TOTAL DEAD FROM POISON LIQUOR IN NEW YORK 50

Many Others Will be Blind or Insane as Result Christmas Drinking

New York, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Eight more victims of poisoned Christmas bootleg liquor were added to the toll today in the New York City district, bringing the total dead to date up to fifty.

According to Medical Examiner Charles D. Norris, the toll in this city from bad and poisoned liquor for 1926 is in the neighborhood of 3,000, and he estimates that the final figures for this month in New York will exceed more than 800. There will be heavy drinking tonight.

A checkup of Bellevue hospital shows that more than 140 persons now are confined there suffering from alcoholism, still scores of others, according to reports, are being treated in private institutions as a result of poisoned booze.

In most cases, it is said, conditions of the patients are such that either blindness, insanity or death will ultimately follow.

Two Liquor Stills Captured Yesterday

Sheriff's officers yesterday captured two liquor stills in the county. Neither of the stills was in operation at the time the raids were staged, and the operators of the stills are unknown.

One of the raids was staged in Falkland township, while the other was in Greenville township. Each of the stills was a copper outfit of about sixty gallons capacity. No whiskey was taken in the raids, but a quantity of beer found with each still was destroyed.

Search for Driver Hit and Run Car

Clayton, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Search today had extended into all surrounding towns for the "hit and run" driver, whose automobile struck and killed the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truelove here yesterday afternoon. The "death car" contained three or four men, according to eye-witnesses, who said the car did not stop.

Chicago Moves to Stamp Out Beer Gang Men

Chicago, Dec. 31.—(INS)—The stage is being set for a new drive to stamp out the piratical beer gangs, whose form of ruthless justice annually takes a toll of lives running well over 100.

At least one mayoralty candidate will be running on an out and out reform platform, it is indicated, while a determined movement was under way to have the State Legislature stop many of the legal loopholes, through which skilled lawyers are able to pull their wealthy gangster clients.

Although Chicago is openly and unblushingly wet, the growing seriousness of the problem of bringing these gangsters to justice is causing concern to many reputable citizens who in times gone by patronized beer runners.

A series of recent acquittals brought the problem squarely to make the stamping out of the gangs a political issue.

In one case a jury acquitted a notorious gangster despite evidence of two policemen who saw him empty his automatic into a rival beer runner.

The State's attorney had what he thought was a clear cut hanging case in this instance. Charges were openly made when the verdict of acquittal was returned that members of the jury feared they would be shot down if they voted guilty.

The most frequently discussed proposals was a law patterned after the Egan act of New York, under which old offenders are given short shrift when they reach the courts.

Such a State law, bolstered by an enlarged police force and some hard boiled juries would go a long way toward keeping the gangs in check, it was believed today.

While much of the gang shooting is confined to gangland itself, many innocent bystanders have been killed and wounded by stray bullets.

The only real solution of the problem in the belief of prohibitionists would be for the average citizen to stop buying beer, thus cutting off the gangsters' revenue.

TODAY

Older and Bigger.
Too Proud To Bully.
Woman's Biggest Union
In Britain They Fly.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

It was said here that this country needs immigration from Europe. Twenty million ambitious workers, to absorb surplus farm products and used cars, and help build the nation.

Professor Eaton writes "The earth is overpopulated. If every one had an equal share of food all would be hungry all the time." The professor is mistaken. All human beings on earth could stand at the same time on Staten Island in New York harbor, and not be more crowded than proud Americans attending a prize fight.

The State of Texas, intensively cultivated, would feed all the earth's people, and clothe them. The earth isn't half or one-tenth populated. And the potential food supply is a hundred times greater than any possible demand. We need people, that will work.

The American Science Association is boiling over with important news.

Human life has increased by thirty years, from 42 to 72 in recent times.

The average American boy's height has increased two and a half inches in the last fifty years—control of infantile diseases, and knowledge of the value of vitamins, and sunlight, have done that.

Carl Frederick Schissel, scientist, says within 200 years, the power of the atom will be liberated, bringing an end of human labor and suffering. Interesting, but the important thing is not our height, how long we live, or ability to live without work. Freedom from labor would mean a new, more horrible suffering.

If we did 30 years more of THINKING than we used to do, or if the average boy's brain were 1-2 inches bigger around, and one hundred per cent more active than it used to be, that would mean something.

Science advances. Human intelligence stands still or moves as slowly as a glacier.

In Athens, 3,000 years ago, the average of intelligence, among free citizens, was higher than it is in the British House of Commons today.

The Nicaragua foolishness has had publicity enough to prevent harm. Gentlemen pulling strings that move our government may even fail to get what they want. Publicity is as bad for international crookedness as sunlight for glanders.

Will somebody answer this? "Why does this powerful nation intrude upon a weaker nation, occupying it, ports, giving orders to its government, when under exactly the same conditions, it would not dream of meddling with a powerful nation, like Russia, Japan, or Britain?"

Uncle Sam once advertised as "too proud to fight" should be too proud to play the bully.

A learned Sacramento judge has a poor opinion of divorced women that draw alimony from former husbands and take life easy.

Schopenhauer says women are in league to compel every man to support some woman, all her natural life. That, says he, is why women are, so hard on immoral sisters that make it unnecessary for men to marry.

