MANY LIVES LOST IN TRAIN WRECK

TRAIN WRECK BRINGS DEATH AND INJURY TO SCORES OF CHICAGOANS

Suburban Train Crashes Into Holiday Special While it Was Unloading Its Human Cargo

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—A Chicago and North Western suburban train brought death and injury to scores of Chicagoans returning from Labor Day outings last night when it telescoped the rear of a holiday special which was discharging passengers at an outlying station.

Hours of labor in the debris of the two wrecked cars brought the toll of identified dead to five and the list of injured to approximately 100 persons. All of the dead and most of the injured were from Chicago.

Passengers, many of them women and children, were crushed as the coaches telescoped and hundreds of firemen and police worked for hours to free them. Their efforts were not hampered by fire, despite the fact that the suburban engine fell on its side. The entire scene was blanketed with live steam for sometime. Engineer Lester Smith, of the suburban train when placed under arrest admitted running past a warning block signal but blamed the wreck for the failure to have a brakeman far enough behind the special and the approach of an outbound train which led him to dim his headlights.

Smith said that when he saw the yellow caution light he applied all breaks and was proceeding at less than 15 miles an hour when the glare of his headlights revealed the special a few yards ahead. Railroad, city and county officials today initiated investigation to determine among other things whether Smith proceeded forward before being ordered to stop and whether or not the special was ordered to stop at the station where the wreck occurred.

Goldsboro Woman Killed Automobile Wreck Near Kinston

Hickory, Sept. 7.—(AP)—News was received here this morning from George D. Lancaster, local automobile dealer that his mother was dead and his wife was not expected to live as a result of an automobile accident near Kinston. The family is said to live in Goldsboro and was returning there from a farm near Kinston when the accident happened.

CUBA DEPENDING ON U. S. FOR FOODSTUFFS

Key West, Fla., Sept. 7.—(INS)—That Cuba now depends upon the United States for a large quantity of her foodstuffs is revealed in a recent survey of imports passing through this city for Cuba.

Several years ago the Island Republic received practically all of her food supplies and clothing from Spain, France and other European countries.

Cuban Consul Domingo J. Milord is urging Florida foodstuffs dealers to make a bid for this mammoth trade and points out that with its proximity to Cuba and its agricultural possibilities Florida would be the most logical center from which to obtain the foodstuffs.

Large ocean going ferries are used by the Florida East Coast Railway in transporting solid car loads of imports from Key West to the Cuban coast.

200 SUMMONED TO PICK JURY FROM TO TRY DAUGHERTY

Day or More Will Be Required for Selection of Jury to Hear Trial Bribery Case

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—A special venire of 200 tallmen was summoned to provide a jury today for the trial of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and former Alien Property Custodian, T. W. Miller, on charges of accepting a $391,000 bribe. Contrary to federal court customs of having prospective jurors questioned by the court, Judge Mack agreed to permit direct questioning by attorneys with the result of the prospect of an entire day or more being given over to selection of a jury.

Federal Attorney Emory Buckner expects that presentation of the Government case will require about three weeks but defense attorneys were unable to say today how long they will require as defense testimony will depend upon what the government offers.

Richard Merton, German copper magnet, is here as a star witness for the government and is expected to testify as to his participation in the return of $7,000,000 cash and liberty bonds to alien claimants of stock in the American Metals Company.

The late John T. King, Republican national committeeman for Connecticut, was indicted with Mr. Daugherty and Mr. Miller in May, but he died a short time later.

WOMAN IS FIRST TO ESCAPE WAKE JAIL

Mrs. James Burke, Held on Narcotic Charge, Made Her Escape During Today

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. James Burke, who was held in the Wake county jail, on federal narcotic charges, escaped today. Mrs. Burke is the first prisoner to escape from the jail since it was completed in 1915. She was arrested at Henderson about three weeks ago and lodged in jail here in default of $2,500 bond.

The woman used no other hack saw nor rope to escape from the jail, which is on the fourth floor of the Wake county house building. She simply walked out of an unlocked side door while jailor Mimms was busy preparing for an impending rain storm. The woman, according to the jailor, had been allowed partial freedom inside the barred inclosure a few minutes before her escape in order to take a bath.

AGED FARMER IS KILLED TODAY

In the Affairs of the World

(Copyright 1926) Yes, Money is Sweet. Prosperity is Beautiful. But War is Sour. Money Isn't Everything. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

The issue in the little 1926 elections and the big 1928 elections, will be PROSPERITY, not prohibition or any other issue. According to presidential spokesmen, with wages running from $5 to $20 a day, and profits running into millions a year for competent business men, you cannot expect any great dissatisfaction with things as they are.

However, human beings are not interested EXCLUSIVELY in their pocketbooks. Other issues exist, prohibition is a big issue already.

The World Court issue, which might mean war with expenditures far beyond those of the little war, is more important to the United States than high wages for bricklayers or additional millions for established millionaires.

Senators voting to put the United States at the mercy of hostile foreign judges hedged by establishing "reservations." The country should understand the so-called "fifth reservation," which most displeases Europe.

That reservation forbids the World Court to consider questions affecting the United States without United States' consent.

This reservation, if accepted by Europe, might, but probably would not prevent the court deciding that our war debts must be cancelled.

It might, but probably would not prevent the World Court from declaring the United States a participant in some new war and deciding how many men and how much money this country should contribute.

Why should this country put its interests into the hands of foreign judges, instead of remaining free?

Why do we GAIN by giving up our right to decide for ourselves?

Why should we ask a foreign court to promise, through reservation number 5, that it will not take up and decide without our consent, matters vitally affecting the United States?

We should be outnumbered in that court 10 to 1.

Does anybody imagine that Great Britain, France, or Italy would allow ten American judges to their one to decide questions vitally important to THEM?

There is something more important to Americans than the wages of bricklayers, the profits of plutocrats, or the quality of bootleg whiskey.

And that more important thing is the right of the United States to govern itself, free from European interference.

