DURHAM COUNTY FARMER BRUTALLY MURDERS FATHER

Attacked by Father, Son Seizes Weapon From Father and Beats Out His Brains

Nelson, N. C., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Seizing the root of a tree from the hands of his father who attacked him, S. A. Page, 37, today beat out the brains of his father, Roy Page, 69.

The younger man then sent his brother-in-law for the sheriff of Durham county and surrendered and was carried to jail.

The killing, which was witnessed by Miss Nellie Page, sister of the young man, was the outcome, it was stated, of an argument between the father and son which began yesterday afternoon over the division of some tobacco.

It was said that when the younger man went to the tobacco bar, this morning, his father renewed the argument and a fist fight ensued. The father then seized the root of a tree lying near by and attacked the son who took it from him and after downing him, beat his brains into a pulp.

The dead man was a prominent and wealthy farmer of Durham county, and a former county commissioner. He was also a deacon in the Baptist church. He and his son lived on adjoining farms. He is survived by a widow and several children.

French Farmer Opens Sock As the Franc Falls

Paris, Aug. 25.—(AP)—For probably the first time in the history of the French agriculture the French peasant is spending money lavishly.

Watching the franc tumble on the world exchange, and seeing the money he had two years ago with less than half its purchasing power today, the French farmer has decided money isn't so much anyway. Anyone who knows the character of this class of agriculturists will realize this is nothing short of revolutionary.

While the solons have been arguing in the Chamber, and Senate, the peasant has been going stoically along the road trod by his fathers and grandfathers, paying little attention to politics, but working early and late in the fields with the same methods as did his forefathers, and placing his profits in the traditional wool-wool sock.

He is rather a logical person, this son of the French soil with his wooden shoes clumping along the country road—it may take him a long time to change his mind and to adopt a new method or arrive at a new conclusion, but when he does he is the most "set" individual in the world.

He has now become "set" in the idea that something he can use, or even gaze at, is better than money hidden away which may be worth nothing tomorrow and he is buying light trucks, and even touring cars.

TWO KILLED AND TEN ARE INJURED

Santa Fe Work Train of Thirteen or Fourteen Cars Derailed Early Today

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and ten injured in the derailment of a Santa Fe work train near Thoreau, New Mexico, early this morning, according to meagre reports received here. Names of dead and injured had not been learned.

The train was moving a bridge crew and equipment and the locomotive was said to have left the rails carrying 13 or 14 cars with it. The conductor was reported missing and was believed to be buried in the wreckage. The cause of the wreck had not been determined.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT IN AUTO WRECK

Arthur Wooten, 20 years old, was instantly killed, George Case was seriously injured and Lester Wooten escaped without injury, when the auto mobile in which they were riding, overturned on the Winterville highway, shortly after three o'clock this afternoon.

Arthur Wooten and George Case, two mechanics of this city, were trying out an automobile on which they had been working, and Lester Wooten, cousin of the dead man, was riding with them at the time of the accident.

Case is reported to have sustained injury to his back but the exact extent of his hurt could not be learned.

MISSING AVIATOR FOUND ALIVE BUT BADLY INJURED

Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, Army Flying Ace Had Been Missing Since Last Monday

Bellefonte, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Lieutenant Cyrus K. Bettis, Army Flying Ace, missing since Monday, was found alive in the Seven Sister Mountains today, and is now in the county hospital here, in a serious but not critical condition.

The flyer's left leg is broken below the knee, his skull is fractured in two places and he has severe lacerations on the face and head.

The army officer owes his life to his grit. Buried deep in the thick forest where no one could find him or his wrecked plane, Lieutenant Bettis crawled for five and a half hours through the tangled underbrush until he came to a roadway where later he was found by two state highway employees.

CROP REPORT

Washington, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture, summarizing conditions in Southern states for the week ended yesterday, said the cotton crop made poor to only fair progress with too much rain in some sections. Truck and minor crops were described as generally good in the southeast.

For North Carolina, the report said the progress of cotton was fair, varying from poor to very good but considerable complaint of poor fruiting; some shedding but little insect trouble. First bales sold reported at Dunn on 21st. Other crops doing well.

Dean of Students Returns to Chapel Hill From N. Y.

Chapel Hill, Aug. 25.—Francis F. Bradshaw, Dean of Students in the University of North Carolina, is back in Chapel Hill after having spent six months in graduate work at Columbia University in New York.

