TODAY

(Copyright 1926) News From Robert Burns. Why Three Were Killed. Election Big, People Cold. Red Mars Comes Near. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who plays with spiritualism, as do other men, getting old, has news from Robert Burns. That poet says—from heaven, or wherever spirits dwell—that he goes not like the pictures of himself usually shown, and tells which pictures he does like.

As long as he was talking, what a pity Burns did not dictate another poem or two. His description of the place where spirits live, would be worth while especially news of that Cutty-ark dancing of the Scotch tombstone, as the clock struck midnight.

Why must spirits always send silly messages, such as 'Mamma is very happy.' James Stoddard, laboring man, killed three of his four little girls with an axe and told the police I just killed my three kids, and I want to get the other one. The fourth had run away.

The explanation of the tragedy, as you can guess, is bootleg whiskey. All such whiskey is poisonous, the sort sold to laborers is murderously poisonous. What the law will do to that father is uncertain. What it will do to those that sold him the bootleg poison is quite certain. It will do nothing.

This election's important to politicians and especially to corporations. The people also are interested, although apparently, many of them do not know it. When there is a Queen here, or a big prize fight approaching, the people wake up, but not at elections.

In sixteen states about to elect senators results are in doubt. These doubtful states run east and west from Massachusetts to Oregon, South to Arizona, north to Idaho.

INFERNAL MACHINE FOUND AT WINDOW N. Y. COURT HOUSE

Experts Declared Bomb Contained Enough Dynamite to Blow Up Several Buildings

New York, Oct. 26.—(INS)—An infernal machine, charged with enough dynamite to blow up the building, was found on a window ledge of the county clerk's office on the ground floor of the court house today.

The bomb was contained in a cheap suitcase, and was equipped with a clock-like mechanism, which had not been set. It was fashioned of dynamite and had evidently been made by some one familiar with such things.

The suitcase was discovered on the window ledge by Frank Duval, a state examiner, who notified other officials. The machine was sent to the Bureau of Combustibles.

The bomb consisted of a ten-inch cube of dynamite attached to a clockwork arrangement. Inspector Callahan of the Bureau of Combustibles, said there was enough dynamite to blow up the court house "and probably several other buildings."

PARTIES CENTER ATTENTION UPON DOUBTFUL AREAS

Headliners of Republicans and Democrats Stumping State During This Week

Raleigh, Oct. 26.—(A9)—With the result of the November 2 election hanging largely upon the outcome of local battle, both political parties in North Carolina this week are centering their attention upon a score of doubtful counties. Headliners of both Democratic and Republican faith have been assigned to the stump, and the final week of the campaign promises pyrotechnics enough to make up in some degree for the general apathy that thus far has marked the pre-election season.

Questions of county administrations, evolution and prohibition appear as the issues that will settle the election in the doubtful counties. The state administration under Governor McLean has received virtually universal approval, thus eliminating any real contests except in slightly more than a quarter of the state's 100 counties. The main drive in the state as a whole therefore has been to bring out the vote. The state in 1924 returned a Democratic majority of approximately 100,000 and gave the party 80 of the 100 counties.

ALL AMERICAN POSSIBILITIES ON ARMY ELEVEN

"Never Give a Sap an Extra Break," is the Slogan of West Pointers

(By David J. Walsh)
INS Sports Editor
West Point, N. Y., Oct. 26.—
The old army game?
Famed for its deathless appeal,
this phrase has come down thru
the ages from the ballyhoo men
at the come-on tent and today
is being followed with great faith
by a veteran eleven that has known its effectiveness these many years. In baseball, it stands for conservatism and conservative to a fault, was the army football under Daly.
Ultimately, the army changed coaches but it didn't change sy-tems. Even with Jack McEwan

in the saddle, played the old army game of hit the tackle,
sweep the end, throw a pass,
punt. McEwan did borrow a bit of Notre Dame's backfield shift
but he preferred power over decision to the last and today it is being used to even greater advantage under "Biff Jones"
who has the men to carry it out.
At least eleven veterans are at his service and some of them
played three or four years of college football before they ever saw the plains or felt an upper classman's lack of approval. The system hardly matter in this case
the army has the men.

Never give a sap an even break!
That was a popular comedian's
interpretation of the old army game and West Point seems to be following it rather literally. It has a schedule that calls for games with Syracuse, Yale, Notre Dame and the Navy, but the boys
also drafted that schedule was no father. He interpolated plenty of "breathers" and the first of these came last Saturday following the hard game with Syracuse.
He arranged for Boston University to come to the point
on that occasion and the boys have the men, too. The chances come-up anything even faintly
suggestive of an even break.
Yale will be played on Saturday. The next opponent? Franklin and Marshall. After that comes Notre Dame. Next? Virginia. Quite so; that boy knew his way around.

