EVANS' REQUEST FOR A RECOUNT DENIED TODAY

Wake County Election Board Denies Recount and Evans Appeals to the State Board

Raleigh, June 8.—(AP)—The demand of Solicitor W. F. Evans defeated for re-nomination on the Democratic ticket in the 7th Judicial District by Leon G. Brassfield in the face of unofficial returns, for a recount in Wake county, was denied today by the Wake County Board of Election Mr. Evans appealed the case to the State Board of Elections. Mr. Brassfield's supporters yesterday demanded a recount in Franklin county, the other county in the district, but today that request was withdrawn. Supporters of Mr. Brassfield stated that information upon which the demand was based, was found by them to be incorrect.

The Brassfield ticket carried Wake county, but lost to Evans in Franklin. Brassfield's lead over Evans in the entire district was 199 votes.

Bombay Dancing Girl Faces New Trouble Over Bawala Wealth

Bombay, India, June 8.—Mumtaz Begum, the Bombay dancing girl who gained world-wide notoriety in connection with the "Nautch girl crime," faces still further trouble as a result of an injunction filed in the Bombay courts to prevent her receiving the remainder of the legacy left to her by Abdul Bawala, the Bombay millionaire.

The injunction has been filed in the name of her nine-months' old daughter, and it appears that before her marriage to her present husband, Mumtaz Begum made over the legacy in favor of her infant daughter, and leaving to her mother the power of attorney.

After her marriage, however, she changed her mind, cancelled the power of attorney given to her mother, and denied ever having made a gift to her daughter.

The balance of the legacy is over $90,000 and the mother of Mumtaz has also filed a suit against her for that amount. The Bombay courts have already issued an interim injunction, and it appears likely that a permanent injunction will be issued in the near future.

U. S. Finds Way to Give Alarm of Poison Gas

Washington, June 7.—(INS)—Gas alarms—a vivid reminder of the mud and cooties of the West end Front—will be revived to protect heavy automobile traffic through tunnels.

Owing to the generation of carbon monoxide by automobile motors the United States Bureau of Mines has found it essential as a life-protection measure, to raise an alarm and recorder for a fatal gas.

Experiments were conducted at the Bureau of Mines station in Pittsburgh, resulting in the invention of an automatic warning to traffic of the existence of a dangerous concentration of carbon monoxide.

Carbon monoxide, an odorless, tasteless and invisible gas, was a source of danger in tightly closed dugouts during the war. "Experimental work conducted by the Bureau of Mines showed that the percentage of carbon monoxide, the poisonous constituent of automobile exhaust gases varies from .5 to 14 per cent of the gas," the Bureau's statement said.

Charlotte, June 8.—(AP)—The case against Nellie Freeman, "child bride," charged with slaying her husband, Alton Freeman, here several weeks ago, was continued today until July 12 upon the request of the state. The state contended that it needed more time to prepare evidence and Judge Nunn upheld this contention over the protest of the defense.

OVERMAN LEADS BOB REYNOLDS BY FORTY THOUSAND

Incomplete Returns Show Close Race Between R. A. Nunn and Julius Brown for Judge

Raleigh, June 8.—(AP)—With 1,230 precincts reported out of 17,017 in the state, Lee S. Overman was maintaining his lead for the Democratic nomination as Senator over Robert R. Reynolds today. The vote stood, Overman 106,546, Reynolds, 69,610.

This represented returns from 78 counties of which 48 were complete, of the 100 in the state. Of these Overman had carried 34 while Reynolds led in 14.

Scarcely any returns had been received here today from the other races. It appeared on the basis of returns available late last night that Congressman Zebulon Weaver and A. L. Bulwinkle had been easily re-nominated over Felix Alley and J. A. Demmittee respectively.

In the race for Superior Court Judge a neck-and-neck race seems in progress in the fifth district with Romulus A. Nunn polling 5,530 when half of the district had been reported, against 4,314 for Julius Brown.

In the 7th district a second primary will be necessary before Thomas H. Calvert and W. C. Harris.

In the 13th district Judge A. M. Stack has been re-nominated on the face of nearly complete returns.

In the 20th district James D. Mallonee and Thomas Moore were leading the ticket with 3,001 and 3,332 respectively. Two other candidates were trailing and a second primary was the prospect with three-fourths of the votes reported.

In the fifth district 51 out of 95 precincts stood. Clark, 3,096; J. H. Davis, 2,398; Barden, 2,236; M. L. Davis, 899 and Paylor, 878.

WILL NOT SEIZE HOLDINGS FORMER GERMAN RULERS

Von Hindenberg Declares Seizure Would Be Attack on Constitutional Foundation of State

Berlin, June 8.—(AP)—That President Von Hindenberg will decline to order the confiscation of the properties of former German rulers should the Plebisite of June 20th be in favor of such action, is indicated in a letter which he has written to Colonel Frederick Von Lobell, the Monarchist leader. The seizure of the property of former Kaiser Wilhelm and the other German rulers would be an attack on the constitutional foundation of the state and in violation of the fundamental laws of moral and justice, declared the president.

The royal estate and other properties are valued at many millions of marks. The question of setting the holdings of the former rulers long has been the subject of heated debate through Germany.

