Ambition and Enthusiasm of Reflector Workers High With End of Six Weeks Goal in Sight

All is in readiness for the close of The Reflector subscription contest on Saturday night. The judges have been selected and are announced in yesterday's paper. All these are well known and prominent men of Pitt County and are disinterested in the naming of the winners of the more than $3,000 in prizes other than to see that those who earn the prizes according to the rules receive their just awards.

Nothing now remains but the last final drive on to victory by the thirteen entrants themselves. Little may be said at this last hour that has not been said many times before. Indications point to those emerging from the contest Saturday with the automobiles who accomplish real results this week.

Contestants want to be full of confidence this week. Don't let any negative thoughts about not making it creep into your mind during these few remaining hours that the drive has to run. Don't slow up in your efforts to secure subscriptions at this late hour when the prize of your choice is within your grasp; when the reward of six weeks hard work is about to be bestowed upon you.

The majority of the leading contenders for the Studebaker, Chevrolet and other prizes are in the field hard at work this week with the determination to make this a week of accomplishments in spite of all. Few reports from the ambitious ones have been checked in at the campaign office thus far for the week. Miss Martha Congleton of Leens who seems slated for one of the prizes called at the office yesterday with one of her lieutenants and made a surprisingly good turn in for this last week of the drive. New books were taken along for the securing of more subscriptions and the promise has been made that a fine report or perhaps a better one will be forthcoming from this contestant on Saturday.

The only other report checked in at the office has been one from Mrs. Sugg Fleming of Pactolus who has also done some mighty fine work in the past. Don't weaken now Mrs. Fleming with the finishing line just ahead.

And so it goes on to the finish of the six weeks drive of The Reflector which comes on Saturday night at eight o'clock sharp. Some gain day by day while others tiring in the race let their ambition and enthusiasm wane at a time when it should be at its heights.

POLICE OFFICER IS ARRESTED ON
ASSAULT CHARGE

Officer Under $1,000 Bond as Result of Shooting Affair at Fountain, Monday Night

Policeman A. D. Gardner, of Fountain, was this afternoon placed under bond of $1,000 on a charge of assault with intent to kill, as a result of the affair in Fountain Monday night when he shot Preston Gardner and Dennis Mercer who are alleged to have attacked him. The warrant was sworn out here this morning before Justice of Peace B. F. Tyson, by Preston Gardner.

According to the officer's version of the affair he shot the two young men when they sought to enter the fountain in Fountain after he had gone there to keep out of their way following information that they were out to get him. The trouble with the boys he said was the outgrowth of his arresting them earlier in the day on charge of being drunk and speeding. Just prior to the climax of the affair he said the boys again speeded through the streets of Fountain and discharged firearms.

According to the warrant sworn out today by Gardner the officer is charged with attacking the two young men with intent to kill.

Young Gardner, who swore out the warrant and who received a bullet wound through the arm is under a $2,000 bond on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the alleged attack upon the policeman. A similar warrant for Dennis Mercer, who is confined in the hospital suffering a wound in the abdomen, has been sworn out but has not been served because of his condition. Reports from the sheriff's office today were to the effect that warrant would be served as soon as Mercer's condition would permit. His condition today is reported as favorable.

PRESIDENT DIAZ
READY TO GIVE UP HIS OFFICEDeclares However
That United States
Marines Should Remain in Nicaragua

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 10.—(AP)—With Conservative forces now in control in Chinandega and the Liberals reported to be in flight from that town, the Conservative government under President Diaz is making preparations to meet an expected attack by the Liberals on Matagalpa, 75 miles northeast of Managua. Liberal forces are reported to be approaching Matagalpa and Conservative troops are being rushed to the city to prevent its capture by the Liberals.

Matagalpa is almost mid-way between the Conservative capital, Managua and Puerto Cabezas, headquarters of the Liberal government under President Sacasa. The battle for the possession of Chinandega was one of the most sanguinary in the present conflict. The Conservatives lost 130 men killed, while 200 were wounded. Eleven city blocks, the Conservatives announced, were destroyed by fire.

President Diaz, in announcing his readiness to give up the Presidency if the United States deemed it best that another man should take the office as a means of furthering the interests of Nicaragua declared he thought the United States marines should remain in Nicaragua no matter who held the reins of government.

