SMITH BROOKHART IS NOW NOMINEE OF REPUBLICANS

Iowa Republicans Dispute Claims of State Central Committee Today

Des Moines, July 22.—(AP)—Colonel Smith W. Brookhart today is the accepted United States Senatorial nominee of Iowa Republicans, despite the State Central Committee's formal declaration two years ago that he had bolted the party.

The party also has demanded "economic equality for agriculture," Brookhart battle cry.

Three in the last six years of his stormy political career the Colonel has been the nominee, but he has just experienced for the first time the honor usually paid the candidate heading the ticket. His acceptance by the State Convention here yesterday was marked by his declaration from the platform that he would win in the fall election and return to Washington to tell the truth regarding conditions in Iowa.

Brookhart, widely known for his support of the farm relief legislation, the subject which tended to fuse all party factions into a harmonious convention group, asserted he lost his seat in the Senate because he "told the truth. But I'll go back and tell the truth again," he added. It was a holiday for the former senator, who was unseated by Dan F. Steck, and his broad smile showed he enjoyed the new sensations of being escorted amid applause to the convention platform.

Proceeds from the issue, which already had been sold, subject to commission approval to Dillon Read and Company, and Ladenburg Thalmann at 97.75 would be used to partially reimburse the road's treasury for additional embetterments.

New York, July 22.—(AP)—One man was killed and another wounded when five robbers invaded a Broadway jewelry store in a daylight hold-up today. The robbers escaped after fighting their way through a crowd that collected at the sound of the shots.

Witnesses Continue to Testify in Case of N. C. Cranford

Albermarle, July 22.—(AP)—Charges of cruelty were refuted today by convict guard in the trial of Nevin C. Cranford, former whipping boss.

The defense continued its never ceasing and of witnesses in the trial.

Grady Lilly, a native of Albermarle, declared that Jerome Foreman, a Cranford convict, has said his treatment on the chain gang was "all right."

Adam Little, of West Albermarle, also testified. He was the 101 witness. He said that he worked under Cranford and that his job was "holding a shot gun and driving a tractor."

Broken and Shoshones.
Holding Up the Mirror.
A Clergyman in Earnest.
We Are Very Rich.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Stocks went up, new high prices were recorded, the price of money went down, you could speculate cheaply, francs collapsed, bears shed tears, bulls said 'I told you so.' That was yesterday's financial record.

While these things happened, Indians of the Hunnic and Shoshone tribes were dancing wildly around their totem pole near Pocatello, Idaho, to please the Sun God. Aged warriors dropped in their tracks.

Authorities allowed the dance on condition that the Indians should not, as in former days, insert thongs of deer skin under the muscles of their backs and hang from branches of trees, staying there until muscles or thongs gave way. Whites call that shocking, Indians think it pleases the Sun God.

Perhaps, where the Angel Gabriel sits, the difference between Indians dancing around the totem pole and brokers dancing around the General Motors pole is not so great.

To hold the mirror up to modern times, read headlines in newspapers, and listen to the radio.

Young people park their cars along roadides to indulge in affectionate demonstrations. Samuel Hurd, farmer, objected. One of the young people shot him dead. Hurd will know better next time, if he returns to this plane. Youth will be served.

The Rev. Dr. Norris, earnest clergyman of North Worth, Tex., refers to himself as a "hellfire and damnation" preacher, and lives up to the description.

He attacked the mayor of his town, on religious and other grounds. When a friend of the mayor called to remonstrate Dr. Norris sent three bullets through his body. It was self-defense, he said, and thousands crowded to his church to shake hands with him.

At Canton, Ohio, Don R. Mellett, who used to publish a paper, is dead. He interfered with the operations of men engaged in bootlegging and similar enterprises. He received a warning that he was to be killed, and was killed, as predicted.

The great war that made killing "glorious" seems to have been misunderstood and the "automobile" is becoming as "glorious" in the United States, as the "war" is to be.

Mr. Rickard, greatest prize fight impresario, plans to "pull off" the Dempsey-Tunney prize fight in Chicago.

He predicts a bigger "pull" which means more money than was ever paid for any prize fight in the history of the world.

The Dempsey-Carpenter fight drew a crowd of 80,000 that paid $1,000,000 for their pleasure. Mr. Rickard expects Chicago to do better, also that Chicago will appreciate the great honor, as it should.

We are a rich people. 28,280 banks in the United States have deposits of $54,000,000,000. That sounds like a great deal, but it is only $54,000 apiece for 100,000,000 Americans, of whom many are worth $100,000, many worth $1,000,000, many worth ten, twenty, thirty millions, some worth $100,000,000 and a good deal more. This is a rich country, and we are getting richer every day, but with no particular plan visible.