The only game the army has had a chance of losing so far was that with Syracuse. It had to come from behind to win, but a team with all that power and punch figures to have plenty of reserve for the final period. It has a line, reading from left to right, that is absolutely foolproof, the forwards including Born, Saunders, Schmidt, Daly,
Seeman, Sprague and Harbold.
Born is a near all-American last year. Harbold was one of its punning stars. Brentnall and Davidson also had experience.

Saunders and Sprague, veterans, both are fine offensive tacklers and are extremely aggressive on defense. Fletcher, Muz, Percy and Sawyer are excellent substitutes. Schmidt, Daly and Seem-an are Hammock, to using the center trio have been around long enough to know West Point's requirement in every particular.
Lynch, another guard, has looked good on occasions. There are several all-American possibilities
among the forwards.

The backfield, ably directed by Harding, features off tackle plays and sweeps around the ends by Harry Wilson and Trauell, an occasional pass just to keep the opposition in its place and a sound kicking game.
Wilson and Harding are veteran backs. So are Hewitt and Trauell, but the latter pair have been crowded to the side lines by Cagle and Murrell, fine plungers both. Murrell, they say, was better than Joeing at Minnesota and Cagle also came to the Point with a college reputation, which he failed to dissipate. Hewitt, of course, is held in reserve to be shot at an opposing line when it is weary and flat of foot.

It is a great system when you have the line. However, it may not be enough when West Point plays the 1-2 timers and finds that Yale, Notre Dame and the Navy are just a little inclined to be very careful not to give them
the "Biff" Jones will see to equip the strategic sleeve with some medium of deception by that time.

ONE OF BUFFALO'S WEALTHIEST MEN COMMITTS SUICIDE

SOMERVILLE, N. J., MAKES EAGER PLANS FOR FAMOUS HALL-MILLS MURDER CASE

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 26.—(INS)
With the famous Halls-Mills murder trial only a few days away, Somerville, a typical American
town of some 6,000 population, is making eager preparations for the big moment when it will back in the fall glare of the international spotlight.

To say the town is on the qui-vive is putting it mildly. Some-ville seems determined to outclass Dayton, Tenn., of "monkey trial"
fame, or Shelby, Mont.,
where the Dempsey-Gibbons fight
was staged, when it comes to revealing in first-page advertising.
Today in Somerville there is one subject of conversation: The Hall
Mills murder trial.

Strangers in town instinctively realize that something extraordinary is on tap; that the natives are not quite themselves. Somerville, big moment is coming and the town is making the most of it. You can get a single room at a hotel without cash for $10
a day. Hotel rooms or rooms in private families are harder to get at almost any price than accommodations in Philadelphia the night before the recent Dempsey-Turey battle.

Already this normally quiet
pretty little town, with its handsome courthouse, rather busy
Main street and attractive residences, has been jostled out of its customary calm by the faithful band of forty-odd reporters who for weeks have been on the scene, peering the Halls-Mills story
"alive" until the hour comes when the wealthy Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, and her two brothers,
"V. Lie" and Henry Stevens, will be placed on trial charged with the murder of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.
To their singer sweetheart, near
New Brunswick four years ago.

These reporters feel they have done their bit. They have kept the story out on page one off and on for weeks and weeks and now that the trial date is almost here
there will be no keeping it off the front page. They have been running down the runner and that for so long that they automatically investigate anything and all things that have to do with the case. It is even related that one of these reporters takes himself
so seriously that he has been buying in the best accepted Shen-lock Holmesian manner, going about these parts, in various disguises and carrying upon his person a magnifying glass with which to examine the clues.

Four newspapers already have reporters who are holding the fort and making arrangements for and awaiting the arrival of the army of journalistic "trained seals,"
star writers, authors, criminologists, and others who are being signed by the metropolitan newspapers to cover the trial.

Four newspapers a ready have leased Somerville homes for the duration of the trial for the use of their staff. One newspaper has rented all the available rooms
in one of the Main street hotels.
Telegraph instruments are clicking a strange music in a dozen different parts of town. Every new reporter who comes to town tries to devise some way to get the end of the telegraph wire under the judges' death with or without his knowledge, but he will have none of it. There won't be a single telegraph instrument on the courtroom floor, which is on the second floor of the dazzling, marble County Court House. The news association wires will be on the floor below at the floor above, and all the other "special"
wires—wires of them—will be in the basement. The basement is beginning to resemble the bottom of Madison Square Garden
during the last Democratic National Convention.

