

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION BE BEST HELD HERE

Day's Program is Full of Interesting Features for All Those Who Attend

An Armistice Day, November 11, 1926, draws near, plans are being completed for holding the biggest and most complete celebration of the day that Greenville has ever had.

The program has been completed and has every minute of the day full of something interesting and instructive to all the citizens of the community as well as to all ex-service men.

The day will begin with the largest parade that has ever been held. This parade will form at the A. C. L. depot at 9:30 a. m. It will then proceed to the Pitt County court house where the Pitt County Post of the American Legion will present a war memorial trophy to the Commissioners of the county. The parade will then proceed to the East Carolina Teachers College where the address of the day will be delivered by the Honorable C. L. Abernathy, Congressman from the Third District.

Following the exercises at the college there will be a barbecue dinner at the Fair Grounds for all ex-service men, the Pitt County Chapter of the Legion Auxiliary, the veterans of all wars, and other honored guests.

This dinner has been made possible by the generous donations of the Board of Aldermen of the Town of Greenville and the County Commissioners.

Following the dinner there will be a football game at the Fair Grounds between the teams of Battery F 117th Field Artillery, Greenville and the State College Freshman Team of Raleigh.

This should be a great game of football and is the biggest game ever staged in Greenville. The local Battery team is composed of several old college players as well as some of the old high school players. The boys have been working hard and deserve the support of a large crowd. The State College Freshman team is rated as the best freshman team in the state this year.

During the period between halives the local battery of artillery will put on firing demonstration and give an exhibition of artillery maneuvers. This will be very interesting to the general public.

All during the afternoon and night until 11 p. m., there will be a continuous showing of White's Theatre of the war picture, 'Behind the Front.' This is full of interesting war scenes and will carry all the boys back to the war-time days.

The following units and organizations are expected to be represented in the parade and will fall in the following order:

Police Detachment.
High School Band.
High School Children.
Boy Scouts.
Battery F 117th Field Artillery Formation.
Speakers and Honor Guests in cars.
Civil and Spanish War Veterans in cars.
American Legion Auxiliary in cars.

All ex-Service Men (in uniforms if possible.) If you don't have a uniform or can't get in the one you have fall in in civs and form the Denot Brigade.

All veterans of the Civil War and Spanish American War are requested to gather at the court house at 9:15 a. m., where they will be assigned to cars for the parade.

TWO DWELLINGS AT OTEEN BURNED

Oteen, N. C., Nov. 9.—(INS)—The U. S. Veterans Hospital here was menaced by an early morning fire today when two frame houses, located just outside the reservation were burned to the ground.

Inmates of the hospital were prepared to leave within a few minutes after the broke out, but firemen soon had the blaze under control. The loss to the frame dwellings was estimated at $8,000.

GAS PRICE WAR ON

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Prospects of a gasoline price war loomed here today as a two-cent reduction was put into effect by the Pan-American Petroleum Corporation. The cut brings the retail price of gas down to 23 cents a gallon, compared with 27 cents October 30.

An official of the Pan-American Company announced the reduction was being made in an effort to bring competition out in the open and discourage the practice of secret rebating.

MAKE ERROR OF $80,000,000

New York, Nov. 9.—(INS)—An $80,000,000 error—the record arithmetical blunder—was revealed with the announcement by stock exchange officials that two clerks employed by the exchange had 'dropped' exactly that amount in tabulation of the monthly total of brokers' loans.

The outstanding volume of loans to brokers is an extremely important factor in the creation of bullish or bearish sentiment in Wall Street.

Any abrupt move in their volume, either up or down, almost immediately finds reflections in price movements on the stock exchange, and consequently the error caused considerable consternation in Wall Street.

all. Babies seldom show any reaction. It is advised that it be given all children between the ages of six months and ten years. Every child is as much entitled to protection against disease as protection against any other sort of calamity. Parents have not done their full duty toward their children until they have insured their lives against all preventable diseases where it is possible to do so. I want to urge every mother and father to see that your child is given this protection and in doing so you will help to rid Pitt county of this disease.

DR. LAUGHINGHOUSE'S PICTURE APPEARS IN HEALTH BULLETIN

The November Health Bulletin carried a picture of Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, new State Health Officer and former Greenville physician. A short history of Dr. Laughinghouse's life and achievements were given, also the duties of his office, were recounted. It is gratifying to his many Greenville friends and admirers that he is considered so competent for a position of such importance, which is held only by merit.

