Recommends Few Improvements at County Home and Reports Jail and Convict Camps in Good Condition

To The Honorable R. A. Nunn, Judge Presiding:

We, the Grand Jury for the April Term of Pitt Superior Court, beg to submit the following report:

First, We have passed on all bills presented to us and same have been submitted to the County Commissioner, for his signature.

Second, We have inspected the various offices, namely, Sheriff's Office, Clerk of Court, Register of Deeds, Treasurer, Auditor, Welfare, and found all in excellent condition.

Third, We have visited the county jail, and found same in good condition and inmates well cared for.

Fourth, We have visited the county home, and found it in good condition excepting some repairs to porch, which was recommended by the Grand Jury for the January Term, and in which we heartily concur. In addition to these repairs, we recommend that plastering on walls and ceiling be patched and renovated. We have been advised that contract for lights from Greenville has been let and we want to commend the County Commissioner, for this action.

Fifth, We visited the convict camps, and found it to be in splendid condition, the inmates well cared for and doing good work.

Sixth, We wish to thank Your Honor and Court officials for their courtesy to us during this term as Grand Jurors.

Respectfully submitted,
F. F. Cox, Foreman

What Price Stardom?

Chosen from a dramatic academy to take the star role of a Broadway play, Miss Justine Johnstone had a remarkable career in her grasp—and then she was suddenly discharged just as the play opened, and the name of another went up in bright lights. Suing to restrain any other actress from playing her role, she declared a new "angel," backing the show with his money, had demanded the star part for another actress.

STUDENTS ENJOY AMERICAN FOREST WEEK PROGRAM

Program Featured By Pictures, Dealing With Forest Protection and Addresses by Forest Warden and District Forester

In connection with the observance of American Forest Week, the student of the Greenville High School and the Graded school were given an opportunity to see several reels of motion picture, dealing with lumbering, utilization and protection of forestry.

The pictures, which were presented under the direction of the State Department of Conservation and Development, Division of Forestry, as part of their educational program, brought out particularly the necessity of keeping fire out of the woods.

Chas. H. Flory, District Forester, with headquarters at New Bern, and S. M. Jones, Pitt County Forest Warden, Bethel, gave addresses to the pupils.

Mr. Flory pointed out that only one-fifth of the original forests of the United States remain to be cut over and then we must rely entirely on second growth forest, which is far inferior to the former. The South today still furnishes 45 per cent of the lumber used in the United States but these timberlands are being cut over rapidly and that with the vast area burned over by fires each year, is meaning early destruction of the forests of the South.

Mr. Jones explained the organization started in Pitt county for the protection of the forests from fire. He said that this spring the fire wardens have handled fires that burned over about 2000 acres and that then timely arrival on these fires saved many more thousands of acres.

The fires were caused entirely by the carelessness on the part of individuals and the total damage in these cases amounted to more than $10,000.

The spring fire season is now at its worst and exceptional care is asked of everyone with fire in the woods, and especially to report all forest fires to your nearest warden in your locality.

Help to prevent forest fires.

Situation Appears to Be More Muddled Than Ever Today With Pressure Increasing for Action

Washington, Apr. 23.—(AP)—The House Agriculture Committee voted today to amend the Haugen Farm Relief Bill by deferring for two year the imposition of an equalization fee on basic agricultural commodities to be used to stabilize prices. Chairman Haugen announced that it also had been agreed to increase a revolving fund in his bill from $250,000,000 to $350,000,000.

That the measure as amended in agricultural price, would be maintained at the world market quotation plus the import tariff on each product. This would be accomplished the first two years by the revolving fund which would come out of the Treasury. At the end of two years, the equalization fee would be levied automatically on the first sale of wheat, cotton, corn, cattle, and swine.

Washington, Apr. 23.—(AP)—The Farm Relief situation appeared to be more muddled than ever today with pressure increasing for some action to solve the surplus problem before Congress adjourns.

The House Agriculture Committee has practically decided to put the problem up to the House as a whole by reporting three different proposals without recommendation, but some Republican members were not inclined to look with favor upon such an unprecedented procedure.

The committee also has developed a row within itself over one of these bills—The Haugen measure, to carry out the corn belt plan, including assessment of the equalization fee on basic commodities to provide for handling of surpluses. When chairman Haugen agreed to accept a suggestion by Representative Andresen, Republican of Minnesota, at a meeting last night that the equalization fee be deferred for two years, it soon broke up in an uproar and a decision on this point was deferred.

