TORNADO LEAVES EIGHTEEN DEAD MANY INJURED

Fourteen Children Perished When Big Twister Turned the School House Into a Mass of Wreckage

La Plata, Md., Nov. 10.—(INS)—With a death list of eighteen which probably will be increased to twenty by nightfall, stunned residents of Charles County today began to reconstruct some order out of the chaos that swept down from the skies late yesterday in the form of a savage, twisting tornado.

If left in its wake a narrow strip of about twelve miles long and scarcely five hundred yards wide thru this placid Maryland countryside, and made of it a shambles which held the bodies of fourteen school children, three adults, and more than forty injured.

Houses were flattened, trees uprooted, vehicles scattered, but the twister reserved most of its fury for the little frame school house which stood atop a knoll on the edge of the village. There it struck with demonic fury, lifted the two-room structure from its foundation and hurled it 150 feet away a mass of broken timbers in a grove of trees.

There were 55 children at their desks in the schoolhouse when the twister struck. Fourteen of them are dead today, and a dozen others are hurt so seriously that some deaths are considered certain.

There was but one pupil in the school who escaped entirely unscathed in the destruction of the building—little Johnny Burr, 11. He had a desk near a window. When the building began to shake and there was the first rumble of cracking timber, Johnny jumped out of the window and ran for help.

Before he was a hundred yards away he looked backward and saw the building literally lifted from the ground in a series of grinding roars, and then dumped into the groves of trees. Johnny legged it all the faster. He staggered into the home of the Rev. W. S. Heigham, nearby, and blurted:

"The school house has blown away. Telephone everybody."

The grinding crash of broken timbers had already acted as a warning to the village. It could be heard above the roar of the wind and the crashing of trees. In a few minutes the whole village of some 800 people was on its way to the hill where the school house had stood.

Children, some hurt, some merely terror-stricken, were already beginning to emerge from the wreckage as the first of the rescuers reached the hill.

Two physicians, Dr. George D. Smith and Dr. Thomas F. Owen, were among the first to arrive. They dispatched word to Washington for ambulances and doctors. They had seen enough in a few minutes to know that there was work aplenty. Two ministers, the Rev. Father Ward and Rev. Greenwall were also soon on the scene. The Catholic father gave several of the children the last rites of the church there amid the wreckage.

Two country hotels and the village newspaper office were turned into temporary hospitals. As fast as the children could be extricated, they were carried to the village proper and later the injured were placed in fast automobiles and hurried to Washington hospitals, thirty-five miles away.

One little fellow, Samuel Berry, 7, is alive today because the ambulance that carried him went fast enough to the hospital. The boy had one arm literally torn from his body, besides suffering from a fractured skull. Physicians said today he had a chance for recovery.

The stories of the survivors are virtually all the same.

Miss Ethel Grapes, the 22-year-old school teacher, in charge of 35 primary pupils, who was badly injured, although not seriously, said:

"It had been raining most of the day and a little before 3 o'clock (Continued on page 2)

GREENVILLE AND PITT COUNTY EVER TRUE

We sincerely hope, nay, we confidently expect the citizens of Greenville and Pitt County to enter wholeheartedly into the celebration of Armistice Day and help to make it one of the greatest celebrations that ever took place in our midst.

They can do this by patronizing liberally the various numbers that the Legion has staged.

When they remember that Armistice stopped the SHEDDING OF THE RICHEST AND BEST BLOOD OF THE WORLD, upon its anniversary, they will doubtless strive to make every one jubilant and happy.

MAYOR ISSUES ARMISTICE DAY PROCLAMATION

Urges Citizens to Suspend Daily Occupations and Take Part in Celebration of the Day

Whereas, tomorrow the 11th day of November, 1926, will be the eighth anniversary of that memorable day when word went forth to the contending armies and the war-sick world that death and carnage would cease, and:

Whereas, peace, purchased with the blood of many of our countrymen, has, through their supreme sacrifice, reigned these intervening years, bringing to us who were privileged to remain, prosperity and happiness, and:

Whereas, it is both fitting and proper for us to commemorate those who gave their all for America and Democracy, as well as to celebrate in honor of those who offered themselves upon the sacred altar of patriotism but were permitted to return and carry on the struggle for peace and Democracy.