This country ought for the right to manage itself 150 years ago. When the total population of the United States was half that of the city of New York now.

President Coolidge descends from men that made the fight in 1776.

He ought not to urge this nation of a hundred millions to back down on the stand that it took then.

What will this country GAIN by entering the World Court?

Europe may need the court to settle the endless quarrels that arise and lead to war.

But, we have no quarrels with Europe, and plan no wars. We (Continued on page 4)

HOLLYWOOD PAYS PROMINENT MAN ITS FINAL TRIBUTE TO VALENTINO

Movie Studios Cease Activity During Funeral Services as Mark of Respect

Hollywood, Calif., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Filmmakers variegated human fabric, struck by sorrow into even cloth, today will gather on one "set" and pay final earthly tribute to the memory of Rudolph Valentino, cinema's fallen star.

Though the death of Valentino was mourned by millions throughout the world to whom he gave of his love and romance by proxy, the mantle of sorrow descended darkest over this picture city as all moviedom joined to do homage to its departed comrade. Only a few score of picture folks and other friends were to participate in the funeral services today, but studios throughout southern California planned to cease activity during the hours of service.

FRIGHT AT AIRPLANE TRIP RESTORES HEARING

Jamestown, N. D., Sept. 7.—(INS)—Fred Koester, World War veteran, had his hearing restored by an airplane flight at Salt Lake last here. He had been deaf since the war and following the flight he complained of buzzing sounds in his head. Next day these disappeared and his hearing was normal.

W.F. CARROLL HIT BY AUTO ON HIGHWAY LAST NIGHT

Died in Hospital An Hour After Accident; Funeral Services Wednesday Afternoon

W. F. Carroll, 75, one of Pitt County's most prominent farmers, died in Pitt Community Hospital about 8:30 last night, an hour after being struck by an automobile near his home in the Cox Mill section of the county.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at his late home and interment will follow in the family burying ground. The services will be conducted by Rev. S. B. Denny, of Wilson.

According to information B. G. Aboynous, of this city, driver of the car, was exonerated of blame, the accident being described as unavoidable.

Tall weeds were growing along the side of the highway where the accident occurred, and Mr. Carroll who had started to the home of his son across the road, stepped onto the pavement just as the car approached. Mr. Carroll, whose hearing has been impaired for a number of years, no doubt did not hear the approaching car and it is believed that the tall weeds prevented his observing it until he stepped out just ahead. He was brought to the hospital here immediately but efforts of the physicians proved futile.

Mr. Carroll, a native of Pitt County, was born in March, 1851. He spent his entire life in this county and was considered one of the most successful and prominent farmers and citizens. He is survived by his widow, three daughters, Mrs. T. S. Tyson and Misses Cora and Annie Carroll and a son J. J. Carroll, all of this county. Pallbearers for the funeral will be:

Active: Alex Gray, Lee Haddock, Josh Stocks, Cleva Harriss, Leon Fornes, Sam Baker and Roscoe Laughinghouse. Honorary: D. W. Hardee, Mewkin Haddock, J. F. Stocks, Charlie McCoy, J. F. Harrington, J. C. Gaskins, Hugh McGowan, Henry Laughinghouse, J. R. Weathering, Marcellus Page, W. H. Laughinghouse, and Rev. W. S. Harden.

Local Bank Catches Forger This Morning

The Greenville Banking and Trust Co. this morning had a check presented at one of their windows for cash. It was immediately noted by the teller that the check was forged. The man, giving his name as Norman Hyman, from Oak City, was held and an officer summoned. He is now in custody in the city jail.

It is natural to expect that there will be some so foolish as to think that they can take advantage of the rush drying the opening of the market and can honestly gain something by it. However, all the banks and warehouse are on the look out for such and will have to turn them over to the law to be an example to others.

During the last tobacco season four persons were arrested and convicted of forgery in Greenville. Not one of them got by part, hided by the burgomaster, with it.

DENY PETITION FOR REOPENING HIGHWAY CASE

Associate Justice Declines Petition for Rehearing of Case Settled Several Weeks Ago

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Associate Justice Brogden of the State Supreme Court today declined to grant a petition by the State Highway Commission to re-open the Newton Road case, which was decided against the commission several weeks ago.

"The state wide system of highways created by the act of 1921, was not designed for the sole and exclusive purpose of serving thru travel but rather to serve the general public and the county seats and principal towns of the state constituted important part of the general public which the law did not intend should be tracked," declared Justice Brogden in denying the petition.

The case was bitterly contested by the State Highway Commission on account of the important hearing it has upon highway construction in North Carolina. Other cases are pending which are said to be more or less connected and dependent upon this decision.

The case arose in Superior Court when the town of Newton objected to the main highway passing through Catawba county without passing by the court house and this through the town.

The road, as planned by the commission skirted the edge of the town. The town contended that the law intended the road to pass by the court house in the center of the town.

An injunction was granted restraining the Highway Commission from continuing the building and on an appeal to the Supreme Court a three to two decision was rendered against the commission.

TWO KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

Bernice Smith, Goldsboro, and E. C. Bethune, Lakeland, Florida, Killed Near Smithfield

Smithfield, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Bernice F. Smith, 55, of Goldsboro, and E. C. Bethune, of Lakeland, Fla., were instantly killed two miles south of here last night when their automobile was in collision with Atlantic Coast Line train 34 bound from Richmond to Fayetteville. The bodies of the two men were brought here. The scene of the accident was Holt's Lake crossing and immediately after the accident the train crossed the trestle with the automobile on the pilot. One of the bodies was carried across the trestle and the engine was finally derailed by the wreckage.

The Holt's Lake crossing is between Smithfield and Four Oaks. The men were riding in a sedan which was demolished in the crash. Smith was a furniture dealer of Goldsboro, while little is known here of Bethune.

Prices From 35 to 50 Per Cent Higher Than Opening Last Year; Farmers Well Pleased; Thousands Attend

With approximately a million pounds of the "Golden Weed" offered on the floors of Greenville's eight large auction tobacco warehouses and with thousands of visitors from every section of this and adjoining states present, the 1926 tobacco season got under way here shortly after nine o'clock this morning.

