WORKERS IN REFLECTOR SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE GET STARTED TODAY

Over $3,000 in Prizes Offered Ambitious Ones For Six Weeks of Spare Time Effort

TODAY

Sixty Second Thought Sunspots and War. Independence For Woman. The Worst Taste.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

Today marked the opening of the Daily Reflector subscription and prize campaign which runs for six weeks, coming to a close on the night of February, 12th at eight o'clock.

Approximately $3,000 in automobiles, cash prizes and commission checks to non-winners of prizes will be distributed to those ambitious persons living in Pitt County and adjoining territory who enter their name and compete for the splendid awards. Prizes will go in order to those who secure the most votes by saving and having friends save for them the free 100-vote coupons appearing in each issue of the Daily Reflector.

All ambitious folks with spare time above the age of sixteen are eligible to enter their name or be entered by a friend. No charge is made to enter and compete for either one of the six prizes or a cash commission of ten per cent, which goes to all not earning a prize.

Those who would like to enter the campaign have only to clip out the Entry Coupon which will be found in this issue, fill it out and send in to the Campaign Manager, The Daily Reflector. Immediately upon receipt of your entry full particulars will follow along with a receipt book for gathering subscriptions. Renewed subscriptions to the Reflector count for the same number of votes as new subscribers. The only difference in votes received from these subscriptions is that the corporate bodies living outside the corporate limits of the city of Greenville.

The prizes include a Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan fully equipped, which of course includes, bumper, spare tire, etc. The car sells for $1,595 delivered and is purchased and may now be seen at the Sumner Motor Car Co., Greenville. Second prize is a Chevrolet Coach purchased from the Pitt Chevrolet Co., Inc., valued at $750 delivered. Four other cash prizes of $300.00, $250.00, $200.00 and $100.00 complete the list of prizes.

Then to those who enter the campaign and make a report once a week and who fail to finish within the first six places at the close of the contest, February 12th, will get a cash commission of ten per cent, based on their total subscriptions turned in. Thus everybody taking an active part receives something for their efforts, something in proportion to the effort put forth.

The campaign is divided up into three periods with the most votes given during the first period which runs for four weeks. The second and third periods run for a week each, making the total just six weeks.

Today is the first day. Clip out your entry coupon which will start you off with 5,000 votes and then save the 100-vote coupons clipped also from the paper. The entry coupon counts but once for 5,000 votes but is no limit to the number of 100-vote coupons both you and your friends may vote. Send in your name today.

Business Property Here Brought $400 Front Foot Saturday

The property located on Evans Street at Five Points occupied by Greenville Insurance and Realty and Sumner Motor Car Company, changed hands Saturday at a price of $400 a front foot or $25,000. The property formerly known as the Wingate property, was sold by the Bank of Ayden to H. G. Jett of this city. The deal was handled by H. A. White and Sons of this city.

1927 is already several days old as you get this. How many good resolutions are struggling with a headache today. How many can carry their New Year enthusiasm as far as the end of the first week, not many and that is natural.

Not one man in 10,000 is capable of 60 second's sustained thought. Begin the new year by trying to select a subject, immortality of the soul, fourth dimension or a good five cent cigar, and see if you can keep your mind and thought on it for one whole minute without wandering.

A Russian scientist, Tchijovsky, taken seriously by his brethren, gathering in Philadelphia, shows that great wars and intense sun spot activity have always gone together. Sun spots cause insanity, hatred, and, around latent genius. Sun spots are intensely active now, so look out for great wars, in the next two years.

That prediction might be taken lightly. The French once believed comet years meant a better wine crop and many thought comets brought wars. Those notions have died out. But, regardless of sun spots, news from Europe is warlike.

There is even talk of a sudden attack upon France by Mussolini. That must be dismissed as nonsense for Mussolini is not suffering from sun spot insanity. Such a war would be outside the limits of the wildest insanity, and neither side could win.