Mr. Bradshaw's leave of absence was made possible by a fellowship granted by a national organization interested in the field of student welfare. His studies were primarily in the field of psychology, particularly that branch dealing with the educational and personal problems of college students.

During Dean Bradshaw's absence the work of his office was under the supervision of Prof. A. H. Patterson, Dean of the School of Applied Science.

WIFE OF SLAIN EDITOR ENTERS SUIT $100,000

Mrs. Don R. Mellet Asks $100,000 Damages of Canton Gunmen Who Slew Her Husband

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Don R. Mellet, of Indianapolis, today filed suit in Federal court here asking damages of $100,000 for the death of her husband, who was killed at Canton, on July 18. The suit named as defendants Dan Rudner, Louis Mazer and Patrick E. McDermott.

The petition named Mazer and Rudner as conspirators against the life of Mellet and claims damages because the slaying has deprived her of her husband's support.

University Summer School to Close Next Saturday

Chapel Hill, Aug. 25.—The second session of the University of North Carolina's 39th summer school will close on Saturday, August 28. Class work ends at 1:30 P. M. Thursday, and at two o'clock that afternoon examinations begin, which will continue until 12:30 Saturday.

A representative of the Southern Railroad will be in Memorial Hall Friday for the sale of tickets and baggage checks, and by Saturday night most of the more than 800 students who have taken the courses offered by the summer school, will have left Chapel Hill.

The last dance of the summer school will be held Friday night from 9 to 11:30.

Engine of Civil War Fame is Contrasted With New 'Quipment

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 25.—(AP)—The evolution of the American locomotive from its towering smoke stack, wooden cab and strange appearances to the present day ponderous mass of bright colored steel is strikingly presented here.

"Texas," one of the few remaining pioneer locomotives and one of the engines that participated in the chase of the famous Anderson raiders during the Civil War, has survived the advent of successors not only two or three times its size and speed, but also of different hue.

Displacing the sombre black, universal garb for locomotives of American railroads in recent years, the Southern railway system has adopted a color scheme of Virginia green, gold and burnished steel for 23 new heavy Pacific type passenger engines now being put into service on Southern lines.

The Civil War relic preserved here in Grant Park, was never so bedecked, but the "grand-parent" of the modern locomotive has a history as colorful as the paint on its "flapper grand-child."

Home of Gunmen, is Shortly to Have 2 New Colleges

Marion, Ill., Aug. 25.—(INS)—Williamson county, noted for the bark of g—unmen's pistols, soon may become famous also for its educational opportunities. For two new colleges are preparing to open their doors.

At Cambria, a little town near Herrin, steps are being taken for the founding of a self help college, to offer a two year college course. According to R. V. Ben. T. Baggott, Cambria, president of the Holmes association, which is sponsoring the movement, $100,000 has been secured toward the fund for the establishment of the institution.

The second collegiate effort of Williamson county is being exerted at Creel Springs, 13 miles southeast of here, where the old Creel Springs college is being revived. It is expected to open this fall and will offer degrees in liberal art and music. The college is a Baptist institution.

Welcome Krishnamurti. We Over Do It Often. Men Read More Than Women. Another "Limit" Vanishes. By ARTHUR BLISSBANE

Krishnamurti, young Hindu prophet, called "Messiah" by many seeking spiritual consolation and a new substitute for thought and work, will soon be here. He hopes, modestly, "to turn America away from materialism." If he can do that, without overdoing it, and then take American life and energy home to Britian 300,000,000 subjects in India, he will prove himself an industrial messiah, to the Hindus.

Materialism, the non-worker's word for industrial energy, is overdone here. However, two or ten generations of the spirit might well be exchanged for the steam engine, wireless, electric power and dyeing machine. Weighed down with machinery and gold is American idealism. But that is not as harmful as the sombre surrender of Hindu thought to India's heat. We are largely, what climate makes us. Eskimos will never think—too cold. Hindus have lost their Aryan inheritance—too hot. They plan a life of contemplation, and for heaven's sake, "Nirvana" which is nothingness, no work, no planning, no thinking, no progress. India's heat makes the thought of work painful. Even the Jewish people, terrifically energetic, in the right climate and surroundings, planned a heaven, with nothing to do but sing, and bow down before a king.

As a people, we are inclined to over do everything. Even our churches might paste up somewhere the inscription carved on the temple of Apollo, Delphi, Meden Agan, "Nothing in Excess." In Kentucky there was a dangerous drought. Clergymen and the people, everywhere, prayed for rain earnestly, continuously. One southern clergyman arranged for continuous prayer to be kept up night and day until it DID RAIN.