Our divorce and alimony system makes many men support more than one wife, but that should not be hastily criticized. This vale of tears was planned to give man an education and he is getting it.

In England they mean to rule the waters, now that the modern ocean is the air, and their flying defense is entrusted to those that know about flying.

For instance, Sir Samuel Hoare British Air Minister, is flying from London to India, with Lady Hoare, a little round trip of 12,000 miles. And he won't "stop" because he forgot his oil or his gasoline.

We had one air officer, as good as that British air minister and better, General Mitchell. And we lost no time in getting rid of him. He is breeding horses in Virginia now, and men that ought to be breeding horses are running off flying force.

Beginning next month the United States will get in installment, seventeen flying machines, each capable of carrying ten passengers, or soldiers. That's good news, for

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

ARRANGING PLANS EVOLUTION FIGHT IN LEGISLATURE

"Committee of One Hundred" Under New Head Will Meet Again on Thursday

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 31.—(INS)—Yesterday's meeting of North Carolina's far-famed committee, of one hundred accomplished nothing more than something of a reorganization, and it will meet again Thursday. It was announced by association officials today.

Now led by Rev. R. McKendree Long, of Statesville, as President and Tam Bowie, of Jefferson as legal adviser, the association's plans for an anti-evolution campaign in the 1927 Legislature are expected to go forward rapidly, and probably will be completed at Thursday's meeting, it was said.

In a statement prepared here today the organization's new head declared the association would meet unflinchingly the issues that will inevitably arise. Expressing confidence of ultimate victory, he said the association expected to wage an aggressive but machineous campaign and believed that its vindication is a blessed certainty.

Zeb V. Turlington, former head of the association, who resigned yesterday declared here that the legislation designed to prevent the teaching of the so-called evolution theory in State-supported schools of North Carolina was inevitable and proper.

New Year Musical Program Arranged For White House

Washington, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Creating a tradition for new year's eve watch at the White House, Mrs. Coolidge has arranged to have a military musical program carried out on the roof of the White House tonight.

Exactly one minute before midnight a cornetist from the U. S. Marine Band will play "Taps" to signify the passing of the old year. Then, with the passing of the midnight hour, he will sound the call of reveille to welcome the year 1927. Immediately thereafter, a trombone quartet from the band will play Beethoven's "Crescendo."

President Coolidge was undecided today as to whether he would stay up to see the new year in. If he does so, he will be setting a precedent for himself in that he has never before observed this custom.

Seek Bandits Who Captured Americans

Washington, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Mexican federal authorities are in pursuit of the bandits who captured J. W. Wiley and E. B. Conners, American employees of the British-owned San Francisco mines of Mexico, Ambassador Sheffield reported today to the State Department.

The Americans are being held for ransom of 10,000 pesos.

Last Minute Appeal Saves Murderer From the Gallows

Macon, Ga., Dec. 31.—(INS)—While officers waited to escort him to the gallows, Wade Johnson, condemned to hang today for the murder of an aged woman, was snatched from death by a last minute appeal to the federal court.

Judge W. J. Tilson of the U. S. District Court of Middle Georgia, signed a bill of exceptions which will admit the case on appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. This means that Johnson will be given at least 30 days more of life.

Johnson, whose hanging was to have been the last legal execution in Georgia, was ready to depart for the jail at Gray, a few miles distant, when the sheriff and guards accompanying him were served with the court order.

a start. When shall we get the other 2,983 planes. The British are having airships to carry one hundred soldiers each.

RECORD CROWDS TO MEXICO ON VERGE SEE NEW YEARS FOOT BALL GAME

Sixty Thousand Ex- pected to Attend Alabama - Stamford Game Tomorrow

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 31.—(INS)—One of the greatest spectacles within the gift of American football, the New Year's day inter-sectional classic between Alabama and Stamford in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, will be witnessed by the largest crowd that has ever attended a tournament of roses football game in the past it was declared here today by officials sponsoring the event.

More than 60,000 are expected to be on hand for the colorful contest. The game will officially close the 1926 football season in the United States and will mark the third successive New Year's Day on which unbeaten teams have struggled in the Rose Bowl.

Stanford and Alabama are two of the three undefeated and untied teams of first rank in the country. Most gridiron critics are said to be agreed the winner of New Year's Day class will have a better claim to the mythical championship of the nation than any team in the country.

Betting odds were quoted today at 10 to 7 on Stanford to win, and even money on Stanford to win by two touchdowns. There is no apparent reason for these figures, however, and many wise ones are putting the family roll on Alabama.

Last year's odds favored Washington by 2 to 1 and even better, but the Crimson Tide had the laugh when it snatched the Washingtonians by the narrow score of 20 to 19.

Will Not Seek Abolishment of Rotation of Judges

Raleigh, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Abolishment of the rotation of superior court judges probably will not be recommended to the next General Assembly, as a result of action taken here by the judicial conference, it was believed today.

A proposal to abolish the system was lost by a vote of 10 to 13. The proposal went before the judicial conference on a report from the committee on judicial system.

However, the conference approved a bill for reform in jury selection which was adopted at its June meeting.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—(INS)—James Ryan, 26, a telephone repairman, was cremated when trapped beneath a blazing automobile truck, and his helper, John Roon, 23, was killed when hurled from the machine when, it skidded on ice and somersaulted into a trolley pole in Germantown, a suburb, today.