TODAY

Wages or Dividends?
Dante and Wall Street.
Decency Here and There.
Anybody, for a While.

(By Arthur Brisbane)

Wages were increased by 7 1-2 per cent, for 22,000 more railroad men, yesterday, and about $3,300,000 dollars will annually be spent by wives of workers, not in dividends. Call it Bolshevism, if you must, but that seems a good idea.

There is plenty for all in this country, and those that have more than they need should think about permanent security, rather than about getting a little more.

Dante, inspecting hell, with Virgil for guide, was impressed by the blasphemous courage of one fierce wretch. As he appeared for a moment above the boiling pitch, he raised his hand toward heaven, with an insulting gesture then sank to torment once more.

Not all have such courage, and you should snare a sign for the poor Wall Street heave that decided to get rich by selling Wheelbarrow and Lake Erie shorts, just when some real buyers want it. It sold for $27.00 not long ago, and after many junks, it went yesterday to $130 a jump of 35 points.

If you have never been a bear, you don't know what that means. The sun goes out, the sky turns black, the liver stones working. The moral is "Don't be a bear at this time." That warning has been published often enough here.

Montana's Senate yesterday voted in favor of the Constitutional amendment against child labor. The amendment may be lost. Child labor being profitable, and profits hard to give up. But it is comforting to see decency here and there.

In the end of course, the amendment would help every state, just as the end of slavery helped all. Including states that had the greatest sacrifices to make.

Child labor cheats grown men and women of work and cheats the next generation of its chance in life, to say nothing of making Christ's warning "Their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in Heaven." Child labor sends plenty of little angels to verify that text.

Fight Duel at Fifty Paces With
Golf Balls and Clubs

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The story of a duel at 50 yards with golf clubs and balls came out of the Howey-in-the-Hills, near here today.

E. W. Willison of St. Louis, and T. V. McQuinn, of Syracuse, N. Y., disagreed as to the number of strokes each took in negotiating the Dusspread course. They had words, then an argument and finally a fight. It was agreed that each was to have one driver, one iron and two dozen balls.

At fifty paces they were carefully prepared. At the drop of a hat firing started. Several shots were high and wide and then one duelist knocked his antagonist down with a line shot to the chin. He couldn't keep his eyes on the ball, however, and before he could get the range his opponent was up and at him with an iron. He evened honors in three shots by sending a fast one to the other's ribs.

Passersby, attracted by what at first appeared to be a spirited practice session, became alarmed. Constable E. C. Scott was called. He arrived just as the iron shots began to whistle.

"Fore!" shouted the constable. The duelsists paused, one with a limping stance, and the other bowed as if for a putt. Scott approached the couple, pistol ready and seized their weapons. An amicable settlement was effected.

REVOLUTION IN PORTUGAL CAME
END LAST NIGHTMany Persons Killed and Property Damage Heavy as Result
Fighting in Lisbon

London, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Surrender of the revolutionaries in Lisbon at 10:20 o'clock last night was reported in a Reuters dispatch from the Portuguese capital today. The correspondent said the city was quiet and that order had been restored throughout the country. A large number of persons, including non-combatants, he added, were killed or wounded in Lisbon during the fighting between the insurgents and the loyal forces and the property damage is extensive.

The insurgents, who had entrenched themselves in an arsenal, surrendered after 44 hours of intense bombardment from field guns and machine guns. To add to the discomfort of the revolutionaries, an airplane dropped three torpedoes into the arsenal, doing much damage.

The revolution broke out in the capital at noon Monday, supported by naval men, a portion of the republican guard, police and a large number of civilians. The insurgents erected barricades in various parts of the city, and the government ordered out all loyal detachments of the Lisbon garrison, who directed an intense machine gun fire on the insurgents.

By orders of the government the cruisers whose crews were suspected of favoring the revolt, were promptly disarmed. Thus it is believed, Lisbon was spared the horrors of a naval bombardment. The insurgents had seized the naval arsenal and the general postoffice, preventing news from leaving the capital.

Bombardment of the naval arsenal ceased last night and the fighting shortly afterward.