"You fellows (the newspaper
men) should have had the Sesquicentennial Stadium for this trial," said an attorney of the court, a writer when he went to see

Seek New Way to Forecast Weather for Long Stretch

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 26.
(INS.)—Investigation to determine if it is possible to forecast
weather conditions far in advance
are being carried out here by Paul Bailey, state engineer.
Bailey is attempting to find out whether or not there is a scientific method for such long distance forecasting. He is especially interested in being able to predict the winter's precipitation as early as November 1.

The value of such a logeant

stations on the coast were taken in connection with the ocean temperatures over a long period of years of research. For a period of years the theory was corroborated, but during another period it apparently was upset.
"We believe, that the variations
are caused by other influences," said Bailey, "and we feel we are on the right track. I believe that the time will come when the winter snowpack in the Sierra can be accurately forecast in the fall."

No! It's the finest, cleanest city in the world, and if there is any wickedness it is brought about by "visiting firemen."

Nearly 5,000 Methodists, in convention here, had the words of Mayor Jimmy Walker for this today.

"This city has not been treated fairly by visiting firemen," said the Mayor, addressing the convention. "They gather here and, returning home, with polished hands and bloodshot eyes, tell everyone what a terrible city we have."

"If there is a spot in New York that is not decent and clean, it is right down with you. Find out where it is, and let it be once and for all."

A MAN IN HELL WAS THE SUBJECT FOR LAST NIGHT

Large Crowd Was in Attendance at the Immanuel Baptist Revival Last Night

Taking his text from the 16th chapter of St. Luke, 19th to 31st verses, Rev. Herman T. Stevens preached a strong and convincing sermon last evening on "A Man in Hell."

There is a hell, Mr. Stevens said. Hell is mentioned more times in the Bible by Jesus Christ than any other one thing. And hell is interpreted as burning lake of fire. A flame that is never quenched; a place where we must go if we fail to confess Christ as our Lord and Saviour. It is in our power to escape this punishment if we will, but we must accept the opportunity while we can, for after we die it is too late. Now is the accepted time, he declared.

Mr. Stevens pointed out the fact that when the rich man lifted up his eyes in hell, that he begged rather Abraham to send word to his five brothers that they might accept Christ as their Saviour and thereby escape the terrible, everlasting punishment that he was enduring; and how that Father Abraham told him that if they believed not Moses and the prophets (preachers), that they would not believe one raised from the dead.

"God, the Father; God, the Son; God, the Holy Spirit; the saints and angels in heaven; the saved on earth; and even the condemned in hell, want to see sinners saved," declared Rev. Stevens. "You may have a loved one in hell, but he or she does not want you to join them, but if they had the power they would send you word to turn away from your sins and be saved. No one wants to see you go to hell," Rev. Stevens avowed.

"There are some who are trying to do away with hell, just through a smile. In other words, the man who is condemned and sentenced to be electrocuted will vote money to have the electric chair abolished, so that he may escape it. Those who would do away with hell, are merely trying to cast out of existence the place where they are headed for," he said. "The Bible is plain on this subject. It teaches that there is a hell; it teaches that there is a heaven. We cannot get rid of one without getting rid of both. There are two kinds of people—children of God, and children of the devil—but there is no excuse for any one being lost and condemned to everlasting hell, if they will only take Christ as their Lord," he concluded.

The selection rendered by the Immanuel Baptist quartette was thoroughly enjoyed by all, as was the entire musical program.

The public is cordially invited to attend each service.

BROADCASTING STAR SUEED FOR $100,000

New York, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Broadway had a new law suit to gossip over today. George Price, one of the thoroughbred's brightest stars, has been served with a summons in an action for $100,000 damages, brought by Katherine Ray, who was advertised not long ago as the "world's most beautiful woman." Miss Ray alleges that Price inflicted injuries upon her in an altercation which have kept her confined to her bed for a week. Harold Stern, attorney for Price, declared that an effort is being made to "emphasize his client's position on the altar of Miss Ray's attempt for publicity."