FLOOD DAMAGE NASHVILLE OVER THREE MILLIONS

Six Thousand Persons Have Been Made Homeless by Rising Rivers

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 31.—(INS)—The overflowing of the Cumberland River which is expected to reach its crest of about 56.5 feet tonight, has caused the greatest amount of destruction of any catastrophe that Nashville has ever known.

While no loss of life has been reported here, more than 6,000 persons have been driven from their homes and property damage estimated from $2,000,000 to $3,500,000 has been suffered by the flood.

The devastation of the flood exceeds the damage done by the last Nashville fire of 1919, by more than $1,000,000 and the flood of 1882 by nearly twice that amount.

Factories along the river front which were forced to close down by the high water, have snored the greatest loss while practically every notable house in Lower Broad Street district have lost heavily.

The damage to Nashville streets has been conservatively estimated at $400,000. The damage to homes and other buildings probably will exceed that amount.

Not a single penny's worth of flood insurance was carried on any of the damaged property.

A rise of little more than half a foot Thursday drove nearly 100 more families from their homes. The river will rise approximately a half foot more, and then it will be at least another week before the majority of the 6,000 homeless will be able to return.

Soup kitchens and canteens have been opened to feed the refugees, some of whom are housed in tents, churches and public buildings.

With the Tombigbee River at its highest point in more than thirty years and steadily rising still higher, property damage in this section rapidly approached the $1,000,000 mark today. The river reached 44 feet early today with indications that an additional two feet would be registered before the crest is reached. Highways have become practically impassable and train service has been seriously hampered. Service on the A. T. and N. was halted entirely when water covered the tracks.

Principal damage has been done to crops, buildings and livestock. No loss of life has been reported.

Winnfield, La., Dec. 31.—(INS)—Caster River is at a higher stage than it has been in years. All the lowlands are flooded and it is estimated 50,000 to 75,000 barrels of oil in storage has been lost. H. L. Hurt is reported the heaviest loser, it being reported he has lost 15,000 barrels in the floods.

All operators in the Urania and Little Creek district in the lawlands have lost practically all they had in storage. All drilling rigs and pumping stations in the flooded districts are tied up. The loss suffered by the producers in the flooded area will exceed $100,000.

Both side, to the deadlock are apparently determined, but are prepared to take no precipitate action, preferring to sit tight and watch events.

Falls' Condition Growing Worse

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31.—(INS)—Although no official bulletin was issued by Dr. H. T. Stafford, physicians to Albedi B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, who is ill here with influenza-pneumonia, it became increasingly apparent today that the former cabinet officers condition has taken a turn for the worse.

This development was seen in the anxiety of the family, members of which admitted that operations had to be administered to the patient.

Gangster War is Resumed in Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 31.—(INS)—That the much-touted truce between rival Chicago gangsters was at an end, appeared certain today with the finding of the body of Hilary Clements, aid of Ralph Shelton and the late John Foley, whose beer running activities are said to have stirred the wrath of the powerful Salts-Merlane gang.

Salts was recently tried and acquitted of the murder of John Foley. Clements, whose body was found by two little boys under a deserted cottage, on the outskirts of town, was the first known victim of gang warfare since the machine gun assassination of Hymie Weiss. Following Weiss' death a truce was said to have been signed by rival leaders.

NEW YORK READY TO RING OUT OLD AND RING IN NEW

Despite Poisoned Liquor and Dry Agents Broadway Will Be in Full Bloom Tonight

New York, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Noise and gaiety, as well as wetness, if present signs are a criterion, will mark New York's tribute to the entrance of the new year at midnight tonight.

The matter of expense will not deter old Broadway, where the night club's cover charge has in some instances, been boosted as high as $10 for the new year's festivities.

Despite prohibition sleuths and poisoned liquors the jubilation promises to live up fully to tradition.

Virtually all the theatres are sold out, while the hotels expect to serve more than 50,000.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO FIRM OF MORGAN CO.

Three Employees of House of Morgan Taken Into the Firm as Partners.

New York, Dec. 31.—(INS)—What is considered to be one of the highest prizes in Wall Street—a partnership to J. P. Morgan and Company—has been given to Francis Dwight Bartow, Arthur Marvin Anderson and William Ewing.

Announcement of the admission of these men to the firm was made today and increases the number of partners to fourteen.

Bartow entered the company in 1924, coming from the First National Bank of New York. He started with the bank in 1902, became assistant cashier in 1911 and a vice-president in 1915.

A. M. Anderson has been with J. P. Morgan since June 1914, as chief of their bond department. Ewing has been associated with the House of Morgan for the past ten years and is a Yale graduate. Bartow is forty-five years old and the other two a year his junior.

Announcement was also made of a change in the firm name of the J. P. Morgan office. Because of the death of Henry H. Harjes the Paris partner and in order to conform with certain French laws, the name of Morgan Harjes and Company ceases and the firm becomes Morgan and Company.

No Preparations To Enforce Dry New Year's Eve

Washington, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Wet or dry enforcement of the prohibition law at tonight's new year celebration will be left to state and municipal officials.

At the office of General L. C. Andrews, dry chief, it was stated today that the federal government has made no unusual preparations to keep new year's eve dry.

Andrews' field force fought hard during the year to eliminate sources of supply normally tapped by the bootleggers and reports declare that good liquor will be scarce to welcome in 1927.

