NO BREAK SEEN IN CONTROVERSY AT MEXICO CITY

Priests Continue to Absent Themselves From Churches; 30 Churches Are Open

Mexico City, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The impasse in the struggle between the government and the Catholic church in Mexico may be served through the enactment of the new Congress which convenes September 1, of religious regulations less drastic than those which went into effect a week ago—at least that is the view held at present in some circles.

Legislation on religious subjects is expected to be one of the first things taken up by the new Congress. It may result in Congressional confirmation of President Calles' stand, or in the passage of milder regulations.

Hope of Congressional modification is based on the announcement by the Department of the Interior that it is studying and preparing a draft law regulating Article 130 of the constitution, which is the religious section. The Department will submit this bill to Congress. President Calles' promulgation regulated the religious clauses of the constitution but included amendments to the penal code. Congress itself has not passed a law enacting the religious section of the constitution and can still do so.

This law, if approved by the President, would supplement the present regulations. President Calles dominates Congress, at least has done so, and is expected to continue, and likewise dominate his own government. Therefore, in the last analysis the matter of modification will remain in his hands unless there is a Congressional revolt.

Mexico City, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The end of the first week in the break between the Roman Catholic authorities and the Mexican government over the government's recently imposed regulation, governing the enactment of the religious clauses of the constitution, found the opposing groups in unchanged position.

There apparently are no prospects of a settlement of the controversy at an early date. The priests continue to absent themselves from the churches but the doors of 30 of the edifices are open for worshippers who enter and meditate and pray.

Negro Returned to Authorities At Pantego, N. C.

D. W. Lipton, member of the police department of Pantego, N. C., came to Greenville yesterday afternoon to take in custody a negro by the name of Ed Lee Flynn, wanted for larceny of a suit of clothes from a Pantego merchant.

Flynn was arrested day before yesterday by acting chief of police W. L. Brewer, following the receipt of information from the Pantego authorities.

SAY, BOYS!

What's the reason for all these new enterprises coming to Greenville? They realize that a county seat city, located in the largest tobacco producing section in the world, is fitted to the brim with opportunities for the thrifty business man.

Greenville is throwing off the swaddling garments of youth. She is fighting on the threshold of an unheralded era of prosperity.

NEW YORK GIRL SWIMS CHANNEL IN RECORD TIME

Miss Gertrude Edrele Jumped Out of Bed This Morning, Ready for Another Swim

Dover, Eng., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Gertrude Edrele bounced out of bed at 11:30 o'clock this morning declaring she was ready for another swim. She showed no traces of the terrible strain of yesterday's ordeal when she battled the treacherous current of the English Channel for 14 hours 31 minutes, crossing from France to England in record time and becoming the first of her sex to perform the feat.

The New York girl was full of pep and in good humor when she arose and proceeded immediately to get ready to catch the attention boat for Folkestone to Bologne where her training quarters were established.

CONVICTED BANK ROBBER ESCAPES AULANDER, FLA.

Leads Officers to the Worthless Securities in Everglades and Bolts for Freedom

Aulander, Fla., Aug. 7.—(AP)—After leading officers to a cache in the Everglades and unearthing bonds which he claimed were worth more than $110,000, Joe Tracy, convicted bank robber and sayer under sentence of 99 years for the murder of a negro taxi driver, escaped from the guard who accompanied him here from the Raiford Prison Farm.

Tracy is believed to be the last living member of the notorious Ashley gang, which made its headquarters in the Everglades near here and preyed on small banks along the east coast. The band was broken up near Palm Beach two years ago when several members were killed in a pitched battle with Palm Beach officers. Police believe Tracy planned to escape when he offered to lead the way to the cache which he said contained stolen liberty bonds. After the cache was opened, the Aulander Sentinel was advised that the bonds were of a foreign issue and worthless.

The party was returning from the Everglades and had stopped at St. Cloud, when Tracy asked permission to visit a relative. Entering the house, the bandit evaded guards and escaped from a window. Officers were notified immediately and early today poses from St. Cloud and Kissimmee were aiding in the search.

St. Cloud is the former home of Tracy, and police say his familiarity with the Everglades will facilitate his remaining in hiding for several days.

Tracy was accompanied from Raiford by a State Criminal Investigator and an attorney and two police guards.

"ORIGINAL WASHINGTON" IS JEALOUS OF CAPITAL

Washington, N. C., Aug. 6.—(INS)—Washington, D. C., of Washington, N. C.

The little tidewater town is determined that the world shall know the whole truth about the North Carolina, Washington.

Washington, N. C., automobile now carry tags proclaiming it the "Original Washington," and giving the date of its founding in the 18th century.