Thirteen, burned to death in a mountain inn at Haines Falls, N. Y., cannot be identified and will go to the graves with religious rites of two kinds. Yesterday, Roman Catholic rites were celebrated, tomorrow, Protestant rites will be added. If there happens to be a Buddhist, Mohammedan, or Confucian among the thirteen, he will have to take his chance.

MURDERER OF DON R. MELLETT STILL AT LARGE

Detectives Believe They Will Get Information From the Underworld Section

Canton, Ohio, July 22.—(AP)—The mystery of the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, remained as impenetrable in this the seventh day since his death as the night into which his slayers escaped.

Although five men apprehended at Akron yesterday, were subjected to a grilling last night, they told little that would indicate any knowledge of the crime. In one instance authorities said, the answers of the men differed regarding the time they spent in Canton on the day before Mellett was fatally wounded as he closed the doors of his garage.

Pete Margress told of leaving Akron for Canton at four o'clock in the morning, July 15, with John Demos, returning to Akron at one that night. Demos declared they left at four in the afternoon and returned to Akron at eleven that night. Mellett was shot shortly after midnight on July 15. The five are being held as suspicious characters.

Detectives believe that within the "jungle" as the Canton underworld section is known, live those who can shed light on the mystery. Mellett's persistent fight on vice is held to have incited the revenge of hatred which led to his death.

Heat Causes Judge to Open Jail House Doors at Raleigh

Raleigh, July 22.—(AP)—Jail doors opened wide here and the city's prisoners walked out when W. C. Harris, Judge of the City Court, ordered the turnkey to unlock all gates. The Judge released all prisoners awaiting trial on their own recognition, because of the heat.

"Only a man charged with murder or something equally as serious, should be confined during this weather," declared Judge Harris, as the prisoners filed past.

Baptist Minister Wins Prominence As Cucumber King

Rev. H. Frederick Jones, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church of this city, is a mighty good preacher. In fact, he is considered one of the finest exponents of the truth of the Bible in the state.

But he ought to quit preaching and go to raising cucumbers. This conclusion is based upon observations made during the morning. Mr. Jones drove up in front of the Reflector office and hailed the news editor.

He was happy as a lark. His weather-beaten face smiled as it never smiled before.

He poked a cucumber at the scribe. It was not only a cucumber—but a doubled-barreled affair, more specifically known as a twin product. "It was one of the finest ever seen in this section." That's what the scribe told the minister. And he knew what he was talking about, because he was raised in a cucumber-raising territory.

The product of the Baptist parsonage garden was weighed. It tipped a grocery store scales at two pounds, nine and a half ounces.

NEGRO BOY DROWNS IN TAR RIVER TODAY

The nine year old son of Mattie Latham, colored, was drowned in Tar River today, at the foot of Greene street.

The boy was in swimming with a number of companions, when he was seen to disappear under the water. His older brother made an attempt to rescue him, but was prevented from doing so by the frantic efforts of the drowning boy.

SPURNS FORTUNE FOR PEARLS

Mrs. Hugh Dillman, widow of the late Horace Dodge, automobile millionaire, and wife of the actor, refused an offer of Paris jewelers of fifty per cent more than was paid for her famous necklace. The depreciated franc caused huge investments in pearls, enhancing their value.

BAPTISTS ENJOY DAY'S OUTING AT PUBLIC LANDING

Members of the Immanuel Baptist church, of Greenville, yesterday enjoyed a delightful picnic and day's outing at Public Landing, three miles west of Washington, on Pamlico River. Cars bearing the picnickers left the church yesterday morning at nine thirty. Others who could not go at that time went during the afternoon. Many did not return until sunset, others remaining even longer.

Everybody had a good time, despite the fact that it was the hottest day of the year. The mercury registered as high as 102 in some places in the state. There was no way of determining the temperature along the banks of the river. But many of the picnickers fairly sizzled under sun rays, which Old Sol did his best to make the most uncomfortable during his reign as sun god.

One of the greatest features of the occasion was bathing in the Promoters of the Pamlico swim club. Hundreds of persons joined the picnic crowd in this single diversion, and there was not a minute lacking in plenty of entertainment.

Promoters of the Pamlico swimming society had just erected a wonderful "spring board" a short distance out from the boardwalk. The girls of the church, and those not of the church, declared it "divine." Rev. L. R. O'Brian, pastor of the church, thought the same about it. John Clark, smiling superintendent, thought likewise. And last, but not least, Will Clark, whom John claims as brother, thought the same.

And right here is where the tragedy occurred. It all laws between the two hundred and fifty pound figure of Parson O'Brian and that of John Clark's brother, Will.