A year ago tonight Andrews observed a dry new year's eve in probably the wettest spot in the Eastern Hemisphere—Havana. Andrews looked, but did not participate.

McPherson Case Not Be Dismissed Declares Keyes

Los Angeles, Dec. 31.—(INS)—The case against Almee Semple McPherson will not be dismissed, District Attorney Asa Keyes formally announced today.

"I have never thought of dismissing it," the prosecutor declared. Keyes added in spite of the "drop" of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Seilaff, star prosecution witness against Mrs. McPherson, he still intended using Mrs. Wiseman as a witness at the trial of the evangelist in superior court.

ASK GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION OF ORGANIZED BALL

Major Leagues Urge Placing National Sport Under Gov- ernment Supervision

Washington, Dec. 31.—(INS)—An ambitious plan to put organized baseball under the control of a federal commission, thus eliminating Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the present czar of the game, will be proposed to Congress next week in the form of a bill to be introduced by Rep. M. Clyde Kelly, Republican of Pennsylvania, it was announced today.

The plan has the support of Han B. Johnson, president of the American League. It was said.

A petition, to be circulated throughout the country to obtain a popular support for the plan. At its masthead, the petition, bears a quotation from a letter written by Johnson which says:

"It is my firm conviction that we can only secure adequate and satisfactory results through the medium of a commission created by the government."

The plan is to put full control of baseball in the hands of a federal commission to be appointed by the President of the United States. Players, managers, owners, umpires, coaches and other officials connected with the game would have federal licenses, the commission exercising a quasi-judicial power of the personnel.

Legal penalties would be fixed for bribery, throwing games, gambling, or crooked practices of any sort.

An uniform system of salaries in all leagues operating in two or more states is to be proposed based upon individual merit and upon length of service.

Kelly believes the plan is constitutional despite the fact that the Supreme Court held in the suit against organized baseball the defunct federal league that baseball is not interstate commerce, and thus not within the scope of federal regulation.

Kelly said the court had held that that deal was not an interstate commodity, either, but it is nevertheless regulated.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, who is also identified with the move conferred with Kelly today over the possibility of getting Congressional action. He said he would sponsor the bill in the Senate if it can be shown that public support is back of it.

The work of circulating the petition is said to lie with Joseph A. Collier, of Cleveland, at present located at 1113 Dearborn Avenue, Chicago.

Effort to Oust Clerk of Court of Sampson County

Clinton, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Twenty-five days after J. M. Page, Democrat, was declared officially elected clerk of Sampson county superior court, suit has been started here to oust the official.

Page, who went in office with the Democratic administration, was declared to have been elected by an edge of five votes.

Warrant proceedings filed on behalf of the Republican candidate, J. B. Williams charged irregularities in a half dozen townships.

The case is expected to come up at the February term of Sampson county superior court.

No Flood Dangers In This Section

Raleigh, Dec. 31.—(INS)—No danger from floods in North Carolina was seen today by the weather bureau here, as a result of a torrential rain, early in the week.

So far, streams over the eastern part of the state, which reached perilous proportion at some points yesterday, are slowly falling. The weather bureau announced.

The Roanoke river, which was six feet above flood stage, yesterday, has fallen slightly, and will continue to get back to normal, it was said.

THE OLD AND NEW

Today marks the end of 1926, and tomorrow the beginning of 1927, a new year. Just what this new year holds in store for us we cannot yet foretell, but it is well that before we leave the old year, we take stock of what this year has meant to us and in return how we have spent the days of the year and what we have meant to the world. For all of us the year 1926 has brought many blessings. Have we, in return, been a blessing to the world and have our efforts helped to make it a happier place in which to live? If the world is better for our having lived, this year has been a success, but if its to the contrary, we have been a failure during the year and our calendar should be so marked.

The best New Year's resolution that anyone can make is to determine to practice to the fullest extent the "Golden Rule" and bend every effort to give to the peace and happiness of the world, more than is expected from the world in return.

By the strict obedience to such a resolution during the next year you will find at the end of the year your calendar marked in bold letters, "Success."

A LONGER JURY TERM

While plans for the legislation to be enacted at the coming General Assembly are being made, it is to be hoped that the need for a longer Grand Jury term in this county will not be overlooked. The counties of the state that have adopted the system of a six months' term for its grand juries instead of a new grand jury at each term of court, have found that the longer term has many advantages over the old system that is being practiced in this county. What has proven a success in other counties of the state should prove likewise in our own, and it is to be hoped that legislation providing for the change in system in this county will be enacted.

ON WOODROW WILSON'S SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY

"When we look out of the windows of America around the points of the compass at the future of the world it is neither the disinterested and noble ideas which we may shout to it as Wilson shouted, nor the Lord Robert Cecil or Winston Churchill or Clemenceau ideas which come drifting to us on the wind that count. There are forces much more present, real and powerful. These forces are the factors to watch if one wishes to see the whole layout of the beach instead of a handful of flotsam and jetsam mixed with a little shifting gravel. These forces are the big social, political and economic facts."—Richard Washburn Child, in the Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Child's article expresses a political philosophy very fashionable just now. Its thesis is that it is big business which counts; that mankind's future is moulded by economic realities; that the Wilsons who try to better the world "by burning incense or muttering phrases" get nowhere except as the brute fact of geography and dollars and human selfishness support them.
It is a comforting philosophy for the gossamer, play-safe, the business-of-America-is-business temperament. But it simply is not true. It is contradicted by the most glaring facts of human history. Mr. Child has been Ambassador to Italy. Did he ever hear of Mazzini? He is a student of political economy. Does he know to what extent John Locke made the American revolution? He has written novels. Has he ever heard of the part which the ideas and emotions of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" played in overthrowing that very solid "economic fact," Southern slavery?

