REV. JOHN BARCLAY DELIVERS SERMON GRADUATING CLASS

The Sermon Brought Forth Two Great Points, Need of Free Speech and Necessity of the Truth

At the Christian church last night, the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the members of the Senior class of nineteen hundred and twenty-six, by Rev. John Barclay, of Wilson.

In opening his address, Rev. Barclay commented the school on having a class to graduate such a large number of students, especially for the population of the town, and compared this class to others in cities much larger than Greenville that has as low as half this number.

Rev. Barclay's address brought forth two great points, the need of free speech and the necessity of the truth. The first point telling the need of having each person believe in his own manner on subjects that are liable to dispute, saying that the right side would be brought out at a proper time. He expressed his desire that a time would come when history books would teach only the development of civilization, and not wars, for they should come only the foot-prints of the text book.

More emphasis was stressed on the truth and religiousness in business. Examples of great concerns were set before the class, in which religion and unity among employer and employee were to play the greater part. Unity among nations was also stressed, for without unity among nations, no country can progress to its fullest extent. Again he brought out the point that history books were holding back much progress that could be had as, example, the Revolutionary War, that still causes a great amount of sentiment among the two countries.

Heretofore, no address has held more truth and interest than did Rev. Barclay's. Undivided attention was paid him during his entire address on account that it held so much truth and the moral was higher than any address ever delivered in this city. Members of the glee club requested three selections that were enjoyed by everyone, while Miss Thomas, at the organ, added effectiveness to the program.

On Wednesday night, the Class of '26 will have their supreme moment, the receiving of diplomas, entitling them to seek the secrets of the world which they are now about to enter.

Greenville High School is sorry to lose this class, but is glad to know that a class of this kind has gone forth to show just what Greenville school has given them.

Everyone is invited to attend the graduating exercises at the East Carolina Teachers College on Wednesday night at eight o'clock. The band will render a concert before the diplomas are awarded.

MAILER OF BOMB CONFESSES TODAY

Asa K. Bartlett Says He Sent Bomb That Killed Three People

Muskegon, Mich., May 31.—(AP)—Asa K. Bartlett, 28 years old, Blue Lake Township Constable has confessed sending the bomb that killed August Kruabach, supervisor of the township, his daughter, Janet, and her fiancé, William Frank last Thursday. Details of the confession will not be revealed until after Bartlett is arraigned tomorrow, according to R. G. Dunn, prosecutor, who made the announcement that Bartlett had confessed.

Bartlett signed the confession just as the three hearse and the long funeral procession of the bomb victims moved away from the Elks Temple here on the 18-mile journey to Oak Hurst Cemetery at White Hall.

"I could not stand to have Kruabach running the township," was Asa Bartlett, would say in explanation of his action.

Details of the confession have been withheld at Bartlett's request. He said he did not want to upset his friends and relatives until after Memorial Day.

Officers anticipated that sensational developments would follow revelation of the text of the Bartlett confession. Bartlett has told the prosecutor he will waive examination tomorrow and go at once into Circuit Court and plead guilty to a charge of first degree murder.

GRIFTON SCHOOL CLOSES AFTER A SUCCESSFUL TERM

Interesting Programs Feature the Exercises Which Continued for Several Days

On Sunday evening, May 23, Dr. Frederick Jones, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, Greenville, delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Grifton High School. Dr. Jones chose for his theme "Character Building." He handled his subject in an elegant and masterly way, and made a deep and abiding impression upon a large and appreciative audience. Friday morning at ten thirty o'clock the class day exercises marked an annual event which is looked forward to by the people of the community with a great deal of pleasure. As usual, these exercises sparkled with wit and humor and were greatly enjoyed by all present.

