EASTERN CAROLINA EXPOSITION OPENS

DIRECTS SCATHING INDICTMENT OF VOLSTEAD ACT

Senator Bruce Opening Case for Wets Declares Prohibition Has Debased Human Morals and Discredited Human Laws

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Prohibition has had no effect on the whole except that of blighting human happiness, debasing human morals and discrediting human laws, Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, said today in opening the case for the wets at public hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Appearing in support of his instituted amendment to permit Government manufacture and sale of liquors in those states or subdivisions which were wet before the ratification of the 18th amendment, Senator Bruce directed a scathing indictment of the Volstead act.

"The Volstead Act, he said, "has placed human happiness in more than one vital particular under the irritating and harassing domination of the sour corrosive and narrow minded puritanism, which does not hesitate to stave its enemy even to such innocent recreation as smoking and dancing. It has for the first time brought the church deeply into politics.

"It has established a settled commerce between the worthy and unworthy members of the community. It has created an underworld almost as thoroughly organized as the respectable world above it. It is responsible for the unprecedented phenomenon of thousands and thousands of reputable men and women, including ministers of the law itself, living in habitual disregard of constitution and law.

"It has fostered deceit, perjury, espionage, and tyranny in some of the meanest and most hateful aspects. It has lowered the prestige of the Federal Government. Asserting that "first of all is the extent to which the Federal Service has been debilitated by corruption hatched by it," he presented figures as to the number of men dismissed from the Federal enforcement unit for corruption, pointing to conviction of state and municipal police and declared that not even the coast guard had failed to escape "the contamination of prohibition."

Senator Bruce quoted official statistics to show the increased number of violations of law. They showed that arrests by Federal officers had mounted from 34,175 in 1921 to 62,747 in 1925 while reports from police chiefs in 12 cities recorded in practically every instance a steadily increasing number of arrests for drunkenness from year to year. Disagreeing with those who contend that the Federal Government had not sought to enforce the law ineffectively, he declared "that never in history of free institutions has any Government sought more pertinaciously to carry out a policy oblivious to a powerful sentiment than has the Federal Government in its relation to the Volstead Act."

Will Rogers, the world's greatest humorist, who will be the feature of today's program at the Eastern Carolina Exposition.

BYRD ARCTIC EXPEDITION LEAVES TODAY

Seeks New Land in Great Unexplored Portion of the Polar Region; On First Lap of Journey

New York, Apr. 5.—(AP)—The Byrd Arctic Expedition, which seeks new land in the great unexplored portion of the Polar region, leaves for Norway by steamship this afternoon on its first lap of the trip. This is the second of a half-dozen Arctic expeditions planned for this summer. Captain G. H. Wilkins, leader of another party, is now at Point Barrow, Alaska, having completed a five hundred mile flight from Fairbanks last Wednesday. The expedition leaves on the Chantier whose destination is Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, which will be the base of operations.

Commander Byrd, and the 40 members of the expeditions are confident of success. The triple object of the expedition is charting new land, furthering commercial aviation and the gathering of meteorological data. Incidentally, an attempt will be made to fly to the North Pole.

Chapman Before Board of Pardons

Wethersfield, Conn., April 4.—(AP)—Governor J. H. Trumbull called the State Board of Pardons into meeting today to pass upon the petition of Gerald Chapman who wants a life sentence instead of being hanged for murder at midnight tonight.

Governor Trumbull asked Wardon Scott to produce Chapman before the board of pardons, Frederick J. Groehl, Chapman's attorney was on hand with the witnesses and affidavits by which he hoped to obtain commutation.

This promises to be one of the best games of the season due to the keen rivalry of the two institutions. It is hoped that a large crowd of supporters will be on hand to help the boys.

MR. J. M. EDWARDS DIED LAST NIGHT

Funeral Services to Be Conducted Tuesday Afternoon, With Interment in Family Burying Ground

Mr. J. Mason Edwards, 39, died at his home near Cox's School House, Sunday night at 10:45 o'clock. Funeral services will be conducted from his late home Tuesday afternoon, with interment taking place in the family burying ground.