They were swimming away on the "divine" springboard. All of a sudden, it was noticed that the "spring" part had disappeared. The women were horrified. Mr. O'Brian and Will Clark were silent. Until now the breaking of the board remains a deep, dark mystery.

Despite his objection Mrs. Taylor kept the appointment but was accompanied by her sister, the husband a leges.

"Reg is a wonderful boy" Mrs. Taylor is quoted as having informed her husband upon her return from a visit to Grange's hotel. Mrs. Taylor, who is seeking a divorce on the grounds of cruelty, last night announced through her attorneys that she would refuse the implication made by her husband. She explained that her husband went along on several occasions when she was with Grange.

RED GRANGE CO-RESPONDENT IN DIVORCE SUIT

Los Angeles, July 22.—(AP)—Having in turn become man, football hero, and motion picture actor, Red Grange's latest role is that of co-respondent in a divorce suit.

Charles A. Taylor, wealthy oil supply dealer, last night revealed that he had named the Wheaton, Ill., ice man in a cross complaint to a divorce suit recently filed by his wife, Marie Taylor. He said he signed the cross complaint yesterday.

"I am extremely sorry this occurred. Charles Pyle, Grange's manager, is my cousin, and through him I have come to be on very friendly terms with Red. Grange is too much of a gentleman to do anything wrong and he was only named to show how my wife acted," Taylor explained.

In Taylor's cross action, which he said he instructed his lawyers to file today, the oil man charged that his wife became infatuated with the football player. On one occasion Taylor alleged his wife went riding with Grange and at another time refused an empty seat next to the red-headed gridiron star and sat on his lap, clasped his face in her hands and embraced and kissed him.

She also was alleged to have called Grange on the telephone and made an appointment to meet him in his hotel room. Her husband protested that it was foolish and degrading "that hundreds of women had been and would be infatuated with a prominent man like Grange."

Despite his objection Mrs. Taylor kept the appointment but was accompanied by her sister, the husband a leges.

LOCAL GUARDSMEN UNDERGO TRAINING AT FAIR GROUNDS

Unit Goes Through Regular Army Discipline in First Encampment Period

The still serenity of nature was broken at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon and last night by the steady tramp, tramp of the marching feet of members of the local unit of the North Carolina National Guardsmen. The occasion was the first encampment of the local unit since its organization here several months ago.

Fifty-four members of the company and four officers took part in the special training prescribed by two experts of the United States Army. They were under command of Captain Lester Jones, chief of the Greenville police department, who put them through two strenuous drilling periods. But they didn't mind it. They were informed in advance that they would receive a pay envelop for two drills. That was the necessary stimulus. It was all need to set the machinery in motion. And when it got in motion it operated just like it had been oiled.

Complete telephonic communication was established between the various departments of artillery. All field equipment was placed in action. The crowd of local citizens who visited the field during the day were profoundly impressed by the camp's activity and the fine showing made by the boys.

Everything ran smoothly until this morning at three o'clock. The culinary department was in charge of F. R. Elmore, who knows his business when it comes to slinging "hash." It was this "hash" slinging necessity that brought about complications when the bells chimed this morning. Elmore crawled out, paraded up and down between the tents singing, "Smile, Smile, Smile." It's a mighty nice song to sing, but it had a terrible effect at such an early hour.

The sleeping soldiers were not soothed by the beauty of the melody, rendered in such profound earnestness by the cook. Each and every one, sooner or later, brought a boot into play. The bombardment of the cook, which followed would have done credit to expert riflemen in charge of pride artillery of the army.

The singing ceased. The officers, fearful that the cook had been exterminated in the pitched battle of boot and voice, conducted a private investigation. They searched high and low, far and wide. The cook couldn't be found. They thought of the kitchen. And there they found him. He was still singing and smiling. But his voice was subdued, and his face expressed sad resignation and regret of the artist who does his best and fails.

The company broke camp this morning, ate breakfast and in thirty minutes were packed up and ready to return to the city. They are accustomed to the sound of bugle notes now, and will be in proper trim for annual encampment at Fort Bragg next month.

Election Judges Indicted in Illinois

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Fifty more election judges and clerks who served at Cook County's April primaries were indicted today by a special grand jury on charges of conspiracies to make a false count in connection with irregularities at the poles.

The indictment, the third group returns, brings to 109 the indictment returned against judges and clerks. Eleven were in the first group and 44 in the second group. The writs have been returned as rapidly as a recount of the returns showed false tabulations.