QUEEN MARIE IS ON EXCURSION CANADA TODAY

FOUR ARRESTED CHARGED WITH ROBBERING BANK

Royal Party Left Niagara Today for Few Days' Visit in Canadian Territory (By David F. Sentner) INS Staff Correspondent

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train at Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Amidst an atmosphere of intrigue rivaling a Belgian politician's on Queen Marie of Roumania, left the land of democracy today for an excursion into Canadian territory.

While the glories of the world's greatest waterfall were unfolded to Her Majesty's eyes, whisperings and rumors of various sorts filled the corridors of the eleven-car royal train.

The bubble, which simmered the outlet edited about the report that Queen Marie had been called back to Roumania by King Ferdinand.

A specific denial of this was issued through one of Her Majesty's spokesmen. Never before, mysterious, conferences were held in the royal section of the train.

Her Majesty, with cold improved, left American hospitality for a few days with a beautiful "slave bracelet" clasped to her shapely wrist. The jewelry was a gift from the city of Buffalo. It was of white gold studded with jade and cost the City Fathers $175.

The royal situation for the second time confused Queen Marie. Back in New York City Her Majesty misinterpreted a broadcasted announcement and appointed officers of the B. & O. to a microphone and her as the key to make her address. One of her aides-de-camp, who had her to talk into the radio without a prepared speech. The Queen delivered only a few formal words in consequence. The incident has previously been advertised as a "talk by Her Majesty."

The royal train is due in Toronto at two o'clock this afternoon. It will leave for Montreal shortly after midnight, arriving next morning.

Redmond's Son in Irish Free State Opposition Party

Dublin, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Captain Willy Redmond, son of the old Nationalist leader, John Redmond, is gathering around him a thoroughly organized opposition party. It will be of purely nationalistic character.

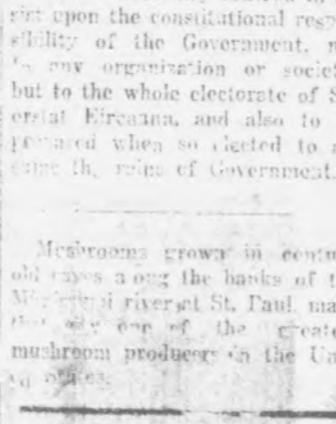

Capital, Redmond does not aim at winning the Government but merely providing a well-organized opposition and their campaign of opposing will be conducted on strictly constitutional lines. He is organizing his party in the organization of his party is Tom O'Donnell, well-known lawyer.

"To ensure that Irish national development shall proceed in accordance with the desire of the Irish people," is a striking quotation from the manifesto they have just issued.

"Such a party," the manifesto states, "must be inspired by the traditional principles of Irish nationalism, and must accept without reservation the Anglo-Irish Treaty and the Constitution."

A responsible opposition is necessary in order to secure genuine discussion in the Dail, to press for sound methods of finance, and the correct economy in public expenditures, to scrutinize and act as a check upon the executive and administrative efforts of the ministry and of the public servants whom they control, to insure the constitutional responsibility of the Government, not to any organization or society, but to the whole electorate of Saorstata Eireanna, and also to be prepared when so elected to assume the reins of Government."

RESUME PROBE OF 'SLUSH FUND' NEXT THURSDAY

Former Officers of Indiana Klan Will Be Called Upon to Testify

St. Louis, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The Senate slush fund inquiry in the activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana and the reaction of Senator James E. Watson, and Arthur Robinson, Republicans, to the hooded order, will be resumed here Thursday morning. Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the one-man investigation, announced here today.

The testimony of Ralph B. Bradford, a Crown Point, Ind., former Klansman, involving Senator Watson in the management of the Klan was responsible for Reed's decision.

A batch of subpoenas, for present and former officers of the Indiana Klan will be issued, was learned summing these men to appear here Thursday. Reed declined to make their names public until after the subpoenas have been served.

The high spot in Bradford's testimony was that Watson had attended a conference of Klan officials in Washington, which resulted in the resignation of Walter F. Bossert as Grand Dragon of the Indiana realm of the Klan because the latter refused to send the hooded order "down the line for Watson."

Bradford said he learned of Watson's participation in the conference at which Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans and James V. Rolen, the Klan's secretary of State, Indiana.

This testimony definitely linked Watson to the "inside operation" of the Klan and Reed announced

HEAR BOB REYNOLDS

It is the duty of every eligible voter to vote when election day comes and in order to vote intelligently on that date it is likewise a duty for each one to inform himself or herself as to the real issues of the day. Voters all over the country this year are being urged to vote and what is true of other parts of the nation is true in our own State and County. Both the Democratic and Republican parties have been unusually active this fall in their campaigns to carry their respective messages to the people of the State.