COMMITTEE WILL BEGIN SOLICITING NEXT TUESDAY

To Visit Business Men to Raise Funds for Advertising Tobacco Market

Efforts to raise funds to help in the advertising campaign of the Greenville tobacco market will begin next Tuesday morning. Members of the committee, organized at the mass meeting on Thursday night will canvas the business district during the day, and give Greenville business and professional men a chance to give in behalf of the plan to advertise Greenville and its great bright leaf market.

It has been stated that numbers of other towns in North Carolina have raised funds for advertising. Rocky Mount only a short time ago contributed something like five thousand dollars toward advertising its tobacco market. Other towns of similar size are falling in line, realizing the necessity of letting the public know what they are doing.

Greenville business men realize the importance of advertising the tobacco market here. They realize that advertising it means advertising Greenville also. And it is expected the campaign to raise funds for this purpose will be a great success.

19 Passengers Cut by Flying Glass on Train

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Nineteen passengers were cut by flying glass early today when Pennsylvania passenger train 32, the Pittsburg to Philadelphia local eastbound was scraped by a freight car which bulged from an adjoining track at Jeannette, Pa.

None of the passengers were seriously hurt and all continued on their journey at a delay of one and one half hours. Their injuries were dressed by doctors at Greensburg and Johnstown.

VIENNA'S NARROW STREETS MAKE TRAFFIC PROBLEMS DIFFICULT OF SOLUTION
Vienna, Aug. 7.—(INS)—Like most other great cities, the chief traffic problem of Vienna lies in its "Inner City" which has no street cars owing to its old narrow streets.

Recently motor-buses were introduced, but they are far from being sufficient. Several plans for an electric subway have been worked out but they have been declared too expensive.

Fritz Maltch, famous architect, now proposes an original scheme. The main thoroughfare of the city is the Rotenturmstrasse which is connected with the Stephansplatz and its glorious dome, with the other main street, the Karntnerstrasse. Maltch proposes that pedestrians, instead of using the pavement, should walk on a kind of a first floor, consisting of glass protected by wire; halfway between the street and the first floor the electric cars would run, and the street itself would be free for other traffic. Every house would be obliged to have entrance doors on the first and second floors. Bridges and escalators would connect the first floor with the cars and sidewalks.

FRANCE OFFERS MONUMENT TO THE SAVIOR OF PARIS

Paris, Aug. 7.—(INS)—General Gallieni, the savior of Paris and the victor of von Kluck is commemorated in a monument which has been unveiled to his memory by the Maritime and Colonial League. The man who marshalled a thousand taxis to rush up to the Marne from Paris, a French army is represented listening to the voice of victory.

Gaston Doumergue, President of the Republic was present and others were Lord Crew, the English Ambassador, Ambassador Herriek and many others of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies.

The statue is the work of Jean Boucher and bears on the pedestal an inscription bearing Gallieni's famous Order of the Day when the German army was approaching Paris.

Noose Separates Boy Killer and Bride

When the State of Maryland cracks the neck of Richard Reese Whittemore, young hand and killer, on August 13, it will make a widow of Margaret Whittemore. His wife has been loyal through all his troubles.

HERMAN PENA EXECUTED AT CUBA TODAY

Pays Penalty for the Murder of Mayor Villalon Two Years Ago

Santiago, Cuba, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Herman Pena was executed by the Garrote this morning for the murder two years ago of the Mayor Villalon, of Santiago.

The collar of the machine was tightened about his neck at 6:01 this morning and he was pronounced dead after seven minutes.

This was the second execution in Cuba during the last 20 years, another man having been garroted July 8 for the murder of his aunt. According to the official witness, Pena went to the garrote tranquilly and death apparently came immediately after the collar was tightened. Pena is reported to have maintained his innocence to the end.

PAYROLE GRANTED J. G. PRICE MAY BE REVOKED SOON

Commissioner Sink Says Revocation Will Be Issued Upon Governor's Return

Raleigh, Aug. 7.—(AP)—J. G. Price, now of York, Pa., is facing the revocation of a parole granted him two months ago by Governor McLean. Pardon Commissioner Sink stated today the revocation would be issued immediately upon Mr. McLean's return from his vacation.

Price, an aged white man, was sentenced several years ago in Wake county to serve from three to five years for forgery. On the appeal of a number of prominent citizens of the county, Governor McLean paroled the prisoner after he had considered the matter for more than a year.

The parole was issued June 20. The man returned to his former home at York, Pa., and Pardon Commissioner Sink arranged with a minister of that city to keep a watch on him. A report has been made that Price again has taken to forgery and that several characters of this nature now are lodged against him in York. The Governor's parole was conditioned on good behavior and will be revoked.

Far Off, Never Mind, 53's Prescription. The Animal Within Us. Trouble in Mexico.
By ARTHUR B. LISBANE

Government authorities indict twenty-seven doctors, twenty-two druggists.