Senator Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, meanwhile has sent out to get a place for farm relief on the legislative program of his chamber. The present program, he was told yesterday by Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the Republican leader, does not contain such a provision merely because no legislation had been reported by the Agriculture Committee when it was drawn up, but several relief proposals have since been approved. Chairman Watson, of the Interstate Commerce Committee, assured him that he favored action on farm relief before adjournment.

If the committee's plan to submit three measures is carried out it is regarded as possible that any or all of numerous measures for farm relief might be brought up for a vote of the entire membership.

Henry Ford says "if the worker is to be able to buy what he makes the large corporation is inevitable."

Only a very BIG concern can produce automobiles, shoes, clothing, gasoline, within reach of a workman's wages.

In old days the man that made good shoes or clothing couldn't afford either. When the rich man was clothed and shod, demand ceased.

Henry Ford sells three million cars a year, at a price that every one of his 600,000 working people can afford.

That's what you call perfected industry.

Before he finishes his article's, Henry Ford undoubtedly will prove his consciousness of the fact that man cannot live by bread alone, or be thoroughly happy, even in a cheap automobile.

What does Ford suggest for THE SPIRIT OF MAN? How would he satisfy the longings, aspirations, ambitions, so beautiful in youth, that die out as years pass. Putting the whole world on four wheels instead of two legs would not amount to much if that were all.

Ford at least pays, good wages, which is the beginning of a better spiritual life. He enables the whole world to look at the fields, the trees and the sky. Unfortunately the whole world usually keeps the top up, which is like walking in a cathedral under an open umbrella. Of twenty millions that own automobiles in the United States, a majority see about as much of the sky as they would living in a cellar.

The Supreme Court decides (and the public approves) that "wives and children of altar stergymen may be admitted to the United States as non-quota immigrants." Immigration laws do not apply to them. But why should immigration laws separate ANY husband and father from his wife and children? The decision in favor of clergyman is made because of respect for religion. Why not show greater respect for religion, by teaching by not separating any father from his children, any husband from his wife?

FIGHTS WAY TO SAFETY THROUGH FOREST FIRES

Malcom Bullard, Fights Way to Safety Trapped in Woods, Suffers Severe Burns When He Fights His Way to Safety

Fayetteville, N. C., April 23.—(AP)—Trapped in the woods near here by forest fires Malcolm Bullard, 25, yesterday afternoon fought his way through the flames to safety. Today he lies in a local hospital suffering from severe but not fatal burns.

Bullard was gathering fire wood in the forest a few miles from Fayetteville some distance off the Raleigh road. Becoming absorbed in his work he did not note the near approach of the flames, which had been burning in that section all day, and when he realized his predicament he was virtually surrounded by burning woods.

Abandoning his automobile truck he fought his way through the burning forest four miles to safety. At the hospital today it was said he was severely burned about the head and face, but it was probable his eyes would not be permanently affected though his face will bear permanent scars.

Washington, Apr. 23.—(AP)—Declaring it is impossible under present conditions to elect able men to office in this great city because of the prohibition controversy, Mayor Dever, of Chicago, told the Senate Prohibition Committee today that he hoped the day would come when a different situation would obtain.

After saying that in some Chicago wards men could not be elected to the city council if they had the timidity to declare in favor of prohibition, while in others the opposite was the case, with the result all able men were kept out of public offices, the Mayor continued.

"It is a grave matter for this committee to ponder whether we are going to continue a system that has this effect on the great cities of the country. This is the first time I have spoken on this subject, and I speak now after mature deliberation.

"I am hoping that the day will come when we can be relieved of this situation. There is a crying need to look after other activities of the Government, but we must give too much time to this prohibition question. I find myself

LIGHTNING FAST PLOT IN NEW WESTERN

Fred Thomson and Silver King! That is enough of an announcement to call forth hordes of movie fans; but when the famous western start and his beautiful horse appear in such a picture as "Ridin' the Wind," which comes to White's Theatre, tomorrow, it is a particularly auspicious occasion.

Master and mount are 'Greater Movie Week' in themselves, and Marion Jackson has written a lightning-fast plot for them, replete with the most laughable incidents. The comedy is even more uproarious than in his preceding F. B. O. successes, and Thomson has long had a reputation to uphold comedy that is an enviable one. Silver King displays his wonderful intelligence in many new and surprising ways.