The government forces completely dominated the rebels the dispatches said. The night passed quietly and street traffic was partially resumed this morning.

The British Admiralty issued a telegram received today from H. M. S. Windsor at Oporto, reporting that all has been quiet at that port since early Tuesday. No British shipping was damaged.

Paris, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Portugal's latest revolution is over, says a telegram received by the Portuguese diplomatic representative here from the Minister of Foreign Affairs. The revolutionaries in Lisbon surrendered last night.

The rebels surrendered after being beaten in every quarter and those who were barricaded in the arsenal fled.

The cruiser Carvalho Araujo, which joined the rebels yesterday, was silenced by the shore batteries. The crew ran up the white flag and took refuge aboard a German boat.

ers Urge Bill for Such Salaries for Elective Officers

The Sheriff, Register of Deeds, Clerk of Court and County Treasurer would receive salaries of $250 per month under recommendations by the Board of County Commissioners to legislators from this county for a bill to be presented to the General Assembly that would authorize changes in the present salary scale. Following discussion of the matter at the last regular meeting of the board, a committee of citizens was appointed to study the problem and to meet with the commissioners in special session yesterday. The session yesterday was behind closed doors and definite details of the changes could not be learned.

According to announcement made today by Chairman S. T. White, the cost of operation of each of the offices was studied and the changes recommended in order to place the heads of the various departments on the same footing from the standpoint of net salaries received. The recommendations, it is understood include provisions for certain assistance in each of the offices, where heretofore a portion of the extra help has been paid by the head of the office.

The immigrant came to the county seat of the county in which he resided and informed Judge Bottom of the fourth circuit court that he wanted a divorce so that he could marry again.

He was overjoyed when informed that the ceremony could be performed at any time and went back to his second love rejoicing.

The House passed to the upper House concurrent resolutions of Rep. Major Powers Today

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Once more the United States has undertaken to lead the world toward a scaling down of naval armaments.

In a note to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, President Coolidge has suggested that treaties to that end be negotiated without delay at the Geneva conference.

The proposal would extend downward to smaller warships the limitations imposed at the Washington Conference on first class naval craft. The same proposal was made by the United States at the Washington Conference but failed of acceptance.

In a special message to Congress announcing what he had done, Mr. Coolidge declared that despite the principles laid down at the conference here in 1921, "certain powers" have laid down far reaching naval building programs suggesting the shadow of another world wide race among nations to outbuild one another.

He suggested also that the Geneva conference initiated by the League of Nations are threatened with deadlock if the powers proceed along their present lines of negotiation.

So far as land and air armaments are concerned the President evidenced a willingness to let foreign powers work out an agreement of their own. The land and air forces of the United States, he said, are a minimum and "constitute a threat to no one."

The message fell upon Congress without warning in the midst of a controversy over the construction of three new cruisers. Overriding the President's recommendations, the Senate has voted to authorize the construction and the House, although it has rejected the proposal, appears to be somewhat disposed to accept the Senate viewpoint in conference. Some of the most influential leaders of the President's own party, including Speaker Clegg, have thrown their support behind the building plans.

Should Mr. Coolidge's suggestion be accepted by the powers, and treaties negotiated to carry it into effect, cruisers would be one of the classes of ships directly affected by any limitation agreed upon.

The proposal is that an agreement be made supplementing the naval limitation treaty of Washington, "and covering the classes of vessels not covered by that treaty."

The text of the note to the powers was included in the message to Congress. It said in part: "Although hesitating at this time to put forward rigid proposals as regards the ratios of naval strength to be maintained by the different powers, the American government, for its part, is disposed to accept in regard to those vessels not recovered by the Washington treaty an extension of the 5-5-3 ratio as regards the United States, Great Britain and Japan and to leave discussion at Geneva the ratios of France and Italy, taking into full account their special conditions and requirements in regards to types of vessels in question."

"Ratios for capital ships and aircraft carriers were established by that treaty which would not be affected in any way by the agreement covering other classes of ships."

The President said the American (Continued on page six)

Daily News Letter

Cons. of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 10.—Yale University has decided to build a hedge of restrictions about its law school and to keep its enrollment between the four hundred mark. Higher tuition, stricter entrance requirements, and higher marks in the school are expected to do the trick. Hereafter a law school student applicant will be examined as to law aptitude in addition to other things, and his personality will count high. Tuition will cost $200 a year instead of $250 as at present.