But the world is unsettled, dictators rule several countries, from Constantinople to Madrid, organized and greedy high finance rules others, bigger ones. France has learned that there is no profit in war. But the Dictator must always be doing something new, to hold this prestige. He usually considers that an invincible, guiding "star" watches over him. You can never be quite sure what he will do.

Men used to think that modern inventions, telegraph, cable, wireless, radio, bringing men closer together, would fortify peace, but they don't. They merely facilitate warlike instructions. However, the new telephone across the Atlantic will at least be an educational force.

The rate will be $25 for three minutes, which should promote rapid, distinct speech, and discourage Yankee drawl and British hemming and hawing.

If you can talk 130 words a minute, distinctly, the ocean telephone will be cheaper than the cable.

What, in your opinion, is the worst of all known taxes? The government, tired of putting poison in industrial denatured alcohol, wants to find something so horribly unpalatable, that no one will drink it, and it must be hard to take out of the alcohol.

It is not easy to imagine that would discourage the man foolish enough to drink bootleg whiskey. Assafoetida, itself, would be less repugnant to common sense.

Miss Butler, daughter of Columbia College, says women should join a party, vote with it, and learn to be real American citizens. That is a little like advising women to vote in their sleep. Women's votes can do just one thing. They can make the politician ask himself, before every election, two questions. First, what do the women want. Second, what do the children need.

When women suffrage came in, for instance, Tammany Hall, directing the destiny of our greatest city, gave orders that no liquor was to be supplied. Get a man drunk, said they, and his old woman, daughter, or sister, will vote against you.

Women should be independent and keep all parties wondering what they will do, thus maintaining historical precedent.

COMMITTEE CUTS DOWN CRUISING FUND OF THE NAVY

Appropriations Recommended are Five Million Less Than Budget

Washington, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Proposing a cut of $1,950,000 in the funds for cruising activities of the U. S. Fleet, but otherwise providing for maintenance of the Navy about as it is now, the annual naval department appropriation bill was reported to the House today by its appropriations committee.

It carries a total of $314,052,680 for all branches of the navy for the fiscal year, beginning next July 1, a decrease of five million dollars compared with current funds and below budget recommendations.

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR LEGISLATURE

Choice of Speaker of House Draws Attention of Lawmakers.

Raleigh, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Lawmakers of the 1927 Legislature, convening Wednesday noon, began arriving today. Tomorrow night's scheduled election of a speaker of the House, drew immediate interest. Representatives Connor of Wilson, Fountain of Edgecombe, and Townsone of Harnett, were momentarily expected to take charge of their respective bids for the speakership. All three had spokesmen quietly busy.

MANY HURT WHEN TRUCK OVERTURNS

Miami, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Five laborers and one Miami woman were in hospitals today following the overturning of a speeding motor truck heading 80 men to work. Twenty-two others were carried to hospitals but were dismissed after receiving treatment. Those admitted to the institutions are said to be in serious condition.

COMPTROLLER CALLS FOR BANK STATEMENTS

Washington, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The Comptroller of the Currency today issued a call for the production of all national banks at the close of business on Friday, Dec. 31.

Mayor's Report Shows City in Fine Condition

In presenting his resignation to the Board of Aldermen Friday night, Mayor D. M. Clark submitted a report of his administration together with several recommendations for the future guidance and progress of Greenville. Mr. Clark's report, in part, follows: "Approaching the close of a eight year tenure of the office of Mayor of our town, cut short six months by the necessity of resignation, and deeply appreciative, not only of this honor four times conferred, but especially of the patriotic co-operation and support given me by you gentlemen of the Board, and other citizens of the town, I feel that it is only fit and proper before terminating my official connection, that I submit to you a brief report together with some few recommendations.

"Beginning with a deficit that necessitated the issuance of $150,000 in bonds for the Water and Light Department and the city, that ran our total bonded indebtedness to $749,000.00 in 1920, and added another $100,000 in 1923, by practicing strict economy and with the help of an efficient annual accounting system and the budget, have succeeded in reducing this bonded indebtedness to $614,000.00. But this is not all your economy has accomplished. For, out of the general fund maintained with current taxes, you have made permanent improvements to the extent of more than $20,000.00 annually.

