NEW INVENTION RECORDS SPEED MOVING OBJECTS

Invention of D. A. Windham May Prove Aid to Officers in Detecting Auto Speeders

The spectro-speedometer, an instrument with which the accurate speed of any moving object can be ascertained is an invention of D. A. Windham, of this city, according to announcement made by him yesterday following test of his instrument to assure its accuracy. According to Mr. Windham, the instrument will record accurately the speed of any object on land, in the air, or on water, whether the object be passing, approaching or departing. The invention, he declared, will prove of untold value to traffic officers in the apprehension of speeders and will be of equal benefit for use by the army and navy for the purpose of ascertaining the accurate speed of moving targets.

Fat Girls Not Wanted. Scubbing Uncle Sam. South China Ahead. Brave Italian.

Briand, on behalf of France, tactfully but firmly snubs Uncle Sam. He says, "We can attend to our own disarmament and peace conferences under the League of Nations, and need no help from the United States, which refused to join the League." Let's hope this government will digest that snub and pay more attention to business of the United States and these two American continents and less to Europe. It is not our business what Europe chooses to do about ships. But it is the business of President Coolidge, his Cabinet and the Congress to see that this country is able to take care of itself regardless of any League or other power.

THIRTY FOUR PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES IN CYCLONES YESTERDAY

PACIFIC COAST IS RECOVERING FROM RECENT DISASTER

Los Angeles, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Southern California today was practically eliminated from the theater of disaster as the five day storm abated, leaving 22 dead and property loss unofficially estimated at $2,500,000, but Imperial valley points along the Colorado river were threatened with flood conditions and northern California coast cities awaited an approaching storm center from the Pacific. Men and horses were thrown into the fight against high water along the Colorado river near Calexico to protect that district from a flood reported coming down the stream as the result of the recent unprecedented rains. A discharge of 55,000 feet of water was expected at Imperial and an additional flood was roaring down the Gila river from Arizona.

Death Toll From Yesterday's Storms Continue to Grow Today as Reports Come in from Outlying Areas

New Orleans, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Thirty-three persons were reported dead, and an undetermined number injured today as rescue workers continued their search into the tornado torn sections of Louisiana and Mississippi. The heaviest toll of dead was taken at plantations south of Newellton, in Tensas Parish, La., where 14 persons were reported killed and at least two score injured. Eleven persons died and 18 were badly hurt near Pleasant Hill, Sabine Parish, La., and eight were killed and several others injured near Rose Hill, Miss. The storm apparently swept into Louisiana near Shreveport and traveled eastward across the northern sections of Louisiana and Mississippi. High winds and rains accompanied the storm as it tore eastward with increased fury, striking near Pleasant Hill before nightfall. Rescue workers were busy searching through the ruins of dwellings when darkness came. Many of the injured there were carried to hospitals at Shreveport. Fourteen were killed in the next recurrence of the storm's fury at Newellton, near the Mississippi-Louisiana line. Many persons were injured there. Eight persons died and others were injured as it swept across Mississippi with abating fury. The deaths occurred at Rose Hill, where seven members of one family were killed and six other members of the same family were injured. Most of the dead were negroes. One doctor who visited the scene of the storm at Newellton returned with the statement that he had dressed the wounds of 35 persons. The storm struck without warning, he said, and many houses in the section were destroyed. One white family barely made their way to a storm cellar before their house was carried away by the wind.

Haywood is claimed to have entered the home in which the girl lived early this morning, and attempted to attack her, but was repulsed and fled. The girl was taken to the hospital where she is recovering from her injuries.

Defeated Chinese Army Falls Back Toward Shanghai

Shanghai, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The defeated army of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, falling back toward Shanghai, is expected to make its next stand at Sunkiang, 28 miles from this city. The chief obstacles there to the conquest of Shanghai are presented by the Whangpoo River. Local adherents of Sun, ruler of this province of Kiangsu, asserted that there were still 40,000 of his troops in the Kashing Sunkiang region to oppose the advance of the victorious Cantonese. It is known that little rolling stock of the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway was available for the troops and many of Sun's men are believed to have been captured. The agent of General Chang Tsung-chang, ally of Sun, arrived today from Shantung province. He told the Associated Press representative that the Cantonese intended to advance to the aid of Sun. Hitherto there have been no signs of such movement down the Nanking-Shanghai Railway. "RINGG" DIES AFTER RESCUE FROM CAVE. Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been the cause. North Carolina Would Share in Building Program. Washington, Feb. 18.—(AP)—President Coolidge today asked Congress for $19,878,700 to initiate the Administration's Public Building bill. This is the sum required for the first year of the $125,000,000 program for new public buildings throughout the country. The money would be made available during the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The first year appropriations for the Southern States include Asheville, N. C., postoffice courthouse $410,000. Roanoke, Va., customs house $300,000 and Wilson, N. C., postoffice courthouse, etc., $32,000.