Friday evening at eight o'clock the commencement exercises came to a close with the commencement address, the presentation of diplomas, the awarding of certificates and medals. Superintendent W. G. Coltrane in a few well chosen remarks introduced the speaker of the evening, Prof. Leon R. Meadows, head of the department of English in Eastern Carolina Teachers College. Prof. Meadows spoke on "Investment." The discourse was clear, practical and convincing. Seldom have our people listened to an address so full of practical advice and sound common sense. Prof. Meadows possesses a charming personality, and is a pleasing and inspiring speaker. On this occasion he was at his best, and captivated his large audience.

Supt. Claude Ives of the Enfield Schools, in a very fitting and effective way presented the diplomas to the graduating class.

Mr. Jack Patrick awarded the attendance certificates; Mr. R. A. Haddock the seventh grade certificates.

Rev. R. J. Lough presented the following medals: Expression, awarded by the Bank of Grifton; Music, awarded by R. W. Dawson; won by Earl Dail; Debater, awarded by J. R. Harvey and Co.; won by William Coltrane, Jr.; Valedictory, awarded by Vance Wall, won by Jean Harvey; Music, awarded by R. A. Nelson, won by Mildred Jarrell; Athletic, awarded by Grifton High School, won by Velt McLawhorn.

As a token of appreciation for ten years of faithful service the patrons of the school presented G. Coltrane, the retiring Superintendent, with a costly loving cup of a handsome and artistic design.

SOCKEYE SALMON CAUGHT 1200 MILES FROM HOME

Ottawa, Ont., May 31.—(INS)—A sockeye salmon liberated off Port Maitland, N. S., March 15, has been caught in the Moisie River of Quebec, a distance of 1,200 miles away, according to an announcement by the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

The fish, which is believed to have established a world's distance record, had a silver tag attached to its dorsal fin requesting the person catching it to notify the department in Ottawa. Fishery experts of the department marked several hundred salmon to trace their movement on the Atlantic coast.

Don't Gamble—Invest.
Buy-Out-of-Income.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

"Down to Gehenna or up to the throne, he travels the fastest who travels alone," doesn't apply to golf.

Jesse Sweetser, young American, and married, won the British Amateur Golf Championship, the first native born American that ever won it.

Sweetser didn't want to go to England, didn't want to leave his bride, but "she made him go."

Sweetser's brother says, "Jesse hasn't played any real golf for two years, and hated to take a chance on a big tournament like this."

How well would that Young American have played had he been in condition.

Winning a golf championship is important, because good golf means control of the nerve, which is an important part of all important self control.

Miss Alisa Mellon, daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, was married in Washington. Had she received for a wedding present, one per cent of the money her father has saved for this country, a small fraction of the debt that he has cleared away, she would be the richest bride, and the richest human being in the world. Fortunately she doesn't need money, and her father doesn't need it. That's why he can afford to work for the public.

Think of this item in week-end stock market news. Twenty years ago you could buy a share of American Ice for two dollars. Now that share pays $15 a year dividend. Had you bought a $1,000 worth of American Ice twenty years ago it would now be paying you $15,000 every year. Other things now low in price will do better than that, but don't gamble. Don't be fooled by get-rich-quick schemers that may try to sell you stock on the strength of this.

The "buy-out-of-income idea is growing, naturally, for it means enjoy things while you live.

If you know that you can buy something you want, buy it, and enjoy it. Don't wait for your hair to grow gray.

If you can pay for an automobile in the course of the next six months or a year, get it now, and enjoy it, with your family, while you pay for it.

If you can pay for a home, or a good piece of real estate, get it now, use it, pay for your property instead of paying rent, and watch the property grow more valuable.

Everybody knows of the deep-sea sailor drowned in a bathtub, and the rough-riding cowboy run over by a Hansom cab. Now commander Byrd, first to fly over the North Pole, is laid up with a bad cold in London.

"How could he stand the terrific cold of the North Pole and catch cold in London?" is asked.

Colds and other diseases are caused by germs, whatever your faith friend may think. Extreme cold, forty or fifty below zero in the Arctic, kills germs. Men don't have colds at such temperature.

