President Giving His Attention to Farm Relief Bill

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was placed before President Coolidge today for his approval or a veto. Having been signed last yesterday by Vice-President Dawes and Speaker Longworth, the engrossed document was sent to the White House early this morning by messenger.

There has been no indication when the President may be expected to act on the measure. Meantime he is conferring with members of his cabinet and others, while those at the capitol who supported or fought the bill can only speculate on his decision.

The bill was ordered sent to the Department of Agriculture late today for the perusal of Secretary Jardine. The secretary has never advocated its enactment.

MORE SHIPMENTS ARMS NICARAGUA CAUSES CONCERN

Menace From Continued Import of Arms Responsible for Sending More Marines.

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The continued shipment of arms from the outside to the Nicaraguan Liberal forces apparently is again regarded as a threatening phase of the Central American republic's civil war by the Washington government.

Although not disclosing what country is furnishing the munitions, the White House advances it as another besides the protection of Americans, for the recent ordering of 1,600 Marines to Nicaragua. The administration, however, links up the importations as constituting a danger to Americans there in the belief that the additional equipment for the Liberals will inspire increased warfare.

President Adolfo Diaz of Nicaragua has repeatedly charged that Mexico is supplying with arms the Liberal army of Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, claimant of the presidency. News dispatches declaring that rumors of American intervention were circulating in Managua and that Diaz troops in some places have adopted a mutinous attitude were of interest to officials here but comment on either situation was deemed unlikely.

The discussion of intervention apparently is receiving some unofficial consideration among members of the Nicaraguan Congress as some Diaz supporters in the Senate were said to have studied the procedure between the United States and Haiti in 1915, when American advisers were provided for the Haitian government. The mutinous attitude among Diaz troops resulted from lack of pay and because of forced marches, some of the soldiers refusing to travel except by automobile.

A conference between American Minister Eberhardt and Head Admiral Latimer, listed for today at Corinto, is regarded by officials here as likely to throw new light on recent phases of the civil war in advice to the State Department. Minister Eberhardt yesterday conferred with President Diaz, but no disclosures about their meeting were made.

Another Boy Suicide. Mind and Matter. Chlan's War. Rain in California. (By Arthur Brisbane)

Another high school boy, Clark Kessler, of Elizabeth, N. J., 16 years old, committed suicide yesterday, swallowing Paris Green in All Saint's Episcopal church. A few hours earlier Edith M. Stewart, senior in Elmira College, poisoned herself. Fourteen suicides by young students within a few days is appalling. Perhaps youth is beginning to do what it has so often contemplated.

John Start Mill, put to studying Greek at the age of three, tells how, as a boy, he planned suicide, driven by the thought that all combinations of musical notes would one day be used up and that new musical composition would be impossible.

Bertrand Russell, commenting on Mills' experience, says "I experienced in adolescence just the same tendency as Mills describes—in my case because I thought the laws of dynamics controlled the movements of my body, making the will a mere delusion." Youth has strange impulses, and solemn maturity does not understand it.

FUNERAL SERVICES MRS. JESSE CHERRY THIS AFTERNOON

Services at Home Followed by Interment in Family Plot Near Red Banks Church. Funeral services for Mrs. Jesse L. Cherry, who died Thursday at 5:40 p. m., following a long illness were conducted from her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Elders Denny, Wilson, and Joyner, of Greenville, conducted the services, both paying beautiful tribute to the sweet Christian character who had labored so long for her Master and who had made all who had come in contact with her, feel that they were better men and women for having known her. The burial which took place in the family burying ground near Red Banks, was largely attended by a host of sorrowing friends and relatives. The beautiful floral offering attested in the popularity of the beloved woman.

Mrs. Cherry was born near Grimsland, Dec. 30, 1858, a daughter of Noah A., and Mary Buck. Even in childhood she possessed those traits of character which won for her admiring friends, some of whom attended the funeral today and sorrowed deeply as their life long friend was laid to rest. Others had not known her so long, but all loved her and her passing caused genuine sorrow throughout her entire community and county.

She was a devoted mother and her children never left her, but remained near the home. During her last illness her every thought was of her and their loyalty and devotion helped her bear the cross. In early childhood, Mrs. Cherry affiliated herself with the Primitive Baptist church, and at the time of her death was one of the most loyal members of Red Banks church. As long as health permitted, she attended its services and was ever ready to help in any work that would promote Christ's work on earth.

Mrs. Cherry is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. C. R. Hardee, and Mrs. G. A. Forrest; three sons, W. A., I. W., and H. L. Cherry; one brother, John R. Buck, seventeen grandchildren. One grandchild, Annie May Cherry, was reared by her grandmother and had always made her home with her.