GERALD CHAPMAN WILL DIE SHORTLY AFTER MIDNIGHT

Will Be First Victim of New Hanging Machine Unless Sentence is Commuted

Wethersfield, Conn., Apr. 5.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman, the outlaw who shot a policeman to death when surprised while robbing a safe nearly two years ago, will be the first victim of Connecticut's new hanging machine, shortly after midnight unless pleas for commutation succeed.

The machine yanks a man to the ceiling and then gives him an additional jerk as he comes down. Chapman will walk down the stairs at six o'clock this evening and take his place in a cell next to the gallows room to await his appointment with death.

A new manilla rope hangs from the pulley in the center of the ceiling in the death chamber. From the pulley the rope leads into another room and to another pulley. At that end of the rope is a heavy sand bag. A tiger in the inside room releases the bag. A peep hole in the wall gives room for the executioner to see the signal given by the warden. Permission asked for Chapman to appear personally before the board of pardons today in a plea for commutation was refused by Governor Trumbull.

The Governor said he was taking no chances of Chapman escaping. The Governor refused to reprieve Chapman last week and the prisoner signed a plea for commutation Saturday when judges refused a new trial.

Wethersfield, Conn., April 5.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman, making his last fight for life today told his story to the board of pardons by permission of Governor Trumbull, who presided.

When he was called up the man rose from his seat and stood erect. He looked at the governor and his voice at first was indistinct. He did not show any sign of worry. Chapman said he had expected to say nothing and had not prepared anything, but he had heard some statements by prosecuting attorney Alcorn which he thought could not be overlooked.

"Mr. Alcorn said he would not protest my innocence. "I do not believe I would enter any protest which would be loud enough to be heard. "I feel that I must say something."

(Copyright 1926) League Alliances. The Country is O. K. The Spirit Trumpet. Chopping the Octopus. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Lloyd George says there is developed in the League of Nations a "Latin-Slav Alliance." Alliances among European nations, that led to the war of 1914, each alliance thinking itself stronger than the others, have now been transferred to the League of Nations.

The World Court is a branch of the League of Nations a back door to that institution, that is why the League of Nations invites the United States "to a World Court conference at Geneva."

The other day a cold wind struck little Wall Street lambs and some of them froze to death, at least their stock gambling accounts were frozen out. And then the fool said, "what is the matter with the country? its prosperity or with business. But there is a good deal the matter, always will be, with anybody that gambles and imagines that he can "beat the ticker."

Production of steel, which tells business conditions, continues to break records. The peak of production was reached in March, five per cent above the previous five months' average.

Crops are good, and even the leather market, that has been suffering since women stopped wearing leather on their feet is feeling better. Railroads are carrying tremendous loads of freight, the business ratio is good.

The terms in Lenoir and Brunswick are for one week each. Both are mixed terms. Judge W. M. Bond will preside at the Lenoir court, while Judge G. E. Midyette will go to Brunswick.

Mr. John Mayo, 70, died at his home near Bethel yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, following a week's illness from pneumonia. Funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with interment taking place in the family burying ground.

TWENTY SUPERIOR COURTS IN SESSION DURING THIS WEEK

Fourteen Terms Open Today and Six Terms Previously Opened Continue This Week

Raleigh, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Of the 20 Superior courts that will be in session in as many North Carolina counties this week, 14 opened this morning. The remaining six are terms previously opened, which continue this week.

M. K. Yount, of Hickory, has been named by Governor McLean as emergency judge to hold the two weeks term opening tomorrow in Montgomery county. He will preside in lieu of Judge T. D. Bryson, who has been relieved for the two weeks. The Montgomery term is for the trial of civil cases only, and will continue through this week.

In Mecklenburg county, emergency Judge C. C. Lyon will preside this week in lieu of Judge W. F. Harding, who opened the court a week ago. Judge Harding is relieved for this week. Judges Harding and P. A. McEroy were in exchange. As a result of the exchange, Judge McEroy will hold the two weeks civil term opening today in Buncombe.