Historical Pictures Are Possessed of Long Life Now

Hollywood, Apr. 23.—(AP)—Time does not dim interesting chapters of history. Consequently the motion picture based in part at least on some crucial moment of world evolution is capable of sustaining interest a long period.

This is the judgment of Jesse L. Lasky, in charge of Paramount production. He finds that history is one of the richest sources for material from which successful pictures may be made. Although the present trend is toward subjects of international interest one typically American can hold the public interest for an indefinite period, if it be based on the more vivid chapters of the nation's history.

Utting the "Covered Wagon" as an example, he pointed out that it is still booking and making money wherever shown. Ten or twenty years will not dim its popularity.

"Pictures for the most part, which deal with modern problems, are in the theatres today and on the shelves tomorrow. Take the 'Ten Commandments,' it is history—biblical history. This spectacle has established records in the theatre, the world over."

GREENVILLE COMMUNITY PLAYERS

Dear Mr. Editor:
I read with much pleasure the announcement in your columns of the organization of the Greenville Community Players. I believe such an organization will enrich our commercial life, and will provide a splendid opportunity for the culture of self-expression on the part of our young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Triplett, who head the organization, are professionals of fine type. They are thorough-going Christians who will maintain a high standard in the kind of plays produced. I sincerely hope that the general public will support this movement with generous patronage and make it a success from the outset. It should become one of the most popular attractions of our city.

Yours truly

THE CRUCIAL DAY

June 5th
On that day, candidates for the various offices will be nominated. Nomination is about equal to election. Therefore, all patriotic men and women should be sure to vote in the Primary. Failure to do so without the very best reason, would be a betrayal of one of the most sacred trusts of citizenship.

An indispensable qualification for voting in the Primary, as well as in the General election, is proper registration. By all means see that you are properly registered in the Primary.

Then, too, we should scrutinize with the greatest possible care, the record of every candidate. A red-blooded man or woman, who loves home, community and state and stands for the due enforcement of the law and maintenance of good order, will not support any candidate whose record is TAINTED; but will do every thing possible to defeat such an one. To do less would be worse than throwing our bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked boys and girls into a menagerie of wild animals and have their bodies torn to atoms.

Where there are five or six candidates for the same office it might be well to nose around a bit to see how many are running of their own volition and how many have been put up by some tricky politician, in order to pull votes away from his REAL OP-PONENT.

Mothers, wives, sisters, men, do your duty. We appeal especially to our good women to exercise their suffrage. It is a sacred, a very sacred right. Use it for the good of humanity.

The registration books for the Primary will be open about the first of May and remain open for 30 days.

Praises Pitt County's Home Dem. Department

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP
At the Parent-Teacher meeting last week Miss Ferguson, who is Pitt county's Home Demonstration Agent, talked of the campaign for better kitchens which she expects to carry on this spring. Truly Miss Ferguson if every woman did, is working a good work among us.

In Alabama, Miss Ferguson said, a very impertinent questionnaire was sent to a thousand or more farm women, a questionnaire in which were questions of very personal nature: "If you could have one thing to make your work lighter, what would that one thing be?" "If you had a hundred dollars to spend as you liked, what would you do with it?" "If you could have just one thing for your house, what would that one thing be?"—and others of similar nature.

In the answer to these particular three questions was found an amazing similarity: "If I had a hundred dollars to spend, I'd spend it for water works." "If I could have one thing to lighten my work, I'd have water in my kitchen; "I could add just one thing to my house it would be a water system. "Between the lines of these answered questions there is written a tragic story, a story not peculiar to Alabama, but to other farm women as well. It is the story of thousands of women, who, from youth on up, through feeble old age, walk out to the well for a bucket of water and walk back to the kitchen again; out to the pump for a bucket of water and back to the kitchen again; in heat of summer and cold of winter, walk out to the well for a bucket of water and back to the kitchen again. And this is why Miss Ferguson, who has added to her wisdom, understanding, will stress, in her campaign for better kitchens, the importance of water supply. The water for the average perseeded the old, inefficient tools. But still the farmer's wife walks out to the pump, and walks wearily back with her bucket.

In all North Carolina there can be found no women, who are doing their share of hard, honest work more faithfully than farmers' wives—all classes of people being considered. But as yet their faithfulness has known little reward, insofar as lightening the unnecessary burdens that fill their daily lives is concerned.