The pallbearers were: Active, Wiley Brown, W. J. Campbell, C. H. McGowan, Henry Martin, J. R. Moyer, Jethro Mills, Marcellus Fleming, J. Frank Harrington, J. C. Galloway, S. A. Whitehurst. Honorary: J. L. Evans, W. A. Tucker, Oscar Tucker, W. B. Dupree, Walter Martin, Dr. W. I. Wooten, Dr. K. B. Pace, Whit Harris, J. G. Moyer, J. L. Starkey, J. Hicks Corey, S. B. STORM SWEEPED AREA FIND NO TRACE OF MISSING AVIATORS AND BURYING DEAD NEW JERSEY COAST

Newport News, Va., Feb. 19.—Officers at Langley Field have by no means abandoned hope that the two airmen from that station who are missing, will be found. Col. C. C. Culver, commander of the field, stated this morning. There is every probability that the men may have been picked up by some of the coal or other barges which constantly are towed along the coast, he said, but which have no radio and wireless and consequently could not send news of the rescue before reaching some port.

Known Dead From Cyclones Stood at 32 Today as Worker Continued Search in Debris

New Orleans, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Louisiana and Mississippi today were nearing an authentic approximation of the damage done by the tornado which struck sections of both States Thursday night. While the death count stood at 32, rescue parties were still searching debris left by the wind and surrounding territory in the hope of finding other bodies. Difficulties in the way of the search were emphasized when it was pointed out that the body of one negro girl in Texas Parish was found a quarter of a mile from the place she was when the storm hit.

The storm dead were divided as follows: Twelve dead in Sabine Parish, Louisiana, near Pleasant Hill; eleven dead in Tensas Parish, Louisiana; eight dead in Rose Hill, Miss. One man was drowned near Alexander, Ala., when his boat was overturned by the storm, over 100 were injured and 200 are homeless in the various sections. Property damage is estimated at well over $200,000—comparatively low, because the storm struck hardest in isolated farming sections. Pleasant Hill, La., laid aside all work today and paid tribute to its 12 victims seven of whom were of one family. They were buried in one grave.

Souvenir hunters today were tearing down what was left by the wind. State traffic police were hurried to the scene to keep traffic moving along the Jefferson highway.

V. A. Davis, manager of the Lella Mack plantation on Lake St. Joseph, stated that when the wind hit the plantation house he and his wife and their 14-year-old son took refuge on a porch which had been spared.

"The wind was blowing so hard," Mr. Davis said, "that it lifted my son above my head and it was only by seizing his foot and struggling desperately that I kept him from being blown into the lake."

FIRE DESTROYED ACADEMY MUSIC RICHMOND TODAY

Two Firemen Injured and Persons in Adjoining Rooming House Have Narrow Escape

Richmond, Va., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Two firemen were injured and many persons driven from a nearby rooming house by fire early today that destroyed the Academy of Music, Richmond's oldest theatre. The loss was estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000.

Just as persons from the rooming house reached the street a rear wall of the theatre crashed through the roof of the smaller building and barely missed falling on an engine company in an alley below. Royld Baldwin, a member of the engine company, was knocked down and trampled as his comrades ran away from the falling wall. The wall crashed through the roof of the rear wing of the Federal Reserve bank and two other nearby buildings.

The girl was located by police this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Stokely, here, where she had been taken last night by others who had sympathized with her after she had told them a tale of cruelty on the part of her parents.

MONEY MATTERS HOLD ATTENTION OF LEGISLATORS

Revenue Bill Reported Today and Other Finance Measures Slated for Early in the Week

State Capitol, Raleigh, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Committee substitute for the budget revenue bill, product of six weeks labor, was reported in the House today by Rep. Graham, Orange, House finance committee chairman. The substitute measures embodied numerous changes from the original budget bill, but the total revenue, it is designed to raise, approximately $14,000,000 is said to be but slightly less.

Most striking changes are the elimination of the tobacco manufacturers privilege tax; leaving the bus tax the same as it was last biennium—six per cent on gross revenue, and removal of a proposed 25 per cent increase in railroad franchise tax.

The proposed railroad increase was slated to bring in about $100,000 additional. The bill went on the calendar today to be fought on the floor of the House next week. It must pass separate readings on three days and then go to the Senate for the same procedure.

The revenue machinery bill, introduced by Rep. Graham yesterday, now goes to the finance committee.

The other finance measures, appropriations for maintenance and permanent improvements, will be ready next week. Rep. Turlington, House appropriations committee chairman, said the permanent improvement bill would be introduced Monday. He said it carried slightly less than the original budget recommendation about five million dollars.

Strenuous fights on both revenue and appropriations measures have been promised.

State wide business of both Houses today was limited to introduction of bills. By agreement nothing but local measures were called on the calendar.