GREENVILLE PREPARING FOR GREAT SEASON OF BRIGHT LEAF MARKET

SHOOT GUARD AND RELEASE SIX CONVICTS

Three Men Effect Release Prisoners at Midway State Convict Farm

Houston, Texas, July 22.—(AP)—Three men drove up to the Ferguson State convict camp near Midway, 70 miles north of Houston shortly after midnight, shot and killed Will Raider, liberated six convicts of the 143 in the prison barracks and sped away with them after first locking the doors on the remainder of the prisoners. Poses today were securing the country for the escaped men.

Execution of the plot was daring and ruthless. The moment the men in the automobile cycled the guard, they opened fire on him. Raider, riddled with bullets, fell dead. Instantly they were on him and seized the keys to the barracks. With drawn pistols they entered the doors and called the names of six long term men who tepped out from the ranks of their fellows and took their places behind the liberators.

The other convicts, apparently dazed by the swiftness of the affair, made no move.

Fat Movie Dancing Contract Saves Him From Becoming Pro

Los Angeles, July 21.—(INS)—Charlie Hoff, world's champion pole vaulter, is under contract as a dancer in a motion picture theatre.

The dancing act, according to announcement, will run through the chain of West Coast theatres. Hoff, it was emphasized, is paid for his dancing ability alone, thus shielding from sordid contact his lily-white amateur standing.

Although the salary is said to be the largest ever paid a West Coast entertainer, the vaudeville contract, taken on an eleventh-hour favor when Marso, of Fanchon and Marco danseuse, for the edification of the audience, and a reported $2,500 a week.

"Owing to the fact that at present Hoff is barred from taking part in athletic activities by the A. A. U.," Marso declared, "the only thing for him to do is to take up dancing as a means of a livelihood."

No mention was made of Hoff's potentialities as an ice man.

The vaudeville engagement, therefore, was opportune if not urgent. The A. A. U. cut off his expense money and a poor but honest athlete can't remain indefinitely at an exclusive hotel on nothing but a reputation.

During the past month, the contraband track star from Norway has reflected at length upon the utility of making funny faces at the A. A. U. Hoff made an appointment to appear in a San Francisco track meet. Displeased because of a fancied slight, Hoff decided to scratch

San Francisco off his time-table. The A. A. U. however, considered that a breach of etiquette, and notified the Norwegian leader that if he did not appear in San Francisco he would not appear anywhere else.

Hoff pulled the trigger just to see if the weapon was loaded. It was.

Since then he has been plying the wires with demands for an explanation of his competitive taboo, but the Boston messenger boys haven't drummed up much business in the way of return telegrams. For the most part, the foreign relations committee of the A. A. U. has maintained a dignified and non-committal silence.

SPARTANBURG MAN WANTS HIS WIFE

Spartanburg, S. C., July 21.—(INS)—"I want my bride."

Lloyd Robbins, 26, city employee, stood before the judge of probate court. His attorney, stood by him as a write of habeas corpus was issued on the parents of Robbins' bride for a hearing in court.

The writ was served on Mrs. B. Berlin but officers were unable to find Berlin or the young Mrs. Robbins.

Robbins married Miss Berlin last week, took a brief honeymoon, and returned here. Robbins alleges his bride went home for a visit to her mother and didn't return.

Religious differences, Robbins avers, has caused Berlin not to allow his daughter to return to him.

OLD HOME TOWN NEWS ITEM PREDICTED FERSHING AS FIRST RATE CADET

Laclede, Mo., July 21.—(INS)—Toking about in his attic for a fishing tackle, an old inhabitant of this town, which prides itself in claiming to be the home-town of General John J. Pershing, ran across an issue of the Laclede News printed in 1881 which contained the following article.

"John Pershing will take leave of his home and friends this week for West Point, where he will enter the United States Military Academy. John will make a first rate, good-looking cadet with Uncle Sam's blue and we trust that he will ever wear it with honor to himself and the old flag which floats above him. John, here is our hand. May success crown your efforts and long life be yours."

The editor's prediction that John would make a first rate cadet, was borne out.

PITTSBURGH U. MAY LOSE BIG BEQUESTS

Pittsburgh, July 21.—(INS)—The legality of bequests to the University of Pittsburgh aggregating millions of dollars, which it had planned to make use of in building the proposed sky-scraper Cathedral of Learning, today was in doubt pending outcome of litigation begun by attorneys for Evan H. Darlington, of Pittsburgh, who seeks to break the will of his cousin, Mary O'Hara Darlington, on the ground that the university does not legally exist.

Darlington's brief states that because of irregularities in obtaining a charter when the name of the institution was changed from the Western University of Pennsylvania to the University of Pittsburgh, twenty years ago, a bequest of $147,000 and a tract of land made to the school by his cousin in 1925 was illegal. Pittsburgh attorneys are of the opinion that if Darlington succeeds in breaking the will on these grounds, several million dollars which have been bequeathed to the university will be open to controversy.