As a part of this state program Democrats of this county have procured Robert R. Reynolds, of Asheville, to deliver an address in the court house here next Thursday night at eight o'clock and the public has been invited and urged to hear this speaker. It is your duty to vote on November 2 and it is also your duty to know what you are voting for. Be on hand next Thursday night and hear a man who is familiar with the issues discuss them and you will be in position to cast an intelligent ballot on election day.

"To the polls, November 2" should be the slogan of Pitt County voters at this time.

REACHING OUT

A letter from a West Virginia farmer inquires as to the types of tobacco sold on the Greenville Tobacco Market and asks for samples from which to learn if his crop is suitable for marketing here. Already the Greenville market has gained recognition in the two border states Virginia and South Carolina and crops from these states have been marketed here but this inquiry from West Virginia is evidence that the fame of Greenville as a tobacco market is not confined to this area, but is spreading from day to day over the entire tobacco raising territory east of the Mississippi.

PRESS COMMENT

LOW PRICE COTTON WILL PROVE A PERMANENT BLESSING TO THE SOUTH

(Manufacturers Record) The total value of the South's agricultural products in 1925 was $5,855,000,000, of which only $1,600,000,000 represented cotton. This section produced 38 per cent of the aggregate crop values the country last year.

The Southern Railway, with a 7,000 miles of line cuts through the very heart of the South from Washington to the Mississippi river, with its arms stretching out to the West on one side and to Florida and the Gulf on the other, but only 5 per cent of its total volume of business is cotton.

The South has, so long through in terms of cotton that some people outside of the South, as well as some Southern people themselves, think that its people have cotton bolls for brains and cotton strings for backbones and, therefore, believe the low price of cotton will break their backbone and destroy the initiative and energy of their brain power.

It will teach the cotton growers that they cannot concentrate upon cotton and live upon the foodstuff produced in the West. It will turn the thought of this section to diversified agricultural and industrial development.

It will show the world that the South is not dependent upon cotton. It is important that the panic condition shall be stayed by financial aid to the farmers to enable them or others to carry 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 bales of cotton for a year or two if necessary but it is time to stop thinking and talking as though low priced cotton is going to destroy the entire South. It is going to be a blessing to the South. The lesson has already been learned.

Further loss can be minimized by prompt action on the part of bankers, cotton factors, intermediate credit bank and co-operatives in withdrawing a large amount of cotton from the market and guaranteeing that it will not be sold except at a fairly profitable price, with specific contract to reduce acreage, and no farmer who does not agree to reduce to receive a dollar of credit from any cotton factor or supply man or from any bank. In contract to reduce 1/3 acreage the farmer must also contract to raise his food and feed supplies. Or that bank, the whole situation will be saved; the farmers will have learned the lesson and the South will have greater prosperity than it has ever before known.

MARKET REVIEW

(By W. S. Cousins, INS Financial Editor) New York, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Industrial stocks marked time today while awaiting the decision of the directors of the United States Steel Corporation in relation to cash and stock dividends, and the report of the third quarterly earnings of the big corporation scheduled to be issued in connection therewith after the close of the market.

Though trading in the forenoon period was a little more brisk than in the corresponding period on Monday, stock prices moved in a much narrower margin. Railroad stocks started a new rally in the fourth hour. Norfolk and Western, Atchafalpa, Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania were the leaders in this movement.

The new price cuts in gasoline were not unexpected. Oil stocks were steady, but this group of stocks is very much in disfavor with the average outside trader, and the volume of buying was small.

Stocks of the mercantile companies, like Montgomery Ward and Woolworth; the rubber and tire companies, led by U. S. Rubber, the sugar companies and a few of the copper and equipment, made the best showing outside of the railroad list.

Though money supplies were more than sufficient for all purposes, and the weekly report of brokers' loans showed a further withdrawal of $2,000,000 from speculative uses, there was no change in either the short term or long term loaning rates, call money renewals ruling at 4 1/2 per cent.

Better support appeared for the cotton market and prices moved up nearly a dollar a bale in some positions. Confidence is expressed in the plan of the government and the Southern bankers for the withdrawal of about four million bales from the market, but at best this will be a costly process.

D. A. R. MEETING

The first regular meeting of the Greenville Patriots Chapter of the D. A. R. was held last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Best, with Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Jr., and Mrs. S. T. White assisting hostesses. Mrs. R. L. Smith, regent, presided over the meeting.