Sometime during the year Yale is expected to start work on a new law school plant that will cost $2,500,000. The estate of the late John W. Sterling, Yale's chief benefactor of modern times, is providing funds. James Gamble Rogers, who has designed nearly all Yale's modern buildings, has drawn plans for the new law school. It has provided for a Gothic group containing dormitory rooms for 250 men, an auditorium in which the entire school may gather, a large number of secular rooms to be used in graduate and honors work, an extensive library, a common or club room, and class rooms.

Yale has assigned the High street block front from Wall to Grove streets for the new law school grounds, and there it will form a continuation of a line made up of the art school, Harkness Quadrangle, and the Sterling Quadrangle. The new building, four stories high, will be built on the site of the old law school, which was burned in 1911. The new building will be built on the site of the old law school, which was burned in 1911.

The new Yale law school will be run on the English basis of Court plan, the first institution in this country so to be run. Yale Law School, incidentally, is the first ever to institute facilities for summary and graduate work within its walls, and as a result is ranking high as a law school.

The Crown Prince of Sweden is entitled to purchase tickets for a Yale football game, because he was made an honorary graduate of the institution last spring. Now comes His Royal Highness, William Ludwig, Prince of Sweden as a lecturer in New Haven, and is promptly elected to membership in the Beta Beta Beta Society of the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale. His rights and privileges therefrom are just a bit less than those his brother gains from the Yale honorary degree.

George Dudley Seymour, to whom Yale gave an honorary degree for his work in advancing Nathan Hale's career to popularity among the American people, was looking over a dusty case in Yale library, this winter and there came upon an old snuff box which interested him. Within the cover Mr. Seymour found etched in portrait of Ethan Yale for whom the university was named, and so made the discovery that four portraits of Ethan Yale exist where only three had been known.

Yale undergraduates get training in settlement work by means of Yale House Mission, for many years located in the heart of the downtown factory district. Now the friends of the Mission are gathering $20,000 to erect a modern mission building within two blocks of the University and will provide de luxe quarters for those they hope to rescue. New Haven still has its quota of down-and-outers.

Harvard was 20 to 15 in the race for Congress according to someone who was curious to know who is who in the Senate and the House of Representatives this year. Some men like Senator Herman Bingham, of Connecticut, count twice for the graduate form Yale college and went to Harvard for extra work.

VETERAN FIREMAN DIED YESTERDAY

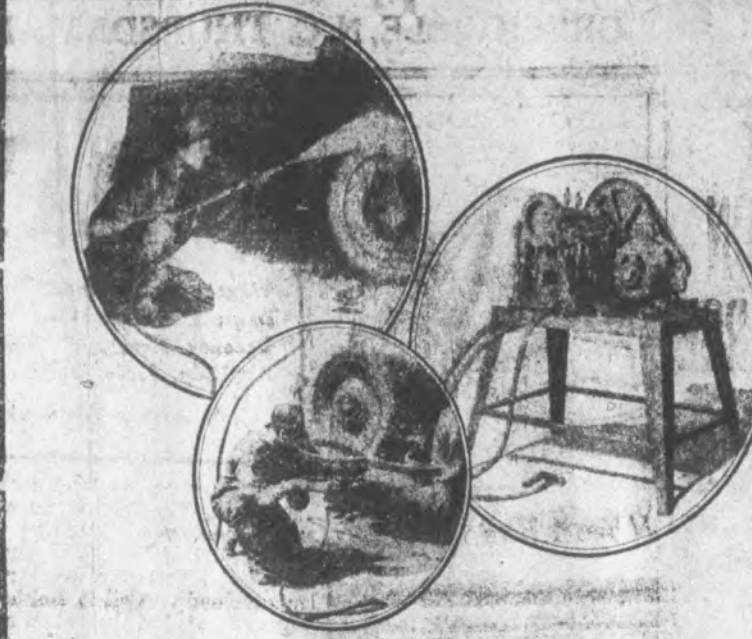

'Captain Jim' McNeill, Prominent Fayetteville Citizen Claimed by Death

Fayetteville, N. C., Feb. 10.—(AP).—From boyhood to his death today, Captain James D. McNeill, who would have been 77 years old March 4, was a fireman. The man who died yesterday evening, and whom the whole town and a good part of the state today mourned, had some good fire fighting stories to tell.