That was overdoing it. The rain began, almost at once, and it rained on and on. Now Kentucky's tobacco crop is threatened by excessive rains and other crops are injured. A continuance of the drought would have done less harm. Aristotle's doctrine means "Not Too Much, Not Too Little." That is the right doctrine. At the same time, much spiritual good has surely been accomplished by Kentucky's demonstration of the power of prayer.

A great public library discovers that men read more than women, about 23 men to 17 women in the main reading room. In rooms devoted to technology, chemistry and science, the percentage is 92 men, 8 women. Woman's greatest attendance is in the room devoted to genealogy, where books help to identify your remote ancestors.

Proud men will say "All this proves that I am the intellectual half of the race. Woman is only interested in finding a lord or king in her ancestry." Woman will reply "You're wrong. Woman is compelled to spend the first of her life looking for a man worth marrying." After she gets him, her time is devoted to taking care of him. When she realizes how little he amounts to, she looks up his ancestry, hoping to find good news for her children.

More important to this practical country than any message "from the beyond" is the news that there is no longer a limit to the length of super-power lines. When Niagara was first harnessed, power could be carried only a short distance, the loss as distance increased was like Newton's law "inversely as the square of the distance." Nicola Tesla was conspicuous in solving that difficulty.

Now, for any distance in the United States, the problem is solved. Experiments by the enterprising Pacific Gas and Electric Company of Northern California, and C. L. Fortescue, of the Westinghouse Company, justify the statement "There is no theoretical limit to the length or capacity of a transmission line."

Samuel Insull, Arthur Williams, or some other enterprising "electrical king" should hurry to Britain. (Continued on page four)

JESSE WINGATE WAIVES HEARING ARSON CHARGE

Is in Jail in Default of $5,000 Bond Pending Trial in Superior Court Next Week

J. A. Wingate, local man, who was jailed here last Thursday on a charge of arson, yesterday afternoon waived preliminary hearing before Magistrate John Ivey Smith and was bound over to Superior Court under $5,000 bond. Today the bond had not been furnished and Wingate was still in jail. His case will be set for hearing before Judge N. A. Sinclair in next week's session of criminal court.

Wingate was arrested late Thursday on a charge of arson growing out of the fire that destroyed the dwelling house in which he lived, early Thursday morning. At the time of the arrest officers indicated that the evidence against the defendant was of a strong nature and the State Insurance Commissioner was notified of the arrest. For the past two days Deputy Commissioner Wade has been here investigating the case.

THOUSANDS SEEK VIEW THE BODY OF LATE MOVIE ACTOR

Hundreds Injured in Traffic Jam in Front of Place Where Valentino Lies in State

New York, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The body of Rudolph Valentino, greatest lover of the screen, today was guarded by police and black shirted fascists, because of the traffic throng that have tried to view it, resulting in scores of injuries. Police estimate that 50,000 persons, mostly women and girls, blocked Broadway in front of the unmarked establishment where the star lies in state and that more than a hundred were injured in the crush yesterday.

Two plate glass windows were shattered and several times mounted policemen were driven back by the crowd. Reserves were called out, and 135 policemen and 10 mounted policemen were required to keep order. The streets were littered with battered hats and other wearing apparel after some order was restored. Police picked up 28 shoes.

The casket containing the body was placed on the second floor, in order to force spectators to pass single file by climbing a stairway, and all portable objects were removed from the reach of souvenir hunters.

RIVIERA CITY FIGHTS INDEPENDENT CASINO FOR TOURISTS' MONEY

Nice, Aug. 25.—(INS)—Open warfare has been declared between the Jete Casino Promenade Casino and municipal authorities. The conflict grew out of rivalry between the Jete Casino, an independent proposition, and the Municipal Casino.

In order to cope with the ever increasing number of Americans and English visitors the Jete Casino recently decided to make an extension to their building, costing approximately $25,000.

Municipal authorities granted a permit for the extension, but later, through pressure brought to bear, it is believed, by officials of the Municipal Casino, the General Council of the Alpes-Maritimes department ordered the extension stopped.

Work on the extension had already begun. The direction of the Jete Promenade Casino refused to stop the work and building is continuing, despite tax and summons from the authorities. Outsiders are awaiting eagerly for the next move of the Municipality.