Now, Therefore, I, D. M. Clark, Mayor of Greenville, in conformity with the precedent of state and nation, do hereby set apart and proclaim Thursday, November 11, 1926, a city holiday, and to that end call upon all our people to give over their daily occupations and pursuits, at least for a few hours, in order that all within our confines, may in spirit of reverence and consideration commemorate those who fell that we might live, and celebrate in honor of those living heroes whose unparalleled achievements won for America the admiration and respect of the world. Let us forget, let us unite in observing the day in a most befitting manner and make this day, November 11th the greatest of days in the annals of the nation.

Done in the City of Greenville, this 10th day of November, 1926.

D. M. Clark, Mayor.

RICHMOND MAN FOUND DEAD IN PROCTOR HOTEL

G. C. Bayfield Believed to Have Succumbed to Heart Attack Sometime During Night

G. C. Bayfield, 56, of Richmond Va., was found dead in his room at the Proctor Hotel here today. He was traveling representative for L. Bannerbaum Son & Co., New York. Mr. Bayfield arrived in the city late Monday and was a guest at the hotel. He made an engagement with one of the business men of this city for this morning. When the appointed time came and Bayfield did not show up, the man called at the hotel and was directed to his room. Not being able to get any response from within, the man reported back to hotel authorities. They unlocked the room and found Bayfield dead, supposedly having suffered a heart attack in the early morning.

Stanley Mitchell, of Richmond identified the man as one of his friends, and notified relatives in Richmond.

Mitchell will remain here with the body until the arrival of Bayfield's son from Richmond.

PRESIDENT VISITS KANSAS THURSDAY

Will Pay Visit to Kansas After Dedication of War Memorial at Kansas City, Mo.

Aboard Presidential Special Enroute to Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Tomorrow, for the first time President Coolidge will visit Kansas.

President Coolidge, enroute to Kansas City, Missouri, to dedicate the $2,000,000 Liberty Memorial erected by the residents of that city to the veterans of the World War, has agreed, following the ceremonies there, to cross the Kansas river and visit the other Kansas City, located in the state after which it was named.

The President faces an exceedingly busy seven hours tomorrow in Kansas City. Arriving there shortly after breakfast he will motor to the Muhlebach Hotel for a short rest. Then comes the dedicatory exercises at the War Memorial. Following is a huge luncheon and then the visit to the sister city across the river. At 3:30 in the afternoon, he departs for the capital.

In addition to Mrs. Coolidge, the President is accompanied by Secretary of War Davis, Secretary Everett Sanders, Col. S. A. Cheney and Captain Wilson Brown military and naval aides, and Major J. F. Coupland official physician.

The President's train arrived in Pittsburgh at 8:39 A. M. from Washington, and departed at 8:48 A. M.

Schneider Cup Race Cup Postponed

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 10.—(INS)—The International Schneider Cup Races, between the crack airplanes and pilots representing the United States and Italy, scheduled for tomorrow, were today postponed until 2 p. m. Saturday because of inclement weather.

FALL AND DOHENY ARRAIGNED IN THE SUPREME COURT

Enter Plea of "Not Guilty" of Conspiracy to Defraud in Connection With Oil Leases

Washington, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Arraigned before a court after nearly five years of contentious litigation, Albert B. Fall, Secretary of the Interior, and Edward L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil magnate, entered formal pleas of "not guilty" today to indictments charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing of naval oil reserves in California.

The central figures in the "oil scandal" were arraigned in District Supreme Court on the first of four indictments growing out of the leasing of naval oil reserves by Fall and Doheny and to Harry F. Sinclair. Today's pleading, concerned only Fall and Doheny and the Elk Hills reserve in California.

The arraignments were quickly concluded. Attorneys for the defendants waived the reading of the lengthy indictment, and both Fall and Doheny replied in low, firm tones, when their names were called: "Not guilty."

They sat side by side in the courtroom, flanked and surrounded by an imposing array of counsel.

Representing Fall were William J. Lamber and Levi Cook of Washington; Henry A. Wise of New York, and Mark Thompson of New Mexico.

Doheny's counsel consisted of Frank J. Hogan, Harold Walker and J. Jim Cotter of Washington, and Fred R. Kellogg, of New York.

The government was represented by Atty. General Pomeroy and Clegg J. Roberts, special prosecutors, and Peyton Gordon, District Attorney for Washington.

Both Fall and Doheny appeared in good spirits and appeared confident as to the outcome of their case. Old friends for many years, they chatted together amiably as they waited for the arrival of Justice Hoehling.