Judges W. A. Devin and Romulo A. Nunn and T. B. Finley and A. M. Stack are in exchange. As a result, Judge Devin goes to Granville's county and Judge Nunn to Craven; and Judge Finley will hold court in Transylvania, with Judge Stack presiding in Stokes.

The term in Granville is for two weeks, with a mixed docket. That in Craven is for one week. It is for the trial of civil and jail cases. The one week term in Stokes is for the trial of civil cases only, while that in Transylvania is for two weeks, to be devoted to both the civil and criminal dockets.

Judge H. A. Grady will hold court in Beaufort. The term is for one week, to be devoted exclusively to the civil docket. In Wayne, Judge N. A. Sincclair will preside over a two weeks civil term.

Paris chauffeurs are training as linguists. Paris, Apr. 5.—(INS)—The polyglot chauffeur is back on the boulevards. Little square cardboard signs are now hanging in some few cabs announcing the number of languages spoken or understood by the driver.

PORTO RICO TAKES THE LEAD

If by the establishment of an Institute of Inter-American Relations the University of Porto Rico helps in strengthening the ties by which the countries of the Western Hemisphere are bound together, it will perform a most important service. The road to more sympathetic understanding lies through closer acquaintance and sounder information. It remains true that in spite of commercial and diplomatic dealings the United States is singularly remote from its Latin-American neighbors. We are separated from them by barriers of race and language even more than by distance. We do not really know them or their people. We are not brought enough into contact with them to keep them within our range of vision. Our interest in them too often arises from mistaken notions collected at random. Take the case of Porto Rico alone as an instance. For over a quarter of a century it has been one of the insular possessions acquired from Spain. How much is generally known throughout the United States of the Porto Ricans' problems, political, economic and cultural? Next to nothing. We as a nation are responsible for their well-being, their protection, their progress, but even at the hands of official Washington they have cause to complain of neglect. If where plain duty bids Americans keep intelligently informed they fall so far short, among Latin-Americans further afield they are more at fault. It will be well if some day we come to realize that they are something more than holders of territory desirable for oil exploitation. Then we may deserve their lasting friendship.—N. Y. World.

Alabama Will Hold Satsuma Festival

Mobile, Ala., April 5.—(INS)—What the peach blossom festival is to the peach and the apple blossom celebration is to Virginia, the satsuma festival will be to Alabama. This year's gigantic celebration will surpass in splendor last year's event and will assure the observance of the festa annually, helping to exploit the satsuma industry in this section, it is said. A pageant depicting the stages of satsuma growth and its history in this country will be one of the features of the day's celebration here April 9. Scenes showing the satsumas in China, then in Japan, where they were transplanted, and finally in America, where the industry is now becoming important will be part of the spectacle. The celebration will open with a parade through the streets of Mobile, each automobile representing a satsuma-growing locality of the state. After this an address will be made by a local speaker, who will trace the history of the development of the industry in Alabama. In the afternoon a motorcade will visit the satsuma orchards, where these odd oranges are ripening. The king and queen of Satsumaland will then be crowned and will rule over the celebration, which will come to a climax at night with a masked ball at the wharf auditorium.