He was a familiar figure fighting the flaming foe in Fayetteville and at convention halls of the state his best stories were ever in demand. Three times president of the National Firemen's Association, head of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association for 26 years, prominent figure in state and local affairs for half a century, Captain McNeill was stricken with pneumonia early in December after returning from annual memorial services of the local lodge of Elks. He never left his room again and will be buried tomorrow with his fire laddies having the place of honor at his funeral from St. John's Episcopal church.

He was the son of a minister, Rev. George McNeill, Presbyterian, and survived by Mrs. H. P. Elliott, Louisville, Ky.; and Mrs. Paul C. Collins, Hillsboro, N. C.; besides two other daughters here; Robert S. McNeill, of Mocksville, N. C.; and two other sons here. Your pipe can be a cheer or a chore

IT DEPENDS on what you feed it. Put it on a regular ration of Prince Albert and it will yield you pleasure, without stint or limit. "Never," you will say, "has the old pipe tasted so good." There isn't the ghost of a doubt about it. Just try it!

As you open the tidy red tin, close your eyes and drink in that rich, rare aroma. You can hardly wait to get the taste of tobacco that smells as good as that. Then the big moment: You load up and light up. That's Prince Albert, Men's prime favorite of veteran smokers.

Cool as a magistrate fixing a fine. Sweet as the news that you won't have to pay it. Mild as a wisely rebuke for having spent too much on her birthday present. Mild, yet with that full tobacco body that satisfies your smoke-taste to the limit. A smoke!

Buy yourself a tidy red tin of P. A. and give your pipe a chance to deliver capacity joy. No matter how settled you appear to be on a smoke-program, try Prince Albert. Millions of pipe-happy men declare that no other tobacco is like it. You'll say so.

GO WHERE MONEY IS

Declaring that the Budget Commission failed in one of its duties in that it failed to suggest directly or indirectly the source from which the needed increased revenues are to be obtained, the News and Observer suggests that in order to obtain the necessary money the levies should be placed where there is money and points to the railroads and public utilities and fire insurance companies that under increased rates to the public are making big money and increasing their wealth daily. The News and Observer says:

"For three weeks and more the Finance Committee have been sweating blood over how to obtain the necessary revenues to carry on the operations of a growing State which has entered big things and cannot beat a retreat. Every new license or other tax imposed has been met with serious objection on the part of those who would be called upon to pay the tax. And naturally. Some of them had good grounds for their protests and their pleas will doubtless be respected."

"The recommendations of the Budget Commission were disappointing to the people in that it did not follow the manifest wise policy of seeking additional taxes from those who are making the most money. There was not even a suggestion, either directly or indirectly, by the Budget Commission of increase in taxes of those most able to pay their part of the expenses of State and county government. Inasmuch as the Budget Commission failed on this most important duty expected of it, The News and Observer begs leave to call attention to some of them:

1. The Atlantic Coast Line Railway. It has greatly advanced freight and passenger rates and is making so much money it hardly knows what to do with it."

2. The Southern Railway, which by high freight and passenger rates is making so much money its stock is soaring. See the stock quotations.

3. The water power companies. Property that cost less than forty million dollars is now worth eighty or an hundred million dollars. Making big money.

4. Express companies, telegraph and telephone companies, Pullman companies. Making big money.

5. Light and other public service corporations. Making big money.

Do you know of a single public service corporation that has not raised its rates for service since the World War? When rates went up at the war times it was "because of the war" and was thought to be for the duration of the war. National and State commissions have permitted big increases, but very little, if any, increase has been made in the taxes of any public service corporation.

The place to secure increased revenues is where the biggest money is being made.

It is here that the Budget Commission fell down.

P. S. In addition to the public service corporations, the Budget Commission should have taken official notice of the fact that the fire insurance companies have increased their rates and are making big money. Why not increase their taxes?"