Vertical or Horizontal Flights Now Possible

London, June 7.—(INS)—A new type of airplane, which can be handled as easily as an automobile, is claimed to have been invented by Vittorio Sacco, right hand man to Signor Pescara, the famous Spanish inventor. Claims are made that the new airplane is automatic in stability and combines the ability to ascend vertically, to hover, motionless, and to travel horizontally at high speed. The machine, which has been constructed in secret near Paris, will shortly undergo tests.

In a body resembling that of an airplane, the pilot sits at a steering wheel like that of an automobile. Over his head, mounted on a metal column, is an arrangement of revolving wings in which are sunk small engines and propellers.

Mellon Knows Money. Bryan Missed It. No Free Power. He Jumped in the River. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

At this time of year Uncle Sam needs money, and finance is amazed that he should be able to get along with as little as two hundred million dollars.

That amount Mr. Mellon will borrow, at only three per cent interest. Many will wonder why Uncle Sam must borrow, when he might make money as good as gold, pay no interest and call in the money, when ready to pay. There is a reason, one of the mysteries of finance.

Since the people must borrow they are fortunate to have Mr. Mellon as Secretary of the Treasury. He understands finance and financiers, and knows what Uncle Sam's signature is worth.

This country needs above all business management, in these times, and if President Coolidge should decide not to run in 1928, Mr. Mellon would be the man for the job, if he would take it. To clear away our billions of national debt, without relying too much on Europe's payments is a big task.

A swarm of locusts, that shut out the sun's light descended upon a railroad track in Southern Italy. One train, lifted up by the mass of insects, ran off the track. William Jennings Bryan should have lived to read that. It repeats on a small scale, the Bible story of the plagues of Egypt, and to Bryan's intellectual satisfaction, it would have proved that the whole swallowed Jonah, according to old fashioned ideas. If you prove one thing, you prove everything.

Charles Henry, an able French scientist believing that he has solved the secret of catalysis, the creation of energy through decomposition of bodies, predicts a "hydrogen engine" that would use water, instead of gasoline, and "free France from foreign bondage for her motive power."

Nature's three greatest material gifts to man are free AIR, free WATER, free SUNSHINE. If free POWER could be added, man's material troubles would be ended.

But Charles Henry's idea will remain the "demonstration" of a great mathematician, and will not solve any engines, no matter how next, men are not easy to lift to be relieved from the pressure of hard work. They need it in their evolutionary process.

Free power, unlimited, easily applied anywhere, would mean free nitrogen and that would mean free food.

With free food, the lazy work hating human race of today would become as worthless as the South Sea Islanders, that for centuries got their food without working for it. Mentally they never amounted to more than so many large rabbits.

Peter Plesmayer, worked hard, saved his money, lost nearly all of it, then jumped into the river and died. He told his story in a few words, to his brother.

"I leave everything to you Michael. You can do as you wish with everything, only keep your hands from the stock market. And do not have too bad an opinion of me, Michael."

Poor fellow, caught by the stock ticker. Millions will sympathize with him. Don't gamble.

Mexico is busy with new laws. In Mexico City, marriage is under the control of the health department. No man or woman may be married, without presenting a health certificate, satisfactory to the government. Severe punishment is provided for priests or judges who perform marriages without certificates of health.

The government says its intention is to prevent marriage by those having diseases that may be handed down to children. Fortunately such diseases are few, although they include at least one of the most dreadful diseases.

It may be offered as an objection, that such a law interferes with "visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children."

BROOKHART IS NOMINEE IOWA REPUBLICANS

Brookhart to Succeed Cummins, as Party Nominee for Seat in United States Senate

Des Moines, Iowa, June 8.—(AP)—Iowa Republicans want Colonel Smith W. Brookhart in the United States Senate and since he can not sit in the seat for which they nominated him in 1924, he is to succeed Albert B. Cummins as the party nominee after the latter has served 18 years in the Senate. By a vote, which was close to the majority of all four of his opponents, Brookhart was nominated to the Senate yesterday just two months after the Senate itself had deposed him in favor of Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, who contested his election in 1924.

Returns from 119 precincts out of 2447 gave Brookhart 142,151; Cummins 96,611; Clark 43,438; Reardon 3,389 and Eickelberg 2,906. 692 precincts for the Democratic nomination gave Porter 8,023; Files 4,453; Murtagh 4,390; Finch 1,565.

Rising for the third time as the emissary of the party which both in Iowa and the arena of his Senate activities who disfavored him, Brookhart's figure cast across the capital the shadow of a symbol of displeasure in Iowa the Congressional dallying of farm relief, and all reinforcements for the Senate insurgent group of which he became in less than four years a valued member. Read out of his party in 1924 by the State Central Committee of Iowa and in 1925 by the Republican Senate Caucus and assailed by his colleagues after his denunciation in the 1924 campaign of Charles G. Dawes as the party vice-presidential nominee and his support of LaFollette for the presidency, Brookhart won yesterday the Republican nomination by vote of approximately the extremist claim of his adherence.

Renominated with him of the face of incomplete returns is Congressman Haugen, author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Austria to Apply U. S. Business Ideas

Vienna, June 7.—(INS)—American business methods will have to be applied to Austrian commercial enterprises to bring the country out of its present slump, is the belief of a group of Austrian merchants and professional men who have been studying the American way of doing business.

The energy and self-orientation which Americans display in business must be adopted by Austrians, Alfred Hershey, Vienna's leading engineer, declared in a lecture before the Nether Austrian Traders' Association. The association is attemping to give Austrians the benefit of a knowledge of American methods by a series of lectures delivered by Austrians, who have studied Americans.