After the salute to the flag, led by Mrs. H. F. Jones, chaplain, there followed a most interesting discussion of plans to foster true Americanism in our community, to beautify the historical spots around Greenville, and to unite with the Benjamin May Chapter at Farmville in planting trees along the Greenville-Farmville highway.

The business disposed of, the meeting was turned over to the hostesses, who presented two guests for the afternoon. Mrs. T. C. Turnage, regent, of the Farmville chapter, and Miss Tabitha D. Vis Conti, of Farmville. Mrs. Turnage, in a most charming manner, told of the Moore Creek celebration and the important place North Carolina has in Revolutionary history. Her talk was most inspiring, giving each listener a desire to have some part in the work being done by this woman's organization. Miss De Vis Conti asked the co-operation in the many enterprises to be undertaken by the Farmville chapter. Mrs. Bertense Mayo, in stirring tones, read "Mary Slocums Ride," after which a delicious salad course was served.

SUN SPOTS CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE RADIO LISTENERS

Chief of Radio Laboratory Says Fans in for Bad Reception for Next Few Years

(INS Staff Correspondent)
By Robert S. Thornburgh, INS Staff Correspondent

Washington, Oct. 26.—Unless science can conquer sun spots, the radio public is in for several years of bad reception. This was the opinion today of Dr. J. H. Dellinger, chief of the radio laboratory of the Bureau of Standards, who has conducted an exhaustive survey into bad reception conditions.

Troubles of the radio listener are attributed to two causes, one natural, the other artificial. "Sun spots go in cycles of eleven years," Dellinger said.

"The sun is now bombarding the earth with electrical discharges as the result of the approach of the maximum spot period. This bombardment is the cause of difficulty experienced by radio listeners in reception from distant stations."

Dellinger explained that in 1922, when radio broadcasting first began to be popular, the sun spots were at a minimum of activity. The result was excellent radio reception.

Sun spots first began to affect radio reception seriously last winter when distant station reception was difficult. While static was not particularly noticeable, there was a general blanketing effect in the atmosphere through which radio waves passed.

Although there will be many nights when reception is excellent, due to the queer behavior of the sun spots, the same conditions are expected to obtain this winter, in 1923 the maximum sun spot period will take place.

Following this solar phenomenon rainy reception will begin to improve, according to Dellinger.

"The next period of best reception will take place in the years preceding and following 1925, the minimum spot period," Dellinger declared.

The bureau of standards is prosecuting a scientific study of the action of the sun spot electrical activity on broadcasting and other natural causes which contribute to bad radio weather.

Dellinger was not optimistic, however, as to the results of a scientific war against sun spots. A method of mitigate their influence may be discovered, but it is not yet in sight.

The artificial cause of interference was described as due to the excess of broadcasting stations. Many new stations have been licensed since radio control went out of the government's control. Other broadcasters have jumped their original wave lengths, failing to record the proper division of frequencies which should exist between stations to assure non-interference.

'Stealing' Texas Co. Seat Brings Court Action in Oil War

AMARILLO, Tex., Oct. 26. (N. Y.)—Bitterly indignant over what they claim was a deliberate "steal" of the county seat by oil field townsite promoters, a group of Hutchinson county citizens have filed in district court here charges, alleging wholesale illegal voting and fraud in the recent election which moved the county seat from Plemmons to Stinnett.

Wholesale voting by persons many residents of Borger and other oil field boom towns in the Borger area, who held no poll tax receipts, had not complied with voting requirements, and in several instances voted under fictitious names, voted repeatedly or voted after the polls had closed is alleged.

The election held September 25 resulted in a 357 to 156 vote to move the county seat, according to official figures given out.

Names of 150 citizens alleged to have voted illegally are cited in the petition.

Forming the latest offensive movement on the part of the Plemmons group in one of the bitterest county seat fights the Panhandle has ever seen, charges of fraud and corruption on the part of Hutchinson county officials also were contained in the petition.

Hutchinson county officials, held a secret midnight meeting on the day following the election, canvassed the vote, accepting the illegal ballots, ordered the immediate removal of the county records to Stinnett, and saw to it that the move was made before daylight, it is alleged.

The bulk of the Stinnett vote which carried the election for that town was from precinct two which includes the site of Borger and several other oil field boom towns, Borger being the oldest and largest.

That the official opening day of Borger was March 3, 1923 before which time the site was bare prairie, and that the area could not possibly have had as many inhabitants, as voted in the election, is another allegation of the Plemmons group. The town now has a population of more than 10,000.