MAX ROSEN, RENOWNED VIOLINIST TO APPEAR HERE

The romance of the rise of Max Rosen, the famous violinist, who plays at the Teachers' College on Friday evening, July 23, is one of the most astounding in the chronicles of music. Rosen was born in Roumania and came to this country when he was two years old. His parents were poor and the elder Rosen taught the violin and flute on the lower East Side of New York. Young Max loved the violin, and his father gave him his first lessons—lessons which are gratefully remembered by the violinist today, who calls his father "my first and severest teacher."

After only two years of study, when the young violinist was only nine years old, it began to be rumored among the musicians on the East Side that the Rosen boy had a talent that promised exceptional things. Musician after musician came to hear him and always they went away impressed, and the rumors of this talent were spread wider and wider.

Musical enthusiasts of wealth were brought to hear the young prodigy and at their advice and with their assistance, he was sent to Europe to study with the greatest masters, culminating with Leopold Auer, the greatest violin teacher of our age.

Young Max made his debut in Europe, and following a brilliant series of successes in Scandinavia, made a triumphant debut in New York. Country-wide engagements and long appearances followed, and today Max Rosen is a world renowned artist, acknowledged everywhere as one of the few great violinists.

His father no longer teaches the violin or flute, as his son has relieved him of all his cares, but Max Rosen is a living example of the possibilities in America for young talents and the world wide recognition that is extended to the artist who has that precious and rare gift of appealing to the emotional side of our natures.

COUNTRY SCORED FOR FIRE HORSES FOR SCENES IN 'THE STILL ALARM'

Fire chiefs of two cities helped in the making of "The Still Alarm," the Universal-Jewel which comes to White's Theatre Friday for one day only.

Edward Laemmle, director of the big production, was determined to have all his fire scenes absolutely authentic, and consequently engaged Fire Chief Scott of Los Angeles and Fire Chief Murphy of San Francisco to advise him in the directing of the many spectacular scenes.

The picture shows fire-fighting of both today and a period some twenty years ago. After scouring the west for some of the old fire horses, Laemmle finally found a complete set in San Francisco and filmed street scenes there, with a team of fire horses he had imported from Seattle.

An entire block of sets, representing a section of the tenement district of New York City was constructed at the studio, and burned to the ground while a crowd of 500 extras, and 40 members of the Los Angeles fire department appeared before the camera.

Mid-West Schools to Boost Rowing

Chicago, July 22.—(INS)—Lured by a growing interest in water sports, middle-western universities are preparing to make rowing a major sport.

Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa and other mid-west colleges all have plans afoot today which will shortly provide proper training facilities.

At Iowa and Minnesota arrangements are being made to dam rivers to provide courses and in Chicago a huge lagoon will soon be ready to take the shells of Chicago and Northwestern oarsmen.

Michigan and Ohio have water available and interest in rowing is attracting wide interest at these institutions.

At Wisconsin, where the water sport has long been a leader, Athletic Director George Little is attempting to arrange for a national regatta at Madison for next May at the time of the Big Ten Conference track and field championships.

CANADA STATISTICS SHOW DIVORCE OCCURS IN EVERY 125 MARRIAGES

Ottawa, Ont., July 21.—(INS)—If you are looking for an easy divorce, don't come to Canada. Only one marriage out of every 125 goes on the rocks in the Dominion annually, while one marriage in every seven in the United States ends in the divorce court, a government survey shows.

That husbands and wives in Canada are still loyal to the till death do us part tradition is indicated by the survey which shows that only 551 divorces were granted in the Dominion in 1925 out of a population of 9,000,000. This was an average of one divorce to every 163,300 people. In the United States a total of 165,236 decrees were issued in 1923, the last year for which statistics are available, or an average of one divorce to every 685 people.

NEW SHERIFF ASKS PUBLIC AID

Sam Whitehurst, recently appointed sheriff of Pitt county, has issued an appeal to the people of the county.

This appeal was made before members of the Pitt county post of American Legion here Tuesday night.

It showed Whitehurst to be a man of vision. If showed him to be a man who fully realizes the responsibilities of the high office to which he has been elevated.

And in realizing the great task before him, he has asked the law-abiding element to help him make the laws effective.

Some might say: "He is sheriff. It's his business to make the laws effective." That is right in a sense. Then, on the other hand, it is not right.

No community may expect ever to see complete law enforcement until its people use their influence on the side of the right. The side of the righteous is a hard road to travel. But with constant traveling, it should become easier. It should soon become so smooth that the weakest of us might travel it with little trouble.

The sheriff made his appeal in the right time. Every public official should realize that he is dependent upon the people. He should realize that nothing could ever be accomplished without the whole-hearted support of the masses.

