VOTE, TOMORROW

Don't forget that tomorrow is the day of the second primary and all citizens are again expected to vote their choice for certain public offices. Remember the men in public office are as good as the citizens who vote to put them there...

A community will grow and prosper in its entirety and continuously, in the same ratio that its industries develop and prosper. In other words, a community is only as great and powerful as its industries.

LET'S KEEP IT IN THE LAND OF THE FREE

After declaring that excess legislation is a basic cause for present lawlessness, George W. Reilly, president of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, said: "Another dangerous and growing tendency of government in this country is the disposition of legislature to pass laws, and of governmental agencies to make and enforce regulations that are unnecessarily harrassing and restricting to business and the individual."

"We have developed a passion for lawmaking and governmental supervision. Unless this disposition is checked, every movement and action of our lives will be supervised and corrected by some government agency, bureau or commission, whose salaries and expenses must be provided by us in taxes."

"We boast that ours is a land of liberty, and yet the curious fact is, that the American people are, by law, forbidden to do more things, and ordered to do more things than was the case in Russia under the Czar, or in Turkey under the Sultan."

FIRST AID PAYS DIVIDENDS

Probably not one business establishment out of ten, with several employees or employers at work, has an adequate first-aid kit, or a knowledge of how to use it if it were there. First-aid does not mean surgical or hospital equipment or medi-ical skill for final treatment of severe cases; it means only the quick, easy remedies and methods for minor accidents, or palliatives or preliminary treatment for the more serious cases that the hospital must finish.

Compensation insurance figures show that the ratio of major to minor injuries is only about one to 20; but that infection that might have been avoided by good first-aid treatment, is responsible for practically one-half of all injuries paid for under compensation. In brief, minor injuries that should have been cured with the preliminary first-aid treatment, make up one-half of all the compensation losses. Ignorance and disregard double the cost of compensation; they double also the load of suffering and impaired earning ability that uncompensated industry must carry.

Three great industries that with more than 12,000 dead first-aid treatment, report that with more than 12,000 cases in three years, there has been not one case of infection, that for industry at large causes one-half of all hospital and compensation and loss cases.

Girl Hostesses In Dance Halls Scandalize N. Y.

New York, July 2.—(INS)—The band keeps playing in 873 licensed dance halls here despite repeated charges from reformers that these "jazz palaces" are very wicked places. Immorality, liquor traffic and obscene dancing run riot in many of these dance halls, it is alleged. The employment of young girls, as hostesses who dance with all comers, the holding of "romper nights" during which the squads of hostesses are costumed accordingly, the practice of night clubs hiring hostesses as "steerers," form the basis of complaints to the police.

The authorities are making every effort to clean up objectionable dance hall, but it is difficult to secure sufficient evidence to revoke a license. Since January 1, there have been 67 arrests made in "jazz palaces." Of these only five received sentences, the remainder being discharged or drawing suspended sentences. New York's Great White Way together with the main cross-streets are dotted with these pay-as-you-dance establishments. Some are run on a gigantic scale, occupying the entire square block with elaborate decorations within and a staff of 150 hostesses at times.

Many of the establishments cater to the "stag" male patron and the unescorted girl. On place prints the following on its menu card: "Here the unescorted girl is assured courteous treatment and a refined evening of entertainment and of real dance pleasure."

NANTUCKET BARRED AUTOS MANY YEARS

Nantucket, Mass., July 1.—(INS)—This island which until May, 1918, barred automobiles from its shores and roads, has just had its first fatal accident. James E. Taylor, 45, sustained a broken neck when an automobile driven by Miss Lillian Bartlett, skidded on the state road near the Matakot Coast Guard Station, and overturned. Miss Bartlett and Frank Gilbert, owner of the car, were pinned under it and suffered injuries.

SOUTH'S SUGAR CANE CROP IS THREATENED

Tallahassee, Fla., July 1.—(INS)—Dixie is threatened with losing its nationally accepted hold on sugar cane production. And the only way to remedy this situation is for the growers to substitute another variety of cane within the next few years. These were the facts contained in an article in the current number of the Department of Agriculture bulletin. "The sugar cane fields of Northern and Western Florida are sick," the article said. "In fact there is a very severe disease called mosaic that is spreading among all the so-called ribbon cane varieties. While it is largely restricted to Florida, Southern Georgia and Louisiana, it is likely that all of the cane in the south will become infected by the disease," the article declared.

ANDREWS-TUCKER

A wedding of much interest and beauty was solemnized at the Winterville Episcopal church, on Monday evening, June 28, when Miss Josie Mae Tucker became the bride of Mr. Francis Leland Andrews, of Bethel, N. C.