That's why exquisites, not accustomed to germs, die of consumption when they come to a warm climate.

We may all be grateful that cold does kill germs, otherwise the yellow fever germ, that cannot stand cold weather, would have killed us all long ago. Winter discourages it.

COOLIDGE SPEAKS AT EXERCISES AT ARLINGTON TODAY

Declares "Common Sense" Must Be the Keystone to World Peace

Washington, May 31.—(AP)—"Common sense" must be the keynote of America's contribution to world peace, as well as the controlling force in her conduct at home, President Coolidge said today in a Memorial Day address at Arlington National Cemetery.

The rule of practical possibilities he applied to the Geneva arms negotiations, to the war debt negotiations, and to many domestic problems. He renewed his belief in "the principle of religious liberty and toleration and equality of rights; in an adequate national defense; in the World Court, and in the practice of economy."

"Practical results," Mr. Coolidge said, "is what the American nation expects from the negotiations at Geneva."

"We believe that other nations ought to join with us in laying aside their suspicions and hatreds sufficient to agree among themselves upon methods of mutual relief from the necessity of the maintenance of great land and sea forces, he continued. "This can not be done if we constantly have in mind the resort to war for the redress of wrongs and the enforcement of rights."

"Europe has the League of Nations. That ought to be able to provide those countries with certain political guarantees which our country does not require. Besides this there is the World Court, which can certainly be used for the determination of all justifiable disputes."

"We should not underestimate the difficulties of European nations nor fail to extend to them the highest degree of patience and the most sympathetic consideration. But we can not fail to assert our conviction that they are in great need of further limitation of armaments and our determination to lend them every assistance in the solution of their problems."

"We have entered the conference with the utmost good faith on our part and in the sincere belief that it represents the utmost good faith on their part. We want to see the problems that are there presented stripped of all technicalities and met and solved in a way that will secure practical results. We stand ready to give our support to every effort that is made in that direction."

It was in a spirit of sensible helpfulness, the President said, that the United States had made "generous settlements" of the foreign war debts.

"The little sentiment of 'live and let live' expresses a great truth," he said. "It has been thought wise to extend the payment of our debts over a long period of years, with a very low rate of interest, in order to relieve foreign peoples of the burden of economic pressure beyond their capacity to bear."

"We believe that the adjustments which have been made will be mutually beneficial to the trade relations of the countries involved and that out of these economic benefits there will be derived additional guarantees to the stability and peace of the world."

BACHELORS IN PARLIAMENT SEEK "PEACE WITH HONOR"

Westminster, May 31.—(INS)—"Peace with honor" was the title of the menu at the banquet which the 38 bachelor members of the House of Commons have just given themselves.

Snatches of poetry relieved the list of dishes. Hundreds of letters were received by the diners from women who begged them to see the error of their ways, and convert themselves into respectable and useful members of society.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR NEGRO SLAYER OF DEPUTY CAPPS

Deputy Sheriff Was Killed On Saturday Night; Felling Running High

Hendersonville, May 31.—(AP)—A scattered search was still underway near here today by a posse of officers and citizens for Fred Sheldon, negro slayer of Deputy Sheriff H. L. Capps, who was killed Saturday night. Feeling apparently was running high and although many citizens had been engaged with officers in continuous search since the time of the shooting some of these remained in the hunt. Last night and yesterday the posse searched Henderson county and adjacent towns for the negro. A number of South Carolina officers were aiding.

The shooting occurred when officers were returning here with Myrtle Means and Sheldon after the two had been arrested charged with violation of the prohibition law. The negro is said to have killed Capps after making a pretense of getting the officer to alight momentarily from the automobile in which they were riding.

Plans Being Made for Atheist - Anti Evolution Debate

Charlotte, May 31.—(AP)—Preparations went forward here today for holding the Atheist-anti-evolution debate tonight at Lakewood, a suburb, despite the announcement of Charles Smith, of New York, president of the Society for advancement of Atheism that he had received a telegram for the "supreme kingdom" stating that "we recognize no rights of Atheist."