In the Senate a bill was presented by Senator Woltz, Broughton and Johnston to provide for distribution of a $2,500,000 educational equalization fund. The Sharp bill providing for a general property tax to support schools was brought out of sub-committee. This leaves the way open for a battle between advocates of school support from direct taxation and those favoring the indirect method.

In the House Jonas, Republican, Lincoln, presented a bill to repeal the state absentee voting law. Rep. Graham, Orange, moved to create a special tax commission to study the situation and report to the next General Assembly.

The House adjourned until 11 o'clock Monday morning, and the Senate until 8:30 Monday night.

Asks for Commission Consider Disposition of Shoals Properties

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Creation of a congressional commission to accept, consider and recommend bids for the lease of the government Muscle Shoals properties was proposed today in a bill by Representative McEwain, Democrat, South Carolina.

The commission would be composed of five senators and five House members and would be required to report its findings back to Congress next December. Should it fail to receive a bid it deems satisfactory, the commission would be directed to draft a bill providing for government operation of the properties.

JAPAN ACCEPTS PROPOSAL FOR ARMS MEETING

Note Accepting Coolidge Proposal Received in Washington Today

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Japan's acceptance of the American proposal for a naval limitation discussion at Geneva was received today at the State Department.

The communication was not made public but plans were made to give it out simultaneously in Tokyo and Washington probably tomorrow.

All available information indicated that the Japanese government had ordered full co-operation to President Coolidge in his effort to lay down some agreement supplementary to the Washington treaty but the details left for future determination at Geneva.

It was on the second reply to Mr. Coolidge's proposal to reach Washington and the first acceptance. France rejected the invitation. Italy is expected to do likewise, but Great Britain indicated she would accept.

Whether an Anglo-American-Japanese conference will result remains to be determined. The President is delaying any decision until he can examine all four replies together.

The Japanese note was received by the State Department by cable through the American embassy at Tokyo.

Flood Waters Threaten Farms Imperial Valley

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Flood waters raging down from the upper drainage area of the Colorado, Gila and Big Williams Rivers still menaced farms and ranch lands today in the Imperial Valley. All available men and teams were at work constructing additional levees to protect existing backwaters from a threatened overflow.

The danger was believed to have been temporarily averted when a diversion dam across the Colorado River below Rockwood Gate was dynamited to give the waters, which were reported flowing 55,900 second feet at the heading, a clear passage to the Gulf of California.

No additional property damage was reported, the death toll amounted to 25 last night with the discovery of three more bodies in the wake of the storm.

The latest fatality was revealed when the body of M. R. Fore, Los Angeles aviator, was found floating in the surf near San Diego. His plane was wrecked when he ran into a dense fog with a cargo of yeast for San Diego markets.

Male Residents of Foreign Settlement Shanghai Mobilizing

Shanghai, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Pro-unionary mobilization of the Shanghai volunteer corps, a defense body composed of residents of the international settlement, was ordered this morning because of the strike of Chinese workmen, which continued to grow worse as national sympathizers celebrated the victory of the Cantonese at Hangchow.

The order means that all members, totalling more than 1,600 men, must be ready to respond at a moment's notice. An attempt to continue framework service in the international settlement resulted in the stoning of several cars by strikers. Service finally was entirely stopped.

As the strike continued to spread some labor leaders declared it was only a projected two-day cessation of work to celebrate the Nationalist capture of Hangchow. Indications are growing however, that this is the long expected "burning from within" designed to cause the complete downfall of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, the city's defender.

The Cantonese method of "burning from within" by the use of propaganda has done much toward bringing them in sweeping over half China within the last year or so.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT MEDITATION

"CHARACTERISTICS OF ST. LUKE'S GOSPEL"

Renan, the French critic, says St. Luke's Gospel is "the most beautiful book which exists."

S. LUKE was the trusted companion of S. Paul, and came just under his influence, just as we saw S. Mark had been moulded by the messages of St. Peter.

He is believed to have been a manumitted slave. Eusebius (A.D. 325) writes of him, "Luke, by race a native of Antioch and by profession a physician, has left us examples in two inspired books, the Gospel and the Acts of the Apostles."

Jerome also states that Luke was a Syrian. He shows in his writings an intimate knowledge of the church at Antioch and its teachers.

There is a tradition that he was also a painter, but this might have arisen from the beauty of his diction and power of description. It is said that he fell a victim to persecution and was hanged on an olive tree in the 84th year of his age, in Greece.

Many believe he was the "brother" described in 2 Cor. 13:20. He was with S. Paul from Troas to Philippi on the second missionary tour; and some seven years later on the third missionary journey. He went with the apostle to Jerusalem and was with him during the two years of imprisonment at Caesarea; accompanied S. Paul on his voyage to Rome, and was with him during his incarceration there. S. Luke is not mentioned in the Gospels or the Acts of the Apostles, but there are in the Epistles three illuminating references to him that enables us to fill in the story of his life (1 Col. 4:15; 2 Tim. 4:10; Philemon 24.)