SAYS TOWN FOLK DRANK MORE THAN LEGION MEMBERS

Hickory Mayor Says Legionnaires Not Responsible for Drinking at Convention

Hickory, N. C., Aug. 25.—(AP)—"There may have been too much drinking at the Legion convention here, but it is my opinion that the Legionnaires are not solely responsible," said Mayor S. L. Whitener today.

The mayor began his statement by saying his observation led him to believe there were a great number of Hickory citizens who took the Legion convention, as a guise to "tank up" and blamed it on the visitors. Illustrating his position, Mayor Whitener says as follows:

"It is the same fault that is so often found with Ku Klux Klan. Men put on a sheet and commit all manner of crime that they would not dare if their identity were known. I understand that there was perfect order at all meetings of the convention and that the drinking was done outside the Legion Hall. In justice to the Legionnaires, in view of the criticism they have received, I deem it my duty to state that the drunkenest persons I saw during the convention were Hickory citizens."

New York Structures Built in Queer Forms

New York, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Some of the most curiously shaped buildings in the world are located in New York without one of them being planned as a freak.

This condition arises from their having been planned according to streets, which originally were laid along twisting roads or Indian trails.

The Flatiron Building is the best known, with its knife like edge facing the North while the Southern exposure is widened in the space between converging streets. Broadway has a similar shaped building every few blocks up to Times Square.

Broadway bisects Manhattan Island from the southeast corner to the northwest. The remainder of the main streets are laid out in rectangular squares, which causes the odd shaped lots to appear at each intersection.

Times Square itself is formed by a junction of this sort, and is anything but square, being rather more the shape of a diamond, as Broadway crosses Seventh Avenue, there from the east and then turns north.

An apartment house located at Riverside Drive and 116th street is built inside of a long curve of the latter street, which makes the building a triangle with one side "ballooned" outward.

The building across 116th street a companion to this one, is built with the curve inward. If the street could be removed and the two buildings joined they would dovetail.

WILSON MAN HELD DOUBLE MURDER

Alvester Ayers Tells Story of Killing of Wife and Father to Coroner's Jury

Wilson, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Alvester Ayers, held here for the killing yesterday morning of his wife Bertha Ayers, and her father William Starling, today made a complete confession of the slaying to Coroner Rex L. Farmer, and a coroner's jury. He was ordered held for Superior Court next month without bond.

POLICE BAFFLED AS TO IDENTITY BANK BOMBER

Set Off Bomb When Refused $2,000; 2 Killed and Score Injured

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 25.—(AP)—The fanatic who brought death to himself and a policeman and injury to a score of other persons when he exploded a bomb in the Farmer's Deposit Savings Bank yesterday afternoon, carried the secret of his identity to the grave, so far as police could learn today.

One identification regarded as almost certain, that the man was a maniac escaped from a local hospital for the insane, was discarded when relatives declared the bomber was not of their family. They viewed the body at the city morgue where hundreds of others visited in a vain attempt to identify the man.

A belt buckle on which was engraved the letter "L" was the only bit of evidence on which police had to work.

The bomber, a man of foreign appearance, dressed in working clothes, entered the bank yesterday and presented a demand for $2,000 with the alternative statement, "Or I'll blow the bank." When G. C. Ortman, a special bank policeman approached to arrest him, he placed a black satchel upon the floor and gave it a kick. A violent explosion followed and the bomber was instantly killed and Ortman so badly injured that he died shortly thereafter.

National Guard Unit Organizes Football Team

At the regular meeting Monday night the local unit of the National Guard organized a football team and already the boys are getting ready for real practice. Indications are that the squad when completed will consist almost entirely of experienced players and some real football this fall is promised.

Captain Lester Jones stated yesterday that the equipment had been ordered and the squad would be in shape in the near future. He stated that negotiations with the guard unit team at New Bern for a game here an Armistice Day were already under way.

Representative Madden Believes There Should Be No Effort at Reduction Until National Settle

Paul Smith's N. Y., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Further tax reduction in the United States must await the funding of all the world war debts owed this country by other nations, in the belief of Representative Madden, Republican of Illinois.

Mr. Madden, who was the overnight guest of President Coolidge at White Pine Camp, thinks no tax reduction program should be laid before the forthcoming session on Congress. It is his opinion, however, that by the time the Congress of December 1927 comes into session the situation may warrant an effort at cutting taxes.