Today's arraignment was a necessary formality to the trial of the two men on the indictment, due to start here on Nov. 22.

There are three other indictments in the case, one naming Fall and Sinclair for conspiracy and another charging Fall, Doheny and the latter's son, Edward L. Doheny, Jr., with conspiracy and bribery; and another charging Sinclair with contempt of the Senate for declining to answer the questions of an investigating committee. The pleas on these indictments will not be made for some time as all of the cases are in various states of legal complications.

English Woman to Face Trial for Attack on Mussolini

Rome, Nov. 10.—(INS)—The Italian police during the night occupied the offices of all anti-Fascist parties and associations, declaring these organizations automatically dissolved by the new police regulations, according to the Messagero.

This is the first step taken in accordance with the drastic new regulations voted yesterday by the Chamber of Deputies.

Popolo D'Italia, semi-official organ, announces that the Hon. Violet Gibson, sister of an English peer, who attempted to shoot Premier Mussolini last spring will be tried by a military tribunal as provided in the new regulations. It had been generally conceded that Miss Gibson made the attempt on the Premier while debarged and it had not been expected that she would be sent to trial.

JAPANESE STEAMER REPORTED MISSING

London, Nov. 10.—(INS)—The Japanese steamer Shinzan Maru is reported missing and vessels sent in search of her have reported they have been unable to find any traces of her, according to a Yokohama dispatch received here.

Lloyd's register does not record a Shinzan Maru, but the Shinzan Maru of Yokohama is listed as a vessel of 2910 tons,

Rotary Governor Here

S. Wade Marr, of Raleigh, District Rotary Governor, who last night paid his official visit to the Greenville Rotary Club.

STRIFE ON QUEEN'S TRAIN CONTINUES

"Peace Banquet" Attended by Those on Board Fails to Settle Personal Differences

Aboard Queen Marie's Special Train (in Colorado), Nov. 10.—(INS)—Despite an attempted "peace banquet," the internal strife aboard the Roumanian special continued today as the royal party arrived in Denver.

Strained relations bordering on an open rupture existed between the royal entourage and the officials in charge of the train following the imposing of a virtual censorship over news emanating from her majesty, by Professor Petresco, representing Premier Athanasescu of Roumania.

A special car today was at the disposal of Lois Fuller, Danesque friend of Queen Marie, an indirect cause of the new storm center. This car, furnished by Col. John H. Carroll, official hat to her majesty, was ready to take Mmc. Fuller to New York or any other place she desired. Carroll also announced that May Birkhead press agent for Mmc. Fuller, would leave the train at Denver.

In the contrast of the newspaper correspondents aboard with the queen, Major Stanley Washburn, M.J.'s her majesty, has previously acted as liaison officer, Professor Petresco's announcement that hereafter he would control the press interviews and would be the one to give forth official information bid fair to lead to another conflict even more bitter than when Sam Hill, eccentric millionaire of Washington, was expelled from the train.

Professor Petresco first announced that her majesty was annoyed with the controversy caused by the presence of Mmc. Fuller, and would not be sorry to see her leave in Chicago.

Col. Carroll, learning of the statement of Petresco, immediately declared Mmc. Fuller was his guest and would be entered of by no one but himself.

Today the positions of Petresco and Carroll were reversed, with the Professor declaring that her majesty wanted Mmc. Fuller to remain, and Col. Carroll protesting his special car with the door open.

The "peace banquet" attended by members of the various factions on board turned into more or less of an exchange of platitudes.

Col. Carroll announced the railroad was "jaying the way" of the royal party and hoped everybody was enjoying the trip and that members of her majesty's staff were not taking reports of the press concerning the trip too seriously.

One of the newspaper correspondents was called on, and he declared that he and his conferees had "leaned over backward" in reporting the situation in order to protect her majesty.

Ira Nelson Morris, Roumanian Consul General in Chicago, made a plea for everyone to forget their differences, and work in harmony.

A change in the tentative railroad schedule was announced today. The special train will leave Denver at 10:15 tonight in order to stop at Hastings, Neb., for five minutes; Lincoln, 10 minutes, and Omaha, 15 minutes, arriving in

DIST. GOVERNOR ROTARY VISITS THE LOCAL CLUB

Governor S. Wade Marr, of Raleigh, Delivers Inspiring Address to Rotarians Last Night

Rotary is acted under the flags of thirty-five nations and in seven languages, declared S. Wade Marr, of Raleigh, District Governor of Rotary International, in impressing upon the members of the local Rotary Club, the magnitude of Rotary International. The address was delivered at a special meeting of the Greenville club held last night on the occasion of the annual visit of the District Governor.