ARREST ACTORS TAKING PART IN
IMMORAL PLAYSForty Broadway Actors,
Actresses and Theatrical Produces
Taken Into Custody

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Forty actresses, actors, producers and managers, arrested in three Broadway theatres on charges of participation in immoral productions, were under bond today pending further hearings.

Arrests will be repeated each night the plays are produced, acting Mayor Joseph McKee announced.

"Sex," "The Captive," and "The Virgin Man" were the plays affected by last night's arrests. Mae West of "Sex," Basil Rathbone and Helen Menken of "The Captive," and Don Dillaway and Dorothy Hall of "The Virgin Man" were held in $1,000 bail when they were arrested in night court.

The others were held in $500 bail each. No testimony was taken at the arraignments.

Casts of "The Captive" and "The Virgin Man" will be given a hearing next Monday afternoon while the members of the "Sex" troupe will be heard Tuesday. Of those arrested, 21 are from "Sex," 11 from "The Captive" and eight from "The Virgin Man."

"The Captive" and "Sex" were acquitted of immorality by the citizens play jury, sponsored by District Attorney Banton who had pledged acceptance of their verdicts prior to the present drive against immoral shows. "Sex" had been running 11 months. "The Captive" is in its fifth month and "The Virgin Man" is in its third week.

Higher bail will be required if any of those arrested last night are taken into custody again, assistant district attorney Albert Unger said. Arrests will be repeated at every performance unless the plays are withdrawn or modified to conform with the penal code section prohibiting indecent productions.

Mayor James Walker, on a vacation in Havana, is aware of the clean up procedure, Mr. McKee said, and has voiced his approval.

The plays were in progress last night when the police arrived but the arrests were not made until after the final curtains fell. The shows were presented in their usual form and the audiences in virtually all cases left the theatres unaware of what had taken place.

For two nights prior to the arrests District Attorney Banton and police commissioner McLaughlin had representatives at Broadway plays recording lines, actions and costumes.

Decision to make arrests was reached at a conference by police commissioner, the district attorney, chief magistrate McAdoo and acting mayor McKee Tuesday.

RUTH THREATENS TO QUIT BASEBALL UNLESS PAY RAISED

Refuses to Sign New Contract at Present Salary of $52,000 Per Season

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The first shot in Babe Ruth's love expected contract war with the New York Yankees sounded thru the "baseball world" today.

Babe had Colonel Ruppert, president of the Yankees, announce that the salary conflict was on than the Bambino leveled his guns on New York all the way from Hollywood, where he is making a movie.

The Babe has returned the contract Ruppert offered him unsigned, he said, because the terms called for the same salary he has received for three years—$52,000 and unless better terms are offered him, why "I'll quit baseball," he announced.

Colonel Ruppert said the big home run hitter would not be allowed to re-sign to the training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., until he signed a new contract. Right back across the country came on March 5, whether or not the contract question had been settled by that time.

"I'm not saying what terms I want or what I would accept," Ruth said. "The fact is I won't sign the terms as offered. Unless the terms are satisfactory I'll quit baseball if necessary. I wouldn't like to do that, of course."

Babe is thought to have demanded a contract covering several years with the figures in the vicinity of $100,000 per season. Babe said that his income was not necessarily dependent upon his diamond activities and would not be less than his present salary.

very if he were to quit baseball entirely. Although he has just completed a 10 week vaudeville tour and is now engaged in film work he "wouldn't have to depend on them either," he said.

A second New York favorite, also in movie work on the coast, Emil "Irish" Meusel, meanwhile became embroiled in a controversy between the Brooklyn Robins and Cincinnati Reds as to which club would boast his services in 1927. The Robins through president Robinson, announced an agreement had been reached with the former Giant outfielder for 1927 just as manager Jack Hendricks of the Reds was reporting the same thing.

Meusel, who purchased his release from the Giants' fold last fall, was reported by Brooklyn to have accepted terms by telegraph Monday. A contract, at a figure reported to be $10,000, was mailed to him in Hollywood Tuesday, Robinson said. Hendricks said he had accepted Meusel's terms after announcement that Cincinnati had traded Eddie Roush, crack fielder, to New York for George Kelly, Giant first baseman.

The latter deal, one of the most unexpected and sensational in a winter of wholesale changes and busts, was completed yesterday.