Miss Ferguson does not advocate the installing of elaborate water systems, for she is a practical person, and she knows that a pump and a sink in her kitchen would answer many a woman's prayer, as well as add years to her life. There once was an old woman whose idea of Heaven was a big rocking-chair out in a big broad field with no one near to bother her—and I doubt not that there are Pitt county women to whom a convenient pump in the kitchen would seem a bit of Heaven on Earth. The reason for the present situation, Miss Ferguson, is the fault of the women as well as the men, for the women will never ask for these things, and the men just never think of them. I bid God-speed to the Better Kitchen Campaign; may it hasten the day when women shall ask for the things they need, and when men shall not only think on these things, but remember that thinking is not enough, for "happy are ye if ye do them."

Mellon Opposes Further Coinage of Memorial Money

Washington, Apr. 23.—(AP)—Further authorizations for the coinage of special commemorative or memorial coins is opposed by Secretary Mellon.

In a letter to Congress the Secretary has protested that government money should not be commercialized by non-government agencies who have been allowed to seel the special coins at increased prices.

Two new coins will appear this year, on memorializing the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition to be held at Philadelphia and one for the celebration of the Bennington, Vermont, Battle. The former will bear a design of President Coolidge. This is the first time that a coin will be made bearing the likeness of a living President.

In all instances where non-government organizations have been allowed special coins the enterprise has resulted in failure from a commercial standpoint, Mr. Mellon told Congress. The increasing variety in the coins also opens the way to counterfeiting, he said.

GREENVILLE COMMUNITY PLAYERS

Dear Mr. Editor:
I read with much pleasure the announcement in your columns of the organization of the Greenville Community Players. I believe such an organization will enrich our commercial life, and will provide a splendid opportunity for the culture of self-expression on the part of our young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Triplett, who head the organization, are professionals of fine type. They are thorough-going Christians who will maintain a high standard in the kind of plays produced. I sincerely hope that the general public will support this movement with generous patronage and make it a success from the outset. It should become one of the most popular attractions of our city.

Yours truly,
"PRO BONO PUBLICO"

THE CRUCIAL DAY

June 5th
On that day, candidates for the various offices will be nominated. Nomination is about equal to election. Therefore, all patriotic men and women should be sure to vote in the Primary. Failure to do so without the very best reason, would be a betrayal of one of the most sacred trusts of citizenship.

An indispensable qualification for voting in the Primary, as well as in the General election, is proper registration. By all means see that you are properly registered for the Primary.

Then, too, we should scrutinize with the greatest possible care, the record of every candidate. A red-blooded man or woman who loves home, community and state and stands for the due enforcement of the law and maintenance of good order, will not support any candidate whose record is TAINTED; but will do everything possible to defeat such an one. To do less would be worse than throwing our bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked boys and girls into a menagerie of wild animals and have their bodies torn to atoms.

Where there are five or six candidates for the same office it might be well to nose around a bit to see how many are running of their own volition and how many have been put up by some tricky politician in order to pull votes away from his REAL OPPONENT.

Mothers, wives, sisters, men, do your duty. We appeal especially to our good women to exercise their suffrage. It is a sacred, a very sacred right. Use it for the good of humanity.

The registration books for the Primary will be open about the first of May and remain open for 30 days.

W. M. HINTON

The tomb and the track leading to it through Vaialama Estate, which belongs to the government, are being properly cared for, the governor said.

WHITE'S TOMORROW

Praises Pitt County's Home Dem. Department

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP
At the Parent-Teachers meeting last week Miss Ferguson, who is Pitt county's Home Demonstration Agent, talked of the campaign for better kitchens which she expects to carry on this spring. Truly Miss Ferguson if every woman did, is working a good work among us.

In Alabama, Miss Ferguson said, a very impertinent questionnaire was sent to a thousand or more farm women, a questionnaire in which were questions of very personal nature: "If you could have one thing to make your work lighter, what would that one thing be?" "If you had a hundred dollars to spend as you liked, what would you do with it?" "If you could have just one thing for your house, what would that one thing be?"—and others of similar nature.