TO WHOM HE WROTE:
 The Gospel and the Acts are both addressed to the "Most Excellent Theophilus." He deserves to be named and remembered; for if there are few physicians who could write like S. Luke, there are but few Theophiluses to call forth such writings. Some have conjectured that since the name means "Lover of God," it may have been used as the name of a fictitious personage, or as applicable to every Christian reader.

But the term "Most Excellent," also applied to Felix (Acts 23:26; 24:3) and to Festus (Acts 26:25), was often addressed to Roman officers of rank, and would indicate a historical person. He was a Gentile who had come under the influence of Paul or Luke, and had been deeply impressed with the Christian religion. Evidently a man of fine mental qualities, sincere and upright in character, and an earnest enquirer after the Truth. So S. Luke's account has an application wider than the individual for whom it was written. S. MATTHEW wrote for the JEWS, describing Jesus as the Promised Messiah. S. MARK wrote for the ROMANS, describing Him as the Son of Power and of God. S. LUKE writes for all GREEKS, or Gentiles, describing Him as the Son of Man.

CHARACTERISTICS: It is much broader in sympathy than Matthew or Mark. None other is as complete. It begins with the forerunner's prophecy and ends with the ascension and the disciples' continued joy. It traces Jesus back—not to Abraham—but to Adam. It is the broad Gospel of our Lord's humanity. It is written in pure and classical Greek—the best Greek in the New Testament; free from Jewish prejudices; and of high literary style. The language is picturesque and shows the habits of a trained and close observer. Wherever S. Luke has been tested, by profane writers, by inscriptions, by excavations, by modern methods of criticism, he has always been found accurate.

IT IS THE GOSPEL FOR WOMEN. He gives more types of womanhood than either of the other evangelists. In his gallery of women are: Elizabeth, the Virgin Mary, Prophetess Anna, Widow of Nain, a nameless sinner at the home of Simon the Pharisee, Mary Magdalene, Johanna, Susanna, the woman with the issue of blood, Mary and Martha of Bethany, the widow with her two mites, the "daughters of Jerusalem," and the women at the tomb.

IT IS THE GOSPEL FOR POETS. The Biblical hymns which the church has used for centuries were preserved for us by St. Luke. "Hail, thou that are highly favored," (chapter 1:28); "The Magnificat" (chap. 1:46-55); "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel" (chap. 1:68-79); "Glory to God in the Highest" (chap. 2:14); and the Nunc Dimittes (chap. 2:29-32), are all drawn from this wonderful writing.

IT IS THE GOSPEL FOR SHORT STORY LOVERS. The parables of the Good Samaritan, the Prodigal Son, the Rich Man and Lazarus, the Wicked Judge, and the Pharisee and Publican—have enriched the literature of the world, and are still models of unattainable beauty. He records sixteen parables not found in other Gospels.

This Gospel was probably written while Luke was with S. Paul during his imprisonment at Caesarea, A.D. 63. It was fittingly called "The Gospel to the Gentiles," and we would be impoverished indeed without it.

MINERS WAGE PARLEY RECESSES FOR WEEK-END

Miami, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Delegates to the soft coal parley today began enjoying a week-end respite in their negotiations for a wage agreement to replace the Jacksonville contract.

On March 21—six weeks off—the agreement governing wages in the central competitive bituminous field will expire. After a week of organization and argument the joint conference of miners and operators is as widely separated as when it convened. Counter proposals were discussed for two days. In opening meetings and at closed sessions of the sub-committee to which they then were returned. The sub-committee will meet again on 21-22-23.

Such is the startling-to Yale men—policy of the new News board of editors appointed just as the Oldest College Daily rounded out its first half-century of existence. Yale Daily News has been campaigning ever since its first issue in 1877. Its greatest victory was abolishing compulsory chapel, graduates say, though the News also claims having secured for students somewhat of a say as to how they were to be governed.

Yale under graduates now suggest that the Prom be held on a Friday night instead of a Tuesday is of old, arguing that fraternity houses would have a chance to entertain during the weekend and at the same time the students who desired would get an opportunity to rest after the strenuous event. The 1927 Prom was to be in the nature of a test. On its success the faculty would judge the problem of whether to end the historic event or let it live. The 1927 Prom was the largest ever in point of attendance but some students wish there had been more girls. All students are awaiting the financial report. The junior class must make up the deficit at once if there is a shortage, and it is likely that the same shortage may mean the end of the Prom as a definite Yale institution.