Mr. Smith's statement came late last night in the form of a letter to Dr. T. T. Morrison, secretary of the anti-evolution League and one of the debaters. It said that the "supreme kingdom" is an offset of the Ku Klux Klan.

Neither side in the debate would venture an opinion today as to whether the organization would attempt to prevent the Lakewood event. 500 members of the Klan yesterday were planning to preserve order, declaring that the Invisible Empire recognized the right of free speech and free assembly.

The subject of the debate is "Should the teaching of evolution that man evolved from a lower order of animal be excluded from the tax supported schools?"

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS FOR MAY SHOW A SHARP DECREASE

Survey Shows 160 Killed and 963 Injured in Traffic Casualties

A sharp decrease in the number of traffic casualties was noted in May from previous months in this year when a survey today of eleven southern states revealed that 160 had been killed and 963 injured. The survey was made by a consolidation of four weekly summaries by the Associated Press during the month. The number was a decided drop from the figures reported for April when 220 were killed and 1,156 injured. The April total however was augmented by two oil ship disasters in the New Orleans section. There have been no major disasters during May, the records of the Associated Press show.

North Carolina reported the greatest number of deaths during the month with 5, which was one more than that state reported for April. Florida came next with 28 deaths for May against 36 during April. Arkansas and Alabama had the best record for the month with only six killed in each state. Georgia took the lead in injuries during May with 106, which was two less than the number of injured in that state during April. North Carolina reported 50 injured during the month.

State May Have New Industry In the Near Future

Charlotte, May 31.—(AP)—An experiment with 3,000,000 silkworms is now being made near Roseboro, N. C., and it may prove to be the beginning of new industry in North Carolina, said H. W. Malone, of that section, here today.

The mulberry trees, which abound near Roseboro, are being utilized for the silk-worm test, Mr. Malone said.

He said that Dr. W. L. Payne, native German, is now in that community attempting to establish such an industry.

SCOPES APPEAL REACHES SUPREME COURT TODAY

Large Crowd in Attendance When Argument in Case Was Begun This Morning

Nashville, Tenn., May 31.—(AP)—The appeal in the Scopes case finally reached the State Supreme court for oral argument today. Long before 9:30 o'clock the hour of convening, the small court room was crowded. Dr. John R. Neal introduced visiting counsel and the illness of Frank M. Thompson, Attorney General, was reported.

Dr. Neal attacked the word of the anti-evolution law on technical grounds expressing the opinion that the law violated both the constitution of the state and the 14th amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Charles Strong, of New York, counsel for the Unitarian Laymen's League, which intervened as Amicus Curiae, spoke in behalf of Scopes. He said there are sincere Christians who would not believe the teachings of the theory of evolution, weakened the in God and declared no league considered the law un-American and unconstitutional.

Five lawyers for John T. Scopes addressed the Supreme Court of Tennessee on the appeal from the conviction of the Dayton school teacher for violating the anti-evolution law. One representative of the State made oral argument in support of the indictment of the conviction and of the constitutionality of the law. In addition, a brief upholding the sentence prepared by William J. Bryan, Jr., was read before the court.

Young Bryan entered the case upon the death of his father some months ago. The anti-evolution act was "the deliberate and careful enactment of a sovereign people which was designed to protect the children in their own public school in their belief in the divine origin of man, which in turn measures their responsibility to God and to their fellow man," asserted the brief filed by Mr. Bryan.

"This act," it read, "contains the protest of the preponderant religious and moral sentiment of the people of Tennessee against the kind of scientific infidelity that was being taught in their schools."