Doctors sold whiskey prescriptions to druggists at $3 each. Every three months one hundred prescriptions from the government. Some doctors sell a whole book as cheap as $200, others get $500 for a book. The druggists sold $80 worth of whiskey to a prescription. This prescription business in New York amounts to about $15,000,000 a year. Prohibition is profitable, although not yet exactly practical.

A scientist says he can prove anatomically that lower animals are included in our physical makeup. They are certainly included in our spiritual machinery. One lady calls another a viper, one child calls another a pig.

In character we are as far apart as hyenas and white rabbits.

For instance, little Jimmy Mills was sexton of the Episcopal Church in New Brunswick that had for pastor the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall.

The Rev. Hall knew Mrs. Mills too well. They were not cautious, and when they met under the crab apple tree somebody murdered them.

Little Jimmy Mills lost his wife, whom he liked, and now he cooks for the children. But he says, "I don't know who did it, but whoever it was, I don't want him or her killed. The only thing that hurts my feelings is that Mrs. Hall doesn't speak to me any more."

How different from the mental attitude of the murderer or murderers that killed the clergyman and Mrs. Mills, who sang in his choir. How do you explain physically the fact that Mrs. Hall, who lost a husband, does not speak to Jimmy Mills, who lost his wife in the same calamity.

ONE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO NEAR STATESVILLE

Four Women Also Injured When Train Crashes Into Car During Morning

Statesville, Aug. 7.—(AP)—One woman was killed, almost instantly, and four other women, occupants of an automobile, were injured near here today when struck by a west bound Southern Railway train.

Mrs. H. C. Teeter, 60 years old, of Morganton, was fatally injured. Her daughter, Miss Pearl Teeter, who was driving the car, Miss Dorothy Hinant and Miss Louis Manning, both of Raleigh, and Miss Mary Teal, of Greensville, were injured.

The accident occurred shortly before eleven o'clock this morning, two miles west of here. The automobile, in which the party were riding, stopped on the crossing and the engineer seemed unable to stop. The party was enroute to Salisbury.

The injured are in a local hospital, but the extent of their injuries has not been learned.

Stewart Named U. S. Senator of Iowa Today

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 7.—(AP)—David W. Stewart, Sioux City attorney, was appointed by Governor Hammill today as United States Senator to serve until November general election in the place of Senator A. B. Cummins.

Stewart was named by the State Republican convention yesterday as a nominee in the November election for the term of Senator Cummins, which expires in March 1927. The appointment was necessary because Congress convenes before Stewart could be certified before the November election.

City Merchants Preparing Offers for 'Dollar Day'

Greenville merchants who are to take part in "Dollar Day" here next Tuesday have begun advertising the bargains to be offered during the great selling event. Numbers of them carried ad. in yesterday's edition of the Reflector. Watch today's paper and see what they have in store.

MILITARY UNIT HIGHLY PRAISED AT FORT BRAGG

Greenville Company Makes A-1 Grade and Is Going Strong for More Honors

The Reflector, today received a communication from the local unit, North Carolina National Guards, now in annual encampment at Fort Bragg.

It stated that all members of the company were fitting fine and in the best of health. They have been highly commended by Major Thorpe, who is in charge of camp activities.

"We are working hard," the communication continues, "trying to make a Battery the town and county will be proud of. The secret of our success has been the spirit with which each man has accepted the tasks placed before him with each succeeding day. We are trying to compete with organizations which have been coming here for years, and success so far has been more than gratifying.

"We are proud to say that we are sticking with them. We have been graded as A-1 on order drill gun drill, appearance, at all formations, military courtesy and efficiency.

"Our officers are working hard trying to get the men in shape for activities on the field this week. There are three battalions here. They are made up of about eighteen hundred men and eighty officers. We are the youngest outfit in the regiment.

"It is awfully hot down here," the communication concludes, "but we are getting plenty to eat and when night comes we are more than ready to go to bed."

ROTARIANS HAVE TIME AT BAYVIEW

A joint meeting of the Rotary clubs of Greenville, Ayden and Washington was held at Bayview last night. The session was well attended by members of each of the towns. Many of them were accompanied by wives and lady friends, who did much towards evening the occasion.

The meeting was called to order at seven o'clock at Bayview hotel by E. R. Nixon, of the Washington club. Several interesting talks were made, supper was served and a program of interest was pulled off.

Following the session, a large number of Rotarians attended the Friday night dance given by Bayview promoters.

PHARMACISTS TO HONOR MERCER, PATRON SAINT

Phi'ad Iphia, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Brigadier General Hugh Mercer, in whose apothecary shop at Fredericksburg, Va., George Washington had his office in pre-revolutionary days, will be honored by pharmacists at a series of conventions to be held here beginning September 13.