All buyers and others connected with the tobacco industry gathered in the warehouse of Johnston-McGowan Company, where K. W. Cobb, secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade, delivered a short address of welcome to the thousands of farmers and visitors present. His talk was followed by a prayer by R. C. Flanagan of this city, and immediately afterwards the voice of the auctioneer cried the first bid of the season. Three other sets of buyers went immediately to their respective sales and the season was off in perfect order.

While the tobacco offered on today's sales were of the lowest grades the prices were from 35 to 50 per cent higher than last year and the average for today's sales will be between $22 and $25 per hundred, compared with $14.65 for the opening day last season. All those on the local market today were highly elated over the prices and a spirit of optimism prevailed. A conservative estimate placed the visitors on the market at 10,000.

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Millions of pounds of tobacco was sold on the auction warehouse floors in eastern North Carolina today at prices ranging from 20 to 28 cents a pound. This was a great increase over last year's initial prices and in some places amounted to a 50 to 75 per cent gain.

Early reports from some of the leading markets indicated that from five to ten million pounds were disposed of in the opening sales. The tobacco generally was of a good quality and a price received by growers caused them great satisfaction.

Markets from which reports were received are Rocky Mount, Washington, Greenville, Kinston, Zebulon, Wendell, Goldsboro and Wilson.

The opening was declared by tobacco market veterans to be the most successful in recent years. Although in some cases the quality was not as good as expected, due to dry weather, the prices held up well. The lower grades at some markets were reported in good demand. For the most part the offerings of today were not the higher grades but a few isolated cases recorded, the sale of high grade tobacco at from 50 to 85 cents a pound.

CHARLESTON AND TANGO ARE RAGING IN HUNGARY

Budapest, Sept. 7.—(INS)—The Charleston and the tango have become so fashionable in Hungary that they are driving from popularity the Cardas and other Hungarian dances. The government is alarmed at the danger to the national dances and folk lore these more modern are causing and has ordered that special permits must be obtained for cafe and dance halls where any foreign dances are allowed. The permits will be expensive and hard to obtain.

The Minister of Education has notified all dancing instructors that for every hour they teach foreign dances, they must spend a similar amount of time teaching Hungarian dances.

 The Little Morie Theatre movement has been launched in Hollywood, where 100 persons, most of them connected with the motion picture industry, have formed an organization to sponsor the artistic revival of former screen plays. Later the organization may enter the production field, although not commercially.
 The films chosen for revival will not necessarily be pictures which have scored financial success, the committee, headed by Donald Crisp, De Mille director, announced. Associated with Crisp on the committee are Madeline Brandeis, producer; Hugo Ballin, director; and Gareth Hughes, actor.

ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Winterville, N. C.—Miss Grace Cox, whose wedding will be an interesting event of this month, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous show on Saturday evening, given by Miss Rachael Hazelton. The house was charmingly decorated for the occasion with goldenrod and other autumn flowers. The guests were met at the door by the hostess, and directed to the dining room where Misses Lula McGlohon and Bert Sutton served punch.

After several contests the guests assembled in the living room where the bride-elect was escorted to a beautiful white throne while two dainty little attendants, Ernestine Rollins and Willie Gray Cox, dressed in green paper dresses, brought in the treasure chest. The chest was found to contain many valuable gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Law, of Robersonville, spent the week-end at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Hattie Spehr.

The budget for this year's work will be raised in the cities served by the Association, and Greenville being headquarters, attention to this will be given here during the next few days.

MARKET CHILDREN

Debrazen, Hungary, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Three children have been sold on the open market here by destitute parents. The mother, Anna Branjik, offered to sell the children, three girls, at the weekly cattle market. They were bought at once by farmers, the eldest, fourteen years old, sold for 900,000 crowns (about $13) the next, three years old, 300,000 crowns and a child, two, brought 100,000 crowns.

The mother and father of the children are woodcutters and unable longer to provide food for them.

The child market is not a novelty here for frequently poor parents are forced to sell their children to others, who raise them to work in the fields.

Famous Battles for Heavyweight Title of the Past

By Associated Press

Jim Jefferies needed only two rounds to dispose of Jack Monroe at San Francisco, August 28, 1904. Although Monroe more nearly approximated the champion's poundage than any opponent encountered up to that time, he was helpless from the outset. Monroe weighed 210 to Jefferies' 215.

Referee Ganey was quoted as saying Jefferies had Monroe at his mercy and could easily have killed him.

Monroe picked out a hazardous resting place in the first round when he had sat down on the lower rope of the ring. He slid from this uncertain vantage point to the canvass where he took a count of six. Only the bell permitted him to weather a stormy first round.

Strange to say the challenger was confident and even enthusiastic—before the fight.

Kid McCoy on this occasion offered a challenge with reservations. He declared himself willing to fight any one in the world except Jefferies.

COLLEGE GRADUATES DRY UP THE SOUTH

New Orleans, La., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Two-thirds of the dry agents enforcing prohibition in one of the country's most difficult districts are college men.

Graduate chemists, lawyers, certified public accountants, and other professional experts make up the force with which O. D. Jackson is bringing prohibition to the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama.

One effect of their work has been a reported increase of 200 per cent in the price of whiskey since Jackson took up his work—and a considerable decrease in the quality of the whiskey.

OLDEST LIVING TWINS

Celina, O., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The birthday of the oldest living twins in the United States has become something of a fête-day in Mercer county, peopled by the festival-loving German and Alsatian immigrants and their descendants.

The twins are Mrs. Margaret Konrath, who lives near Coldwater, a few miles from Celina, and Mrs. Catherine Petot, of Louisville, O. They were 92 on July 20. They staunchly maintain their 'right by seniority' to the title of the oldest living twins in the United States.

Died with Rudy

Peggy Scott, show girl, was found dead from poison in a London apartment shortly after she received news of the death of Rudolph Valentino. Letters indicated an intense attachment for the film actor.