"Pavements laid for out of current taxes of the general fund have been laid on Atlantic Avenue, Students street, West Fifth street, 14th street, North Pitt street, South Evans street, Bileway street, South Greene street and Clark street. Pavements have been widened on Dickinson Avenue, East Fifth street, and West Fifth street. This does not include the laying of several miles of curb and gutter for sand and clay that has wonderfully improved most of the residential streets of the town. In addition to all this our sewer system has been doubled in capacity, and practicaly the entire town is now within the reach of the sanitary sewer lines, all of which makes for greater sanitation and the preservation of health.

"The improvements to city buildings including the conversion of the old market house into offices, the equipment of firemen's quarters, new city jail and brick addition to equipment shelter, has all been paid for out of the savings from the general fund. In this same manner you have purchased two modern street sweepers and the Stutz Fire Engine and also purchased a new cemetery and developed same. Last year $34,000.00 in such improvements as I have mentioned were paid for out of these savings in the general funds.

"The water and light plant which was laid down in 1919 of course had to be financed by the town in the way of bond issues, but the credit for the development of the splendid water and light system that we now have is due to the efficient management of the Water and Light Commission, and the superintendents that those gentlemen have shown such excellent judgment in placing in charge. This department has now relieved our general fund of the expense of making water light and sewer extensions, as well as the maintenance of same, and has also taken over the payment of their own bond interest, and serial bonds.

"The Water and Light plant and property now has an appraised value as carried by the addit of $605,518.11, and a sale value fixed by the power companies of $650,000.00. This property alone is worth more than the entire outstanding indebtedness of Greenville.

Mayor Clark praised the efficiency of the school board, the management of the city offices and the police force. With reference to the police force and the police court, and what has been accomplished in this branch of the city's administration, he said: "This department in 1920 consisted of a chief and five assistants and since that time only two officers have been added, one in 1924, and the other during this past fall, yet our population has practically doubled, having increased from 5,772 in 1920, to 9,959 in 1925. Through the efforts of these officers more than 10,000 cases have been brought to trial since July 1st, 1919, out of which the city treasury has received $31,460.19 in court cost and the county treasury for the county school fund has received $36,511.25 in police court fines, making a total of $67,971.44 collected from defendant, by this department during said period of time, this however, does not include such items as witness fees, damages sustained to automobiles etc.

"The aforementioned accomplishments of your administration whether or not considered creditable have been put through without raising the taxpayers' rate one penny since 1920.

"Personally, I feel that the public should be grateful to you, at least for keeping the tax rate down, while in towns all around us it has gone up."

Recommendations "The following brief recommendations are submitted for your future consideration, for whatever they may be worth: "First, I unhesitatingly recommend that you confer on your new Mayor whomsoever you might select to fill this resigned term, full power and control over the police department. Your Mayor resides at the police court and in this way the police officers are brought directly under his observation and he can then better judge their fitness and qualifications. Besides, I am convinced from experience, that an efficient police force can be developed or maintained that has to look to more than one head for its guidance. (Continued on Page Six)

FIRE DESTROYS TEACHERAGE AT BELVOIR SCHOOL

Fire Occurred Late Saturday; Farmers in Belvoir Section Make Many Changes

The Belvoir high school teacherage was burned late Saturday afternoon. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

It will be indeed quite a sad surprise to the teachers of the Belvoir high school on their return from their home, where they have been spending the Christmas holidays, to find their school home destroyed.

Rev. C. J. Harris conducted the burial services of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Clark on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Warren has returned to Greenville, from spending a few days in the home of Mr. W. H. Tee.

Miss Jesse Dell Gurganus, of Rocky Mount, has been spending a few days in the neighborhood with her friends and relatives.

Miss Elizabeth Harris, has returned to Washington, D. C., after spending the Christmas holidays with her relatives here.

Mrs. Katie Clark of Tarboro is visiting at the home of Mr. S. M. Harris.