PITT TOOK SECOND PLACE

During the year 1925 there were 3,437 cases of diphtheria reported in North Carolina. Of this number 310 died. By far the majority of the cases were among young children. Among those who died were 47 babies. Pitt county stood second in the number of cases; that is, only one county in the state reported more cases than did Pitt. This is nothing to be proud of. Diphtheria is a communicable disease and also a preventable disease. Three doses of toxin-antitoxin confers an immunity against the disease and the immunity is apparently good for life time. The vaccine or vaccination can be obtained at the Health Office without cost. The reaction is very slight or none at

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR AT TEACHERS COLLEGE, NOV. 16TH

Singing a varied group of negro spirituals and work songs as a part of an auspicious program, the University of North Carolina Glee Club, under the direction of Paul John Weaver, will make its annual appearance here, Tuesday night, Nov. 16, at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium.

This naturally famous choral organization needs no introduction whatever. In past years it has been pronounced by recognized authorities and generally accepted in musical circles as one of the finest organizations of its kind in America.

Presenting this year a concert group of thirty outstanding singers, picked from an ensemble chorus of eighty voices, the Music Department is offering some of the finest talent that has yet been developed at the University. A great deal has been achieved to the ready extensive repertoire of the club, and much work has been done in perfecting range, tonal qualities, control, enunciation and interpretation.

Ensemble work also has been greatly emphasized this year and has been developed now to a point of sterling excellence.

The program for the evening of the 16th with range in types from sixteenth to seventeenth century classics down to modern foreign and American music. The rich old negro spirituals, for which the club is famous, will be used along with many characteristic and dramatic Scottish and Russian folk-song classics.

It is the ambition of the club to picture and interpret the scenes of pathos, joy, or strife, under which the number, on its program were first inspired.

struggled and against which their predecessors had seemed to make but little headway, bestirred themselves in a determined effort to work a great social and economic change. There had always existed a basic and distinctly assertive culture which provided the seed bed for intensive cultivation. It was apparent that success lay only in the spread of education throughout the scattered and somewhat remote districts where both adults and children had never had the opportunity to learn to read and write the language which they spoke. Upon their ability to raise the level of the people who must be depended upon to supply the man power for productive industry to higher intellectual standards depended, as they fully realized, the success of the movement as a whole.

"It seems that the quickest way in which to increase the productive power of a community or a state is to increase the needs of the people. Great industrial progress is never made where those who possess the natural facilities for production are satisfied if they have enough simple food and a shelter and clothing to keep them warm. Ambition is aroused when the demand is for more than these primitive comforts.

"Perhaps it would be impossible, even if one were to search the whole length and breadth of the States, north or south, or east or west, to discover a more striking example or more convincing proof of this positive reaction than in the Old North State. Industry and thrift have taken the place of ignorance and squalor even in the remote hill sections. Modern methods of travel and inviting miles and leagues of smooth highways have brought the world to North Carolina, but the tourist who travels in expectation of discovering the characters who have made the Blue Ridge and the Great Smokies famous in song and story will be disappointed. The remnant of these picturesque Americans is fast being absorbed in the larger plan which has been evolved. They have discovered a new country, or new beauties in their own country which they had failed to recognize, and this has brought to them worthy and commendable ambitions.

"Thus it is that the transformation which has already taken place marks only the beginning of bigger and better things. The seeds have been planted and they have yielded bountifully. But progress and growth once so auspiciously begun can never be halted. It must go on in obedience to a fixed and immutable law."

'Alleged Money'
 Merthyr Tydil, Wales, Nov. 9. (INS)—Although it has been publicly stated by the Public Trustee in Great Britain that the so-called 'Webber millions' do not exist—and if they did there could be no claim at the present day to the estate—claimants still maintain their activities.
 Mrs. Clara de Schmitz has been visiting Mrs. Lavinia Underwood, of Merthyr Tydil, regarding claims by themselves, and two other sisters, Mrs. Woodman of Rosby and Mrs. Ramsey, of Cirencester, to share in the huge fortune.
 Mrs. de Schmitz made a special journey from Caracas to promote the quest. Other documents are being sent on by Mrs. Underwood, who has received inquiries from other descendants of William Webber. Claimants have written to her from all parts of Britain and the United States.
 Webber is supposed to have emigrated to New York about 1770 and to have been granted a tract of land upon which New York is built. Some time ago the British Foreign office issued an official warning against putting any faith in these stories of legendary millions and begging those who believe they had claims not waste money in pursuing them.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!

Market Report

(By W. S. Cousins)

INS Financial Editor
New York, Nov. 9.—(INS)—A sharp, decisive retreat of the best of the motor stocks and specialties resulted in a further rally in the active stocks in these groups today.