PEASANT WOMAN MOBBED FOR BOILING HER BABY

Grojez, Poland, Sept. 7.—(INS)—A peasant woman here has been mobbed by the villagers for killing her newly born child.

When neighbors suspected her of killing the child they broke into her house and found the body of the child boiling in a caldron.

They immediately began to stone the unfortunate mother who was only rescued by the police after much effort. In a hospital she explained that the child was illegitimate and she hoped to destroy it and any evidence of her crime.

TWON USES THEATRES FOR ROOMING HOUSES WHEN OPERA FORCED TO CLOSE

Balatonfured, Hungary, Sept. 7.—(INS)—The municipal authorities here have solved temporarily a house shortage by sheltering scores of families in the theatres of the town. The authorities in deciding that sleeping places were more practical for personal comfort than opera, commandeered the theatres and removed the seats.

These stages are used as a general park for the inhabitants, where their dogs, fowls and goats may roam about.

Balatonfured is a popular watering place, but because the opera season had to be cancelled the usual business has not been forthcoming this year, which has caused the merchants to protest fruitlessly to the municipal authorities.

GREECE AND JUGOSLAVIA IN AGREEMENT OVER RAILROAD

Athens, Sept. 7.—(INS)—A reciprocal agreement has been signed between Greece and Jugoslavia for the operation of the railway line between Salonika and Gyvela, which has been claimed by both governments since the war. The line will remain under Greek administration but Jugoslavia has the right to supervise certain sections.

The Greek administration guarantees to deliver exports and imports from Jugoslavia without discrimination.

AGED PHYSICIAN TAKES LONG SWIM ANNUALLY

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Champion of the 'boys' over three score and ten is Dr. A. P. Letherman who at the age of 76, this summer swam more than two miles as his regular seasonal stunt.

For more than half a century the doctor, who has practiced medicine fifty-two years at Valparaiso, Ind., has each summer negotiated twice the length of Flint Lake, a few miles north of his home.

The doctor prefers not to be accompanied by a boat, and strangers seeing his white head so far from shore often hurry out with an offer of assistance which he always refuses.

A SHAMEFUL RECORD

Again North Carolina leads the south in the number of deaths from traffic accidents during the week and again the state should be ashamed. It is high time the citizens realized the seriousness of the situation and brought pressure to bear upon authorities for a more rigid enforcement of our present traffic regulations...

BEST MARKET IN STATE

Those who visited the Greenville Tobacco Market this morning were convinced that it is indeed the "Best Tobacco Market in the State." Despite the fact that thousands thronged the warehouses, the sales went under way on time and proceeded without interruption and the prices were highly satisfactory to those who had offerings on the market.

REGULATION NEEDED

The increased traffic on our city streets has reached the stage that it becomes necessary to take steps for better regulation of same. If the present conditions are to be overcome it appears necessary that the Board of Aldermen appoint a traffic committee to study the conditions in Greenville and work out a new set of traffic ordinances and then see that it that the same are enforced.

NOT A CHANCE

The first check forger for the fall season was arrested upon presentation of the check at the bank this morning. This is a practice that is more prevalent during the rush of the tobacco season but the banks of the city are on guard against such, and those who attempt to get by will get in jail instead.

PRESS COMMENT

THE REAL ISSUE IN MEXICO The Roman Catholics in Mexico are still attempting to assume the role of martyrs and supporters of religious liberty, while the great mass of the citizens of the United States are still in complete ignorance of the real nature of the controversy.

The basic dispute is the one occasioned by the changes made in the Mexican Constitution of 1917. The old Constitution to which the Catholics look back with longing, that of 1842, had the following provision relative to the right of religious worship:

"Article 2. The nation professes the Roman Catholic apostolic religion, and will not tolerate the public worship of any other."

This is the law which the Catholics approve, and this is their idea of religious liberty, and this is the Constitutional provision which they are fighting to have restored.

The new Constitution contains the following provisions: "Article 24. Every man is free to embrace the religion of his choice and to practice such ceremony, devotions or observances of the respective creed, either in places of public worship or at home."

"Article 130. The Congress shall not enact any law establishing or forbidding any religion whatsoever."

These are the provisions which the Catholics consider religious persecution, and which they are fighting to have repealed.

In their efforts against this grant of religious freedom, and against the efforts of the government to raise the mass of the people of Mexico from a position of little, if any, above that of serfdom, the Catholic priests have resorted to such tactics against the government that the latter has been compelled to take measures for its own protection.

The great fundamental issue, however, is that of religious equality. No amount of sophistry, or lying propaganda, can hide the fact that complete religious equality, although sought for in 1857, was first granted in Mexico by the new Constitution and that the Catholics are fighting to overthrow this.

The second ground of dispute in Mexico is that over the control of the schools. From the days of Cortez down to the adoption of the new Constitution the Catholic church has had a practical monopoly of education in Mexico; and what has been the result?

The present government in Mexico, at least, appreciate what the result has been and is attempting to substitute public schools for parochial schools. This, then, is what the Government of Calles fundamentally stands for:

- 1. Religious equality. 2. Public schools. 3. The abolition of serfdom. —Albert H. Putney in "New Age"

Connecticut Road Survey Puts Value On Improvements

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 7.—INS the actual worth of a highway, in dollars and cents, to persons using it has been calculated by the Federal bureau of public roads and the Connecticut state highway department as valued at $5,433,300. That amount of benefit was furnished by the roads in 1923, according to the volunary report just distributed to Connecticut taxpayers by state and nation.

modem roads to more than 480 miles. With 1913 the roads part from horse traffic. The change caused some internal dissonance to judge from the survey which says: "An effort was made to prolong the service of the old roads beyond their economic life with consequent heavy expense."

BUDAPEST CHARITY SENDS 6,000 CHILDREN TO CAMP

Budapest, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Six thousand poor children have been sent to summer camps this year under the new municipal program for child welfare. The city government plans to increase the number of outings each year until everyone of the 40,000 poor children of the city have a chance to spend a part of their summer vacations in provincial surroundings.