FARM RELIEF BILL IS NOW ENTIRELY UP TO PRESIDENT

Washington, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill today is squarely up to President Coolidge. Three years from its inception in the halls of Congress, the measure with its widely debated equalization fee provision for price stabilization, now must be passed upon by the nation's Chief Executive. Final action at the capitol came last night when the House by a vote of 214 to 178 approved the bill in exactly the form it passed the Senate, and sent it to the White House for either enactment into law or flat rejection. Previously approved by the Senate 47 to 29, or eight votes to the good, the House gave the bill a margin of only 36 votes more than needed, and chiefs in the McNary-Haugen camp made no effort to deny the contention of opponents that strength, at least in the House chamber, would be lacking to muster the two-thirds necessary to pass the bill over a Presidential veto. Congressional opinion was divided in the closing hours of debate over what position Mr. Coolidge would take. In the absence of any definite expression, each member held his own conviction and forecasts and predictions ran free. Mr. Coolidge undoubtedly will take no action until he has conferred with Secretary Jardine and probably other members of his cabinet. Because of this, several days are expected to elapse before a pronouncement, if any is made. Final action by Congress came last night after nine hours of feverish discussion in the House during which the bill's supporters in steam roller fashion crushed more than 100 attempts to change it. With Chairman Haugen of the Agriculture Committee one of the measure's co-authors, in charge, the McNary-Haugen group held a majority on the floor from start to finish.

SAYS DAUGHERTY NOT RESPONSIBLE ALLOWANCE CLAIM

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Guy D. Gog of West Virginia took the stand in the Daugherty-Miller trial today and assumed all responsibility for the allowance of the claim for the $7,000,000 impounded assets of the American Metal Company. Trial opened today with Mrs. Thomas Creighton on the stand denying that Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general, received daily phone calls from the late John T. King, then National Republican committee man from Connecticut. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller are charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States in connection with the transfer of $7,000,000 impounded assets of the American Metal Company. The government alleges they shared a $411,000 bribe, paid King for his aid in having the assets transferred to the Societe Suisse Pour Valens de Metaux. The government called witnesses who testified telephone calls between King and Daugherty were frequent, Mrs. Creighton who was assistant secretary to Daugherty, said the former attorney general never to her knowledge called King, and that King only called Daugherty several times while Daugherty was in office.

SUB ZERO WEATHER BRINGS DISTRESS WESTERN STATES

Kansas City, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Fed by sub-zero temperatures, in the Northern Rocky Mountain States, a cold wave today engulfed the southwest and middlewest. Thermometers dropped from the upper sixties to well below freezing at many points within 24 hours. As a cold wind brought sleet and snow to this territory to nip budding trees and flowers, snow slides continued to menace Colorado and Utah communities while Arizona and New Mexico transportation facilities were crippled by floods. Kansas today reported temperatures of from 8 to 20 above with two inches of snow in the western part of the State drifting into railroad cuts before a strong north wind. Similar conditions prevailed in Oklahoma and Northern Texas where snow or sleet was general. The mercury was falling rapidly at South Texas today after several days of balmy weather. With snow at many Missouri points, indications were that the storm would extend well into the upper Mississippi valley today and tomorrow where low temperatures were predicted. Forecasts of relief for the mountain states found Arizona with several points isolated following a week's rain four persons were reported marooned on an island near Phoenix while rescuers made unsuccessful attempts to remove them. Rotary plows were working to extricate two Denver and Rio Grande Western passenger trains stalled in deep drifts on the Continental divide between Chama and Cumbres, Colo.

EXPECT OTTO WOOD AT PENITENTIARY TONIGHT. Raleigh, Feb. 18.—(AP)—State prison officials expected Otto Wood, elusive convict, back late tonight or tomorrow morning from Terre Haute, Ind., where he was recaptured after his third escape from these prison walls. Word from Terre Haute, where Wood was arrested after he was wounded by a bullet from a drugist whose store the one-armed murderer attempted to rob, was that extradition papers signed by Governor McLean had been honored. Wood has recovered from his injury. He has served several years of his 30 year sentence for murder of a Greensboro pawnbroker.