GRADUATION

Graduation time is here, and in every part of the country high school boys and girls are looking forward with eager expectation to the moment when they will be presented with that cherished diploma, which signifies that they have completed their work in high school. Is there ever a time when one feels more important than when he receives his diploma and knows that out in the audience his mother, father and best girl are looking at him with pride? No matter as to the accomplishments of later life, nor the subsequent honors conferred upon one, it is doubtful if any outstanding event later occurring in the human experience is longer or more fondly remembered than graduation night.

It is a changing point in the life of the boy or girl. Up to this time they have been carefully sheltered and the stumbling blocks pointed out. Even the majority of the courses in school have been chosen for them by someone else, and they have had to rely very little upon themselves.

A certain number of the graduates will go to college to continue their studies. Others, through necessity or lack of ambition, will start out in life to earn their own living. Once away from the protection of their home they soon realize that they must depend almost entirely upon their own initiative. The ones entering college find they must step down from the "lofty" position of high school seniors to that of "lowly" freshmen, whose ignorance and incompetence are duly impressed on them by the "mighty" sophomores. They learn that they must rely upon their own ability, and the degree of success that they attain largely depends on the preparation they received in high school. If they have been imbued with the right principles, inculcated with lofty ideals, inspired with ambition, the temptations that arise are quickly overcome and the progress of the student is assured.

Those who for various reasons do not enter college find practically the same thing true. As the others are freshmen in college they are freshmen in the "University of Life," where honesty, character and hard work are the principles which lead to success. If they are to graduate with honors from this university the foundation which they received earlier must necessarily have been of the best material possible.

Since the future of the nation is dependent on these students that are now graduating, since they are the ones who must guide the progress of our country in later years, it should be the paramount thought of every citizen to furnish them with the best possible advantages, to the end that they may be inculcated with the principles of altruism and patriotism, so that the continuation of American ideals shall be assured.

OUR BANK RESOURCES

As a banking state, North Carolina ranks forty-second in the United States. The bank resources of all banks of every sort whatsoever in North Carolina averaged $173.60 per inhabitant on June 30, 1925. Only six states, namely South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, and New Mexico, rank below North Carolina in bank resources on a per inhabitant basis. The average for North Carolina is less than one-third the average for the United States. Yet in the production of agricultural and industrial wealth combined, North Carolina compares favorably with the national average.

We rank fourteenth in population and fifteenth in aggregate value of farm and factory products; yet we rank forty-second in per inhabitant bank resources, the best single evidence of accumulated wealth. The bank resources of North Carolina are inadequate to supply the credit demands of a state so important industrially and agriculturally as the state of North Carolina. Our meagre bank resources are the best evidence of lack of any considerable volume of accumulated wealth in North Carolina. We produce a lot of wealth and we spend a lot, but we do not accumulate very much.

Fox Farming in Colorado Thrives

Denver, May 31. (INS)—Colorado is taking first rank in the industry of fox husbandry, according to a bulletin of Agriculture received here.

This industry, comparatively new to the State, has already built up near Denver the second largest silver black fox farm in the country, and promises to become one of the most valuable activities of the State.

Several essential conditions possessed by Colorado give it important advantages in the breeding of foxes. It was pointed out. Foxes acclimated to Colorado's altitude, can be shipped and made to thrive in any climate in the world, and, because of this, leading Colorado fox farms are not only exporting to Germany, Norway, and other European countries as well as to Australia, but they are receiving numerous inquiries for Colorado foxes from Switzerland for breeding fox pairs to build up herds in the Alps.

Since the first silver black fox farm was established in Colorado, four years ago, the industry has gained wide recognition, and the quality of production is attracting world-wide attention.

Renew Old Seach
for Lost Millions

Brest, France, May 29. (INS)—
More than $5,000,000 worth of gold and silver ingots is the prize sought by a French salvaging company which has begun operations to salvage the wreckage of the steamer Egypt, which sank four years ago in the Channel after a collision with another steamer, the Seine.

The Egypt was enroute from an English port to the Orient with its valuable cargo. Three years ago a Swedish company attempted to salvage the wreckage and redeem the valuable cargo.
After several months of search the wreckage was located, about forty-six miles from Brest, where the depth of the channel is more than 500 feet.