In the answer to the particular three questions was found an amazing similarity: "If I had a hundred dollars to spend, I'd spend it for water works." "If I could have one thing to lighten my work, I'd have water in my kitchen." "I could add just one thing to my house it would be a water system." "Between the lines of these answered questions there is written a tragic story, a story not peculiar to Alabama, but to other farm women as well. It is the story of thousands of women, who, from youth on up, through feeble old age, walk out to the well for a bucket of water and walk back to the kitchen again; out to the pump for a bucket of water and back to the kitchen again; in heat of summer and cold of winter, walk out to the well for a bucket of water and back to the kitchen again. And this is why Miss Ferguson, who has added to her wisdom, understanding, will stress, in her campaign for better kitchens, the importance of water supply.

The water for the average

perseeded the old, inefficient tools. But still the farmer's wife walks out to the pump, and walks wearily back with her bucket.

In all North Carolina there can be found no women who are doing their share of hard, honest work more faithfully than farmers' wives—all classes of people being considered. But as yet their faithfulness has known little reward, insofar as tightening the unnecessary burdens that fill their daily lives is concerned.

Miss Ferguson does not advocate the installing of elaborate water systems, for she is a practical person, and she knows that a pump and a sink in her kitchen would answer many a woman's prayer, as well as add years to her life. There once was an old woman whose idea of Heaven was a big rocking-chair out in a big broad field with no one near to bother her—and I doubt not that there are Pitt county women to whom a convenient pump in the kitchen would seem a bit of Heaven on Earth. The reason for the present situation, says Miss Ferguson, is the fault of the women as well as the men, for the women will never ask for these things, and the men just never think of them. I bid God-speed to the Better Kitchen Campaign; may it hasten the day when women shall ask for the things they need, and when men shall not only think on these things, but remember that thinking is not enough, for "happy are ye if ye do them."

Mellon Opposes Further Coinage of Memorial Money

Washington, Apr. 23.—(AP)—Further authorizations for the coinage of special commemorative or memorial coins is opposed by Secretary Mellon.

In a letter to Congress the Secretary has protested that government money should not be commercialized by non-government agencies who have been allowed to seel the special coins at increased prices.

Two new coins will appear this year, on memorializing the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition to be held at Philadelphia and one for the celebration of the Bennington, Vermont, Battle. The former will bear a design of President Coolidge. This is the first time that a coin will be made bearing the likeness of a living President.

In all instances where non-government organizations have been allowed special coins the enterprise has resulted in failure from a commercial standpoint, Mr. Mellon told Congress. The increasing variety in the coins also opens the way to counterfeiting, he said.

Printers in 12 Cities Will Play for Ball Trophy

Indianapolis, Apr. 23.—(AP)—Printers from twelve cities in the United States and Canada will drop the rule and stick a few days in August to take up the ball and bat for the annual tournament of Union Printer International baseball league at St. Louis.

Teams from New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Boston, St. Paul, Washington, Toronto, Detroit and Pittsburgh will compete in the St. Louis tournament August 21 to 27, headquarters of the International Typographical Union here has announced.

A silver trophy, presented by Garry Hermann, will be the prize. It will become the property of the club winning the greatest number of tournaments over a period of twelve years. Washington, with three victories is the only club with a leg on the trophy.

"Sliding Ghost"

Called "The Sliding Ghost" because he vanished again and again into "No Man's Land," working through the German lines as a spy, Jerry Tarbot, as his friends call him, has appealed to the New York police to determine his real identity so he can locate his relatives, who believe him killed in the war.

Says Bacteria In Body Is One Cause of Heart Pains

Dallas, Tex., Apr. 23.—(AP)—Doctors in the section on the practice of medicine at the meeting of the American Medical Association considered today the problems of heart disease.

Dr. Eugene S. Kilgore of San Francisco, explained how to differentiate between pains over the heart that are actually due to disease of the heart, and "imitation" pains. Dr. Walter J.

Bierring, of Dr. Moines, showed that ninety-five per cent of the cases in which there was inflammation of the lining of the heart, resulted from bacteria circulating in the blood and arising in inflammations elsewhere in the body.

"When the lining of the heart is once severely infected the condition is serious, and few patients recover completely," he said. "The significance of the investigations lies in the desirability of preventing such infections by removal of bacterial localizations from which they arise."

THE MATERIAL VALUE OF IDEALS

Ideals really have a money value. It would be unfortunate if all men had a mere mercenary reason for holding high ideals, but it would also be regrettable if goodness were never rewarded.