C. J. Harris and family spent Sunday afternoon in Winterville with Mr. and Mrs. Malone Tucker.

The new forty-foot road running through the center of Belvoir township hady needs more work occasionally. We are earnestly hoping that the county road authorities will consider at an early date the importance of having this road hardsurfaced, which certainly would prove a big asset to Greenville, as this road leads from the hardsurface road going through Edgecombe county.

There is lots of moving in our vicinity. Some are going out, and others coming in. It won't be long before, farmers will have their nose to the farm grindstone for another twelve months. Better cut the tobacco and cotton crop at least one third. We would certainly fare better and get more.

Raise more hogs and hominy feed yourself, and then help to feed the world.

Snow Driven States to Keep Roads Open

Chicago, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Virtual armies of men, batteries of powerful motor driven plows, and long lines of snow fence have been enlisted in the fight of midwest States to keep their highways open the year round.

Increased bus traffic and the insistent demands of automobile owners for clear roads is chiefly responsible.

Minnesota this year will spend nearly $500,000 in snow fighting. Cuts and sweeps along the State's 7,000 miles of trunk highways are guarded by 1,500,000 feet of snow fence, 600 patrollers and 150 snow plows. The line of fence is placed a few feet back from the roads and prevents the snow from drifting over the highways.

Sixteen district headquarters direct the operations of the State patrolmen, who work on a part-time basis. Within an hour after a highway is reported in danger of being blocked, equipment for miles can be rushed to the threatened spot.

Snow fighting cost Minnesota $200,000 last year and highway officials expect the cost to run close to $500,000 this year.

More than 900,000 miles of fence were constructed to hold back the drifts among Nebraska's roads. In the larger cities of the State giant rotary plows clear sidewalks and pavements.

Wisconsin's snow plows work on two principles; one pushes the snow to one side of the road, while the other carries the snow away by centrifugal force. Grader blade plows are widely used in the States where the drifts are not too deep. That type of plow has been successful against 18-inch accumulations.

Prominent Winston Man Pleads Guilty to Liquor Charge

Winston-Salem, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Richard J. Reynolds, son of the late president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to two charges, resisting an officer and violating the prohibition law. For the first offense he was fined $50, and for the second, $25. Costs were added in each case. No evidence was introduced.

QUAKE SHOCKS CONTINUE TODAY LOWER CALIFORNIA

Today's Tremors Light and Stricken Area Turns Attention to Rehabilitation

Calexico, Cal., Jan. 3.—A heavy earthquake shock was felt here shortly before 5 o'clock this morning. No damage followed the tremor, which came as two severe jolts. A railroad worker reported shocks occurring at intervals of about one hour. The movement at about five o'clock was the most noticeable of the shakes during the night and early morning.

The rap of workmen's hammers applauded the ominous rumble of earthquakes today at Calexico and its sister city, Mexicali across the international boundary in lower California, began a repair damage aggregating almost $1,000,000 wrought by tremors, which started early New Year's day and continued intermittently until yesterday.

Rehabilitation started yesterday as workmen mingled with the crowds of sightseers who poured into the shaken cities from other parts of the Imperial Valley and as far away as Los Angeles.

There is some variance in the unofficial estimates of the damage. The Calexico Chamber of Commerce placed it at $250,000 while the police commissioner and building contractors estimated $500,000 from a quake not including fire losses. This with minor damages not reported is expected to bring the total to nearly a million dollars.

Minor quakes which came at irregular intervals yesterday did not directly increase the property loss although one of them may have been responsible for fires which broke out in Mexicali destroying buildings valued at $75,000.

The remarkable feature of the tremors according to persons who have studied earthquakes and who have hurried to the scene, has been that despite crumbling walls and toppling chimneys and the fact that the first and most severe shocks came during the height of New Year revelry there has been no death or serious injuries.

Reports reaching here today that Black Butte, a volcano south of the border was active, as was the case during the earthquake here in 1915, could not be verified.