At that time there was no diving apparatus in existence capable of withstanding the water pressure at such a depth and the attempt had to be given up.

Rev. Brandenburg preached one of the strongest of his sermons last night on "The Married Life." He showed the Church member as well as the non-church member the need of turning to God. He gave several illustrations of how God had changed the lives of the rankiest sinners and God-fearing Christians.

Services will continue each night this week, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Five Emergency Judges to Preside Over Sup'r. Courts

Raleigh, May 31.—(AP)—Five emergency judges will preside over Superior courts in as many counties in North Carolina this week.

The emergency judges named by Governor McLean to hold courts this week are L. D. Ward of New Bern; R. Lee Wright, of Salisbury; Bennett H. Perry, of Henderson; A. Wayland Cooke, of Greensboro; and C. C. Lyon, of Elizabethtown.

Judge Ward will hold court in Scotland county, in lieu of Judge Michael Schenck, who has been subpoenaed as a witness in an action in Brunswick county.

In Gaston, Judge Wright will preside in lieu of Judge P. A. McElroy, who is relieved for the week. The Gaston court is a one-week criminal term.

Judge Perry goes to Henderson county, in lieu of Judge A. M. Stack, who has also been relieved for the week. This is the second week of the Henderson term—Judge Stack having presided last week.

Two special terms begin today. One is in Durham county, a one-week civil term. Judge Cooke will hold this term. In Ashe, Judge Lyon will open a two-weeks' civil term today.

In addition to these two special terms, there will be a total of 14 regular terms opening today, and terms previously began will continue this week in Wayne, New Hanover, Alamance and Forsythe, in addition to the term in Henderson.

The only judges in exchange this week are T. B. Finley, of North Wilkesboro, and Thomas J. Shaw, of Greensboro. The exchange will place Judge Shaw in his home county of Guilford to open a two-weeks' civil term, and Judge Finley in Wilkes county. The Wilkes term is for one week, for the trial of civil cases.

In Pasquotank county a three-weeks' civil term opens today. Judge H. A. Grady, of Clinton, will hold this court.

Judge Thomas H. Calvert, of Jones, goes to Edgecombe county, where he will hold court for two weeks. The Edgecombe term is for the trial of both civil and criminal cases.

The Halifax county term is for two weeks, mixed. Judge E. H. Cramer, of Southport, will preside.

Judge W. A. Devin, of Oxford, goes to Craven, where a one-week criminal term begins today.

The Wake term will be held by Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount. It is for one week—criminal.

In Burke, Judge H. P. Lane, of Reidsville, will hold a civil term lasting two weeks.

Judge W. F. Harding, of Charlotte, goes to Buncombe, where he will open a one-week mixed term.

The other court term opening today is that in Graham county. Judge John M. Oglesby, of Concord, will preside. The term is for two weeks, for the trial of civil cases.

Jap. Patriotism Rallies to Save Matsuki Prints

Tokio, May 29.—(INS)—American collectors are not to be allowed to obtain Japan's most famous collection of "Ukiyoe," or color prints.

The appeal of patriotism has triumphed over the lure of dollars, and arrangements have been made whereby the collection will remain in Japan as a national treasure.

The collection is the property of Mr. Matsuki, a dealer of Kyoto, the art center of Japan. Matsuki has devoted nearly half a century to the collection of rare and original "Ukiyoe." In all that time he has never sold an original print that came into his possession.

About a year ago, however, Matsuki decided to dispose of his collection. Word of this decision reached America and the representation of one of the leading art dealers of the United States came to Japan. In the course of negotiations that followed an offer of Yen 1,000,000, or approximately

Drives Every Trace of Rheumatism From Your Body

"Money Back" Says Pitt Drug Co. If the First Bottle Allenru Fails to Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

"It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cured rheumatism or have only occasional twinges," says James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y. "I know that Allenru, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints."