HUNGARIAN WHEAT MAY AFFECT AMERICAN EXPORTS

Budapest, Sept. 7.—(INS)—French purchases of Hungarian wheat may seriously affect American exports to France with in the next few years. French importers have recently placed large orders for this year's crops which will be shipped by way of Trieste over water to Marseilles. French exports recently found that to ship the wheat this way would reduce transportation costs below the rates from America, which probably will result in more orders for the Hungarian farmers. Formerly France bought almost no wheat from Hungary because the high freight rates through Switzerland made it prohibitive.

TOURISTS AROUSE PUBLIC OPINION TO SAVE FALLS

Covington, Ky., Sept. 7.—(INS)—Public opinion which has, apparently, saved Niagara Falls in its natural beauty for coming generations, may again be called into play to save the Cumberland falls, beauty spot of the Cumberland River, and most of the South Central States. Repeated sessions are being conducted by the North Tennessee Automobile and Good Roads Association, for discussion of some definite plan to save the falls from being harnessed for electric power. Formal action is expected to be taken soon. Hydro electric development is possible; disserter, to the proposal declare, along 12,000 miles of Kentucky's eight major rivers without molesting the falls. They also argue that the commercial value of the falls as an attraction for tourists is as great as would be the hydro development.

Thousands of tourists from all the United States and from Europe, visit the falls every year they say.

LABOR DAY FINDS U. S. INDUSTRY SOLIDLY RECOVERED FROM WAR

Washington, Sept. 6.—(INS)—This Labor day finds the country in a state of recovery after the great war. With characteristic energy America has solved the economic and employment problems that confronted the nation following the war. We have worked and progressed with the result of attaining a far greater degree of stability than the bravest spirit would have predicted five years ago.

Industry generally is on a fairly satisfactory employment basis. While a few activities are faced with problems growing out of social changes, it is safe to say that American ingenuity will successfully handle these problems as it has all others in the past.

The transportation lines are in process of working out the new relations forced upon them by the new feature of motor transport. The textile industry is affected by the sweeping changes in taste and styles. The bituminous coal industry has its economic drawbacks. But industrial problems like these might rise at any time and would have to be reckoned with whenever they arose.

In every other respect the industry of this country is on a basis of soundness that promises to become permanent. The public may not be buying with the freedom that is its habit during boom times, but this is a good sign rather than otherwise. It proves that our buying public has learned the lesson of prudence.

Reckless buying during boom periods has always been followed by curtailed buying during the inevitable reaction. Whereas a more steady and regular buying policy on the part of the public means that manufacturing may go on in a more regular and systematic manner with a consequently greater regularity in employment.

The chief characteristics of this period is thus a sound and steady regularity which enables merchant and manufacturer to calculate public needs with accuracy. To turn stocks promptly at a reasonable profit, with benefit to the worker in the form of steady employment at good wages.

At the present time labor generally is in the fortunate position of finding a fairly regular demand for its service at the highest wages known to history. The working man now understands as well as his employer the principles underlying present business and economic conditions. He is making high speed use of high speed machinery. He and his employers are in better accord today because they know more than ever before, and thus we find that the worker in return for his wages is turning out the highest production in our history.

The spirit of harmony and good will prevailing between those who work and those who employ is by all odds the outstanding feature in the national industry situation. This is in a large measure the secret of our present prosperity. It is a guarantee for the continuance of that prosperity, indefinitely. With intelligent workers to rely upon, the employer has utilized to the utmost more and more power, with more and more advanced machinery. In no other country in the world is power so freely used. The result is that the American worker has sufficient horsepower at his elbow to bend to his will, where elsewhere the worker must turn out his product with far less help from the steam engine or the electric current.

The wage paid to American labor is a large and integral part of the economic power of the land. Our workers possess the highest possible skill and intelligence. Our progressive employers have seen the wisdom of encouraging productivity by means of the liberal worker and employer are now in splendid accord. The quantity of production from this combined energy and good will means lower prices and large buying. And broad and steady buying spells prosperity.

Chicago Sunday Crowd Battle for Peddler's Bargains

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(INS)—State and Madison streets, the busiest corner in Chicago, are world known for traffic.

But only during week days is this the keystone of Chicago. Sunday the crowds shift to Chicago's Ghetto, where thousands gather at Maxwell and Halstead streets to battle for bargains amid the colorful street shops.

Merchants have pitched their stands from fur coats to canary birds are offered for sale in the open air booths. There are no traffic officers in the crowded section and from early morning until the afternoon hidden by the surrounding slum apartments, hundreds of shoppers jam the markets.

Recently the Jewish trades have been forced to adopt heroic efforts to claim the markets and pace even with the invasions of negro dealers.

The negroes have made rapid strides in taking over the dog and bird markets and enterprising Yankees have driven out the Jews as corn doctors and sellers of "snak oil" and other liniments.

Colored merchants are also building up a special clientele among the buyers of old clothes and numerous signs announcing "clothes for colored gentlemen" dot the ghetto street shops.

If one chooses, it has been figured, he might dress in the height of fashion by trading in Maxwell street, providing, of course, no objection were made to second-hand garments, at a cost of $25 a year.

Once splendid dress suits, handsome coats and gorgeous ties formerly worn by some smart millionaires on Chicago's "glittering coast" are often displayed in the street stores. Fancy sport garments in gayest hues, feature the colored men's higher class second hand booths and trading in these specialties is intense on Sunday.

A SHAMEFUL RECORD

Again North Carolina leads the south in the number of deaths from traffic accidents during the week and again the state should be ashamed. It is high time the citizens realized the seriousness of the situation and brought pressure to bear upon authorities for a more rigid enforcement of our present traffic regulations and see to it that our next legislature adopts such measures as will make our highways safe for travel and put an end to the recklessness that is now being practiced.