TAX COLLECTIONS LESS IN DECEMBER

Collections for General Fund $306,667 Compared With $315,126 in 1925

Raleigh, Jan. 3.—(AP)—State taxes collected in December for general fund purposes were slightly lower than those collected in December 1925, according to figures made public today by the State Department of Revenue.

The figures show collections of $306,667 in December 1926 as against collections of $315,126 in December, 1925.

Directors of Merchants' Association to Discuss Feasibility of New Company Tonight

The calling of a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing a new company to drill for oil here, may result from a special meeting of the directors of the Merchants' Association to be held tonight.

Several weeks ago the directors discussed the forming of a new company, but at that time it was decided that action would be deferred pending the outcome of the plans of the Westbrook Company to drill on the Westbrook property in the southern part of the city. The call for tonight's meeting is taken to indicate that the failure of the Westbrook Company to complete their plans as speedily as was at first expected, may lead to the forming of a new company which would sink a test well on property adjacent to the Westbrook estate.

A. L. Potter, owner of the property adjacent to the Westbrook property, has tendered his holdings to the new company should it be formed on a royalty basis should the venture prove a success.

Indications and talk of oil here for the past several weeks created no little enthusiasm and indications now are that the business interests of the city are determined to prove to their satisfaction whether or not there is oil in commercial quantities here.

At the time of the last meeting of the directors of the association, the Westbrook Company gave positive assurance that the project on the Westbrook property would be rushed to completion but so far as is known actual work not yet begun. It was announced last week that timbers for the derrick would be placed the following day and work begun immediately, but no further action has been taken.

PRICE-GRIMES

Bethel, N. C., Dec. 28.—A wedding of interest throughout this and other state, was solemnized at twelve o'clock noon, Tuesday December 28, at the Bethel Baptist, when Miss Addie Long Grimes became the bride of Mr. Francis Edward Price, of Jacksonville, Fla. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

The church was very artistically decorated with palms, lilies and carnations banded against a white background, and prior to the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. William J. Bundy rendered several beautiful piano selections. She wore sapphire blue velvet with touches of silver cloth and hat to match. Her corsage was of Columbia roses.

Mrs. J. W. Kornegay of Rocky Mount, accompanied by Miss Fielding, sang "To You." Mrs. Kornegay will be remembered in the obituary world as Leona Dumeo. She wore a gown and hat of garnet crepe and carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses.

Just as the wedding march from Lohengrin sounded, Reverend Ford A. Burns, the bride's pastor, took his place back of the chancel.

The bridesmaids wore colorful day dresses and bonnets of the period of Louis XIV. Now that Christmas is over and the holiday season has passed, it would not be amiss to remove the decorations from the white way posts on our main business thoroughfare. These greens placed before Christmas by members of the Woman's Club added much to the Christmas spirit in our city but the now withered and browned branches are indeed no addition to the beauty of our town.

OPEN SEASON

In his inaugural address, Saturday, Governor Al Smith stated that the presidential nomination would not be obnoxious to him, which is taken as the announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination. The tossing of his hat in the ring no doubt indicates the beginning of the open season for presidential candidates and will be followed by various others.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION

The eyes of the state for the next sixty days after Wednesday will be centered upon Raleigh where the General Assembly will be in session. The present outlook for the legislature is that the session will be a lively one with many issues of importance including appropriations for state schools, the road policy, the eight months school term and the evolution issue.

AN ENVIABLE RECORD

The record of accomplishment during the administration of D. M. Clark contained in his report to the Board of Aldermen, upon retiring from office Friday night, is indeed an enviable one and is a credit not only to the retiring mayor, but to those who have worked and co-operated with him during his seven and a half years of office.

Without reflection upon any other administration, many citizens have freely declared that the Clark administration has been one of the best in the history of the town. While there is a certain amount of regret attached to the severance of Mr. Clark's relations with the city government, the citizens as a whole wish for him every success in his new duties as Solicitor of the Fifth Judicial District.