Pitt county people are tired of congested court dockets. They are tired of blind tiger whiskey, of sin and corruption of public morals resulting from its extensive use. Therefore, it is natural to suppose that they are willing to come to the aid of the new sheriff and help him do whatever he thinks best for the county.

We hope the American Legion will use its influence in behalf of more complete law enforcement. They could not help a better cause. When the criminal realizes that he will receive the full penalty of the law, he will not be so hasty in committing crime. Fear of the law is a salutary influence. It should not be permitted to wane.

THAT ANNUAL HARVEST OF GOLD

Pitt county farmers have begun to house the tobacco crop.

On the 7th of September the golden weed will begin streaming into the city. And along with it will come another golden stream—the kind made by Uncle Sam.

The opening of the tobacco market is one of the greatest events of the year. It is attended by hundreds of people from all sections of the country. Everybody realizes what the crop means to this immediate part of the state.

They realize that we depend largely upon this one crop alone. They know that its failure reacts upon every branch of business and industry.

The crop this year looks as good as it has ever looked. The average may not be quite as good as it was in the old days. But it's going to be a good crop. And a good crop means that wrinkles will disappear as if by magic from hundreds of sun-tanned faces, and everybody will be patting each other on the back.

It's a good world to live in down in this part of the country. And it is an exceptionally good world when thousands upon thousands of trucks begin their annual pilgrimage to Greenville—the shrine of the world's brightest tobacco.

Greenville tobaccoists even now are making preparations for the opening of the market. All of the steaming plants are enlarging and increasing capacity in one way and another.

This means they will be able to handle the golden harvest with greater expedition than ever before. And in doing that one thing, they will receive the approbation of hundreds of growers who come here from time to time during the season.

We do not possess any supernatural powers. Our views are never intended to be oracular in the slightest sense of the word. We simply express what we believe. In saying we anticipate a great season, we do not believe we are overstepping the bounds of policy and common sense.

Bulgaria Teaches English in Schools

Sofia, July 22.—(INS)—The Anglo-Saxon influence is beginning to manifest itself in Bulgaria, so much so that the English language bids fair to become the predominant foreign language of the country.

Study of the English language which until very recently was unpopular and felt to be useless, is now being taken up with zeal here, and has been introduced into all the high schools and the univer-

Latest Discovery Dissolves Freckles

All Gone in Four Days — They Just Melt Away

Isn't it rather odd that one discovery made almost over night will stop the worrying of millions of freckled girls and women in just a few days?

These maids and matrons have been praying for a real freckle remover for years and right now when society more than ever demands of women a skin free from blemishes and ugly brown spots Flyte is discovered.

Flyte is a cream — easy to apply — it will not injure the most delicate skin — but it will dissolve freckles in four days and melt them completely away, leaving the skin clean, clear and soft as velvet.

And best of all Flyte is not expensive—a little goes a long way. You can get it right here, at the store of Greenville Drug Co., who guarantees it to take off every freckle or money back as do all five druggists everywhere.

sities on an equal footing with French and German. The American schools at Samakov and Lovetch are overcrowded with Bulgarian youngsters eager to master the English language and culture, while in the American schools and colleges at Constantople the Bulgarian boys and girls constitute the largest percentage of the students.

Bulgaria is the only country in South-Eastern Europe which boasts a flourishing English-speaking League, while, indicative of the Anglo-Saxon leanings of the Bulgarian Premier, M. Lyapcheff, is the fact that he has two huge commercial projects which he wishes to be undertaken by American or British companies. One is the irrigation project for the desiccation of the Maritza Valley, which will cost some ten million dollars, and the other is the construction of the Sofia-Rile water supply canal.

"If people would keep fit and not overload their stomachs they would not need any vacations," declared Andrus. "I take my recreation at my desk in the office. WETS AND DRIES IN INDIANA NOW FACE BIG FIGHT

Issue Also to Get Into Legislature in Attempt to Modify the Law

Indianapolis, July 22.—(INS)—Indiana today faces the prospect of a bitter wet and dry fight both in the elections this fall and in the new legislature, scheduled to convene next January.

Although both parties side-stepped the issue in drawing up their platforms, the state made famous last year through the passage of some of the strictest law, written into a legal code, now faces a movement to rid that code of some of the teeth in the famous Wright "bone-dry" law.

It all came about through the formation of the Indiana Liberty League, a non-political organization incorporated for the sole purpose of editing the statutes of "oppressive and un-American features."

A state-wide membership campaign is now being carried on, and, according to the official in charge, they are securing a large number of prominent and wealthy citizens on their membership rolls in addition to many others who have joined the organization previously.