Steps will be taken by the American Pharmaceutical Association to found a Museum of Historical Pharmacy in the new $1,000,000 National Headquarters Building, which all branches of pharmacy have united to erect in a city to be selected at the forthcoming sessions.

General Mercer, who died of wounds received at the battle of Princeton in January, 1777, will be exhibited as a patron saint of American pharmacy, pioneer devotee of science, and martyr to liberty.

OFFICERS GUARD COURT HOUSE AT MIAMI INQUEST

Enmity Between Officers and Friends of Slain Men Active at Miami

Miami, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Sheriff's deputies and police officers were thrown about the Dad court house here today to preserve order during the coroner's inquest into the death Thursday of three Homestead men, who were killed in a pitched battle with federal prohibition agents. The inquest at Homestead yesterday was postponed because officials had not completed their preliminary investigation into the killings.

The fight occurred when the seven officers, enroute to Miami in two automobiles from a liquor raiding expedition in the Everglades were pursued and fired on by three men who drove up behind them in a third car.

The officers who were riding in closed cars, returned the fire in exchange and three men were killed.

Enmity between the slain men and the federal agents is thought to have caused the gun fight. The fight took place in an isolated section near Homestead, about 40 miles south of Miami, and 13 miles east of Loyal Palms, St. Park.

Bulgarian Peasants Robbed by Brigands

Sofia, Aug. 7.—(INS)—Many of the small outlying villages of Bulgaria are living in constant terror of prying bands of brigands who sweep down without warning and loot the frugal homes of the peasants.

The outlaws seem to be increasing in number and in some parts of the country it is unsafe to travel even short distances, the robbers in several cases having stolen horse, cart and clothes of several farmers who tried to deliver their products to the larger towns.

The state police are of little help, for the brigands have usually carried out their looting and departure before the police can arrive. In their strongholds in the mountains they are safe as if in a fortress and have successfully repulsed several attacks by soldiers.

Seven robbers entered the village of Boukovitsa recently, killed two peasants and drove fifty head of cattle to their mountain stronghold without much opposition. The peasants have taken to hurrying their meager and valuable and maintaining guard throughout the night and day.

Rev. L. R. O'Brian to Speak at Union Services Sunday

Rev. L. R. O'Brian, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church of Greenville, will be the speaker at union services on the court house lawn Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The largest crowd of the series is expected at this service. The committee in arrangements has made plans for seating a greater number than ever. Music will be under the direction of J. H. Ross.

Mr. O'Brian is considered one of the most vigorous and forceful speakers of the city, and those who attend are assured of something well worth hearing. He will speak on the subject of "The Judgment."

SAVE HEADS FROM HOME FROM FACTORY
New Orleans, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The home of Gen. P. G. T. Beauregard, distinguished Confederate officer, will not become a macaroni factory. When a company was asked to purchase the ground on which the general's home stands for a factory, the Beauregard Memorial Association agreed to purchase it and a first payment of $400 has bound the contract.

LOS ANGELES DENIES CHARGE WHOLESOME VICE
Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—(INS)—
The statement of Dr. Bruce Wheeler, a lecturer, that "Los Angeles is morally and financially bankrupt" and that "vice and crime in one block of Hollywood are far worse and more prevalent than in a square mile of either
New York or Chicago" created a storm of protest here. Dr.
Wheeler's statements were made in a lecture given in Lockport,
N. Y.

Efforts were under way today by local organizations, including the board of education and the chamber of commerce, to secure a retraction of Dr. Wheeler's remarks.

According to reports received here, Dr. Wheeler claimed to have been formerly connected with the Los Angeles city schools. The records of the board (it was said disclosed no such connection.

Dr. George MacNeill, president of the New York state society of Los Angeles and a former resident of Buffalo, N. Y., telegraphed an emphatic denial of Dr. Wheeler's statements to the Buffalo Evening News.

FLORIDA SCHOOL BOARD
BANS DANCING: TEACHERS OUT TOO LATE AT NIGHT
Bonnycastle, Fla., Aug. 6.—
(INS)—Down with the dance. It is the cry of Filthorn county school board. At its last meeting the board decided that teachers who dance or encourage dancing will not be permitted to teach in the county school.

The school board's dictum reads:
No teachers who dance or encourage same shall be allowed to teach in the public schools of Calhoun county if said dancing is permitted in at any time from Monday to Friday night. All the teachers will be required to sign a contract agreeing to conform to this rule.

Members of the board declare that of late many school teachers have been tripping the light fantastic to an excessive degree with damaging results to the progress of their pupils.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"NO MORE SEA"

Revelations 21st chap. part of verse 1:—"And there was no more sea."