Nor in the selection of a successor for Mayor Clark did the city Board of Aldermen, in our opinion, make any mistake in the choice of J. Con Lanier. Mr. Lanier is one of the outstanding young attorneys of this city and his record in public office and private practice is of the best. He is well qualified to fill the position of mayor and indicated by his address of acceptance to the Board of Aldermen that he will exert every effort not only to equal but surpass if possible, the fine record of his predecessor. We predict and wish for the new mayor the best administration that the city has ever known.

MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

The celebrities of Hollywood lead a dog-fancier's life. They have many and sundry pedigree pets. Mildred Davis has 26 of one species and Douglas Fairbanks owns large ones. Clara Bow has a Mexican hairless pup. Adolphe Menjou, Harold Lloyd, Wallace Beery, Jack Holt and Richard Arlen also possess dogs.

The news film has lost its popularity with French audiences and some theatre managers have already taken it from their programs. The chief cause for the patrons' colicness, it is declared, is that the films are too old when they are shown. A effort is being made to speed up the developing and distribution of the news films so that they may be exhibited when they are still hot.

Bodil Rosing, who at the age of 16, played at the Royal Theatre in Copenhagen and a few years later gave up the stage to become a wife, returns to dramatic work via the silver screen, now that her two children are grown.

Being a mother has made no a better actress, Miss Rosing explained. Motherhood has given me sympathy and understanding that can be attained in no other way. I give it to my children.

When Vilma Banky went to New York for the holidays she found that her mastery of English during two years in Hollywood did not include a speaking acquaintance with a lot of American variations. There is much more slang spoken in New York than in Hollywood, the Hungarian actress said.

Josephine Dunn recently spent a full day taking a tea-minute snow. Her ambitions were registered by the cameras, and the repetitions made necessary by the demands of the script and the shifting of studio lights gave Miss Dunn the projected bath.

Will the movie public accept a heroine without the features and figure of a Greek goddess, the passion of a Thais, the mystery of a wood nymph? The producers hope so. Zasu Pitts, sometimes the shrinking, humble little creature on the silver screen—though quite the opposite off he lot—is cast as heroine in Casey at the Bat.

Motion picture studios assert they employ more trades and professions than any other industry. A census in one of the large studios showed that 79 different occupations are followed by the employees, while a comedy producing organization listed the number represented among its workers at more than 100. Blacksmiths, florists and oil station attendants are typical of the variety.

May Allison says she got her chance in the movies in spite of a screen test, not because of one. She was playing ingenue roles on the stage when a director invited her to the studio for a test. She took special care with her makeup, but did not know the idiosyncrasies of the camera. The result was terrible, according to Miss Allison. To her surprise the director said no one could look as bad she did in the test and engaged her for a part.

500,000 Miners Plan New Fight With Operators

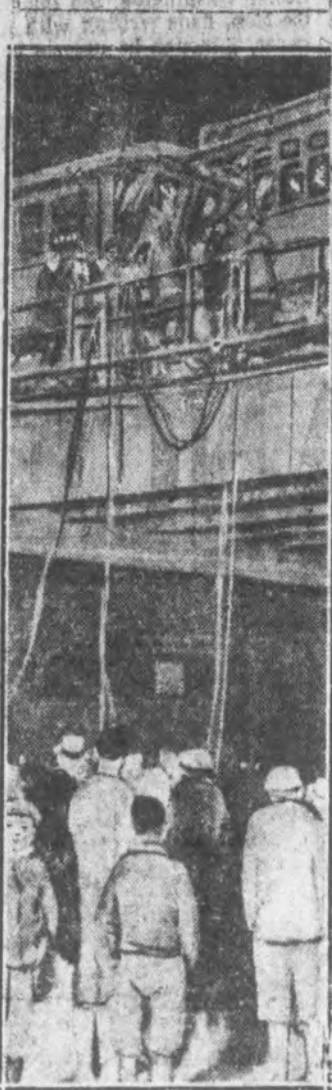

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 3.—(INS) America's largest labor union, the United Mine Workers of America, 500,000 members strong, was giving its lions today for another test of strength with one of the most powerful groups in the capitalist class, the mine operators. Stronger than ever in membership, and presenting a greater solidarity with the radical sentiment within, its ranks diminishing, the international mine workers union will hold its 30th constitutional convention in Tomlinson Hall in this city, January 25 to February 5. The main task of the 1,600 delegates who will gather here from all parts of the United States and Canada will be to formulate the new wage demands for the 200,000 bituminous coal miners in the central competitive field embracing Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The present wage contract will expire on March 31.