Mr. Madden is convinced, however, that future attempts at reduction should only follow complete adjustment of the foreign debt situation. The Representative's views were obtained upon his arrival at the camp yesterday and at the same time he issued a statement in which he defended the protective tariff, praised the economy program of the Administration and advocated development of inland waterway, so as to afford agriculture lower transportation rates.

Asked to discuss ways for achieving tax reduction, Mr. Madden referred to a magazine article written by him a year ago, in which he set forth that the country could save $200,000,000 a year in taxes by means of saving.

Among the items he pointed out could be saved was $180,000,000 now applied to the public debt sinking fund, but which, in his opinion, should not be so used. Representative Madden's visit to the President was understood to be in connection with the Federal Budget for 1928, final estimates for which must be submitted by September 15. Mr. Madden's Congressional committee will start its hearing on the budget bill soon after final estimates have been submitted.

COURT RECESSED UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Criminal Term Begins Monday With Many Important Cases on the Docket

The August term of Superior court which convened here on Monday of this week, yesterday recessed until next Monday in order for Judge N. A. Sinclair to return home in response to a telegram announcing the death of a very near relative. The civil docket for the week was very light, however, and most of the important cases had been disposed of.

On next Monday, Judge Sinclair will open court for the trial of criminal cases and many important cases, including murder, arson and robbery and docketed. The cases disposed of in yesterday's session of civil court, were as follows:

In a suit against H. D. Casen, trading as Greenville Service Station, the Standard Oil Company was granted judgment.

An order annulling the marriage of Miss Ward Moore to J. M. Mitchell, Jr., was officially signed.

The Old Buck Guano Company in a suit against C. E. Anderson and wife, for payment of note for fertilizer, was given judgment. Company against J. E. Joyner. In a suit of J. Leopold and for an alleged account, the jury returned a verdict in favor of Joyner. In the case of Eureka College versus E. F. Euse et al., to correct the draftsman's error in certain deed, there was no contention and the court ordered the correction.

VALENTINO AND DR. ELIOT

(News and Observer) Dr. Charles William Eliot, pioneer in the field of higher education, who at the age of thirty-five took the presidency of Harvard and immediately started those reforms which have found lodgment in the structure of education the native over, is dead at the age of 96.

Rudolph Valentino, the original "sheik" of the movies, who started his screen career within the memory of the present flapper, is dead with the best years of the allotted three score and ten, ahead of him.

Dr. Eliot might have sauntered into the Sir Walter Hotel on the last day he lived, registered in his own proper name and having secured a room, might have lived there in retirement for weeks.

Rudolph Valentino might have strolled into the lobby of the same hotel, looked the place over through narrowed contemplative eyelids, between puffs of a cigarette, and before he could have put his name on the register the clerk would have been calling for police protection for his noted guest.

It would be unfair to list for every persons who knew Dr. Eliot's major achievement in education, the number who could rattle off the roles of the "sheik" star, and for every person who has seen Harvard's grand old man, the number to whom the face of this movie hero is as familiar as that of the next-door neighbor.

It would not only be unfair, it would mean nothing except this: That the work of Dr. Eliot was accomplished in the comparative obscurity of letters and higher education while the work of Valentino was visible in every village worthy of a movie house.

Herein is the only point of drawing a parallel. The young man whose fame was a matter of a few years, flashed his way toward a front page obituary notice through the medium that Dr. Eliot could never have commanded. He was part and parcel of the appeal of the movies, that new force which has settled down as one of the first if not the first American industry.

Education has made timid gestures toward the movies. It has spoken in stilted phrase of "visual education." It has experimented. It has not yet opened its arms to a medium which lacks little of being perfect for the dissemination of knowledge. Education must do this, must appreciate, and possess itself of the secret of the silver screen or find itself in an ox cart trailing the progress of a motor age.

BOBBED HAIR HER JOKE

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Bobbed hair is "one of life's biggest jokes" to Mary C. Athow, department president of Michigan and Ohio Army Nurses of the Civil War, as she looks on with eyes which have seen events of 93 years.

"A tall, slender girl, with a good heavy straight bob, reminds me of an uptown mop," says the veteran nurse. "It is humorous as well as monotonous to see hundreds of girls following on style like a flock of sheep."

"To give my opinion on the present day styles of dress, cocktail drinking, cigarette smoking, dancing, jazz, bobbed hair and other modern evils, would fill a whole volume. Jazz is a desecration of our most beautiful gift —music. Modest dancing, however, is a delightful recreation and when I was younger I used to enjoy it."

Mrs. Athow is here to attend the annual reunion of her organization, September 19 to 24.