Last week I said that these words were figurative only.

1. The sea was to St. John, and to all Hebrews, a common SYMBOL OF MYSTERY.

As a race they were not sailors, and they have never shone as a maritime nation. King Solomon built a navy in Ezion-Geber on the shores of the Red Sea—but that was in Arabia; and the crews were furnished by Hiram, the King of Tyre in Phoenicia.

Jehosaphat later made "ships of Tarshish," that is, I suppose, ships of the largest known tonnage, to fetch gold from Ophir; but they were wrecked in the Red Sea where they were probably built.

The Jews were neither ship-builders nor sailors. They did not love the sea. They said with awe: "They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters; these see the works of the Lord, and His wonders in the deep."

They saw the sun go down nightly beyond the golden path along the Great Sea—but what was beyond the horizon they knew not, and having no charts or compass, they were afraid to explore.

So the sea became the emblem of all that was unknown and mysterious. And St. John, exiled on the Isle of Patmos, writes to his "companions in tribulation" that the mystery of their troubles will pass away.

Why was Nero permitted to wreak his insane fury on the saints of Christ? Why was Domitian, the champion of the revival of the old Roman idolatry, allowed to kill, imprison or exile all who would not burn incense to the Divinity of the Emperor? Was God indifferent, or helpless—or dead?

In answer to such thoughts St. John says what we do not now know: we shall know hereafter. Jesus Himself said so. AR mystery will pass away. In the new heaven and the new earth all will be clear for THERE is "no more sea."

2. To the Jews the sea was always a SYMBOL OF TROUBLE.

Popular uprisings were compared to the raging of the rising ocean. The Psalmist said of God: "Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people."

Not only public agitation but private grief was also described, as when David cried: "All Thy waves and Thy billows are gone over me." Swept off his feet by wave upon wave that broke over him making him their plaything, it is no wonder that his spirit was disquieted within him.

I do not know—do you?—of a sharper feeling of helplessness and insecurity than that which one experiences when knocked down by an unexpected billow, only to be re-thrown as one struggles to regain his feet.

I think these Christians of the First Century to whom St. John wrote, who had been buffeted by wave upon wave of imperial persecution and popular hatred, must have found great solace in the assurance that their troubles would end—that there would be "no more sea" in the golden days to come.

3. These Jewish converts saw in the sea the SYMBOL OF SEPARATION.

The Apostle, exiled on the island of Patmos, an almost barren rock of eighteen miles circumference, could look out on the rolling waves of the Aegean Sea on every side. Go where he would he could not shout out the sound of "the voice of many waters" breaking against the rock-ribbed coastline. And when he thought of the converts he had made in the churches on the mainland, the intervening waters seemed like a barrier between them, and an effectual bar to their reunion. There is a minor tone of melancholy in their phrase: "them that are afar off upon the sea."

To us, the ocean is a link binding continent to continent: a channel of communication; a highway for traffic and pleasure. We have to a very large extent removed its dangers and its fears. But in St. John's day the sea was the great and terrible divider.

It is never a happy thing to be separated from those we love; unable to help them in their distress; prevented from sharing their joys and so doubling them, or their sorrows and so halving them. It was not pleasant then: it is not pleasant now.

So the Apostle's assurance that there shall be "no more sea" in the sense of separation from our loved ones comes to us with solace ever fresh and new.

Some of us have been parted from loved ones for years. Some have gone thru the waters of death and the "swellings of Jordan" roll between. Thank God for the promise of a re-union to come with no more partings.

My text thus becomes a singularly beautiful promise of future blessedness for our present encouragement. Mysteries, troubles, separations will all pass away. IN THIS SENSE ONLY shall there be "no more sea."

For twice our beloved Apostle has assured us that he saw in his vision of the glorious life-to-be: "And before the throne was there a sea of glass like unto crystal." "and I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire": "and I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters."

NEW FEATURES OF KNOWN VALUE IMPROVEMENTS OF PROVEN WORTH IN THE NEW SERIES "E" OLDSMOBILE

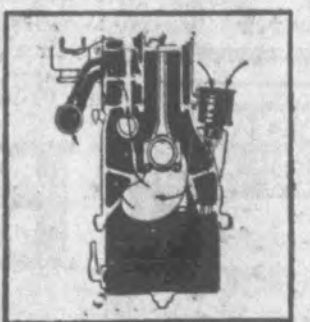

Known to all the motoring world is the definite, decided value of such features as Oil Filter and Air Cleaner.

Clear to every automotive engineer are the advantages of such improvements as Crankcase Ventilation, Two-Way Cooling and the Harmonic Balancer.