Evangelistic Services Largely Attended Thursday Night

Rev. C. O. Pardo delivered a forceful sermon again Thursday night from the text: "I have kept the faith." Taken from Second Timothy, 4:7. St. Paul's last advice to his spiritual son, Timothy. The preacher said religious controversy was in the air. Parents debated as to sending their children to this or that college, and why should there be virtue in discussion, times had changed. Our great grandparents believed in witches, but we did not. He also told us that we have had childish ideas about God. Picturing Him as an old white-headed man sitting on the throne, instead of a living Heavenly Father, and what had we thought of hell and heaven, he said, was still the heart's desire, but the thought of hell had about passed out of our minds. He said preachers did not preach hell, as hot, these days, consequently men had stopped thinking about it any longer.

He said Faith still remained a substance of things hoped for, Prayer daily, redemption, and that prayer should not be just a form, but sweet communion with God. The whole of society rests upon this faith, and we should hold fast to our old faith, but it seemed that some of us had let it go. We should not stand on the outside

Captain Kilroy Harris Speaks on Australia

Students of East Carolina Teachers College and citizens of Greenville enjoyed an unusual opportunity in hearing Captain Kilroy Harris last evening. Captain Harris gave an illustrated lecture on Australia that was most interesting and instructive. Although Australia is larger in area than our own United States its population is about that of New York City. It is so far away that the shortest time for traveling the distance is nineteen days. Most people think a native Australian Bushman is a black savage, but these form very small part of the population of the country. Very interesting slides of these natives in costume were shown displaying customs, hunting implements, and their "pale hats." It is impossible to civilize them, said the speaker.

Australia is essentially a white man's country. No negroes or members of the yellow race are allowed to come there with the intention of settling. There are practically no poor people there, said Captain Harris. Almost every man owns his own home with a large garden enclosed by a fence. An Englishman's home is his castle and they want the castle fenced in. Fences seem to be very much in vogue there, for the boundary lines between the divisions of the continent are marked by them. One of these is 1,500 miles long, the longest fence in the world. The kangaroo and camels are common in Australia and they were pictured in great numbers while many interesting facts about them were related. The lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by every one who heard it. Kilroy Harris is a pleasing speaker and holds the attention of

A WISE DECISION

Declaring that the passage of the Senate bill which would raise the interest rate to 8 per cent on loans made to farmers would open the door to those who desire it, is to practice usury and would be of no benefit to farmers or anyone else, the News and Observer, in the following comment, regards the course followed by the House yesterday in defeating the measure, a wise one. "The action of the House of Representatives yesterday in voting down the Senate bill that would permit Federal agricultural corporations to charge 8 per cent interest on loans to farmers was one of the best things done by that body during the session. The State of North Carolina has solemnly enacted a 6 per cent interest law. At almost every session of the Legislature attempts have been made to repeal that law. The most serious attempt was made at the session of 1921 when it was extremely difficult to borrow money. There was more argument for it then than now. But it was defeated then. At subsequent sessions attempts have been made to secure certain exemptions, either for corporations or for farm credit organizations. They have all failed. "The bill defeated yesterday, after Representative Satterwhite, of Warren, had shown that it would bring no benefit to farmers, had obtained support in the belief that it would make it easier for farmers to obtain money. Undoubtedly its supporters persuaded themselves that such would be the case. But the effect of any bill permitting an increase of the rate of interest to any particular class or by any particular concern, would have the effect all around of hoisting the rate of interest. There are evasions enough of the law now, and too many people practice usury, to open the door to an increase of the rate by law. Through the Legislature has consistently refused in any instance in any State-wide measure to let down the bars, it is a regrettable fact that several local measures have contained provisions that insubstance undertook to make evasions legal. It is seriously to be doubted if they are legal, but they are contrary to the fixed policy of the State. Chapter 35 of the Laws of the Extra Session of 1924, as amended by chapters 28 and 209 of the Public Laws of 1925, contain a provision applying to Buncombe, Madison, Yancey, Henderson, McDowell, Rutherford, Ashe and Forsythe which authorizes any individual or corporation authorized to do a real estate or mortgage loan business to "charge, collect and receive such commissions as may be agreed upon not exceeding one and a half per cent per annum for making or negotiating loans under certain conditions." That law ought to be repealed. It could not have passed as a State-wide measure. "Several other measures of like purport have been introduced in this General Assembly allowing legal fees to a certain point or commissions for loaning, etc. They should all be defeated. Such legislation would bear heavily on the debtor. There are enough people who now prey upon the necessities of the poor without giving such preying legal sanction."