Today, on Woodrow Wilson's seventieth birthday, the power of some of those ideals for which he spent himself is being demonstrated as never before. The League, with Germany a member, is stronger than ever. Locarno, which grew out of the League, has given Europe its best hope of peace and unity in generations. The vision which Wilson held up before the world is being translated by statesmanship into fact.—N. Y. World.

KARL BERNARD SIR SAMUEL HOARE

Sir Eric Drummond was reported planning to resign as secretary-general of the League of Nations. Nathaniel J. Harber resigned as Assistant United States Attorney in New York because of the "futility" of attempting to enforce the dry law. Sir Samuel Hoare was a passenger in one of the British planes attempting to establish a commercial air route from London to India. Karl Bernard, of Vienna, invented a motor using rotating instead of reciprocating cylinders, for which, he said, he was offered a large sum for American rights.

Our Creed for 1927

WE BELIEVE IN THE BLOUNT-HARVEY CO. because into its make-up have gone the finest thoughts of those at its head. We, therefore, pledge ourselves that we will, to the best of our endeavor, praise, honor and revere, and always be loyal to the institution that we are a part of; knowing that by every deed and action we are individually responsible for the public's opinion of us.

WE BELIEVE IN THE BLOUNT-HARVEY CO. because back of every piece of merchandise that crosses the counter, there is something which says to the customer: "THIS is the very BEST that can be produced at the price."

WE BELIEVE IN THE BLOUNT-HARVEY CO. because we are putting into it ourselves—the best that is in us. Realizing that the weakest link of the chain is its strength, we as individuals will co-operate and conduct ourselves so that we will in no way tear down the fabric of our institution.

Knowing that satisfied customers are our positive asset, we further pledge ourselves to always greet them with a smile; be patient, courteous and pleasant through all transactions; and, in case of differences, to curb ourselves with the knowledge that each and every customer is always right. And, furthermore, that store occurrences, informations and interests of the store shall ever be held confidential by us.

Our faith is not alone a faith in the store—the organization—it's a faith in the ideals of men, those who are responsible for this great firm.

And so we stand inspired with the truth that we are taking an active part in building, through honest effort, one of the greatest institutions in this country. Our earnest wish and pledge is that courtesy, efficiency and loyalty may reign within us to such a degree that our institution,

Oslo, Dec. 30.—(INS)—Rumors of the engagement of Crown Prince of Norway are playing havoc with the imagination of the Scandinavian peoples. A couple of weeks ago Princess Martha of Sweden, daughter of Prince Carl and sister of the Swedish king, was said to be the choice of the young Norwegian heir. Today the choice of the viking prince is called Princess Ingrid, and the fair lady bears this musical name is the old daughter of Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden, who visited Norway last spring and his first wife, Crown Princess Margaret. Princess Ingrid is 17 years old and very pretty, charming and sympathetic. It is said in the news, even that the engagement will be announced as soon as the Swedish crown prince and princess return on their world cruise. The union between the Norwegian heir and the Swedish princess would be doubly romantic in both Scandinavian countries.

An organization with a rather peculiar object is being formed in the Norwegian capital. It is a society for the purpose of protecting male and female bachelors against unreasonable landladies. There are several thousand people who rent single rooms in Oslo today and who have felt themselves more or less at the mercy of their landladies in regard to prices, house regulations and the like. At a crowded meeting in the largest assembly hall of the metropolis the constitution of the "bachelors' association" was adopted, and it was resolved to start the publication of a press bulletin in order to have a forum for the discussion of mutual problems. The meeting decided to work out a black list of undesirable landladies and to start a movement for the erection of a club house with rooms for rent and with a restaurant. An enthusiastic young lady at the floor and suggested that every bachelor should contribute an amount of 50 kroner which would raise a fund of several millions of kroner and at one blow make the organization one of the richest in the country. The further development of the new association will be followed with considerable curiosity on the part of the public, and people seem to wonder whether the landladies intend to organize themselves in protection.