Texas laws require a residence of six months in the county before an election.

Stinnett backers are known to be preparing for a bitter defense against the suit.

Filing of the fraud charges climaxes one of the hottest fights that the big oil field county has ever known between the old inhabitants and a party of the new arrivals, brought by the oil developments. Feeling over the movement of the county seat is running high in the county.

That need not discourage your buying real estate, for it is a long way off. But it makes the doings of the Martians theoretically interesting. Barring a cataclysm in space this earth will last hundreds of millions of years longer, and men will perform wonderful engineering feats in time.

In the earth's life, a million years mean little, for this globe is already thousands of millions of years old, and man's rule of it has just started. When science tells you that dinosaurs ruled the earth for about nine million years, and then mysteriously died out, you can easily believe that men will rule for at least 100 million years. What will they accomplish in that time?

We are only twelve thousand years from the late Stone Age, and already we fly, and have abandoned cannibalism.

Whatever problems the future may bring, engineering science will take care of them. Our little efforts now will seem to the future like children building block houses. But we have made a start.

Engineers boring a tunnel through a great mountain, from both sides meet in the middle, and the tubes fit perfectly, as though

CHILDREN'S ILLS

Arkansas Lady Says She Has Never Found a Better Laxative Than Theford's Black-Draught.

Mineral Springs, Ark.—"We use Black-Draught in our family of six children," says Mrs. C. E. Nutt, of this place, "and we find it a good bowel regulator. I give it to my children for colds and constipation, or any other stomach disorders, and it certainly is very helpful. I have never known it to fail them. Where there are so many children, it is a good idea to keep a laxative on hand, and Black-Draught is what we use."

"I have taken it myself for indigestion. I would feel dizzy, have gas and sour stomach. I would also feel a tightness in my chest. I took a good dose of Theford's Black-Draught when I felt that way and it would relieve me. I would feel better for days."

"My husband takes Black-Draught for biliousness. He says he has never found its equal. When he has the tired, heavy feeling, he takes Black-Draught night and morning for a few days and he doesn't complain any more. I sure do recommend Black-Draught."

Sold everywhere. Get a package of Black-Draught, today. Costs only one cent a dose.

In the west engineers, testing dam construction and water pressure, are building an arched retaining wall higher and higher, along new lines, and will continue raising the wall, until the increasing mass of water, back of it, breaks it down. Many interesting discoveries have been made, already, in that experiment, watched by the engineers of the world.

Real engineering will begin with the harnessing of power unlimited, the tides or the sun's energy harnessed electrically. Then mountains will be moved easily, canals dug by pressing a button, deserts and swamps will be unknown. And when we control and harness torrents, and give the thirsty earth all the water it wants, the day for digging canals to hold the ocean on a round earth, may be indefinitely postponed.

Meanwhile, our American deserts offer vast possibilities of wealth without irrigation. Dr. John E. Temple of New York has received the Perkin medal for developing a desert in southern California, a source of potash that will supply one fifth of this country's needs. This promises to make us independent of a dangerous European monopoly, and the modern plant, installed at Searies Lake, California, works so efficiently and economically that America, in spite of high labor costs, will compete with Europe.

One good feature about the bad policy of keeping out the best European immigration is this: It will force the people of this country to use their brains, make machinery efficient, and free human beings from rough manual labor.

Had he lived, Theodore Roosevelt would have been sixty-eight years old Wednesday.

The Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association will honor his birthday and memory, with appropriate ceremonies, high school children will make little speeches, and that will be all until next year.

Roosevelt's place is secure among useful, earnest Americans. He did what was necessary to make the Panama Canal possible. But how men diminish in size, as time separates us from them. For this generation, Cleveland, McKinley and memory, with appropriate ceremonies, high school children will make little speeches, and that will be all until next year.

MAY USE WHITE FOOTBALL GAME AGAINST U. OF PA.

Illinois Coach Declares Will Use White Ball Unless Deceptive Elbow Pads are Removed

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 26.—(INS)—Unless Coach Lou Young has those deceptive tan elbow pads removed from the jerseys of his University of Pennsylvania players, Coach Bob Zuppke, of Illinois will employ a white football in the Penn-Illinois game here Saturday.

Such, in effect, was the ultimatum from Zup that echoed over the campus here today.

Penn's "hidden ball" offensive has been the sensation of the current season. The stunt is put over through the use of "trick" arm-pads, designed to resemble a football. In the confusion of a play it is difficult for the opposing team to discern which player is carrying the ball.

