoxication.

INTERESTING EXHIBIT AT EXPOSITION

PALEFISH, March 29.—(AP)—The North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development will again cooperate with the Eastern Carolina Fair, to be held in Greenville, April 5 to 10, according to Major Wade H. Phillips, director. This fair, Major Phillips believes, has done much to stimulate trade and industry in Eastern North Carolina, and to improve methods of using that section's natural resources.

The department this year will have an exhibit at the fair, in which chief emphasis will be placed on forest fire prevention, re-forestation, and mineral resources, present in Eastern North Carolina and capable of being used in industry. There will also be examples of clay and other mineral products now being produced in Eastern North Carolina materials.

Interest in forestry in the eastern part of the state is increasing among the people in a satisfactory manner. It was stated at the department. The exhibit will show, among other things, it was said, an electrically operated transparency, depicting a forest fire, and realistic contrasts of living and burned over woods. There also will be shown a model of the lookout tower now adopted for use in spotting fires in the forest, and tools used in fire fighting, etc.

Also included in the exhibit will be interesting specimens and examples of the methods followed at the experimental forest nursery now being grown by the department on land owned by State College, where there is a recently established course in forestry.

are receiving all of their treatment at the clinic. In the clinic 7 plaster casts and 9 corrective shoes have been applied, while corrective exercises have been given to 5 and prosthetic appliances recommended for 3.

That this clinic is meeting a real need in providing orthopaedic treatment for the unfortunate cripples of this section is evidenced by the number reporting to the clinics and the wonderful improvements that are being obtained. Those in close touch with the clinic have expressed themselves as believing this to be the finest humanitarian work that has been undertaken in this section.

Orthopaedic Clinic Be Held Wilson, Apr. 2

Many crippled and handicapped residents of this county are availing themselves of the wonderful opportunity provided by the Ligon's Club Orthopaedic Clinic held on the first Friday of each month at the offices of the County Health and County Welfare Departments in the new Court house in Wilson. The next clinic will be held on Friday, April 2.

During the four clinics that have been held at Wilson, 96 examinations have been made. Dr. Hugh Thompson, the orthopaedic surgeon who is conducting the clinic, has recommended operations for 15 of these cases. Some of these cripples are undergoing operations at the present time in a hospital bed provided by the Kiwanis Club of Raleigh.

In addition to those who are having their deformities corrected by operations, several cripples

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Greenville Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of inold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Greenville resident.

Who could ask for a better example?

J. Frank Inkley, prop. warehouse, 106 Chestnut street, says: "Bending over had a tendency to weaken my kidneys and put my back in bad shape. I could hardly straighten after bending. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had no ambition. Doan's Pills relieved the backache and regulated my kidneys, making me feel better."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Brinkley added: "For the past several years I have been feeling fine. I gladly confirm my former statement praising Doan's." 60c. at all dealers, Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Your Health and Good Looks!

Why have nervous women used Dr. Pierce's remedies for half a century and still call for them? The answer is, "because they have stood the test, are all that they are claimed to be, pure vegetable remedies." Peculiarly adapted to woman's diseases is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which tones up the enfeebled system, makes the nerves steady, helps drive away backache or headache and rejuvenates run down and worn out women. Swift & Company 1926 Year Book

Romance in the Packing Business

A world of it! Swift & Company has issued its 1926 Year Book reviewing the industry. Not only the story of one year—1925—with its better prices for the livestock farmer, its advance in the science of preparing good foods and eliminating waste, its expansion of service—

But, fifty years of history! The western cattle trails and "cow towns" of the early '70s! The invention of refrigerator cars! The war of East and West when the first dressed meats were shipped across the continent!

And Realities of Today in the industry! The 1926 Year Book gives accounts of the growth of an industry that helps to feed and clothe the nation, and to fertilize its soil.

Here are the facts and figures that will interest you greatly. A copy of the Year Book will be sent promptly (free) upon receipt of your address.

Pleats

Were never so important

And the great Paris houses are using Pleats for Skirts, for Sleeves, for Panels—wherever, in short, they conveniently can. All kinds of pleats are important and Peggy Paige shows how smart they may be when a graceful slenderness is at the same time maintained.