Tales Buried Gold Brings Diggers to Mississippi City

Pascagoula, Miss., Apr. 5.—(INS)—Tales of buried pirate gold along the shores of the Mississippi Sound, once the haunt of Lafitte and his men, are being told here following the discovery that treasure hunters have been along the shores east of here, leaving marks of their visit in the shape of large excavations on the site of the old John B. Garrett place on the beach. These "diggings" have been going on at intervals for the past few years, but no one has ever reported seeing the mysterious diggers. The fortune seekers come and go by night, it is said, and it was only an accident that signs of their activity were found. A sentinel-like oak, strangely shaped in its century of age, and standing some distance from the shore, apparently is the guide post for the nocturnal treasure hunters. After the land was cleared the excavations, some five and six feet deep, were discovered near this moss-festooned oak. A number of deep holes were found a'round. As some of them had grown up in grass and brush, and other, showed signs of recent digging, it is believed that the gold hunt began several years ago. One theory is that the gnarled oak is the key to the whereabouts of the hidden treasure that is indicated in a map, or chart handed down from some pirate of old. Others are of the opinion that John B. Chastant or some of his heirs buried the gold and died without telling where it was hidden. Excavations left by the treasure hunters were found when the west half of the old Chastant homestead was sold, and anticipating a demand for the property, the new owners had the premises cleaned up, cutting away the undergrowth and clearing away the debris.

Starlings Slow Up and Speed Up Union Sta. Clock

Fitchburg, Mass., April 5.—(INS)—Not satisfied with being just an ordinary timepiece, the clock on the Union station here has gone "cuckoo." The station clock recently had been acting very queer. Train riders would look at it and break into a run for the station, only to find that their train was not due for ten minutes or so. The next time they would take it for granted the time piece was fast—and it would be right, and they would lose their train. But the mystery has been solved. It was discovered that a flock of starlings had perched themselves on the minute hand of the clock and appointed themselves the official "cuckoos." By perching on the minute hand while it was approximately parallel, the birds had caused the hand to move faster than usual, setting the time piece ahead.

Colorado Women In Fight For A Seat in Congress

By M. P. DACEY.
INS—Staff Correspondent
Denver, April 5.—A congresswoman from Colorado! This is the political battlecry of the National Woman's party, sounded here during the recent visit of representatives of the equal rights organization in this city.

Miss Margaret Whittemore, of Santa Barbara, Calif., vice-president of the National Woman's party, accompanied by the "brother" executive secretary of the organization, Miss Mabel Vernon, of Wilmington, Del., and two state leaders from Colorado Springs—Dr. Caroline K. Spencer and Mrs. Lawrence T. Gray—were the first group to be the campaign to elect a woman to congress in Colorado when they addressed several audiences here on "equal rights for women," including a radio talk from a local broadcasting station. "A fitting phase of Colorado's golden jubilee celebration this year," Miss Vernon declared, "would be to send a woman to congress from the state that boasts of being one of the first to grant equal suffrage."

Miss Vernon pointed out that, despite the fact that Colorado granted women the right to vote many years ago, the state has never elected a woman to any major political office. "We are determined, however," Miss Vernon added, "that not only Colorado, but every state in the union, shall award a goodly share of major national elective and appointive offices to women. The National Woman's party is concentrating every effort on sending more women to congress in 1928. And the party is nonpartisan, not being particularly interested in the advancement of any one of the major political parties."

Miss Vernon announced that conferences were held here with "several outstanding figures among the women of Colorado," with a view to selecting a candidate for congress and other offices. "Within a short time," she said, "I believe several women will announce their candidacies."

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

By H. R. Knickerbocker
INS Staff Correspondent
Moscow, Apr. 5.—Soviet Russia is anything but a tourist center. Its only rivals for scantiness of foreign visitors are Afghanistan and Tibet. During the twelve months of 1925, exactly 1,664 foreigners entered the Soviet Union, according to official figures, and 1,668 of these were delegations of workers from European countries, invited by the government for propaganda purposes.

Thus there were but 585 ordinary "bourgeois" visitors. Of this number 113 were Americans.

This means that the vast territories of the Soviet Union entertained during a whole year about as many visitors as tiny Belgium receives in a week. More Americans reach Paris in one day than reach Moscow in twelve months.

A clog lab kept on Moscow hotels during the last ten months revealed but four Americans who might possibly be considered as tourists. The other Americans were business men, journalists, or teachers.

The size of Moscow's diplomatic colony may be judged by the fact that but sixty-seven official representatives of foreign governments entered the Soviet Union during 1925.