Zuppke was asked what system he would employ to combat this sleight-of-hand performance. His answer was emphatic.

"They will take those trick pads off, or I'll use a white football." Then he explained: those elbow pads are not part of football. They're old stuff belonging to the same class with sewing fake footballs on uniforms, or throwing a headgear to make an opponent think the ball was fumbled. That sort of thing is considered unsportsmanlike conduct, and I call those elbow pads unsportsmanlike conduct also. "I'll have a white ball, and let them try to hide that." Zuppke added there is nothing in the rules to prevent his using a white football.

Convicts Wounded In Dash for Freedom

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 25.—(INS)—Seven convicts were in the prison hospital today, suffering from wounds received when they made a riotous bolt for liberty yesterday, overpowering three guards.

One of the guards was stabbed by one of the convicts. Two of the convicts were probably fatally wounded when they made a break for the outer stockade.

The other five barricaded themselves in an old twine factory but finally were made to surrender under barrage of rifle and revolver shots from the guards.

Two Lose Lives When Boat Sinks

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 25.—(INS)—Caught in the tornado gale which swept across the Tappan Zee, the freight steamer G. F. Brady capsized and sank in the Hudson River near here with the loss of two lives.

The dead are: Charles Hayes, fireman; Mrs. Catherine Demond, cook.

Thomas H. Kelly, chief engineer, is in a hospital, with burns and suffering from immersion. Nine others of the crew were saved by a tug.

When the gale upset the steamer, water rushed into the boiler room trapping Hayes as he attempted to ascend the steel ladder. The vessel was blown to bits by the force of the boiler explosion.

Number Dead From Earthquake Estimated 350

Moscow, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Official reports today definitely fix the number of deaths resulting from the earthquake in Armenia on Saturday at 350. There were 400 injured.

It is now stated that none of the American near East relief workers were injured.

The Soviet government has donated a million roubles for relief work, and ten thousand dollars have been received from the American Near East Relief for the same purpose.

Presents Bride With Hundred Books on Duties Wife, Mother

Rome, Oct. 26.—(INS)—Pope Pius apparently intends that his niece, the Countess Maria-Ratti, who was married in Milan on Saturday to Marquis Persiegetti, shall be a good and efficient wife and mother. The holy father today presented his niece with four bookcases, each containing 25 volumes dealing with the duties of a wife and mother.

Thieves Get $100,000 in Diamonds Today

Toledo, Oct. 25.—(INS)—A trunk containing $100,000 worth of diamonds was ransacked of its contents here early this morning by three thieves, according to the owner, Jack Kloville, a diamond broker of New York City.

Kloville had checked the trunk at Buffalo for Toledo, he claims. When he called at the Union Station baggage room for it he was informed that it had disappeared.

Later the management of the hotel where Kloville was stopping found the empty trunk in one of its rooms. This room had been assigned to John Jones, Harry Karl and George Jones, of Duluth. They had fled.

Police say that the thieves had trailed Kloville and had switched baggage checks in such a manner as to give them possession of it.

Kloville, who is connected with the firm of Kloville Brothers, 195 Broadway, declared the gems were insured.

PRESIDENT TO GO HOME TO VOTE

Washington, Oct. 26.—(INS)—President Coolidge, in returning home to Northampton, Mass., to vote next Tuesday, is seeking to set an example for the absentee voters of the nation, his spokesman declared today.

The executive, it was said, heartily endorses the appeal to voters recently made by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, either to return home to cast their ballots or vote by mail.

State Gets First Touch of Winter

Raleigh, Oct. 26.—(INS)—North Carolina felt its first touch of real winter today, with a heavy frost reported in a number of places.

Asheville reported a slight frost, Charlotte an extremely heavy frost, and Wilmington a slight frost. No frost was reported here, although the temperature dropped to 43 at 10:30 a. m. Wilmington reported the mercury at 30.

Atlanta, Oct. 26.—(INS)—The "Sunny South" got its first touch of winter today, as temperatures dropped on an average of 20 to 30 degrees. A light snow fell in Atlanta, while frost and snow was reported in various parts of North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee.

TRAFFIC RIPPLES SYSTEM GETS A NEW YORK TRIAL

New York, Oct. 26. (INS)—The ripple system of traffic control, experimented with here for some time, is a success, according to William Coleman, police inspector in charge of traffic.

Under this plan, red and green traffic lights, instead of being turned off and on simultaneously for the length of a street, are operated in "waves". A green light appears at one corner, a minute later at the next corner and so on.