The whole trouble with the drama nowadays, is the average audience needs to be educated, in the opinion of various little theater men who have been attending a drama conference here. A part of a University's business is to create audiences, said E. M. Woolley, who has charge of student productions at Yale. What is the use of a perfectly written, perfectly acted, perfectly produced play if nobody wants to see it? he demanded. "Able's Irish Rose" seems dignified and useful in comparison. Professor Sawyer Park, of Hillsdale College, Michigan, told the conference that the purpose of the "collegiate drama department" is "the developing of an audience and the training of artists of the theatre to administer to this audience."

The general impression was that it is the audience alone that affects the theatre today. And the speakers stressed the idea that students as they enter the various college drama schools must work hard each in his own day to this end. Art is long and time is fleeting, but a continuous flow of college trained theatre men eventually will change the audiences of the entire land.

When Yale had finished mid-year examinations and was opened for regular business on February 19, a husky group of students settled down to what are known as extra-curricular activities. This particular group was working under guidance of Edward O. Leader of University of Washington, to be essential. More than three thousand will seek to become freshmen next fall and only about eight hundred can be taken in. That proposition more than the examination question is putting those who today study here. If Yale had the facilities it is presumable that fifty thousand would be enrolled for its courses. But as matters now stand Yale is fighting to keep students away.

—and the Worst is Yet to Come

On Tuesday evening of this week, Miss Elsie Zanhiser was hostess to her Sunday School class at a regular meeting, followed by a Valentine party.

The home was attractively decorated for the Valentine season. A devotional service was led by Miss Mildred Mangum, class president. Then all business was dispensed with. The class discussed possible ways of making money to pay the pledge of the year.

The party itself, was greatly enjoyed by all present. Several attractive and appropriate games were played. Miss Pearl Dawson entertained with several humorous readings. The hostess served the delicious refreshment and the guests departed, having thoroughly enjoyed the entire evening.

J. F. HARRINGTON, CLERK SUPERIOR COURT STAR KIWANIS MINSTRELS

Beyond any question of a doubt we are assured many a laugh

Lots of Fizz

When the Judge dons the cork and steps out in the role of a minstrel end man of the first magnitude. The Judge tells lots of funny stories, gets himself in lots of peculiar predicaments, but usually turns the joke on the other fellow and he himself comes up smiling as usual. The dignity of the court will be left far in the distance on this night of merrymaking.

Charlie (Soup) Porter is busy teaching physical culture to the boys at the city schools, nevertheless this (little) fellow will find time when the curtain elicits skyward to scatter a few minutes of joy as Greenville's—Mr. Load of Kool.

Another heavyweight rib-tickler on the big minstrel menu will be no other than Guy Smith, whose antics throughout the show as porter (Willie Seaboard) on the "Greasy Spoon Biner" will positively be a roof lifting applause winner. Guy says go as far as you like, for he has made arrangements with Key Brown, druggist, to be on hand with the canphor.

Bob Fitzgerald may have "one more word" but you will be glad to hear it as Bennette (Winkle) says Bob and he are being coached privately in the arts of minstrelry and their staff is the tune of "Oh, Little Vagrant Lot, Don't You Cry, You'll Be a Filling Station By and By."

All the world loves a lover, and Will Lipscomb who is the minstrel introducer, or master of ceremonies, is looking forward with pleasant anticipation for the time when he introduces as his silver voiced baritone Bill Bradshaw in his rendition of "Cherie I Love You," which is one of the many beautiful musical numbers used in the biggest local talent minstrel show ever arrived in Greenville.

The minstrel will be staged March 1st, at the college auditorium under the auspices of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, for the benefit of the city public library.

A POEM BY MRS. WALTER BUCK

This world sometimes seems like a miserable place,
But we must never forget our grace
When things seem to go wrong;
Just pray and sing a little song.

So many children to send to school
And some folks will call us the old fool.
It makes no difference what they say,
Just always remember to pray.

Most every time a chance to look
You'll hear the word "Buy a new book."
Always trust in your "God,"
It makes no difference if times do seem hard.

If we live till we get old,
The best thing we can do, is save our souls;
Teach the children to do right every day,
And we will never see trouble come this way.

Everybody be happy and laugh,
We'll reach that happy home at last;
GOD never forgets his children,
We know,
That is why we must trust him so.

GOD has lived these many years,
A righteous prayer he is sure to hear.
If we bear the Cross, we will wear the crown,
When a soul is saved, how good it sounds!

When we reach that golden gate,
Our children with us, it won't be too late;
God will meet us at the door,
"Come in, children, you troubles are o'er."

We will praise God and happy be,
In that land, now, don't you see.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Resolutions concerning the death of Mr. Clement Washington by the members of the "Official Board" of the Eighth Street Church of Christ.