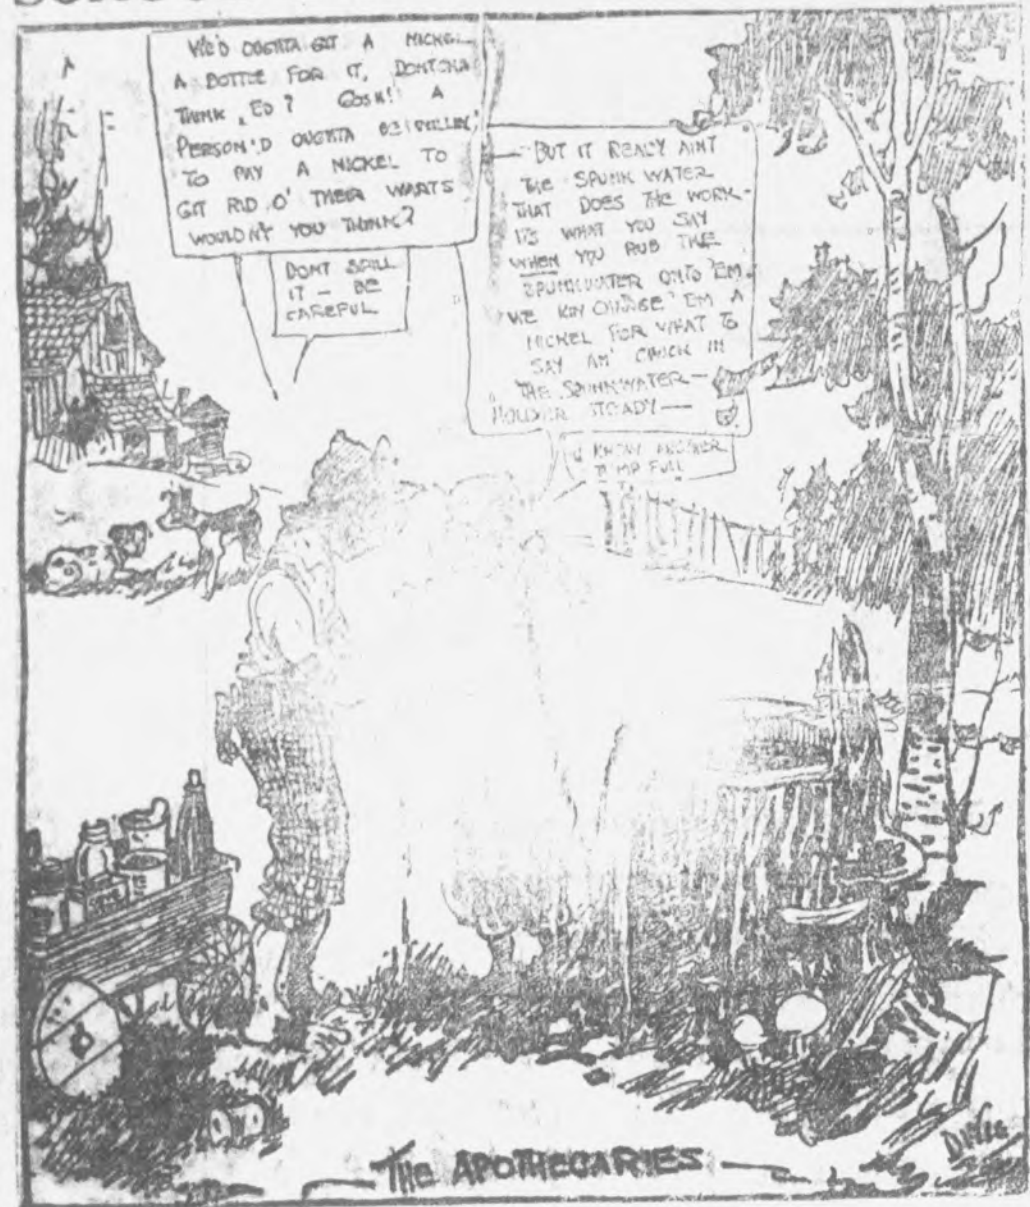

It has been learned with great satisfaction in all Scandinavian countries that the American Scandinavian Foundation in New York has established a number of so-called industrial fellowships for young men who want to study in America and offer regular work as compensation. Several leading American firms in various fields have acquiesced in taking these foreign student workers in their service for one year, and applications are pouring into the office that will make its recommendations to the firm in question. From Norway eight industrial fellows will leave for the United States soon after the New Year. It is held here that this new interchange of students will further strengthen the ties of friendship and good-will between the closely related nations and lead to a still better understanding of their problems and conditions. The interest taken in America is growing rapidly with the Norwegian people, and new efforts are constantly being made to currents of the cultural field of the country. As a characteristic example of this growing interest may be mentioned the fact that the head of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, Bishop Dr. J. A. Aasen, has been invited to visit Norway next summer, and that a number of American school children of Norwegian extraction have been asked to pay a visit to the land of their forefathers next year.

The latest sensation in the amusement world is the declaration by a prominent Oslo restaurant owner that he has prohibited the dancing of Charles in his establishment. It is merely a temporary prohibition decree, however, and the courageous man declares that this action has not been proposed by moral reasons only. It is chiefly because people do not know how to dance Charles, and as long as they have not acquired at least some routine the dancing makes a vulgar and coarse impression and scares away the better part of the public from the place.

One of the intellect has declared that we have "forgotten how to enjoy leisure." The truth is that some of us have forgotten what it is.—Gadsden Times.

"Business is Good, Thank You," Says Montana

Butte, Montana, Dec. 31.—(INS)—With the slogan, "Business is good in Montana," thank you, Montana is facing the new year with every prospect of increased prosperity. With the development of her vast mining, agricultural, lumber, livestock and water resources being prosecuted with greater vigor than ever before. Montana produced $375,000,000 of new wealth in 1925, which is 25 million more than in 1924 and her 1926 wheat crop is estimated by milling experts at 55 million bushels, which was sold at an average of 20 cent, a bushel higher than wheat that does not have the right gluten content of the Montana variety.