BEST MARKET IN STATE

Those who visited the Greenville Tobacco Market this morning were convinced that it is indeed the "Best Tobacco Market in the State." Despite the fact that thousands thronged the warehouses, the sales got under way on time and proceeded without interruption and the prices were highly satisfactory to those who had offerings on the market. Buyers, warehouse men and others connected with the market this season are seeing to it that the grower gets the best attention and the highest price for his tobacco here and using today's opening as a basis for estimates, this section is at the beginning of an era of prosperity.

REGULATION NEEDED

The increased traffic on our city streets has reached the stage that it becomes necessary to take steps for better regulation of same. If the present conditions are to be overcome it appears necessary that the Board of Aldermen appoint a traffic committee to study the conditions in Greenville and work out a new set of traffic ordinances and then see to it that the same are enforced.

NOT A CHANCE

The first check forger for the fall season was arrested upon presentation of the check at the bank this morning. This is a practice that is more prevalent during the rush of the tobacco season but the banks of the city are on guard against such, and those who attempt to get by will get in jail instead. Every attempt at check snatching and forging here during the last tobacco season was frustrated and the offenders were arrested. There is no chance to get away with it.

PRESS COMMENT

THE REAL ISSUE IN MEXICO

The Roman Catholics in Mexico are still attempting to assume the role of martyrs and supporters of religious liberty, while the great mass of the citizens of the United States are still in complete ignorance of the real nature of the controversy.

The basic dispute is the one occasioned by the changes made in the Mexican Constitution of 1917.

The old Constitution to which the Catholics look back with longing, that of 1842, had the following provision relative to the right of religious worship:

"Article 2. The nation professes the Roman Catholic apostolic religion, and will not tolerate the public worship of any other."

That is the law which the Catholics approve, and this is their idea of religious liberty, and this is the Constitutional provision which they are fighting to have restored.

The new Constitution contains the following provisions:

"Article 24. Every man is free to embrace the religion of his choice and to practice such ceremony, devotions or observances of the respective creed, either in places of public worship or at home.

"Article 130. The Congress shall not enact any law establishing or forbidding any religion whatsoever."

These are the provisions which the Catholics consider religious persecution, and which they are fighting to have repealed.

In their efforts against this grant of religious freedom, and against the efforts of the government to raise the mass of the people of Mexico from a position little, if any, above that of serfdom, the Catholic priests have resorted to such tactics against the government that the latter has been compelled to take measures for its own protection.

The great fundamental issue, however, is that of religious equality, or lying propaganda, can hide the fact that complete religious equality, although sought for in 1857, was first granted in Mexico by the new Constitution and that the Catholics are fighting to overthrow this.

The second ground of dispute in Mexico is that over the control of the schools. From the days of Cortez down to the adoption of the new Constitution the Catholic church has had a practical monopoly of education in Mexico; and what has been the result?

The present government in Mexico, at least, appreciate what the result has been and is attempting to substitute public schools for parochial schools.

This, then, is what the Government of Calles fundamentally stands for:

- 1. Religious equality.
- 2. Public schools.
- 3. The abolition of serfdom.

Connecticut Road Survey Puts Value On Improvements

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 7.—INS The actual worth of a highway, in dollars and cents, to the persons using it has been calculated by the Federal Bureau of public roads and the Connecticut state highway department as valued at $5,433,300. That amount of benefit was furnished by the roads in 1923, according to the voluminous report just distributed to Connecticut taxpayers by state and nation.

Over 1,114 miles of improved highways in Connecticut in 1923 rolled a traffic approximating 114,000,000 vehicle miles. This traffic was divided into 39,700,000 truck miles, and 354,300,000 passenger car miles.

The value of the highway service rendered by this traffic is equivalent to 23 per cent of the replacement value of the improved sections of the trunk line system. It therefore appears that the highway service rendered by these roads is of sufficient value to pay for them in a little over four years.

The survey also determined the fact that most of the package freight movement between original and destinations in Connecticut is less than 50 miles apart is transported over the highways. And a vast flow of freight to and from New York City and Connecticut also is noted on these same roads.

As a point in itself the report points out that it has enabled the retailer to do business with a smaller stock, reducing thereby the necessary capital investment.

The state highway department was started in 1895 and in 1917 the state had less than six miles of real modern highway thought it had 924 miles of improved road. In 1923 the improved road rose to 1,780 miles and the real

BUDAPEST CHARITY SENDS 6,000 CHILDREN TO CAMP

Budapest, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Six thousand poor children have been sent to summer camps this year under the new municipal program for child welfare. The city government plans to increase the number of outings each year until everyone of the 40,000 poor children of the city have a chance to spend a part of their summer vacations in provincial surroundings.

A part of the burden of expenses is borne by the villages to which the children are sent. They provide milk and garden produce for the camps. This is the first year that the free vacation plan has been attempted and it brought forth more than 30,000 applicants from school children.

HUNGARIAN WHEAT MAY AFFECT AMERICAN EXPORTS

Budapest, Sept. 7.—(INS)—French purchases of Hungarian wheat may seriously affect American exports to France within the next few years. French importers have recently placed large orders for this year's crops which will be shipped by way of Trieste over water to Marseilles.

French exports recently found that to ship the wheat this way would reduce transportation costs below the rates from America, which probably will result in more orders for the Hungarian farmers. Formerly France bought almost no wheat from Hungary because the high freight rates through Switzerland made it prohibitive.

Trieste is particularly well equipped to handle grain as there are a number of deserted elevators along its water front and the Italian government has reduced freight rates and port charges in order to restore the city to its commercial importance under the Austrian Empire.

Italy is now the largest importer of Hungarian wheat.

TOURISTS AROUSE PUBLIC OPINION TO SAVE FALLS

Covington, Ky., Sept. 7.—(INS)—Public opinion which has, apparently, saved Niagara Falls in its natural beauty for coming generations, may again be called into play to save the Cumberland falls, beauty spot of the Cumberland River, and most of the South Central States.

Repeated sessions are being conducted by the North Kentucky Automobile and Good Roads Assoc., for discussion of some definite plan to save the falls from being harnessed for electric power. Formal action is expected to be taken soon.