In addressing the club Mr. Marr went into a full discussion of the objects and ideals of the organization and urged upon the members their responsibilities to the community and the world at large as Rotarians.

"Rotary," he said, "is indefinable. To define it you must confine it, and if you confine it, it dies." He declared, "The ideal of Rotary, 'Service Above Self,' is a goal that is not reached literally by mortals and the nearest that we can hope to attain this desired height is a continuous practice of the Golden Rule. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Declaring that no man ever gets out of life more than he puts into it and that no club or organization ever lives that does not give back to the world more than it receives, the speaker closed his address with the following lines: That man can last but never lives Who much receives and nothing gives.

Whom none can love, whom none can thank, Creation's blot, Creation's blemish, His talk was a great inspiration to the local Rotarians and his visit was an enjoyable occasion.

In addition to the Governor's address last night, the club enjoyed a short talk by Rotarian Swartz and several musical numbers by the quartette.

Included in the business transacted was a report from the entertainment committee that arrangements had been made for "Ladies' Night" on November 29. This is always an enjoyable occasion for the Rotarians and they are looking forward to the next meeting with much pleasure.

W. H. Dail, president of the club, appointed a committee to arrange for the attendance of local Rotarians at the Inter-city conference at New Bern Friday, and several of the members of the club expressed their intentions of attending the meeting.

Prior to the beginning of last night's meeting the District Governor met with the various officers and committee heads of the club and discussed a program of activity for the club during the coming year.

Trained Parents One Greatest Needs Declares Knight

Burlington, N. C., Nov. 10.—(INS)—"Trained parents" as an aid in solving North Carolina's educational problems, was advocated in an address here today by Dr. Edgar W. Knight, president of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, before the parents and teachers' congress.

Other speakers during the morning included Dr. Charles O'H. Laughinghouse, State Health Officer, H. E. Conner, and Mrs. W. W. Martin.

A round table discussion on child health problems was led by Dr. Laughinghouse, at 11 o'clock. Addresses by Dr. Albert S. Root, Raleigh, Arthur Dunn, Miss Theresa Dandis, Southern Pines, Dr. H. W. Crane, Chapel Hill, and Dr. E. A. Branch, of Raleigh, were heard.

The convention will close tomorrow night.

A man 111 years old out in Missouri went to the polls and voted. He hasn't been able to adapt himself to modern ideas and customs.

Ladies Up Side Down. Forever Important. Britain Acts Oulekly. Tar Pit Traps, Long Ago.

Everybody, except those with something important to do, attended the opening night of New York's million dollar night club, with looking glass floor. The million dollar part was old, the looking glass dancing floor was new and was about the only new thing that could be done. Women have done everything, except exhibit their charming personalities upside down. The looking glass floor will do that.

One million years hence everything thus far written, said, or done by human beings will be cast aside, forgotten, unimportant. Newton's genius for mathematics will rank with a bushman's ability to count five. Shakespeare and Beethoven will rank with the Chinese Tom-Tom. Children will be born knowing more than any living man knows now. What we call history will seem as dull as the records of wolves fighting, or pigs scrambling for swill.

But this will not be forgotten. It will be important, while earth lasts. Italian scientists have discovered another of the missing elements, number sixty-one, in the scale of 92 substances that make up all visible creation.

Our ignorance is shown thus: Of 1,000,000,000 human beings living, more than 1,000,000,000 don't know that there are such chemical units as elements. Not one human being in a million could name the elements thus far discovered, and few know, looking up at the dirigible Los Angeles, that an element recently discovered, helium, keeps the ship floating.

The prediction that children of the year 1,001,928 will know more at birth than scientists know now, is not rash. Knowledge sticks to us, and is inherited slowly, over thousands of centuries. Lower animals prove it. The mud wasp never taught, never knowing father for mother, knows at birth how to perform a delicate surgical operation on a caterpillar, keeping it alive, but motionless for months, for the next wasp generation to feed upon it. The insects were inheriting knowledge during a million years and more, before men came.

Why should not children be born, understanding differential calculus and able to discuss the fourth dimension, intelligently.