War debts levied on farms in 1918 and 1919 have been paid in sheep and cattle ranchers are beginning the new year on the credit side of the ledger; more money is deposited in savings accounts than at any time in the state's history, and there has begun a more solid construction of homes, public buildings and ranch properties. Another impetus to Montana prosperity was added at the Chicago exposition, where native stock, sheep, barley and oats won numerous international awards. One indication of the 1927 expansion lies in the prospective railroad expenditures. The Great Northern will spend five millions on an extension from Richey to Circle as a part of the new main line, double tracked through Now Rockford, Circle, Lewiston and Great Falls. This line will tap a rich new agricultural country as well as giving access to the Cat Creek oil fields the first commercially successful one in the state. This new territory will then have direct connections with Minneapolis, St. Paul and Seattle.

BRITISH AIR CASUALTIES CAUSING PUBLIC ANXIETY

London, Dec. 31.—(INS)—The casualty list in the Royal Air Force has caused deep anxiety in the public mind of Britain. Up to December 29th, there had been 84 casualties in 1926.

There is no panacea, says Sir Samuel Hoare, Air Minister. Flying is a risky occupation, he adds, the risks would be greater in a non-regular personnel who had not enjoyed the intensified training of officers in a regular force.

I am satisfied that every possible precaution has been taken, and will be taken, to safeguard the lives of the personnel of the Royal Air Force, said Premier Baldwin in Parliament.

But these statements do not satisfy the British public. Squadron Leader T. S. Ince says that the accidents are due directly or indirectly to the lack of personal supervision exercised by Senior Commanders.

College girls are taking an interest in the game, too, but it is called dancing.—Troy Western.

HOLLYWOOD STYLE HINT

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 31.—(INS)—If the vogue for Scotch plaids and leather sweaters keeps up nobody will be doing the Highland fling instead of the "Back Bottom." Screen stars and players now receive many of their style tips from Scotland instead of Paris.

Highland plaids that represent many different clans are glimpsed along Hollywood Boulevard.

Renée Adoree, Metro-Goldwyn's Maye player, was born in France but this season she's quite Scotch in a Spring coat of Scotch plaid in red, yellow and blue. The trim hat that she wears with this boasts a long green feather.

The Scotch fad is particularly suitable for golf. Dorothy Sebastian may not be able to make a hole in one but she is certainly effective on the course in a plaid skirt, made exactly like a kilt and plaid stockings that do not cover the knee.

The cardigan sweater, leather coat, is worn in a mixture of colors.

WOMEN GAINING ON MEN IN FIELD OF LITERATURE STUDY OF WRITERS SHOWS

Chicago, Dec. 31.—(INS)—Men have almost twice as many chances of succeeding in a literary career as women, according to Glen B. Winchell, novelist, in an address here before a convention of club women. The ratio, however, is rapidly changing.

Study of 150 successful novelists and Mr. Winchell revealed that 111, or 74 per cent, were men, while 39 of the writers, or 26 per cent, were women. These figures include both American and British authors.

Greater success of men in literature is partly due to the fact that they have been at the task centuries longer than women. The first successful woman novelist did not appear until 1849. She was Jane Porter who wrote "Thaddeus of Warsaw," a best seller of its day. The first American woman to gain international prominence as novelist was Catherine Sedgwick who began writing about 1825.

Women have been too busy drudging at the kitchen, caring for children and looking after their homes to assert themselves seriously in literature up to the present time, but it is logical to assume that the percentage of successful women novelists will soon be as great as that of men.

Mr. Edison says, "Leave the dippers alone. Better heed him. He is the world's foremost authority on shocking things. Nash gills, Bammel."

Friends

For some time an amusement hall of this kind has been wanted by Greenville and surrounding communities.

Entertainment consists of relaxation of both body and mind. I am arranging so that both of these will apply at the "Entertainer." In a few days we will install a complete line of magazines and fiction.

Wednesday evening, January 5th, we will be open from eight o'clock to ten o'clock for those who wish to give us the "once over." You are cordially invited to visit us at this time.

Yours for entertainment,

ANNOUNCES SOMETHING NEW FOR GREENVILLE CUT PRICES OF DRUG STORE MERCHANDISE FOR THE CASH DOLLAR

Realizing the need of such an institution in Greenville and believing that the inauguration of a Cash Cut Price Drug Store will meet with the approval and receive the support of the general public, we have decided upon this business method, beginning with the New Year. The old fixed prices on patent medicines and various other articles carried in up-to-date stock are things of the past, and absolutely new prices will reign throughout our store. For your convenience and information we are quoting here just a few of the items, just to give the buying public an idea of the savings they realize in their purchases. This undertaking is not a temporary experimental proposition with us, but something permanent for the mutual benefit of all.

Wyoming Ranch Owner's Murder Case to Trial

Casper, Wyo., Dec. 31.—(INS)—Eric Edlin, suspected of the murder of his former ranch partner, brought with him a small library of books on geology when he was moved to the Natrona County Jail here from Lander, a change of venue. Edlin is awaiting trial at the March term of District Court.

Of Swedish extraction, 29 years of age, and just married last year, Edlin is accused of murdering George S. Knapp, railroad valuation expert of Chicago. His thirst for knowledge of geology seems to be in keeping with his character, for some seven years ago he sought the aid of Knapp to learn civil engineering.