And the merit of these, and every other improvement now found in Oldsmobile Six, stands proved on General Motors Proving Ground. These improvements add still more to the value of the car already conceded to "ask no favors, fear no road" . . . they return to you the benefits of manufacturing advantages and economies created by the greatest year in Oldsmobile history. They typify a policy pledged to progress but which adopts no feature till its worth is known. Come in . . . see it . . . drive it . . . know its added value.

that the American family may have, at a moderate investment, a car that gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need . . .

Larger L-Head Engine . . . Crankcase Ventilation . . . High-Velocity, Hot Section Manifold . . . New Axle Ratio . . . Dome-Shaped Combustion Chambers . . . Honed Cylinders . . . Silent Chain Drive . . . Exclusive Chromium Plating . . . Finer Appointments in the Duco-Finished Fisher Bodies . . . New Hood Line . . . Balloon Tires.

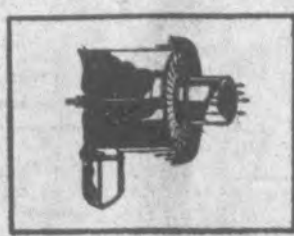

Crankcase Ventilation

In all internal combustion engines water is formed by condensation. Cold engines do not burn all the fuel on starting. This water and liquid fuel pass into the crankcase and form crankcase dilution. Excessive dilution is eliminated by crankcase ventilation. One-third of the air that passes through the carburetor is drawn through a breather port in the left side of the engine. This air, cleared of dust and injurious material by a second air cleaner on the breather port, passes through the crankcase before entering the carburetor. It draws off with it water vapor and unburned fuel that may have passed into the crankcase. This air also carries with it a small amount of the oil vapor, created in the crankcase, which aids in more efficient lubrication of pistons, upper cylinder walls, and valves. Crankcase ventilation improves performance and gives longer life in the engine and longer useful life to the oil.

Harmonic Balancer

The Harmonic Balancer, developed by General Motors engineers, counteracts vibration and gives Oldsmobile a smoothness you will quickly recognize when you take the wheel. It is simple, it requires no adjusting, it is positive in correcting vibration.

Dual Air Cleaning

In this new Oldsmobile, a master cleaner eliminates the injurious particles from two-thirds of the air before it enters the carburetor directly—while the second cleaner, in connection with crankcase ventilation, cleans the balance of the air—with resulting longer life.

Oil Filter

An oil filter has been added to this Oldsmobile, prolonging still more the life of the engine and the useful life of the oil. Should the filter become clogged with sediment, the lubricating system functions in the common manner.

Oil Filter . . . Dual Air Cleaning . . . Harmonic Balancer . . . Twin-Beam Headlights, Controlled from Steering Wheel . . . Two-Way Cooling . . . Three-Way Pressure Lubrication . . . Full Automatic Spark Control . . . Thermomatic Charging Control . . . Instruments Indirectly Illuminated . . . Thief-Proof Car Lock.

Two-Way Cooling

Oldsmobile has been praised for its ability to be driven forty, forty-five, fifty and more miles an hour—hour after hour, without the slightest over-heating. Now Oldsmobile offers "two-way" cooling, which incorporates the best features of the two accepted types . . . pressure cooling and thermo-siphon cooling. Parts at the point of greatest heat are cooled by the manifold method of circulation, while the slower thermo-siphon type of action, in which the rate of circulation is largely governed by the reaction of heat upon the water, maintains sufficient warmth about the cylinders for efficient operation. Here is a new type of cooling design, incorporating the best features of all past engineering in even temperature cooling control.

Twin-Beam Head Lamps

Head lamps have double filament bulbs, one filament for "bright action" and one for "dim action." On "dim action" the light is bright but thrown at a downward angle that protects the oncoming driver and gives ample vision to the Oldsmobile driver. The twin-beam Oldsmobile headlights are operated without the driver shifting his position, as the light control switch is a neat lever, exactly like the hand throttle, centered on the steering wheel.

Greater Driving Ease and Security From behind the glass face of each instrument in the unit-grouped dash panel, an indirect light glows whenever any of the lights are lighted, illuminating each instrument. A reliable instrument board fuel gauge, now standard on all Oldsmobile body types, accurately indicates the supply of gasoline. A new design in anti-theft car locks is a feature of this Oldsmobile. With this thief-proof control the engine cannot be started when the key is left in the lock. Turning of the ignition positively locks the car. The ignition key also operates the door locks.

CLAIRE McDOWELL APPALLED BY HER SON'S GRID DEBUT

When the youngest son makes his debut as a football player and trots out on the gridiron to expose his cherished frame to the tender mercies of eleven stalwart savages who seem determined to mangle him beyond the point of salvage—that's the thrill for his mother.

