MORE ROOM NEEDED

Parking space in Greenville continues to be a problem and as Christmas appreaches the condition is growing worse daily. C. B. Rowlett, Secretary of the Merchants Association, is urging members of the organization to leave their cars at home as much as possible between now and Christmas, and to insist that the clerks in the stores do likewise, in order that the parking space now used by the cars will be available for the shoppers, especially the out-of-town ones. The suggestion made by Secretary Rowlett will do much toward religving the congested condition, and it is to be hoped that business men of the city will heed it. Greenville has extended a cordial invitation to the peoplq of the surrounding section to do their shopping in Greenville, and now it is up to Greenville to see to it that convenient parking places are available for the

Not ence would I stop to ask whether the boy had been good or be girl naughty or whether the thing asked for was foo! h or too expensive-1'd bring that present his one Christmas, just to see hi in Santa Claus.

I would go to all the hospitals of the land, where pinched faces and sickened bodies hopelessly lowers and fruits and gifts gaand love messages and to countr and old would know that it indeed Christmas time.

Far into the country I'd, go where the hard conditions of life ave cheated the children of their bys -- in the buts and cabins of he mountains I'd leave toys and that will wak and talk, coon, they will really dance and little trains that will run, fruits, candies, fire ctockir -a. ties and things that / just their "yearing clothes" toold not take up the place of described, to wit:

Christmes toys, Somehow, I'd come again to the degree boys and girls who say there s on Santa Claus, and bring them real surprise. Something their own morey had not bought, some evierre of love and interest they had over looked or ignored. They would know again that there is a Santa Claus and that he lives In

It would be late and I'd to far, must get a bigger Christ-

And I'd not stop here. There to poor mothers and w dows, who ishly have given all for their children. At christmas times more than at others they have stinted and saved so their children can have some Christmas joy. You bet I wouldn't forgether.