Beloved Winterville Woman Passes Away

Mrs. Hattie B. Miller, 48, widow of the late C. B. Miller, died at her home in Winterville early Friday morning, Feb. 11, following an illness of several weeks. She was taken to Vanceboro for burial in the family burying ground Friday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. E. Turner, pastor of the Baptist church here, assisted by Rev. W. L. Nobles, of the Free Will Baptist church.

Mrs. Miller had a host of friends. She was a member of the Winterville Free Will Baptist church, a good mother and kind neighbor, always ready and willing to render every service possible wherever it was needed. Her husband preceded her to the grave by two months. The deceased leaves five children, one daughter, Mary Belle, and four sons, Pames, Thomas Thaddene and Randall, also five brothers and five sisters, all of whom reside in Vanceboro. The community extends its heart felt sympathy to the bereaved family.

More Power

Only in recent months has the radio public begun to realize the full importance of supplying adequate power to the loud speaker.

When the power tube was first placed on the market, radio buyers were under the impression that MORE POWER meant MORE VOLUME alone. The power tube is, and always has been, concerned with TONE QUALITY. Without a power tube, CX-112 or CX-371, in the last audio stage, your receiver is incapable of delivering modern radio reproduction at its best.

Denver, Feb. 18.—(INS)—When Charles A. Burgdorf applied for a job at the Omaha yards of the Union Pacific Railroad, back in 1881, just after emigrating from Hamburg, Germany, the foreman asked him: "Are you afraid of Indians?"

"No," said Burgdorf, and got the job.

The veteran engineer is retired now, after completing forty-five years continuous service without incurring one of those dreaded black marks that railroad men avoid like the plague.

Burgdorf lives in Denver with his wife, and modestly exhibits a card from his superintendent bearing the legend: "Charles A. Burgdorf, Union Pacific engineer, April 12, 1881—November 18, 1926; Excellent record, no black marks."

At the time Burgdorf started piloting the funny-looking locomotives with the oversize funnel-shaped smoke stacks, Denver was a booming village of 35,000 souls, the proud of the recent act of the State legislature making their city the State capital.

Gold discoveries were still being made around Leadville and the Utes had just committed the Meeker massacre at White River. "Those were stirring days," recalled Burgdorf.

Although he has piloted presidents and statesmen, Burgdorf maintains that the "biggest man mentally" he ever hauled in his whole career was the idol of all railroaders, E. E. Harriman.

That was in 1913. The same year, Burgdorf cracked all previous records on the run from Denver to Salt Lake City, making it in six hours flat, a record that still stands in spite of faster and better equipment prevailing today.

Burgdorf proudly recalls that he drove both the President Wilson and President Harding Specials over the Union Pacific.

King Tut died several thousand years back, and a comparatively recent raid on his tomb started a rage for decoration swarming of the Nile and the pyramids, but Denver police made a raid on a Chinese hop joint the other day that bids fair to start a new rage for interior decorations—smacking of the Orient.

Assistant Police Custodian Howard Carver is responsible for the new note in artistic wall-covering. He reports that a visitor came to his office after reading newspaper reports of a raid in Denver's Chinatown that netted the authorities several hales of Chinese lottery tickets, and asked to purchase the confiscated gambling checks.

Carver is now going to suggest that an auction be held periodically to dispose of the carton of tickets that comes under his care as a result of frequent descents on the oriental night clubs. The tickets are printed in San Francisco, and are tastefully embellished with Chinese characters reminiscent of Hop Lee's or Hung Low's laundry checks. They come in gaudy color combinations, too, of pink and yellow and green and orange.

However, INVEST wisely, but don't gamble on either side of the market. You will lose if you do.

Many good investments in this world for those that hang on. When Edward Fitzgerald published his translation of the Rubaiyat, that first edition sold for one penny in England. Yesterday J. E. Drake paid $3,200 for a copy.

When John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" was first published, wise book people said, "Only servants will buy a book of that kind." One of the copies, originally sold for two pence, is worth thousands of dollars now.

An 11-year-old boy, Michael Pomrasnow, ran away from home after a beating, killed a shopkeeper in an attempted holdup, and is wondering what will be done with him. It is said that he cannot be treated as a youthful delinquent because he refuses to say that he is sorry he committed the murder. A childish reason for lack of repentance is only one more proof of youthful delinquency.

In any case, the boy will not be executed, even if put on trial for murder. Capital punishment survives, but killing children is no longer part of "civilization."