Claire McDowell, famous screen mother, who will be seen as the "mother of the circus" in "The Devil's Circus," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture with Norma Shearer and Charles Emmett Mack, which comes to White's Theatre, Monday, had just this stirring experience while working in the picture. Her sixteen year old son, the younger of her two boys, made the team of the Fairfax high school of Los Angeles and induced his mother to watch him do his stuff against Harding high in a stiff encounter.

She is a staunch defender of the younger generation, despite its red hot Cabriestons, rolled socks, bobbed hair and oxford bags.

"The young people of today are just as wholesome as the young folk of yesteryear and a whole lot more sensible," says she.

HOPKINS HEIRS CLAIM FORTUNE OF $300,000,000

One Hundred and Twenty-Five North Carolinians Claim Share of Immense Wealth of Pioneer

Greensboro, Aug. 6.—(INS)—Out of the West has come the hope of a fortune—something like $300,000,000 representing the present valuation of the estate of Mark Hopkins, the pioneer who trekked from Randolph county, North Carolina, to California during the gold rush of '49.

More than 125 North Carolina claimants have announced that they will start proceedings in the United States District Court here soon in an attempt to establish their right to the Hopkins fortune.

The impending action of the North Carolina claimants is the outgrowth of a trip by a High Point, North Carolina man, Norman Lee Freeman, to the Pacific Coast two years ago.

Freeman who represented 127 claimants, including himself, looked over the California estate and retained Judge J. H. Longden, of Sacramento, Cal., as attorney for the heirs.

Judge Longden filed a petition asking to have the original distribution of 1883 set aside and a new distribution made, on the ground of fraud. This was based on the contention of Moses Hopkins, a brother of Mark, that there were no other living relatives.

The judge and his wife, Dr. H. E. Longden, have been in North Carolina for several weeks investigating the list of North Carolina claimants, the bulk of whom are in Randolph county. Large number also reside in Guilford, Person, Durham and Orange counties.

Probably a score of the claimants are scattered through Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Texas, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Washington and California, it was said.

North Carolina attorneys for the claimants in this state and Victor S. Bryant, of Durham, assistant to Judge Longden, have been conferring here for several weeks, and will continue until they come to the point of taking definite court action, it was said.

Court action here is expected to include the filing of a petition in United States District Court for permission for a hearing in which the claimants would attempt to establish their right to a part of the estate, it was said.

CABLE LETTER

London, Eng., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Crocodiles and natives fraternize in the most friendly manner at Tumu, a village on the gold coast of Africa.

Princess Marie Louise, cousin of King George, tells about the good feeling between the crocodiles and gold coasters in travel letters of hers which have just been published.

The natives regard crocodiles as the "familiar spirit" of man and never injure them. In fact they believe that any person who injures or kills a crocodile also might be killed.

The lot of the naughty boy is not usually a happy one, but he has found a champion in Lady Ellen Lambert, the sister of the Earl of Cavan. Lady Allen declares that with all his faults, she loves him.

In opening a scout's file, Lady Ellen said the devil attacked boys because they were worth attacking. She knew from her experience in scout work that some boys were wild, but in spite of all their sins she loved them and loved to work among them.

Dorothy Dixon, the Kansas City girl who won success as a musical comedy star in London, and then deserted musical shows to become Peter Pan and later to take the leading role in the mystery play "The Ringer," is about to return to musical comedy in the London production of "Tip Toes."

Allen Kearns, an American, who is new to London, is also to be in the cast. Laddi, Cliff is to be the leading comedian in the play.

Paris, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Although it is nearly eight years since the end of the World War, American searchers in the old battle area are continually finding bodies of American soldiers who fell in battle and were buried hastily nearby. Searching has been going on more or less Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—(INS)—The Charleston and St. Louis hop are passing out in the movie colony. Motion picture stars and players, who are always first with the latest, have returned to the glide ways and the dreamy, Argentine tango.

The new dances, slow and dreamy, are natural reaction, Mae Murray, famous for her interpretation of the Merry Widow waltz, declared today. I welcome the change as the very fast dances were getting monotonous, she added.

Joan Crawford, another movie actress, is entirely won over to the waltz and the tango even though she has been a consistent prize-winner in Charleston contests. The slower dances are more graceful, Miss Crawford explained.

The new dances will be very popular, until the tide changes in favor of something newer and absolutely different, Claire Windsor declared.

Lon Tellegen, noted lover of the stage and screen, former husband of Gertrude Farrar, the singer, has turned director. He will handle the megaphone for 'My Wife's Honor,' a Fox film.

A large number of directors have been screen actors at one time or another. Howard Benley, director of Ramon Novarro's starring vehicle, 'A Certain Young Man,' was once a star, and Kingidor, Edward Sedwick, Victor Searstrom, King Baggot are but a few who have forsaken the grease paint for the megaphone.

James Cruze and Edmund Goulding were actors before they became directors.