Already, some children at two years of age excel in certain mental powers of the average men of fifty.

Great Britain, always acting quickly, where trade is concerned makes all arrangements for recognition of Sauton as a separate state, independent of Peking. They have been shooting each other and everybody else including foreigners with British among them. That makes no difference to Britain where business is concerned.

This country has not yet recognized Russia, and heaven knows when we shall recognize China's new arrangements. Some of our boy financiers who know only by hearsay that the world is round and that nations go to war, made a big fool of Chinese loan, which promptly died, as regards principal and interest. Our government will weep about that for years. Wise Britain says "never mind yesterday's lost dollar. Where is tomorrow's new dollar to be had."

This earth has always had its excitement, disasters and woes. Thousands of centuries before you came here to make trouble, animals of all kinds met death in a strange jumble. Tar piles on the Rancho La Brea, now part of Los Angeles, have caught and preserved for all time such different animals as the imperial elephant, saber tooth tiger, giant ground sloth, long extinct camels, and circles others. No other spot on earth has yielded so many different animals to the scientists' research. And that's appropriate. No spot on earth equals Los Angeles in its variety of people.

TORNADO LEAVES

the wind seemed getting stronger. I heard a rumbling noise, and looked out of the window. Things looked black and ugly. I was beginning to feel nervous, when all of a sudden the window panes blew out. The children started toward me when suddenly we all seemed to be flying through the air. Every thing was whirling around and around. I guess I lost consciousness, for the next thing I knew I was lying on the ground and there was a child lying across me.
There are three hundred homes in La Plata, and almost every one was touched by sorrow today, either through death or injury of children. The village authorities were consulting parents this morning and it is probable that the dead children will be buried at a community service, and in a single grave.
As suddenly as the twister struck just as suddenly it left. From the town, it bore southwest and swept a narrow strip through the countryside to Cedarville, where it caused considerable property damage and one death.

The tornado was described today as 'freakish.' It seemed to have had its origin along the Potomac river, several miles from La Plata, and it hopped along its narrow pathway, rising and falling. Where it struck it left ruined property and death. It apparently blew itself out after passing Cedarville.

Imperial Conference
Has Big Propaganda
Motion Picture Plan

London, Nov. 9.—(INS)—British Empire propaganda by film is one of the subjects before the Imperial Conference.
There is one great vehicle of propaganda, said Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, President of the Board of Trade, in addressing the Conference, which we have almost completely ignored—the cinema. It requires little imagination to picture the effect on tens of millions of people of seeing American films, staged in American settings, American clothes, American furniture, American automobiles. American boasts of every kind.
We must explore the lines of action which might be taken to encourage the production of British films. It is a difficult and complicated subject, and is being examined in detail by one of the Committees of the Conference.

This Committee has before it a mass of information which has been collected by the Board of Trade in discussions with the various sections of the cinema industry and from other sources during the past year, he said.

FROM BERMUDA TOMORROW

New York, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion will return to New York tomorrow from a vacation in Bermuda and will spend the week-end at Stroudsburg, Pa., where he finished his training for the fight with Jack Dempsey in Philadelphia.

REICHSTAG DEFEATS NON-CONFIDENCE MOTION

Berlin, Nov. 10.—(INS)—The Reichstag today defeated a Communist and German Racialist party motion of non-confidence in the government.

NOTED RUSSIAN BARITONE DEAD

Berlin, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Joseph Schwarz, internationally known Russian baritone who formerly was with the Chicago Opera Company, died here today. Death was due to kidney trouble, from which the singer had suffered for several months.

In February 1922 while in Chicago with the opera there Schwarz married Mrs. Clara Stelkin, widow of the wealthy coffee merchant, from whom she inherited a fortune of $7,000,000.

Jazz to Furnish Germ for America's Music of the Future

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(INS)—America is a country without a past. Jazz, as a musical form, also has no past. Therefore, jazz is destined to be the American music of the future.

This is the conclusion drawn by Madame J. Herscher-Clement, French composer who is closely associated with the famous Group of Six so dominant a factor in the evolution of French music and who came to Chicago in connection with the world premiere of a French musical comedy of which she is the author and composer.

Music, said Madame Herscher-Clement, is first, last and always an expression of nationalistic life, of nationalistic feeling and aspiration, and as such, no matter how revolutionary its form, is rooted in tradition.