Herr Hershey believes that it is necessary for Austrians to change their business methods, but not until they have studied Americans thoroughly and understand the fundamental elements of American organization. Any haphazard introduction would be doomed to failure, he said.

Scores of the leading Viennese houses are becoming interested in studying America. In order to do so first hand, a party of about fifty directors of various Austrian enterprises will leave for America sometime in June to make a tour of the large industrial and business centers, and if necessary, remain several months to gain a thorough knowledge of how things are done in America. A number of firms are privately sending employees to the United States on the same quest, particularly to the banking and cotton centers.

All Papers in Case of Young Soldier of Fortune to Be Reviewed by Paris Office

Paris, June 8.—(AP)—War Minister Painleve intervened today to save the life of Bennett J. Doty, of Memphis, Tenn. He telegraphed the military authorities at Syria, where Doty is held for deserting the foreign legion, ordering them to send the documents in the case to Paris for examination. The War Minister also ordered that the execution be suspended until the ministry has had time to pass on the evidence in the case.

Paris, June 8.—(AP)—The French Foreign Office notified the War Ministry upon the recommendation of American Ambassador Herrick today that in case a sentence of death already has been passed upon Bennett J. Doty, of Memphis, a member of the French Legion in Syria, it should not be carried out until all papers in the case have been referred to Paris.

The Foreign Office assured the Ambassador it would do all possible to straighten out the case in which Doty, who enlisted under the name of Gilbert Claire, is charged with desertion and rebellion from the Foreign Legion.

Class Day, Alumnae Banquet and Recital Featured Yesterday's Program; Graduating Exercises Today

(By CARL GOERCH)

While an audience of more than one thousand undergraduates, members of the graduating class and visitors sat in spell bound and flattering silence, Congressman T. Webber Wilson, of Laurel, Miss., this morning delivered the commencement address at the East Carolina Teachers College. The presentation of a portrait of General Bryan Grimes and the awarding of diplomas and Bibles and the conferring of degrees to one hundred and eighty-five graduates brought to a close the graduation program of the institution.

Congressman Wilson was introduced by Robert H. Wright, President of the college, who referred to the sneaker as being one of the recognized leaders of Congress, and a young man, despite his years, had already made an enviable record of service to his country.

Mr. Wilson expressed his appreciation to President Wright and remarked by saying that he loved to get his flowers while living rather than having them placed upon his tomb after his death.

"While I feel that Mr. Wright has greatly exaggerated in speaking of my good qualities," he said, "still I have always been of the opinion that one of the greatest tragedies in life is withholding kind remarks and praise. I appreciate the honor of being asked to deliver the commencement address at this institution and I am glad to visit the section of the country from which my ancestors came."

Mr. Wilson spoke on "The Greatest Battle in Life." He has a splendid delivery and he brought out the forceful points of his address in most impressive fashion.

"There have been many great battles in the history of the world," he said. "We have read of how Leonidas led his Spartans against the Medes and Persians and how Napoleon fought his way to numerous victories. But we need not delve into the dusty past to find a record of great wars. However, the greatest battle is not of swords but of principle. The greatest battle is between two contending forces—right and wrong; and a battle ground is on the plains of the immortal soul."

"A few years ago we saw training camps scattered throughout our nation where men were taught to fight. Those training camps, I am glad to say, have largely been dismantled and today we have the kind of training camps as are represented by this institution. Every living creature is a soldier in the battle between right and wrong. Every living creature must wage his part of the fight. No one can dodge it and it is warfare to the eternal conclusion."

"There are two standards in this world. There is a false standard erected by the world. The other is the true standard erected by the great Galilean Philosopher. You have read of the wealth and power of Babylon and you know also of the great prestige exercised by Greece and Rome. They perished because they tried to emulate the material and forgot to fight for a principle. And in our present day and time we have the illustration given by Germany. I have heard men say that Germany perished in 1914, but I believe that Germany came to an end fifty years ago when Bismark and other great thinkers of that country preached openly to the world that the hour has struck between what they called the sentimentalism of Jesus Christ on one hand and the militarism of Bonaparte on the other."

"I wish to say by way of parenthesis, that the most dangerous thing in this world is the wrong kind of education and the most dangerous animal is an educated fool. There is only one kind of education that is worth anything and that is the kind which not only teaches the head but also

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Moscow, June 7.—(INS)—Ekaterinoslav, famous old city of the Ukraine named for Catherine the Great, is the latest Soviet city to fall victim to the post-revolutionary habit of re-christening every spot which bears a name reminiscent of the old regime. Ekaterinoslav's new name is Petrovsky on the Dnieper, in honor of the secretary of the Ukrainian Central Executive Committee, Petrovsky.

Beginning with Petrograd, more than 100 important cities of Russia have been renamed since 1918. Leningrad proved the most difficult name to bring into popular use in spite of the fact that Lenin was the most popular of all the Bolshevik leaders. A current wisecrack here now is to remark "when Peter the Great built Leningrad." Only by enforcing a postoffice order that no letter would be delivered addressed to Petrograd, was it possible finally to make the new name stick.

Nearly every dead or living Bolshevik leader is now more or less immortalized by having his name in the list of postoffices. The big Bolshevik names adorn the big cities or provinces, and the medium-sized ones the small towns, while still more obscure figures have to be content with their names on street signs.