Men have sometime made light of the higher things of life and have implied that they were impractical. Men have exalted money and force, and have belittled the unseen influences that give meaning to material things. In a final analysis, guns are not so important as the motives in men's minds behind the guns. We can control guns only when we can control the unseen influences that make men use goods. Money is not an end in itself. Men want it because of what they think it will bring to them. The mental processes behind the acquisition and the control of money are the vital question. Love, hate, love of approbation, envy, avarice and ambition cannot be seen, but they give meaning to what is seen. Because material things are seen and mental processes are not seen, men often foolishly give attention to the material effect while they ignore the mental cause.

Men who have not had educational opportunities frequently discount expenditures for education as being impractical. Suppose we eliminated all the school houses in our town. Immediately all families with children would move to another town. The market would be overstocked with vacant houses, real estate values would drop and education had been a financial blessing instead of a financial burden. The same thing would be true of the churches. Even though men in an unchurched town might not start to destroy each other, many families would move away and many would fail to move in.

Did you ever ask yourself how merchants and manufacturers benefitted by ideals held by the masses of the people? How many rugs and pianos, and how much high grade furniture can be sold where there are tax payers would learn that no preachers or teachers, no clubs nor fraternal orders, no newspapers nor books?

Men's desires increase as their outlook on life widens. Anything that lifts an individual or town out of a provincial state of mind helps to stimulate business. Common decency pays. Indecency depreciates values. Most men see the money value of common decency. It is time now that men began to see the value also of culture. We no longer live on the frontier in sod houses. Standards have been raised. Is our town up to standard? A few alert, unselfish citizens can lead a town up the hill into a new and better day. Do you want to march at the front of the procession?

Silas Strawn's Chinese Chauffeur Speeds Wheels

By JOHN GOETTE, INS Staff Correspondent.
 Peking, April 23.—Americans in China roundly object to the "squeeze" system whereby their Chinese servants gather a percentage on everything the master buys, from the gateman to cook, number one boy and ricksha puller. When they have been particularly hard hit, they are apt to think it a piece of devilry applied to foreigners alone from which Chinese masters are free. That is not so, as witnessed the following tale:

In a gorgeous moment the Chinese government purchased eighteen Buick limousines, which it placed at the disposal of the American and other delegates to the "Peking Customs Conference," which has been in session here since last October. The cars are at the call of the delegates at any hour of the day or night and no Chinese control is exercised over the chauffeurs except the pretext of checking up on the gasoline which is likewise furnished by the government.

The other day the chauffeur of car No. 1, which is assigned to Mr. Silas Strawn and his colleagues of the delegation of the United States, took it to the American firm which sold the cars, to have it overhauled. According to the statement of the American manager of the garage the speedometer registered 28,430 miles. It had been used for less than six months in a city which is just four miles wide in any direction and the longest motor "ride" outside possible to it, being less than twenty-five miles.

If the speedometer were to be believed, the chauffeur an delegate had travelled 50,000 miles a month or instead of paying over knotty pretensions of the Chinese traffic had been covering over some 180 miles a day. Instead of 23 it is doubtful if they ran the car any more than a few miles every day.

Used to the ways of "squeeze," the American managers tested the instrument only to find it accurate. After a little sleuthing he found the answer. By disconnecting the cable which joins the speedometer close to the instrument there is left a square slot at the base of the meter. For a few coppers the chauffeur had hired a small boy with an old-style Chinese drill, which is made of an upright stick and a bow-like arrangement that causes the stick to revolve. The end of this revolving stick was made to fit the slot on the meter and with an hour's work the mileage showed a decided improvement, on the strength of which gallons of gasoline could be drawn from the government stores to be taken around the corner and sold at a neat profit.

Another chauffeur drew eighty-five gallons of gas last month for a car, which probably used but a small fraction of that amount. The authorities recognize "squeeze" is inevitable especially with chauffeurs and gasoline so that they officially allow fourteen miles to a gallon which gives the chauffeur a chance to make a little. That is looked upon as legitimate, but the case of the American delegation car was one too many even for those hardened to "squeeze."

Paris Decree?

Gloria Gould Bishop, New York society girl and heiress to millions, who forsook social affairs to teach dancing, is back in Paris again after having made a mysterious trip to the United States. She declined to comment upon reports she was establishing a residence to obtain a Paris divorce.