Hydro electric development is possible disintegrating the proposal declare, along 12,000 miles of Kentucky's eight major rivers without molesting the falls. They also argue that the commercial value of the falls as an attraction for tourists is as great as would be the hydro development.

PALE & PEAKED

Texas Lady Was Advised by Her Mother To Take Cardui, Which She Did With Good Results.

Hamilton, Texas.—Mrs. Gladys Pottevit, of this city, says "At times I suffered awfully with pains across my back and through my sides. I would have to go to bed and stay two or three days at a time. It was very worrisome. I managed to keep going, but... I did not enjoy myself at all."

"One day my mother remarked on how bad I looked. She said: 'You look so pale and peaked, why don't you take a bottle of Cardui?' She had taken it herself a number of times, and it had always improved her health, so she thought I had better try it."

"I got the Cardui and began taking it, and from the first dose or two I could see a change for the better. The first thing I noticed was that my appetite was improved. I began to be hungry and I enjoyed my meals. I slept better at night. My rest was so much quieter that I got the benefit from it. I kept on with the Cardui and took it for several months. The pains in my back and sides grew less until they finally quit bothering me."

LABOR DAY FINDS U. S. INDUSTRY SOLIDLY RECOVERED FROM WAR

Washington, Sept. 6.—(INS)—This Labor day finds the country in a state of recovery after the great war. With characteristic energy, America has solved the economic and employment problems that confronted the nation following the war. We have worked and progressed with the result of attaining a far greater degree of stability than the bravest spirit would have predicted five years ago.

Industry generally is on a fairly satisfactory employment basis. While a few activities are faced with problems growing out of social changes, it is safe to say that American ingenuity will successfully handle these problems as it has all others in the past.

The transportation lines are in process of working out the new regulations forced upon them by the new feature of motor transport. The textile industry is affected by the sweeping changes in taste and styles. The bituminous coal industry has its economic drawbacks. But industrial problems like these might rise at any time and would have to be reckoned with whenever they arose.

In every other respect the industry of this country is on a basis of soundness that promises to become permanent. The public may not be buying with the freedom that is its habit during boom times, but this is a good sign rather than otherwise. It proves that our buying public has learned the lesson of prudence. Reckless buying during boom periods has always been followed by curtailed buying during the inevitable reaction. Whereas a more steady and regular buying policy on the part of the public means that manufacturing may go on in a more regular and systematic manner with a consequently greater regularity in employment.

The chief characteristics of this period is thus a sound and steady regularity which enables merchant and manufacturer to calculate public needs with accuracy, to turn stocks promptly at a reasonable profit, with benefit to the worker in the form of steady employment at good wages.

At the present time labor generally is in the fortunate position of finding a fairly regular demand for its service at the highest wages known to history. The working man now understands as well as his employer the principles underlying present business and economic conditions. He is making high speed use of high speed machinery. He and his employers are in better accord today because they know more than ever before, and thus we find that the worker in return for his wages is turning out the highest production in our history.

The spirit of harmony and good will prevailing between those who work and those who employ is by all odds the outstanding feature in the national industry situation. This is in a large measure the secret of our present prosperity. It is a guarantee for the continuance of that prosperity, indefinitely. With intelligent workers to rely upon, the employer has utilized to the utmost, more and more power, with more and more advanced machinery. In no other country in the world is power so freely used. The result is that the American worker has sufficient horsepower at his elbow to bend to his will, where elsewhere the worker must turn out his product with far less help from the steam engine or the electric current.

The wage paid to American labor is a large and integral part of the economic power of the land. Our workers possess the highest possible skill and intelligence. Our progressive employers have seen the wisdom of encouraging production by means of the liberal wage. Worker and employer are now in splendid accord. The quantity of production from this combined energy and good will means lower prices and large buying. And broad and steady buying spells prosperity.

Chicago Sunday Crowd Battle for Peddler's Bargains

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(INS)—State and Madison streets, the busiest corner in Chicago, are world known for traffic.

But only during week days is this the keystone of Chicago.

Sunday the crowds shift to Chicago's Ghetto, where thousands gather at Maxwell and Halstead streets to battle for bargains amid the colorful street shops.

Merchants have pitched their stands. From fur coats to canary birds are offered for sale in the open air booths.

There are no traffic officers in the crowded section and from early morning until the sun is hidden by the surrounding slum apartments, hundreds of shoppers jam the markets.

Recently the Jewish trades have been forced to adopt heroic efforts to claim the markets and pace even with the invasions of negro dealers.

The negroes have made rapid strides in taking over the dog and bird markets and enterprising Yankees have driven out the Jews as corn doctor, and sellers of "snak' oil" and other liniments.

Colored merchants are also building up a special clientele among the buyers of old clothes and numerous signs announcing "clothes for colored gentlemen" dot the ghetto street shops.

If one chooses, it has been figured, he might dress in the height of fashion by trading in Maxwell street, providing, of course, no objection were made to second-hand garments, at a cost of $25 a year.

Once splendid dress suits, handsome coats and gorgeous ties formerly worn by some smart millionaires on Chicago's "gold coast" are often displayed in the street stores. Fancy sport garments in gayest hues, feature the colored men's higher class second hand booths and trading in these specialties is intense on Sunday.

Daily News Letter

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—(INS)—More people in San Francisco commit suicide in the hopeful springtime than in the depressing winter months, according to Coroner T. B. W. Leland of this city who has just made his annual report.

The report indicates that in the spring months when everybody should feel glad to be alive many people become despondent and turn to death.

More suicides are committed in May than in December. And, likewise, according to Dr. Leland's report, June has a greater quota of suicides than January.

And, incidentally, the report bears out the curious fact that far more men than women give up the ghost and take their lives to end it all.

Dr. Leland's figures show the 135 men and 40 women committed suicide in San Francisco during the fiscal year ending last June 30.

Of these suicides 45 occurred during the winter months of December, January and February and 57 during the spring months of April, May and June.