Lenin naturally leads the field. There is not only Leningrad, the city, but Leningrad province. The city of Simbirsk were renamed respectively Ulianov and Ulianov province, after Lenin's real name, Vladimir Ilyich Ulianov. Two towns, Prihib and Taldom, took the name of Lenisk and Alexandropol was rechristened Lenin-Kan.

Trotsky, unfortunately, suffered political disfavor, and had to put up with a small suburb of Leningrad, Gatchina, where the Amundsen dirigible sojourned awhile, and which was renamed Trotsky.

Stalin, all-powerful general secretary of the Communist Party, drew a prize in the shape of the important city of Tzaritsin, renamed Stalingrad.

So far has the mania gone for changing names, that not even the policemen and droshky drivers can tell a stranger where to go in Moscow or Leningrad if the address desired is in the new terminology. To make it the more confusing the city authorities frequently change the name of a street, and then leave the old signs up. The official name of the "Novski Prospect" in Leningrad is "The Prospect of the Twenty-fifth of October." But the signs still read "Novski Prospect" and nobody calls it anything else.

Jack Johnson's Ring Come-Back Barred by Cal.

Los Angeles, June 7.—(INS)—Jack Johnson, the only negro world's heavyweight champion, will have to stage his incipient ring "come-back" somewhere outside of California.

That was definitely decided by the California State Boxing Commission at its last monthly meeting here.

Following a 15-round decision over Pat Lester, Arizona heavyweight, in the Nogales, Mexico, bull pen, Johnson found himself on the verge of physical, pugilistic and, incidentally, financial rehabilitation. In the fight with Lester, Johnson showed enough of his old time skill and cunning to raise the hue and cry. He not only endured fifteen rounds, but also took the decision, which is extremely commendable under a passionate Mexican sun at the intriguing age of 48.

And just to make the fad more resonant, Lester, shortly thereafter showed he wasn't the worst fighter in Tucson, Arizona, by scoring a 5-round technical knockout over Tony Fuente, the Mexican heavyweight.

Immediately after the Nogales incident, several California promoters made applications for permits to have Johnson demonstrate his venerable ware in Los Angeles. Forced to face the issue by these applicants, the State Boxing Commission announced that Johnson was persona non grata, or even worse than that in California.

"The action of the commission," Captain Seth P. Strelinger the chairman, explained, "was prompted by the conviction that Johnson has never done the boxing game any lasting good and he's too old now to learn how."

'MISS BREWSTER'S MILLIONS' AT WHITE'S THEATRE

Some girls have beauty and some the rare combination of beauty and brains. Yet close to a hundred possessing that ideal combination are still wondering why they were not selected for the gorgeous fashion show which will be introduced in "Miss Brewster's Millions," the new starring picture of Bebe Daniels, which comes to White's Theatre Wednesday.
More than 100 of Hollywood's prettiest girls were interviewed before ten were selected.
"Miss Brewster's Millions" is a Paramount picture which, it is believed, will intrench Bebe Daniels firmly as the screen's foremost comedienne.
Her supporting cast includes Warner Baxter and Ford Sterling, both of whom are featured.

ENTERTAIN SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Mrs. W. A. Sellars and Miss Willard Whichard delightfully entertained the members of the Dorcas Sunday School class of the Jarvis Memorial Sunday School Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Sellars on Tenth street. The home was very attractively decorated with sweet peas and other spring flowers.

This being the beginning of the new year, the officers were elected and they are: Miss Alma Marrison, president; Miss Beulah Westmoreland, vice-president; Miss Ella Lockwell, secretary; Miss Willard Whichard, treasurer; Mrs. Whit Harris, reporter. After the election of officers Mrs. T. A. Person, who for some time has been acting as teacher of this class for Mrs. Hooker, gave a very interesting and worthwhile talk. Each member of the class assures Mrs. Person of their appreciation for teaching them. Mrs. Hooker then presented to the members of the class who are graduating at the college, a beautiful present. The girls who are graduating are Misses Anne Lee Howard, Ruth Howard, Dearnie Boone Haskett, Frances Smith, Ella Tucker

Smith.
After all the regular business had been closed, the meeting was turned over to the hostesses. They had some very interesting contests and amusements, the prizes were awarded to Miss Rebecca Edmonds, Mrs. J. W. Tyn dall and Miss Virginia Ratcliffe. An ice course was served. The guests of the class were Mrs. Person and Miss Edmonds. Several of the old girls who have been away teaching, were present and we enjoyed having them back with us again. After each one had expressed their enjoyment to the hostesses the good nights were said.

Karnak Best On Market Says Carolina Farmer

"I Live Within a Few Miles of Where I Was Born and All the People Know Me and Know How This Medicine Has Fixed Me Up," Declares Harrison

"I've often seen the time during the past two years when I would have given everything I possessed to be able to enjoy the hearty meals that I do now, and that's just one of the things Karnak has done for me," declares T. S. Harrison, well-known farmer, of route No. 2, Moore, S. C., while in Spartanburg recently.
"Yes, sir, Karnak helped me in so many ways I'll tell anybody it's the best medicine on the market," continues Mr. Harrison. "I suffered with a bad stomach for a long time. Indigestion and a terrible condition of the stomach just gave me all kinds of trouble.