The church was lovely in its decorations of palms and ferns and baskets of Queen Anne's lace, while the mellow glow of myriads of candles on the altar enhanced the beauty of the scene.

Miss Virginia Beele Cooper, of Ayden, the organist of the occasion, wearing a beautiful dress of blue taffeta and lace and carrying a corsage of sweet peas, entered first. Miss Frances Smith of Bethel, wearing yellow georgette with corsage of sweet peas and Mrs. Sam Pierre of Ayden, dressed in flesh georgette, with corsage of sweet peas, entered next, and Miss Smith sang the "Sweetest Story Ever Told," by Stultz, followed by "My Heart At Thy Dear Voice," by Saint Siza, which was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Sam Pierre.

Prior to the entrance of the bridal party, Miss Cooper softly played "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "Traumerei," by Shumann. To the first strains of Lohengrin's, the bridal party entered as follows: Mr. John Burton Bunting, followed by Miss Elizabeth Andrews, bridesmaid, wearing lace over pink taffeta; Mr. Nowell, followed by Miss Annie Gertrude Jones, bridesmaid, wearing lace over blue georgette. The bridesmaids carried shower bouquets of sweet peas. Next to enter was Mr. Tucker, he was followed by the dame of honor, Mrs. Leon Cannon, who wore green and gold taffeta and carried sweet peas. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Beatrice Tucker, wearing a lovely gown of blue ball georgette, with lace and velvet, and carrying an arm bouquet of Columbia roses with shower of sweet peas.

Just preceding the entrance of the bride, little Alldyce James, dressed in Lord Fauntleroy suit of black satin, with white satin blouse, entered, bearing the ring in heart of a white rose on silver tray. He was followed by the flower girls, Frances and Eileen Horton, wearing dainty georgette dresses and carrying baskets of rose petals which they scattered in the path of the bride who entered on the arm of her grandmother, Mrs. Susan McLawhorn, by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Jasper Smith.

The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Brunson, of Ayden Christian church, the bride's pastor. The bride was lovely in an exquisite dress of pink georgette hand embroidered and picture hat of pink with rhinestone ornaments. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses with shower of valley lilies.

The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride is the popular and attractive granddaughter of Mrs. Susan McLawhorn and niece of Mrs. R. L. Abbott and numbers her friends by the score.

Mr. Andrews, the groom, is a prominent young merchant of Bethel and a young man of sterling worth and character.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews left by automobile for Rocky Mount where they took the train for a tour of several northern cities.

It was amid showers of rice that the happy couple left the church and were followed by the bride's attendants, to her home, where she donned a traveling suit of blue with blonde accessories, and hurriedly slipped away.

Mr. and Mrs. Overton will visit points in North Carolina, Virginia and the District of Columbia before returning.

The bride has always held an important place in Andrews' most prominent social circle and it is the delight of her many friends that they will make their home here.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Overton, of Greenville, North Carolina, is a prominent business man of Andrews. He was graduated from North Carolina State College in the class of 1922. During his residence in Andrews he has made many friends.

Commissioner Grist
Receives Unusual
Application for Job

Raleigh, July 2.—(AP)—“I want a job.”

Such is the opening sentence of a letter recently received by Frank Grist, commissioner of labor and printing.

There is nothing unusual in the request, but the circumstances of the writer of the letter are extraordinary, Mr. Grist said, and he is making every effort to find something for this particular applicant.

A young woman, well educated, with wide interests and exceptional experience, the letter would indicate, is now “crippled and confined to a wheel chair, with the prospect of having to give up my regular work for possibly two or three years longer.”

Not a pleasant prospect, Mr. Grist pointed out, but there is no whining in the letter. It is the letter of an enthusiastic young woman, deeply interested in the world about her, whose misfortune would never be guessed from the tone of the letter.

It is mentioned, in fact, Mr. Grist believes, purely and simply to show the limitations of the applicant as to the sort of job she could fill.

With the prospect of being confined to a wheel chair “for possibly two or three years longer, the applicant “meanwhile should be very happy to find some way to make living expenses.”

“I have plenty of interests to keep me busy now, but I need

Something to bring in financial returns.”

Something of the qualifications and experience of this young woman is recited in the letter: “I graduated from the North Carolina College for Women in 1919 and have an A. B. degree. I was for two years principal of a rural school... and for three years teacher of English in a senior high school. I have studied for credit toward a Master's degree one summer at U. N. C., and one at the University of California. But as I cannot now do any work that calls for my walking or leaving home, I expect that incidental experience will serve me better in finding work.