The new wage demands agreed upon at the convention here will be submitted to the coal operators by President John L. Lewis at a conference between the miners and operators at Miami, Florida, on February 11. The agreement, if any, reached there, will be the basic agreement for the whole coal industry.

All the districts lying outside of the central competitive field, embracing the coal regions of Central Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Michigan, Kentucky, Alabama, Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and Washington, will pattern their wage contracts after the one accepted at Miami.

Costing $10,000 or more a day the constitutional convention will continue for ten days or longer, and will be one of the most harmonious sessions in the history of the union, officials at the international headquarters of the union here predicted. The present wage contract calls for $7.50 for an 8-hour day for the miner. The miners' officials point out, however, that last year the working days numbered only 140 for the whole year.

While miners' officials were recalcitrant about the other business that will come before the convention here, it was known that working conditions would be discussed, that a report will be submitted on old age pensions and perhaps even a plan for putting the pension into operation will be drawn up, and that scores of resolutions of more or less national interest will be introduced on various subjects and issues.

There is nothing in sight, however, one international Mine Workers official said, that might cause dissent among the delegates. I think the convention will be most harmonious.

The convention will come closely on the heels of the announcement of an overwhelming victory by the present administration of the international union in the recent nine workers' election. John L. Lewis, it is expected, will have been officially returned to the presidency by one of the largest majorities in the union's history. Lewis was opposed by John Brophy of Clearfield, Pa., who represented the radical element of the union.

The Central Labor Union of Indianapolis is arranging for the entertainment program for the delegates.

MAJOR'S REPORT SHOWS CITY IN FINE CONDITION

ance and responsibility. It should be kept as far from politics as possible.

Second, That your Mayor's police court jurisdiction over town cases be enlarged so that it be consistent with that of the Recorder of the county court over all misdemeanors. This will require legislative enactment.

Third, That your Mayor's salary be increased commensurate with his duties and the time required of him. Greenville is no longer a village, and practically a Mayor's full time is now required to give its affairs and its citizens the proper attention and service. As I am now resigning I can, with good grace make the recommendation, without personal interest.

Fourth, That your city government and the Greenville graded school district be divided into separate and distinct entities, with full power of financial control conferred on the school board. This will require legislative enactment.

Fifth, That the division of the town into wards be abolished and that the membership of this body be elected at large, as the Mayor is now elected, with one-half of your members coming in for election each year. This will require amendment to the charter.

Sixth, That the corporate limits of Greenville be extended further south and west. My reasons for this are obvious. There are well developed sections both south and west that are receiving benefit from the town for which they should pay taxes.

Seventh, That Greenville continue to participate as an active member of the North Carolina Municipal Association. As president of this association for four years, I am familiar with its value in safeguarding the rights and privileges of the cities and towns of the state. It has been worth at least one hundred times as much to Greenville as it has cost us in dues at $20.00 per year. Your Mayor should regularly attend its legislative meetings at least.

Eighth, Finally, I most earnestly urge that you continue your economy program and depart not from the budget and your accounting system. Adhere to your pay-as-you-go plan for street improvements. In this way general improvements will gradually be obtained without making the tax burden too heavy. Quick results will bond issue, are more attractive and make a better showing but they are also more burdensome to the average citizen who often receives no benefits.

That, however, remains to be proven. Once men were hanged for stealing a sheep or some other article, worth a few shillings.

That did not stop stealing, nor did torture, used to make thieves confess.

Exact, unflinching justice is the thing. If you hang for murder, then hang for murder always, as they do in England. No burglar

A sentence to death, should mean death, and nothing else.