For a while, Knapp and Edlin worked in the same railroad office in Chicago, then Edlin suggested that the older man purchase a Wyoming ranch, to be managed by Edlin. Knapp spent in the neighborhood of twenty thousand dollars on the venture since 1919, the payments making such a drain on his finances that his wife became a teacher in the Chicago public schools.

Meanwhile Edlin, living on the ranch, had sent monthly reports to Knapp, indicating that the place was not prospering. In July Knapp had occasion to travel through Wyoming, and decided to investigate matters at the ranch. Edlin met him at Lander, but instead of conducting him to the ranch, he drove him to drive to South Pass city, 40 miles south of Lander to look over some mining claims he had just acquired.

They left South Pass City on the morning of July 18, walking up into the hills in a desolate part of the country where mining claims have his life since 1870. Several hours later, Edlin appeared in town, shouting for help. With a group of citizens, he returned to an open mine shaft, and with the help of these men descended into shaft and recovered Knapp's body. The death was reported accidental, as Edlin declared his partner had slipped and fallen into the shaft. The body was shipped to Norwalk, Ohio, Knapp's former home, and buried without inquest or autopsy.

Three weeks later, Knapp's brother-in-law, Leon Snyder, of Colorado Springs, Colo., became suspicious of Edlin when the latter refused to take him to the ranch, in order to settle up the estate. Snyder discovered that there were no buildings or stock on the place, and retained private detectives to investigate.

An autopsy was held on Knapp's body and Dr. J. B. Jack testified that a small circular hole was found over the left ear, and that Knapp had been dead before his body fell down the shaft.

Further investigation according to authorities revealed that Edlin had appropriated the money sent by Knapp to purchase a blacksmith shop for himself, had sold the stock on the ranch, and forged checks for the ranch payments.

When examined by District Attorney Christy, Edlin is said to have admitted the theft and forgery, but denied that he had killed his partner. Christy charges Edlin with having killed Knapp with a prospector's hammer, and then he had the body into the shaft.

Edlin twice attempted to escape while being held in the Fremont county jail at Lander, and is alleged to have requested a relative to smuggle razor blades to him in secret care.

Legal Complications May Delay Murder Trial of Rev. Norris

Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 31.—(INS)—By the time Dr. J. Frank Norris goes to trial in Austin on January 10, for the slaying of D. E. Chipps in the study of the First Baptist church here last July, there will be many legal complications.

Already attorneys, other than the dozen or two connected with the trial of the case, admit they would prefer not to be on either side.

Legal problems, growing more complex daily, have arisen out of the civil suit which has been filed against Dr. Norris by D. E. Chipps Jr., for $150,000 for the loss of his father.

Leonard D. Weddington showed his sister, Jean Dickson Weddington, just where their father was. Daddy is Lieutenant Leonard D. Weddington, a participant in the Pan-American food will flight.

Special prosecutors laughed up their sleeve when the announcement of the suit was printed in bold type in newspapers all over the country. Obviously the suit was filed for the purpose of getting Norris' deposition, which would be used against him in the criminal action.

The trial of this criminal case had been transferred from Lander to Travis county last November on a change of venue, because of too many prejudiced veniremen, making the selection of a jury impossible.

Then the ten was taken. Attorneys who filed the civil suit sent Dr. Norris questions to answer in a deposition, to be made before a notary public.

And Norris, acting within his constitutional rights, refused to answer them.

"They might tend to incriminate me in the criminal action now pending and under the constitution I am not required to answer."

We Greet THE NEW YEAR

Another year has swung slowly through its twelve months' span, has matured and declined while this old world worked and built and prospered. And as it moves grandly into the eternity from whence it came, we show no false regrets but welcome its successor, the infant 1927. Another year—and it will be a year of achievement. Another year—and science, culture, and commercial prosperity will have moved our old world a step farther toward ultimate perfection.

Though we have only been in business a few months, we have enjoyed a very successful growth. And we wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and customers for their loyal patronage and trust that we may serve you during

We Are Thankful for the Many Blessings of 1926

We wish to use this means of expressing our appreciation to our many friends and customers for the business we have enjoyed during the year 1926, which comes to its close at 12 o'clock tonight. And we sincerely hope that we may have the pleasure of serving you during 1927.

We appreciate the fact that it is our friends who have made our success possible. We have had the pleasure of serving more people during the year 1926 than any one year heretofore. And we are truly thankful to all those who in any way contributed to our success. We fully realize that without your good will and patronage it would have been impossible for us to have enjoyed this prosperity.

Our aim and purpose in business is to make homes comfortable and happy. The following employees who are willingly at your command join in wishing everybody a Wish for you and yours a New Year filled with Joy and Good Cheer. . . We thank you for your patronage and will strive to show our appreciation by Unexcelled Service.

IT is a big mistake to wait until too late and then try to force your hens for extra eggs! It takes a hen a little time to manufacture eggs. She cannot be rushed. The eggs she lays in the coming months are really started by the feed she gets now.

You do not take a chance when you are feeding Purina Chows. When you buy your Purina Poultry Chows, we will give you, free, egg record blanks, so you can mark on them the extra eggs you get every day. We want you to check up that way, because you'll never buy anything but Purina Chows, once you see what they actually do for you. Start feeding for those extra eggs now.