America has no past. Equally, jazz, as a musical form, has no past. In it America's kaleidoscope present finds its most vivid expression. Musically, therefore, it will become her tradition—her music of the future, not in its present form, probably, but in some form which will be derived from the germ existing in the wild compositions of today.

- Cheer Leaders, Bruce Sugg, Jane Hall.

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT

IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH

The regular mid-week prayer meeting will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which time delegates to the state convention will be elected. A large attendance is urged.

ATTENTION TO PARTICIPANTS

IN PARADE

The parade, which will be the first feature on the program for the Armistice Day celebration to be staged here tomorrow, will begin at 9:30 o'clock sharp. The parade will start at the A. C. L. Depot. All those who will participate in the parade are urged to assemble at the depot promptly at 9:15 a. m., as the parade must begin on time. Come, and come early to help make this, the greatest parade in the history of Greenville and Pitt county.

MEETING OF LITERARY DEPARTMENT OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Literary Department of the Woman's Club held the third meeting of the club year with Mrs. E. T. Forbes on Tuesday afternoon at 8:00.

Thirteen members were present answering roll call with current events.

The study for the afternoon was "Early Southern Literature." The first discussion, "A Survey of Colonial Literature," was to have been led by Miss Hand, but due to sickness, she was absent and this part of the program was dispensed with.

Mrs. Alsbrook gave an interesting sketch of George Washington in regard to his literary activities and political doctrines.

Mrs. H. C. Sugg, delighted us with an extensive reading on Thomas Jefferson from a biographical standpoint, and also as regard his theory of government. A few intimate facts of the life of Henry Laurens was also referred to by Mrs. Sugg.

The next meeting will be in the Y. W. C. A. Hut at the college with Mesdames Adam, and Henderson as hostesses.

Prof. Meadows of the college faculty, will lecture to us at that time on life and works of Edgar Allan Poe.

A delicious ice course was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the program.

The Vanitie Boxe

The Canigo

Stylish, "contrast" figurings are obtained by opposing straight grained walnut on tops and sides of cabinet pieces, table-top, etc., to the symmetrical figuring of hand-matched crotch walnut on drawer and door fronts. The exquisitely turned legs and stretchers of genuine gumwood are carefully high-lighted and shaded by hand. Deep mahogany compartments for choice linen in sideboard. Mahogany, dust-proof, slide-sure drawers. Beautiful surfaces of laminated veneering to prevent warping.

A Lovely Dining Room and a Rare Opportunity

THERE is a vogue for Spanish Furniture today. That is why we feel that this suite by Berkey & Gay is a peculiarly attractive purchase. Will you not come in and see it? It has all the rich beauty of Spain in its lines and decorations—a stylish touch of today about it, too. Let us point out to you the finer details of quality workmanship, the rare, selected and exquisitely grained woods, the mellow, velvety hand-rubbed surfaces!

We offer a price as well as a style inducement here. Rich, substantial pieces these, each bearing the famous Berkey & Gay Shop Mark. And the suite is marked at a figure so modest as to be astonishing.

A DAY TO BE REMEMBERED
 Eight years ago today, the sons of the nations of the world were engaged in mortal combat, while eight years ago tomorrow, at eleven o'clock, the bloodshed ceased and peace reigned over the world. Therefore, it is fitting that tomorrow, the eighth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, should be a day on which our citizens cease the pursuit of their daily occupations and give over the day to observance of the great event of which the day is the anniversary.
 Again we urge every man, woman and child in our city and county to take part in the observance of Armistice Day by hallowing the memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice and by words of praise for those living who still are carrying on for the peace of the world.
 Let tomorrow's Armistice Day observance eclipse anything that has ever taken place in our county.

RANKS NINTH IN CROPS
 North Carolina ranked ninth in 1925 in the value of all crops during the year. The United States Department of Agriculture places the value of our crops for last year at nearly three hundred and nineteen million dollars. For the five-year period from 1919-1923 our rank in crop wealth production was fifth. It was eleventh in 1924, and as stated above, ninth in 1925.
 This is a very high rank on an aggregate basis, but aggregates make a mighty poor basis for comparisons. Two things must be kept in mind. First, North Carolina is outnumbered in farms only by Texas. Ranking second in farms, we ought to rank high in crops. Second, North Carolina specializes on crops, mainly cotton and tobacco; and meat and milk animals and animal products play a minor role in our system of farming. Consequently North Carolina ranks much higher as a crop state than she does as an agricultural state. And on the only fair basis of comparison, the per farm basis, North Carolina ranks very low in the production of agricultural wealth — usually in the lower forties—Uni should go a day on which versity News Letter.