120-lb Drunk Kills 300-lb Ostrich, Property of Zoo

Boston, April 23.—(INS)—The mystery surrounding the killing of "Governor," the big 300-pound ostrich in Franklin Park Zoo, is solved.

William C. McIntyre, of Roxbury, who weighs 120 pounds soaking wet, admitted in West Roxbury court that he killed "Governor" with his hands, strangling it in a life-and-death struggle in the darkness of the ostrich house.

The defendant admitted that he was drunk, but failed to identify the brand of liquor which police officers declared would make a rabbit attack a bulldog.

"It was like this, Judge," said McIntyre under questioning. "I didn't want to go home drunk so when I came to this fence with white posts and the shed inside, I thinks I that's a good place to sleep it off.

"So I climbed the fence and went in. I took off my overcoat and had just laid down when something smashed me in the chest. I couldn't see anything. Then I got another smash and started out.

"On the way out I got a crack over the eye. Then I got mad and started to fight. Finally in the darkness I got hold of a long soft thing that felt like the neck of a duck, but I thought if it was a duck it must have been on stilts.

"The thing was awful strong, and threw me around like I was a kid. Finally the thing quieted down and I got away. I was weak and frightened and I didn't even stop for my overcoat. I was used two days."

Simplified Spelling Had Its Beginning Several Years Ago

London, Apr. 23.—(AP)—English advocates of simplified spelling who are at the present time petitioning parliament, have found their cause an ancient one.

About 300 years ago, the then Rector of Rotherhithe, Thomas Gatacre, adopted a system of "reformed spelling" in his published works. Spellings such as "question," "true," "ded," and "believe" were among those he invented. Advocates of phonetic spelling, however, claim Milton as a sounder authority, because the original text of his "Comus" contains words like "dwells," "believe," "limms," and "dred."

Your Biggest Task is Cooking

But it is different today in the modern home. Electric cookery has made it easier for the housewife. She does not have to stand over a hot stove all day—she is free from worry, care and constant attention. It is no longer a task but a pleasure to cook; so quickly, so easily, and so well can it be done. Think what it will mean to cook in a cool kitchen with no soot, smoke or dirt; free from uncertain heat which cannot be regulated; with your heat immediately and constantly obedient to you.

Oven Heat Control

Automatic Heat Control keeps the oven at an unvaried and even heat, making it always possible to maintain the exact heat desired in the oven, so previous cooking results can be easily duplicated.

The UNIVERSAL Oven Heat Control will automatically watch over the entire cooking operation. Your personal attention is not required and this permits you to hours of leisure every day.

By LUTHER A. HUSTON, INS Staff Correspondent.
 Tokyo, April 23.—Japanese theatre-goers never expect to see "Alie's Irish Rose," "Charlot's Revue," "Sunny" or any of the relaxing hits of Broadway played on a Tokyo stage. They are, however, to be given the privilege of seeing "Rain," one of the greatest stage successes of recent years, if the plans of Mme. Komako Kimura reach fruition.
 Mme. Kimura returned recently from an eight years' stay in the United States and assembled a group of earnest students who are eager to see drama of the West portrayed for the edification of the theatre-goers of the East. Before going to America Mme. Kimura was a noted artist of the Japanese stage and she spent the years there in studying the theatrical methods of the Occident.

While in New York Mme. Kimura was much impressed with the play, "Rain," and she asserts, made arrangements with the dramatists of Somerset, Maugham's novel which permits her to produce the play in Japan. She has been drilling her company for several months, and has just announced that arrangements have been completed with a Tokyo theatre owner to stage the play here.

The Tokyo production will be known as "Ame," which is the Japanese word for rain. It will be played in Japanese, of course.

Dr. Miguel Cruchaga, new Ambassador from Chile, took charge of the Chilean Embassy at Washington. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, asked Congress for a strong law to control radio. Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, led the fight for passage of the Italian Debt Settlement. Senator John W. Harrell, of Oklahoma, denied the dry laws have caused an increase in crime.

but a sincere effort will be made to give the play a faithful interpretation and an adequate stage production. The leading parts are to be taken by Kintaro Shimizu and his wife, who are among the leading exponents of Western drama in Japan.

Mme. Kimura has established in Tokyo a school of drama, which she calls "The Theatre of Life." Her purpose, she declares, is to teach Japanese actors and actresses the importance of technique in stage exercises designed to correct a certain awkwardness innate among Japanese. Mme. Kimura believes that many actors and actresses fail of success because of various complexes which she is convinced can be eradicated by proper development of technique.