Harry E. Negley, attorney here, is the active head of the League. It is interesting to note that he was not the only president pro-tem of the state senate in 1919 when the Volstead act was approved, but also Republican floor leader at the time.

He voted "dry" then.

But now:

"We voted out the saloon-keeper," he says, "but seem to have voted in ten fold his number in the way of bootleggers and booze-runners to say nothing of private consumers who, in multitude, violate the law with good grace and utter complacency."

He claims that every sane thinking person is seriously alarmed at the results of prohibition "experiment."

"We have tried it (prohibition) out, and the general result seems to be youthful banditry, juvenile debauchery, and a general breaking down of morals such as no one ever dreamed of in the beginning," he says.

Harry M. Franklin, editor of the Columbian, monthly publication of the wealthy Co. Club here, a former police captain, but now devoting his time to securing new members for the League, says that the "dry" has come for citizens to join in a movement "to correct some of these conditions."

"Relief from the oppressive and un-American features of the Wright law cannot be accomplished after the legislature is organized," he is warning his followers, admonishing them that only by "concerted efforts, begun early, and consistently carried on can the proposed relief be secured."

The Indiana Anti-Saloon League, on the other hand, is pointing to increased bank balances and increased number of bank accounts. They claim that prohibition is no "experiment" but has proved successful throughout the state.

They have given warning that any effort, no matter how small, to change or modify any of the provisions of the Wright law will be fought bitterly both in the elections and in the new legislature.

SAN FRANCISCO FERRIES CARRIED 750,000,000 WITH A RECORD FOR SAFETY

San Francisco, Calif., July 20.—(INS)—Transportation of 750,000,000 persons with the loss of but two lives.

This is the record of the ferries that ply San Francisco bay between San Francisco and Oakland.

Figures compiled by a commission investigating the question of safety to commuters over a period from 1910 to 1925 revealed this remarkable record.

The committee report filed with the State Harbor Commission declared that compared with railway, automobile and other methods of transportation, bay travel is the safest in the world, and the committee is of the opinion that there is no necessity to establish further bay traffic control.

Adequate fog signals have been maintained for years by the government to protect navigation in and out of the harbor and the Harbor Board has in addition to former existing signals established additional safeguards to protect lives and property, the committee report stated.

SPREADING AMERICAN CIVILIZATION ATTACKED AMONG ITALY'S FACISTI

Rome, July 20.—(AP)—Western European civilization is doomed to be submerged and subverted by the "barbarities" of modern America whose cigar-smoking, money making, gum chewing and blatantly egotistical prophets will gleefully harness humanity to the time clock and beauty to the industrial machine.

An influential faction of young Fascist thinkers, led by Curzio Suckert, editor of La Conquista dello Stato is of this opinion, and will endeavor to save Italy from this fate at all costs.

Not all Italians, however, are of this belief. In an endeavor to rid Italians of their notion that Americans are a young and barbarous people, a movement has been started in literary circles to induce the United States to arrange an exhibition of American culture.

PALESTINE USES RADIO TO BROADCAST NEWS

Jerusalem, July 20.—(INS)—

News from world capitals for newspaper publication in Palestine now come over the radio. The news-gathering method may not be authorized, but it is cheap and so far there have been no complaints.

At Tel-Aviv two electrical engineers have found a news apparatus, the main apparatus of which consists of a wireless set, adjusted for long wave-lengths, and an amplifier. The staff consists of an expert stenographer.

When, at certain hours, announcers in Rome, Berlin, Moscow, Paris or London reel off the latest news, the combination at Tel-Aviv busily records the march of current events.

News thus obtained is then given to the local Hebrew newspapers for publication.

TURK SOUND WIT HAREM GETS POUND THRASHING

Budapest, July 21.—(INS)—Prince Abdul Kadir, said to be the son of a former Sultan of Turkey, who has been living in Budapest for several years, has taken his domestic troubles before the court.

The Prince, while unable legitimately to maintain a harem of princely style in the Hungarian capital, became involved with several stage girls. The favorite of the Turkish royal offspring, exercising a display of jealousy denied inmates of harems in natural surroundings, informed some Hungarians of her mother's activities with the result that several of them visited the royal apartments and administered a royal thrashing.

The Prince has appeared at the police station displaying numerous bandages and charged his assailants with assault with intent to murder.

Back in 1902, when Mr. Penney laid the foundation for this colossal effort to serve the people in a manner that would eminently safeguard their buying of daily needs, the fullest consideration was given not only to the maintaining of prices at the lowest possible figures but to the maintaining of quality at the highest possible degree.

Price alone is not a safe basis upon which to make an investment. A vast expansion of land may be valueless because of the absence of water and the impossibility of irrigation.