Whereas, it seemed good in the wisdom and love of our Heavenly Father to call to his eternal home our friend and brother, Mr. Clement Washington, who for a number of years was associated with us as an officer and member of the Eighth Street Church of Christ;

Be it resolved:

1. That in the death of Mr. Washington, the Eighth Street Church of Christ has lost one of its most valued members, faithful in attendance and loyal in its support.

As an elder of this church for a number of years he performed his duties faithfully and loyally and with singular devotion to what he believed to be for the advancement of the cause of Christ.

As a member of the "official board" we shall miss his counsel

HEALTH COMMANDMENTS

The following ten commandments appeared in a recent issue of the Monthly Bulletin of the Indiana State Board of Health. The same is equally as applicable elsewhere:

1. Thou shalt have no other remedies for diphtheria than those that are tested and tried.
2. Thou shalt not go to the quack on charlatan for treatment.
3. Thou shalt not fail to take advantage of modern methods of diagnosis and prevention.
4. Six days shalt thou not wait before giving antitoxin to a sick child that may have diphtheria.
5. Honor thy antitoxin and toxin-antitoxin, that thy days may be long upon the earth.
6. Thou shalt not kill thy school children by careless neglect of well-known principles of disease control.
7. Thou shalt not commit procrastination in the isolation of suspected cases of diphtheria.
8. Thou shalt not cough or sneeze against thy neighbor.
9. Thou shalt not steal thy neighbor's saliva.
10. Thou shalt not cover thy neighbor's chewing gum, nor his half-used lolly-pop, nor his handkerchief, nor his drinking cup, nor anything that hath thy neighbor's spittle upon it.

Don't forget that the Health Department is now giving an opportunity for all children in Greenville to be vaccinated against diphtheria. Clinics are being held at the various schools on Mondays and at the Health Office on Saturdays. Every parent owes this protection to his or her child. A case of diphtheria may mean that your child will be incapacitated throughout life, or even worse. It may mean the death of your child. Toxin-antitoxin may be given to five months old babies in three to six weeks and an immunity to diphtheria is thereby established which lasts throughout life.

Market Report

WEEKLY GRAIN REPORT

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Until President Coolidge either signs or vetoes the McNary-Haugen agricultural measure, bulls and bears in the wheat pit have virtually declared an armistice. The majority of traders look for a veto, but meanwhile few of them are inclined to become aggressive in any market venture one way or another.

Compared with a week ago, wheat this morning was 1-8 cent to 1-4 cent lower with corn 1-8 to 1-4 cent to 2-4 cents down; oats 3-4 cent to 7-8 cent off, and provisions varying from 32 cents decline to a rise of 22 to 25 cents.

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Wall Street witnessed an "old fashioned railroad market" this week in some respects those staged in the early part of the present century when financial giants struggled for market control of the country's transportation systems.

While many rumors were current of competitive bidding for control of various rails, most experienced market observers were of the opinion that this week's sensational rally in the rails was due almost entirely to public speculation.

About two score individual issues were bid up to the highest quotations since 1925, many of them to the highest prices ever recorded the average of 29 leading issues was elevated to the highest level since 1910.

All classes of rails from the high grade investment issues such as Atchafalaya, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Pennsylvania and Lackawanna to the non-dividend payers such as Erie, New Haven and Missouri Pacific common were included in the list of new tops.

Industrials showed more irregularity, although more than a score new peak prices also were established in that group. This list included American Telephone and Telegraph, International Harvester and Westinghouse Air Brake. At the close of the market Friday night, the industrial average was within half a point of the record high established last December.

Easing of the call money rate to 3-4 per cent, the lowest level since last June, coupled with the fact that brokers' loans were more than $400,000,000 below the total at this time last year, stimulated the activity of the pools. An increase in the rate on bankers' acceptances, however aroused doubts of an early decrease in the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate.

Steel shares displayed a firm understone in reflection of the fifth consecutive week of increased mill operations. U. S. Steel crossed 160 in the middle of the week. Oil shares were held in check by a further increase in crude production.

Motors were mixed. Railroad equipments issues moved to new high ground on the publication of the unusually good Baldwin report.

COTTON GOODS

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Production in cotton goods channels continues large but the movement into wholesale and consuming channels is active and the promise of a steady expansion of export demand is good. Prices in unfinished lines have been tending firmer and some small advances are taking place in finished goods. To some extent the maintained price of cotton is a factor but most merchants feel that the supply is restricted in some directions and mills are beginning to secure a slight widening of the profit margin. The business in finished cottons holds up well in percales, printed wash fabrics, tissues, printed rayons and broadcloths, bleached cottons, colored domestics and many staples.