I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenru made a well, robust, healthy man of me."

"I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenru and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease."

Allenru is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

James H. Allen has instructed Pitt Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to guarantee it as above in every instance.

Hollywood, Cal., May 31.—(NS)—The return of Mabel Normand to Southern California early in June is awaited with interest by the film colony here. Mabel will begin production with Hal Roach at Culver City immediately after her arrival and her friends are predicting that at last she will be given an opportunity to show the full extent of her genius.

Reginald Denny, Universal's premier fun-maker, has announced he will return to the stage in New York late this summer. Denny will star in a play that later can be adapted to the screen.

Radio has a bright future in motion picture work, according to James Cruze, Lasky director, who at present is working upon "Old Ironsides," the last of a historical series with "The Covered Wagon," and "The Pony Express." Cruze licensed a portable broadcast station for the picture and during a "sea fight" off the island of Santa Catalina, controlled the individual movements of thirty-eight ships, by radio.

"We couldn't have made this picture without the radio," Cruze declared, "and its successful use in 'Old Ironsides' will open up a larger field for the filming of scenes over a wider area." The picture will cost well over $2,000,000 as a twenty-one-day stretch of bad weather held up the "shots."

What has become of the stars of several years ago? A recent check of the studios gleaned the following information: Carlisle Blackwell and Pearl White are in Paris, and appear upon the stage and screen. Katherine McDonald is married and trying to break into stellar roles again. Ethel Clayton is also attempting to get back in.

Kathleen Williams and Myrtle Stedman are doing mother bits, but Kathleen is now in London with her husband, Charles Epton. J. Warren Kerrigan is working around in his garden at his house near Cahuanga Pass. Rosemary Theby is married to Harry Myers.

Ruth Roland is making quite a splash in the real estate game. James Cruze is now a famous director.

Carol Holloway does an odd job now and then in the movies. Mary Miles Minter flits between the New York and Hollywood, and is said to be struggling to maintain her trimness of figure.

Marquerite Clark is living with her husband in an old-fashioned house somewhere "back-east."

CABLE LETTER

London, May 29.—(AP)—London business men are adopting the American quick lunch idea and are not eating as much as formerly.

Dr. W. J. Haworth, medical officer of health for the city of London, commenting in his annual report on the reduction of the number of "the more expensive and luxurious city restaurants," says: "The heavy meal of former days is being replaced—I am referring to the successful men in the higher administrative ranks—by a lighter meal occupying not a quarter of the time and as was the custom in years gone by, when lunch was a sort of a mid-day feast."

"The increase in the newer type of cheaper restaurants has certainly benefitted a large number of people, who take a sandwich and milk, tea or coffee at the noon hour."

The Duke and Duchess of York's baby "takes after" her father rather than the Bowes-Lyons of her mother's side.

The new princess is blue-eyed, and fair-haired and very much resembles the children of the king and queen in their early infancy. Owing to this fact Mayfair has been speculating whether like her father, the baby will be left-handed.

Queen Mary herself, like the little princess, is recorded in the royal family letters as having been an especially pretty and good tempered baby, who never cried at night.

Berlin, May 29.—(AP)—Members of the Prussian Land Tag may be compelled to drink beer instead of water.

Since recent disorders in the chamber, during which a member of the left doused his opponents with water until they raised umbrellas and advanced to meet him in hand-to-hand combat, the rules committee has threatened to remove the water bottles from the desks of members. If this were done there would remain nothing but beer from the diet restaurant which the members could quench their thirst. And it would not be handy enough for use to douse members.

Speaker Bartel, however, is opposed to removing the water carafes. He considers water a necessary lubricant for the throats of long-winded speakers. Also he fears that if members were to drink beer in the same quantity is consumed outbreaks of disorder would be more prevalent than now.