Lace Lends An Old-World Charm

—particularly when it is combined with soft and sheer a fabric as Georgette. Just a suggestion of it, as on the Scarf and Sleeves of the charming Frock at the right, is enough to create a dignity, a graciousness that few other combinations afford.

And proves the affectiveness of this versatile Fabric in striking designs eminently suitable for easter—and after.

Gypsy Girdle

The defined hip-line preferred by Paris is more often than not obtained by fastening the girdle in front, gypsy-fashion—with a decorative buckle. The graceful flaring Skirt just follows naturally—and completes a line as flattering as it is new and smart.

"Have a Camel" No cigarette satisfies the taste like a Camel. HAVE a Camel, and let your taste be satisfied! Millions of experienced smokers just wouldn't buy or smoke any cigarettes but Camels. Camels are so different from other cigarettes. So glorious in flavor and fragrance. Because of their choice tobaccos and perfect blending, Camels are all pleasure, pure golden contentment. Nothing is omitted to make Camel quality the biggest sensation in the history of smoking. Camels give you the utmost in cigarette enjoyment. Right here you have the reason why Camel makes—and keeps—so many friends: Camels satisfy the taste as no other does. They never tire the taste or leave a cigarette after-taste no matter how freely you smoke them. And what a glowing contentment their goodness brings! Camels are the only cigarettes in the world that have the completely satisfying quality. For your taste's sake, demand them. Their pleasure-bringing goodness is your right. Have a Camel!

At the close of the pageant, Mr. W. H. Woolard, chairman of the Board of Education, made some brief remarks to the 7th grade children of Pitt county. He congratulated them upon being one of the lucky five that had come from the first grade through the seventh. He called their attention to the fact that in 1919 fifteen hundred children entered the first grade and should now be in the seventh grade, but there were only some 325 children now registered in the seventh grade.

President R. H. Wright briefly welcomed the citizens of Pitt county who had gathered together at the college for this county literary meet. He then presented to the audience, Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, of the State Board of Education. Dr. Highsmith made an attractive and far reaching plea to the Pitt county citizens who were present to increase the efficiency of the school system. He called attention to the fact that Pitt county is one of the fifty wealthiest counties in the entire United States and does not count educationally, that Pitt county ranks third in agricultural wealth in North Carolina and small inefficient schools, that stands sixty-fifth in furnishing there are only six other counties that pay as little money for the education of their rural children as does Pitt county.

He talked very forcefully concerning the problem of educating the rural children with a special emphasis upon the problem as it concerns Pitt county. "Because a child is born in the country, he said, there is no just reason why he should be forced to attend schools that are less efficient than the schools of our towns and cities."

TODAY (Continued from page 1) Atlantic in the other direction ever since he was born. His father married Miss Jerome, daughter of a rich American stock broker. European international trusts will help out a little. The British rubber trust, if it gets, will make enough money from America to pay the British war debt. While certain Protestant organizations in the United States seem to dread science and its teachings, as the devil is supposed to fear Holy water, the Catholic church does in science no more. Pope Pius in a public address, after reading a decree establishing miracles performed by the venerable Fournet, declared emphatically that "science instead of denying miracles, as many through ignorance believe, sets them off in an even clearer light and by even more convincing proof."

Shrinkage Is Shown in Value American Farm Washington, Mar. 30.—(AP)—A shrinkage in the value of American farm and farm building from $66,316,002,602 in 1920 to $45,546,528,759 in 1925 was estimated by the Department of Commerce today in a preliminary report on the latest agricultural census. The decrease amounts to a little more than 25 per cent.

Says America Should Abdicate Part Santa Claus Washington, March 30.—(AP)—The time has come for America to "abdicate the part of Santa Claus for Europe," Senator Howell, Republican, of Nebraska told the Senate today, in opposing ratification of the Italian Debt settlement. Every debt agreement recommended thus far by the American Debt Commission he said provides for the cancellation of the principal.

Takes Up Charges of Impeachment Against English Washington, March 30.—(AP)—The House today took up the formal charges of impeachment that its Judiciary Committee has brought against Federal Judge George W. English, of Illinois. An unusually large percentage of the House membership was present when Chairman Graham, of the Committee, called up the arguments for impeachment.