"Didn't seem like I could eat a thing without my stomach turning sour and gas bloating me up till I was in such misery and pain I could hardly bear it. I was so nervous and restless I couldn't half sleep, and I was in such a rundown condition that I felt weak and wornout all the time.
"But the very first bottle of Karnak convinced me that I had the right medicine, and I kept taking the medicine and improving steadily till I am now like a new man. I eat anything I want without it hurting me, even eat cabbage for supper, and then go to bed and just sleep like a top.
"All the indigestion, bloating and gas pains are gone, and I am just brimful of new life and energy. I live within just a few miles of where I was born, all the people know me, and they all know how Karnak has fixed me up. I tell you, it's doing a man a real favor to get him to take Karnak."
Karnak is sold in Greenville by B. S. Warren and all leading druggists.

WILL WE HEED THE CALL?

With the closing exercises today the Eastern Carolina Teachers College rounds out seventeen years of service to the state and nation, the benefits of which will be felt not only by the present generation in this state but future generations as well. It was pointed out by President Wright in his address to the Alumnae of the college yesterday that at present there are 60,000 children in this state being taught by young women who have never received as high or higher than a high school certificate which is a condition that should not be allowed to exist.

Despite the large numbers being graduated from the colleges of the state, there is an ever increasing demand for qualified teachers and if North Carolina hopes to attain a place near the top of the column of states, some provision to meet this demand must be made.

During the history of the East Carolina Teachers College, more applications for entrance have been rejected than have been received because of the inability of the college to take care of the enormous number and already more than five hundred applicants for the 1927-28 term have been declined. The children of North Carolina are entitled to and want education and understanding, and the young women of the state feel the call of duty and seek to fit themselves to carry on the wonderful work of teaching, yet the institutions of learning must say to these young women, "We have no room, you cannot enter." It is a wonderful work that the Teachers College is doing and the record it has made for itself is an enviable one but, at that, it is not and cannot accomplish its full mission unless provision is made to take care of the hundreds who now are unable to gain admission.

Naturally, money is needed for this program of expansion and with the call for money comes the howl of "burdensome taxes" but it is to be hoped that those who represent the people of North Carolina in the next General Assembly will realize that money spent for education of the children of the state is not an expense but an investment in future citizens that will return to the state untold dividends and that this realization will prompt them to heed the call for better facilities to train teachers to teach the children of the state.

EXCEEDING THE FUNCTIONS OF GOVERNMENT

There is no business or industry in the country which gives as unselfishly of its time and money in support of the government, as do the publishers. And there is no industry in the country which feels so heavily the hand of government competition as do the publishers. Under its plan of having return addresses printed on stamped envelopes, the government has built up a commercial printing business which excludes competition. On the same "theory" that the government can have return addresses printed on envelopes cheaper than it can be done by private firms, it might also furnish letterheads, billheads and other printing.

The printers and publishers do not object to the government selling stamped envelopes, as this is a function of government the same as making money. But they can see no reason for the government extending its activity into printing individual return addresses on such envelopes. This is an entirely separate operation, and a function which should be performed by local printing offices.

The banks, the grocery stores, the department stores and manufacturing plants would object strenuously if the government suggested producing or selling the particular commodities or services which they now render, and yet they see nothing wrong in the government invading the field of the printing industry.

Camel is the smoker's sign of friendship

IN THE home, or at the club—in busy office or crowded street—whenever friend meets friend, you will hear that magic invitation—have a Camel!

And wherever Camels are lighted, men come together in more friendly understanding. No other cigarette ever had or made so many friends or brought so much added friendliness to the world as Camel, for Camel's quality is a universal language.

Camel is more than a cigarette. It is an experience in smoking enjoyment—the finest this old earth affords. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown, and these fine tobaccos are superbly blended, as in no other cigarette. The enjoyment of Camels goes on forever, for they never tire the taste no matter how liberally you smoke them. They simply never leave a cigaretty after-taste. No other cigarette in the world is like them. Millions of experienced smokers who could well afford to pay more will buy and smoke only Camels.

Whenever and wherever you meet a friend, let that be a standing invitation to the sheerest enjoyment that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Kiwanis Head Says Body Has Extended Service

Proves Mother Is Your Closest Friend

Jersey City, Mr. J. Paul writes: "I awakened each morning with an unpleasant taste and was often reminded by my Mother that my breath was disagreeable. I tried perfumed tablets, mouth washes and other camouflages which gave temporary relief. After consulting my dentist and finding my teeth in good condition, a friend suggested I take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills my stomach and bowels were relieved, foul and impure gases eliminated." impresive and as important as Barnum & Bailey's, is the latest to go. An American bank has bought the old-fashioned looking structure on the rue Sa. Honoré. The first director of the Cirque was a curious man who had begun life as a porter at one of the biggest stations in Paris. One day an actress whose baggage he was carrying, fell in love with him and after they had been married made him director of the circus where she had been playing. Under his direction the famous clowns, Footitt and Chocolat were engaged. Footitt was an Englishman and Chocolat was an American negro. Their antics established the fame of the theatre and made Donval, the ex-baggage smasher, one of the most talked of men in Paris. After Footitt had retired he bought a restaurant near the Champs Elysees, which is still under the supervision of his widow and is famous as a meeting place for the old-timers of the American colony. Phillis, who was one of the most daring of bareback riders, was one of the standbys of the Cirque, whose fame went further than the footlights. He was engaged by the Minister of War to train the cavalry horses at the Military Schools of France. The text book, which he wrote at that time, is still preserved as a model in most of the Military Schools of Europe.