No cash was involved. In acquiring Roush, John McGraw has added to his line up another colorful fielding star and powerful hitter to his team as an attraction with Rogers Hornsby, former Cardinal manager, Roush traded to Cincinnati from the Giants for Buck Herzog in 1916 has ranked among the most brilliant outfielders in baseball for ten years. He is a consistent .300 hitter and lead the league in 1917 and 1919.

Kelly, a fielding star who bats over .300, probably will be used in the Cincinnati outfield because of the presence on the Red's first base of Waldo Pipp, also a former Yankee. Kelly will be substituted in the Giant infield by Bill Terry.

TERRIBLE PAIN

Alabama Lady Tells How She Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui. Feels Fine and Enjoys Life Now, She Says.

Talladega, Ala.—Mrs. Mary Hardy, 406 Henderson Avenue, this city, says that seven years ago she "got down sick" and was unable to attend to her housework.

"I have never been so weak before or since," she says. "I had a terrible pain in my side—so sore in my side and the lower part of my body.

"Across my back ached, and I was so nervous I couldn't stand up. I had just about given up when some one came to see me, began talking about Cardui. This caused me to get it. I took about two bottles before I saw much improvement.

"After this, though, I picked up right away. I slept better at night. I was hungry, enjoyed my food, which I hadn't done for some time.

"The pain and nervousness gradually left my side. I regained my strength. I took about six bottles and left off for awhile, then took two or three more. I feel just fine, enjoy life and can work now, too."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. It has helped thousands of suffering women and should help you, too. NC-788

BUTLER AND BORAH DISCUSS DRY LAWS

Will Make Effort to Get Issue Before Voters Before Next Campaign

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, differing sharply on prohibition, today were in agreement to present the issue as they see it to the voters in advance of the National nominating conventions next fall.

In accepting the proposal of Senator Borah, an avowed dry, Dr. Butler also replied to a request from the Idaho Senator for detailed statement of his position on prohibition by declaring for repeal of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act and by expressing the hope the Republican party officially would adopt the same attitude.

"I am in favor, specifically and definitely, of the repeal both of the 18th amendment and of the Volstead act," said the educator. "It would make me very glad to have the Republican party, to which I have given such service as I am capable since early manhood, take that position."

"To your second question I answer that I should not oppose the Republican party pledging itself specifically to the upholding of and enforcement of the eighteenth amendment so long as that amendment remains a part of the constitution, provided that life declaration be so drawn as to make it plain that this enforcement of the 18th amendment is always and everywhere to be accompanied by the like enforcement of the other provisions of the constitution including particularly those contained in the first ten amendments, which constitute the bill of rights."

Quaint Customs on Sand Banks North Carolina

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—"Come, buss me," is the way to demand a kiss my one's "May" or sweetheart on the Hatteras Sand Banks—narrow, storm swept spits that lie in the "grave yard of ships" from 10 to 40 miles off the mainland of North Carolina.

These and other quaint expressions are daily heard among the natives of these naked wastes. "That seems worlds away from the United States," says a National Geographic Society bulletin today, describing these fisher folk and their habits, particularly that at Kill Devil Hill, Kitty Hawk, where 24 years ago the Wright brothers tossed a coin, trusted in the Lord, and flew the first power driven airplane.

"My poke" for "my pocket" to be "convenient" instead of willing "abashed" for discredited; and "abraded" for nauseated are other usages the bulletin lists, as well as "insect" for baby and "hit" for it. Molasses, like measles, are "them."

A former lighthouse keeper, his wife and a coast guard were found by a society investigator to be the sole remaining witnesses on Kill Devil Hill of the Wrights, "for determined that, if those crazy Wright fellows wanted to waste their time and money, at least some of the material could be salvaged." The lighthouse keeper's wife had sewed the cloth on the first glider, and when the glider of 1902 was abandoned she thrifflily refashioned its covering into dresses for her children.

"On December 17, 1903," the story goes on, "the Wrights having built a motor driven plane at their workshop under Kill Devil Hill, the unexpected occurred. This is what the old coast guard told us:

"They tossed a coin, and Wilbur won. 'Good luck,' I says, as he climbed into the machine, and the Lord only knows, and then just as I was telling myself that something heavier than air could not and never would fly, that machine rose up and flew 850 feet."