“In times past I have been a book agent, a farmerette, have worked a short while in a mill, have written and produced pageants, have had dramatic experience, have been summer librarian in one of the large cities of the United States, have been counselor in a summer camp for girls... have traveled over a large part of the United States, have collected folk-lore and negro spirituals. I like to write and revising what others have written, doesn't bore me. I have been interested in the collecting and writing of North Carolina history and legends. I like to do research work or to collect information on special subjects thru newspaper and magazine articles. I like to plan programs for clubs. I can paint family coats of arms and know something about heraldry. I know French and Latin reasonably well. I can write on a typewriter accurately, but very slowly.”

A Carload of Health
And Deliciousness
For Greenville

Merchants Produce Company, Whole Distributors, Receive a Solid Carload of the Delicious Shivar Ale, Celebrated for its Exquisite Flavor and Digestive and Tonic Qualities.

Here is good news for every dyspeptic in Greenville and vicinity; for all those who wish to regain their normal digestion, and natural weight; and for everybody who enjoys a delicious, refreshing and thoroughly wholesome beverage that does the stomach good, instead of harm. Always on the lookout for the best of everything that is good to eat and drink, Merchants Produce Company, wholesale distributors, have secured for their merchant trade in Greenville and vicinity this delightful beverage that combines wholesomeness and deliciousness to a degree that has made it famous in the greatest cities of America as well as in almost every village in the South. Shivar Ale is prepared with the celebrated Shivar Mineral Water from Shelton, S. C., and with pure digestive aromatics of exquisite flavor. Its effect upon the digestion is so grateful that the manufacturers have authorized all merchants to guarantee absolute satisfaction to their customers not only as a delicious table beverage, but as a helpful aid to digestion. Drink a glass of Shivar Ale with each meal and your grocer or druggists will refund the price on the first dozen used if it fails to relieve any case of chronic dyspepsia or indigestion. If you wish to regain your natural weight, order a barrel (it is not expensive) and after using the first dozen your dealer will call for the remainder and refund the entire price if you are not satisfied.

These guarantees are genuine and are made possible by the fact that Shivar Ale possesses unequalled qualities as a beverage, digestant and stomachic tonic. It renders the digestion complete, thereby removing the cause of dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, and loss of weight when due to derangement of the stomach. Try Shivar Ale as a delicious substitute for any of the table beverages you may be using and you cannot fail to be delighted with the change. —(Adv.)

TARPON FISHING RODEO IN AUGUST

Pass Christian, Miss., July 2.—(INS)—Fishermen from all parts of the country will be found headed for Pass Christian early in August for the annual tarpon fishing rodeo here August 5-10, inclusive.

This year's rodeo is expected to bring together the largest number of fishermen ever assembled in the south for any contest.

While tarpon fishing is the pre-eminent purpose of the Pass Christian National Tarpon in staging the rodeo, anglers will be permitted to fish for any species of the finny tribe.

Rules and regulations governing fishing, particularly those relating to tarpon, will be promulgated by the rules committee before the date of the rodeo.

GROOM OF A DAY
KILLED BY AUTO

Atlanta, Ga., July 2.—(INS)—Mrs. Mary Wolfe Padgett's dreams of a quiet old age of love and companionship were suddenly shattered here when James R. Padgett, 83-year-old Confederate veteran, and groom of a day, was run over and killed by a heavy truck in the downtown section of Atlanta.

The old veteran came to Atlanta from Gainesville, Ga., to marry Mrs. Wolfe, and hand in hand the aged couple went to Municipal Court and demanded that they be united in marriage on the spot. All disregard was made of the law which requires acquisition of a license five days in advance.

PLAN MEMORIAL PARK CONFEDERATE
UNION VETERANS

Atlanta, Ga., July 2.—(INS)—Details of plans for laying out a gigantic national memorial park to Union and Confederate veterans of the war between the states—first such memorial to be created—are being worked out by Lieutenant Colonel William P. Stokey, United States Army Engineering Corps.

The plans will be submitted to the Kennesaw Memorial Park Commission within the next 30 days, according to advices received here from Washington. The site for the proposed memorial park is Kennesaw Mountain and its environs, where survivors of the battle of Kennesaw Mountain met recently in commemorative reunion.

Under the law creating the commission, its full report must be made by November 1.

Members of the commission are Major General John L. Clem, U. S. A., retired, chairman, ex-Governor Nat C. Harris, of Georgia, and Colonel Stokey, of the Fourth Corps Area.