 The following pilots are qualified to enter: Hart, DePaolo, Hill, Duray, Lockhart, Shattuc, Elliott, Meyer Cooper, Hepburn, McDonough, Gulotta, Lewis, Woodbury and Comer. Tomorrow's card will consist of two 25-mile sprints, a 50-mile duel and a 100-mile grind.
SHEPHERD DOG SAVES MAN FROM DEATH
 Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—(INS)—A shepherd dog saved Dan Talbert, 35, from instant death here when a bull gored him severely, but for the dog Talbert probably would have been killed. The bull lunged at Talbert, catching his mander his horns and throwing his several feet into the air. The bull continued charging until bitten by the dog.
 Talbert finally was rescued by two farm hands and brought to a local hospital where little hope was held out for his recovery.

Your Children
 Yes, your children! Are you giving them their right to grow up strong and healthy? Health and strength are pretty much the result of habits. And good habits should be started in childhood.
 The daily bath is a habit. And it carries with it more than health and strength.
 The daily bath teaches cleanliness. From cleanliness, grows ambition; from ambition, efficiency; from efficiency, success.
 Children like the daily bath, if there is a good bathroom in which to do the bathing.
 Install a large tub and a gushing shower and hear the joy of the daily splash.
 Of all habits, none does so much for the whole family as the daily bath habit. It prevents sickness, worry and expense.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat. If you are overweight do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

Head Alabama Farm Federation Says the Banks Will Own Farms Unless Conditions Change

Atlanta, Nov. 10.—(HNS)—A warning that all cotton farms will eventually be owned by land banks and big insurance companies unless present conditions change, was made today by Edward A. O'Neal, President of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation.

O'Neal, in a address before the Southern Convention of the National Fertilizer Association here, declared organization as the only salvation of the cotton farmer.

Many farmers say that it is much cheaper to rent land to own it, O'Neal said. "This has actually taken place in Georgia. The hazard of production and marketing is so great as to make it prohibitive to own land and pay interest on it.

With a pound of cotton, the farmer can purchase only about 50 per cent of the unit of all commodities which he has to buy, and cotton is the southern farmer's currency. Is there any wonder for the increase of mortgage records? The low price of cotton is sapping his very life blood.

O'Neal outlined the activities of the Alabama Farm Bureau, declaring one of its endeavors is to develop new markets for cotton. The largest field for increasing the use of cotton seems to be a substitution of cotton for lute and burp to the extent of about 4,500,000 bales a year, he said.

As an example of what farmers can do by working together, O'Neal cited the success of the Alabama Farm Bureau which warehouses,

SAID CAN'T BE DONE

"My experience with doctors and medicines caused me to lose faith in both and when a friend told me that May's would cure my stomach trouble I told him it can't be done. However, he finally persuaded me to try it and to my surprise it did. All symptoms of acute indigestion and gas having disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. insures, grades, finances and sells cotton in an orderly manner during the year for its members. In four years, he said his association had handled 308,000 bales valued at $36,850,000.

A south-wide endorsement of cooperative marketing was seen by O'Neal in the plan now under way for withholding 4,000,000 bales from the market until prices recover.

Farmers, he said, have begun to realize they must use more fertilizer and less labor per acre in order to produce economically.

Market Report

MARKET LETTER

(By W. S. Constan, INS Financial Editor)

New York, Nov. 10. The stock market without heavy selling in excellent shape today, and most of the price declines were followed by sharp.

Industrial stocks and United States Steel were robbed of their anticipated gain in the afternoon following the formation of the steel corporation, which increased only 90,000 tons in October, against a forecasted increase of 300,000 tons. Steel stock was freely offered as soon as the report was made public and declined.

General Motors and the market's industrial leaders received a heavy onslaught from the professionals and the trend of prices was distinctly downward.

Continuance of easy money was an important ally to the bullish forces.