STANFORD FOOTBALL TEAM NEEDS ONLY TWO MEN FOR STRONG 1926 ELEVEN, SAID

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Two small details are bothering "Pop" Warner, the venerable Stanford football coach these days.

One is a fullback and the other a quarterback. For the Cardinals will have another powerful football eleven this fall if the grand old man of the American game can replace Ernie Nevers, his all-American full and "Muggs" Mitchell who guided the Redshirts through a successful season in 1925 with his smart football intellect.

Outside of these positions Warner has a veteran team,

Proof positive See road test on Dodge cars 40% less oil, 10% less gas

ROAD tests with hundreds of cars prove that the new "Standard" Motor Oil works wonders with automobile motor performance.

For instance, a Dodge, run 1,080 miles from September 24th to October 22d, 1925, showed 40.9% increase in oil mileage; 10% increase in gas mileage; smoother operation at all speeds; more power; less drag on the hills.

Here's performance you have never dreamed of getting from any lubricating oil. Drive around to the nearest "Standard" Service Station or dealer and get a crank case full. Then expect results. You can actually feel the difference.

DANCING GIRLS' SALARIES ARE CUT DOWN BY RULER BUT THE DANCE GOES ON

Bombay, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The professional dancing girls of the entourage of the Maharana of Zalwar have threatened to strike unless the Maharana withdraws his order of compulsory attendance for dances at the Durbar held every Wednesday. Za'war makes an allowance from the state treasury to every dancing girl in the capital city of Ajmere, and whenever they are called for a special occasion an additional honorarium is paid. The new ruler, inclined to be a little more economical than his predecessors, recently issued an order doing away with the custom of paying additional honorariums and insisting on the personal attendance of the girls every week.

In reply to the strike ultimatum, the Maharana has retaliated by issuing another order to the effect that any absence from the weekly Durbar will be looked upon as dereliction of duty and that salaries would be cut down accordingly.

Up to Him.

Samoa Island Squabble Taken to U. S. Courts

Apia, Samoa, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Congressional action annexing Swain's Island, a three mile long speck in the ocean 250 miles from here, to American Samoa, has brought on in the high court here an old suit to determine its ownership.

Eighty years ago the coral atoll bore a few coconut palms. About that time it was settled upon by Sula Tyrell, a Frenchman, who built houses and established a boiling down station for rendering coconuts into oil. Tyrell married a Tokelan woman.

In 1856 Tyrell and his wife went to other islands to buy coconuts, leaving behind an eight year old son.

During their absence, Eli Jennings, an American citizen, with two other white men and some islanders, landed on the opposite side of the mile lagoon from Tyrell's settlement.

The native in charge sent the Sav. Kalofa, across in a boat as evidence that the island belonged to a white man. Jennings, however, insisted upon erecting buildings and informed the natives that Kalofa would be adopted by him as his son. When Jennings' daughter attained marriageable age she was wedded to Kalofa. Title to the island and its now fruitful coconut groves passed from Jennings and his companions into other hands, but the descendants of Kalofa and Jennings' daughter have always asserted that their title descending from Kalofa is older than that derived from Jennings.

An effort was made 28 years ago to quiet the title in the supreme court established under the three power government of Samoa, but difficulties arose as to jurisdiction. The Frenchman, Tyrell, it was afterward learned, had been murdered on another island, to which he had gone for coconuts.

SESQUI IN EFFORT FOR LENGLEN MATCH

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Philadelphiaans want to see Suzanne Lenglen, the French professional sensational tennis player and to that end Dr. George W. Orton, sports director of the Sesqui-Centennial exposition has written to C. C. Pyle, who will manage Miss Lenglen on her American tour concerning the match.

No opponent was mentioned for the French player, however, Dr. Orton is considering a match between the French wonder and Edwin Faulkner, the tennis professional at the Germantown Cricket Club and said to be the best playing pro in the country. Faulkner in practice sessions has held his own with the best amateurs in the country, it is said.

FOUNTAIN CITY CHURCH GROWING UNDER MR. SMITH

Former Greenville Pastor Making Wonderful Record in Tennessee Church

The following item from the Nashville, Tenn., Baptist and Reflector, will be read with interest and pleasure by friends of Rev. Leland W. Smith, former pastor of Memorial Baptist Church here:

July 25th marked the close of the first year services of Pastor Leland W. Smith. A special service was arranged for the day, and the pastor made a report of the work of the various departments of the church and delivered an inspiring message on "Successful Failure—Hope" in which he pointed out the plans for the future and told of his hopes and plans.