GIRLS! Beware of Wrinkles That Form Around Eyes, Mouth

When They Appear. As They Surely Will, Try This Successful Treatment

The most dependable and effective method I know of is to massage them with an old-time butter-milk cream recipe called Howard's Butter-milk Cream. Rubbing gently across the line of the wrinkles to bring new fresh blood to the surface. If you will do this for about five minutes each night before retiring, no other treatment is necessary.

Howard's Butter-milk Cream is obtainable at any up-to-date drug or toilet goods counter and no matter whether you are troubled with wrinkles, hard little lines around eyes and mouth; coarse, scaly, faded looking skin or simply roughness and redness caused by wind or sun, you will find these troubles quickly disappear with the use of this old-fashioned recipe brought up-to-date. ### BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by Black-Draught.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says: "Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated. A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to clean my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work." One cent a dose. * NC-151

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF PITT COUNTY:

At the solicitation of a few friends, I was induced to make my announcement as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives.

At the primary on Saturday, June 5th, I was nominated for this very important office.

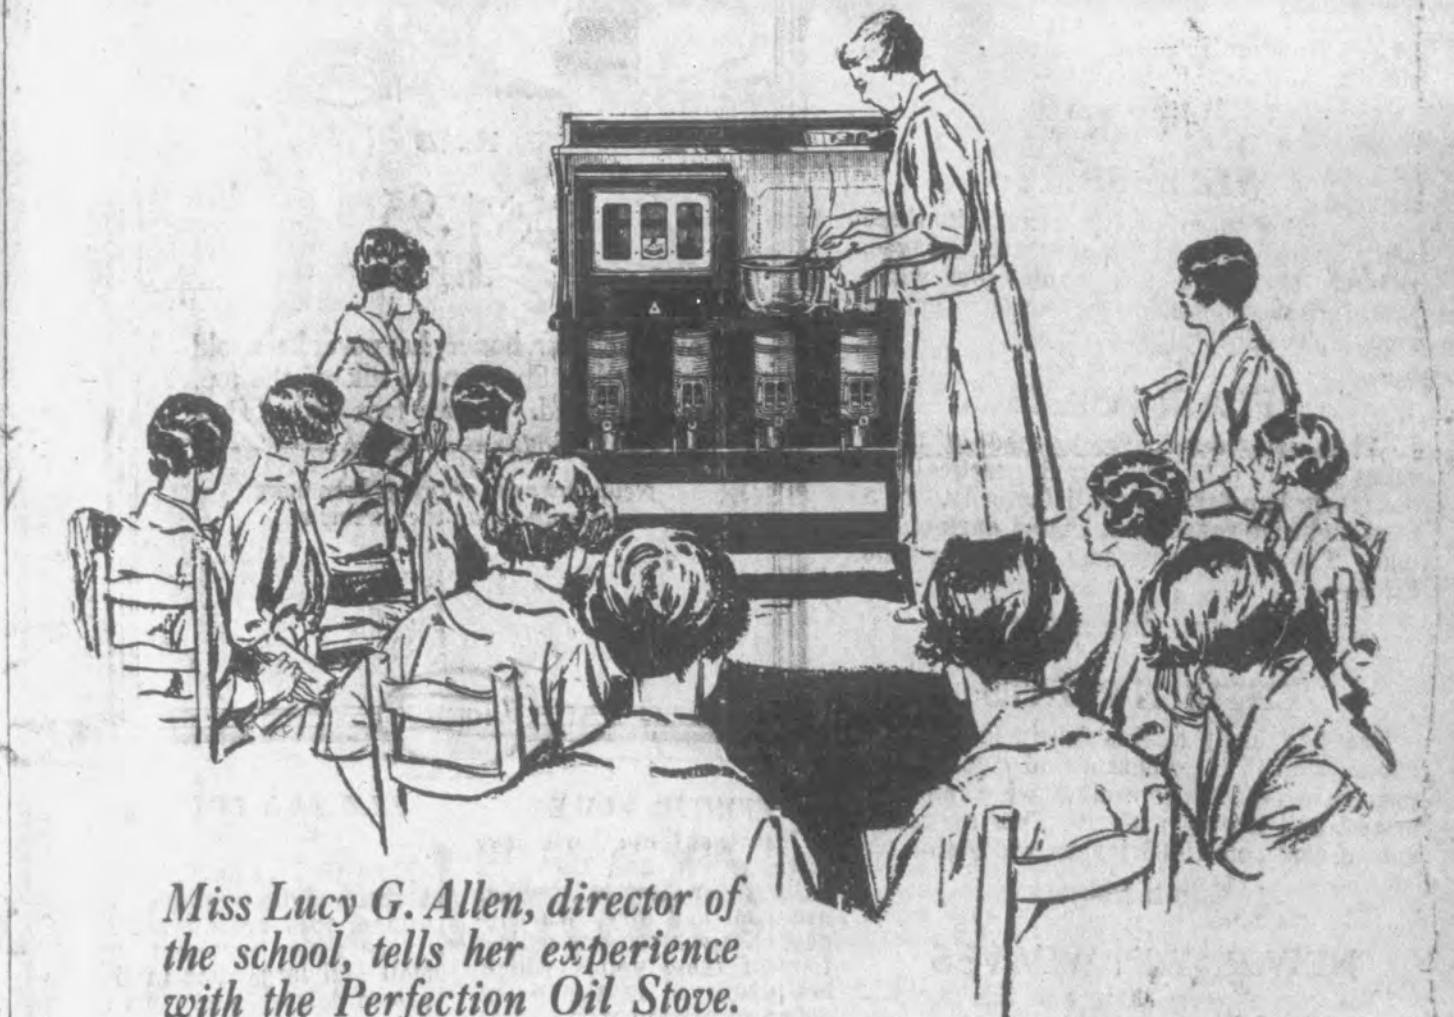

In my humble way I want to express my deep appreciation to the Democratic voters of Pitt County for this honor.