There is no rush for goods but the re-orders are constant and have been coming forward from a wide area. Reports to primary merchants tell of a good wholesale movement especially in many of the large mid-western distributing centers. Gains are reported in the demand for cotton duck this week and some improvement in the fall for auto supply materials and tire fabrics.

Owing to the belated rush for many goods, finishing plants are being operated over-time. This is due largely to the practice of deferring orders to mills and finishers until consumers or other buyers have begun to indicate their needs in a definite way as to styles, fabrics and quantities.

The struggle to avoid accumulations of goods unordered is general.

Prices current in primary markets are as follows:

Print cloths, 28-inch, 64x64S, 5-14 cents; 64x60S, 50 cents; 38-1-2 inch, 64x64S, 7-1-2 cents; brown sheetings, southern standards, 11 cents; denims 2.20S, 14 cents; tickings 8 ounce, 18 cents; and 19 cents; prints 8 cents; staple ginghams 9 cents; dress ginghams 12-1-2 and 16-1-2 cents.

LIVERPOOL COTTON

Liverpool, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Cotton spot fair demand; prices steady. American strict good middling 8.73; good middling 8.38; strict middling 8.03; middling 7.78; strict low middling 7.28; low middling 6.88; strict good ordinary 6.48; good ordinary 6.03; sales 8,000 bales including 5,600 American. GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—With the majority of traders inclined to go slow pending the outcome of farm legislation, wheat prices today varied but little until just before the close when something of a decline took place. Shipments were for smaller world markets and Argentine offers were higher.

Wheat closed easy unchanged to 5-8 cent lower; corn unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4 cent higher; oats at a shade to 1-8 to 1-4 cent advance and provisions varying from a shade decline to a rise of 17 cents.

STOCKS

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Selling pressure was more pronounced in today's stock market with the result that the price movement disclosed much irregularity. Profit-taking by floor traders and sporadic bear selling of some of the recent strong spots in the industrial and railroad groups accounted for much of the liquidation. Bullish operations were not altogether abandoned, however, another flock of new high records being established with the list by American telephone, which touched the highest price in over 20 years. The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 800,000 shares.

list, indulging old age credulity, regarding ghosts, spirits, etc., arranged a "telepathy" test. Men in a padded room sent out "thoughts" on the ether waves and asked the outside world to read the thought.

Innumerable, completely different answers came in hundreds. The padded cell thinks thought of a certain card and would-be thought readers mentioned every card in the pack, including the joker.

Mind cannot act without matter. If it could, it would not have been necessary to create matter, tying up the electrons in their dizzy atomic whirl.

Dr. W. J. Mayor, a scientific thinker, calls investigation of the "occult" a distinct danger to integrity of thought, loosening mind from the mooring of facts, creating emotional disturbances.

On earth attend to things of earth, time enough to know what the spirits, if any, are doing when you join them.

Are you following China's war closely with intense interest, see-others. Men are rarely afflicted with that tendency.

John E. Andrus, 86, and rich, taking his first vacation in Florida says he is proud of two things—he never hired a boot-black, never borrowed from a bank.

That is interesting, but any inhabitant of the Congo could say as much. Not to borrow from a bank is not necessarily wise, if you have a good use for the money. Wise borrowing is like harnessing a waterfall, and wisely using borrowed power.

In South Carolina a faithful hound chased a fox into a cave and was caught by rocks in a narrow passageway. Many men worked one hundred and ten hours to get his out. Willie Nelson risked his life crawling in. The animal saved, bounded into its master's arms. "King" had killed the fox, and everything was perfect except for the fox. He represented the "backward people." That higher civilization must wipe out, sometimes.

LAUGHINGHOUSE URGES RIGHTS OF THE CHILD

Durham, Feb. 18.—Dr. Charles O'H. Laughinghouse, secretary of the State Board of Health, has introduced nearly 5,000 new North Carolina citizens to the world, he told the Durham Parent-Teacher organizations at a meeting held at the Central high school building last night as a feature of national child welfare day. Dr. L. S. Booker introduced the speaker. Mrs. Burke Hobgood, president of the Durham Parent-Teacher council, presided and all of the schools of Durham were represented by delegations.

Dr. Laughinghouse, living up to his name by the introduction of wit and humor into his address, told the gathering that this is a different age from the one in which they were growing up, that all people now are beginning to recognize the child's bill of rights. Children's health, nervous conditions and peculiarities should be studied and efforts made to correct sub or abnormal conditions, he said.

In lauding the medical department of Duke University, to be established and the vision of James B. Duke, Dr. Laughinghouse said the school would be "the greatest medical institution in the world," remarking that he made the statement advisedly. "Could there be a better way to worship God?" he asked.