A bill is pending in Congress to provide for erection of a monument on the 100 foot sand dune to commemorate the Wright brothers' achievement.

SATEWIDE BILLS PASSED TODAY IN THE LEGISLATURE

piece as a "jiffy, unworthy of being so exalted." Both branches adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

The House heard 26 new bills introduced, passed two local measures and a public bill permitting the state D. A. R. to place a tablet bearing the names of the North Carolina signers of the Declaration of Independence in the rotunda of the capitol.

The new state wide bills included a bill relating to drainage districts, by Tatem of Tyrrell; amending law on insane convicts, Sutton, Lenoir; amending state highway statutes, Connor of Wilson; prevent larceny cotton bales, Graham of Sampson; to grant right of eminent domain of churches to acquire cemeteries, by Rhodes of Alamance; and to prohibit immigration of peace officers offered by Brawley of Durham.

On special order the Winston bill to make the "Old North State" the official state song was passed overwhelmingly to the Senate.

Lawyers in the House disagreed over another legal bill they would amend the constitution to allow changes in judicial districts.

Motions and counter-motions as to procedure were quelled by Rep. Turlington who proposed unanimous consent to take up all such bills on special order next Thursday night.

The Sedberry bill affecting the seizure of automobiles found continuing liquor was referred to the propositions and grievances at request of Rep. Turlington. He said he had been requested by ministers to give them a hearing, the bill was passed by the Senate.

Another bill relating to juries was postponed.

Judge Winston's resolution calling for creating of a commission to investigate possibility of reducing governmental branches and state expenses. It would be required to report to the 1929 Assembly.

A bill extending time for making crop liens was passed. Several public bills were passed in the House.

Without debate the Senate passed the Whitnire bill permitting transfer of names on registration books when voters move from one precinct in the same county, and without discussion passed the Hines bill requiring fire escapes for office buildings.

Senator Askew would prevent forest fires in a bill introduced, while another Senate passage had provision preventing officers from collecting reward for capturing a still unless the man is apprehended, applying only to certain counties, and another bill passed to prevent officers from using seized property unless the court authorizes such.

grow. Now it is eight thousand pounds, and the memorial will be built.

Time and compound interest work wonders. A dollar invested at the beginning of our era, at compound interest, would be worth today more than a lump of gold as big as the earth. Save something.

Millions all over the United States and millions in foreign countries, will hear President Coolidge plainly, when he talks about Washington on Feb. 22nd. And listeners in 1,000 miles away, will hear the President's words before they are heard five yards from the President—electricity travels around the earth while sound is travelling a few yards.

All that would surprise George Washington, and make him proud to be still "first in the hearts of countrymen" able to perform such miracles. But if he returned, to find radio, telephones, flying machines, submarines, moving pictures, no wigs and bobbed ladies, he would say "Put me back, it cannot be real."

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Rockefeller church in New York, says the Catholic confessional has rendered "an amazing service for the treatment of sick souls." He thinks protestants should have something like it, and in fact he has a sort of confessional of his own. He says it is a mistake for the protestant church "to hand sick souls over to the psycho-analyst."

That will provide material for discussions, from ocean to ocean.

Washington is ignited by talk of sky scrapers near the White House. They will destroy the beauty of that venerable building, critics say. But they won't.

Whatever is useful is beautiful. When, after Greeley's death, his New York Tribune pushed a red and black building up nine stories into the air. Many said "It will ruin beautiful city hall."

It did not, and the Woolworth, close to the beautiful old city hall and nearly 60 stories high, has not ruined it either.

This is the country of high buildings, and the higher the better. Let us see what we can do, and get ready gradually for the roof airplane landing, with elevators going down, before they go up.

Advise Old Time Recipe of Butter-milk Cream in New Way, a Gentle Massage with Fingers Before Retiring All That is Necessary.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just common, ordinary Buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, obtain a small quantity of Howard's Buttermilk Cream at any good drug or toilet goods counter on the money back if dissatisfied plan. The directions are simple and it costs so little that any girl or woman can afford it. Pitt Drug Co., can supply you.