In accepting this honor, I want to say to you, I accept same at your hand for no other purpose than to do the most good for the largest number of my people.

I did not seek this office, have written no letters, or asked anyone to vote for my nomination other than my announcement. I am under obligations to no man and I promise you, if elected, I will use my best judgment and vote for or against the laws as will be for the best interest of the people of my state and county. I feel deeply the responsibility imposed upon me as your Representative of the Democratic Party and will try to the best of my ability to justify your confidence.

BOSTON SCHOOL of COOKERY Tests and Approves

Miss Lucy G. Allen, director of the school, tells her experience with the Perfection Oil Stove.

MISS LUCY ALLEN, director of the conservative Boston School of Cookery, is one of six famous cooks who recently put the Perfection Stove to a rigorous, practical cooking test. Like the other five famous cooks, Miss Allen cooked by every cooking process, and gave us her opinion of the Perfection.

Uniformly Good Results "I cooked many meals on the Perfection Stove," says Miss Allen. "The results, whether using the top of the stove, the oven, the broiler, or the toaster were uniformly good. There were several features sufficiently pronounced to recommend the stove to the most particular people.

Easy to Work on "The Perfection is an easy stove to work on. There is no reaching across several hot plates, as there is with a gas or coal range.

Clean Kettles "There was no black deposit on the cooking utensils, even when the high, yellow tipped flame was used for broiling steak.

"The long chimneys burn every drop of oil completely before the heat reaches the utensils. "We were so well pleased with the 1926 Perfection Stove, both as to results and operation, that after completing the test we kept it to use for auxiliary work in our classes," she concluded.

Tested and approved by the Boston School of Cookery! That means that the Perfection was used under all possible cooking conditions—for slow cooking, for fast cooking; for baking, for frying, and for broiling. In every case it was found efficient.

Six Cooks Agree The other five famous cooks who tested the Perfection were enthusiastic, too, about the results obtained. And, every day 4,500,000 women get real cooking satisfaction from their Perfections.

See these 1926 Perfections at any dealer's. All sizes from a one-burner stove at $6.75 to a five-burner range at $120.00. When you cook on a 1926 Perfection, you, too, will be well pleased with it.

When anesthesia for surgical operations was first discovered, a great majority of British clergy men objected, saying God wanted men to suffer, and to make a man unconscious under the surgeon's knife was to defy God's will. The young doctor who pointed out that God put Adam into "a deep sleep," before taking out his rib was ingenious.

You can set up a wooden Indian at the edge of the sidewalk, but unless you anchor him firmly, he'll fall over.

Some brand new, made to order nations in Europe, created with a wave of the hand will prove to be wooden Indians, badly anchored.

It is unpleasant to mention names, but some foolish Americans that have bought bonds issued by those wooden Indians are going to be unpleasantly surprised. A nation that could not stand up on its own account, will not remain standing, merely because some one has propped it up against the fence.

CROWDS ENJOY GOOD FISHING AT PAMLICO BEACH

In spite of the unseasonable weather, Pamlico Beach opened last Friday night with a successful dance, at which music was furnished by the Vagabonds, a local orchestra. Several local people attended, and were delighted with the hotel service which is under the direction of Mrs. Brotners, of La Grange. Mr. Ollie Clark is in charge of the office, and Ollie always makes his guests feel at home.

The fishing at Pamlico Beach is reported to be very good. Every party that yet a hook during the week-end had excellent luck, and several strings of over a hundred of the funny tribe were exhibited by the proud owners. The croakers seem to be larger this year than ever before. The roads are being put in excellent shape, and with the coming of the hot summer weather, a large patronage is anticipated by the management. The usual Saturday night dance will be given next Saturday night.

Commencement of Teachers College Ends This Morning

inspires the heart. If you will walk with me to the heights of civilization, I will show you in the dim and gloomy valleys below, the epitaph of nations once great and powerful and in every case these epitaphs read: "They Forgot God."

"One of our greatest troubles of today is that young men and young women are endeavoring to live under false standards. I have the utmost degree of contempt for modern society and flapperism. We need to get back to the altars where our fathers worshipped."

"Some folks think that every young lady with bobbed hair is a flapper, but I do not agree with them. You cannot make a flapper out of a woman with a pair of scissors. Flapperism does not result from a condition of the head but of the heart. A flapper, as I see it, is one who had rather preside over the destinies of a dance hall or a card table than over the destinies of a Christian home."

"We have a great nation. It is because America always has fought for a principle and never has sheathed its sword in defence of a righteous cause. And as it is with a nation so it is with individuals. Immortality comes through losing your life in the service of others. We should not ask ourselves 'What will I get out of this?' but 'What can I put into this?' As I stated at the beginning of my talk the greatest sight in the world is that of a young man or young woman standing tiptoe, eager with anticipation, ready to serve and willing to make this land of ours a better place in which to live. The most inspiring sight that I can possibly imagine is this group seated here before me who are about to go forth to instruct the children of North Carolina and to put into actual work the quotation of that Great Master 'I came unto this world not to be ministered unto, but to minister unto mankind'."