Friends On Guard

The purpose of this statement is to put my friends on guard against last-minute attacks. Any statement, bogus affidavit or letter to the effect that I worked for other candidates or lined up or traded with other candidates in either the first or second primary, is absolutely false. I fought only my own battle in the first primary and am not fighting for anybody else now.

Last-minute attacks at the polls, launched for the purpose of influencing the credulous voter are mean, unfair methods, but hard to meet, consequently I am appealing to my friends to be on guard to meet them if they develop tomorrow.

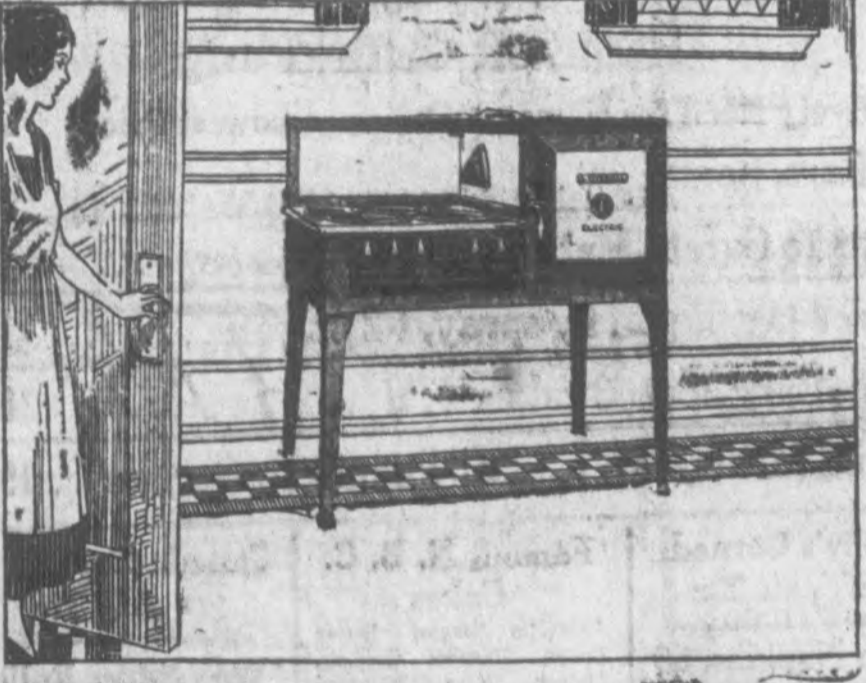

Thanking you one and all, I am,

Respectfully yours,

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Atlanta, Ga., July 2.—(INS)—When George Virgil McLendon, Jr. leaves his home in Gordon, Ala., next September to enter Emory University here, he will bring with him the courageous initiative of a mother who has been his classmate for three years in high school.

The mother, Mrs. Virgil McLendon, and her son, George, received diplomas from Houston county high school at Columbia, Ala., at the same time. Mrs. McLendon, under the name of Lyndia Tilley McLendon, was vice president of the senior class.

During the three years they attended the Houston school the mother and son were absent only once. This was because a storm swept away a bridge between their home and the school.

They were never late either, despite the fact that there was ten miles to travel each morning after Mrs. McLendon prepared two younger children for school.

Georgia may have a "school marm" governor.

Miss Lavonia Seales, Glascock County school teacher, has announced that she will be a candidate for election in Georgia's forthcoming gubernatorial election. And at the same time she announced she would inject some "feminine pep" into the campaign.

"All laws must be enforced or taken off the statute books," Mrs. Seales declared. She added that her platform would include better roads, better schools, more and better teachers, and energetic curbing of crime.

A person has been found who declined an offer to enter the movies. That person is none other than a very striking "double" of Theodore Roosevelt. His name is Dr. Andrew P. Montague, and he is vice president of Mercer University.

Montague was suggested for the T. R. role in a Paramount film. When he received the producer's letter asking for a photograph of himself, Montague smilingly forwarded it but explained that should he be selected for the role, he would be unable to accept it, on account of his duties at Mercer.

Montague is said to bear a striking resemblance to the late president. That is, the way Roosevelt would have looked, perhaps, had he led a life of seclusion of the schoolroom rather than the vigorous out-of-doors life that he seemed to love so well.

Was the document bearing the signature of Bhiton Guinness, one of the three Georgia signers of the Declaration of Independence, which was recently sold in New York for $25,000, purloined from the State of Georgia?

Belief that it had been was expressed by Attorney General George M. Napier, when he prepared to take legal steps for its recovery. The attorney general's belief is based on the fact that the paper was owned by the State of Georgia from December 24, 1871, and the assertion that it had been in the files of the State as recently as 15 years ago.