The report of the year's work shows some splendid progress in all departments. There were 101 additions during the year without any special revival meetings. The net gain in membership was 65, and the present membership is 456. The average enrollment of the Sunday school has been 558 and the average attendance 401, an increase over the preceding year of 16.9 per cent. The average attendance at prayer meeting has been 89, and these services have been deeply spiritual and inspirational. During the year one new B. Y. P. U. was added, the number of unions now being five, with an average attendance of all unions for the year of 911. The young people are loyal to the pastor and are active in church work.

The W. M. U. is thoroughly organized, having all the auxiliaries. The membership is as follows: W. M. S., 58; Y. W. A., 30; G. A., 35; J. G. A., 29; R. A., 29; Sunbeams, 37. Two training schools were conducted during the year and eight mission study classes. One hundred and fifty seats and diplomas were awarded for Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. work, and 240 seals and certificates were awarded for mission study. Eighty-three titheers are enrolled and 80 per cent of the membership of the church contributes to the budget; $11,588 passed through the hands of the church treasurer during the year.

"The church is loyal to the denominational issues and contributes regularly to the co-operative program. Two members serve on the board of trustees of Carson-Newman College—R. L. Huff and W. L. Gentry. Two members serve on the executive committee of the Southern Baptist Brotherhood—L. H. Petrie and Ben C. Ogil. Rev. George E. Moody, a Yuldefev evangelist, has membership in the church, as do W. A. Masterson and W. Douglas Hudgins, both pastors of churches. Mr. R. L. Huff is moderator of Knox County Association and one of the choice and active laymen of the county.

Mrs. J. A. Dinn, who teaches the Baraca class, is a splendid worker, and during the year taught thirty-four mission study classes in the churches of the association. "Pastor Smith stands high in the esteem of his people. One of the members declares that for the past year no word of criticism of his or disapproval of his method has come to his ears. The church is a unit in its appreciation of the splendid services rendered by Pastor Smith and in love for him and his ministry. He went to Fountain City from Greenville, N. C., where he was pastor for four years. The church gave him a call when he was practically unknown, but the years work has convinced the members that they were led of the Lord in the matter.

"The strong points of Pastor Smith are a keen personal interest in every one who attends services at Central Church and his absolute refusal to show favoritism. His motto is "Owe no man anything save to love one another," and he lives up to it. Some of the members of the church declare that they never saw a man who gets more joy out of preaching than he does.

"The editor is glad to have this interesting note from Fountain City. The church is eagerly pressing forward and is destined to become a far greater factor in kingdom work than it is today for with a contented and happy pastor, followed by a loyal and devoted band of people, no church can fail."

Unseen Sources of Long Life

The basic sources of automobile value are not always apparent to the eye.

A motor car, like a house, may LOOK a great deal more substantial than it really is.

Because of this difficulty, more and more thousands are turning to Dodge Brothers product for insurance against disappointment.

The years have proved, and each year proves anew, that Dodge Brothers are as deeply concerned with the UNSEEN goodness of their motor car, as with the seen.

The mileage it will deliver, the safety it will provide, the expense and trouble it will save the owner over a period of years, are quite as important to Dodge Brothers as the more obvious details of equipment and style.

163 INDUSTRIAL DEATHS IN NEW YORK DURING JULY

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(INS)—Industrial accidents exacted a toll of 163 lives in New York State during July, Industrial Commission James A. Hamilton announced.

The state is able to compute these figures through reports filed with the bureau of compensation insurance.

The deaths occurred as follows during July: New York City, 83; Albany, 34; Buffalo, 24; Rochester, 7; Syracuse, 15.

Manufacturing industries reported that 45 death claims were filed during July in connection with deaths of employees said to have been injured in their work.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

Los Angeles, Aug. 25.—(INS)—F. W. Murnan, the red-haired German director of "The Last Laugh," who has been imported to Hollywood for one American picture, believes that films without titles show the cinema at its best. There were no titles, the explanatory notes and bits of conversation flashed on the screen between scenes, in "The Last Laugh." The action of the picture carried the story.

"Titles are artificial supports; in a titleless photoplay the producer relies alone on his proper essence—the picture itself," Murnan explained.

After he makes "The Song of Two Humans" for Fox, the director will return to Europe to keep obligations in Germany.