BRITISH WORKERS ARE TOLD HOW TO BE THE GREATEST INDUSTRIALS

London, July 21.—(INS)—British workers, in one year, could make themselves the greatest industrial trust in the world, states J. H. Sharrock, president of the Liverpool Shipping Staffs Association.

"If ten million British workers agree to support our association by an average payment of a dollar and twenty-five cents per week, fresh capital would be available for investment at the rate of twelve and a half million dollars per week, or $65,000,000 in the first year.

"In ten years funds for investment would have increased to $65,000,000,000 which would be more than doubled at the end of twenty years.

"These figures show that British workers may become—if they

"Where They Go to Get Well"

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Atlanta, July 22.—(INS)—Tomorrow's sultor will be the woman and the head of the house the female of the species.

Such is the somewhat topsyturvy world of the future, as seen through the eyes of Eugene Fersen, of Washington, a nephew of Tolstol.

According to Fersen, who is known as a scientist and philosopher, a feminine intellect will dominate all walks of life in time to come.

'Feminine power of intuition and ability to act by instinct,' Fersen said while here to deliver a series of lectures, 'is gradually dominating and prevailing over masculine power to reason and weigh cause and effect.'

Georgia's golden horde of luscious peaches, now moving into every corner of the nation, will not begin to show any signs of letting up until September 1.

This is two weeks later than the usual time for the closing of the Georgia peach season. This year's prolonged shipping is due to a bumper harvest, despite the spring's late cold snaps.

Estimates were made that Georgia's peach crop would net the peach growers something like $12,000,000 in 1928.

While this year's is not quite the largest commercial crop in history, the peach is said to be virtually free from all worms, scars, pits and other defects. A new system of marketing has been worked out by the Georgia Peach Growers' Exchange to prevent the larger markets from becoming glutted and causing price depression, as has been the case heretofore.

The 'true son' of the Revolutionary War is not an extinct species. One has just been found down in Columbia County, Ga., and he is a very hale and very much-alive old gentleman—Basil Llewellyn Neal. He is 80.

The fact that a 'real son' of the Revolution still exists was brought to light following the claim that the death of Dr. Crosby Perry in earnest marked the passing of the last son of a Revolutionary soldier.

Neal now lives on a plantation allotted his father, Basil Neal, for his services in the war for American independence.

'Jazz is here to stay.' This from the man who sees hymns in women's eyes, in children's play, in smiles, in farm and freckle, in moonlight nights, in hills, valleys and brooks—Robert Harkness, the Irving Berlin of the hymn book.

'I listen to jazz,' Harkness said, while stopping over in Atlanta the other day, 'because I can't help it. It is clever music. But I don't like it.'

'But no matter what we think of it—and I deplore the jangling of the classics, noble sublime compositions that have stirred men's souls through the ages—jazz is here to stay.

'Jazz is a symptom, not the real disease. It is the symptom of chaos. This is a chaotic generation—wherever you turn, chaos, chaos, chaos. It is in art, in politics, in morals and in music. This uncontrollable restlessness must express itself, and in jazz it finds a happy medium. There will continue to be jazz and more jazz until this generation feels new impulses and different ambitions.'

U. S. Studies Static Trying to Settle Puzzling Problem

Washington, July 21.—(INS)—Elimination of static, one of the principal bugaboos of radio, is being given attention at the United States Bureau of Standards where in the last few years some of the important and puzzling problems of man's conquest over nature have been solved.

'The only practical method thus far discovered of reducing atmospheric disturbances or static, in radio telegraphy or telephony in any marked degree, at a given frequency, is that of directional reception,' said Dr. L. W. Austin, radio expert at the bureau.

Austin explained directional reception as that obtained by using some form of antenna or antenna system which receives more strongly from one direction than from another.

Well-known forms of such systems are the Beverage or wave antenna used extensively by the Radio Corporation of America for transoceanic reception and the older but more convenient combination of aerial and coil antenna or the loop, according to Austin.

Unidirectional reception, he pointed out, is useful wherever the station does not come from too nearly the same direction as the station being received. By such means, the ratio of the signal can often be made from ten to twenty times better than on a simple antenna.

The Bureau of Standards, it was understood, is considering a similar observation of static direction conditions in the United States, which will be of great importance to corporations in locating commercial receiving stations, as well as the government's radio service.

tions in our sense of the word. If they do swing from their ancestral beliefs, they will develop a Christianity of their own, different apart from our doctrinary conceptions.

This brief was voiced by the Rev. Dean Inge, the famous Gloomy Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, during an address here. The Dean declared it was a mistake to believe that Asia was calling to the rest of the world for more light.

After all, their religion is their own affair. Whether they worship a Buddha or a Christ, the being has the same attributes, he said.