The iron trade's mid week steel market report contained a pleasant surprise in showing that the October output of ingots reached the unprecedented total of 4,000, 548.

in the stock's under pressure. Trading in the railroad shares was generally at a slightly lower range of prices. Chesapeake and Ohio, Nickel Plate and other outstanding rail shares declined a point or two on moderate offerings. Commodity markets were quiet and dull. Cotton failed to rally; grain sold fractionally lower, while rubber and textiles marked time while awaiting definite developments. Call loan official rate 11-1/4 per cent.

The market closed fairly steady. Final prices were at net declines of 2 to 8 points. The market for spot cotton was quiet, down 5 points. Middling uplands 12.70; December closed at 12.29, down 7; January 12.40, down 6; March 12.63, down 5; May 12.85, down 1; July 13.10, down 5 and October 12.7 13.23, down 2.

The Liverpool market closed steady with November at 6.66; December 6.68; January 6.74; March 6.72; May 6.91; July 7.01; and October 1927 7.08.

THREE TRAGIC DEATHS IN SINGLE DAY

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Three persons met tragic death, here, in the past 24 hours. Edward Notts, aged three, was buried to death in his home. John Ball, Jr., of Big Stone Gap, Va., was killed in an auto accident. Miss Pearl Morell hanged herself in despondency. To offset this, Mrs. J. W. Host, 200 lbs., gave birth to a baby weighing 14 pounds, four ounces too large for the clothes already prepared.

CONFEDERATE VET 99 YEARS OLD USES NEITHER CANE NOR GLASSES

Wilmington, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Rev. M. Harmon, 99 year old Confederate Veteran, who uses neither a cane nor glasses, will vary his custom by not marching with the "boys" in the Armistice Day parade here tomorrow. He is going to Jacksonville, N. C., to "spend the day in rest."

RICHMOND WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Richmond, Va., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Mrs. Mary Conner Earnest, 37 wife of a prominent Richmond building contractor, committed suicide here early today by shooting her self through the head. She was said to have been dependent because of ill health. Mrs. Earnest's home was formerly in Cincinnati.

OFFICIAL REPORT PLACE TYPHOON TOLL AT 110

Washington, Nov. 10.—(INS)—An official report to the war department by Governor General Wood, of the Philippines today gave the loss in the typhoon which struck Batangas last Friday night as 140 dead and 60 missing. He added that there was probably further loss among the fishing people on adjacent islands and along the coast as the typhoon was accompanied by a severe tidal wave.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT IN CALIFORNIA

Santa Ana, Cal., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Three distinct earthquake shocks, occurring within a minute, rattled lights and windows here today. No damage was reported. The first tremor came at 9.28 a. m., followed almost immediately by the second and third shocks.

QUEEN MARIE TO MEET BENEFACTOR

Richmond, Va., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Queen Marie, who she comes to Richmond early next month, will see an old-fashioned Colonial Henry W. Anderson, rich corporation lawyer and one time gubernatorial candidate, who is reputed to have saved the queen's life in Roumania during the war when he was doing Red Cross work.

Low Cotton Price Is Aid to Britain

Manchester, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Recent record low prices for American cotton have caused the Lancashire cotton industrialists, after five years of depressed trade and a loss of more than $1,000,000,000 to look forward to a time of real prosperity. Every loom and spinning mule running in six months. 'Another boom and 'Millions of profits' are some of the prophecies being made. But, up to now, there has been little change in the actual situation. Few, if any, of Lancashire's 500,000 cotton operatives have found more work and numerous inquiries of cloth on the Exchange have not resolved themselves yet into big orders.

Several reasons are assigned for the slackening of the old demand for Lancashire goods. Lack of humanization, indifferent salesmanship, and out-of-date machinery are all mentioned as contributing to the general falling-off. Probably the unsettled situation in China is the most important reason. China still takes $50,000,000 of cotton goods yearly and the market in the country is almost illiquid. But Japan and Italy are now serious competitors with Lancashire in the coarse goods trade, while the Indians are beginning to manufacture cotton for themselves.

Girl Burned Badly by Molasses Candy

"I have used your liniment, Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh, for a number of years and find it one of the best on the market. My little niece Mary L. McClean burned her hand very badly with molasses candy. We put her hand right in the liniment and kept using it from day to day until her hand was perfectly cured. It did not leave any scar so now it is impossible to tell which hand was burned."

Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh is a liniment and antiseptic wash for open wounds as well. It is particularly recommended for hard cases of strains, bruises, burns, and open wounds. Old sores that would not heal up, have given way before the healing effects of this remarkable remedy. Sold by drug stores.