The greatest number, according to Dr. Leland, took their lives on account of ill health—46. In 28 cases the reason could not be discovered. Five killed themselves after having committed murder.

Eleven were mentally deranged and 12 suffered from melancholia. Sixteen were temporarily insane.

Incurable disease, generally supposed to be a frequent cause of self-destruction, was attributed as the cause of but one suicide during the year.

Unrequited love, generally believed to be the greatest provocative of them all, took a toll of only two suicides during the same period. Whether these two were men or women, or one of each, was not stated.

Suicides, Dr. Leland's statistics show, were the greatest cause of violent deaths in San Francisco during the year under survey.

Total number of deaths investigated by the Coroner's office in this city during the year was 1936.

Next came deaths due to motor vehicle accidents—192.

There were 34 murders in San Francisco during the fiscal year.

1925-26, Dr. Leland reported about one murder every ten days. Twenty years of observation in this office, Coroner Leland said, leads to the opinion that much of human suffering could be prevented through the application of modern methods, properly and intelligently directed.

TODAY

What can we GAIN if we enter the World Court? We shall have one vote against the majority. That vote can mean nothing. We can exercise no influence in that court. It may put us where our choice will be submission to the court in matters vitally affecting the United States or a war against united nations.

The first task of the court would be to wipe out the war debt. That involves only money, not vitality important. Whether Europe pays us ten billions in driplets, cursing us, meanwhile, or finds courage to wretch as she wishes to do, makes no difference.

This nation can afford ten billions. It could afford war as well as any other, if war should come.

Such a war would undoubtedly shorten, by a century or so, the reign of plutocracy in the United States, as the last big war shortened the reign of the czars in Russia.

American high finance bent on forcing this country into the World Court should take warning.

Illini Football Vets Feel Loss of Red Grange

ILLINOIS FOOTBALL Chicago, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Without the services of the great Grange but with more than a dozen veterans on hand, Robert C. Zuppke, famed football coach of the University of Illinois, faces one of the stiffest gridiron schedules in Illinois history.

The schedule includes eight games and in the list are teams rated to be the toughest in the Big Ten conference.

Geraldine Farrar was given an ovation on her visit to Germany, the scene of her early triumphs. Henry L. Doherty, New York oil magnate, urged Federal control to prevent a serious oil shortage soon. Remarks made by Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, caused the Mayor of Waukegan, Mich., to defy him to return to the city. October 23 Zuppke will take his charges to Ann Arbor to meet Yost's University of Michigan team, and October 30, climaxing a month of stiff play, Illinois will contest Pennsylvania at Urbana.

November 6 is the date of the Illinois-Chicago game to be played this year in Chicago. Wabash plays in Urbana November 13 and the following week Ohio will journey to Illinois' stadium for the season's windup.

Heavy Thunderstorm Catches Holiday Crowds Causing Many Injuries and Two Deaths

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The metropolitan district was engaged today in repairing damage caused by the heaviest thunderstorm of the season which caught it in the height of the holiday rush, deluging thousands and causing two fatalities. More than a score were injured, large areas were flooded, pavements washed flat, subway and surface lines under water, and light and power service crippled.

President's Cup Is Coveted Prize

Washington, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Bereft of the world series, Washington has turned eagerly to the President's Cup regatta September 17 and 18 for its big shot of excitement this fall. The prospect of seeing the world's fastest power boat has eased the loss of the baseball classic.

The President's Cup, a $5,000 trophy sponsored by Calvin Coolidge, will be raced for by the country's leading pilots. As entry upon entry is announced by William A. Rogers, of the Corinthian Yacht Club, chairman of the regatta, the Cup race assumes the proportions of a classic.

Rogers left today for Detroit where he will attend the British International Trophy regatta. His object is to arrange a special hydroplane race among Garwood's Miss American V, Alex Johnson's Yankee Doodle and the French challenger for the British International Trophy, the Excelsior France, three boats that are capable of speed better than 80 miles an hour.

The President's Cup regatta, outgrowth of a small national event, organized a year ago by Rogers, has won the support of the motor boat world and is expected to put Washington on the big time circuit. Washington appears to be winning. The interest here is tremendous and it is expected that the regatta will draw the largest crowd that ever saw a sporting event in this section of the land.

President Coolidge. White House attaches say, hopes to see the big race and present the trophy of which he is sponsor. He is expected back in Washington in time for the regatta.

Rockne Sees Defeat as Notre Dame Faces Hard Schedule

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 7.—(INS)—Two red headed captains and a wealth of experienced material would be tantamount to an easier national championship in most schools, but out here where men are football players and women are nil, Coach Knute Rockne is passing the hours in stupefied forethought, weighing the possibilities of "impending defeat."

Rockne faces another formidable schedule with a small team handicapped by the conspicuous scarcity of threat men. And threat men are to Notre Dame's football success what bats are to big leaguers—necessary, imperative, indispensable.

Notre Dame stumbled through last year's campaign with only an iota of the phenomenal success which rewarded the exploits of the famous Four Horsemen in 1924. In comparison with the material at hand, last year's accomplishments were remarkable despite the unenthusiastic appraisals of Rockne himself.

But the ponies of 1925 would have been much more successful had they had a threat man similar to Elmer Layden, of the Four Horsemen, or Paul Castner. Men of this type do away with the downright digging, which alone made last year's team better than fair, in spite of a tie and two defeats.

When Rockne assembles his proteges, on September 15, the date set for the initial practice, he will marshal his rejuvenated coaching staff for an inexhaustive and concentrated search for embryo threat men and inaugurate an extensive program of personal instruction for them. If these plans bear plausible results, then Rockne sees hope for another usual football team. Otherwise, tag your baggage.

FREE OUTDOOR CONCERTS LURE PLAYING AUDIENCE

Portland, Ore., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Exponent of the idea that people should be given a sample of his music before being asked to buy tickets for his concerts, Ward Baker, who describes himself as violinist to the masses, has been engaged in giving free street concerts to crowds here for some time.

He has rented the musical auditorium for a recital in October.