The document is the will of Joseph Stanley, of Chatham County, which was probated by the State on December 24, 1871. Recently it turned up in New York, and news was broadcast that it had been sold by the Manning estate to the Rosenbach Company, an art house for $22,500.

All that is as old as the great wall.

The strange thing is to see people with golden sand and flowers welcoming men that put them to cutting each other's throats.

Rome will build subways, and Mussolini who respects the past, will avoid as far as possible running fast trains through the catacombs. If the old bones of the early Christians and others could think how would they explain electric trains rushing through the ground with the crowds of the living? Would they believe those trains on their way to the infernal regions, an improvement on Charon's slow old boat.

water exists. If he fishes he will catch fish.

And if fish are scarce he will have more time to think. Taking fish off the hook is an annoying interruption of thought. The President must do hard thinking with the wheat and cotton farmers, north and south fighting each other and nothing "done for the farmer."

The President will not fish with fancy "flies," but with genuine worms, such as he used today up in Vermont or pull out of their ground with his fingers after a rain years ago.

"Gentlemen prefer blondes" is an incomplete formula, according to Mrs. Jane M. Lane, suing her husband for divorce.

She says "gentlemen are eclectic, by which she means her husband "prefers both blondes and brunettes." The judge gave her $75 a week to live on and $500 for counsel fees to fight her eclectic husband.

The news that Carl Laemmle is making an excellent recovery from an operation in London will be welcome. Mr. Laemmle has been a good worker in the moving picture industry, and whoever contributes the building up of that industry is a public benefactor. A contribution to education, public knowledge and happiness.

It is hard work and wears men out quickly.

A Chicago lady, in a hurry to get home, commandeered a Pennsylvania railroad special train, just as Kubla Khan decreed his stately pleasure. It cost $7,037.50. The lady, paying for 125 tickets at $56.30 each, saved six hours. How many are there in the world whose time is worth $1,000 an hour? Many, fortunately, but most of them haven't got $1,000 an hour.

A dictator can do wonderful things, and Mussolini, determined to pull Italy out of her troubles, proves it.

One hour is added, on Mussolini's order, to every Italian's working day. Luxuries are restricted, size of newspapers is limited, building of luxurious houses prohibited, employers are told to feed their workers at lowest possible cost. The French say "Great evils require great remedies." Mussolini intends to supply the great remedy for the great evil of war.

George Buchanan, labor member, told Parliament that he was a republican, and had "no respect, and nothing but contempt for royalty." He wanted to protest against the right of the King to send a coal strike message to Parliament, but the speaker reminded him that the King's name must not be mentioned in debate. In ancient Judea, there was a similar rule about the word "Jehovah." It is difficult for us to understand the shock caused in Britain by that member's reference to royalty. You might as well say: "I have no respect for the law of gravitation."

To know how the public feels about prohibition, watch Congress. An extra appropriation of $2,686,000 for prohibition forces passed the House yesterday with only 33 votes against it.

The dregs may not be a majority. Only a public referendum would decide that. But if not a majority, they are a hard hitting minority, and Congressmen know how hard they can hit.

STOVALL, OLD BALL PLAYER, BACK IN THE GAME AS UMPIRE

Los Angeles, July 1.—(INS)—George Stovall, former manager of the Cleveland and St. Louis American league clubs, admitted today that he will re-enter the game as an umpire or coach.

Stovall has been out of the diamond game for a number of years, but confessed the urge to get back in has become too powerful to be denied.

As he considers himself too old to play with his former nerve and dash, Stovall will become either an umpire or a coach. If he becomes an umpire he will lay himself open to a large amount of poetic justice as Stovall himself when a player and manager was the base of the umpires' existence.

CAMP WARDEN CHARGED WITH MISAPPROPRIATION OF ALA. STATE FUNDS

Birmingham, Ala., July 2.—(INS)—An anti-climax in the expose of a "reign of terrorism" at Flat Top, State camp where convicts mine coal under Alabama's lease system, was written here when charge of misappropriation of State funds were made against Charles R. Davis, former Flat Top warden.

Davis, now under indictment for murder in connection with the death of a convict, James Knox as a result of a long investigation of conditions at the mine by a Jefferson county grand jury, misappropriated $119,000 of state funds during his five-year tenure of office, according to a report filed with Governor Brandon by State Examiner C. C. Brooks.

The report charged that Davis used state funds to meet his personal obligations, that employees were entered on the payroll for time they did not serve, and that expense accounts and supply requisitions, were "grossly falsified." One guard was kept on the payroll for 13 months after he had quit Flat Top, the report said.

The examiner reported Davis' books were kept in haphazard fashion, and that they rarely, if ever, were in balance.