A better feeling with respect to the motor stocks was created by reports of an increase in the operations of prominent Detroit plants, and the issuance of Mack trucks' third quarterly earnings statement, which was much better than expected. The report shows net earnings of $1.78 a share in the third quarter and $9.02 in the first nine months of the year but this does not include the profits of the Acceptance Corporation and the Real Estate Corporation subsidiaries formed late last year. Though Mack's earnings as reported were only about half as much as last year, the stock had already declined 70 points and the short interest taken by surprise, quickly scrambled for stocks to cover their short commitments. The price advanced to around 951 for a 4 point gain. General Motors of Hudson and other representative motor stocks promptly advanced to around the high prices of the week to date.

United States Steel maintained its position of leadership in the industrial stocks, advancing on heavy trading to 149 1-4 for a new gain of nearly 2 points. Higher prices were recorded today for the copper stocks, the sugars, a lot of the equipments, the motion picture stocks and other specialties.

A 1-1-4 per cent call loan rate followed logically the liberal offering of funds in the open market at that rate, or lower. It swept away all feeling of apprehension over the immediate future of the money market and the supply of speculative funds.

An extra dividend of $4 a share for stockholders of General Motors Corporation was freely forecasted in Wall street. Bullish quarters also increased their estimate of the increase of advance orders for the steel corporation from 20,000 to 300,000 tons, although less was said about the extra dividend on steel, which is probably a 1927 prospect.

The spurt in prices of the motor and specialty stocks failed to develop any general buoyancy, however. Railroad stocks dropped back on profit-taking.

Universal pipe preferred, one of the so called Durant stocks on which a whole year's dividends were declared last week, jumped an additional 5 points to 79 1-2, up to 10 points on the move.

of triumphant Democracy, with the announcement that Uncle Sam will send a nice income tax rebate dividend to cut down the taxes of 1925. That came just as the Democrats were saying there must be a cut, soon!

Thereupon Coolidge makes a cut twelve months ago! Beat that!

The President, not Verbose, has a sense of humor that never misses fire 'have you heard this one?' Its true.

A certain important citizen, bored with the President with a long speech, winding up with, but Mr. President, I must tell you that I did not vote for you!

'Well, some did,' the President replied, and said nothing else.

Bruce Carlson, eleven years old spent the night in the cemetery, to do some thinking, he told the police.

His parents worried all night, and the boy's thinking was probably not serious. At eleven you cannot think seriously, even about how important you are to the universe. That comes at sixteen.

Bruce Carlson like many of his elders, mistakes waste of time and sleep for serious thought. To think about something you can DO and then to do it, is the plan that counts.

Edison, as a young boy thought hard, as he sat tugging at his Morskey. But he was thinking 'how to send more than one message over the same wire, at the same time.'

Newton was thinking, on his back under the apple tree. You know what he was thinking of. 'Just thinking,' as Mr. Warfield would have said long ago, is not a business.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time
"Brooklyn," Mr. Fred O. Marquart writes:—"I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me. Carter's Little Liver Pills moved the bowels and relieve the system of its poisonous matter. Druggists, 25 & 25c and packages

Illinois have been expelled for drunkenness and gambling is not pleasant. Prohibition, bringing in bootlegging that establishes drunkenness among children, is not what was hoped for.

But there is comfort in Dean Clark's statement that while drinking among students, men and women does exist it has recently fallen off.

The youthful part of the human race has not suddenly turned vicious, drunken and immoral. What seems now to youth a rather heroic defiance of law, moral and alcoholic, will soon be rejected as vicious nonsense.

And a way must be found to keep young people sober and even under prohibition, for prohibition is here to stay, and to get a long trial.

Fashion Experts Okay Queen Marie's Clothes

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Hollywood approves of Queen

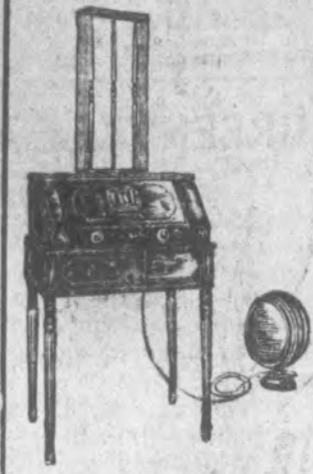

Marie's taste in clothes. Complete description and photographs of the designs and colors of her Roumanian majesty's wardrobe were rushed to Hollywood designers both from Paris and from New York as the film colony was a bit apprehensive—fearing the queen might have some startling innovations in clothing tucked away in her wardrobe trunks.

Queen Marie's taste in clothes is excellent, if conservative, commented Cora McGeechy, creator of screen fashions for First National productions. Her styles of course, are those of a middle-aged woman of fifty, yet she seems to have combined a certain verve of liveliness with accepted canons of style.

Anna O. Nilsson said: Queen Marie's selection of colors is the latest European assortment. Her brown tete de negre travelling costume is attractive in color and style. I feel sure that American women of her age can profit by observing her gowns.

According to reports in the hands of Hollywood fashion experts, the colors in the queen's