Germany with 122 visitors had nine more than the United States

The average stay of foreigners in the Soviet Union is about three weeks. Those who come to do business with the concessions committee either give up at the end of that time, or settle down for a siege of months.

Moscow's American colony is probably smaller than that of any other foreign capital in the world. The number of American residents residing here more or less permanently varies, but seldom rises above twenty. This does not count the many former Americans who returned to their native land after the revolution and have become Soviet citizens. The number of these former exiles is considerable, but beyond the reach of an accurate check-up.

Of the little handful of American residents, one-half are newspaper correspondents and their families. Two are Y. M. C. A.

workers, three are Quaker nurses, one is a Mennonite leader, two are concessionaires and one is a professor studying Russian history.

Any American planning to come to Russia for anything like a lengthy stay would do well to stock up completely on clothing and all articles of personal use. Moscow clothing prices are fantastic and the quality very low. Once inside the country, the prohibitive tariff makes it virtually impossible to have anything sent in from abroad.

One hopeful American ordered three suits of pajamas and a suit of underwear sent from Germany. He was presented with a customs bill of $50, almost twice the cost of the goods. Two dollars was the tax on the first suit of pajamas and another $2 for the underwear, but the two extra suits of pajamas were taxed $20 each. The theory is that no normal human being needs more than one suit of underwear or one pair of pajamas in Russia.

The sky-high tariff is reflected in sky-high domestic prices. A suit of clothes which would cost $25 in America, and be considered a poor bargain at that, costs from $100 to $125 here.

olina of the Wilson Birthplace Memorial movement.

Chairman Allen stated further that he felt confident North Carolina would raise the $50,000 assigned to her for the Memorial, and that the many friends and admirers of Woodrow Wilson in this state would welcome the opportunity to share in this tribute to him. A chairman has been appointed for each county in the state, who will have charge of the canvass in his community and everyone will have an opportunity to contribute.

was recommending an average of four changes a year in tariff duties at a cost of $700,000 to $800,000 a year to the American people.

Tennessee Invites Coolidge for His Summer's Rest

Knoxville, Tenn., Apr. 5.—(INS)—Eastern Tennessee is another section of the country making a strong bid for President Coolidge's summer rest period.

A movement led by W. P. Davis, president of the Great Smoky Mountains Conservation Association, is on foot here to bring the President to Tennessee and the Great Smoky Mountains for his vacation. Davis has written a personal letter to the Chief Executive, urging him to visit the South and spend several weeks on or near the site of the proposed national park.

The Birthplace Memorial embraces three features, the central one being the house in which Woodrow Wilson was born, in Staunton, Virginia. In connection with this shrine, the chapel in which he was baptized and in which his father preached, for more than fifty years, the property of Mary Baldwin College, will be restored to its original form, and a Wilson Memorial Hall will be erected on the campus of the College.

The Ward Food Products Corporation, called a "making trust" is ordered to dissolve within thirty days. If that doesn't hurt the Ward concern more than its "official dissolution" hurt Standard Oil, the Ward company won't be hurt much.

Gimmie Girls, Dumbbell Cuties, Taking Back Seat

Knoxville, Tenn., Apr. 5.—(INS)—New standards of feminine beauty are being developed along with the more individualistic type of women, sounding the death knell to blonde, with baby doll stares, the seductive, slit-eyed brunettes and sophisticated flappers.

The new beauty will have an indefinable, individualistic charm evolved by altruistic self-expression.

The woman of the future, economically independent and socially free, and thus enabled to express herself will not only develop a more mental and spiritual type of beauty, but also will run less to a standardized form.

Such is the belief of Mrs. Gertrude Steele Chambers, New York psychoanalyst, who declares that happier homes than those of the past will result from the greater self-expression of woman.

Woman's economic and social repression throughout the ages has resulted in her working to the achievement of certain man-made standards of beauty, the lecturer points out, and this has been responsible for the "parasite wife," the "gimmie girls," and the "dumbbell cuties," she said.

On Thursday he will open a flying service from Genoa to Rome, Naples and Palermo.