ROBS PASSENGERS, THEN JUMPS FROM TRAIN

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—(AP)—After obtaining $7 from two passengers on the ocean shore express last night, a masked robber apparently lost his nerve and leaped from the train approaching Bayshore station en route to San Francisco.

A heavy rain in California caused a landslide that killed men working up in the mountains of an Edison company, a boy of seven was drowned, deaths number twenty odds. Eastern newspapers devote to this not important calamity eight column heads in big type. Building the new, big bridge across the Hudson, will involve more deaths than that California storm, but that won't excite anybody. If it's California, "TER-RIBLE CALAMITY."

Wall Street's cheerfulness frightens some wise ones. Ancient gentlemen looking over "the list" feel like Sinbad the Sailor landing in the valley of diamonds. They think it too good to last, and say, "Sing before breakfast, cry before night."

You could borrow money for speculation at 3-4 per cent yesterday, and the list showed "plus" signs "thick as autumn leaves that strew the brooks in Valhalla."

Mr. Schaeffer, bank president, leaves his secretary, Miss McEvoy, who worked nineteen years for him, $19,000 cash and $2,500 a year. That proves Mr. Schaeffer's generosity and justice. He stipulates that Miss McEvoy must use the money for herself. That showed his wisdom. Woman's inclination is to give what she has to

CHILDREN'S ILLS

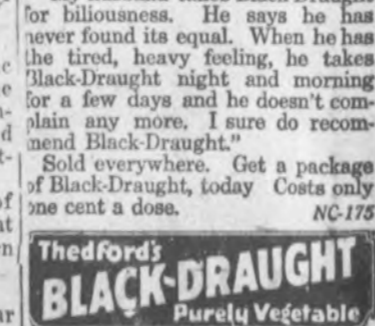

Arkansas Lady Says She Has Never Found a Better Laxative Than Theford's Black-Draught.

Mineral Springs, Ark.—"We use Black-Draught in our family of six children," says Mrs. C. E. Nutt, of this place, "and we find it a good bowel regulator. I give it to my children for colds and constipation, or any other stomach disorders, and it certainly is very helpful. I have never known it to fail them. Where there are so many children, it is a good idea to keep a laxative on hand, and Black-Draught is what we use."

"I have taken it myself for indigestion. I would feel dizzy, have gas and sour stomach. I would also feel a tightness in my chest. I took a good dose of Theford's Black-Draught when I felt that way and it would relieve me. I would feel better for days."

"My husband takes Black-Draught for biliousness. He says he has never found its equal. When he has the tired, heavy feeling, he takes Black-Draught night and morning for a few days and he doesn't complain any more. I sure do recommend Black-Draught."

Sold everywhere. Get a package of Black-Draught, today. Costs only one cent a dose. NC-175

OTTO WOOD MAKES ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE JUSTICE

Makes Unsuccessful Attempt to Get Away From Officer While En Route from Indiana

Raleigh, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Otto Wood, three times escaped from the North Carolina state prison, made his fourth attempt to elude Tar Heel justice on the trip between Tere Haute, Ind., and Cincinnati, prison officers here learned today.

Details of the desperado's latest efforts were lacking in the message advising that Deputy Warden McKernan had arrested in the Ohio city with his prisoner in double chains. Wood spent the night in the Cincinnati jail under special guard after Deputy McKernan had disclosed the criminal record of the prisoner.

Supt. Fou said he exercised Otto back tomorrow. He captured the man in Cincinnati as due to the rule that guards must not travel with their prisoners at night.

Wood expressed himself as not wanting to come back, and I was not surprised to learn of his latest attempt to get away. Deputy McKernan is a good man and will bring him in all right, but he has his hands full," the prison head said.

Wood's cell on death row has been renovated for the return. The steel and concrete stronghold is the only prison department that has not yet yielded to the Greensboro murderer's will.

The convict has served less than 2 years of a 30 year sentence.

Maloney Proves Too Much for Delaney

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A reincarnation of the famous John L. Sullivan loomed today as a prospective heavy-weight king.

A new Boston "strong boy," Burley Edward James Maloney hammered Jack Delaney, light-heavy-weight king, to defeat in ten thrilling rounds last night before the largest throng that ever jammed Madison Square Garden.

And with Maloney's decisive victory by decision—a victory clean-cut in every respect—came realization to the 18,184 spectators that a good big man can whip a good little man every time. Weight—a decisive margin of 31 pounds—and a merciless attack that never knew a backward step brought defeat to the spectacular Delaney.

CONFIDENCE!

Unless an individual or a business concern has won the confidence of the people with whom they have dealings, they cannot hope to be successful.

Confidence In Quality

Is what counts when it comes to selling merchandise; whether that merchandise be a spool of cotton or a ton of fertilizer.

There is only one reason why the sale of PAMLICO FERTILIZERS has reached such large proportions, and that is because