Probably one of the most distinguished audiences that ever attended a public concert or theatrical performance was present at the entertainment given at the Imperial Theatre in Tokyo recently for the relief of European flood sufferers. No less than six Imperial princes and princesses attended, not to mention an imposing array of ambassadors, ministers, public officials and leading citizens. In one box were Prince and Princess Asaka, the latter a sister of the Emperor of Japan; and Prince and Princess Li of Korea, who would now be the Emperor and Empress of Korea if that country had retained its independence. In the Imperial box on the opposite side of the theatre were Prince and Princess Kuni. Prince Kuni is the brother of the Japanese Crown Prince Nagako.

Since the affair was given under the auspices of the Embassies of Germany, Belgium, and France, and the Netherlands Legation, virtually the entire diplomatic corps attended. Mme. Solf, wife of the German Ambassador, and Mme. de Bassompierre, wife of the Belgian Ambassador, both accomplished musicians, took part in the program.

The most unusual number on the program, however, was a chorus of Japanese women who sang delightfully a song composed by Prof. Felix Dyck, a German pianist, who has been in Tokyo for several months.

Shown statistics upon arrests in Chicago, the mayor said it was untrue that there had been 92,000 arrests for drunkenness in Chicago. "I don't know where those statistics came from," he said. "There are no statistics on arrests for drunkenness in Illinois, because drunkenness per se is not an offense in the state."

Senator Reid, Democrat, of Missouri, called attention to the fact that the figure, for Chicago as put into the court record were accompanied by a notation that the total included arrests for disorderly conduct. The Mayor or then said the increase in the arrests on drunken automobile drivers in Chicago had increased 704 per cent, but those figures simply lead us into a "hog," he added. "We must remember that automobile, have increased."

Between 1922 and 1925, he said, the deaths for alcoholism increased 448 per cent. Mayor Lever praised those engaged in the campaign to drive human drunkenness from the land. However, he said it would be a mistake to lose sight of the fact that many good people regard the Volstead Act as an invasion of their liberty, which they will not surrender to any authority.

Birds Are Provided by "Cold-Hearted New Yorkers"

New York, Apr. 23.—(AP)—Thousands of bird lovers are included in New York's teeming population and it has been noted that they reside almost entirely in those sections given over to households of moderate incomes. Along the roofs on several of the East Side's drab and torturous streets, can be seen as uccession of pigeon cotes and the ubiquitous canary trill bravely against the roar of the elevated from frequent windows along the tracks.

There are hordes of free and unattached birds also to be found in the densest sections, apparently culling a fat and easy living from the much maligned "cold-hearted New Yorker."

The pigeons of Custom House Square and Battery Park are well known to tourists, as are robins of Central Park (in season) but only the cliff-dwellers of Broadway know that at certain well-established corners the assertive sparrow meets in daily, noisy convention.

One such place is at Broadway and 110th street. Each afternoon the air is dark with the gathering throngs, seeking their accustomed roosts under the crescentated eaves of the ultra modern duplex apartment house.

Got Surprise of Life When He Took Karnak

GOT SURPRISE OF LIFE HAS HEARD LOT OF CLAIMS FOR THIS MEDICINE BUT CAN'T ENOUGH BE SAID FOR IT. DECLARES SPARTANBURG MAN

"I tell you, I have never been so surprised in my life than I am at the results I have gotten since I started taking this Karnak," declares P. I. Elms, of 695 S. Center St., Spartanburg, S. C.

"I was suffering from an inactive liver, biliousness and stomach trouble, and I just felt out of sorts all over," continued Mr. Elms. "Everything I ate just seemed to stop right in the pit of my stomach, and I would blot with gas till I could hardly get my breath."

"This gas would press around my heart so bad I thought I had a heart trouble, and my nerves got to be such a wreck I couldn't rest night or day. I had tried lots of medicines for this condition, but failed to get relief until I finally started taking Karnak.

"I am on my second bottle of the medicine now, and my stomach is in condition to where I can eat anything I want, and all that gas and awful smothering sensation have left me. My appetite is good, and I am beginning to feel in every way like I did before my troubles ever started. I have heard a lot of claims, but I tell you can't enough be said for this medicine."

Karnak is sold in Greenville by B. S. Warren; and by every other reliable druggist in Greenville and in every other town.