John Gilbert, however, reversed the process. He was a director before he became a popular leading man.

The only difference between foreign directors and American directors is in the handling of the camera. Edward Sedwick, director for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, declared today. The foreign director never for a moment allows his audience to lose consciousness of the camera. He uses strange angles and trick shots.

The American director, on the other hand, tries to make his audience forget they are looking at something a camera has produced.

Richard Barthelmess, well-known motion picture leading man, will probably make his films in Los Angeles from now on. His next pictures, 'Four Feathers,' will soon start production here.

Walter Camp, Jr., president of Inspiration Pictures, discussing the question of producing in New York City or Southern California, declared that his company will practically be forced to produce here because of the superior conditions. The availability of all types of actors, the variety of locations and accessibility of props, etc., gives Hollywood an advantage which New York cannot compete.

Harry Langdon, moon-faced comedian, is going in for athletic comedies. Langdon has just completed 'The Strong Man' in which he acted as an assistant to an old-fashioned weight-lifter. The preceding picture was 'Tramp, Tramp, Tramp,' and Harry became quite a pedestrian while trudging before the camera over hill and dale.

Charles Gilpin, the greatest negro actor of today, has arrived in Hollywood to play the lead in the film adaptation of 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' The roles of Eva and Tom are as yet unfiled.

Women make better comic actors than men, because they have a subtler sense of humor.

That from Sam Taylor, who has been signed to direct the famous stage comedienne, Beatrice Lillie, who deserted the English company playing 'Charlot's Revue,' for a movie job.

Men are too broad in their comedy, the director explained. Marion Davies in 'The Red Mill' was one of the first to sacrifice her beauty for a homely makeup and a good laugh.

The departure for New York City of William Beaudine, who will direct Thomas Meighan in a picture in the east, recalled Beaudine's arrival here from New York ten years ago.

Beaudine came to Hollywood as a $12-a-week property boy; he returned to New York one of the highest paid directors in the industry.

KELLOGG STAYS HARD AT WORK AS OTHERS PLAY

Secretary of State Is Busy With Foreign Problems; Has Had No Vacation

Washington, Aug. 6.—(INS)—While most members of President Coolidge's cabinet have ranged far and wide on their summer vacation excursion, Secretary of State Kellogg has remained steadily at his desk during the torrid summer weather spreading peace and good will gospel of the administration to other nations of the world.

And although Mr. Kellogg, one of the most peace-loving foreign ministers in many administrations has sought at every turn to minimize differences with other governments, many pressing problems are now before him.

More concern is displayed by the state department toward Latin-American relations than any other matter at this time, since Secretary Mellon has shouldered the burden of the foreign debt negotiations under the direction of President Coolidge.

Despite a rebuff at the hands of Chile, which rejected the good offers of the United States in settlement of the 40-year-old dispute over the ownership of the provinces of Tacna and Arica, Secretary Kellogg is continuing his mediation. To settle this delicate question would mean much to the prestige of the United States in South America, for it has been discussed ever since Chile took the provinces from Peru by the Treaty of Anon in 1883, ending a bloody war.

Another step in the administration's effort for Latin-American accord was taken with the signing of a new treaty with the Republic of Panama, in which the United States becomes an ally of the United States in the defense of the Panama canal.

One sore spot remains in Nicaragua, where the government of General Chamorro is not been recognized because it is charged, he sized power by unconstitutional methods. Of long duration are the Mexican anti-alien land laws and the claims of American citizens, for damages suffered in Mexico during the frequent uprisings there.

China remains as a constant challenge to the United States and to other foreign powers, pledged to a general relinquishment of the great authority seized in China, to maintain order and make foreign interests secure. The state department is now giving its support to a movement to turn back the mixed courts in Shanghai to Chinese control.

The apparently futile efforts of the preparatory commission on a disarmament conference to reach a basis at Geneva that augurs for an accord of greater scope than the Washington naval conference was not a disappointment to American diplomats.

Despite their lack of confidence in the desire of European nations to disarm, the American delegation is being kept in Geneva as notice to the world that the United States is willing to go along with other nations in an endeavor to preserve peace throughout the world.

The genuine hatred of America which diplomats have reported exists in many harassed countries is giving Secretary Kellogg plenty of opportunity to exercise his bent for smoothing troubled waters.

On one subject Mr. Kellogg apparently departs from his generally settled policy of friendship and good will. This is Russia. Never, say Washington officials, will Russia be recognized as long as he is secretary of state. Socialism and communism are to him vipers to be stamped out.

No Russian or prominence comes to the United States without Mr. Kellogg knowing about the visit. Nor does any one get a visa on his passport if there is good reason to suspect he is coming for the purpose of spreading propaganda of the Russian Soviet.