Attacks Matter of Obtaining Production Costs

Washington, Apr. 5.—(AP)—The matter of obtaining production costs by the Tariff Commission recommending changes in rates, was attacked today by Commissioner Dennis, Democrat, before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"Figures produced by the staff experts in the butter investigation would indicate that the farmers of this country were selling butter at less than the cost of production," he said. "There was something wrong with the calculation as it is known that the Dairy Industry is the best paying branch of farming."

He did not believe staff experts should be sent abroad and if they were they should not be permitted to do things that a foreigner in this country would not be allowed to do.

"I believe a very great harm is being done our national life," he added, "by ill-considered recommendation on tariff duties based simply on matched production costs."

"What caused the long delay in submitting the butter report?" asked chairman Robinson. "It is another illustration of the inability of the commission to get things done," the witness said. "The statute could be made workable if it was administered by the right kind of men."

He declared the commission

Canvass Will Be Conducted for Wilson Memorial

Raleigh, Apr. 5.—The two weeks from April 15th to 30th have been set apart as the time at which the canvass will be conducted throughout North Carolina for the Woodrow Wilson Birthplace Memorial, to be established at his native place, Staunton, Va.

This announcement was made today from State headquarters at Raleigh, by Dr. A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the chairman for North Carolina.

Floors that harmonize with the fittings and decorations of a room are easily obtained with Pee Gee Floor Enamel. You can be sure that a floor so covered will withstand hard wear and a great many washings before it begins to show signs of use.

The Pee Gee label would not be on a paint product unless it was known that that product was qualified to meet the most severe tests—your only problem is to SELECT THE COLOR and we'll help you with that.

material trumpet will, without surprise, learn that the medium himself was the trumpet blower. Good Sir Arthur, intensely surprised, has "exposed the medium." But he still believes in spirits, believes that souls escaped from this earth spend their time in another world sending back foolish messages. The human mind craves, wonders, will manufacture them, if necessary, and deceives itself easily.

The Ward Food Products Corporation, called a "making trust" is ordered to dissolve within thirty days. If that doesn't hurt the Ward concern more than its "official dissolution" hurt Standard Oil, the Ward company won't be hurt much.

When the Standard Oil "octopus" was chopped into little pieces, it was worth about one thousand millions. Now each piece is in the octopus business on its own account, and the total value of the pieces is five times as great as that of the original old octopus.

Fortunately there can't be a real heaping trust. Any woman can buy a bag of flour to make her own bread, if she wants to. She usually doesn't want to.

Mussolini, forever active, finishes what he begins. Having announced that Italy "must expand through the air," Mussolini now inaugurates a new flying line between Trieste and Turin, two great Italian industrial shipping centers.

On Thursday he will open a flying service from Genoa to Rome, Naples and Palermo.

A little later, Italian airships will fly regularly from Rome to Constantinople via Athens. Magnificent hydroplanes will make the flight from Brindisi to Constantinople in twelve hours, including a two hours' stop at Athens.

Over the waters once travelled by slow Roman galleys and semi-piratical phoenician ships will fly the airships of modern Italy.

We might use a Mussolini or two, under constitutional limitations, of course, in this country.

Serious rioting in Calcutta yesterday. Hindus and Mohammedans attacking each other setting fire to shops. Mohammedans destroyed a Hindu temple "desecrating the idol." Hindus set fire to a large Mohammedan mosque.

The British who rule 300,000,000 Asiatics in that part of the world: only 100,000 Englishmen in India, bossing the 300,000,000 patrol the streets with machine guns. And at home in the tight little British Island, the Government smiles. Asiatic Mohammedans fight Asiatic Hindus, while the British "nordics" rule and collect the taxes.

In that situation lies the safety of Europe, face to face with the rapidly increasing hundreds of millions in Asia. The Asiatics, ACTIVELY HATE EACH OTHER while Europe is only half rival to them. This might go on forever, while race and religious hatreds keep the Asiatics at war.