Harry Langdon, the pantomime comedy star of First National, is another believer in the passing of the title.

"An element of the present comedy which the future will see eradicated is the 'gag,'" Langdon declared. Pantomime, the story, and the situation will be the means of laugh-making. In five years the comedy which is just a string of irrelevant sags will be unknown.

Now that the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps and the City Fire Department have been "glorified" in motion pictures, producers have taken up the coast guard and the American flappers. Harry Rapf will produce "The Surfmen" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which will endow with heroic glamor the work of coast patrols; and Erich von Stroheim will direct Gilda Gray, the original muscle-dancer, in a picture called "Glorifying the American Girl."

Now for the plumbers and ice-

David Ward, the foremost impersonator of George Washington, plays the part of an Austrian soldier in the bodyguard of Emperor Franz Josef. Erich von Stroheim selected Ward as "an excellent Austrian type" for his picture, "The Wedding March."

Athletes aren't the only persons who go "stale." To avoid such a possibility, Reginald Denny, Universal star, and William Seiter, director for Denny's last five comedies, have decided to part company, at least temporarily, after they finish "The Cheerful Fraud."

Gertrude Olmstead, who entered the films with Universal six years ago when she won an Elk's beauty contest in Chicago, was borrowed from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, for Denny's leading lady. Miss Olmstead was recently married to Robert Z. Leonard, M-G-M director, the divorced husband of Mae Murray.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., the son of the original "Doug," is fast becoming one of the most-sought-after juvenile leading men in Hollywood, proving thereby that he is "a chip off the old block." Following his work in "Padlocked," young Fairbanks signs with Metropolitan Pictures to play with Marie Prevost in "Mihail."

Francis X. Bushman, Jr., the son of Beverly Bayne and Francis X. Sr., is also coming on in pictures. Young Bushman recently signed a long-term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Universal executives finally decided that "Oh, Promise Me," was a little bit too wisewashy for such a rugged young man as Hoot Gibson. They therein changed the title of the cowboy star's next picture to "The Buckaroo Kid."

Constance Howard, the sister-in-law of Sam Goldwyn motion picture producer, has just completed her first picture in the series. She played leading lady for Doug MacLean in "Here He Comes."

What is distance when love is concerned?

Robert Agnew, playing the leading role in King Baggot's "Down the Stretch," a race story now being filmed at Riverside, travels 140 miles a day to keep an engagement in Hollywood each evening with tiny May McAvoy, movie actress.

zili, and buy that gigantic inland water power, now wasted and greater than Niagara. If the British can harness their great waterfalls in Africa, and use their power in Britain, they will soon pay their war debts, and solve their coal strike problem, by making coal mines not worth working.

The next step will be WIRELESS transmission of power and the small boy destined to produce that, is doubtless fussing with his radio set, somewhere in America now.

Wireless power from the Zambesi Falls to Birmingham and from Niagara and the Colorado River to our fleets in the air, will come, before the "material" century ends.

Flying will be cheaper than motoring, and flying fares will be less than half the cost of modern railroad fares. Real railroad men, that look ahead, have that in mind. Many of them will be found among the first owners of flying passenger lines. Mr. Sproul President of the Southern Pacific said to this writer, at a luncheon given by Herbert Fiel-schacker in San Francisco: "When I saw a flying machine come down, at twilight, here on the edge of the Pacific, having left the Atlantic coast that same day, I did a good deal of hard thinking in a short time."

British Astronomers Plan Study Eclipse of Sun Next June 27

London, Aug. 25.—(INS)—British astronomers are already making the fullest possible arrangements for dealing with the total eclipse of the sun timed to occur in the early morning of June 27, in the northern part of England next year.

As this will be the first eclipse witnessed in England for nearly two centuries, the event is being regarded with considerable importance here, and plans are being made to run special trains to the line of the eclipse in order to give amateur astronomers the opportunity of witnessing it.

The belt of complete totality will stretch 28 miles broad from Stockport to West Hartlepool, but in order to combat the possibility of cloudy weather, the official astronomical bodies here are arranging to send representatives to Norway to witness and record the eclipse from that part.

The famous observatory at Greenwich, London, will send a squad of observers, to the approximate center of the English belt equipped with most of the portable telescopes and cameras available.

Arrangements have been made for transporting the mammoth fifty foot Greenwich telescope which is equipped with the Coelostat mirror attachment, enabling observers to work in an horizontal position.

Many American and other astronomer, are expected here and in Norway to record the event.