The portrait of General Bryan Grimes was presented by Senator S. J. Everett, who spoke in highest praise of the splendid service rendered North Carolina and the South by this great hero of the War Between the States. F. C. Harding, on behalf of the board of trustees of the college accepted the portrait.

Preceding the awarding of the diplomas President Wright thanked the descendants of General Grimes for the portrait and stated that the East Carolina Teachers College would always keep alive the memory of the hero's great deeds.

As members of the two-year normal class and the A. B. graduates passed in single file across the stage President Wright presented diplomas and Bibles to the former and also conferred the A. B. degree upon the latter. In his concluding remarks the president of the institution mentioned the several gifts which had been presented the school. Among those were a beautiful pergola, given by the alumnae of the school; a large clock for the library, presented by the A. B. graduates; a donation of one hundred and fifty dollars for the Y. W. C. A., and a class pledge of a fund to be used for the establishment of a scholarship which shall become effective in 1926. The latter gift was made by two-year normal graduates who requested that it be known as the H. E. Austin scholarship. "In honor of him who has endeared himself to our class for the service he has rendered our college," Mr. Wright also expressed his appreciation of the loyal support given the college by the student body, the alumnae, and friends of the institution at large. He said that greater facilities for the accommodation of additional students who wish to enter but who had been debarred during the last term because of insufficient accommodations.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. H. F. Jones, pastor of the Greenville Memorial Baptist Church, bringing to a close the most interesting commencement program ever rendered at the East Carolina Teachers College.

Beginning with the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning by Dr. A. E. Cory, pastor of the Christian church at Kinston, East Carolina Teachers College yesterday continued its annual commencement exercises of that institution, with a class day program last night and closed with graduation exercises this morning.

This year's graduating class, consisting of 236, is the largest in the history of the institution. Founded in 1907 and with the first year's educational program starting in 1909 the East Carolina Teachers College has enjoyed a steady growth. Each year has seen an increasing number of students here, and each year has witnessed a great expansion in the building and educational programs.

The graduating exercises throughout were well attended. The huge auditorium was filled to its capacity limit Sunday and thousands of visitors thronged the campus and various buildings of the college yesterday and today. Yesterday morning the alumnae association held its annual meeting which was attended by well over one hundred graduates of the school. The meeting was followed by a luncheon at which both alumnae and members of the graduating class, as well as members of the board of trustees and other invited guests were present. Miss Pearl Wright acted as toast mistress and carried upon several of the graduates and members of the faculty for brief talks. The principal address was delivered by President Robert H. Wright, who spoke feelingly of the loyalty and devotion that alumnae of the East Carolina Teachers College had always displayed and were continuing to display to this institution. Commenting on the splendid growth of the college Mr. Wright stated that the institution was planning for a still further expansion and that he hoped the next session of the legislature would make an appropriation sufficient to care for at least three hundred more students. He said that there were more than 60,000 children in North Carolina who were being taught by teachers who did not even possess a high school diploma, and that North Carolina could not expect to see her children well educated unless she provided teachers who themselves possessed the proper education.

One of the most beautiful and impressive pageants ever seen in eastern North Carolina was presented last evening by the senior class with the aid of other students of the college. Elaborate in its staging the pageant was witnessed by a large number of visitors who came here from all sections of eastern North Carolina. Entitled "A Little Pageant of Time" it was divided into man's search for a measure of time and the power of time in the senior class.

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs

Doctors declare that bed bugs and other vermin are the most to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no disgrace in getting bed bugs in your home, because that can't be avoided. But it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly puts an end to these pesky devils.

A Million Bed-bugs
A 35-cent package of this golden chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bed bugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. Instantly it smother and annihilates the living creatures; coats their eggs and stops them from hatching and multiplying.

Cut This Out
Your druggist has P.D.Q. and will be glad to furnish it for 50 cents. One package makes a quart of the mixture and is equal to a barrel of old-fashioned bug-killer. Don't accept a substitute. If your druggist hasn't P.D.Q., write Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind., sending us your name and 35 cents and we will send you a package postage prepaid to your address.

Will Not Damage Goods
P.D.Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, wall paper or woodwork. In fact, it is often used as a deodorizer and disinfectant.

Kills Fleas on Dogs

If your pet dog is infested with fleas take a little P.D.Q. mixture in your hand and rub into the fur. Then watch the fleas move. They will be dead before they hit the floor.

Moths

Very simple to rid these pests from fur or clothing. Just follow the directions on each package. Impossible for moths to resist with the proper use of P.D.Q. A treatment on garments will prevent moths for two years.

For Ants and Cockroaches

Ants and cockroaches stand no chance of surviving a treatment of P.D.Q. It attacks them and their eggs with such force that it kills their whole generation.

P.D.Q. in Liquid Form

P.D.Q. can be purchased in sealed bottles double strength liquid form, with patent sprayer. P.D.Q. Liquid can be diluted to make a quart or it can be used pure.

P.D.Q. is marketed in two style packages. Liquid form 50c, ready for use and P.D.Q. Dry form, 25c. Each package makes one quart. Get P.D.Q. from your druggist today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.