Paris, May 29.—(AP)—Purple socks with mauve underwear constitutes the latest attempt of Paris to assume dictatorship in men's wear in addition to sovereignty over that of women. A few exclusive hops which have secured a supply of these necessities for men with what are deemed the correct shadings are assuring customers that the Prince of Wales already has placed orders with them.

"Vote for women" is only one of the important questions which the convention of the International Alliance of Women's Suffrage which opens here tomorrow has on its schedule. Women's working conditions and the part women can play in the maintenance of the world's peace are two of the principle subjects for discussion.

Mrs. Corbett Asby, president of the alliance, says the first item on the agenda will be a study of the reforms attained by women in 25 nations where women have been given the vote. The enfranchising of women in Bengal, Assam will be celebrated early in the convention and special attention will be given delegates from countries where the status of woman is only beginning, like Syria and Turkey.

The rats of Dunkirk unwittingly have joined the "save the franc" movement. Desire Marussel, a farmer living just on the outskirts of the city, put his savings, about twenty thousand tofrance, into national defense bonds. When they were about mature he went to withdraw them from their hiding place in the garage. They were missing. He complained to the police. A careful search revealed traces of the bonds in a rat hole. The entire twenty-thousand francs worth of paper had been chewed up by rats to make nests.

A Judge On Trial

Last January, upon the resignation of Judge Albion Dunn, Governor Angus W. McLean appointed Honorable R. A. Nunn, of New Bern, Judge of the Superior Court, to fill the vacancy caused originally by the resignation of Honorable J. Lloyd Horton.

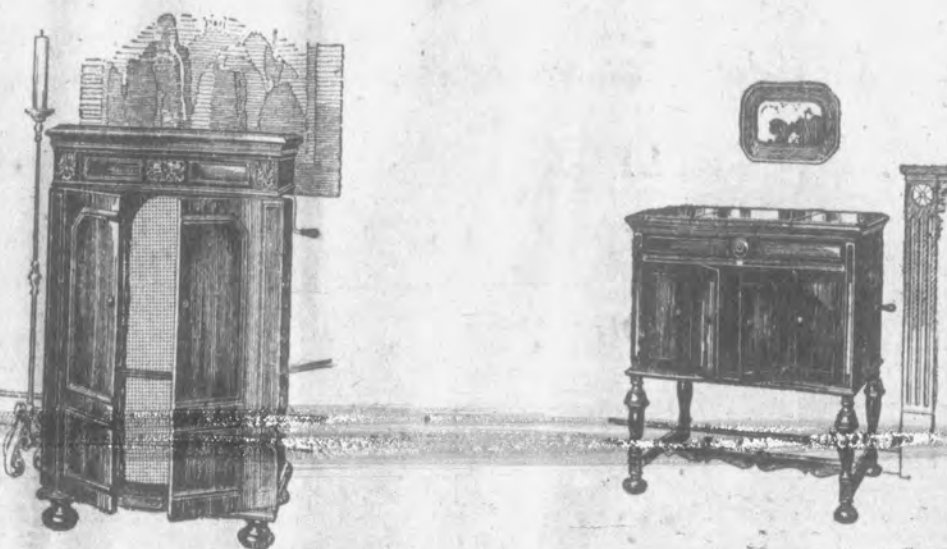

Since Judge Nunn's appointment he has been holding court, very largely in his own district. He has held three two-week terms in Pitt county. The people of Pitt have had an opportunity to see Judge Nunn preside and to pass upon his ability as a Judge.

If you have been attending his courts and noticed any of the many cases that have come up before him, you can readily see how fair and impartial he has judged each case and there have been very few appeals from his decisions. Judge Nunn is a man of clean life, sound judgment, learned in the law, fair and just to all.

The voters of Pitt County are asked to look into the past life of Judge Nunn—also to keep up with his courts and see if the Governor was not discreet in his appointment.

Judge Nunn has just completed a two-weeks' term of Civil court here. He is due your careful consideration in the Primary.
